15 And Da'vid [m]said to him, Canst thou bring me down to this company? And he said, Swear unto me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliver me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee down to this company.

(5) Victory over his enemies

16 ¶ And when he had brought him down, behold, they were spread abroad upon all the earth, [n]eating and drinking, and dancing, because of all the great spoil that they had taken out of the land of the Phi-lis'tines, and out of the land of Ju'dah.

a See 25:39-43 for these 2 wives
b This simply means that she was the woman who had been the wife of Nabal (v 5; 25:1-42; 27:3; 2 Sam. 3:3) c He was greatly distressed and about to be stoned; but like all true men of God, he encouraged himself in the Lord and inquired of Him (v 6)

g The brook Besor was 10 to 20 miles southwest of Ziklag. By this time 200 of the 600 men of David were so weary that they had to stay at this brook while the others went after the Amalekites (v 9-10) h This Egyptian had travelled with the Amalekites until he had become sick and too weak to continue, implying that the raiders were hurrying to get away from Philistia. David fed him and he revived enough to lead them down to the raiders (v 11-16)
i Questions 154-155. Next, v 15
j The Egyptian told David the whole story of the invasion of Judah and Philistia and agreed to lead him to the invaders (v 13-16) k Cherethites, executioners or lifeguardsmen. A people in south Palestine whose territory was next to Judah. They could have been a branch of Philistines (v 14,16). Afterward, they were servants of David, perhaps from gratefulness of his deliverance of them here (2 Sam. 8:18; 15:18; 20:7, 23; 1 Ki. 1:38, 44; 1 Chr. 18:17; Zeph. 2:5). Called Cherethims (Ezek. 25:16)
l Caleb here refers to the place in Judah where Caleb settled (Josh. 14:6-14; 15:13-18; 21:12)
m Question 156. Next, v 24
n This was the common practice after a raid. Eating, drinking, and dancing made up much of the life of leisure of the nomadic peoples, especially raiding parties who took spoil (v 16)

Figs (25:34)

The word fig is used 64 times in both testaments - 43 times in the O.T. and 21 times in the N.T. The first mention is when Adam and Eve sewed fig leaves together to make aprons for their nakedness (Gen. 3:7). Fig trees abounded in Palestine; and figs are mentioned as one of the fruits of Canaan (Num. 13:23; 20:5; Dt. 8:8; Judg. 9:10-11). The expression sitting under a fig tree is one of security and peace (1 Ki. 4:25; Mic. 4:4). Some species of fig trees had leaves 4 or 5 ft. long and 3 ft. wide; and the shade was greatly valued (1 Ki. 4:25; 2 Ki. 18:31; Isa. 36:16; Mic. 4:4; Zech. 3:10; Jn. 1:48). The various fig trees altogether bear about 10 months out of the year and are of 3 kinds:

1 The early fig (Song 2:13; Hos. 9:10). The fruit is ripe toward the end of June; it is the most beautiful and delicious kind (Jer. 24:1-8)

2 The summer fig. This fruit begins to appear in June about the time the early fig is ripe and comes to maturity in August; it lasts a long time and may be preserved

3 The winter fig appears in August about the time the summer fig is ripe and reaches the ripening stage toward the latter part of October and November. If the winter is not too severe this fruit can still be plucked toward spring

Figs which were used as food the year round were said to possess medicinal properties (2 Ki. 20:7; 1 Chr. 12:40; Isa. 38:21). The putting forth of the fig tree was one of the earliest signs of summer (Song 2:13; Mt. 24:31-32; Lk. 21:29); and failure to produce fruit was a calamity (Jer. 5:17; 8:13; Joel 1:7; 12; Hab. 3:17-18). Fig trees grow in Egypt as well as Palestine (Ps. 105:33), some said to be 10 to 25 ft. high. A favorite way to preserve the fruit was to press the figs into large cakes and dry them to be eaten when needed later (v 18; 30:12; 1 Chr. 12:40; Isa. 38:21, See Pr. 27:18; Song 2:13; Isa. 34:4; 36:16; Jer. 5:17; 8:13; 29:17; Hos. 2:12; 9:10; Joel 1:7, 12; 2:22; Amos 4:9; Nah. 3:12; Hab. 3:17; Hag. 2:19; Zech. 3:10; Mt. 7:16; Lk. 6:44; 13:6-7; Jas. 3:12; Rev. 6:13)

a David and his men were weary after a number of days in fast pursuit, but the hope of recovering their wives and children gave them new life. They smote the invaders all night and all the next day, allowing only 400 young men to escape (v 17)

b Heb. nesheph, sometimes trans. twilight, referring to the evening (v 17; 1 Kl. 7:5-7; Job 3:9; 24:15; Pr. 7:9) and other times to the dawning of the day (Job 7:4; Ps. 119:147). Also trans. night (Isa. 5:11; 21:4; 59:10) and dark (Jer. 13:16)

c A fulfillment of the prophecy of v 8

d Those animals that were driven before the stock belonging to Ziklag were the spoils of war, called David's spoil here (v 20)

e David's 400 men came back to the place where the 200 had been left who had become so faint in travel that they could go no further. These came out to meet David and the others. Then, certain wicked men of David's company proposed that the 200 not share in the spoils and that they receive only their wives and children back, since they did none of the actual fighting; but David rejected such a proposal and made a law that all should share alike - and this became a law in all Israel (v 21-25)

f This shows that all the men David gathered for his company while in exile, were not godly; some were sons of evil or children of Satan (v 22; note f, Dt. 13:13)

g 3 blessings attributed to God (v 23):
1 The Lord has given us the spoil
2 He has preserved us from death in war
3 He has delivered the company of Amalekites into our hands i 13 places David sent presents to:

1 Bethel (note m, 12:16)
2 South Ramath, a city in Simeon far south in Palestine (v 27; Josh. 19:8)
3 Jattir, another city in Simeon, about 13 miles south of Hebron (v 27; Josh. 15:48; 21:14; 1 Chr. 6:57)
4 Aroer (note r, Josh. 12:2)
5 Siphmoth, perhaps the same as Shepham, a city in the Jordan valley north of the sea of Galilee (v 28; Num. 34:10-11)
6 Eshtemoa, a city of the tribe of Judah about 5 miles north of Jattir (v 28; Josh. 21:14; 1 Chr. 4:17-19; 6:57)
7 Rachal, an unknown place (v 29)
8 Jerahmeelites, living in several cities of Simeon and Judah (v 29; 27:10)
9 Kenites, living in several cities near the Dead Sea, at the south end (v 29; 15:6; 27:10; Gen. 15:19; Num. 24:21; Judg. 4:11; 1 Chr. 2:55)
10 Hormah, a city in Simeon, about 10 miles south of Jattir (note c, Dt. 1:44)
11 Chroashan, probably the same as Ashan in Judah (v 30; Josh. 15:42; 19:7; 1 Chr. 4:32; 6:59)
12 Athach, an unknown place (v 30)
13 Hebron, about 38 miles south of Jerusalem in Judah (note f, Josh. 10:36)
Besides these cities, David sent gifts to all other places where he had sojourned in his exile (v 31) rites with which the worship of Ishtar in Babylon was accompanied were transferred to Canaan (Dt. 23:18), and formed part of the idolatrous practices which Israel was supposed to destroy. See Bible facts about false gods, p.116

m Beth-shan, a city in the Jordan valley south of the sea of Galilee. Called Beth-shean (note a, Josh. 17:11)

n These people were the first to be helped by Saul in the beginning of his reign, so they naturally felt they owed him a debt of gratitude (v 11; 11:1-15)

o Hebrews did not ordinarily burn the bodies of their dead, but in this case it was the only convenient thing to do in the midst of their enemies. They did it at night, then buried the bones under a tree at Jabesh, the city Saul had delivered when all the men were threatened with bodily mutilation (v 12-13; 11:1-15)

17 And Dā'vid [a]smote them from the [b]twilight even unto the evening of the next day: and there escaped not a man of them, save four hundred young men, which rode upon camels, and fled.

18 And Dā'vid [c]recovered all that the Ăm'a-lĕk-ites had carried away: and Dā'vid rescued his two wives.

19 And there was nothing lacking to them, neither small nor great, neither sons nor daughters, neither spoil, nor any thing that they had taken to them: Dā'vid recovered all.

20 And Dā'vid took all the flocks and the herds, which they drave [d]before those other cattle, and said, This is Dā'vid's spoil.

(6) New law of spoils (Cp. Num. 31:17-54; Ex. 23:20, refs.)

21 ¶ And Dā'vid [e]came to the two hundred men, which were so faint that they could not follow Dā'vid, whom they had made also to abide at the brook Bē'sōr: and they went forth to meet Dā'vid, and to meet the people that were with him: and when Dā'vid came near to the people, he saluted them.

22 Then answered all the wicked men and [f]men of Bĕ'lĭ-al, of those that went with Dā'vid, and said, Because they went not with us, we will not give them ought of the spoil that we have recovered, save to every man his wife and his children, that they may lead them away, and depart.

●23 Then said Dā'vid, Ye shall not do so, my brethren, with that which [g]the LORD hath given us, who hath preserved us, and delivered the company that came against us into our hand.

24 [h]For who will hearken unto you in this matter? but as his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff: they shall part alike.

25 And it was so from that day forward, that he made it a statute and an ordinance for Ĭs'ra-el unto this day.

(7) David's diplomacy

26 ¶ And when Dā'vid came to Zĭk'lăg, [i]he sent of the spoil unto the elders of Jū'dah, even to his friends, saying, Behold a present for you of the spoil of the enemies of the LORD;

27 To them which were in Bĕth'-el, and to them which were in south Rā'moth, and to them which were in Jăt'tĭr,

28 And to them which were in Ar'ŏ-ēr, and to them which were in Sĭph'moth, and to them which were in Ĕsh-te-mō'a,

29 And to them which were in Rā'chăl, and to them which were in the cities of the Jĕ-räh'-me-el-ites, and to them which were in the cities of the Kĕn'-ites,

30 And to them which were in Hôr'mah, and to them which were in Chôr-a'shan, and to them which were in Ā'thăch, 31 And to them which were in Hē'bron, and to all the places where Dā'vid himself and his men were wont to [j]haunt.

267 CHAPTER 31

VIII Battle in Gilboa. 1 Israel defeated: death of Jonathan (1 Chr. 10:1)

NOW the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes fought [a]against Ĭs'ra-el: and the men of Ĭs'ra-el fled from before the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and fell down slain in mount Gĭl-bō'a.

2 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes followed hard upon Saul and upon his sons; and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes slew Jŏn'a-than, and Ā-bĭn'a-dăb, and Mĕl'chĭ-shu'a, Saul's sons.

3 And the battle went sore against Saul, and the [b]archers hit him; and he was sore wounded of the archers.

2 Death of Saul

●4 Then [c]said Saul unto his armourbearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through therewith; lest these uncircumcised come and thrust me through, and abuse me. But his armourbearer would not; for he was sore afraid. Therefore Saul took a sword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armourbearer saw that Saul was dead, [d]he fell likewise upon his sword, and died with him.

6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and his armourbearer, and [e]all his men, that same day together.

3 Israel's flight

7 ¶ And [f]when the men of Ĭs'ra-el that were on the other side of the valley, and they that were on the other side Jôr'dan, saw that the men of Ĭs'ra-el fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, they [g]forsook the cities, and fled; and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came and dwelt in them.

4 Indignity to Saul (1 Chr. 10:8)

8 And it came to pass on the morrow, when the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came to strip the slain, that they [h]found Saul and his three sons fallen in mount Gĭl-bō'a.

9 And they [i]cut off his head, and stripped off his armour, and sent into the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes round about, to publish it in the house of their idols, and among the people.

10 And they put his armour in the house of [j]Ash'ta-rŏth: and they fastened his body to the wall [k]of Bĕth'-shān.

5 Rescue of Saul's body (2 Sam. 21:12-14; 1 Chr. 10:11)

11 ¶ And when the [l]inhabitants of Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd heard of that which the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had done to Saul;

12 All the valiant men arose, and went all night, and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Bĕth'-shān, and came to Jā'besh, [m]and burnt them there.

13 And they took their bones, and buried them under a tree at Jā'besh, and fasted seven days.

a The Heb. halak; to frequent or go often to; wander up and down (v 31). Not from the Heb. word regal, steps; journey (23:22), or yashab, sit down; dwell; remain (Ezek. 26:17)

b This was the day after the night Saul went to the witch (28:8, 19, 25) c 3 sons of Saul killed:

1 Jonathan (note d, 13:2; i, 18:1)
2 Abinadab (note i, 14:49; a, 16:8)
3 Melchishua (note i, 14:49)

d If he had been facing the enemy he would not have been hit as quickly by archers because of his shield which he would have been fighting behind (v 3)

e Saul, being sore wounded, requested his armourbearer to finish killing him, so that he would not fall into the hands of his enemies who, he knew, would make sport of him and give him a slow and terrible death. The young man was afraid to kill his king, so Saul took a sword and committed suicide (v 4; 1 Chr. 10:4-5)

f This was a foolish thing to do, but it seems it was considered an honor by some men in those days, to die with their master g All his men, that is, all who were the personal bodyguards of Saul. The most of the army fled at the very beginning of the battle and many escaped (v 6), among them Abner (2 Sam. 1:4; 2:8-11)

h 12 main results of the battle of Gilboa:
1 The men of Israel fled (v 1)
2 Many fell down slain in mount Gilboa
3 Philistines chased Saul and his sons (v 2) (v 3)
4 The battle went sore against Saul
5 The archers hit him and he was sore wounded (v 3)
6 Saul and his armourbearer committed suicide (v 4-5)
7 Besides Saul, his 3 sons, his armourbearer and all his bodyguards died (v 6)
8 Many Israelites fled their own cities west of the Jordan and settled on the east of Jordan (v 7)
9 Philistines came and occupied the forsaken cities of Israel
10 Philistines stripped the slain, found Saul and his sons, cut off the head of Saul and sent it and his armour as trophies of battle to the temple of their gods in Philistia (v 8-9)
11 They put his armour in the house of Ashtaroth (v 10; 1 Chr. 10:10)
12 They took the bodies of Saul and his sons and fastened them to the wall of the city of Beth-shan, which became a Philistine city in the Jordan valley (v 10-13)

i How many cities were forsaken is not stated, but it appears that all of them on the west of Jordan in this particular battle section became Philistine cities for a time, 10 or 12 years perhaps (see 2 Sam. 4-8). When David became king over all Israel these cities were retaken and the kingdom of Israel for the first time became truly great and extended to the river of Egypt and the gulf of Akabah, and north to the Euphrates, taking in all of Philistia, Amalek, Edom, Moab, Syria, and other countries

j What a find, according to pagan customs in those days, for they made captured armour of kings an object of worship in their idol temples!

k It does not actually say here that his head was sent to Philistia with his armour; but in 1 Chr. 10:9-10 it says they sent his head and armour into the land of the Philistines round about to publish their great victory over Israel, and then put his armour in the house of their gods (in the house of Ashtaroth, as here), and fastened his head in the temple of Dagon, the half fish, half man god at Ashdod (5:1-12). Thus, the armour and head of Saul were divided among the idol gods of Philistia

l Ashtaroth was the female counterpart of Baal. Her temple was in Ashkelon where she was worshipped under the name of Atar-gatis, as a woman with the tail of a fish. Accordingly, fish were sacred to her; elsewhere the dove was her sacred symbol. The immoral

Polygamy (1:2)

Polygamy was tolerated under the law (Ex.21:10; Dt.21:15-17), and before the gospel program (Acts 17:30); but it was forbidden in the N. T. (Mt. 19:4-5; Mk. 10:1-8; 1 Tim. 3:2, 12; Tit. 1:6). Such has always caused trouble in families (Gen. 16; 21:9-16; 29:30-34; 30:1-23; 1 Sam. 1:4-7; 1 Ki. 11:4-8)

16 examples of polygamy:

1 Lamech (Gen. 4:19-23)
2 Abraham (Gen. 16 and 25)
3 Esau (Gen. 26:34; 28:9)
4 Jacob (Gen. 29:16-30:24)
5 Gideon (Judg. 8:30)
6 Elkanah (1:2)
7 David (1 Sam. 25:39-44; 2 Sam. 3:2-5; 5:13; 1 Chr. 14:3)
8 Solomon (1 Ki. 11:1-8)
9 Rehoboam (2 Chr. 11:18-23)
10 Ashur (1 Chr. 4:5)
11 Abijah (2 Chr. 13:21)
12 Jehoram (2 Chr. 21:14)
13 Joash (2 Chr. 24:14)
14 Ahab (2 Ki. 10:1)
15 Jehoiachin (2 Ki. 24:15)

Temple (1:9)

Heb. heykal, a large public building, such as a palace or temple. Its first use is here; it is the same word used of Solomon's temple (1 Ki. 6:3, 5, 17, 33; 7:21, 50; 2 Ki. 18:16; 23:4; 24:13; 2 Chr. 3:17; 4:7-8, 22; 26:16; 27:2; 29:16) and of Zerubbabel's temple (Ezra 3:6, 10; 4:1; Neh. 6:10-11). It is used of the temple of the Lord in 41 places in the Psalms and books of the prophets. Also trans. palaces of kings 11 times (1 Ki. 21:1; 2 Ki. 20:18; Ezra 4:14; Ps. 45:8, 15; 144:12; Pr. 30:28; Isa. 13:22; 39:7; Dan. 1:4; Nah. 2:6). It is trans. temple referring to the house of the Lord in the days of the judges before Solomon's day (v 9; 3:3; 2 Sam. 22:7). It may be that Israel had built a more permanent house in connection with the temporary tabernacle of Moses which was made of cloth walls and skin coverings. It could have been a house for the high priest and others to live in, as it seems Eli and Samuel lived in one so as to take care of the daily duties of the tabernacle (3:3, 5-18). God, Himself testified that He had not dwelt in a permanent house, but in a tent and a tabernacle from the days of Moses to David (2 Sam. 7:6-7. See 1 Chr. 15:1; 2 Chr. 1:4; Ps. 78:60). It is clear then that the tabernacle of Moses was called a temple of the Lord (v 9; 3:3). See note c, Rev. 11:2 for 5 past and future temples of the Lord besides the heavenly temple of Rev. 3:12; 7:15; 11:19; 14:15, 17; 15:5-8; 16:1, 17; 21:22. These and the tabernacle, called a temple, make 7 temples of Scripture. There are 7 references in the N. T. about believers being the temple of God; but this by no means does away with the fact of a literal temple of God in heaven, as in the above scriptures (1 Cor. 3:9-17; 6:19; 2 Cor. 6:16; Eph. 2:20-21; Heb. 3:6; 1 Pet. 2:5; 4:17)

15fold story of Hannah (1:10)

1 The wife of Elkanah (v 2)
2 She was barren (v 2, 5-6)
3 She was the favorite wife (v 5)
4 Her adversary provoked her continually (v 6-7)
5 She fasted, wept, and prayed before the Lord year after year without an answer (v 7)
6 Her husband sought to comfort and support her in her trial (v 8)
7 She finally became desperate and prayed through to an answer by bitterness of soul, weeping, and making a vow (v 10-11)
8 She prayed so long and was in such bitterness and weeping that the high priest accused her of being drunk (v 12-14)
9 Hannah convinced him of her sincerity in prayer for a child; and he blessed her by assuring her of an answer (v 15-18)
10 She had faith that her prayer was answered and was sad no more (v 18-19)
11 Her prayer was heard and she conceived and bore a son, calling his name Samuel (v 19-20)
12 She stayed at home until the child was weaned, then took him to the temple to be devoted to the Lord forever (v 21-28)
13 She received inspiration and prophesied on the occasion of giving Samuel to the Lord (2:1-10)
14 She brought Samuel a new coat year by year as she came to the temple (2:19-20) 15 God blessed her for the loan of her firstborn son and gave her 3 sons and 2 daughters; and she became a great mother in Israel (2:21)

Hannah's prayer (2:1)

The Chaldee reads, And Hannah prayed in the spirit of prophecy. This expresses the true nature of the song and prayer, 4fold theme: Hannah (v 1); character; 17 acts of God (v 2-10); and warning (v 3-5) It is poetic and prophetic and takes its place along with the songs of Moses, Miriam, Deborah, David, Elizabeth, Mary and others - psalmists and prophets whose inspired utterances have been recorded in the Bible. A particular characteristic of all these songs is that they sprang forth from the individual with reference to things of a personal nature, then widened to include the nature and acts of God, and the glories of the coming kingdom of the Messiah and of God among men in all eternity, making reference to things of the future. See 8 songs of praise, note b, Judg 5:1

"Horns" in Scripture (2:1)

5 "exalted" horns of Scripture:

1 Hannah's (2:1)
2 Messiah's (2:10; Ps. 89:24)
3 Israel's (Ps. 89:17; 148:14) 92:10) 4 Horn of an unknown psalmist (Ps.
5 Horn of righteous (Ps. 75:10; 112:9)

10 examples, debased horns of Scripture:

1 Job's horn defiled (Job 16:15)
2 Horn of Moab cut off (Jer. 48:25)
3 Horn of Israel cut off (Lam. 2:3)
4 Horns of Gentiles cast out (Zech. 1:18-21)
5 Horns of Judah scattered (Zech. 1:21)
6 The 3 of 10 horns that fell (Dan. 7:20-24)
7 Little horn destroyed (Dan. 7:11, 27)
8 The 2 horns broken off (Dan. 8:7)
9 Great horn broken off (Dan. 8:21-22)
10 The 10 horns overcome (Rev. 17:12-14)

10 victorious horns of Scripture:

1 David's horn to bud (Ps. 132:17)
2 Horn of Israel to bud (Ezek. 29:21)
3 Zion's horn like iron (Mic. 4:13)
4 Horn of salvation raised up (2 Sam. 22:3; Ps. 18:2; Lk. 1:69)
5 Horns of Joseph push the people to the ends of the earth (Dt. 33:17)
6 Horns of God coming out of His hand (Hab. 3:4-16) to drive asunder the nations
7 Little horns subduing and plucking up 3 others (Dan. 7:8, 24)
8 Great horn broke 2 horns (Dan. 8:7)
9 Horns of Gentiles scattered Judah
10 The horn of David (Messiah) shall overcome all nations and bud in the earth (2:10; Ps. 89:24; 132:17-18; Rev. 17:12-14; 19:11-21)

From all these facts it is clear that a horn in figurative statements refers to power, authority, and kingship. Here Hannah was merely ascribing exaltation to her King and Messiah because He had overcome His enemies and brought salvation or deliverance to Israel (2:1, 10)

Summary of 1 Samuel

Date and place: the records which make up 1 and 2 Samuel were written by Samuel, David, Nathan, and Gad from 1204-1035 B.C. in Palestine, but were perhaps finally made into one book by Isaiah the prophet, about 743-683 B.C. He seems to have been the author of Judges, Ruth, 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles in their final form, according to note k, 2 Chr. 32:32

Author: Samuel, David, Nathan, and Gad no doubt kept the original records from which Isaiah compiled the book about 743-683 B.C.

Proof of authorship: It is necessary to treat the two books as one because, in the Hebrew canon and early editions of the Hebrew text, the two were one. The division came with the Septuagint translators about 289-94 B.C. and this has been followed in all editions since then. Samuel perhaps wrote 1 Sam. 1-24; David, Nathan, and Gad, 1 Sam. 25-2 Sam. 24 (1 Sam. 10:25; 1 Chr. 29:29). There is a reference to the book of Jasher in 2 Sam. 1:18, which may have also been used in the final writing of the book by Isaiah, who wrote the history of the kings of Judah and Israel (2 Chr. 32:32, note)

Theme: 1 Samuel presents the life history of Samuel, the last of the days of the judges, the moral failure of the priesthood under Eli, the moral failure of the judges under Samuel, the beginning and failure of the monarchy under Saul, the anointing and trying experiences of David, and the end of Saul

Purpose: the original book, now divided into 1 and 2 Samuel was written to record the history of Israel under the judges; to show the change in the government of Israel from a system of judges to kings; and to record the background of the people through whom the Messiah would come

Statistics: 9th book of the Bible; 31 chapters; 810 verses; 25,061 words; 157 questions; 50 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 1 verse of unfulfilled prophecy; 29 distinct messages from God (2:27; 3:4, 6, 8, 10; 8:7, 22; 9:15, 17; 10:1, 18, 22; 13:11; 15:2, 11, 18; 16:1, 2, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12; 22:5; 23:2, 4, 11, 12; 30:8); 4 promises; 117 commands; and 57 predictions

God's records (2:3)

Heb. takan, to balance; measure out; arrange; classify; equalize; estimate; test; mete; ponder; weigh. Trans. weighed (v 3); weigheth (Job 28:25; Pr. 16:2); equal, in the sense of justice (Ezek. 18:25, 29; 33:17, 20); meted (Isa. 40:12); and pondereth (Pr. 21:2; 24:12). Here it refers to God's keeping an accurate account of all words and deeds of men to see which side of the ledger to put them. Men will give account of every idle word as well as the good words, and of everything done in the body, whether it be good or bad (Mt. 12:36-37; 16:27; Rom. 2:12-16; 1 Cor. 3:11-15; 2 Cor. 5:9-10)

Bows of mighty men (2:4)

In this verse we have a figurative expression referring to divine humbling of the proud, and help for the weak (v 4)

10 things common among men:

1 The bows of the mighty men are broken (v 4)
2 The proud are humbled and brought low strength
3 They that stumble are girded with 4 The weak and helpless receive divine strength and help
5 They that are full have hired out themselves
6 The ones who have been prosperous are brought low; they lost their security and hire themselves out for a morsel of bread (v 5) ceased
7 They that were hungry have 8 The poor and insecure are made prosperous
9 The barren have born and have families to enjoy 10 She that has many children is waxed feeble, and has become sad and lonely

7 predictions of Eli (2:27)

1 Your house and your father's house to be cut off so there will not be an old man in them forever (v 31-34). His sons died in early life (4:11)
2 You will see an enemy in My habitation and in all the prosperity which God would have given Israel (v 32). This was fulfilled in the taking of Shiloh, the tabernacle, and the ark by the Philistines (4:1-22)
3 Those whom I do not cut off from your house shall be worse off, for they shall beg for bread from their successors in office (v 33, 36)
4 This shall be a sign to you: Your two sons shall both die in one day (v 34). Fulfilled, 4:11
5 I will raise Me up a faithful priest, that shall do according to that which is in My heart and mind (v 35)
6 I will build him a sure house (v 36)
7 He shall walk before My anointed (My Messiah, the Christ) forever (v 36). All three of these last statements were partially fulfilled in Solomon's reign (1 Ki. 2:26-27), but will be eternally fulfilled under the Messiah in the Millennium and the New Earth periods (Ezek. 44:9-31)

Man of God (2:27)

God always has His man when one is needed to go on some special mission for Him. He can and does move in every crisis of human history to warn, rebuke, judge, and otherwise intervene in the affairs of men. Moses was the first to be called man of God (Dt. 33:1; Ps. 90, title). It was a term among the common people for a prophet who was a spokesman for God (Ex. 4:16; 7:1). The term is found 75 times in Scripture

6 qualifications of a man of God:

1 Know Scriptures (2 Tim. 3:15-17)
2 Be perfect (2 Tim. 3:17)
3 Be throughly furnished unto all good works (2 Tim. 3:17)
4 Inspired by the Holy Spirit (2 Tim. 3:16-17; Neh. 9:30; Num. 11:16-29)
5 Jehovah making Himself known to him (Num. 12:6; Ezek. 3:17; Jer. 15:19)
6 Qualified to act in God's stead as if God, Himself were acting. In fact, in certain appearances of God to men He is called man of God (Judg. 13:6, 8-22)

10 examples of "but now" used:

1 We remember the fish, cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions, and garlic, but now our soul is dried away (Num.11:5-6)
2 I promised you an everlasting priesthood, but now be it far from Me to do this (2:30)

Vision (3:1)

The first place Heb. chazown is found and trans. vision. Not the same Heb. word trans. vision 4 times before this (Gen.15:1; Num.12:6; 24:4, 16). Trans. vision (v 1; 1 Chr. 17:15; 2 Chr. 32:32; Ps. 89:19; Pr. 29:18; Isa. 1:1; 29:7; Jer. 14:14; 23:16; Lam. 2:9; Ezek. 7:13, 26; 12:22-27; 13:16; Dan. 1:17; 8:1-2, 13, 15-17, 26; 9:21, 23-24; 10:14; 11:14; Hos. 12:10; Oba. 1; Mic. 3:6; Nah. 1:1; Hab. 2:2-3). Cp. 2 Chr. 9:29; Dan. 2: 19, 28; 4:5, 9-10, 13; 7:1-2, 7, 13, 15) where chezev means the same as chazown. By vision or mental pictures God gave His revelation to men many times. Objects of sight as in a dream appeared to men, sometimes while asleep (Isa. 29:7; Dan. 2:19, 28; 4:9; 7:1-2, 7, 13; 8:18), in a trance with the eyes open (Num. 24:4, 16; Acts 10:10; 11:5; 22:17), in deep meditations of the heart (Jer. 23:16), in prayer (Dan.9:21-24; 10:2-21), or in the course of duty while awake (Mt. 17:1-9; Lk. 1:22; 24:23; Acts 9:10-12; 10:3, 17-19; 12:9; Rev. 1:10; 4:1-2; Isa.6; Ezek. 1:1; 8:3; 40:2; 43:3). It is difficult to tell always whether one was asleep or awake when he saw a vision, but one thing is certain, the image or picture came to the mind, and the message of God was always clear. Whatever was predicted always happened or will yet happen in accordance with the vision. Both visions and dreams are referred to as means of revelation from God (Joel 2:28; Acts 2:17). See Dreams in Index

12 facts: Samuel's life story (3:19)

1 He was weaned (1:23-24)
2 Lent to the Lord as a Nazarite (1: 11, 24-28)
3 Ministered to the Lord (2:11,18; 3:1)
4 Grew in body and spirit (2:26; 3:19)
5 Had favor with God and men (2: 26; 3:19)
6 Became God's prophet (3:1-21)
7 Was acknowledged as a true prophet of God by all Israel (3:19-21; 4:1) 1?)
8 Became 16th judge of Israel (7:15-9 Delivered Israel from the Philistines by miracles (7:1-14) 12:26)
10 Initiated kingdom of Israel (8:1-11 Rejected Saul and anointed David as king (15:1-16:13)
12 Spent last days as a judge (7:15; 19:18-24; 25:1)

All Israel knew Samuel (3:20)

All Israel was conscious of the fact that Samuel was God's chosen leader in place of Eli and the priests. Never did a priest of Eli's house rule in Israel again as judge or king. All in his family were either under Samuel, the last judge, or under kings until the house of Eli was destroyed (1 Kl.2:26-27). Israel turned to Samuel instead of anyone left of the house of Eli (v 20; 7:1-17). To say that Samuel was the first of the prophets and the last of the judges is only half true; for, whereas there was no other judge after him, there were other prophets before him (2:27; Gen. 20:7; Ex. 7:1; Dt. 18:18; 34:10; Judg. 6:8; Acts 3:21). His own mother was a prophetess, and so was Miriam as well as Deborah (2:1-10; Ex.15:20; Judg. 4:4)

God's promise (2:30)

God did promise that the priesthood should continue in the family of Aaron forever (Ex. 29:9; 40:15; Num. 25:10-13). It appears that the promise was absolute but, like all other such promises, it was conditional upon obedience; and the family of Eli reaped for disobedience. Many times God has plainly stated the conditions of blessing and cursing, and these apply to all men alike, including priests (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). God cannot and will not bless any man who backslides and lives in sin contrary to the covenants made with him. God is as much under obligation to curse those who sin as He is to bless those who do not; and this is the fact under the law as well as grace, as proved in the many scriptures on p. 237

Joel (8:2)

Joel, Jehovah is God. Not the prophet, for he lived 225 years later

14 Joel's in Scripture:

1 Samuel's son (v 21; 1 Chr. 6:33; 15:17). Called Vashni in 1 Chr. 6:28

3 A Reubenite (1 Chr. 5:4, 8)
4 A Gadite chief (1 Chr. 5:12)
5 Ancestor of Samuel (1 Chr. 6:36)
6 A chief in Issachar (1 Chr. 7:3)
7 One of David's heroes (1 Chr.11:38)
8 A Levite (1 Chr. 15:7, 11; 23:8)
9 Another Levite (1 Chr. 26:22)
10 A prince in Manasseh (1 Chr.27:20)

Abiah, Jehovah is Father

5 Abiah's of Scripture:

1 The 2nd son of Samuel (v 2; 1 Chr. 6:28)
2 Son of Rehoboam (1 Chr. 3:10; Mt. 1:7), and 5th king of Israel. Called Abijam (1 Ki. 14:31; 15:6-8)
3 A Benjamite (1 Chr. 7:8)
4 A priest of David (Lk. 1:5)
5 A woman (1 Chr. 2:25)

God rejected by Israel (8:6)

Samuel, like all men of God, went immediately to Him in prayer; and the Lord told him to do as the people had requested, saying, "they have not rejected you, but Me" (v 6-8). God recognized that these were a stubborn people determined to have what they set their hearts on, and that being rejected as their king was not as bad as being forsaken by them to serve other gods - a sin they had been committing since leaving Egypt (v 8). God further instructed Samuel to protest their choice and make it plain to them that this would increase their burdens, being more costly than the present theocracy which was a simple form of government requiring only faith and dependence on Jehovah (v 9-18). Regardless of this, Israel was determined to have their king (v 19-22)

16fold manner of the kingdom (8:11)

1 Your king shall take your sons and appoint them as servants (v 11)
2 He shall use them for his chariots
3 To be his horsemen in the army
4 To run before his chariots
5 To be captains over thousands and over fifties (v 12)
6 To plant his crops
7 To reap his harvests
8 To make his instruments of war, and instruments of his chariots
9 He shall take your daughters to be confectionaries (v 13)
10 To be cooks
11 To be bakers
12 He shall take the best of your fields, vineyards, oliveyards and give them to his servants (v 14)
13 He shall take the 10th of your seed and vineyards, and give them to his officers and other servants (v 15)
14 He shall take your men servants, your maidservants, the goodliest of your sons and daughters, and your stock, and put them to work (v 16)
15 He shall take the 10th of your sheep and other stock (v 17)
16 You, yourselves, will be his servants and shall cry out to God because of your king that you have chosen, and He will not hear you in that day (v 18)

12 predictions of Samuel (10:2)

1 When you are departed from me you will find 2 men by Rachel's sepulchre at Zelzah (v 2)
2 They will say to you that the asses you went to seek are found, and your father has left them to seek for you, sorrowing
3 When you come to the plain of Tabor 3 men shall meet you who are going up to God at Bethel (v 3)
4 One will be carrying 3 kids
5 One will be carrying 3 loaves of bread wine
6 One will be carrying a bottle of 7 They shall salute you and give you 2 loaves of bread, which you shall receive of them (v 4)
8 You will then come to the hill of God, where there is a garrison of Philistines (v 5)
9 You will come to the city and meet a company of prophets coming from the high place with musical instruments; and they shall prophesy
10 The Spirit of God shall come upon you and you shall prophesy (v 6)
11 You shall be turned into another man
12 When these signs come to pass you may do as you see fit, for God is with you, and you will prosper in all you undertake (v 7)

4 signs confirming God's choice of king (10:2)

1 Finding 2 men at Rachel's sepulchre who would tell Saul the asses were found and his father was seeking him (v 2)
2 Meeting 3 men going up to Bethel, one carrying 3 kids, another 3 loaves, and the other a bottle of wine; they would salute Saul and give him 2 loaves of bread (v 3-4)
3 He would go on to the hill of God where there would be a garrison of Philistines. When coming to the city, a company of prophets would meet him with musical instruments, and prophesy (v 5)
4 The Spirit of God would come upon Saul so that he would prophesy with them, and be turned into a new man (v 6)

30 prophetic details (10:3)

Altogether there were 5 men and 2 companies of men who were to be at certain places, having certain things in their hands and doing certain things. Saul was to be changed, and prophesy; and so many other details were to be fulfilled that it would rule out any possibility of guess-work. In all, there were about 30 details to the prophecy, and if one had failed the whole would have been a failure. According to the laws of simple and compound probability this prophecy would have one chance in 1,073,741,824 of fulfillment

Saul's conversion and backsliding (10:6)

What could be more clear! Saul was a partaker of the Holy Spirit and genuinely converted, born again, redeemed, and made a new creature at this time

5 spiritual blessings of Saul:

1 The Spirit of God came upon him (v 6, 10-13; 11:6)
2 He prophesied (v 6, 10-13)
3 He was turned to another man (v 6)
4 God was with him (v 7)
5 God gave him another heart (v 9)

15 steps in Saul's downfall:

1 He intruded into the priest's office (13:8-10)
2 He made excuse for his sin of breaking the commandment of God (13:11-12)
3 Again broke the commandment of God which called for the destruction of all the Amalekites (15:2-12)
4 Lied to Samuel about obeying God in destroying the Amalekites (15:13-20)
5 Laid the blame for his failure on the people (15:20-21)
6 Became exalted, not staying small in his own sight (15:17) 26)
7 Rejected the Word of God (15:23-8 Half-heartedly repented, but still blamed the people (15:24-35)
9 Lost the Holy Spirit and became possessed with a demon spirit (16:14-23; 18:12)
10 Became jealous of David and made 21 attempts upon his life (18:6-26:25)
11 Became bitter against his own son in his jealous rage against David (20: 30-34)
12 Drove David from his own home and inheritance (21:1-30;31)
13 Sought a revelation from a witch and demons contrary to the law (1 Sam. 28:7-25; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)
14 Swore to protect the witch contrary to the law (1 Sam. 26:10)
15 Committed suicide (31:4-5)

4fold message of God to Israel (10:18)

1 I brought you out of Egypt, and delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, the hand of all kingdoms and those that oppressed you (v 18)
2 You have this day rejected your God, who saved you from all your adversaries and tribulations (v 19)
3 You demand a king to be set over you. The sin was not in asking for a king, because God knew they would have one and made provision for it in the law (Dt. 17:14-20). The sin was in being impatient, in wanting to be like other nations, and in rejecting God as their king when He was needed more than ever; it was calling for a king when it was not yet time for one, and trying to rush God's plan to an earlier fulfillment than He wished (Gen.49:10; Num. 24:7, 17-19)
4 Now therefore, present yourselves by your tribes and by thousands before Jehovah

The kingdom renewed (11:14)

Saul had not been anointed before all Israel when he was chosen king (10:24-27), only privately by Samuel (10:1); now Samuel took the occasion of victory and the pride of all Israel in their king to anoint him in public. This is what is really meant by renewing the kingdom at Gilgal. Josephus says that Saul was anointed a second time at this convocation. Here we read that they made Saul king before the Lord; that is, they fully accepted him as their king, and Samuel anointed him in the presence of all the people, offering peace offerings and holding a great feast in honor of him (v 14-15). The Sept. reads, Samuel anointed Saul to be king, before the Lord, in v 15. The second anointing is plainly implied in the term made Saul king. David was anointed to be king 3 times: 13) 1 In a private family gathering (16:1-2 When he was made king of Judah by the elders (2 Sam. 2:4)

3 When he was made king over all Israel (2 Sam. 5:3)

7fold statement of Samuel's blameless life before Israel (12:1)

1 I have heard and obeyed your voice in all that you said to me concerning a king and a kingdom (v 1) you
2 I have made (anointed) a king over 3 I am old and grayheaded and your new king walks before you (v 2)
4 My sons are also with you
5 I have walked before you from my childhood unto this day
6 I am here now, so let any man among you charge me before Jehovah and His anointed king, if ever I have stolen or taken by force one thing from any of you, if I have oppressed any, taken a bribe or showed injustice to any. If I am charged with being guilty of any degree of wrongdoing, I will make restoration (v 3)
7 I charge you this day that Jehovah and His anointed king are witnesses to your confession that I have not defrauded, oppressed, or robbed you, and that you have not found ought in my hands. They all said, "He is witness" (v 4-5)

9 acts of God's faithfulness to Israel (12:6)

1 He advanced Moses and Aaron (v 6; Ex. 4-12) Egypt
2 He brought your fathers out of 3 He performed many righteous acts for your fathers (v 7; Ex. 5-19)
4 He sent Moses and Aaron when your fathers cried to Jehovah, who brought them out of Egypt (v 8; Ex. 12-19)
5 He made them dwell in this place
6 He sold them into the hand of Sisera and the Canaanites when they forgot the Lord their God (v 9; Judg. 4-5)
7 He also sold them into the hand of the Philistines (v 9; Judg. 3:3, 31; 10:6-11; 13:1-5, 14:1-4; 15:3-20; 16:5-30)
8 Before this He sold them into the hand of Moab (v 9; Judg. 3:12-30)
9 When Israel cried to Jehovah and made proper confession of sin, asking for deliverance from their enemies, He sent Jerubbaal (Gideon), Bedan (Barak), Jephthah, and Samuel and delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every side, and made you safe (v 10-11)

10 persons that kept secrets (14:1)

In Scripture, 248 times men told others certain things, but only the following kept secrets:
1 Jacob told not Laban of his plans for departure (Gen. 31:20) 13:6,18)
2 The angel told not his name (Judg. 13:6)
3 Samson told not his father and mother about the dead lion (Judg. 14:6-9, 16)
4 Saul kept the secret of the kingdom he learned from Samuel (10:16)
5 Jonathan told not his father about going to the garrison (14:1)
6 Abigail told not her husband what she had done (25:19, 36)
7 Nehemiah told no man what God put in his heart to do at Jerusalem (Neh. 2:12)
8-10 Peter, James, and John kept the secret of the transfiguration (Lk. 9:36)
Only one woman, one angel, but 8 men kept secrets

Saul inexcusable (15:9)

The commandment was so clear that there was no excuse for Saul or the people to violate it through covetousness - sparing all that was good and destroying only that which was vile and refuse (v 8-9). God indicted Saul for his sin of turning back from following Him and in refusing to obey His commandments (v 10-11). Saul lied to Samuel saying, "I have performed the commandment of the Lord" (v 12-13). When confronted by Samuel as to what was meant by the sheep bleating and the cattle lowing if he had obeyed God's commandment, Saul excused himself and blamed the people for sparing the best of the stock to use as sacrifices to the Lord (v 14-15). The last time before this that Samuel rebuked Saul, it was for disobedience, at which time he was rejected as king; and at that time Samuel, himself was accused of being to blame, for not showing up on time as he had promised (13:1-15)

Here again Samuel announced the sin of Saul, but he again maintained that he had obeyed the voice of the Lord - that he did destroy all the Amalekites except the king, and that the people were to blame for saving the best of the stock (v 16-21). Once again Samuel announced the rejection of Saul as king (v 22-23). After all this Saul acknowledged he had sinned, the reason being that he feared the people and obeyed their voice (v 24). He begged for pardon, asking Samuel to turn again to him so he could worship the Lord, but Samuel refused and still another time announced his rejection as king (v 25-26). When Samuel turned to go away Saul laid hold of his mantle and it rent (v 27). Samuel then told him the Lord had rent his kingdom from him that day, giving it to his neighbor, and assured him that God would not change His mind in the matter (v 28-29). Saul again repented, begging Samuel at least to honor him before the elders and permit him to worship the Lord once more. Samuel relented this much and permitted Saul to worship (v 30-31), then commanded that Agag be killed before he left (v 32-33). Samuel went home mourning for Saul, and did not come back to him as long as he lived (v 34-35)

4 Abinadab's in Scripture (16:8)

1 Keeper of the ark for many years (7:1-2; 2 Sam. 6:3-4; 1 Chr. 13:7)
2 Second son of Jesse (v 8; 17:13; 1 Chr. 2:13) 10:2)
3 Son of Saul (31:2; 1 Chr. 8:33; 9:39; 4 Officer of Solomon (1 Kl. 4:11)

5 Shammah's in Scripture (16:9)

1 A duke of Edom (Gen. 36:13-17; 1 Chr. 1:37)
2 Third son of Jesse (16:9; 17:13). Called Shimma (1 Chr. 2:13) and Shimeah (2 Sam. 13:3; 21:21)
3 First of David's men (2 Sam. 23:11)
4 A hero of David (2 Sam. 23:33). Called Shammoth and Shamhuth (1 Chr. 11:27; 27:8) 25) 5 Another hero of David (2 Sam. 23:

Teraphim (15:23)

Heb. teraphim, trans. teraphim only 6 times (Judg. 17:5; 18:14-20; Hos. 3:4); idolatry (v 23); image (1 Sam. 19:13, 16); family idols (Zech. 10:2); and family images (Gen. 31:19, 34-35; 2 Kl. 23:24; Ezek. 21:21)
Family idols and images, or the teraphims, were talismanic figures supposed to cure diseases and ward off evils. It was believed that the gods, upon seeing them, would be favorable to the one who suffered or was in trouble of any kind. Not only images of men were made, but images of eyes, ears, mouth, nose, hands, feet and other parts of the body were hung in temples as charms to protect these bodily parts

God's choice of David (16:10)

God had evidently directed Samuel to have every one of the 7 sons of Jesse pass before him, and then spoke in his ear in each case to say this was not the right one (v 7-10; 9:15). When none were chosen Samuel knew something was wrong, because he had been directed to anoint one of Jesse's family as king. Upon inquiring he learned of another son who had been too busy to come to the feast. He was young and perhaps smaller than the others; but he was chosen of God who was looking on the heart and not the outward appearance. The Lord saw in him a man after His own heart (13:14; 16:7). David was the youngest of Jesse's 8 sons. He became a mighty man of valor (v 18). He is referred to many times as a mighty warrior and able to do more than many others in combat. He killed a lion and a bear even as a youth (17:34-36). His own mighty men acknowledged that he was worth 10,000 of them in war (2 Sam. 18:3). As to bodily appearance, in youth he is described as ruddy, of a beautiful countenance, and good to look at (v 13). He had the true qualities of a king, but compared to his grownup brothers he was not even counted important enough to be urged to attend the feast (v 7-11)

5 facts about David (16:11)

1 The youngest of Jesse's 8 sons
2 Keeper of the sheep - the only one of the sons busy except for displaying their admirable physical appearance
3 Ruddy, Heb. admonly, reddish; red; ruddy. From adam, flush: rosy; red; ruddy; to show blood in the face. David was no doubt rosy cheeked and red-haired, auburn-haired, or golden haired
4 Of a beautiful countenance. Heb. yapheh, beautiful; fair; pleasant; goodly (v 12; 25:3; Song 6:4; Ezek. 16:13)
5 Goodly to look at Different versions express these traits vividly: Septuagint, ruddy complexion, with beautiful eyes, and comely in appearance; Peshitta, ruddy, with beautiful eyes, and very handsome; Berkeley, ruddy complexion, sparkling eyes, and a handsome appearance; Rotherham, ruddy, a stripling with handsome eyes, and noble mien

16 Continued attempts to kill David and the defeat and death of Saul (19:11-31:13)

Transfer of Spirits (16:14)

In contrast with the Spirit of the Lord coming upon David from that day forward (v 13), the same Holy Spirit departed from Saul, and an evil spirit troubled him (v 14). This is evidence again that one who returns to sin may lose the Holy Spirit. Saul lost Him after having Him upon his life for several years (10:6, 9-13; 11:6; 13:1). David believed such was possible, for he prayed for God not to take the Spirit from him (Ps. 51:11). Lucifer, fallen angels, demons, Adam and Eve, and many others are examples of sin causing one to lose what he has been given of the Lord. See p. 284 of N.T. and p. 237

Holy Spirit departing from Saul (16:14)

Not only the Holy Spirit, but Jehovah, Himself was also departed from Saul (18:12). The same was true of Samson - God departed from him (Judg. 16:20)

6 Divine things can depart from man:

1 God, Himself (18:12; 28:15-16; Judg. 16:20; Hos. 9:12)
2 The Holy Spirit (16:14; Ps. 51:11)
3 God's glory (4:21-22; Ezek. 10:18)
4 God's Word (Dt. 4:9; Pr. 3:21; 4:21; Heb. 2:1, note) 39)
5 God's soul (Jer. 6:8; Heb. 10:38-6 God's mercy (2 Sam. 7:15)

5 Divine things man can depart from:

1 God, Himself (Jer. 17:5, 13; Isa. 59:13; Hos. 1:2; Heb. 3:12)
2 God's Word (Pr. 5:7)
3 Following the Lord (2 Chr. 34:33)
4 The way of the Lord (Mal. 2:8)
5 The faith (1 Tim. 4:1)

Evil spirit from God (16:14)

Evil spirits come from God only in the sense of being permitted by Him to trouble those who are backslidden and persist in sin and rebellion (v 14; 1 Kl. 22:21-24; 2 Chr. 18:20-23). The idea is that God does not protect such a person from spirits as He otherwise would if he yielded to Him instead, and obeyed Him. God gave Saul over to an evil spirit as punishment for his sins and self-will. Naturally, when the Holy Spirit left him he was open to an evil spirit of torment from Satan

Remedy for Saul (16:15)

Saul's servants, perhaps the officers of his kingdom or his body guard, noticed the great change since the Holy Spirit had departed from him. They advised a good musician to play during special melancholy periods which he suffered. The advice was followed and David was chosen. The plan was successful, for the evil spirit did not bother Saul at such times when David's music was played (v 15-23)

Order of events (17:15)

Since 16:14-23 comes chronologically between 19:9 and 10 (note j, 16:14), this v 15 must refer to David helping his 3 brothers to the army with their equipment and returning to his father again. This seems clear from the fact that it says, "the three eldest followed Saul (went to be in Saul's army). But David (who helped them get to the valley of Elah with their camp equipment and weapons) went and returned from Saul to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem" (v 14-15). Some days later, after Israel was mobilized, and at the end of about 40 more days, David was sent back to the army to see how his brothers were faring and to take them provisions. It was then that he found Goliath defying the army of God and of Israel (v 16-29)
Some versions suggest David went back and forth from Saul's army and his father's home to herd the sheep. He could have done so to supply his brothers on several occasions during the time the army was being mobilized and during the 40 days Goliath was defying them. On the 40th day when the army seemed to be in commotion, perhaps getting ready to attack the Philistines, David, who had come to see his brothers found out what Goliath was doing and saying (v 14-28). He then offered to fight the giant if no other man in Israel would do so (v 30-37). He had not yet met Saul but did so when he made this offer (v 30-40). While he went to face Goliath Saul inquired of Abner as to who he really was (v 41-56). These facts should harmonize the seeming discrepancies of David being with Saul to play for him (16:14-23), of his leaving the camp of Saul to go home (17:14-15), and of Saul being ignorant of ever meeting David before (17:30-58)

Boast of Goliath (17:41)

The Philistines drew near to David hiding behind the large shield carried by a man before him, not knowing what he was to face. When he looked from behind the protecting shield he was full of wrath because such a duelist - a mere boy, should be sent against him. He hurled slander at David and cursed him by his gods, promising to give his flesh to the birds and beasts (v 41-44). Such a boy without armour and weapons of warfare made the vain giant careless in his defense, so he came at the opponent to tear him in pieces with his hands

2fold boast of Goliath (v 43-44):

1 Am I a dog, that you come to me with staves? There could be no stronger statement of contempt (2 Kl. 8:13; Mt. 15:26); and since David was coming against him with a club, which was used on dogs, it made him blind with rage that helped cause his own downfall

2 Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the fowls of the air, and the beasts of the field

7fold answer of David (17:45)

1 You come to me with a sword, a spear, and a shield, but I come to you in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel whom you have defied
2 This day will the Lord deliver you into my hand off
3 I will smite you and take your head
4 I will give the bodies of your army to the birds and beasts of the earth, this day
5 All the earth shall know that there is a God in Israel
6 All this assembly shall know that the Lord does not save by a sword and spear
7 The battle is the Lord's and He will give you into our hands

7 blessings of David (18:5)

1 He and Jonathan became fast friends. This saved his life later (v 1; 19:1-7; 20:1-42)
2 Saul accepted him, making him his servant from that day forward (v 2)
3 Jonathan made a covenant with David, because he loved him, and acknowledged that David would be the next king of Israel; he wanted some part in the kingdom under David (v 3; 20:16-19, 23, 30, 41; 23:16-18)
4 As a token of his great love for David and of their covenant together, Jonathan stripped himself of his robe, his garments, and even his sword, bow, and girdle (v4). In the East it was considered a special mark of respect to be presented, by a prince or sovereign, some piece of the garments he was wearing. The gift of a girdle was a special token of the greatest confidence and affection; and it was very highly prized. Cp. 2 Sam. 18:11. Jonathan not only gave David one piece but the entire outfit he was wearing, including his weapons, which indicated that he was his servant altogether and owed complete allegiance to him
5 He acted wisely and was well behaved in all his responsibilities of helping Saul in the kingdom (v 5, Cp. 16:8)
6 Saul set him over all the men of war in Israel; and as commander he distinguished himself as a mighty valiant man, and a man of war (v 5; 16:18). He certainly was not this when he killed Goliath as a boy without any experience in war
7 He was accepted in the sight of all Israel, and in the sight of Saul's servants (v 5)

Custom of women (18:6)

It was the custom for women to express their delight in victory by songs, music, and dancing in the presence of the conquerors (v 6; Ex. 15:20; Judg. 11:24). This encouraged the seed of jealousy that caused the many sins of Saul and the sufferings of David whom they wanted to honor. Many times an innocent something becomes a deadly poison which causes untold heartache and destruction. This was something Saul could not overlook. He wanted to be the hero and could have been if he had killed the giant; but he did not even attempt it. Saul reasoned the people might as well give David the kingdom; then a jealous demon took hold of him from that time forward (v 8-9). This is further proof that happenings of 16:13-23 were after all the events of ch. 17

10fold effect upon Saul (18:8)

1 He was very wroth (v 8)
2 The saying displeased him
3 He said: They give David more glory than they do me, they may as well give him the kingdom 9)
4 He eyed David from that day on (v
5 An evil spirit of jealousy and insanity came upon him to prophesy (v 10)
6 Saul cast the javelin at David to kill him while under the demon influence (v 11)
7 He was afraid of David because the Lord was with him, and had departed out of his own life (v 12)
8 Saul demoted David, setting him over only 1,000 men; but David behaved himself very wisely; and the Lord was all the more manifestly with him so that Saul was still more afraid of him (v 13-15)
9 Israel and Judah loved David with increasing love, so Saul deceitfully planned the taking of David's life by the Philistines to free himself from the charge of murder; but when God prospered David against the Philistines Saul was the more afraid of him and became his enemy continually (v 16-30)
10 Saul continued to seek the life of David until 21 attempts had been made to kill him before he (Saul), himself was killed by the Philistines (19:1-31:13)

12 known wars in Saul's reign (18:8)

1 The Ammonite war (11:1-14, 14:47)
2 1st Philistine war (13:1-14:45)
3 The Moabite war (14:47)
4 The Edomite war (14:47)
5 The Syrian war (14:47) 35)
6 The Amalekite war (14:47; 15:1-7 2nd Philistine war (17:1-58)
8 3rd Philistine war (18:17-30)
9 4th Philistine war (19:8)
10 5th Philistine war (23:1-5)
11 6th Philistine war (23:27-24:1)
12 7th Philistine war (31:1-13)

Schools of the prophets (19:20)

Heb. Ishaqah, to gather; an assembly; a company. From this assembly of the prophets we get the idea of the school of the prophets. It seems that men who desired to be prophets gathered together to learn the ways of God and to be trained in divine matters. No doubt they sought God and were anointed with the Holy Spirit as in other periods. Certain men in every age have been spiritually minded and hungry for the Lord. There were such gatherings from Samuel's day on (v 20, 24; 10:5-12; 1 Ki. 18:4, 13; 19:1, 10, 14). Those who gathered in Elijah and Elisha's day were called the sons of the prophets (1 Ki. 20:35, 41; 2 Ki. 2:2-7, 15; 4:1, 38; 5:22; 6:1; 9:1). They were the special servants of God (1 Ki. 17:13, 23; 21:10; 24:2; 2 Chr. 20:20; 24:19; 29:25; 36:16; Ezra 9:11; Neh. 9:26-32; Isa. 29:10); and they were the preachers of their day (Neh. 6:7; 9:26; Amos 2:11; Acts 3:21; 1 Cor. 14:3, 24-32). Here it speaks of Samuel standing among them as their appointed leader or president of the school (v 20). Elijah and Elisha were heads of the prophets in their time (2 Ki. 2:2-7, 15; 6:1). In such gatherings there seemed to be a general spirit of prophecy that would come upon all present. At least, this is what happened here. Three companies of Saul's soldiers had the Spirit come upon them when they came among the prophets (v 20-21). Then when Saul, the backslider from whom the Spirit had been taken away, came among them, the Spirit was upon him again for the time being (v 22-24)

David's distress (20:41)

David's distress in leaving his true and tried friend Jonathan, the loss of his wife and home with all its comforts, the loss of his relatives, friends, and beloved people of Israel, his country and inheritance, and above all the altars of God, would naturally cause him to exceed in weeping. David was not a mere boy any more; he was a full grown man, a man of war and as brave and powerful as the best, but he was crushed at the injustice meted out to him (v 41). He set an example of godliness that cannot be surpassed and became a pattern here for all others to imitate. He could have killed Saul, organized an army of true followers in Israel, divided the kingdom and split the whole nation; but he neither sought power, personal gain, or vengeance in the least degree. He did not linger to recruit sympathizers. He simply left everything to the providence of God to work out in His time and way

David's fear (21:1)

David had a right to be afraid, not realizing what attitude they would take after knowing that the killer of their giant champion of Gath, and the man who had caused their defeat more than once, was in their hands. David should have had faith though, and recognized that Jehovah had chosen him to be the king of Israel, and that He would therefore see to it that he fulfilled his calling in spite of Saul and the Philistines. Instead, he took things in his own hands and decided to play insane, thinking they would then turn him loose to go where he pleased (v 12-13). The strategy was a success, for Achish rejected him (v 14-15). David composed Ps. 56 on this occasion

The cave of Adullam (22:1)

The cave of Adullam was a large one near the city of Adullam in Judah which was about 12 miles southwest of Bethlehem and about 20 or more miles from Nob, a place about 2 miles north of Jerusalem (v 1; Josh. 12:15; 15:35; 2 Sam. 23:13; 1 Chr. 11:15; 2 Chr. 11:7; Neh. 1:30; Mic. 1:15, Cp. Gen. 38:1, 12, 20). Here is where David gathered his mighty men who helped him in his adventures with Saul and others, and who also helped him get the kingdom of Judah after the death of Saul. At first, 400 men gathered to him and he became their leader (v 1-2); then others came until there were about 600 (23:13; 27:2; 30:9). Ps. 57 was written on this occasion

4 classes joined David (22:1)

1 His brethren and his father's house
2 Everyone that was in distress
3 Everyone that was in debt
4 Everyone that was discontented
His father's house did not go down to him because of blood relationship only, but mainly because they were all in danger of being killed by Saul who was determined to slay David and thus get rid of his rival from the house of Jesse. If any in the gathering thought it was a good chance to take vengeance on Saul, to rob and plunder, and get gain, they were disappointed, for David never misused his power; he always made it count for good and in defence of his people

35 sins of Saul the backslider (22:19)

1 Intruded into the priests' office through impatience and self-will (13:1-14)
2 Broke God's commandment by not slaying all Amalekites and their stock (15:1-35)
3 Became very wroth and envied David from the time the women sang, ascribing less glory to him than to David (18:8-9)
4 Attempted to slay David by a javelin (18:11)
5 Attempted again to slay him by a javelin (18:11)
6 Plotted to have David killed by the Philistines (18:16-19)
7 Plotted again to have him killed by the Philistines (18:20-30)
8 Gave command to execute David without cause (19:9-10)
9 Attempted to slay David by a javelin (19:9-10)
10 Sent soldiers secretly to kill David at his home (19:11-14)
11 Sent soldiers to bring David even though sick, so he could personally kill him (19:15-17)
12 Sent soldiers to take David (19:20)
13 Sent soldiers again to take him
14 Still again sent soldiers to do the same (19:21) 24)
15 Went himself to kill David (19:22-16 Waited patiently to kill David (20:24-25) 29) 17 Again waited to kill him (20:26-

20 Drove men of God away from their own inheritances and from the worship of the true God (22:1-4)
21 Caused division among God's people (22:1-4)
22 Sowed seeds of hatred in the hearts of men who loved David (22:7)
23 Accused his servants of conspiring against him because they did not seek the life of David (22:8)
24 Accused Jonathan of stirring David up in rebellion against him (22:8)
25 Accused priests of conspiring against him when they merely carried out their duty (22:11-15)
26 Killed 85 priests of God (22:16-18)
27 Destroyed a whole city of the priests, the men, women, children, babies, and all stock because of jealousy (22:19)
28 Raised up an army to fight and destroy another innocent city trying to get David and kill his men (23:8-13)
29 Sought to murder daily (23:14)
30 Plotted with Ziphites to destroy David (23:15-24)
31 Sought David, with his whole army, expecting to kill him (23:25-29)
32 Sought him again, with his whole army, hoping to kill him (24:1-22)
33 Sought David another time with his army, to kill him without cause (26:1-25)
34 Inquired of a witch and demons, swearing to break God's law and spare the witch (28:6-26; 1 Cor. 10:13-14)
35 Committed suicide (31:4-5)

En-gedi (23:29)

En-gedi, the fountain of the kid, was a city on the western shore of the Dead Sea, about the middle section. Ordinally called Hazezon-tamar it was the home of Amorites in the days of Abraham (Gen. 14:7); also Hazazon-tamar (2 Chr. 20:2). The fountain which comes out of the mountainside about 400 ft. above the sea is still called Ainjidy, from which the city took its name. Near it are the ruins of several buildings. The old city site was on the level ground at the seashore, which is still strewn with ruins. The wilderness of En-gedi included the wild and rugged mountain regions extending from the city toward Hebron, Tekoa, and Bethlehem. It was and still is the home of wild goats; and in every ravine are immense caverns in which David and his men could have hid from Saul (v 29; 24:1-2). Some could have held all of David's 600 men (24:3). The cave of Khureitun at the upper end of the wilderness would hold as many as 3,000. One great hall alone is said to be 45 by 120 ft. and with an arched roof. Such caves are to be found throughout the East, especially where lime stone abounds

Saul's acknowledgement (24:16)

Saul acknowledged the justice and mercy of David as well as his own fault and guilt; and begged mercy and kindness to his own house when David would become king. He seems to have been a man of strong emotions, capable of grateful expressions when normal, and uncontrollable temper and wickedness when overcome by his depraved disposition and under the influence of a demon spirit that had come into his life instead of the Holy Spirit (v 16-22; 16:13-23). Saul's change here was only short lived, and his clear and sane acknowledgement and admiration of the character and conduct of the one he dreaded was transient. Nevertheless, God used these circumstances for a temporary escape for David. Ps. 142 was composed on this occasion

Churlish (25:3)

Heb. qasheh, churlish (v 3); trans. roughly (20:10; Gen. 42:7, 30; 1 Ki. 12:13; 2 Chr. 10:13; Isa. 27:8); hard (1:15; Ex. 1:14; 18:26; Dt. 26:6; 2 Sam. 2:17; 3:39; Ps. 60:3, 5; Song 8:6; Isa. 14:3); cruel (Ex. 6:9; Isa. 19:4); stiff-necked (Ex. 32:9; 33:35; 34:9; Dt. 9:6, 13; 31:27); stubborn (Judg. 3:19); prevailed (Judg. 4:24); sore (2 Sam. 2:17; Isa. 27:1); grievous (1 Ki. 12:4; 2 Chr. 10:4; Isa. 21:2); heavy (1 Ki. 14:6); trouble (Jer. 30:25); obstinate (Isa. 48:4); hardhearted (Ezek. 3:7); and impudent (Ezek. 2:4). With these qualities one can see how Nabal was a fool not only in name, but also in disposition and character

1st act of judgment by David (25:13)

This was the first act of judgment of David upon anyone who had insulted and mistreated him among his own people. He did not seek judgment upon Saul or Doeg, or the cities of Keilah and Ziph who had all betrayed him; but Nabal was so surly and insulting to those who had befriended him that David decided to take a stand against such ungodliness in Israel, with punishment. He took 400 of the 600 men with him, indicating that Nabal undoubtedly had many men with him at the feast he was making, and went to administer the punishment, 200 men stayed by the stuff; that is, the camp, the women and children, (v 13)

6 things Saul finally acknowledged (28:21)

1 I have sinned in seeking your life
2 David should return to his inheritance
3 I have been seeking to do you harm, but I will do it no more
4 I realize that you truly love me and respect me by sparing me the second time
5 I have played the fool
6 I have erred exceedingly

9 proofs that this was not Samuel (28:20)

1 God would not answer Saul either by dreams and visions, Urim and Thummim, or by prophets, for He had departed from him and had taken the Holy Spirit away from him because of sin (v 6, 15-16; 15:26; 16:13-23; 1 Chr. 10:13-14). If God had refused to answer him by legitimate means He certainly would not answer contrary to Scripture (Lk. 16:26). If He would not answer by the Holy Spirit He certainly would not answer by a demon spirit seeking to imitate Samuel, as is plain here (v 7-19; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)

2 It is clearly stated that Saul sought information from demons, not from God who refused to answer him. He definitely wanted a witch that had a familiar spirit, to inquire of her (v 7). His request was for her to divine by the familiar spirit (v 8)

3 The Bible plainly teaches that communication with the dead can be demon spirits imitating departed loved ones (v 7-19; Dt. 18:11; 1 Chr. 10:13-14; Isa. 8:19)

4 It is commanded in scores of scriptures not to traffic with demons or seek communication with the dead (note b, Lk. 12:29); therefore, God would not allow Samuel to communicate thus through a witch

5 The seeming appearance of Samuel to the witch was simply the familiar spirit imitating and impersonating him (1 Chr. 10:13-14). When it appeared that Samuel was speaking to Saul, it was the demon speaking; it would know about both Samuel and Saul and their past relationship. Such a demon could also make predictions (Dt. 13:1-3). Isaiah warned later that those who sought to the dead were deceived by familiar spirits (Isa. 8:19)

6 The demon spirit practically revealed his identity when he said that Saul and his sons would be with him tomorrow. Saul went to the torment compartment of sheol or hades, whereas Samuel went to the comfort side of the underworld of departed spirits. See Where are the dead, and Hell, p. 620

7 There is no record of God seeking to intercept the communication of demons and men. Saul inquired of a demon and was answered by one. When God gives answers His messages come only through the Holy Spirit in different ways, but never through unlawful or unscriptural ways, as here. The case of Balaam is sometimes mentioned as proof that God intercepts messages of Satan and utters His own through the same channel, but this is not true. Balaam was a true prophet as long as he was used of God. See 35 Bible facts about Balaam, p. 198

8 It is stated in 1 Chr. 10:13-14 that Saul died for his previous sins and also for sinning against the Word of the Lord, which forbad witches and traffic with demons, and for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to inquire of it, and inquired not of the Lord (on this occasion). Thus, it was from a familiar spirit, and not Samuel, that he obtained his information

9 Jesus taught that it is impossible for the dead to communicate with living persons on earth, and all scriptures on the subject of the state of the dead, and on heaven and hell, completely confirm His teaching. There was an impassible gulf between the compartments so that they could not go from one place to the other, nor go back to the earth (Lk. 16:26-31). The only case of any person leaving his place of confinement between death and resurrection is the case of Moses whom God brought up for a purpose, on the mount of transfiguration (Mt. 17:1-8). We must bear in mind though, that this was an act of God and not a demonized witch or wizard. Hence, we conclude that 1 Sam. 28:7-19 is the record of a demon impersonation

Hebrew crowns (1:10)

We know very little about the kind and shapes of crowns the Hebrew kings wore. The Heb. uezer, trans. crown here means something set apart in the dedication of a priest or king; hence it came to be used of the headpiece worn by one which signified his office (v 1:10; 2 Ki. 11:12; 2 Chr. 23:11; Ps. 89:39; 132:18; Pr. 27:24; Zech. 9:16). The same word is used of the crown of the high priest in Ex. 29:6; 39:30; Lev. 8:9; 21:12. Only in Zech. 9:16 do we have the idea of precious stones being set in the crown. That of the high priest was made of gold (Ex. 25:11, 24-25; 30:3-4; 37:2, 11-12, 26-27) as other crowns (Esther 8:15; Ps. 21:3; Rev. 14:14). Kings of Israel were anointed and were called the Lord's anointed in the same sense that the high priest was the anointed of God (1:14, 16; 1 Sam. 12:3-5; Ps. 2:2; Hab. 3:13)

11fold description of the battle of Gilboa and its effects (1:19)

11fold description of the battle of Gilboa and its effects

1 The beauty of Israel is slain upon the high places (v 19), Heb. for beauty is tsebiu, prominence; splendor; gazelle, as a symbol of beauty and grace. This refers to Israel under the symbol of a gazelle, beautiful and graceful, being slain in its flight over the mountains

2 How are the mighty fallen!

3 Do not tell or publish it in Philistia, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised rejoice and triumph (v 20)

4 Let no dew or rain fall upon the mountains of Gilboa, or enough be produced in the fertile fields to make a first-fruit offering, for there the weapons of the mighty, and the one anointed with oil, were vilely cast away (v 21)

5 From the blood of the slain, and the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan did not turn back, nor the sword of Saul return empty (v 22)

6 Saul and Jonathan, who were lovely and pleasant in their lives, were not divided in death (v 23)

7 They were swifter than eagles, stronger than lions

8 Let the daughters of Israel weep over Saul, who caused you to prosper and be clothed in scarlet and have ornaments of gold and jewels (v 24)

9 How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle and the weapons of war perished! (v 25, 27)

10 In the midst of the battle Jonathan was slain in the lofty mountains

11 I mourn for you, brother Jonathan; you were lovely to me and your love was genuine, surpassing the love of women

Michal restored to David (3:15)

Ish-bosheth acted immediately on David's request and took Michal from her present husband, Phaltiel and sent her to David (v 15-16). Saul had taken her, after driving David away from home, and had given her to Phaltiel to be his wife (1 Sam. 25:44). Michal may have lost some of her love for David in the meantime, or at least she was proud and a slave to etiquette as indicated by her making fun of him when he danced publicly before the ark without his kingly robes on (6:14-16). This was called despising him in her heart, and was such a serious offence that it became the reason for her being childless until her death (6:21-23, notes)

9 acts of David at the death of Abner (3:28)

1 Declared his innocence (v 28)
2 Cursed Joab and all his house (v 29)
3 Demanded that Joab and all the people rend their clothes, gird themselves in sackcloth, and mourn for him (v 31)
4 He, himself, followed the bier
5 Lifted up his voice and wept with all Israel at the grave of Abner (v 32)
6 Uttered a lamentation for him (v 33-34)
7 Fasted until sunset (v 35)
8 Declared the greatness of Abner (v 38)
9 Committed the matter of the murder to God (v 39)

Meaning of "agency" (4:10)

A simple example of how Hebrews expressed the idea of agency. David spoke of it as if he personally took hold of the young man and killed him (v 10), but in reality he had a young man do it for him (1:15). So it is in many cases where they expressed the idea of God doing certain things, as God plagued (Gen. 12:17; Ex. 32:35); the Lord struck the child (12:15); the Lord will make thy plagues wonderful (Dt. 28:59), etc. It seems as if God personally sent sickness, plagues, and curses, when in reality He only permitted or gave the command for proper agents to carry out His will concerning people who had committed sin worthy of punishment (Gal. 6:7-8)

30 years of David (5:4)

This thirty years of David when he began to reign answers a number of questions:

reign

1 How old he was when he began to
2 How old he was when he killed the giant. He could not have been more than 18-20 years of age (1 Sam. 17)
3 How long he was driven away from home and chased by Saul. It could not have been more than 6-10 years (1 Sam. 18-31)
4 How old he was when he took Abishag as his last wife. He was 70 years old (1 Ki. 1:1-4), being 30 when he began to reign for 40 years (v 4)

He evidently was only 20-24 years old when he gathered his men in the cave of Adullam and became captain over them

New war with Philistia (5:17)

For at least 8 years now the Philistines had not been heard from, the last time being in the battle of Gilboa when Saul was defeated (1 Sam. 31). It seems they were unconcerned all the time David was ruling over Judah for 7 1/2 years, perhaps because this was only a part of Israel. Furthermore, since David had lived among them for more than a year, as one of them, and had simply settled in Hebron as ruler of his own tribe - the Judah portion, they no doubt considered it lightly, though watching to see what would develop between him and all Israel. Now, since he had been accepted and crowned king over all Israel, they mobilized their armies to seek him and destroy him before he could consolidate his hold upon Israel and make his own war preparations (v 17)

Place of their own (7:10)

To associate this scripture with the idea that 10 so-called lost tribes moved to England and America (as some teach) where they will move no more is unscriptural. No such thing could be understood here; certainly David did not understand that God would do away with his tribe of Judah and rob them of the original covenants and promises causing them to have no part in the fulfillment of the predictions made to him and his house. It being true that the English and Americans will not move anymore only proves that they are not Israel, for all Israel will be moved or regathered from the other nations where they are now scattered so as to be back in their own land in the latter days. See the Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367 The children of wickedness are still afflicting England, America, Israel, and many other lands, which proves that the verse has not yet been fulfilled with any people as yet

God's promise to build David a house (7:11)

One of the most interesting facts in this chapter is that on the occasion of David desiring to build God a material house, He revealed to David that He would build him a house, not of material and dead substance, but of spiritual, eternal, and living substance - a human house to continue eternally. God did make David a house, but it was destroyed along with all Israel. It is now in destruction and unknown among the nations. Prophecy declares that God will come and rebuild the house of David and set it up again (after the church age) in the future (Isa. 11:1-16; Hos. 3:4-5; Amos 9:11-15). James said that all the prophets agree with this (Acts 15:13-18)

David's eternal house (7:16)

Household or family, the line of succession to the throne. This line ended in Jehoiachin, called Coniah at the time of the captivities (Jer. 22:28-30). No man of his seed shall ever reign again in Judah and Jerusalem. This literally happened, as Zedekiah, his uncle was made king after him - a man not in the direct line of the kings of Judah (2 Ki. 24:6-20). Zedekiah is not in the royal genealogy of Mt. 1 or the other line of David through Nathan in Lk. 3 (from which Mary came). Christ, who was not of the direct royal line, inherited the throne right through Joseph. See note k, Mt. 1:6. It is therefore, out of the question that a daughter of Zedekiah should have continued the throne rights of the house of David down to the present Queen and royal family of England. Concerning the small remnant of Jews who were to escape from Egypt (Jer. 44:28), which Anglo-Israelites say included the daughter of Zedekiah who continued the royal line of David, no mention is made of any of the king's seed at all. No kingly line of Israel was ever preserved through a woman, and the definite prophecy was that if the Judahites stayed in the land of Judea they would be built up (Jer. 42:10). This would exclude a lone woman going to another country where the house of David and his royal line would be built up. The strange land the Judahites were to go into as in Jer. 15:11-14 is explained - into all the kingdoms of the earth (Jer. 15:4), not England alone

David's eternal kingdom (7:16)

Eternal kingdom. This was made up first of Judah (2:7) and later the other tribes of Israel (5:1-5). This is what constituted the original kingdom of David and this is what it will consist of in the future when all the tribes will be gathered under the Messiah who will reign over them in Palestine forever (v 16; Isa. 9:6-7; 11:10-16; Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 36-37; Hos. 3:4-5; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 19:11-20:10)

David's prayer to God (7:18)

He sat in silent meditation and prayer before the ark of the covenant, perhaps in the outer court of the tabernacle (v 18)

26 things David said to God:

1 Who am I? (v 18)
2 What is my house, that You have brought me this far?
3 This was a small thing in Your sight, to speak of my house eternally 4 Is this the manner (law) of man (ha-adam - the law of the adam)?
5 I am so overcome with gratitude, what can I say more to You (v 20)
6 You know Your servant
7 You have done all this for Your word's sake, and because it was in Your heart to make me know Your words (v 21)
8 You are great (v 22)
9 There is no one like You
10 There is no God but You
11 There is no nation on earth like Your people (v 23)
12 You redeemed them to Yourself
13 You made a great name for Yourself in redeeming them, in doing great and terrible things for them and their land, and in delivering them from the Gentiles and their gods
14 You have confirmed Israel to Yourself to be a people forever (v 24)
15 You have become their God
16 Do what You have said about me and my house forever (v 25)
17 Let Your name be magnified forever (v 26)
18 You are the God of Israel

THE SECOND BOOK OF SAMUEL

OTHERWISE CALLED

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE KINGS

Reign of David - Davidic Covenant - Failures - 10 Wars in 40 Years - New Religious Policies - Prophecies

a There is no break between the two books of Samuel. They were one in the Hebrew text, being first divided by the Septuagint translators about 285 B. C. They have been continued as two books in every version since. But, in our study we should proceed with 2 Samuel without a break. The same thing happened to the book of Kings and that of Chronicles - each was originally one book then divided into two. Ezra and Nehemiah also were one book at first and then made into two b With Saul dead, we now take up a more detailed study of the life of David - from this point onward for 40 years. This story continues through all of 2 Samuel and into chs. 1-2 of 1 Kings, and chs. 11-29 of 1 Chronicles

c See 1 Sam. 30 for this story

d The 3rd day after his return to Ziklag. This was 7 to 10 days after leaving the Philistines to return to Ziklag (1 Sam. 30:1, 17)

e He was an Amalekite (v 8). It seems that many of this nation were servants to other nations and served in various armies. They inhabited the lower Arabian peninsula south of Simeon and Judah in the days of Saul and David. This man was no doubt a trusted soldier of Saul and fought along with Israel; or he was a servant in the camp. He must have gone directly to the camp of David, thinking that the news he brought would be welcomed and be would receive some kind of reward or favor by reporting the death of David's chief enemy. He was probably well acquainted with the differences between Saul and David and wanted to be among the first to honor the latter after the death of Saul, knowing he would be the next king in Israel. He came to him as if in great mourning; he had rent his clothes and put dust upon his head as the custom was in those days; and he fell upon his face in homage to him (v 2)

f Questions 1-4, Next, v 13

g David had asked who he was and how the battle had gone. The young man reported that Israel had lost the battle, many were killed, and Saul and Jonathan were also dead (v 4). Evidently he thought this last part of his report would be welcomed by David; but never was a man more wrong. To all men except very rare ones like David such would be good news - hearing that their chief enemy was dead, that the only man who was standing between them and promotion was gone; but not so in this case. It is hard for selfish and carnal men to understand the true feelings of David and his acts on this occasion

h David wanted further proof that Saul and Jonathan were dead, so the young man continued with a story that cost him his life. He was so anxious to be honored by David that he told the wrong kind of story, trying to make it appear that he was a hero in the eyes of his superiors (v 5-10)

i The descrepancy between this young man's testimony here and the true record of the inspired writer in 1 Sam. 31: 3-5; 1 Chr. 10:3-5 must be attributed to his seeking to impress David with his part in doing away with his chief enemy, thinking that he would be rewarded (4:10)

j What Saul said to his own armourbearer and not to this stranger (1 Sam. 31:3-5; 1 Chr. 10:3-5) k Saul slew himself by falling upon a sword, so he was not slain by a stranger (1 Sam. 31:3-5; 1 Chr. 10:3-5)

l This part of the story was no doubt true, for if he did not have the crown and bracelet he would not have said this to David (v 10)

268 CHAPTER 1

I Report of the Battle of Gilboa. 1 The Amalekite's report thinking to gain favor with David

NOW it came to pass [a]after the death of Saul, when Dā'vid was returned [b]from the slaughter of the Am'a-lĕk-ites, and Dā'vid had abode two days in Zĭk'lăg;

2 It came even to pass on [c]the third day, that, behold, [d]a man came out of the camp from Saul with his clothes rent, and earth upon his head: and so it was, when he came to Dā'vid, that he fell to the earth, and did obeisance.

3 And Dā'vid [e]said unto him, From whence comest thou? And he said unto him, Out of the camp of Is'ra-el am I escaped.

4 And Dā'vid said unto him, How went the matter? I pray thee, tell me. And he [f]answered, That the people are fled from the battle, and many of the people also are fallen and dead; and Saul and Jŏn'a-than his son are dead also.

5 And Dā'vid [g]said unto the young man that told him, How knowest thou that Saul and Jŏn'a-than his son be dead?

6 And the young man that told him said, [h]As I happened by chance upon mount Gĭl-bō'a, behold, Saul leaned upon his spear; and, lo, the chariots and horsemen followed hard after him.

7 And when he looked behind him, he saw me, and called unto me. And I answered, Here am I.

8 And he said unto me, Who art thou? And I answered him, I am an Am'a-lĕk-ite.

9 He [i]said unto me again, Stand, I pray thee, upon me, and slay me: for anguish is come upon me, because my life is yet whole in me.

10 So I stood upon him, [j]and slew him, because I was sure that he could not live after that he was fallen: and [k]I took [l]the crown that was upon his head, and the [m]bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them hither unto my lord.

2 Mourning for Israel's defeat

11 Then Dā'vid took hold on his clothes, [o]and rent them; and likewise all the men that were with him:

12 And they mourned, and wept, and fasted until even, [p]for Saul, and for Jŏn'a-than his son, and for the people of the LORD, and for the house of Is'ra-el; because they were fallen by the sword.

3 The Amalekite executed

13 ¶ And Dā'vid [q]said unto the young man that told him, Whence art thou? And he answered, I am the son of a stranger, [r]an Am'a-lĕk-ite.

14 And Dā'vid said unto him, How [s]wast thou not afraid to stretch forth thine hand to destroy the LORD'S anointed?

15 And Dā'vid called one of the young men, and said, Go near, and fall upon him. And he smote him that he died.

16 And Dā'vid said unto him, Thy blood be upon thy head; for thy mouth hath testified against thee, saying, I have slain the LORD'S anointed.

4 David's lamentation for Saul and Jonathan

17 ¶ And Dā'vid lamented with this [t]lamentation over Saul and over Jŏn'a-than his son:

18 (Also he bade them teach the children of Jū'dah the use of the bow: behold, it is written in the book of [u]Jā'shēr.)

19 [v]The beauty of Is'ra-el is slain upon thy high places: how are the mighty fallen!

20 Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Ăs'ke-lŏn; lest the daughters of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph.

21 Ye mountains of Gĭl-bō'a, let there be no dew, neither let there be rain, upon you, nor fields of offerings: for there the shield of the mighty is vilely cast away, the shield of Saul, as though he had not been anointed with oil.

22 From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jŏn'a-than turned not back, and the sword of Saul returned not empty.

23 Saul and Jŏn'a-than were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided: they were swifter than eagles, they were stronger than lions.

24 Ye daughters of Is'ra-el, weep over Saul, who [w]clothed you in scarlet, with other delights, who put on ornaments of gold upon your apparel.

25 How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jŏn'a-than, thou wast slain [x]in thine high places.

26 I am distressed for thee, my brother Jŏn'a-than: [y]very pleasant hast thou been unto me: thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women.

27 [z]How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!

269 CHAPTER 2

II David becomes king of Israel (2 Sam. 2:1-5:25). 1 Made king of Judah

AND it came to pass after this, that Dā'vid enquired a Regardless of whether the young man told the truth in everything, he at least testified that he had killed Saul; and on this basis David acted to execute him (v 12-16). It could be that he mutilated Saul's body or struck him with a sword to be sure that he was dead, doing so in vengeance because of what Saul had done to his own people (1 Sam. 15). In either case he dishonored Saul in word or deed - the one who had the command of God to kill all Amalekites (1 Sam. 15:3. Cp. Ex. 17:16). It is interesting to note that the crown which Saul had forfeited by failure to obey God regarding the Amalekites, was taken off by an Amalekite

b David took the view that if the Amalekite was bold enough to kill Saul, or bold enough to brag about it whether he did it or not, he was worthy of death; and so commanded one of his soldiers to kill him (v 14-16). He did so on the grounds of the young man's own confession

c This lamentation is really a martial ode and one of the first and finest odes in the O. T. David's own sufferings are forgotten while his fervent love and deep grief for his king and best friend, Jonathan are expressed. There is no bitter or revengeful word of exultation over the death of his greatest enemy, Saul. The song is about the mighty warrior, the anointed of the Lord, the delight of his people, and the father of his beloved friend. The title of the ode in Heb. is Kesheth, the bow. In the Eng. we get this idea from v 18 by omitting the words "the use of" which are in italics (supplied by translators), so that it reads: "Also he bade them teach the children of Judah The bow." The title is given because of the occasion of the Philistine archers (1 Sam. 31:3), and the bow of Jonathan (v 22). The tribe of Benjamin was noted for the use of the bow (1 Chr. 8:40; 12:2; 2 Chr. 14:8; 17:17). David could hardly forget the bow of Jonathan which sent the arrow used as a sign for his departure from his own home and country (1 Sam. 20: 36). It was the time when the covenant was made and eternal affection was expressed between them, which David calls wonderful, passing the love of women in v 26. It was customary in the East, to give quaint and even far-fetched titles to odes and treatises

f Affectionate and delightful in life. What a statement from a man to his greatest enemy who had made 21 attempts to kill him. Only divine love could inspire such words

g This suggests prosperity in the reign of Saul. Scarlet and delightful garments with ornaments of gold and jewels were a symbol of prosperity (v 24)

h Jonathan was noted for daring exploits. He was a trained mountaineer, the roughest of cliffs being the scenes of his greatest feats of arms; yet in mount Gilboa he fell, so David spoke of him as being slain in his high places, the places he was expert in (v 25)

i Very agreeable, delightful, and sweet you have been to me (v 26)

j The idea of the mighty falling is found 3 times in this ode (v 19, 25, 27) fast, and mourn over a man who had made 21 attempts to kill him, who had sought to kill his father, mother and other family members, and driven him from his own country and tried in every conceivable way to get rid of him - that was a rare thing indeed. Yet this is exactly what David did; his men also followed his example (v 12, 17). He counted Saul equal with Jonathan in his affection and called the king the Lord's anointed (v 14-16), the beauty of Israel (v 19), the mighty (v 21-22), swifter than eagles and stronger than lions (v (v 23), and as being lovely and pleasant in life (v 23). He exhorted Israel to weep as much for Saul as for Jonathan (v 24)

q Questions 5-6, Next, v 2:1

a Questions 7-8. Next, v 20
b Hebron became the capital of David for 7 1/2 years, and then Jerusalem became the capital of united Israel (2:1-7; 3:1-6; 5:1-12). See Hebron (note f, Josh. 10:36)
c David took his whole following with him from Ziklag to Hebron - his 2 wives, all his men and their households, and they settled in the cities of Judah round about (y 2, 3) d David's wife Abigail is always mentioned as the wife of Nabal the Carmelite, perhaps to distinguish her from Abigail, the sister of David (17:25; 1 Chr. 2:16-17. Cp. v 2; 3:3; 1 Sam. 25:3, 14, 18, 23, 32, 36, 39-42; 27:3; 30:5; 1 Chr. 3:1)
e At last the day of David's kingship had come. He had been anointed king by Samuel a number of years before (1 Sam. 16), and had gone through years of suffering and training for the kingship; now he was officially made king of Judah by the men who were of his own tribe. This marked the beginning of the fulfillment of the prophecy of Judah being the ruling tribe and of the king of Judah becoming the ancestor of the coming Messiah who was to be the eternal king of Judah and all Israel (Gen. 49:10; 1 Chr. 5:2). David was 30 years of age at this time (5:4), which would make his experiences from the slaying of Goliath to his kingship about 10-12 years in duration (1 Sam. 16-2 Sam. 2) f David's first act as king was to send messengers to bless the men of Jabesh-gilead who had buried Saul (v 4-7). It seems that he never got through showing love for Saul; and he thus demonstrated to men of all ages how true men of God can love their enemies and do good to them that despitefully use them. David showed him love all the years of his life and especially when Saul fell into his hands twice to be killed or spared by him; he showed genuine love in the lamentation of his death (1:17-27); and now, this additional consideration by blessing the men who had showed kindness by burial (v 6). David took this as an occasion to let them know that Judah had now anointed him king over them (v 7)
g So many times there are but's and if's in the way of men having God's complete and perfect will. Someone is nearly always standing in the Lord's way and has to be removed before His will can be done. It was God's will that David be king over all Israel, but Abner, the uncle of Saul, stood in the way, perhaps being envious of David and not wanting to lose his position as commander-in-chief of the armies of Israel. He made Ish-bosheth, the youngest and only son of Saul left, the king over the remaining part of Israel (v 8-9). David was thus again delayed in obtaining kingship over all Israel as God had promised through Samuel (1 Sam. 16). He did not contest the act of Abner, nor seek to push himself ahead of God in the matter; he waited patiently for over 7 years for all Israel to be united under him (2:10-11; 5:1-5)
h See Anglo-Saxon theory, col. 1, p. 367
i Ish-bosheth, man of shame. One of Saul's younger sons who was made king over Benjamin and the rest of Israel other than Judah, by Abner (v 8-15; 3:7-15; 4:5-12). Called also Esh-baal, man of Baal (1 Chr. 8:33; 9:39). This was perhaps his first name and Baal was changed to bosheth meaning shame, which was a popular nickname because of the idol for which he was named j This says he was 40 years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned 2 years. This could mean that it took Abner 5 years to consolidate the rest of Israel sufficiently, and for them to recover from the defeat in the north by the Philistines when Saul died, for them to be willing to make Ish-bosheth king. It must be remembered that when Saul and Israel were defeated, the Philistines occupied the major cities of Israel in the mount Gilboa and Jezreel areas, the Israelites having fled across Jordan (1 Sam. 31:7). These facts being true, then he was born after Saul had been king for 5 years, and he actually reigned only 2 years over Israel before the war between Israel and Judah as in of the LORD, saying, [a]Shall I go up into any of the cities of Jū'dah? And the LORD said unto him, Go up. And Dā'vid said, Whither shall I go up? And he said, Unto [b]Hē'bron.

2 So Dā'vid [c]went up thither, and his two wives also, Ā-hĭn'o-ăm the Jĕz're-el-ĭt-ess, [d]and Ăb'ĭ-gail Nā'bal's wife the Căr'mel-īte.

3 And his men that were with him did Dā'vid bring up, every man with his household: and they dwelt in the cities of Hē'bron.

4 And [e]the men of Jū'dah came, and there they anointed Dā'vid king over the house of Jū'dah. And they told Dā'vid, saying, That the men of Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd were they that buried Saul.

2 Blessing upon Jabesh-gilead for burying Saul

5 ¶ And Dā'vid [f]sent messengers unto the men of Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd, and said unto them, Blessed be ye of the LORD, that ye have shewed this kindness unto your lord, even unto Saul, and have buried him.

6 And now the LORD shew kindness and truth unto you: and I also will requite you this kindness, because ye have done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands be strengthened, and be ye valiant: for your master Saul is dead, and also the house of Jū'dah have anointed me king over them.

3 First division of the kingdom of Israel (15:1; 20:1; 1 Ki. 12:1)

8 ¶[g]But Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, captain of Saul's host, took Ish-bō'sheth the son of Saul, and brought him over to Mā-hă-nā'im;

9 And made him king over Gĭl'e-ăd, and over the Ash'ū-rītes, and over Jĕz're-el, and over Ē'phra-ĭm, and over Běn'ja-mĭn, and over [h]all Iş'ra-el.

10 [i]Ish-bō'sheth Saul's son was [j]forty years old when he began to reign over Iş'ra-el, and reigned two years. But the house of Jū'dah followed Dā'vid.

11 And the time that Dā'vid was king in Hē'bron over the house of Jū'dah was seven years and six months.

4 Tenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.).
(1) Battle of Gibeon

12 ¶ And Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, and the servants of Ish-bō'sheth the son of Saul, [k]went out from Mā-hă-nā'im to Gĭb'e-on.

13 And Jō'ăb the son of Zĕr-u-ī'ah, and the servants of Dā'vid, went [l]out, and met together by the pool of Gĭb'e-on: and they sat down, the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side of the pool.

14 And Ăb'nēr said to Jō'ăb, Let the young men now arise, and [m]play before us. And Jō'ăb said, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went over by number twelve of Běn'ja-mĭn, which pertained to Ish-bō'sheth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of Dā'vid.

16 And they caught every one his fellow by the head, and thrust his sword in his fellow's side; so they fell down together: wherefore that place was called [a]Hĕl'kăth-hăz'zu-rĭm, which is in Gĭb'e-on.

17 And there was a very sore battle that day; and Ăb'nēr was beaten, and the men of Iş'ra-el, before the servants of Dā'vid.

(2) Abner slays Asahel: ground for future strife (3:20-39)

18 ¶ And there were three sons of [b]Zĕr-u-ī'ah there, Jō'ăb, and [c]Ā-bĭsh'ă-ī, and [d]Ā'sa-hĕl: and Ā'sa-hĕl was as [e]light of foot as a wild roe.

19 And Ā'sa-hĕl pursued after Ăb'nēr; and in going he turned not to the right hand nor to the left from following Ăb'nēr.

20 Then Ăb'nēr looked behind him, and said, [f]Art thou Ā'sa-hĕl? And he answered, I am.

●21 And Ăb'nēr said to him, Turn thee aside to thy right hand or to thy left, and lay thee hold on one of the young men, and take thee his armour. But Ā'sa-hĕl would [g]not turn aside from following of him.

●22 And Ăb'nēr said again to Ā'sa-hĕl, Turn thee aside from following me: wherefore should I smite thee to the ground? how then should I hold up my face to Jō'ăb thy brother?

23 Howbeit he refused to turn aside: [h]wherefore Ăb'nēr with the hinder end of the spear smote him under the fifth rib, that the spear came out behind him; and he fell down there, and died in the same place: and it came to pass, that as many as came to the place where Ā'sa-hĕl fell down and died [i]stood still.

24 Jō'ăb also and Ā-bĭsh'ă-ī pursued after Ăb'nēr: and the sun went down when they were come to the hill of Ăm'mah, that lieth before Gī'ah by the way of the wilderness of Gĭb'e-on.

(3) Further strife averted

25 ¶ And the children of Běn'ja-mĭn gathered themselves together after Ăb'nēr, and became one troop, and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Ăb'nēr called to Jō'ăb, and said, [j]Shall the sword devour for ever? knowest thou not that it will be bitterness in the latter end? how long shall it be then, ere thou bid the people return from following their brethren?

27 And Jō'ăb said, As God liveth, unless thou hadst spoken, surely then in the morning the people had gone up every one from following his brother.

28 So Jō'ăb blew a trumpet, and all the people stood still, and pursued after Iş'ra-el no more, neither fought they any more.

v 12-32. This would harmonize with 3:1 about a long strife between the house of David and that of Saul. The strife no doubt lasted the whole 7 1/2 years David was reigning in Hebron. In his scheme of dividing Israel, Abner saw the need of having the tribes east of Jordan back of him, so he took time to consolidate them, then after at least 5 years' delay made Saul's son king at Mahanaim. Then Ashurites, Jezreelites, Ephraimites, and other tribes accepted Ish-bosheth as king (v 8-10). David did not contest Abner's act, or force matters, but was content to wait God's time to make him the king of all Israel. He avoided any war with Abner until trouble was threatened from that direction. It came when Abner and his servants went from Mahanaim to Gibeon in Benjamin. There the two rival armies met, and in the battle Abner was defeated (v 12-32) k The purpose of Abner was to change the capital of Israel to Gibeon, his own city in Benjamin (1 Chr. 8:29-30; 9:35-36), so as to be in a better position to attack the kingdom of David in Hebron
l To go out, as in v 12-13 means to make war (Judg. 3:10; 1 Sam. 18:30; 2 Sam. 11:1; 1 Ki. 20:18; 1 Chr. 7:11; 2 Chr. 6:34; 26:11) m The 12 young men on each side were to make sport by entering into a match of skill, or perhaps it was decided a championship match should be fought as was sometimes the custom between opposing armies (1 Sam. 17). This did not settle the differences between the two forces, but rather incensed them to a fierce battle, and Abner and his army were defeated and put to flight (v 12-32)

7 steps of Abner in transferring the kingdom to David (3:17)

1 Threatening what he would do to the king (v 7-10)
2 Sending messengers to David to propose a covenant between them, offering to transfer the other tribes to David (v 12)
3 Meeting the demand of David to send Michal to him (v 14-16)
4 Communicating with the elders of Israel and of Benjamin to transfer the kingdom to David (v 17-19)
5 Going to speak to David personally of his success in getting all Israel and Benjamin willing to transfer the kingdom to him (v 19-20)
6 Agreeing with David to gather all Israel together to make David king (v 21)
7 Going away to gather Israel to complete the transfer of the kingdom to David (v 21)

a Bithron means a craggy spot or ravine. A place east of Jordan (v 29) b Mahanaim, a place named by Jacob and meaning two camps. It was where 2 bands of angels met him to protect both of his camps when Esau was coming with 400 armed men (2:8, 13, 29; 17:24, 27; 19:32; Gen. 32:2; Josh. 13:26, 30; 21:38; 1 Ki. 2:8; 4:14; 1 Chr. 6:80)
c 20 men of David's army (v 30) and 360 of Abner's were slain (v 31)
d David's men went all night and covered about 22 miles; Abner and his men covered over 50 miles to get home through one night and the next day (v 29)
e About 7 1/2 years (2:8-11). These civil wars and strifes kept widening the rift between Judah and the other tribes until, in the last great division of the nation it continued for about 260 years (1 Ki. 12-2 Ki. 25)
f There would not have been any civil strife on this occasion if it had not been for Abner, who had long been one of the chief captains of Saul's army and envious of David's power and influence in Israel. He had been surpassed by David on the battlefield, and so was jealous. Had he been willing to follow Jehovah's choice much blood-shed could have been avoided in Israel g This is always the case in any strife - one side finally wins. God is generally on one side or the other and His side always wins in the end

(4) Eleventh civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

NOW there was [e]long war between [f]the house of Saul and the house of Da'vid: but Da'vid [g]waxed stronger and stronger, and the house of Saul waxed weaker and weaker.

5 David's family in Hebron (Cp. 5:13-16; 1 Chr. 3:1)

2 ¶ And [h]unto Da'vid were sons born in He'bron: and his firstborn was Am'non, of A-hin'-o-am the Jez're-el-it-ess;

3 And his second, Chil'e-ab, of Ab'i-gail the wife of Na'bal the Car'mel-ite; and the third, Ab'sa-lom the son of Ma'a-cah the daughter of Tal'mai king of Ge'shur;

4 And the fourth, Ad-o-ni-jah the son of Hag'gith; and the fifth, Sheph-a-ti'ah the son of Ab'i-tal;

5 And the sixth, Ith're-am, by Eg'lah Da'vid's wife. These were born to Da'vid in He'bron.

6 Abner deserts to David.

(1) The cause (vs. 1)

6 ¶ And it came to pass, while there was war between the house of Saul and the house of Da'vid, [i]that Ab'ner made himself strong for the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a [j]concubine, whose name was Riz'pah, the daughter of A-i'ah: and Ish-bo'sheth said to Ab'ner, [k]Wherefore hast thou gone in unto my father's concubine?

8 Then was Ab'ner very wroth for the words of Ish-bo'sheth, and said, Am I a dog's head, which against Ju'dah do shew kindness this day unto the house of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his friends, and have not delivered thee into the hand of Da'vid, [l]that thou chargest me to day with a fault concerning this woman?

(2) Abner vows to deliver the kingdom of Saul to David

9 [m]So do God to Ab'ner, and more also, except, as the LORD hath sworn to Da'vid, even so I do to him;

10 To translate the kingdom from the house of Saul, and to set up the throne of Da'vid [n]over Is'ra-el and over Ju'dah, [o]from [p]Dan even to [q]Be'er-she'ba.

11 And [r]he could not answer Ab'ner a word again, because he feared him.

(3) Abner proposes to David to transfer all Israel to him

12 ¶ And Ab'ner [s]sent messengers to Da'vid on his behalf, saying, [t]Whose is the land? saying also, Make thy league with me, and, behold, my hand shall be with thee, to bring about all Is'ra-el unto thee.

(4) David's condition: restore to him Michal his wife

▸13 ¶ And he said, [u]Well; [v]I will make a league with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, Thou shalt not see my face, except thou first bring Mi'chal Saul's daughter, when thou comest to see my face.

●14 And [w]Da'vid sent messengers to Ish-bo'sheth Saul's son, saying, Deliver me my wife Mi'chal, which I espoused to me for an hundred foreskins of the Phi-lis'tines.

(5) Michal restored to David

15 And Ish-bo'sheth [x]sent, and took her from her husband, even from Phal'ti-el the son of La'ish.

●16 And her husband went with her along weeping behind her to Ba-hu'rim. Then [y]said Ab'ner unto him, Go, return. And he returned.

(6) Abner communicates to all Israel to make David king

17 ¶ And Ab'ner [z]had communication with the elders of Is'ra-el, saying, Ye sought for Da'vid in times past to be king over you:

18 Now then do it: for the LORD hath spoken of Da'vid, saying, By the hand of my servant Da'vid I will save my people Is'ra-el out of the hand of the Phi-lis'tines, and out of the hand of all their enemies.

19 And Ab'ner also spake in the ears of Ben'ja-min: and Ab'ner went also to speak in the ears of Da'vid in He'bron all that seemed good to Is'ra-el, and that seemed good to the whole house of Ben'ja-min.

(7) Abner and David confer and part in peace

20 So Ab'ner came to Da'vid to He'bron, and twenty men with him. And Da'vid made Ab'ner and the men that were with him a feast.

21 And Ab'ner said unto Da'vid, I will arise and go, and will gather all Is'ra-el unto my lord the king, that they may make a league with thee, and that thou mayest reign over all that thine heart desireth. And Da'vid sent Ab'ner away; and he went in peace.

(8) Joab learns of Abner's a The reason for these two terms here is that David ruled only over the Judah portion of Israel and the other tribes followed Abner and Ish-bosheth (v 10) b From Dan to Beer-sheba was a common term used to designate all Israel, Dan being the farthest city of Israel in the north, and Beer-sheba the farthest in the south. The term is used 8 times in this sense - as we would say from Canada to Mexico, meaning to include all the U. S. A. (v 10; 17:11; 24:2, 15; 1 Chr. 21:2; 2 Chr. 30:5; Judg. 20:1; 1 Sam. 3:20) c Josh. 19:40-48, notes; note l, Judg. 18:1

d Beer-sheba, a place near the south border of Canaan (v 10; 17:11; 24:2-7, 15; Gen. 21:14, 31-33; 22:19; 26:23, 33; 28:10; 46:1, 5; Josh. 15:28; 19:2; Judg. 20:1; 1 Sam. 3:20; 8:2; 1 Ki. 4:25; 19:3; 2 Ki. 12:1; 23:8; 1 Chr. 4:28; 21:2; 2 Chr. 19:4; 24:1; 30:5; Neh. 11:27-30; Amos 5:5; 8:14). See note d, Gen. 21:31 e Abner had been frank in his wrath, telling Ish-bosheth that he be intended to transfer his kingdom to David (v 8-10), so he could not answer Abner a word, for he feared him (v 11)
f This was Abner's first step in carrying out his threat of v 8-10. He acted immediately by sending messengers to David, proposing to unite the kingdom of Israel (v 12)
g Question 17. Next, v 24
h This is the same as saying: Good! I am well pleased that you want to unite the kingdom of Israel under me (v 13) i This either reveals David's love for his first wife, or his desire to remove all throne rights of Saul's family to strengthen his own kingdom. He could not afford to leave her with another who might, through her as a princess, claim the throne of Israel (v 13)
j David followed up the advantage he had received through Abner, and sent messengers to Ish-bosheth, the son of Saul and brother of Michal, asking that she be sent down to him, inasmuch as she was his own wife whom he had espoused with his own life by fulfilling Saul's demand of dowry - 100 foreskins of the Philistines (v 14; 1 Sam. 18:20-30). Being the wife of his youth, and his first wife, no doubt he did love her. It is plainly stated that she loved him (1 Sam. 18:20); and she had proved it by defying her father to save David's life (1 Sam. 19:11-17)
k See Michal restored to David, p. 330
l This indicates that Abner had required Ish-bosheth to yield to the demand of David in the matter of Michal. Abner knew that his plan for transferring the kingdom to David depended on seeing him, and he could not do so unless Michal was given up (v 13-15). It was Abner that demanded that her husband go back from following Michal, even though his heart was breaking. All this seems cruel, and it was no doubt, by our standards; but in those days one could demand his wife as his property as much as he could anything else which belonged to him; such was the civil law in that time to go into her otherwise was forbidden (v 8). This finding fault with Abner made him turn against the man he had made king. He determined to get rid of him and turn the kingdom over to David; this he should have done before making Ish-bosheth king, for he knew that David was God's choice to be over all Israel and that he, himself had been the only one responsible for a divided kingdom at this time (v 9) m Abner, in his wrath against Ish-bosheth, his nephew, because of being charged with wrong-doing in connection with one of Saul's concubines, now fully decided to unite the kingdom of Israel under David. He was aware of the fact that David had been anointed king of Israel by Samuel, and that God, Himself had sworn to give the kingdom to David. The fact that he had been fighting against God all this time was not sufficient conviction to make him act in God's will; but when something personal like this happened, it was more than he could bear, so he plainly spoke his mind to his king regarding his intentions (v 9-10)

visit and departure in peace

22 ¶ And, behold, the servants of Dā'vid and Jō'ăb came from [c]pursuing a troop, and brought in a great spoil with them: but Ăb'nēr was not with Dā'vid in Hē'bron; for he had sent him away, and [b]he was gone in peace.

23 When Jō'ăb and all the host that was with him were come they told Jō'ăb, saying, Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr came to the king and he hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

(9) Joab reproaches David: accuses Abner of spying

24 Then Jō'ăb came to the king, and said, [c]What hast thou done? behold, Ăb'nēr came unto thee; why is it that thou hast sent him away, and he is quite gone?

25 Thou knowest Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, that he came to deceive thee, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all that thou doest.

(10) Joab secretly sends for Abner and slays him to avenge his brother (2:18-23)

26 And when Jō'ăb was come out from Dā'vid, he sent messengers after Ăb'nēr, which brought him again from [d]the well of Sī'rah: [c]but Dā'vid knew it not.

27 And when Ăb'nēr was returned to Hē'bron, Jō'ăb took him aside [f]in the gate to speak with him quietly, and [g]smote him there under the fifth rib, that he died, for the blood of Ā'sa-hĕl his brother.

(11) David declares his innocence: curses Joab

28 ¶ And afterward when Dā'vid heard it, [h]he said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before the LORD for ever from the blood of Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr:

29 [i]Let it rest on the head of Jō'ăb, and on all his father's house; and let there not fail from the house of Jō'ăb one that hath an issue, or that is a leper, or that leaneth on a staff, or that falleth on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 So Jō'ăb [j]and Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī his brother slew Ăb'nēr, because he had slain their brother Ā'sa-hĕl at Gĭb'e-on in the battle.

(12) David mourns for Abner

31 ¶ And Dā'vid said to Jō'ăb, and to all the people that were with him, [k]Rend your clothes, and gird you with sackcloth, and mourn before Ăb'nēr. And king Dā'vid himself followed the [l]bier.

32 And they buried Ăb'nēr [m]in Hē'bron: and the king lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Ăb'nēr; and [n]all the people wept.

33 And the king [o]lamented over Ăb'nēr, and said, [p]Died Ăb'nēr as a fool dieth?

34 Thy hands were not bound, nor [q]thy feet put into fetters: as a man falleth before wicked men, so fellest thou. And all the people wept again over him.

35 And when all the people came to cause Dā'vid to eat meat while it was yet day, Dā'vid [a]sware, saying, So do God to me, and more also, if I taste bread, or ought else, till the sun be down.

36 And all the people took notice of it, and it pleased them: as whatsoever the king did pleased all the people.

37 For all the people and all Ĭs'ra-el understood that day that it was not of the king to slay Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr.

38 And the king said unto his servants, [b]Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Ĭs'ra-el?

39 And I am this day weak, though anointed king; and these men the sons of Zĕr-ū-ī'ah be too hard for me: [c]the LORD shall reward the doer of evil according to his wickedness.

CHAPTER 4 271

7 Murder of king Ish-bosheth. (1) The assassins

AND [d]when Saul's son heard that Ăb'nēr was dead in Hē'bron, his hands were feeble, and all the Ĭs'ra-el-ītes were troubled.

2 And Saul's son had two men that were captains of bands: the name of the one was Bā'a-nah, and the name of the other Rē'chăb, the sons of Rĭm'mon a Bĕ-ē'roth-īte, of the children of Bĕn'ja-mĭn: (for [e]Bĕ-ē'roth also was reckoned to Bĕn'ja-mĭn.

3 And the Bĕ-ē'roth-ītes fled to Gĭt'ta-ĭm, and were sojourners there until this day.)

4 And Jŏn'a-than, [f]Saul's son, had a son that was lame of his feet. He was [g]five years old when the tidings came of Saul and Jŏn'a-than out of Jĕz're-el, and his nurse took him up, and fled: and it came to pass, as she made haste to flee, that [h]he fell, and became lame. And his name was Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth.

5 And the [i]sons of Rĭm'mon the Bĕ-ē'roth-īte, Rē'chăb and Bā'a-nah, went, and came about the heat of the day to the house of Ĭsh-bō'sheth, who lay on a bed at noon.

6 And they came thither into the midst of the house, [j]as though they would have [k]fetched wheat; and they smote him under the fifth rib: and Rē'chăb and Bā'a-nah his brother escaped.

7 For when they came into the house, he lay on his bed in his bedchamber, and they smote him, and slew him, and beheaded him, and took his head, and gat them away through the plain all night.

(2) The assassins bring the head to David expecting a reward

8 And they brought the head of Ĭsh-bō'sheth [l]unto Dā'vid to Hē'bron, and [m]said to the king, Behold the head of Ĭsh-bō'- a It seems that many bands of men from all nations round about made raids on their neighboring countries taking all the spoil they could. David did this while in Philistia (1 Sam. 27:6). Perhaps this troop had invaded Judah, Joab and his men pursuing and bringing back the spoil they had taken from Judah and other places, for they brought back a great spoil (v 22-23)

b Abner had been to see David, bringing Michal and laying the groundwork for uniting the kingdom of Israel. He had been gone from David for some time when Joab came back from pursuing the troop of v 22. Upon hearing that Abner had been there and David had permitted him to depart in peace, Joab became incensed and protested, accusing Abner of spying on Judah in order to make war (v 24-25). He sent men for Abner as if David were asking for him to return, then killed him (v 26-27)

c Questions 18-19. Next, v 33

d The well of Sirah, meaning well of departure. It was about 3 miles north of Hebron, so Abner did not go very far on the homeward trip before the messengers of Joab overtook him (v 26)

e David was not aware of Joab's plot to kill Abner. Understanding Abner's wily character, Joab likely did doubt the sincerity of his proposals to David; but this was not the real cause of suspicion, which was personal. He was alarmed at the reception given Abner, knowing of his military talents as a field commander with the army of Israel, and of his great influence in Israel he considered him a personal rival in power, should the kingdom be united. Joab had ambitions of becoming David's chief military leader in his coming wars and thus determined to destroy Abner. Furthermore, he remembered that Abner had slain his beloved brother Asahel (2:22-23), which he wanted to avenge; so he sent a message, evidently in the name of David, causing him to return. He then met him and treacherously killed him (v 26-27)

f Meaning in some private place in the vaulted gateway where persons might retire unseen. Joab invited Abner to such a place for private conversation, but instead he killed him. Abner, being caught unaware and not suspecting Joab of such a treacherous act, was unprepared. This is why David said of Abner that he died like a fool (v 27, 33)

g This murder was one of the most unprovoked and wicked in history, but the influence of the murderer in the army of David was so great that the king dared not bring him to justice. Of course, Abishai and others were also involved in the plot; and to deal with all of them could have caused another civil war; so David merely committed the matter to God (v 30, 39). Joab also murdered Amasa in like manner and escaped (20:10), the excuse for killing Abner was that he had slain his brother Asahel (v 27). These murders were not avenged until the reign of Solomon, after David. In his charge to the new king he told him to avenge them according to the wisdom he had (1 Ki. 2: 5-6). Solomon did execute Joab for going after Adonijah who sought to usurp the kingship for himself (1 Ki. 2:28-34)

h See 9 acts of David at the death of Abner, p. 330

i 7fold curse of David upon Joab (v 29):
1 Let justice for the murder rest upon the head of Joab
2 Let it be on his father's house
3 Let there not fail to be punished of all his houses one person that has an issue
4 Or that is a leper
5 Or that leaneth on a staff
6 Or that falleth upon a sword
7 Or that lacketh bread

j This throws more light on why David did not act in punishing Joab. Abishai was one of David's mighty men and both he and Joab had great influence in Judah. Since both were involved, David thought it was better to let their excuse of avenging the blood of Asahel answer for the time being; it would no doubt avert a civil war which could undo years of work that had brought him to the place he now held as king (v 30) a Here David made a vow not to eat until the sun went down, and this was also accepted by all the people, for they knew that the death of Abner was not the act of David (v 35-37)

b Question 21. Next, 4:11

c This committal of avenging the murder of Abner was left to God here (v 39)

d The death of Abner had its effect on all Israel:
1 It caused all of David's people to fast and mourn (3:32, 34-37)
2 Ish-bosheth, king of Israel, to become feeble and weak (4:1)
3 All Israel to be troubled e Beeroth, a Hivite town about 6 miles north of Jerusalem (v 2; Gen. 10:6; Josh. 9:17; 18:25; Ezek. 2:25; Neh. 7:29)

f This introduction of Saul's descendants is given to show how easy it was for David to get the throne. All of Saul's sons were dead with the assassination of Ish-bosheth, and the only other person left to succeed in Saul's kingdom and to avenge the assassination of Ish-bosheth was a lame boy 12 years old (v 4-7)

g These 5 years with the 7 since the death of Saul and Jonathan made this son of Jonathan, Mephibosheth, only 12 years of age at this time (v 4)

h In the flight from invading soldiers, the 5 year old boy and his nurse had been in such haste that he fell, becoming hurt and lame thereafter (v 4)

i These two men were captains of bands under Ish-bosheth (v 2), which may mean that Israel had bands of men that made sudden incursions into nearby countries to carry off grain and drive away stock as various other people did in that day (v 2; 3:22; 1 Sam. 27:8; 30:1, 16). The reason for the cruel act of these men is not known, if not to get reward from David for killing his rival to the throne of Israel (v 8-12). However, this was not the way to gain favor with David (1:3-16; 4:9-12)

j They plotted this crime and in committing it they deceived the servants of Ish-bosheth, causing them to think they were going into the house to get wheat (v 6). Finding the king alone they killed him, beheaded him, and took his head to David in Hebron (v 6-12)

k It was customary to get the wheat in the afternoon for grinding the next day, so they avoided suspicion of wrongdoing. Ish-bosheth was taking his daily nap after the noon meal when the men, pretending to go into the granery for wheat, gained access to his apartment and killed him (v 5-7). Putting the head in a wheat sack as though carrying out wheat, they escaped and travelled all night through the plain to bring it to David (v 6-8)

l This was a poor thing to do if they wanted David's favor, for he was not the kind to tolerate the murder of innocent men in order to succeed in the world, as can be seen from v 8-12: 1:3-16

m They brought the head to David to prove they had killed Ish-bosheth, his rival for the kingship, from the house of Saul (v 8)

It was a custom in ancient times to bury people of distinction on their own beds in the graves or tombs. Josephus describes the bed of Herod's funeral as being gilded and richly adorned with precious stones

1 Abner died as a fool dieth (v 33)
2 His hands were not bound (v 34)
3 His feet were not in fetters
4 He died as a man before wicked men

p Question 20. Next, v 38

q Customarily, criminals were taken to execution with their hands tied behind them and their feet bound with fetters to prevent their escape (v 34). See note, 2 Ki. 25:7

a This was almost true to the last man, for only one crippled boy about 12 years of age was left (v 4-6) b As the Lord liveth, or As Jehovah liveth is an expression of swearing by the truth. It is found 28 times (v 9; 2:27; 11:11; 12:5; 14:11; 15:21; Judg. 8:19; Ruth 3:13; 1 Sam. 14:39, 45; 19:6; 20:3, 21; 25:26; 26:10, 16; 28:10; 29:6; 1 Ki. 1:29; 2:24; 22:14; 2 Ki. 2:2, 4, 6; 4:30; 5:15, 20; 2 Chr. 18:13). As God liveth is found 2 times (2:27; Job 27:2); As the Lord God of Israel liveth, 2 times (25:34; 1 Ki. 17:1); As the Lord thy God liveth, 2 times (1 Ki. 17:12; 18:10); As the Lord of hosts liveth, 2 times (1 Ki. 18:15; 2 Ki. 3:14); The Lord liveth, 9 times (22:47; Ps. 18:46; Jer. 5:2; 12:16; 16:14-15; 23:7-8; Hos. 4:15). d See 1:3-16
e See Meaning of "agency", p. 330
f Here David confirmed the fact that the young man who fabricated a story to impress him did so to get a reward (v 10; 1:3-16, note)
g Questions 22-23, Next, 5:19
h The hands that murdered him and the feet that carried the head of Ish-bosheth were cut off and hung over the pool in Hebron, it was an ancient custom to cut off the hands and feet of men convicted of treason. Here, this was done not only to punish the murderers but to show David's abhorrence of the crime. The head of Ish-bosheth was buried in Abner's tomb (v 12)
i After all this, the elders of the other tribes came to David in Hebron and made a covenant with him, anointing him king over all Israel. The kingdom was again united after some 7 years of division with 2 kings over the nation for at least 2 years (2:8-11)
j 3fold appeal of elders to David:
1 We are your bone and your flesh(v 1)
2 In time past you were our leader and led us in and out to battle (v 2)
3 You have been promised by God and chosen of Him to feed His people Israel, and to be captain over them k Indicating there were established, authorized elders of Israel - men who were perhaps chosen, as in the past, on the basis of greatness, wealth, and power in the nation (v 3) l 3 things the elders did:
1 Made an appeal to David (v 1-2)
2 Made a league with him (v 3). This covenant likely defined his royal power besides recognized the general constitution of the nation
3 Anointed him king over Israel
m See 30 years of David, p. 330 n Technically, David reigned 40 years and 6 months - 7 years and 6 months in Hebron over Judah and 33 years over all Israel and Judah (v 4-5)
o David and his men thought it would be best to move the capital of all Israel to another place more centrally located, or at least more so than Hebron. God had chosen Jerusalem as an eternal city in His plan, so now led them according to His will in the fulfillment of this plan to that city. Jerusalem had long been a stronghold of the Jebusites who had controlled it ever since the conquest of Canaan, except for a short time when it was in the hands of Judah (Josh. 10:1-5, 23; 15:63; Judg. 1:8). See note f, Josh. 10:1
p This could read, You cannot come in here, for the blind and the lame will drive you away, so that you cannot come in. The idea is that the Jebusites considered their stronghold so impossible to take that they taunted the great men of Israel by inferring that it was only manned by the blind and the lame. The Sept. reads, "Thou shalt not come in here; for the blind and the lame are opposed to it, saying, David shall not come in here." Moffatt reads, "You will never get in here, blind men and cripples could drive you off!"; Berkeley, "You shall not get in here; the blind and the lame can turn you back!" They thought David would never take the fortress, but he did; and after capturing it he called it the city of David or David's burg (v 6-7)
q Zion is found 152 times in Scripture and only in the O. T., the word being Sion in the N. T. This stronghold was one of the 5 heights on which Jerusalem was built - Akra, Bezetha, Moriah, Ophel,

(3) Execution of the assassins

9 ¶ And Dā'vid answered Rē'chāb and Bā'a-nah his brother, the sons of Rim'mon the Bĕ-ĕ'roth-īte, and said unto them, [b]As the LORD liveth, who hath [c]redeemed my soul out of all adversity,

10 [d]When one told me, saying, Behold, Saul is dead, thinking to have brought good tidings, [e]I took hold of him, and slew him in Zĭk'lăg, who thought that I would have given him a reward for his tidings:

11 [f]How much more, when wicked men have slain a righteous person in his own house upon his bed? shall I not therefore now require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth?

12 And Dā'vid commanded his young men, and they slew them, and [h]cut off their hands and their feet, and hanged them up over the pool in Hē'bron. But they took the head of Ish-bō'sheth, and buried it in the sepulchre of Ăb'nēr in Hē'bron.

CHAPTER 5 272

8 Kingdom united: David made king over all Israel (Cp. 2:8; 1 Chr. 11:1)

THEN came all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el to Dā'vid unto Hē'bron, and spake, [i]saying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh.

2 Also in time past, when Saul was king over us, thou wast he that leddest out and broughtest in Ĭs'ra-el: and the LORD said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Ĭs'ra-el, and thou shalt be a captain over Ĭs'ra-el.

3 So all the [k]elders of Ĭs'ra-el came to the king to Hē'bron; and king Dā'vid [l]made a league with them in Hē'bron before the LORD: and they anointed Dā'vid king over Ĭs'ra-el.

9 David's age: 40 year reign

4 ¶ Dā'vid was [m]thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned [n]forty years.

5 In Hē'bron he reigned over Jū'dah seven years and six months: and in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm he reigned thirty and three years over all Ĭs'ra-el and Jū'dah.

10 Jerusalem made the capital of the united kingdom (1 Chr. 11:4)

6 ¶ And the king and his men went [o]to Jē-rū'sā-lĕm unto the Jĕb'u-sites, the inhabitants of the land: which spake unto Dā'vid, saying, [p]Except thou take away the blind and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking, Dā'vid cannot come in hither.

7 Nevertheless Dā'vid took the strong hold of [q]Zi'ŏn: the same is [r]the city of Dā'vid.

8 And Dā'vid said on that day, Whosoever getteth up to the [s]gutter, and smiteth the Jĕb'u-sītes, [t]and the lame and the blind, that are hated of Dā'vid's soul, he shall be chief and captain. Wherefore they said, [u]The blind and the lame shall not come into the house.

9 So Dā'vid dwelt in the fort, and called it the city of Dā'vid. And Dā'vid built round about from [v]Mil'lō and inward.

10 And Dā'vid went on, and grew great, and the LORD God of hosts was with him.

11 Hiram builds David a house (1 Ki. 5:1-18; 9:10-14)

11 ¶ And [w]Hī'ram king of Tyre sent messengers to Dā'vid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons: and they built Dā'vid an house.

12 And Dā'vid perceived that the LORD had established him king over Ĭs'ra-el, and that he had exalted his kingdom for his people Ĭs'ra-el's sake.

12 David's family at Jerusalem (Cp. 2:2; 3:2-5; 1 Chr. 3:5)

13 ¶ And Dā'vid [x]took him more concubines and wives out of Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, after he was come from Hē'bron: and there were yet sons and daughters born to Dā'vid.

14 And these be the names of those that were born unto him in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm; Shăm-mū'ah, and Shō'băb, and Nā'than, and Sŏl'o-mon,

15 Ĭb'hăr also, and Ĕl-ĭ-shū'a, and Nĕ'pheg, and Jā-phī'a,

13 First victory over the Philistines (1 Chr. 14:8)

17 ¶ But [y]when the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes heard that they had anointed Dā'vid king over Ĭs'ra-el, all the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came up to [z]seek Dā'vid; and [a]Dā'vid heard of it, and [b]went down to the hold.

18 The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [c]also came and spread themselves in the valley of Rĕph'a-ĭm.

★19 [d]And Dā'vid enquired of the LORD, saying, [e]Shall I go up to the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes? wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD said unto Dā'vid, Go up; for I will doubtless deliver the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes into thine hand.●

20 And Dā'vid came to [f]Bā'al-pĕr'a-zĭm, and Dā'vid smote them there, and said, The LORD hath broken forth upon mine enemies before me, as the breach of waters. Therefore he called the name of that place Bā'al-pĕr'a-zĭm.

21 And there they left their images, and Dā'vid and his men burned them.

22 ¶ And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came up yet [g]again, and spread themselves in the valley of Rĕph'a-ĭm.

a The city of David is found 40 times in the O. T. Used of Zion 5 times (v 7, 9; 1 Ki. 8:1; 1 Chr. 11:5; 2 Chr. 5:2) b This was the cut-rock passage or shaft from the upper Gihon or spring of water, leading up into the city and through which the inhabitants drew their water supply c The lame and the blind which they taunt us with saying. The lame and the blind will keep you out, for our defenses are so strong. They were hated of David's soul (v 8); and so he promised that whoever would go up first and smite the Jebusites and these blind and lame defenders would be chief d This is a proverb used in Israel after the taking of Zion, concerning the lame and the blind not entering the house of the Lord (v 8)
e Millo, It was some kind of fortification of Jerusalem (v 9; 1 Ki. 9:15, 24; 11:27; 2 Ki. 12:20; 1 Chr. 11:8; 2 Chr. 32:5). Not the Millo of Judg. 9:6, 20 j David no doubt had spies among the Philistines, or other means of intelligence to check up on their plans. Ever since the defeat of Saul nearly 8 years before Philistines had been in control of the greater part of Israel, so Israelites living among them would naturally know about some of their plans (v 17) k All that is known of this hold is that he went down to it instead of up, suggesting that it might be the cave of Adullam (1 Sam. 22:1). If he had already conquered Zion and made it his city, as in v 6-10, then the hold must have been some convenient defence south of Zion and the city of David. Adullam was a large cave about 12 miles southwest of Jerusalem (note j, 1 Sam. 22:1). The valley of Rephaim was a fertile one southwest of Jerusalem, just beyond the low ridge which skirts the valley of Hinnom and extended southward along the road to Bethlehem, about 15 miles away being surrounded on all sides by rocky hills and ridges (Josh. 15:8; 18:16; Isa. 17:5). Here the first battles between David and the Philistines took place; and from this hold David had to go up to meet them, so it was south of this valley. Josephus says the valley of Rephaim was between Jerusalem and Bethlehem. Baal-perazim of v 20 means the lord of breakings through; it was a spot in the valley of Rephaim where the first victory over the Philistines was won (v 18-21; 1 Chr. 14:11). It could have been the same as mount Perazim of Isa. 28:21

l David took his army to the hold in the vicinity of the valley of Rephaim, or valley of the giants, and the Philistines brought their army into this place (v 18) m 1st prophecy in 2 Sam. (5:19, fulfilled). Next, v 23, David inquired of the Urim and Thummim from the high priest, Abiathar, and God answered him every time he inquired. The first question was, Shall I go up to the Philistines? The second, Will You deliver them into my hand? The answer was Yes (v 19)
n Questions 24-25, Next, 6:9
o Exactly where this spot was in the valley of giants is not fully known, but it was at one of the mountains on the edge of the valley. David himself named the place Baal-perazim because the Lord had broken through upon his enemies (v 20; 1 Chr. 14:11). Here the Philistines left their images and David and his men burned them (v 21)
p The word again proves that the Philistines rallied and collected a larger army than before and spread themselves once more in the valley of the giants where the second battle was fought and a second victory was won by David (v 22-25) and Zion. Some consider Ophel and Zion to be the same, Zion and the city of David are the same (v 7; 2 Chr. 5:2). The word came to be used of Jerusalem and Israel in general. The church and Christians are never called Zion a 2nd prophecy in 2 Sam. (5:23-24, fulfilled). Next, 7:10. David again inquired of the LORD by the Urim and Thummim from the high priest (v 19,23)

b To fetch a compass meant to go around them until they were behind the Philistines so as to attack them over against the grove of mulberry trees on the other side (v 23, Cp. Josh. 8:2; 1 Chr. 14:14) c Even when David got behind the army of the Philistines he was not to attack until the very moment he heard a sound in the tops of the mulberry trees. This sound was one of a going, meaning the sound of a mighty army on the march, which struck terror to the Philistines and caused them to be confused and panic stricken. The Arabic version says the sound was the noise of horses' hoofs. Having known all the time that David's army was before them perhaps they reasoned that some other mighty army was appearing suddenly behind them to help David's army, so they fled immediately and were pursued d Geba or Gibeon in Benjamin, the home of Saul (v 25; Josh. 21:17; 1 Sam. 13:3; 1 Ki. 15:22; 2 Ki. 23:8; 1 Chr. 6:60; 8:6; 2 Chr. 16:6; Neh. 11:31; 12:29; Isa. 10:29; Zech. 14:10). The Philistines were forced by David to flee by the very home of Saul whom they had defeated
e Geba is short for Gibeon and Gazer is the same as Gezer, showing that the Philistine army fled northwest from the valley of the giants and were chased from 30 to 35 miles
f Gazer (v 25; 1 Chr. 14:16) is the same as Gezer (Josh. 10:33; 12:12; 16:3, 10; 21:21; Judg. 1:29; 1 Ki. 9:15-17; 1 Chr. 6:67; 7:28; 20:4)

CHAPTER 6 273

III David's religious policies (2 Sam. 6:1-7:29).

1 David seeks to bring the ark to Jerusalem (1 Chron. 13:1-8)

[g]AGAIN, Dā'vid gathered together all the chosen men of Is'ra-el, thirty thousand.

2 And Dā'vid arose, and went with all the people that were with him from [h]Bā'al-ē of Jū'dah, to bring up from thence the ark of God, whose name is called by the name of the LORD of hosts that dwelleth between the cherubims.

3 And they set the ark of God upon a [i]new cart, and brought it out of the house of [j]Ā-bĭn'a-dāb that was in Gĭb'e-ah: and [k]Ŭz'zah and [l]Ā-hī'ō, the sons of Ā-bĭn'a-dāb, drave the new cart.

4 And they brought it out of the house of Ā-bĭn'a-dāb which was at Gĭb'e-ah, accompanying the ark of God: and Ā-hī'ō went before the ark.

5 And Dā'vid and all the house of Is'ra-el played before the LORD on all manner [m]of instruments made of fir wood, even on harps, and on psalteries, and on timbrels, and on cornets, and on cymbals.

2 Death of Uzzah for touching the ark (1 Chr. 13:9. Cp. 1 Sam. 6:19)

6 ¶ And when they came [n]to Nā'chŏn's threshing floor, Ŭz'zah put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the oxen shook it.

7 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Ŭz'zah; and God [o]smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God.

3 David afraid of God leaves the ark with Obed-edom (1 Chr. 13:9)

8 And Dā'vid was displeased, because the LORD had made a breach upon Ŭz'zah: and he called the name of the [p]place Pē'rez-ŭz'zah to this day.

9 And Dā'vid was afraid of the LORD that day, and [q]said, How shall the ark of the LORD come to me?

10 So Dā'vid would not remove the ark of the LORD unto him into the city of Dā'vid: but Dā'vid carried it aside into the house of Ō'bed-ē'dom the Gĭt'tite.

4 Blessing upon Obed-edom moves David to bring the ark to Jerusalem (1 Chr. 13:9; 15:1-16:43)

11 And the ark of the LORD continued in the house [a]of Ō'bed-ē'dom the [b]Gĭt'tite three months: and the LORD blessed Ō'bed-ē'dom, and all his household.

12 ¶ And it was told king Dā'vid, saying, The LORD [c]hath blessed the house of Ō'bed-ē'dom, and all that pertaineth unto him, because of the ark of God. So Dā'vid went and brought up the ark of God from the house of Ō'bed-ē'dom into the city of Dā'vid with gladness.

13 And it was so, that when they that [d]bare the ark of the LORD had gone six [e]paces, he sacrificed [f]oxen and fatlings.

14 And Dā'vid [g]danced before the LORD with all his might; and Dā'vid was [h]girded with a linen ephod.

15 So Dā'vid and all the house of Is'ra-el brought up the ark of the LORD with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpe'.

5 Michal's sin (vs. 20; 1 Chr. 15:29)

16 And as the ark of the LORD came into the city of Dā'vid, Mī'chal Saul's daughter [i]looked through a window, and saw king Dā'vid leaping and dancing before the LORD; and [j]she despised him in her heart.

6 Ark placed in new tabernacle David made: great festival (1 Chr. 16:1-3)

17 ¶ And they brought in the ark of the LORD, and set it in his [k]place, in the midst of the tabernacle that Dā'vid had pitched for it: and Dāvid [l]offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

18 And as soon as Dā'vid had made an end of offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts.

19 And he dealt among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Is'ra-el, as well to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a good piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine. So all the people departed every one to his house.

7 Michal's sin and curse (vs. 16; 1 Chr. 15:29-16:3)

20 ¶ Then Dā'vid returned [m]to bless his household. And Mī'chal the daughter of Saul came out to meet Dā'vid, and said, How glorious was the king of Is'ra-el to day, who uncovered himself to day in the eyes of the handmaids of his servants, as one of the vain fellows shamelessly uncovereth himself!

21 And Dā'vid said unto Mī'chal, [n]It was before the LORD, which chose me before thy father, and before all his house, to appoint me ruler over the people of the LORD, over Is'ra-el: therefore will I play before the a Obed-edom, servant of Edom. 4 so-named:

1 A bodyguard where David permitted the ark to stay 3 months (v 6-12; 1 Chr. 13:13-14; 15:25)
2 A Levite gatekeeper of the tabernacle (1 Chr. 15:18-24; 26:4, 8, 15)
3 Son of Jeduthun (1 Chr. 16:38; 2 Chr. 25:24)
4 Another Levite (1 Chr. 16:5, 38)
b Gittites were inhabitants of Gath; they are mentioned along with other chief inhabitants of Philistia (v 10-11; 15; 18-22; 18:2; 21:19; Josh. 13:3; 1 Chr. 13:13; 20:5) c In what sense the Lord blessed this house of Obed-edom is not stated, but it could have been with health, material prosperity d This indicates that David made proper investigation regarding why Uzzah was killed when they attempted to bring the ark to Jerusalem on a new cart. He no doubt read the law of Moses on how to handle the ark, and so he now used the proper priests consecrated to carry it (v 13). See full details of proper preparation in 1 Chr. 15-16
e A pace is about 3 ft., making 6 paces 18 ft. (v 13)
f How many oxen and fatlings he offered is not stated here, but in 1 Chr. 15:26 it says 7 bullocks and 7 rams. If the proper meat and drink offerings were made with each sactifice, as commanded in Num. 15, the total estimated cost according to today's prices, would be as follows:

7 bullocks @ $325.00.....	$2,275.00
7 rams @ $20.00.....	140.00
35 qts. of oil @ $1.40.....	49.00
35 qts. of wine @ $1.60 ...	56.00
17 1/2 gal. flour @ .80 a gal.	14.00
Total est. cost.....	2,534.00

g This explains Mahalath Leannoth, in the title of Ps. 88, which means dancing with shoutings (v 14-15). Dancing with all his might indicates wild movement of feet with efforts at leaping perhaps. Hebrews, like other ancient peoples, had their sacred dances which were performed on anniversaries or other occasions honoring God h This was the garment for priests and Levites, not kings; but since he was a type of Christ who was to be a priest-king (Zech. 6:12-13), David was allowed by God to use it on this occasion; or else such was overlooked by Him like the showbread that he ate when fleeing from Saul (1 Sam. 21:3-6). Christ referred to this in showing that rituals were made for man, not man for rituals and therefore, man was lord of such even if it seemed unlawful (Mt. 12:3-5; Mk. 2:23-28). Apparently David put off his royal robes and dressed in the robe of a servant of God as an act of homage to Jehovah who dwelled between the cherubim on the ark which he was transferring to its place in the new capital of Israel i Instead of looking on with criticism and despisings in her heart, Michal should have been at the head of women meeting the procession as it came into the city. It was the custom for bands of women to go out with music, singing, and dancing to meet their men on their return home from a victory (Ex. 15:20; Judg. 11:34). On this occasion David acted in what was one time Miriam's place in leading the women's choir (v 14-20) j She did not make David welcome, but rather despised him in her heart. She thought he had disgraced himself. Her words were bitter and cutting and she received sharpness in return for being so prudish where God and joy in the Lord are concerned (v 16, 20-23). She and David were not the same man and wife after this; and part of her punishment was that she was childless to the day of her death (v 21-23)
k The place for the ark was the holy of holies in the new tabernacle David had made to take the place of the one Moses made, which was in Gibeon and which also was a place of worship at this time (1 Chr. 21:29)
l How many sacrifices were offered is not stated, but it would certainly be more than those offered hurriedly at the beginning of the procession as in note f, above. There must have been many, for David gave everyone a piece of bread and meat from the sacrifices

a That is: If my worship of Jehovah from my heart and by my bodily manifestations of joy is vile and base, then I will be more so; I will worship Him all the more; whether it is honorable to worship Jehovah thus in your eyes or not, it will be acceptable with the maidservants you have spoken of (v 22)

b This may explain why Michal had no child until the day of her death. Seeing that he was despised in her heart, perhaps David had no other dealings or marriage relationship with her, turning from her to his other wives altogether (v 16, 20; 1 Chr. 15:29). There is no statement that God cursed her or made her barren. She had 5 stepsons from her other husband and his wife (21:8)

e See David's desire to build a house for God, p. 357

f This rightly describes the tabernacle of Moses and of David (v 3, Cp. Ex. 26)

g What Nathan said here was not fully of Jehovah but of himself to some extent and therefore partially wrong. David did not build the house and was told by Nathan later who would actually build it (1 Chr. 17:4-15). God was with David and approved his desire to build a temple, permitting him to collect materials for it, but He had reasons for not allowing him to build it himself, which were explained (1 Chr. 22:1-16)

h The night following the day in which David and Nathan were talking (v 1-4). See 23 dealings of God by night, p. 357

i The word of the Lord that came by night here was by actual words in vision (v 4, 17)

j My servant David, repeated twice (v 5, 8). My people Israel, 4 times (v 7, 8, 10, 11). Thy servant, 8 times (v 20, 21, 25, 27, 28, 29). Thy servant David (v 26)

o Note how clear God made it that Israel - all Israel whom He had brought out of Egypt, were His people (v 6-8, 10-11) and made one nation, not two (v 23), which was confirmed unto Him forever (v 24) and ruled by the house of David and Judah forever (v 25-29). The covenant was made with all 12 tribes, 13 including Levi, so there is no eternal Israel made up of 10 tribes, separate and distinct from Judah. All will be blessed alike. 8 David desires to build a house for God (1 Chr. 17:1)

[c]AND it came to pass, when the king sat in his house, and the LORD had given him rest round about from all his enemies;

2 That the king said [d]unto Nā'than the prophet, [e]See now, I dwell in an house of cedar, but the ark of God dwelleth within [f]curtains.

●3 And Nā'than [g]said to the king, Go, do all that is in thine heart; for the LORD is with thee.

9 Fifteenth or Davidic Covenant (1 Chr. 17:7. See p. 47-58). (1) Occasion of the covenant

●4 ¶ And it came to pass [h]that night, that the word of the LORD [i]came unto Nā'than, saying,

●5 Go and tell [j]my servant Dā'vid, Thus saith the LORD, [k]Shalt thou build me an house for me to dwell in?

6 [l]Whereas I have not dwelt in any house since the time that I brought up the children of Iṣ'ra-el out of Ē'ğўpt, even to this day, but have walked in a tent and in a tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I have walked with all the children of Iṣ'ra-el spake I a word with any of the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el, whom I commanded to feed my people Iṣ'ra-el, [m]saying, Why build ye not me an house of cedar?

(2) God promises to make David a house (1 Chr. 17:3-10. Cp. 1 Ki. 6:11-13)

8 Now therefore so shalt thou say unto my servant Dā'vid, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I took thee [n]from the sheepcote, from following the sheep, to be ruler over [o]my people, over Iṣ'ra-el:

9 And I [p]was with thee whithersoever thou wentest, and have cut off all thine enemies out of thy sight, and have made thee a great name, like unto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

●10 [q]Moreover I will [r]appoint a place for my people Iṣ'ra-el, and will plant them, that they may dwell in [s]a place of their own, and move no more; neither shall the children of wickedness afflict them any more, as beforetime, 11 [t]And as since the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iṣ'ra-el, and have caused thee to rest from all thine enemies. Also the LORD telleth thee that he will make thee an house.

(3) God promises to establish David's kingdom by his son (1 Chr. 17:11-15)

12 ¶ And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou shalt [a]sleep with thy fathers, [b]I will set up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom.

(4) God promises that David's son shall build the temple and his throne be established forever (1 Chr. 17:11; Isa. 9:6-7; Zech. 6:12; Lk. 1:32-35)

13 [c]He shall build an house for my name, and [d]I will stablish the throne of his kingdom for ever.

(5) God promises eternal mercy and kingdom to David's house

14 [e]I will be his father, and he shall be my son. [f]If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men:

15 [g]But my mercy shall not depart away from him, [h]as I took it from Saul, whom I put away before thee.

16 And [i]thine [j]house and [k]thy kingdom shall be established for ever before thee: [l]thy throne shall be established for ever.

17 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nā'than speak unto Dā'vid.

(6) David's prayer and thanksgiving to God for the covenant (1 Chr. 17:16-26)

18 ¶ Then [m]went king Dā'vid in, and sat before the LORD, and he said, [n]Who am I, O Lord GOD? and [o]what is my house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, O Lord GOD; but thou hast spoken also of thy servant's house for a great while to come. And is this the [p]manner of man, O Lord GOD?

20 And what can Dā'vid say more unto thee? for thou, Lord GOD, knowest thy servant.

21 For thy word's sake, and according to thine own heart, hast thou done all these great things, to make thy servant know them.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O [q]LORD God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

23 [r]And [s]what one nation in the earth is like thy people, even like Iṣ'ra-el, whom God [t]went to redeem for a people to himself, and to make him a name, and to do for you great things and terrible, for thy land, before thy people, which thou redeemedst to thee from Ē'ğўpt, from the nations and their gods?

24 For thou hast [u]confirmed to thyself thy people Iṣ'ra-el to be a people unto thee for ever: and thou, LORD, art become a Sleep in scriptures referring to death does not mean unconsciousness of the soul; it refers to the body that goes back to dust and knows nothing in the grave. The soul is immortal. See Immortality in Index

b 3 distinct predictions (v 12):
1 The succession of David's son on his throne (1 Ki. 1:10-39)
2 This son was yet to be born. David did not meet Bathsheba until sometime after this (11:1-27)
3 The establishment of his kingdom

c This was fulfilled in Solomon (1 Ki. 5-8), and also in David's Son, the Messiah (Zech. 6:13-14)

d This eternal throne of David has never been established. His original throne was only temporary, but his future one will be eternal (v 13; Isa. 9:6-7; Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 36-37; Hos. 3:4-5; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-6)

e Quoted of Jesus Christ (Heb. 1:5), proving a double fulfillment, in both Solomon and Christ

f If he commit iniquity, He did sin and was chastened (1 Ki. 11). The only sense in which Christ, the greater Son of David, committed sin was in taking our sins and becoming the sin offering for us that we might be made righteous in Him (Isa. 53; 2 Cor. 5:14-21; 1 Pet. 2:22-24)

g This refers to mercy which God would not remove completely from David's son as He removed from Saul (v 15; 1 Ki. 11)

h 2 things stated of Saul:
1 God's mercy was completely taken away from him (v 15; note l, 1 Sam. 16:14)
2 God put him away (v 15; note c, Dt. 28:63). No man can take mercy away from another, put anyone away from God, or pluck a person out of His hands, but God can do all this and more. See Backsliding in Index

i 3 promises to David (v 16):
1 House established forever
2 Kingdom established forever
3 Throne established forever

j See David's eternal house, p. 330

k See David's eternal kingdom, p. 330

l Eternal throne. All three things are eternal - the house, the kingdom, and the throne of David (v 16; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). All three were done away with when Jerusalem was taken by Nebuchadnezzar and not one of them has ever been restored. The throne and crown were to be removed from Zedekiah and remain removed until the Messiah came, whose right it is to rule (Ps. 2; Isa. 9:6-7; 16:4; Jer. 3:14-18; 16:14-21; 23:3-8, 20; 30:3-24; 31:8-14, 27-40; 32:37-44; 33:3-26; 50:19-20; Ezek. 11:17-21; 20:33-44; 21:27; 28:25-26; 34:11-31; 36:3-38; 37:1-28; 38:8-21; 39:1-39; 43:7; 47:13-48:35; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 27; Hos. 3:4-5; Joel 2-3; Amos 9:11-15; Oba. 17-21; Mic. 4-5; Zech. 12-14; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). Such simple descriptions are found in these scriptures regarding the removal of the house, throne, and kingdom of David until the latter days under the Messiah, that comment on them is unnecessary. o Note how the blessing and promises direct from God brought deep humiliation (v 18-29)

p Torah or law, hence the law of the man (ha-adam, the adam), thus connecting the dominion of man over all the earth with that of the Messiah, as in Ps. 8:5-6. This perhaps refers to the promise that the Seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head (Gen. 3:15); that is, from David's line the Messiah would come to be the eternal king of the earth

p Shields of gold. This is no doubt where David got much of the gold he collected to use in building the temple. Exactly how much came from his wars is not known, but there were many shields, ornaments, vessels and other items of gold and silver from the many cities he conquered as well as some which people gave him (v 7, 10-11), besides much brass (v 8). He brought all this spoil to Jerusalem and kept it solely for holy uses, especially, for the temple he had planned to build for the Lord (v 7; 1 Chr. 18:7-11)

q How many servants of Hadadezer had shields of gold is not known. Some think that only a special bodyguard company had such shields. Others think these were only bracelets or costly ornaments of gold and that there could not be so many shields of gold; but gold shields are mentioned as being in Israel by the hundreds, so such was possible in this case (1 Ki. 10:17; 14:26-27; 2 Chr. 9:16; 12:9-10)

IV Full establishment of David's kingdom (1 Chr. 18:1-20:8). 1 Victory over Philistia (1 Chr. 18:1)

AND [d]after this it came to pass, that Dā'vid smote the Phi-lis'tines, and [e]subdued them: and Dā'vid took [f]Mē'theg-ăm'mah out of the hand of the Phi-lis'tines.

2 Victory over Moab (1 Chr. 18:2)

2 And he smote Mō'ab, [g]and measured them with a line, casting them down to the ground; even with two lines measured he to put to death, and with one full line to keep alive. And so the Mō'ab-ites became Dā'vid's servants, and brought gifts.

3 Conquers Zobah and Syria (1 Chr. 18:3): 2nd Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

3 ¶ Dā'vid smote also [h]Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr, the son of [i]Rē'hŏb, king of [j]Zō'bah, as he went to recover his border [k]at the river Eū-phrā'tēs.
4 And Dā'vid [l]took from him a thousand chariots, and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and Dā'vid houghed all the chariot horses, but reserved of them for an hundred chariots.
5 And when the Sȳr'ī-anṣ of Dā-măs'cus came to succour Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr king of Zō'bah, Dā'vid [m]slew of the Sȳr'ī-anṣ two and twenty thousand men.
6 Then Dā'vid put garrisons in Sȳr'ī-ā of Dā-măs'cus: and the Sȳr'ī-anṣ became servants to Dā'vid, and [n]brought gifts. And the LORD [o]preserved Dā'vid whithersoever he went.
7 And Dā'vid took the [p]shields of gold that were on the [q]servants of Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr, and brought them to Jē-ru'sa-lĕm.
8 And from [r]Bē'tah, and [s]from Bĕr'o-thai, cities of Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr, king Dā'vid took exceeding much brass.

4 Peace made with Hamath: the spoils of war dedicated to God (1 Chr. 18:9-10)

9 ¶ When Tō'ī king of Hā'math heard that Dā'vid had smitten all the host of Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr, 10 Then Tō'ī sent [t]Jō'ram his son unto king Dā'vid, to salute him, and to bless him, because he had fought against Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr, and smitten him: for Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr had wars with Tō'ī. And Jō'ram brought with him vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass:
11 Which also king Dā'vid [u]did dedicate unto the LORD, with the silver and gold that he had dedicated of all nations which he subdued;
12 Of Sȳr'ī-ā and of Mō'ab, and of the children of Am'mŏn, and of the Phi-lis'tines, and of Am'a-lĕk, and of the spoil of Hăd-ăd-ē'zēr, son of Rē'hŏb, king of Zō'bah.

5 Conquest of Edom (1 Chr. 18:11)

13 And Dā'vid gat him a name when he returned from smiting of the Sȳr'ī-anṣ in the valley of salt, being eighteen thousand men.
14 ¶ And he put garrisons in E'dom; throughout all E'dom put he garrisons, and all they of E'dom became Dā'vid's servants. And the LORD preserved Dā'vid whithersoever he went.

o Cherethites and Pelethites were evidently corps in David's army, perhaps bodyguards of the king. Cherethites were perhaps related to the Philistines; they are mentioned with them. Some think Pelethite is a corrupt form of Philistine; others think they were Reubenites or Judahites

p Questions 34-37. Next, v 8 a David, through the love of God and his own tender and forgiving nature, always sought to do right. Even when he committed the great sins of murder, deceit, and adultery, he was man enough to acknowledge his wrongs and tried to make things right (12:1-23). Here, in the midst of peace, prosperity, and complete success, at which time the average man would think only of himself, he thought of his enemy, Saul, and his friend, Jonathan, in a spirit of compassion and love. He wanted to know if any of the house of Saul were left, to whom he could show kindness (v 3). He did not say of the house of Jonathan his friend, but of the house of Saul his enemy, thus magnifying the greatness of his own character and the generosity and forgiveness of his own soul. He was told of the lame son of Jonathan (v 3) b Ziba, strength. A servant of Saul who falsely obtained half his master's property from David (v 2-12; 16:1-4; 19:17, 29)

c Machir, salesman. 2 Machir's:
1 Son of Manasseh and head of a great family (Gen. 50:23; Num. 26:29; 27:1)
2 Son of Ammiel (v 4-5; 17:27)

d Ammiel, devoted ally. 4 Ammiel's:
1 Son of Gemalli (Num. 13:12)
2 Father of Machir (v 4-5; 17:27)
3 Father of Bathsheba (1 Chr. 3:5) 4 A tabernacle porter (1 Chr. 26:5)

e Lodebar, a place in Gad beyond Jordan near Mahanaim (v 4-5; 17:27). Perhaps the same as Debir (Josh. 13:26)

f Mephibosheth, destroying shame. 2 so-called:
1 Son of Jonathan (4:4; 9:6-13; 16:1, 4; 19:24-30; 21:7)
2 Son of Saul (21:8)

g At the meeting of Mephibosheth with David he was about 17-20 years old, being 12 years old when David was anointed king over all Israel (v 6; note g, 4:4). He was old enough to be married and have one son (v 12)

h Before, it was kindness to any of the house of Saul, not only to Jonathan his friend; here it was for Jonathan that this was being done, the young man being the only one left of Saul's house. It is true that there were others born of Saul's concubines, and there were grandchildren by marriage, but they belonged to other branches of the family (21:7-8)

i Question 38, Next, 10:3

j David restored all that belonged to Saul to Mephibosheth and Ziba was to be the overseer of the property for him (v 9-13). Ziba tried to cheat his master out of it by deceit (16:1-4), but he was found out; however, he suffered no punishment, because David's word had gone out that he should have all the property since it was reported that Mephibosheth had betrayed David (19:25-30) k Micha, like Jehovah. 3 Micha's:

1 Son of Mephibosheth (v 12)
2 A Levite exile (Neh. 11:17, 22)
3 Another Levite exile (Neh. 10:11)

l Hanun, gracious. 3 Hanun's:
1 Son of Nahash, king of Ammon, who failed to accept love and perished in a great war (10:1-4; 1 Chr. 19:2-6)
2 A returning exile (Neh. 3:13)
3 Another returning exile (Neh. 3:30)

m David's motive here was of the purest kind - to show kindness to a neighboring king whose father had showed kindness to him (v 20). The intent was misunderstood as an attempt at spying with the view of overthrowing the kingdom of Ammon (v 3). The Ammonites insulted David's servants and war was the result (v 4-14)

Zi'bâ? And he said, Thy servant is he.

3 And the king said, [a]Is there not yet any of the house of Saul, that I may shew the kindness of God unto him? And [b]Zi'bâ said unto the king, Jŏn'a-than hath yet a son, which is lame on his feet.

4 And the king said unto him, Where is he? And Zi'bâ said unto the king, Behold, he is in the house [c]of Ma'chîr, the son [d]of Am'mî-el, in [e]Lô-de'bär.

5 ¶ Then king Dâ'vid sent, and fetched him out of the house of Ma'chîr, the son of Am'mî-el, from Lô-dē'bär.

6 Now when [f]Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth, the son of Jŏn'a-than, the son of Saul, was come unto Dâ'vid, [g]he fell on his face, and did reverence. And Dâ'vid said, Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth. And he answered, Behold thy servant!

●7 ¶ And Dâ'vid said unto him, Fear not: for I will surely shew thee kindness [h]for Jŏn'a-than thy father's sake, and will restore thee all the land of Saul thy father; and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually.

8 And he bowed himself, and said, [i]What is thy servant, that thou shouldest look upon such a dead dog as I am?

9 ¶ Then the king called to Zi'bâ, Saul's servant, and said unto him, [j]I have given unto thy master's son all that pertained to Saul and to all his house.

●10 Thou therefore, and thy sons, and thy servants, shall till the land for him, and thou shalt bring in the fruits, that thy master's son may have food to eat: but Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth thy master's son shall eat bread always at my table. Now Zi'bâ had fifteen sons and twenty servants.

11 Then said Zi'bâ unto the king, According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his servant, so shall thy servant do. As for Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth, said the king, he shall eat at my table, as one of the king's sons.

12 And Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth had a young son, whose name [k]was Mi'châ. And all that dwelt in the house of Zi'bâ were servants unto Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth.

13 So Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth dwelt in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm: for he did eat continually at the king's table; and was lame on both his feet.

277 CHAPTER 10

9 Ammonite-Syrian war (1 Chr. 19): 3rd Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.). (1) David's kindness misunderstood as occasion to war

AND it came to pass after this, that the king of the children of Am'mŏn died, [l]and Hâ'nûn his son reigned in his stead.

2 Then said Dâ'vid, [m]I will shew kindness unto Hâ'nûn the son of Nâ'hăsh, as his father shewed kindness unto me. And Dâ'vid sent to comfort him by the hand of his servants for his father. And Dâ'vid's servants came into the land of the children of Am'mŏn.

3 And the princes of the children of Am'mŏn said unto Hâ'nûn their lord, [a]Thinkest thou that Dâ'vid doth [b]honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters unto thee? hath not Dâ'vid rather sent his servants unto thee, to search the city, and to spy it out, and to overthrow it?

(2) David's servants insulted (1 Chr. 19:4-5)

4 Wherefore Hâ'nûn [c]took Dâ'vid's servants, and shaved off the one half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and sent them away.

●5 When they told it unto Dâ'vid, he sent to meet them, because the men were greatly ashamed: and the king said, Tarry at Jĕr'ĭ-chō until your beards be grown, and then return.

(3) First campaign: victory over Ammonites and Syrians (1 Chr. 19:6-16)

6 ¶ And when the children of Am'mŏn [d]saw that they stank before Dâ'vid, the children of Am'mŏn sent and hired the Sŷr'ĭ-ans of [e]Bĕth-rē'hŏb, and the Sŷr'ĭ-ans of [f]Zō'bà, twenty thousand footmen, and [g]of king Mâ'a-cah a thousand men, and of [h]Ish'-tŏb twelve thousand men.

7 And when Dâ'vid heard of it, he sent Jō'ăb, and all the host of the mighty men.

8 And the children of Am'mŏn came out, and put the battle in array at the entering in of the gate: and the Sŷr'ĭ-ans of Zō'bà, and of Rē'hŏb, and Ish'-tŏb, and Mâ'a-cah, were by themselves in the field.

9 When Jō'ăb saw that the front of the battle was against him before and behind, he chose of all the choice men of Is'ra-el, and put them in array against the Sŷr'ĭ-ans:

10 And the rest of the people he delivered into the hand of A-bish'ă-ī his brother, that he might put them in array against the children of Am'mŏn.

11 And he said, If the Sŷr'ĭ-ans be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me: but if the children of Am'mŏn be too strong for thee, then I will come and help thee.

●12 Be of good courage, and let us play the men for our people, and for the cities of our God: and [i]the LORD do that which seemeth him good.

13 And Jō'ăb drew nigh, and the people that were with him, unto the battle against the Sŷr'ĭ-ans: and they fled before him.

14 And when the children of Am'mŏn saw that the Sŷr'ĭ-ans were fled, then fled they also before A-bish'ă-ī, and entered into the city. So Jō'ăb returned from the children of Am'mŏn, and came to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

(4) Second campaign: submission of Syria (1 Chr. 19:17)

15 ¶ And [j]when the Sŷr'ĭ-ans

a Questions 39-40, Next, 11:3

b Natural, carnal men cannot comprehend how anyone would want to respect, honor, and be concerned about another; this is because they live in a selfish world judging everybody, even men of God, by their own standards (v 3) c The princes of Ammon encouraged their king to be suspicious of David's motive, to believe that he really sent his servants to insult them and to act as spies with the view of overthrowing the Ammonite kingdom. They took David's servants, shaved off one-half their beards, cut off their garments at the buttocks, and sent them home (v 3-4). When David heard of this he came to meet them, and because they were greatly ashamed, he told them to tarry at Jericho until their beards would be grown out again (v 5). No greater indignity could have been put upon them. The beard was considered a symbol of manhood. By shaving half their beards Hanun not only treated David's ambassadors with contempt, but made them objects of ridicule. It was customary for the beard to be kept with care and neatness; this is why David had easily convinced the Philistines that he was insane (1 Sam. 21:13). The mistreatment of David's servants was not necessary or wise of the young king; and in this respect he played the part of a fool, like Rehoboam (1 Ki. 12)

d They not only saw this, but felt it and knew what the natural result of their insulting treatment of David's servants would be. They prepared for war by hiring 33,000 foreign mercenaries to fight with the Ammonite army against Israel (v 6). When this was known to David he sent Joab and all the mighty men of Israel to the battle (v 7), which was fought at Rabbah, the capital city of Ammon (v 8; 11:1). The result was that Israel was victor (v 9-14)

e Beth-rehob, the capital of low-lying country between Lebanon and Anti-Lebanon (v 6; Judg. 18:28)

f Zoba or Zobah was a country between Syria and the river Euphrates (v 6; note j, 8:3)

g Maacah was in the vicinity of mount Hermon east of the Jordan in the Trachonitis (v 6, 8)

h Ish-tob, perhaps the same as Tob, southeast of Syria (v 6, 8; Judg. 11:3-5)

i The only statement of Joab indicating that he recognized God in any sense (v 12)

j The Syrians were not satisfied at being defeated by Israel (v 13), so they gathered themselves against Israel after adding many other Syrians from other countries beyond the river Euphrates (v 15-16). David led his army against them and defeated them (v 16-19)

26 You have spoken it, so with Your blessing let my house be blessed forever

Thus ended the prayer and meditation of the great king of Israel, a man after God's own heart. Such is the type of prayer found so often in the O. T. From the contents men of all ages can see what God is interested in as far as they are concerned, for what was in His heart regarding one man who loved and obeyed Him, is in His heart for all others of like faith and conduct - to bless and prosper them

Syrian war (10:18)

According to this passage David slew the men of 700 chariots, or 2,100 (allowing 3 to a chariot), besides 40,000 horsemen and their commander (v 18). In the parallel passage (1 Chr. 19:18) it is said that David slew of the Syrians seven thousand men which fought in chariots, which would make 10 men to each chariot. The 7,000 count is more probable with a vast army like this, but we cannot be sure. There may have been a mistake in copying. The Jews expressed numbers by single letters of the alphabet. The letter zain, for instance, with a dot above it stood for 7,000, and nun stood for 700. It was easy for a copyist to make an error, especially if one letter was marred slightly. Such a system accounts for various mistakes in numbers

e This was either in the spring or autumn, for both periods were good seasons to make war, neither being too hot or cold (v 1) f This was the third war over the insult of David's servants by the princes of Ammon (10:1-5):
1 War with Ammon and Syrians (10:6-14)
2 War with Syrians (10:15-19)
3 War with Ammon (11:1-27). In this one Ammon was defeated and their capital city, Rabbah, was besieged until it was taken (v 1, 25; 12:26-31)
g David would not have been tempted by sin here if he had gone with the army, a thing he finally did before accomplishing the complete victory

k Several questions present themselves: Why was she washing in public view of the king's terrace? Did she not know that such open and close view would be a source of temptation to David? Could there have been some design on her part? Or, was she wholly blameless? (v 2)
l She must have been a celebrated beauty, whose renown had even reached David through reports carried by the women from harem to harem (v 2) m In the East, when a ruler took a fancy to a woman he would send an officer to her place of abode, who would announce the royal pleasure to have her removed to the palace. An apartment was assigned her, and if she was chosen to be his wife an announcement was made accordingly. In this case, the woman was already married and David seemingly was obliged to make her some promises before she complied with the royal will. Her chief ambition was to make her child the king, which is seen in her promptness to announce her pregnancy (v 5), and in her final activity of seeking the throne for Solomon (1 Ki. 1:13, 15, 17, 28). We see very strong indications that she held a strong influence over David. She was a conniving woman, and no doubt made David pay for his sin with her, a sin which likely turned Ahithophel, who was her grandfather (v 3; 23:34) against David (15:12-31; 16:20-23; 17:7-23) saw that they were smitten before Is'ra-el, they gathered themselves together.

16 And Hăd-ăr-ē'zĕr sent, and brought out the Sȳr'ĭ-anș that were beyond [a]the river: and they came to[b]Hē'lam; [c]and Shō'băch the captain of the host of Hăd-ăr-ē'zĕr went before them.

17 And when it was told Dā'vid, he gathered all Is'ra-el together, and passed over Jôr'dan, and came to Hē'lam. And the Sȳr'ĭ-anș set themselves in array against Dā'vid, and fought with him.

18 And the Sȳr'ĭ-anș fled before Is'ra-el; and Dā'vid [d]slew the men of seven hundred chariots of the Sȳr'ĭ-anș, and forty thousand horsemen, and smote Shō'băch the captain of their host, who died there.

19 And when all the kings that were servants to Hăd-ăr-ē'zĕr saw that they were smitten before Is'ra-el, they made peace with Is'ra-el, and served them. So the Sȳr'ĭ-anș feared to help the children of Am'mŏn any more.

CHAPTER 11 278

(5) Third campaign: victory over Ammon (1 Chr. 20:1)

AND it came to pass, after the year was expired, [e]at the time when kings go forth to battle, that Dā'vid [f]sent Jō'ăb, and his servants with him, and all Is'ra-el; and they destroyed the children of Am'mŏn, and besieged Răb'bah. But [g]Dā'vid tarried still at Jē-ru'să-lĕm.

V David's sin and repentance (2 Sam. 11:2-12:14).

1 His temptation

2 ¶ And it came to pass[h]in an eveningtide, that Dā'vid [i]arose from off his bed, and walked upon the roof of the king's house: and from the [j]roof he saw a woman[k]washing herself; and the woman was[l]very beautiful to look upon.

3 And Dā'vid[m]sent and enquired after the woman. And one said, "Is not this [n]Bath'-shĕ-bá, the daughter of[o]E-lī'am, the wife of[q]U-rī'ah the Hĭt'tīte?

2 David's first sin: adultery

4 And Dā'vid sent messengers, and took her; and [r]she came in unto him, and he [s]lay with her; for [t]she was purified from her uncleanness: and[u]she returned unto her house.

3 David's sin found out

5 And the woman conceived, and [v]sent and told Dā'vid, and said, I am with child.

4 David's second sin: deception - plot to cover his sin

●6 ¶ And Dā'vid sent to Jō'ăb, saying, Send me U-rī'ah the Hĭt'tīte. And Jō'ăb sent U-rī'ah to Dā'vid.

7 And when U-rī'ah was come unto him, "Dā'vid demanded of him how Jō'ăb did, and how the people did, and how the war prospered.

●8 And Dā'vid[c]said to U-rī'ah, Go down to thy house, and wash thy feet. And U-rī'ah departed out of the king's house, and[b]there followed him a mess of meat from the king.

5 Plot fails: Uriah's character

9 But U-rī'ah slept at the door of the king's house, with all the servants of his lord, and [c]went not down to his house.

10 And when they had told Dā'vid, saying, U-rī'ah went not down unto his house, [d]Dā'vid said unto U-rī'ah, [e]Camest thou not from thy journey? why then didst thou not go down unto thine house?

11 And U-rī'ah said unto Dā'vid, [f]The ark, and Is'ra-el, and Jū'dah, abide in tents; and my lord Jō'ăb, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; shall I then go into mine house, to eat and to drink, and to lie with my wife? as thou livest, and as thy soul liveth, I will not do this thing.

6 Third sin: 2nd plot - making Uriah drunk to cover his sin

●12 And Dā'vid said to U-rī'ah, Tarry here[g]to day also, and to morrow I will let thee depart. So U-rī'ah abode in Jē-ru'să-lĕm that day, and the morrow.

13 And when Dā'vid had called him, he did eat and drink before him; and[h]he made him drunk: and at even he went out to lie on his bed with the servants of his lord, but went not down to his house.

7 Fourth sin: 3rd plot to cover up his sin - murder

14 ¶ And it came to pass [i]in the morning, that Dā'vid wrote a letter to Jō'ăb, and sent it by the hand of U-rī'ah.

●15 And he wrote in the letter, saying, Set ye U-rī'ah in the forefront of the hottest battle, and retire ye from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

8 Third plot succeeds

16 And it came to pass, when Jō'ăb observed the city, that he assigned U-rī'ah unto a place where he knew that valiant men were.

17 And the men of the city went out, and fought with Jō'ăb: and there fell some of the people of the servants of Dā'vid; and [j]U-rī'ah the Hĭt'tīte died also.

9 Report of the campaign

18 ¶ Then Jō'ăb sent and told Dā'vid all the things concerning the war;

19 And charged the messenger, saying, [k]When thou hast made an end of telling the matters of the war unto the king,

20 And if so be that the king's wrath arise, and he say unto thee, [l]Wherefore approached ye so nigh unto the city when ye did fight? knew ye not that they would shoot from the wall?

a At this time all David wanted him to do was to go down to his house and wash his feet, after coming from a long journey. The design was that he would be with his wife and the child would pass as Uriah's, thus concealing David's sin. The honor of Bathsheba would also be covered. At this stage of the plan it seems the king had no intention of murdering Uriah or taking his wife (v 8)
b This act would let Bathsheba know that he was the one who had sent for her husband and that he was sending him home for the purpose of concealing their sin together; but at this point the plan failed (v 8-11) c This was something unexpected and unusual - a man not seeing his wife, perhaps the most beautiful in Israel, after being away for weeks or months, and preferring to remain with the king's servants and sleeping with them at the door (v 9). It was something David had not counted on; here, as always, in connection with sin, there was some unforseen element the transgressor had not taken into consideration d David could not conceive of such a thing - a man refusing to go to his wife and home comforts when he had the opportunity and was also commanded to do so by his king. This presented another problem, and so David went further into sin trying to conceal the first wrong he had done (v 10-13)
e Questions 42-44. Next, v 20
f This is a rare principle - refusing to live in pleasure, even lawful privileges while fellowmen are in danger and excluded from like privileges. Uriah's argument was: why should he go down to his house to eat and drink and lie with his wife when the ark and Israel dwelled in tents and the fighting men (where he belonged) abode in the open fields (v 11). Was this providence at work to bring David to repentance and uphold justice in Israel?
g By commanding him to remain another day, David had time to think of the next step to take. He fell upon the plan of making him drunk, supposing that in this state Uriah might go down to his house; but the high ideals of Uriah were stronger and deeper seated than the temporary influence of drink, so David was defeated in his next plan to cover up his sin with Bathsheba (v 12-13)
h Making a man drunk is a sin in itself, so instead of solving his problem, David became more deeply involved in sin (v 13)
i This was on the third day after Uriah had come from the battlefield. Without visiting his home he was ready to go back to duty, either to die or win the victory. He carried a letter back to Joab concerning himself, never realizing that his king would stoop so low in sin. The letter contained his own death sentence (v 14-15). In his desperation David had thought that the only escape for him was the death of Uriah. He had the power to make it appear legal, but God called this sin by its proper name - murder and laid the charge to David (v 15; 12:9; 1 Ki. 15:5). This act gave Joab a greater leverage on David to apply pressure later. He knew this was unjust and all Israel got to know of it in due time. This saved Joab much criticism in his war on Ammon (v 18-24)
j With the husband of Bathsheba now dead, she and David were free to continue their association and hide their sin, if possible (v 16-17) k Joab saved the matter of Uriah's death to pacify the king with, if he became too severe in his criticism of the conduct of the war (v 19-24)
l Questions 45-49. Next, 12:9

u She returned to her own house after being with David all night or longer (v 4)
v She sent immediately and told David that she had conceived, so he deliberately planned to hide his sin by sending for her husband so he could be with her and thereby cause men to think that the child was the offspring of her lawful husband (v 6-17). Adultery carried the death penalty, so she may have had in mind the help of David to shield her from this (Lev. 20:10)
w This was a mere excuse to get Uriah home to be with his wife; but the plot failed (v 7-13) a Jerubbesheth, a new name for Gideon - changed to this, no doubt, by the Holy Spirit to suit his idolatry (Judg. 8:27-35). It means: let Baal plead, or let the idol of confusion defend itself (v 21)

b See Judg. 9:1, 52-57
c This was the thing that calmed David's wrath against Joab. Though it was very low for a man of God to sin to the point of being glad when one of his servants and friends was dead (v 24), this perhaps was the first relief from fear of exposure and trouble with Uriah that David had experienced since his original sin with Bathsheba. He thought all would be well hereafter; but he failed to reckon with God, the Judge of all who demands justice on the part of His servants, as we shall see in 12:1-25; 15:1-18:33 d This statement of supposing Uriah would have died anyway did not clear the conscience of David (v 25). He was to face his sin in many ways and many times to come e Bathsheba mourned her husband, and then showed herself willing to live with the very man who had caused his death (v 26-27) f In about 7 days. The hurried marriage was to hide the pregnancy of Bathsheba (v 27)
g Any sin displeases Jehovah who will in due time render to all men justice, according to their works (v 27; Mt. 16:27; Acts 17:31; Rom. 2:12-16; 14:10; 2 Cor. 5:10)
h Note the short parable of Nathan which God used to bring David to repentance (v 1-4)
i It was a custom of many among the Arabs to keep a lamb for a pet as we would keep a dog or cat (v 3) j Anyone could see the injustice of a rich man refusing to use one of his many sheep, and taking a poor man's only one to feed a guest. All the time David was hearing the story his anger was increasing. Being a man of justice and the one to execute justice, he was ready to act immediately. His sentence was that the man should die, but this was contrary to the law on sheep stealing (Ex. 22:1). His second statement though, on paying back fourfold was in harmony with it (v 6). Had David realized he was speaking of himself he would not have been so bold and quick to pass judgment, ordering the death sentence. Subsequent events show the final results of this story (v 7-14)

j David's servants were afraid to tell him of the child's death lest he would vex himself all the more, but when he heard of it he acted in faith saying he would go to the child since it would not return to him (v 18-23)
k Question 51. Next, v 19

David's promise (14:8)

David promised to give charge concerning her case (v 8), but this did not satisfy her. It was too far distant and by delay she could not bring her present business to a conclusion. She proposed that if it should happen that the public resented justice being done in this case, the whole blame should fall upon her and her father's house with the king being guiltless. This brought a further promise of protection for her and the murderer (v 9-10); but it did not yet bring the case to a final conclusion, for the plan was to get the king to promise that the whole case would be dropped where it was. The woman then pressed him for a definite promise, pointing out that when God is approached for forgiveness He responds before it is too late, and that if David waited any longer it would be too late to help her son. The king then made a promise that her son would not be touched (v 11). This brought the matter to the desired conclusion so she then applied the story to David, himself (v 12-20) 21 Who smote A-bim'e-lech the son of[a] Je-rub'be-sheth? did not a[b]woman cast a piece of a millstone upon him from the wall, that he died in The'bez? why went ye nigh the wall? then say thou, Thy servant U-ri'ah the Hit'tite is dead also.

10 Fifth sin: hardness of heart, thinking his sin is finished (vss. 20-21)

22 ¶ So the messenger went, and came and shewed Da'vid all that Jo'ab had sent him for.

23 And the messenger said unto Da'vid, Surely the men prevailed against us, and came out unto us into the field, and we were upon them even unto the entering of the gate.

24 And the shooters shot from off the wall upon thy servants; and some of the king's servants be dead, and[c] thy servant U-ri'ah the Hit'tite is dead also.

25 Then Da'vid said unto the messenger, Thus shalt thou say unto Jo'ab, [d]Let not this thing displease thee, for the sword devoureth one as well as another: make thy battle more strong against the city, and overthrow it: and encourage thou him.

11 David marries Bath-sheba: God is displeased

26 ¶ And when the wife of U-ri'ah heard that U-ri'ah her husband was dead, [e]she mourned for her husband.

27 And [f]when the mourning was past, Da'vid sent and fetched her to his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a son. But the thing that Da'vid had done [g]displeased the LORD.

CHAPTER 12 279

12 David's repentance: (1) The parable of Nathan

AND the LORD sent Na'than unto Da'vid. And he came unto him, and [h]said unto him, There were two men in one city; the one rich, and the other poor.

2 The rich man had exceeding many flocks and herds:

3 But the poor man had nothing save one little ewe lamb, which he had bought and nourished up: and [i]it grew up together with him, and with his children; it did eat of his own meat, and drank of his own cup, and lay in his bosom, and was unto him as a daughter.

4 And there came a traveller unto the rich man, and he spared to take of his own flock and of his own herd, to dress for the wayfaring man that was come unto him; but took the poor man's lamb, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

(2) Its effect on David

5 And Da'vid's [j]anger was greatly kindled against the man; and he said to Na'than, As the LORD liveth, the man that hath done this thing shall surely die:

6 And he shall [k]restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity.

(3) Its application to David

7 ¶ And Na'than said to Da'vid, [l]Thou art the man. Thus saith the LORD God of Is'ra-el, I [c]anointed thee king over Is'ra-el, and I delivered thee out of the hand of Saul;

8 And I gave thee thy master's house, and thy master's wives into thy bosom, and gave thee the house of Is'ra-el and of Ju'dah; and if that had been too little, I would moreover have given unto thee such and such things.

9 [d]Wherefore [e]hast thou despised the commandment of the LORD, to do evil in his sight? thou hast killed U-ri'ah the Hit'tite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slain him with the sword of the children of Am'mon.

(4) The sevenfold penalty: David repents and is forgiven

10 [f]Now therefore the sword shall never depart from thine house; because thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of U-ri'ah the Hit'tite to be thy wife.

11 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will raise up evil against thee [g]out of thine own house, and I will take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them unto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun.

12 For thou didst it secretly: but I will do this thing before all Is'ra-el, and before the sun.

13 And Da'vid said unto Na'than, [h]I have sinned against the LORD. And Na'than said unto Da'vid, The LORD also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die.

14 Howbeit, because by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the LORD to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die.

VI David's reaping (2 Sam. 12:15-19:8). 1 First reaping: the child dies 15 ¶ And Na'than departed unto his house. [i]And the LORD struck the child that U-ri'ah's wife bare unto Da'vid, and it was very sick.

16 Da'vid therefore besought God for the child; and Da'vid fasted, and went in, and lay all night upon the earth.

17 And the elders of his house arose, and went to him, to raise him up from the earth: but he would not, neither did he eat bread with them.

18 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that the child died. And the [j]servants of Da'vid feared to tell him that the child was dead: for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spake unto him, and he would not hearken unto our voice: [k]how will he a The regrettable thing in this case is that David could not restore the lamb fourfold or even onefold, for Uriah was dead and matters could not possibly be made right with him (v 6)

4 sons of David died:
1 Son by Bathsheba (v 15-23)
2 Amnon murdered by Absalom (13:23-39)
3 Absalom slain by Joab (18:9-18)
4 Adonijah by Solomon (1 Ki. 2:13-25)

b The prophets had difficult tasks at times, when asked by God to pass such prophecies on to their best friends, as here. To say to David, Thou art the man, and expose his sin, pass sentence on him and risk the wrath of a king was not easy, but Nathan did it boldly and evidently without fear c 5 acts of God for David (v 7-8):
1 I anointed you king over Israel
2 I delivered you out of Saul's hands
3 I gave you your master's house
4 I gave you your master's wives into your bosom
5 I gave you the house of Israel and Judah to rule over; and if that had not been enough I would have given more then vex himself, if we tell him that the child is dead?

19 But when Dā'vid[a] saw that his servants whispered, Dā'vid perceived that the child was dead: therefore Dā'vid said unto his servants, [b]Is the child dead? And they said, He is dead.

2 David's renewed faith in God and in a future life

20 Then Dā'vid [c]arose from the earth, and washed, and anointed himself, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the LORD, and worshipped: then he came to his own house; and when he required, they set bread before him, and he did eat.

21 Then said his servants unto him, [d]What thing is this that thou hast done? thou didst fast and weep for the child, while it was alive; but when the child was dead, thou didst rise and eat bread.

22 And he said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept: for I said, Who can tell whether GOD will be gracious to me, that the child may live?

23 But now he is dead, wherefore should I fast? can I bring him back again? [e]I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me.

3 Birth of Solomon (Mt. 1:6)

24 ¶ And Dā'vid comforted Bath'-shĕ-bā his wife, and went in unto her, and lay with her: and she bare a son, and he called his name [f]Sŏl'o-mon: and the LORD loved him.

25 And he sent by the hand of Nā'than the prophet; and he called his name [g]Jĕd-ĭ-dī'ah, because of the LORD.

4 Ammonite war concluded in victory (2 Sam. 10:1-11:1; 1 Chr. 20:1-5)

26 ¶ And Jō'ăb fought against Răb'bah of the children of Ăm'-mŏn and took the royal city.

27 And Jō'ăb sent messengers to Dā'vid, and said, I have fought against Răb'bah, and have taken the [h]city of waters.

28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and encamp against the city, and take it: lest I take the city, and it be called after my name.

29 And Dā'vid gathered all the people together, and went to Răb'bah, and fought against it, and took it.

30 And he took their king's crown from off his head, the weight whereof was a [i]talent of gold with the precious stones: and it was set on Dā'vid's head. And he brought forth the spoil of the city in great abundance.

31 And he brought forth the people that were therein, [j]and put them under saws, and under harrows of iron, and under axes of iron, and made them pass through the brickkiln: and thus [k]did he unto all the cities of the children of Ăm'mŏn. So Dā'vid and [l]all the people returned unto Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

5 Second reaping: family troubles (2 Sam. 13:1-14:33). (1) Amnon's love for Tamar

AND it came to pass [a]after this, that [b]Ăb'sa-lŏm the son of Dā'vid had a[c]fair sister, whose name was [d]Tā'mar; [e]and Ăm'nŏn the son of Dā'vid loved her.

2 And Ăm'nŏn was [f]so vexed, that he fell sick for his sister Tā'mar; for she was a virgin; and Ăm'nŏn thought it hard for him to do any thing to her.

3 But Ăm'nŏn had a friend whose name was [g]Jŏn'a-dăb, the son of Shĭm'e-ah Dā'vid's brother: and Jŏn'a-dăb was a very [h]subtil man.

4 And he said unto him, [i]Why art thou, being the king's son, lean from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? And Ăm'nŏn said unto him, I love Tā'mar, my brother Ăb'sa-lŏm's sister.

(2) Plot to rape Tamar

5 And Jŏn'a-dăb said unto him, [j]Lay thee down on thy bed, and make thyself sick: and when thy father cometh to see thee, say unto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tā'mar come, and give me meat, and dress the meat in my sight, that I may see it, and eat it at her hand.

(3) The plot executed: David's innocent part

6 ¶ [k]So Ăm'nŏn lay down, and made himself sick: and when the king was come to see him, Ăm'nŏn said unto the king, I pray thee, let Tā'mar my sister come and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eat at her hand.

●7 Then Dā'vid sent home to Tā'mar, saying, [l]Go now to thy brother Ăm'nŏn's house, and dress him meat.

(4) Plot executed: Amnon's sin

8 So Tā'mar went to her brother Ăm'nŏn's house; and he was laid down. And she took flour, and kneaded it, and made cakes [m]in his sight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And she took a pan, and poured them out before him; but he refused to eat. And Ăm'nŏn said, Have out all men from me. And they went out every man from him.

●10 And Ăm'nŏn said unto Tā'mar, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tā'mar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Ăm'nŏn her brother.

11 And when she had brought them unto him to eat, he took hold of her, and said unto her, Come lie with me, my sister.

12 And she [n]answered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me; for no such thing ought to be done in Ĭs'ra-el: do not thou this folly.

13 [o]And I, whither shall I cause my shame to go? and as for thee, thou shalt be as one of the a After this - after the birth of Solomon and the conclusion of the Ammonite war of 12:24-31. It is supposed that David was about 53 years old; Amnon, 22; Absalom, 20; Tamar, 15; and Solomon, 2 b Absalom, father of peace. 3rd son of David by his wife Maacah, a foreign woman, princess of Geshur. He was perfect in body, handsome, charming, eloquent, and dignified, but traitorous, murderous, merciless, godless and self-conceited. He murdered his brother, betrayed his father, and died in vanity, seeking a kingdom he was in no way qualified to rule. His history is found in 3:3; 13:1-19:10; 1 Ki. 6; 2:7, 28; 1 Chr. 3:2; 11:20-21. Psalm 3 was composed at the time of David's flight from Absalom

c Very beautiful (v 1; note e, Gen. 6:2) d Tamar, palm tree. 3 Tamar's:

1 Judah's daughter-in-law (Gen. 38: 6-30; Ruth 4:12; 1 Chr. 2:4). Called Thamar (Mt. 1:3)
2 Sister of Absalom (v 1-32; 1 Chr. 3:9)
3 Daughter of Absalom (2 Sam. 14:27)
Also a town or place south of the Dead Sea (Ezek. 47:19; 48:28)

e Amnon, faithful. 2 Amnon's:
1 Eldest son of David (v 1; 3:2; 13: 1-39; 1 Chr. 3:1)
2 Son of Shimon (1 Chr. 4:20)

f Amnon had developed a violent lust for Tamar. The law forbad sexual relationship with close relatives (Lev. 18:11); but, with the example of Abraham and others in all pagan countries, he seems to have convinced himself that it would be permissible for a man to have his half-sister. He had no way of making known his feelings for Tamar, for virgins were kept in close seclusion from the company of men, even those who were close relatives, not being permitted to see them without the presence of witnesses. How to contact her was his brooding problem; so much so that Amnon became sick and sore vexed daily in his great desire for her; yet, he washed in checkby a thought which made him doubt that it would be right to touch her (v 1-2)

g Jonadab, Jehovah is liberal. 2 Jonadab's:
1 Son of Shimeah, called Shammah (v 3-5, 32-35; 1 Sam. 16:9)
2 Son of Rechab (Jer. 35:6-19)

h Only an evil and subtle man would give such advice to ruin the life of his friend as well as the innocent virgin who should be protected by her brother

i Questions 57-58, Next, v 13

j Human, earthly, sensual wisdom can show one how best to commit sin and satisfy the sensual and unlawful passions, but it is powerless to show him how to escape from sin and its effects. It does not even look far enough into the future to see the results of sin, leaving its own victims helpless and guilty before the avenger (v 5) k Amnon took the advice of his cousin and posed as a very sick man to get David to permit Tamar to come and make cakes for him. With men being present when he gave permission, David did not suspect any plot against Tamar; but when she came Amnon sent all the men away so as to take advantage of her (v 7-14)

l Tamar may have been flattered at having her half-brother call for her in particular to prepare cakes for him when he was sick, so she gladly consented. Orientals were adept at feigning sickness whenever they had an object in view. David himself feigned madness to escape the Philistines (1 Sam. 21:10-15)

m Amnon had lusted and longed for this opportunity many times. He watched her like a cat waiting to spring upon its prey, but held himself until the cakes were done and brought before him. Then, he refused to eat, and commanded all the men to leave his house, so he could be alone with Tamar. He then took hold of her and declared his intentions (v 8-11)

n Tamar had more righteousness at the age of 15 than her brother at 22. She made a most impressive plea for him not to commit sin as a fool, advising him to speak to David who would not withold her from him (v 12-14)

o Question 59, Next, v 20

1 These slaves helped make up the many strangers and the abundance of workmen referred to in 1 Chr. 22:2, 15. Such slave labor was provided for in the law (Dt. 29:11; Josh. 9:27). Besides these there were groups of workmen recruited from all Israel in building the temple later (1 Ki. 5:13; 9:15-22)

a David understood by the whispering of his servants that the child was dead and that they were afraid to tell him (v 19)

b Question 52, Next, v 21

c 11 acts of David at death of child:
1 Arose from lying on the ground (v 20)
2 Washed himself
3 Anointed himself
4 Changed his garments
5 Came into the house of the Lord
6 Worshipped the Lord
7 Came to his own house
8 Ate food
9 Conversed with his servants (v 21-23)
10 Comforted his wife, Bathsheba; and 11 Named their next child Solomon

d Questions 53-56, Next, 13:4. What astonished the servants was that their master acted contrary to custom in mourning over the dead. Usually the relatives mourned and wept until the third or fourth day; and friends and distant relatives came to see them, and to urge them to eat and put on other garments

e Here we have David's confession of faith in the immortality of the soul, the reality of continued life after death, and the future resurrection of the body (v 23). If the child had gone to another place, then it was not here - only the body was here. Inasmuch as the dead cannot come back to the living, then it must be familiar spirits who imitate loved ones in cases where they seem to reappear, as in 1 Sam. 28; 1 Chr. 10:13-14. Furthermore, if the dead were extinct, then it would be impossible for the living to go where they are upon death. See study on Where are the dead? and Hell, p. 620

f Solomon, peaceable or peaceable. His history is recorded in 5:14; 12:24; 1 Ki. 1:1-12:23; 2 Ki. 21:7; 23:13; 24:13; 25:16; 1 Chr. 3:5; 6:10, 32; 14:4; 22: 5-17; 23:1; 28:5-20; 29:1-28; 1 Chr. 1:1-12:9. Writer of most of the Proverbs (Pr. 1:1; 10:1; 25:1). See Solomon in Index

g Jedidiah, beloved of Jehovah. A new name for Solomon. Found only here

h Literally, the waters of the city, cutting off the water supply to the citadel, which David came and took (v 27-29)

i A talent of gold weighed 131 lbs, troy, valued at $29,085.00. How a crown weighing this much could be worn by a man is hard to understand

4 explanations of this:

1 The crown was placed only temporarily upon David, being held up by others, to signify that he was king of the Ammonites

2 The crown was not actually worn at all by the king, but suspended over the head, being fixed to the canopy of the throne

3 The crown was that of the idol god Milcom or Malcom and was taken off him and given to David as part of the spoils. This seems to contradict facts in the case, for the Heb. word for king's here is melek which is the ordinary one for king as trans. of men about 2,091 times and not once as Malcom or Milcom

j The true sense of this verse, as well as 1 Chr. 20:3 is that he made slaves of the people, making them labor in brickkilns, and putting them to work with saws, making harrows of iron, and iron axes (v 31). Sawing asunder, hacking, hewing, and chopping human bodies have no place in the text or in the plan of God in any degree. Some claim there were no brickkilns in Palestine, but they did have bricks even if they were sundried. Bricks were burned as far back as the time of Nimrod (Gen. 11:3) k This means that he caused the captives to pass before him while seated on a pavement of brick-work, where he appointed them to the various departments of labor for which they were suited. Cp. Jer. 43:9-11 a Tamar spoke with confidence concerning the king's permission; and though it is doubtful, it could be that David would have allowed Amnon the object of his affections had he co-operated with her in the advice. Amnon was too cruel and beastly to listen to the appeal, so he forced her, suffering the effects and penalty of sin (v 13-28)

b This hatred never would have been if Amnon had really loved Tamar instead of lusting for her like a brute beast. The brutality of his act, the shame, remorse, and dread of punishment now burst upon him in all fury and combined to make her despised in his sight; so he ordered her to be gone at once (v 15)

c Tamar again showed the better sense of the two in view of this depraved sin on the part of Amnon, contending that the evil of hating her and sending her away in disgrace was worse than the first crime (v 16)

d She was so revolting to him after this act of sin that he commanded a servant to put her out and bolt the door (v 17-18)

e This act was one of such shame to this pure virgin that she put ashes upon her head, rent her garment of many colors, laid her hand upon her head, and went to her own brother's house crying (v 19). It was customary for virgins to be under the protection of their actual brothers, who were their guardians even more than their father who might have several wives and many children - more than he could see after in particular. Cp. Gen. 34:6-25. This explains her going to her brother's house instead of elsewhere

f When Absalom saw her he knew what had happened or else he surmised it, for nothing else could have caused her to be in this state. His question indicates this (v 20)

g Question 60, Next, v 26

h From this moment until it was accomplished, Absalom plotted the death of Amnon to avenge his sister (v 20-36)

i David was under obligation to do more than be wroth, if he had done his duty he would have fulfilled the law of Moses (Lev. 21:17)

j The attitude of such people generally means trouble for the one hated; their plots are deep (v 22). Absalom waited until Amnon thought himself past the danger of punishment for his crime. Fully 2 years had come and gone and he was relaxed and confident that he was safe from vengeance when Absalom invited all the sons of David to a feast, planning to kill him

k The plan was to invite all the king's sons and the king, himself to the banquet in order to get Amnon to the sheepshearing party; so Absalom came personally to David to invite them all (v 24). Even though pressed to attend David declined the invitation, but finally consented to let all his sons go; and thus the stage was set for the murder of Amnon (v 24-27)

l It was the custom at sheepshearings to invite the neighbors and relatives to a great feast

m The reason Amnon was mentioned in particular is that he was the first-born and presumptive heir to the throne of the kingdom. Absalom had so concealed his hatred for Amnon for 2 years that David trusted all would be well. He finally gave his consent for this son to attend the feast thinking it might create better harmony between the brothers (v 28-27)

7 causes of general defection (15:6):

1 David was getting old and was perhaps negligent of justice in the land (v 3)

2 Absalom's stealing of the hearts of the people (v 6, 13)

3 David's sins had disappointed the people and broken their confidence in him (11:1-12:23)

4 His partiality in not punishing his own sons for their sins (13:1-14:33)

5 The fulfillment of prophecy (12:10-14)

6 Joab's power was great and he was wicked, insolent, and oppressive to the people; and David was afraid to execute laws against him (3:27-39; 1 Ki. 2:5-6)

7 The discontented element, as in every kingdom, that saw an opportunity in Absalom to carry out their designs fools in Iz'ra-el. Now therefore, I pray thee, [c]speak unto the king; for he will not withhold me from thee.

14 Howbeit he would not hearken unto her voice: but, being stronger than she, forced her, and lay with her.

(5) Amnon's hatred of Tamar: breaks Moses' law (Ex. 22:16-17; Lev. 18:6-9; Dt. 22:28-30)

15 [b]Then Am'non hated her exceedingly; so that the hatred wherewith he hated her was greater than the love wherewith he had loved her. And Am'non said unto her, Arise, be gone.

16 And she [c]said unto him, There is no cause: this evil in sending me away is greater than the other that thou didst unto me. But he would not hearken unto her.

●17 Then [d]he called his servant that ministered unto him, and said, Put now this woman out from me, and bolt the door after her.

(6) Tamar's sorrow and hiding

18 And she had a garment of divers colours upon her: for with such robes were the king's daughters that were virgins apparelled. Then his servant brought her out, and bolted the door after her.

19 [e]And Ta'mar put ashes on her head, and rent her garment of divers colours that was on her, and laid her hand on her head, and went on crying.

●20 [f]And Ab'sa-lom her brother said unto her, [g]Hath Am'non thy brother been with thee? [h]but hold now thy peace, my sister: he is thy brother; regard not this thing. So Ta'mar remained desolate in her brother Ab'sa-lom's house.

(7) David fails to obey the law of Moses (Lev. 21:17)

21 [i]But when king Da'vid heard of all these things, [j]he was very wroth.

(8) Absalom's plot to murder Amnon for his rape of Tamar

22 And Ab'sa-lom spake unto his brother Am'non [j]neither good nor bad: for Ab'sa-lom hated Am'non, because he had forced his sister Ta'mar.

23 ¶ And it came to pass after two full years, that Ab'sa-lom had sheepshearers in Ba'al-ha'zor, which is beside E'phra-im: and Ab'sa-lom invited all the king's sons.

24 And Ab'sa-lom [k]came to the king, and said, Behold now, thy servant hath [l]sheepshearers; let the king, I beseech thee, and his servants go with thy servant.

25 And the king said to Ab'sa-lom, Nay, my son, let us not all now go, lest we be chargeable unto thee. And he pressed him: howbeit he would not go, but blessed him.

26 Then said Ab'sa-lom, If not, I pray thee, [m]let my brother Am'non go with us. And the king said unto him, [n]Why should he go with thee?

27 But Ab'sa-lom pressed him, that he let Am'non and all the king's sons go with him.

(9) Murder of Amnon

●28 ¶[o]Now Ab'sa-lom had commanded his servants, saying, Mark ye now when Am'non's heart is merry with wine, and when I say unto you, Smite Am'non; then kill him, fear not: [p]have not I commanded you? be courageous, and be valiant.

29 And the servants of Ab'sa-lom did unto Am'non as Ab'sa-lom had commanded. [q]Then all the king's sons arose, and every man gat him up upon his mule, and fled.

(10) Mourning of David for Amnon his son

30 [r]And it came to pass, while they were in the way, that [s]tidings came to Da'vid, saying, Ab'sa-lom hath slain all the king's sons, and there is not [t]one of them left.

31 Then the king arose, [u]and tare his garments, and [v]lay on the earth; and all his servants stood by with their clothes rent.

32 And Jon'a-dab, the son of Shim'e-ah Da'vid's brother, answered and said, [w]Let not my lord suppose that they have slain all the young men the king's sons; for Am'non only is dead: for by the appointment of Ab'sa-lom this hath been [x]determined from the day that he forced his sister Ta'mar.

33 Now therefore let not my lord the king take the thing to his heart, to think that all the king's sons are dead: for Am'non only is dead.

34 But [y]Ab'sa-lom fled. And the young man that kept the watch lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came much people by the way of the hill side behind him.

35 And Jon'a-dab said unto the king, Behold, the king's sons come: as thy servant said, so it is.

36 And it came to pass, as soon as he had made an end of speaking, that, behold, the king's sons came, and lifted up their voice and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept very sore.

(11) Absalom flees: David continually mourns for Absalom but is too proud to send for him

37 ¶ But Ab'sa-lom fled, [z]and went to [aa]Tal'mai, the son [ab]of Am-mi'hud, king of Ge'shur. And Da'vid mourned [ac]for his son every day.

38 So Ab'sa-lom fled, and went to Ge'shur, [ad]and was there three years.

39 And the [ae]soul of king Da'vid longed to go forth unto Ab'sa-lom: for he was comforted concerning Am'non, seeing he was dead.

a Question 61, Next, v 28

b This is proof of Absalom's secret plot against Amnon, and against him only, not the rest of the king's sons (v 28)

c Question 62, Next, 14:5

d Upon seeing Amnon slain before their eyes, the other sons of David thought they would be next in a general massacre, so they fled on their mules to escape (v 29). All Absalom wanted though, was to kill the man who had sinned against his sister, and thus avenge her e Tidings travelled faster than the sons of David. How is not stated. Usually lies and exaggerated reports travel faster than truth (v 30)

f Quite a false report - not one of the king's sons left alive, when the truth was, that only one had been killed (v 30-32)

g See note on rending of garments, p. 28

h This was David's favorite position when in trouble (v 31; 12:16-20), and no doubt at other times, for he was a very meek man, humbling himself greatly before God all through life i Jonadab who answered here was the very one who had suggested that Amnon commit his crime (v 3). Evidently he knew of the plot to slay Amnon, but did not intervene for his friend (v 32)

j The plot was in formation and settled in the heart of Absalom for 2 years, and just now came to the surface to be known in public (v 23, 32)

k Absalom fled (v 34). Contrast this with the flight of David several years later (15:13-37)

l Absalom fled to his grandfather, king of Geshur; and it would have been better to leave him there all his remaining days (v 37)

m Talmai, bold.
2 Talmai's:
1 A giant (Num. 13:22; Josh. 15:14; Judg. 1:10) 3:2) 2 King of Geshur (3:3; 13:37; 1 Chr.
n Ammihud, people of praise. 5 so-called:
1 An Ephraimite (Num. 1:10; 2:18; 7:
2 A Simeonite (Num. 34:20) 48)
3 A Naphtbalite (Num. 34:28)
4 Father of Talmai (v 37)
5 Son of Omri (1 Chr. 9:4)

o David mourned daily for Amnon which makes it clear that he loved him greatly. If he had fulfilled the law in executing him for his crime though, David would have been able to keep one of his sons with him and likely would have saved Absalom from rebellion. As it was he lost both sons

p Absalom was in exile 3 years (v 38)

q David not only longed for Amnon, but also for Absalom (v 39)

David's patient suffering (16:9)

Abishai, David's nephew, wanted to go over the brook and kill Shimei for his insults to the king, but David refused to listen to any offer that would cause such bloodshed. He suffered this as part of the chastening of God for his sin with Bathsheba. His answer to Abishai expressed a deep and humble resignation to the course of providence. One thing is certain, he acted more firmly toward the sons of his sister, Zeruiah, during his period of humiliation and seeming defeat than in the days of his prosperity and power (v 9-14). Insults, as here, would be hard to endure from such a helpless one, but they were easy for David, for he fully recognized himself as under the Divine hand of chastening for his sin. For years he was mindful of this cursing by Shimei, but he was determined never to avenge it in his lifetime. He left the matter to the wisdom of Solomon, it being one of the last things he mentioned in his dying hour (1 Ki. 2:8-11)

David, the powerful warrior (18:3)

At this time David was 56 years old; and his soldiers still considered him the most able and powerful warrior in all Israel. He offered to go out with the army and lead them personally, but this was rejected by his commanders who considered that he would be more useful helping them from the city of Mahanaim. They knew that the whole army of Israel would be concentrating their efforts upon killing him, so they thought best to fight in the open field without him (v 3). Ahithophel's strategy was to kill David only (17:2) a Joab stepped into the picture here, for he knew the heart of David longed for Absalom and he wanted to pardon him (13:39-14:1). He and a certain woman plotted to get David to invite him back home. Being strongly attached to Absalom, and having recovered from his sorrow over Amnon's violent death, David was now desirous of seeing his exiled son again, after 3 years of absence. Perhaps the dread of public opinion and his regard for public interests made him hesitate to recall his son. Joab, seeing this struggle due to royal duty and parental affection, decided it was time for him to act as a mediator and relieve the king of the pressure he was under. He sent for a wise woman of Tekoah to co-operate with him in making the plea for the return of Absalom. He directed her to seek an audience with David so as to point out to him that under certain circumstances it was better to spare the life of a murderer

b 7 parts to the plot:
1 Joab sent to Tekoah, a city about 12 miles south of Jerusalem and about 7 miles south of Bethlehem, for a wise woman who would be actress enough to deceive David and get from him an expression of willingness to pardon Absalom (v 2)
2 She was to play the part of a widow; her condition of life was designed to excite compassion in David
3 She was to come before the king and speak the words Joab put into her mouth, and make a plea for Absalom under the guise that it was actually her own experience (v 3)
4 She was to be far enough from Jerusalem to make it hard to inquire into the circumstances of her case, so as to avoid detection of referring to Absalom until David had committed himself (v 4-12)
5 Her case was to be similar enough to that of David's experience to awaken in the king a desire to act quickly to save her son - before the story was applied to him (v 5-12)
6 After David gave his word to spare the murderer the application was to be made to himself and Absalom (v13-20)
7 The whole case was not to be plain or visible enough to David to be discovered before he gave his word to spare the murderer (v 13-20)
Thus the whole story, the mournful tale, her posing as an aged widow in distress, and her impressive manner, all combined to move the heart of David and secure his help in this case of protecting the son

c 6 facts about the woman of Tekoah:
1 She was wise (v 2)
2 She was a good actress in feigning to be a mourning widow
3 She wore mourning apparel
4 She was not anointed with oil or perfumes which made her appear as a genuine mourner
5 She dressed and acted as if she had been in mourning a long time
6 She played her part well and convinced the king on every point (v 4-20)

d 4 things that convinced the king:
1 Her outward appearance (v 2)
2 Her approach to him (v 4)
3 Her cry of distress
4 Her story (v 5-7)

e Question 63, Next, v 13

f 10fold story of the woman (v 5-7):
1 I am a widow - my husband is dead
2 I had two sons
3 They strove together in the field
4 There was no one to part them
5 One killed the other
6 The whole family is against me
7 They demand the death of the murderer for the life of the one who died
8 They are determined to kill the only heir of my husband
9 This would quench the life left to carry on the family of my husband 10 This would leave to my husband neither name nor a soul on earth to preserve the family inheritance

g See David's promise, p. 341

h Question 64, Next, v 19

i The woman, having now been given the king's promise confirmed by an oath that her son would not be killed, came immediately to the point, applying the story to David and Absalom thus

(12) Joab's plot to reconcile David and Absalom. A Joab's strategy planned

NOW Jō'ăb the son of Zĕr-ū-ī'ah [a]perceived that the king's heart was toward Ăb'sa-lŏm.

2 And Jō'ăb [b]sent to Tē-kō'ah, and fetched thence a [c]wise woman, and said unto her, I pray thee, feign thyself to be a mourner, and put on now mourning apparel, and anoint not thyself with oil, but be as a woman that had a long time mourned for the dead:

3 And come to the king, and speak on this manner unto him. So Jō'ăb put the words in her mouth.

B The parable given and David's promises received

4 ¶ And when the woman of Tē-kō'ah spake to the king, [d]she fell on her face to the ground, and did obeisance, and said, Help, O king.

5 And the king [e]said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, I am indeed a widow woman, and mine husband is dead.

6 And thy handmaid had two sons, and they two strove together in the field, and there was none to part them, but the one smote the other, and slew him.

7 And, behold, the whole family is risen against thine handmaid, and they said, Deliver him that smote his brother, that we may kill him, for the life of his brother whom he slew; and we will destroy the heir also: and so they shall quench my coal which is left, and shall not leave to my husband neither name nor remainder upon the earth.

●8 And the king [g]said unto the woman, Go to thine house, and I will give charge concerning thee.

9 And the woman of Tē-kō'ah said unto the king, My lord, O king, the iniquity be on me, and on my father's house: and the king and his throne be guiltless.

10 And the king said, Whosoever saith ought unto thee, bring him to me, and he shall not touch thee any more.

11 Then said she, I pray thee, let the king remember the LORD thy God, that thou wouldest not suffer the revengers of blood to destroy any more, lest they destroy my son. And he said, As the LORD liveth, there shall not one hair of thy son fall to the earth.

12 Then the woman said, Let thine handmaid, I pray thee, speak one word unto my lord the king. And he said, Say on.

C The parable applied to David and Absalom

13 And the woman [h]said, Wherefore [i]then hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God? for the king doth speak this thing as one which is faulty, in that the king doth not fetch home again his banished.

14 For we must needs die, and are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again; neither doth God respect any person: yet doth he devise means, that his banished be not expelled from him.

15 Now therefore that [a]I am come to speak of this thing unto my lord the king, it is because the people have made me afraid: and thy handmaid said, I will now speak unto the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his handmaid.

16 For the king will hear, to deliver his handmaid out of the hand of the man that would destroy me and my son together out of the inheritance of God.

17 Then thine handmaid said, The word of my lord the king shall now be comfortable: for as an angel of God, so is my lord the king to discern good and bad: therefore the LORD thy God will be with thee.

D Joab's part suspected

●18 [b]Then the king answered and said unto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I shall ask thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king now speak.

19 And the king said, [c]Is not the hand of Jō'ăb with thee in all this? And the woman answered and [d]said, As thy soul liveth, my lord the king, none can turn to the right hand or to the left from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for thy servant Jō'ăb, he bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaid:

20 To fetch about this form of speech hath thy servant Jō'ăb done this thing: and my lord is wise, according to the wisdom of an angel of God, to know all things that are in the earth.

E David sends for Absalom but still refuses to see him

●21 ¶ And the king [e]said unto Jō'ăb, Behold now, I have done this thing: go therefore, bring the young man Ăb'sa-lŏm again.

22 And Jō'ăb fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himself, and thanked the king: and Jō'ăb said, To day thy servant knoweth that I have found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his servant.

23 So Jō'ăb arose and went to Gĕ'shŭr, and brought Ăb'sa-lŏm to Jĕ-rū'sa-lĕm.

●24 And the king said, [f]Let him turn to his own house, and let him not see my face. So Ăb'sa-lŏm returned to his own house, and saw not the king's face.

F Absalom's beauty and family

25 ¶ But [h]in all Ĭs'ra-el there was none to be so much praised as Ăb'sa-lŏm for his beauty: from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for it was at every year's end that he polled it: because a The whole argument of the woman for the pardon and recall of Absalom could be paraphrased: You have granted a pardon to my son who slew his brother, and yet you hesitate to pardon Absalom whose sin was no greater or different from that of my son. He was provoked and slew his brother for the crime against his sister when you did nothing in accordance with the law, to punish for the crime. If you can set aside the law in one case, can you not set it aside in another? The death of my son would be only a private loss to my family, but the loss of Absalom would be a loss to all Israel, who look to him to succeed you on the throne. Whatever is done must be done quickly (v 13). Amnon is dead and any punishment to Absalom would not repair the damage done; it is like water poured out that cannot be gathered up again. God does not have a respect of persons; He provides means to pardon those who sin. Should you not do likewise - you who are supposed to act in His stead as ruler of His people? (v 14). I have come to speak to the king because the people have made me afraid regarding what they might do in resenting the action of my king. I will now make my request and it may be that the king will grant it (v 15) to deliver his handmaid. I have concluded that the word of my lord will be granted concerning the request that I shall make to my king (v 16-17)

b When David heard her plea, he had some suspicions regarding who was back of all this, so he asked the woman plainly if Joab was not the one (v 18-19)

d Whether she and Joab had made an agreement or not regarding how she should answer such a question, she was honest with David and acknowledged that Joab was the one who had called her and put all these words in her mouth (v 19-20)

e David relented enough to send Joab to Geshur to get Absalom but he made the serious mistake of refusing to see him when he returned home (v 21-24). It would have been better not to permit him to come back, Absalom naturally resented this attitude on the part of David; and it gave him an excuse to plot against his father. Whether he would have done this if he had been received wholeheartedly by the king, we cannot say. History only records his vain attempt in rebelling against David. Absalom might have had an opportunity to get the throne by right of succession and popularity, for all Israel loved him (v 25-15:6), but such would have been impossible after the rebellion if he had lived. It is true that David promised the throne to Solomon, the son of Bathsheba, but this might not have held true with Absalom so popular (1 Ki. 1:13). His death cleared up all the trouble over throne rights as far as he was concerned

f Joab was glad now that he had brought father and son together, for both would feel under obligation to him for this act, or so he thought; but it happened otherwise (v 22-23)

g David did have some excuses for pardoning Absalom, but no number of excuses could justify him for not executing the law of Moses impartially regarding both Amnon and Absalom for their death-penalty sins. In granting such pardon he acted as an oriental despot and not as a righteous king of Israel. He now made his next regrettable mistake - that of refusing to see Absalom on his return (v 24)

h Absalom's popularity came from his extraordinary beauty, handsomeness, courtly manners, and winning ways of praising men and posing as the symbol of justice. One object of great admiration was his profusion of beautiful hair (v 25-26)

Is not the king to blame? Is he not at fault? Is he willing to forgive a murderer who is a stranger - the son of a poor widow - and is he not willing to pardon his own son, Absalom whose restoration to favor is the desire of all Israel? Why is it that the king has not brought his banished son back and restored him to favor? (v 13)

a A common shekel being about 224 grains, 200 would be 44, 800; reduced to troy lbs. at 5,760 grains to a lb., this would be nearly 7 3/4 lbs. If the king's shekel was half that of a common one his hair weighed almost 4 lbs. when polled each year (v 26)

b A king's shekel was 32¢

c The 3 sons of Absalom did not survive their father, having died either at birth or in childhood, for at the time of his death he had no son (18:18)

d He named his daughter after his sister, Tamar whom Amnon committed sin with (13:2). She was another beautiful woman - of a fair (beautiful) countenance (v 27)

e This was 5 years after the murder of Amnon (v 28; 13:38). David was at this time about 56 years old; Absalom, 24; and Solomon, 6

f This shows the unrelenting attitude of David toward Absalom; all the time he was creating a problem for himself and his kingdom (v 28). If he forgave his son enough to allow his return home, then he should have restored him to grace and favor as a son. Like others, great men have weaknesses, some of them so small and yet important in their relationship with others

g Absalom, after having been borne 2 years without seeing his father, was now tired of such a relationship; so he sent for Joab who had brought him back from exile. He hoped to send him to David to settle their differences, but Joab would not come to him. When Joab refused again, Absalom set his barley field on fire and this brought the man to him (v 28-31). At last Joab arranged for Absalom to see his father (v 32-33)

i See David's mistake, p. 357

j On the surface the plea of Absalom for the love and respect of his father looked genuine. One would think from this that he really did not intend, at that time, any rebellion such as the one which soon followed. He was willing to be judged and even executed for any iniquity he had done (v 32). It may be that he was given a cold reception and the kiss was strictly formal (v 33); and Absalom then decided to betray his father. Soon afterward he began in earnest to win Israel to himself k This kiss may have been a cold, indifferent, forced one which spoke to Absalom of no real hope for complete reconciliation. If David had been awakened to his true responsibility of parenthood half as much here as later when he mourned for Absalom when at his death, the whole picture might have been changed (18:33)

l After this - after 2 years and this meeting with his father with its cold reception from him (14:28-33)

m See 15 steps in Absalom's rebellion, p. 357 n Chariots and horses were a sign of pride (Dt. 17:16, 20), and their running before anyone meant to clear the way before him; it was a mark of royalty (v 1). This was characteristic of Absalom. He was bold, violent, revengeful, proud, enterprising, handsome, eloquent, flattering, ambitious, and vain - a popular and rich prince who saw no hindrance to getting the throne after the death of Amnon and reconciliation with his father. He despised the boy Solomon because of his birth to a woman who had sinned with David, being himself born of the king and a princess of Geshur. In his own opinion Absalom was of sufficient age, authority, and wisdom to rule

o Question 68. Next, v 19

p Your cause or suit is just, and if I were judge I would rule in your favor (v 3-4)

s Ittai, ploughman. 2 Ittai's:
1 One of David's most trusted officers and leader of 600 Philistine servants (v 19-22; 18:2-12)
2 Son of Ribai, a Benjamite (23:29)

t Question 69. Next, v 20

u David gave Ittai and his Philistine followers their choice of going with Absalom, but they stayed true to him (v 19)

v This proves that Ittai and the other Gittites were not Israelites living in Gath, but Gentiles who had been exiles lately from their land, for some unknown reason (v 19) the hair was heavy on him, therefore he polled it:) [c]he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred shekels after [b]the king's weight.

27 And unto Ăb'sa-lŏm there were born [c]three sons, and one daughter, whose name [d]was Tā'mar: she was a woman of a fair countenance.

G Full reconciliation of David and Absalom

28 ¶ So Ăb'sa-lŏm dwelt [e]two full years in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm, [f]and saw not the king's face.

29 Therefore Ăb'sa-lŏm [g]sent for Jō'ăb, to have sent him to the king; but he would not come to him: and when he sent again the second time, he would not come.

30 Therefore he said unto his servants, See, Jō'ăb's field is near mine, and he hath barley there; go and set it on fire. And Ăb'sa-lŏm's servants set the field on fire.

31 Then Jō'ăb arose, and came to Ăb'sa-lŏm unto his house, and [h]said unto him, Wherefore have thy servants set my field on fire?

●32 And Ăb'sa-lŏm answered Jō'ăb, Behold, I sent unto thee, saying, Come hither, that I may send thee to the king, to say, Wherefore am I come from Gĕ'shŭr? [i]it had been good for me to have been there still: now therefore [j]let me see the king's face; and if there be any iniquity in me, let him kill me.

33 So Jō'ăb came to the king, and told him: and when he had called for Ăb'sa-lŏm, he came to the king, and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king: and the king [k]kissed Ăb'sa-lŏm.

282 CHAPTER 15

6 Third reaping: rebellion and 12th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). Second division of the kingdom (2 Sam. 15:1-19:8; 2:8, refs.).

(1) Absalom steals the love of Israel

AND it came to pass [l]after this that Ăb'sa-lŏm[m] prepared him [n]chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him.

2 And Ăb'sa-lŏm rose up early, and stood beside the way of the gate: and it was so, that when any man that had a controversy came to the king for judgment, then Ăb'sa-lŏm called unto him, and said, [o]Of what city art thou? And he said, Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el.

3 And Ăb'sa-lŏm said unto him, See, thy [p]matters are good and right; but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee.

4 Ăb'sa-lŏm said moreover, Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man which hath any suit or cause might come unto me, and I would do him justice!

5 And it was so, that when any man came nigh to him to do him obeisance, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kissed him.

6 And on this manner did Ăb'sa-lŏm to all Ĭs'ra-el that came to the king for judgment: so Ăb'sa-lŏm [q]stole the hearts of the men of Ĭs'ra-el.

(2) Outbreak of the rebellion

7 ¶ And it came to pass [b]after forty years, that Ăb'sa-lŏm said unto the king, I pray thee, let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed unto the LORD, in Hĕ'bron.

8 For [c]thy servant vowed a vow while I abode at Gĕ'shŭr in Sўr'ĭ-ā, saying, If the LORD shall bring me again indeed to Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm, then I will serve the LORD.

●9 And the king [s]said unto him, Go in peace. [t]So he arose, and went to [u]Hĕ'bron.

10 ¶ But Ăb'sa-lŏm sent [s]spies throughout all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, As soon as ye hear the sound of the trumpet, then ye shall say, Ăb'sa-lŏm reigneth in Hĕ'bron.

11 And with Ăb'sa-lŏm [k]went two hundred men out of Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm, that were called; and they went in their simplicity, and they knew not any thing.

12 And Ăb'sa-lŏm [l]sent for Ă-hĭth'o-phĕl the [l]Gĭ'lo-nīte, Dā'vid's [k]counsellor, from his city, even from [l]Gĭ'loh, while he offered sacrifices. And the conspiracy was strong; for the people [m]increased continually with Ăb'sa-lŏm.

(3) Flight of David from Jerusalem (Cp. 1 Sam. 21)

13 ¶ And there came a messenger to Dā'vid, saying, [n]The hearts of the men of Ĭs'ra-el are after Ăb'sa-lŏm.

●14 And Dā'vid said unto all his servants that were with him at Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm, [o]Arise, and let us flee; for we shall not else escape from Ăb'sa-lŏm: make speed to depart, lest he overtake us suddenly, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.

15 And the king's [p]servants said unto the king, Behold, thy servants are ready to do whatsoever my lord the king shall appoint.

16 And the king went forth, and all his household after him. And the king left [q]ten women, which were concubines, to keep the house.

17 And the king went forth, and all the people after him, and tarried in a place that was far off.

18 And all his servants passed on beside him; and all the Chĕr'e-thites, and all the Pĕl'e-thites, and all the [r]Gĭt'tites, six hundred men which came after him from Gāth, passed on before the king.

(4) David's advice to Ittai

19 ¶ Then said the king [t]to Ĭt'ta-ī the Gĭt'tīte, [r]Wherefore goest thou also with us? [u]return to thy place, and abide with the king: for thou art a [v]stranger, and also an exile.

20 Whereas thou camest but a Absalom was one of the greatest thiefs on record - he stole the hearts of the men of Israel by lying, conniving, deceiving, flattering, and playing the part of a hypocrite (v 2-6). The gullibility of men is in no place better illustrated than here. Loyalty, devotion, thankfulness, faithfulness, and other traits of human decency generally fall before such a smooth hypocrite. See 7 causes of defection, p. 343

b This could only refer to forty years since David's anointing (1 Sam. 16); or it should be trans. four, meaning the 4th year after Absalom returned home from Geshur. This would be 2 years after he saw David's face, which was 2 years after his return from exile (14:28-33). The Sydac, Arabic, Josephus, and others say four instead of forty. The Peshitta, Berkeley, and Moffat also follow this reading, so it must be the true rendering here. Such mistakes in copying are understandable because letters stood for numbers; furthermore, sometimes the text was worn or marred as in some ancient copies. See note d, 10:18

c This was a deliberate lie, or if the vow had been made he was now breaking it, for no man could serve and worship the Lord who was destroying His work and dividing His people (v 8)

d David was far from seeking advice from the Urim and Thummim and paid a bitter price for not keeping in close contact with God in his decisions. One such inquiry would have been sufficient to destroy a rebellion before it began. His blessing, Go in peace became a curse - Go and make war e In his hypocrisy Absalom arose from before his father to go into an adventure that took his life. He never saw his father again; he was soon to hang by his beautiful hair and be killed like a fool (18:9-18)

f Hebron was where he was born, and had many friends. This was one of those historical occasions of a home-town boy making good and being hailed as the most prominent citizen (v 9)

g These spies were to go throughout Israel into every tribe and be ready to blow a trumpet at a set time to proclaim Absalom king in every place. Trumpets were used as a telegraph service, sounding the news from place to place by trumpet to trumpet, so that in a short while all Israel would know that Absalom was proclaimed king in Hebron (v 18)

h The 200 soldiers went with Absalom, having been seduced by his wiles; but they did not know of his rebellious designs against his father (v 11)

i Ahithophel, brother of folly; he was one of David's counsellors and the father of one of David's heroes (v 12-34; 16:15-23; 17:1-23; 23:34; 1 Chr. 27:33-34). See Ps. 41:9; 55:12-14. Absalom and Ahithophel no doubt had been in contact before regarding this very rebellion. In fact, Ahithophel may have instigated it, having longed for some way to take vengeance on David for sinning with his granddaughter and murdering her husband (v 12; 11:3; 23:34)

j An inhabitant of Giloh (v 12; 23:34)

k The counsel of Ahithophel had been perfect and true as if a man inquired of God (16:23), because of the wisdom and inspiration of God in his life; but when he began to seek vengeance on David the Lord confused him and he committed suicide (17:1-23). Many times this is the result of hate and rebellion

l Giloh, exile. A town in the hill country of Judah (v 12; Josh. 15:51)

m This rebellion and the increased following of Absalom caused David to write the 3rd Psalm yesterday, [a]should I this day make thee go up and down with us? seeing I go whither I may, return thou, and take back thy brethren: mercy and truth be with thee.

21 And Ĭt'ta-ī answered the king, and said, [b]As the LORD liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, surely in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, even there also will thy servant be.

●22 And Dā'vid said to Ĭt'ta-ī, Go and[c]pass over. And Ĭt'ta-ī the Gĭt'tīte passed over, and all his men, and all the little ones that were with him.

23 And all the country wept with a loud voice, and all the people passed over: the king also himself passed over the brook Kĭd'ron, and all the people passed over, toward the way of the wilderness.

(5) David's advice to Zadok and the Levites

24 ¶ And lo[d]Zā'dŏk also, and all the Lē'vītes were with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of God: and they set down the ark of God; and Ă-bī'a-thär went up, until all the people had done passing out of the city.

●25 And the king said unto Zā'dŏk, Carry back the ark of God into the city: [e]if I shall find favour in the eyes of the LORD, he will bring me again, and shew me both it, and his habitation.

26 But if he thus say, I have no delight in thee; behold, here am I, let him do to me as seemeth good unto him.

●27 The king said also unto Zā'dŏk the priest, Art not thou a[g]seer? return into the city in peace, and your two sons with you, [h]Ă-hĭm'a-ăz thy son, and Jŏn'a-than the son of [i]Ă-bī'a-thär.

28 See, I will tarry in the plain of the wilderness, until there come word from you to certify me.

29 Zā'dŏk therefore and Ă-bī'a-thär carried the ark of God again to Jē-rų'sā-lĕm: and they tarried there.

(6) David mourns and prays

30 ¶ And Dā'vid [k]went up by the ascent of mount Ŏl'ī-vĕt, and [l]wept as he went up, and had his [m]head covered, and he went barefoot: and all the people that was with him covered every man his head, and they went up, weeping as they went up.

31 ¶ And one told Dā'vid, saying, [n]Ă-hĭth'o-phĕl is among the conspirators with Ăb'sa-lŏm. And Dā'vid[o]said, O LORD, I pray thee, turn the counsel of Ă-hĭth'o-phĕl into foolishness.

(7) David's advice to Hushai

32 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Dā'vid was come to the top of the mount, where he worshipped God, behold, [p]Hū'shāi the[q]Ăr'chite came to meet him with his coat rent, [r]and earth upon his head:

33 Unto whom Dā'vid[s]said, If thou passest on with me, then thou shalt be a burden unto me:

34 But if thou return to the city, and say unto Ăb'sa-lŏm, I will be thy servant, O king; as I have been thy father's servant hitherto, so will I now also be thy servant: [t]then mayest thou for me defeat the counsel of Ă-hĭth'o-phĕl.

35 And [u]hast thou not there with thee Zā'dŏk and Ă-bī'a-thär the priests? therefore it shall be, that what thing soever thou shalt hear out of the king's house, thou shalt tell it to Zā'dŏk and Ă-bī'a-thär the priests.

36 Behold, they have there with them their two sons, Ă-hĭm'a-ăz Zā'dŏk's son, and Jŏn'a-than Ă-bī'a-thär's son; and by them ye shall send unto me every thing that ye can hear.

37 So Hū'shāi[v]Dā'vid's friend came into the city, and Ăb'sa-lŏm came into Jē-rų'sā-lĕm.

CHAPTER 16 283

(8) Ziba lies about Mephibosheth (Cp. 19:24-30)

AND when Dā'vid was a little past the top of the hill, behold, [a]Zĭ'bā the servant of Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth met him, with a couple of asses saddled, and upon them two hundred loaves of bread, and an hundred bunches of raisins, and an hundred of [b]summer fruits, and a bottle of wine.

2 And the king said unto Zĭ'bā, [c]What meanest thou by these? And Zĭ'bā [d]said, The asses be for the king's household to ride on; and the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat; and the wine, that such as be faint in the wilderness may drink.

3 And the king [e]said, And where is thy master's son? And Zĭ'bā [f]said unto the king, Behold, he abideth at Jē-rų'sā-lĕm: for he said, To day shall the house of Ĭs'ra-el restore me the kingdom of my father.

4 Then said the king to Zĭ'bā, Behold, [g]thine are all that pertained unto Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth. And Zĭ'bā said, I humbly beseech thee that I may find grace in thy sight, my lord, O king.

(9) Shimei curses David

5 ¶ And when king Dā'vid came to [h]Bā-hū'rim, behold, thence came out a man of the family of the house of Saul, whose name was [i]Shĭm'e-ī, the son of Gē'rā: he came forth, and cursed still as he came.

6 And he cast stones at Dā'vid, and at all the servants of king Dā'vid: and all the people and all the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left.

7 And thus said Shĭm'e-ī when he cursed, [j]Come out, come out, thou bloody man, and thou man of Bĕ'lī-al:

8 The LORD hath returned upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast reigned; and the LORD hath delivered the kingdom into the hand of Ăb'sa-lŏm thy son: and, behold, thou art

n This news of betrayal by his friend and counsellor came when David's trial was the hardest to bear. Both Ps. 41:9 and 55:12-14 were written with this betrayal in mind. They have a double fulfillment - the betrayal of David by Ahithophel and that of the Messiah by Judas
o David prayed to God for the confusion of Ahithophel in his counsel to Absalom (v 31), which was answered through Hushai (17:1-23)

Tyre (24:7)

Tyre at this early day was a great stronghold or fortress (v 7; Josh. 19:29). Later it became much stronger; and it took Nebuchadnezzar 13 years to overthrow it. Afterward it was built on an island in the Mediterranean, finally being completely destroyed by Alexander the Great who built a causeway from the mainland. At one time Tyre controlled all the rich commerce with India and the treasures of the world were poured into it; but such glory is now gone. Hiram, king of Tyre, was ever a lover of David and Solomon (2 Sam. 5:11; 1 Ki. 5:1; 7:13-14; 9:11-12; 1 Chr. 14:1; 22:4; 2 Chr. 2:3, 11-14). The city is mentioned with the restoration of Israel after the captivities (Ezra 3:7; Neh. 13:16); and is the subject of many prophecies (Ps. 45:12; 83:7; 87:4; Isa. 23; Jer. 25:22; 27:3; 47:4; Ezek. 26-29; Hos. 9:13; Joel 3:4; Amos 1:9-10; Zech. 9:2-3). b Question 72, Next, 16:2 c To be a man's friend and remain so throughout his troubles, is a rare thing, so rare that the man who needs such a friend seldom expects to find one. Hushai was truly a faithful friend to David (v 37)
d Ziba now came posing as the friend of David, betraying his master, Mephibosheth

5 gifts of Ziba to David:
1 2 saddled asses to ride (v 1-2)
2 200 loaves of bread (v 1)
3 100 bunches of raisins
4 100 bunches of summer fruits
5 A wineskin full of wine

e Perhaps the summer fruits were cucumbers or watermelons. These were used in the summer time to refresh travellers in the burning heat (v 1). If not, they may have been bunches or cakes of figs

i What a wretch Ziba was - betraying his own innocent and loyal Mephibosheth, hoping to discredit his master and gain all his land for his own sons; but he was soon discovered to be a deceiver (v 3-4; 19:24-30)
j This was what Ziba was hoping to gain when he lied about his master; and David was too hasty here to give him all that belonged to Mephibosheth, as he learned later (v 4; 19:24-30)

l Shimei, Jehovah is famous. 18 Shemei's:
1 A Benjamite who cursed David in his flight from Absalom (v 5-13; 19:16-23)
2 An officer of David (1 Ki. 1:8; 4:18)
3 A Levite (Ex. 6:17)
4 A royal Judahite (1 Chr. 3:19)
5 Son of Zacchur, father of 22 children (1 Chr. 4:26-27)
6 A Reubenite (1 Chr. 5:4)
7 A Merarite (1 Chr. 6:29)
8 A Levite, son of Jeduthun (1 Chr. 25:3, 17)
9 A Judahite (1 Chr. 8:21)
10 Grandson of Levi (1 Chr. 23:9)
11 Overseer of David's vineyards (1 Chr. 27:27)
12 A man under Hezekiah (2 Chr. 29:14)
13 A Levite (2 Chr. 31:12-13)
14 A Levite under Ezra (Ezra 10:23)
15 Another Levite under Ezra (Ezra 10:33)
16 A son of Bani (Ezra 10:38)
17 Son of Kish (Esther 2:5)
18 A Gershonite (Zech. 12:13)

m One of the most untrue and unjust accusations in human history. Shimei knew full well that David had never shed one drop of blood of the house of Saul, nor was he reigning in Saul's place; and above all, God had nothing to do with delivering the kingdom of Israel to Absalom. There was some truth in David reaping because of shedding the blood of Uriah and taking his wife, for that was predicted, as in 12:10-14. Shimei could have referred to the many Benjamites who were slain - Saul and his sons (1 Sam. 31), the 360 in the battle between Joab and Abner (2:12-32), Ish-bosheth as a result of Abner turning to David (4:1-12), and perhaps a few others not recorded; but it must be remembered that David was not responsible for any of these deaths. In fact, he had spared the life of Saul on two occasions, and refrained from open war with Benjamin for 7 1/2 years while he was king of Judah only (2:8-11; 3:1). David had never deliberately hurt the house of Saul; and even in the case of Shimei's cursing, which deserved death, the king had mercy on him and kept him from dying on this and other occasions. He did finally tell Solomon not to hold him guiltless (1 Ki. 2:8-9). In his last charge to the new king he said, "thou art a wise man, and knowest what thou oughtest to do unto him; but his hoar head bring thou down to the grave with blood" a David could be considered a bloody man only in the sense of causing Uriah to be killed and shedding much blood in war

b Questions 75-78, Next, v 17

c The wild dogs of the East were objects of contempt and dislike even when alive, so a dead dog would be more so (v 9)

d See David's patient suffering, p. 343

e He reasoned that if the Lord had told him to curse David, who should say, "Why do you do it?" (v 10). He also reasoned that if God had allowed his own son to seek his life as part of the chastening, then how much more would he allow a Benjamite of a rival faction to do what he was doing. If God allowed it, the man should be let alone (v 11-13)

f Here we have a great example regarding how to resign one's self to human opposition and ridicule. David's thought was that the Lord would look upon his affliction and requite him good for the cursing that day. He knew God to be the judge, and the avenger of His people; whatever He saw fit, whether cursing or blessing, or good or evil, the will of God was to be done. However, it cannot be said that something is sent from God simply because He allows it or takes no action against it. Many such things happen in the course of human relationship. It was against the law of God for Shimei to curse, or even speak evil of his ruler, so God would not have gone against His own law in such a matter (Ex. 22:28). David's attitude of wanting to accept everything as of God was noble, but not necessarily in keeping with truth and facts

g Throwing dust at another was an Oriental mode of showing anger and contempt, of wishing trouble and grief to come to him so that he would feel like covering himself with dust and dying of sorrow (v 13; Acts 22:23). The acts of Shimei here were more demon inspired than God inspired, for He would have no part with one filled with such hatred as to curse, throw stones and cast dust at any man, much less the ruler of His people (Ex. 22:28)

h Note the words of David's friend, which could be understood as referring to David and not to Absalom. He could truthfully say, God save the king and refer to his friend, David (v 16). He could say, whom the Lord, and His people choose, his will I be, and refer to David (v 18). And again, should I not serve you if you are the one chosen by the Lord and all His people? (v 19). Absalom was in no position to tell who was true to him or David, so he accepted Hushai whom God used to defeat the counsel of Ahithophel (17:1-23)

i Questions 79-82, Next, 17:6

j Ahithophel no doubt gave this infernal advice in his zeal to satisfy his feelings of revenge toward David for defiling his son's daughter (11:3; 23:34). David had left 10 concubines to take care of the house (15:16). This was advised to prevent any possibility of a reconciliation between David and Absalom, and to fulfill the prophecy of Nathan (12:11). It was transacted in the very same place where David cast his eyes on Bathsheba (v 22; 11:2). For a son to take his father's wives was the sum of abomination, and subject to the death penalty (Lev. 20:11). Such a low deed was even seldom committed among the Gentiles. Cp. 1 Cor. 5 k The counsel of this man was even right when it pertained to David (v 21-22; 17:1-6); but God overruled his counsel by Hushai (17:7-14); and this so humiliated Ahithophel that he committed suicide (v 23) taken in thy mischief, because thou art a[a] bloody man.

9 ¶ Then [b]said A-bish'ă-ī the son of Zĕr-u-ī'ah unto the king, Why should this [c]dead dog curse my lord the king? [d]let me go over, I pray thee, and take off his head.

10 And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zĕr-u-ī'ah? so let him curse, because the LORD hath said unto him, Curse Dā'vid. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And Dā'vid said to A-bish'ă-ī, and to all his servants, [e]Behold, my son, which came forth of my bowels, seeketh my life: how much more now may this Bĕn-ja-mite do it? let him alone, and let him curse; for the LORD hath bidden him.

12 [f]It may be that the LORD will look on mine affliction, and that the LORD will requite me good for his cursing this day.

13 And as Dā'vid and his men went by the way, Shĭm'e-ī went along on the hill's side over against him, and [g]cursed as he went, and threw stones at him, and cast dust.

14 And the king, and all the people that were with him, came weary, and refreshed themselves there.

(10) Absalom enters Jerusalem, fulfilling 1 Sam. 12:11-12

15 ¶ And Ab'sa-lŏm, and all the people the men of Ĭs'ra-el, came to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and Ă-hith'o-phĕl with him.

16 And it came to pass, when Hū'shāi the Ar'chite, [h]Dā'vid's friend, was come unto Ab'sa-lŏm, that Hū'shāi said unto Ab'sa-lŏm, God save the king, God save the king.

17 And Ab'sa-lŏm said to Hū'shāi, [i]Is this thy kindness to thy friend? why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 And Hū'shāi said unto Ab'sa-lŏm, Nay; but whom the LORD, and this people, and all the men of Ĭs'ra-el, choose, his will I be, and with him will I abide.

19 And again, whom should I serve? should I not serve in the presence of his son? as I have served in thy father's presence, so will I be in thy presence.

20 ¶ Then said Ab'sa-lŏm to Ă-hith'o-phĕl, Give counsel among you what we shall do.

21 And Ă-hith'o-phĕl [j]said unto Ab'sa-lŏm, Go in unto thy father's concubines, which he hath left to keep the house; and all Ĭs'ra-el shall hear that thou art abhorred of thy father: then shall the hands of all that are with thee be strong.

22 So they spread Ab'sa-lŏm a tent upon the top of the house; and Ab'sa-lŏm went in unto his father's concubines in the sight of all Ĭs'ra-el.

23 And the counsel of Ă-hith'o-phĕl, which he counselled in those days, [k]was as if a man had enquired at the [l]oracle of God: so was all the counsel of Ă-hith'o-phĕl both with Dā'vid and with Ab'sa-lŏm.

284 CHAPTER 17

(11) Diverse counsel of Ahithophel and Hushai

MOREOVER Ă-hith'o-phĕl said unto Ab'sa-lŏm, Let me now choose out [a]twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue after Dā'vid this night:

2 And I will come upon him while he is weary and weak handed, and will make him afraid: and all the people that are with him shall flee; and [b]I will smite the king only:

3 And I will bring back all the people unto thee: the man whom thou seekest is as if all returned: so all the people shall be in peace.

4 And the saying pleased Ab'sa-lŏm well, and all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 Then said Ab'sa-lŏm, Call now Hū'shāi the Ar'chite also, and let us hear likewise what he saith.

6 And when Hū'shāi was come to Ab'sa-lŏm, Ab'sa-lŏm spake unto him, saying, Ă-hith'o-phĕl hath spoken after this manner: [c]shall we do after his saying? if not; speak thou.

7 And Hū'shāi said unto Ab'sa-lŏm, The counsel that Ă-hith'o-phĕl hath given [d]is not good at this time.

8 For, said Hū'shāi, [e]thou knowest thy father and his men, that they be mighty men, and they be chafed in their minds, as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field: and thy father is a man of war, and [f]will not lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some pit, or in some other place: and it will come to pass, when some of them be overthrown at the first, that whosoever heareth it will [g]say, There is a slaughter among the people that follow Ab'sa-lŏm.

10 And he also that is valiant, whose heart is as the heart of a lion, shall utterly melt: for all Ĭs'ra-el knoweth that thy father is a mighty man, and they which be with him are valiant men.

11 [h]Therefore I counsel that all Ĭs'ra-el be generally gathered unto thee, from Dăn even to Bĕ'er-shĕ'bā, as the sand that is by the sea for multitude; and that thou go to battle [i]in thine own person.

12 So shall we come upon him in some place where he shall be found, and we will light upon him as the dew falleth on the ground: and of him and of all the men that are with him there shall not be left so much as one.

13 Moreover, if he be gotten into a city, then shall all Ĭs'ra-el bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the river, until there be not one small stone found there.

(12) Ahithophel's counsel rejected (vs. 23 with 16:23)

14 And Ab'sa-lŏm and all the men of Ĭs'ra-el said, The counsel of Hū'shāi the Ar'chite is a Moreover, besides the counsel given by Ahithophel as in 16:21-23, he advised the choice of 12,000 men to pursue after David immediately, before he could find refuge and while he was weary and short of soldiers. Then the people with him would flee and the king only could be smitten; and the rebellion would be over (1:1-3). This sounded good to Absalom and all the elders of Israel with him - like an easy victory; but when they called Hushai to get his advice they changed their minds and decided it was not good at this time. Note the contrast between the two counsels, that of Ahithophel and Hushai:

7fold counsel of Ahithophel:

1 Let me now choose 12,000 men (v 1)
2 I will pursue David this very night
3 I will come upon him while he is weary and weak handed (v 2)
4 I will make him afraid
5 All the people that are with him shall flee
6 I will smite the king only 7 I will bring back all the people to you so all the people shall be in peace (v 3)

7fold counsel of Hushai:

1 The counsel of Ahithophel is not good at this time (v 7)
2 You know your father and his men, that they are mighty (v 8)
3 They are chafed in their minds, as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field
4 Your father is a man of war, and will not lodge with the people
5 He is hid even now in some pit, or in some place of refuge (v 9)
6 If you go after him now and some of your men be overthrown it will be reported that there is slaughter among the people that follow Absalom; and this will cause the most valiant among your men to lose heart and give up (v 9-10)
7 All Israel knows what a mighty man your father is, and that those who are with him are valiant men (v 10)

7fold counsel of Hushai:

1 Therefore, I counsel that all Israel be gathered from Dan to Beersheba, as the sand that is by the sea for multitude (v 11)
2 That you go out to battle and personally lead the army of Israel
3 We shall come upon David in some place where he shall be found (v 12)
4 We will light upon him as the dew falls on the ground
5 There will not be left one man that follows your father
6 If he takes refuge in some city, then all Israel will bring ropes to that city (v 13)
7 We will draw it into the river until there be not left one stone upon another

Of the two plans, this advice sounded the better to Absalom and the elders of Israel; and this was of God in order to defeat the counsel of Ahithophel (v 14). When Ahithophel saw that his advice was not taken, he went home and committed suicide (v 23). This gave David time to flee and make proper preparations for war

b Absalom must have had many thousands of soldiers with him at this time if 12,000 could have been chosen out of them (v 1) c This was a happy thought for Ahithophel, David's enemy (v 2). In fact, every statement he made was the essence of wisdom to Absalom and the elders with him, until Hushai added bitterness to these sweets (v 4, 14)

d Question 83, Next, v 20

e Is good, but not at this time (v 7). This instilled doubt of the wise counsel of Ahithophel in the minds and hearts of Absalom and his elders of Israel f All these things of v 8-10 were well known to these men. David was the champion in all Israel and at the age of 56 no man could out-fight him. This had great weight with these men who would have to face him

g This would ordinarily be true, but it had not come to this point as yet (v 8)

h Such reports have often changed the tide of battle (v 9; 10:13-14; Judg. 20:32-39; 1 Sam. 14:14)

i This 7fold counsel was designed to defeat that of Ahithophel - and it did (v 11-14, 23)

j Such advice was to appeal to the vanity of Absalom, so that he would get the great name of having defeated David, the mightiest king in Israel's history. It was in contrast with the advice of Ahithophel who emphasized "I will; I will" (v 1-3), in a plan whereby he, himself would get the glory for the defeat and death of David a This was bitter for Ahithophel - the proud, always-right counsellor of David and Absalom. He was right this time, but they did not know it, for God had appointed Hushai to defeat the wise advice of Ahithophel (v 14, 23). Regardless of how good and perfect a man or his work may be, there is always another who can do better, or make some people think so. Ahithophel's suggestions had never been turned down before, and when it happened he could not bear it (v 23). Perhaps he knew in himself that since his counsel was rejected it would be only a matter of time before David would overcome Absalom, the rebellion would be ended, and David would be hunting him to destroy him; and so, he decided to end his life. Of all the foolish things men have taken their lives over, this is one of the most foolish - because advice was not heeded

b Hushai, David's friend, was sent back by David, to counteract the counsel of Ahithophel (15:32-37). It seemed this was now accomplished, so he sent David the two different counsels and instructions regarding what to do to be safe. He was told to go quickly over Jordan that night, for if Ahithophel's counsel was followed it would mean trouble for him (v 15-16)

c En-rogel, fountain of Rogel. A reservoir of water at the foot of mount Zion; perhaps the same as the pool of Siloam (v 17; Josh. 15:7; 18:16; 1 Ki. 1:9; Jn. 9:7)

d Heb. shiphchah, a female slave. Trans. wench only here (v 17); handmaid (Gen. 16:1; 25:12; 33:1-6; 35:25-26; Ruth 2:13; 1 Sam. 25:27, 41; 28:21-22; 2 Sam. 14:6-7, 12, 15-19; 2 Ki. 4:2, 16; Pr. 30:23; Isa. 14:2; Jer. 34:11, 16; Joel 2:29); maid (Gen. 16:2-8; 29:24; 30:7-12; Isa. 24:2); maidservant (Gen. 12:16; 30:43; Ex. 11:5; 1 Sam. 8:16; 2 Ki. 5:26; Jer. 34:9-10); maiden (Gen. 30:18; Ps. 123:2; Eccl. 2:7); womenservants (Gen. 20:14; 32:5-6, 22-23); bondmaid (Lev. 19:20); bondwoman (Dt. 28:68; 2 Chr. 28:10; Esther 7:4); handmaiden (Ruth 2:13); and servant (1 Sam. 25:41)

f Question 84. Next, 18:11

g This haste was brought about by the counsel of Ahithophel; at this time they did not know for sure that it had been turned down (v 21-22)

h 6 steps-end of Ahithophel, the betrayer:
1 He saddled an ass (v 23)
2 He arose
3 Went home to his house and his city
4 Set his house in order
5 Hanged himself
6 Was buried in the tomb of his father

i Ahithophel was the Judas of the O. T. in that he betrayed David, his best friend, made a deal with David's enemies, became disappointed in it, and hanged himself (v 23. Cp. Ps. 41:9; 55:12-14)

j Mahanaim became the refuge for David, as it had been for Jacob (Gen. 32:1). Abner, and Ish-bosheth (2:8-12)

k Absalom evidently took time to mobilize all Israel, and now crossed Jordan in pursuit of David who was in Mahanaim (v 24)

l Amasa, burden-bearer. 2 Amasa's:
1 Son of David's sister Abigail, who had the same relationship to him as Joab and Abishai, sons of Zeruiah, David's other sister (v 25; 1 Chr. 2:17). David forgave him and made him captain in place of Joab who later slew him (19:13; 20:4-12; 1 Ki. 2:5, 32)
2 An Ephraimite (2 Chr. 28:12)

m Amasa was made commander-in-chief of the armies of Absalom instead of Joab who remained true to David (v 25) n Ithra, excellence. Father of Amasa and husband of Abigail, David's sister (v 25; 1 Chr. 2:16-17). Called Jether in 1 Ki. 2:5, 32; 1 Chr. 2:17

o As usual David's heartfelt sympathy went out to his son who sought his life. The 3 commanders were charged to deal kindly with the young Absalom. The people heard it, and no doubt it seemed strange to many of them that a man, though a father, would be so tender and thoughtful toward such an enemy who had completely sold himself to do evil and destroy his parent better [a]than the counsel of Ā-hĭth'o-phĕl. For the LORD had appointed to defeat the good counsel of Ā-hĭth'o-phĕl, to the intent that the LORD might bring evil upon Ăb'sa-lŏm.

(13) Hushai's counsel to David

15 ¶ Then [b]said Hū'shāi unto Zā'dŏk and to Ā-bī'a-thär the priests, Thus and thus did Ā-hĭth'o-phĕl counsel Ăb'sa-lŏm and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el; and thus and thus have I counselled.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and tell Dā'vid, saying, Lodge not this night in the plains of the wilderness, but speedily pass over; lest the king be swallowed up, and all the people that are with him.

17 Now Jŏn'a-than and Ā-hĭm'a-ăz stayed by [c]Ĕn-rō'-ĕl; for they might not be seen to come into the city: and [d]a wench went and told them; and they went and told king Dā'vid.

18 Nevertheless a lad saw them, and told Ăb'sa-lŏm: but they went both of them away quickly, and came to a man's house in Bā-hū'rim, which had a well in his court; whither they went down.

19 And the [e]woman took and spread a covering over the well's mouth, and spread ground corn thereon; and the thing was not known.

20 And when Ăb'sa-lŏm's servants came to the woman to the house, they said, [f]Where is Ā-hĭm'a-ăz and Jŏn'a-than? And the woman said unto them, They be gone over the brook of water. And when they had sought and could not find them, they returned to Jē-rų'sā-lĕm.

21 And it came to pass, after they were departed, that they came up out of the well, and went and told king Dā'vid, and said unto Dā'vid, Arise, and pass [g]quickly over the water: for thus hath Ā-hĭth'o-phĕl counselled against you.

22 Then Dā'vid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they passed over Jôr'dan: by the morning light there lacked not one of them that was not gone over Jôr'dan.

(14) Ahithophel's suicide

23 * And when Ā-hĭth'o-phĕl saw that his counsel was not followed, [h]he saddled his ass, and arose, and gat him home to his house, to his city, and put his household in order, [i]and hanged himself, and died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

(15) Absalom pursues David

24 Then Dā'vid [j]came to Mā-hā-nā'im. And [k]Ăb'sa-lŏm passed over Jôr'dan, he and all the men of Ĭs'ra-el with him.

25 ¶ And Ăb'sa-lŏm [l]made Ăm'a-sā [m]captain of the host instead of Jō'ăb: which Ăm'a-sā was a man's son, whose name was [n]Ĭth'rā an Ĭs'ra-el-ĭte, that went in to [o]Ăb'ĭ-gail the daughter of Nā'hăsh, sister to Zĕr-ų-ī'ah Jō'ăb's mother.

26 So Ĭs'ra-el and Ăb'sa-lŏm pitched in the land of Gĭl'e-ăd.

(16) Kindness of Barzilli (1 Ki. 2:7)

27 ¶ And it came to pass, when Dā'vid was come to Mā-hā-nā'im, [p]that [q]Shō'bī the son of Nā'hăsh of Răb'bah of the children of Ăm'mŏn, and [r]Mā'chĭr the son of Ăm'mĭ-el of Lō-dē'-bär, and [s]Bär-zĭl'la-ī the Gĭl'e-ăd-ite of [t]Rō-gĕ'lĭm,

28 [u]Brought beds, and basons, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and flour, and parched corn, and beans, and lentiles, and parched pulse,

29 And honey, and [v]butter, and sheep, and [w]cheese of kine, for Dā'vid, and for the people that were with him, to eat: for they said, The people is hungry, and weary, and thirsty, in the wilderness.

CHAPTER 18 285

(17) Battle of Mount Ephraim

AND Dā'vid [x]numbered the people that were with him, and set captains of thousands and captains of hundreds over them.

2 And Dā'vid sent forth a third part of the people under the hand of Jō'ăb, and a third part under the hand of Ā-bĭsh'-ă-ī the son of Zĕr-ų-ī'ah, Jō'-ăb's brother, and a third part under the hand of Ĭt'ta-ī the Gĭt'tīte. And the king said unto the people, I will surely go forth with you myself also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not care for us; neither if half of us die, will they care for us: but [y]now thou art worth ten thousand of us: therefore now it is better that thou succour us out of the city.

4 And the king said unto them, [z]What seemeth you best I will do. [a]And the king stood by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreds and by thousands.

5 And the king [b]commanded Jō'ăb and Ā-bĭsh'ă-ī and Ĭt'ta-ī, saying, Deal gently for my sake with the young man, even with Ăb'sa-lŏm. And all the people heard when the king gave all the captains charge concerning Ăb'sa-lŏm.

6 ¶ So the people went out into the field against Ĭs'ra-el: and the battle was in the wood of Ē'phrā-ĭm;

7 Where the people of Ĭs'ra-el were slain before the servants of Dā'vid, and there was there a great slaughter that day of twenty thousand men.

8 For the battle was there scattered over the face of all the country: and the wood devoured more people that day than the sword devoured.

(18) Rebellion ended: Absalom slain by Joab

9 ¶ And Ăb'sa-lŏm met the a Abigail was the daughter of Nahash and sister of David (v 25; 1 Chr. 2:16-17), which means David's mother had the name of a man - Nahash. The name of the father of David and his sisters was Jesse. Many women of Scripture were given the name of a man

8 examples women with man's name:
1 Abihail - 3 men (Num. 3:35; 1 Chr. 3:14; Esther 2:15; 9:29) and a woman (1 Chr. 2:29; 2 Chr. 11:18)
2 Anah - 2 men (Gen. 36:20-24) and a woman (Gen. 36:2, 14)
3 Ephah - 2 men (Gen. 25:4; 1 Chr. 1:33; 2:47) and a woman (1 Chr. 2:46)
4 Hodijah - 2 men (Neh. 8:7; 10:10-18) and a woman (1 Chr. 4:19)
5 Hushim - 2 men (Gen. 46:23; 7:12) and a woman (1 Chr. 8:8, 11)
6 Mahlah - a man (1 Chr. 7:18) and a woman (Num. 26:33)
7 Micaiah - 5 men (1 Ki. 22:8-9, 12-14; 1 Chr. 17:7; Neh. 12:35-41; Jer. 36:11-13) and a woman (1 Ki. 15:2; 2 Chr. 13:2)
8 Nahash - 2 men (1 Sam. 11:1-2; 2 Sam. 10:2; 17:27) and a woman (17:25)
That Nahash is not another name for Jesse is clear from the fact that this verse speaks of the mother of Abigail and Zeruiah. In 1 Chr. 2:13-17 we have Jesse's family listed, including Abigail and Zeruiah as sisters of David, the son of Jesse b 3 men - reinforcements to David:

1 Shobi, son of Nahash of Rabbah (v 27)
2 Machir, son of Ammiel of Lo-debar
3 Barzillai, the Gileadite of Rogelim

c Shobi, Jehovah is glorious; son of Nahash, king of Ammon (v 27)

d Machir, salesman. 2 Machir's
1 Son of Manasseh (Gen. 50:23; Num. 26:29; 27:1; 32:39-40; 36:1; Dt. 3:15; Josh. 13:31; 17:1-3; Judg. 5:14; 1 Chr. 2:21-23; 7:14-17)
2 Son of Ammiel (29:4-5; 17:27)

e Barzillai, strong. 3 Barzillai's:
1 A wealthy Gileadite of Rogelim (v (v 27; 19:31-39; 1 Ki. 2:7)
2 Father of Adriel (21:8) 7:63)
3 A man under Ezra (Ezra 2:61; Neh.

f Rogelim, a place in Gilead (v 27; 19:31)

g 14 kinds of supplies to David:

1 Beds (v 28)	8 Beans
2 Basins	9 Lentiles
3 Earthen vessels	10 Parched pulse
4 Wheat	11 Honey
5 Barley	12 Butter
6 Flour	13 Sheep
7 Parched corn	14 Cheese of kine

h Butter was discovered early in human history. It is first mentioned in Abraham's time when it was a part of the meal that God and angels ate (Gen. 18). Butter of kine meaning made from milk of cows, is mentioned in v 29; Dt. 32:14; Judg. 5:25; Job 20:17; 29:6; Isa. 7:15-22. Its smoothness and how made are referred to in Ps. 55:21; Ps. 30:33

i Cheese of kine means cheese made from the milk of cows. First mentioned here (v 29), but cakes of cheese and curdled (cottage) cheese are mentioned elsewhere (1 Sam. 17:18; Job 10:10)

j Numbering the people means that David counted, mustered, and inspected his soldiers who had remained true to him, to see what he could depend on in a battle with the army of Absalom (v 1). How many he had is not known, but he set captains over thousands, so he must have had several thousand left. Josephus says he had 4,000 men. He divided his army into 3 groups:
1 One-third under Joab (v 2)
2 One-third under Abishai
3 One-third under Ittai, the stranger - a Philistine from Gath who had 600 Philistines under him (v 2; 15:18-22)

k See David, the powerful warrior, p. 343

l This, of course, is an exaggeration. David was, however, more valuable in battle to lead an army to victory than 10,000 others (v 3) m One can see the deep humility and meekness of David here - "What seemeth you best I will do" (v 4) n David inspected his army as they passed him going out of Mahanaim to battle. No king could be more proud of such brave, true, and loyal men. Every one of them had been tested and proved worthy of his greatest confidence (v 4) a His massive head of hair caught in the branches of a tree and his mule went on without its rider (v 9). This was reported to Joab who told the man that if he had killed him he would have given him 10 shekels ($6.40) and a girdle. The man answered that if he had received 1,000 shekels (or $640.00 in our money) he would not have killed Absalom, for David had commanded that he be not killed (v 10-13)

c A shekel was equal to 64¢ making 10 shekels $6.40

d Girdles were common gifts. Made of silk, linen, or leather. Some were very beautiful, being worked in various designs with thread, even threads of gold. The purpose of the girdle or sash was to hold or bind loose garments to the body (v 11)

e A shekel being 64¢, 1,000 would be equal to $640.00

f Not caring what the king had said, and knowing that Absalom must die if the rebellion was to be ended for all time, Joab took 3 darts and shot them through the heart of the young man while he was yet hanging in the tree by his hair (v 14). Darts were clubs with a long spike at the end. Besides this, 10 young men smote Absalom until they were sure he was dead (v 15)

g When Joab knew that Absalom was dead he blew the trumpet and his men stopped following the servants of Absalom. This was done to spare the lives of Israel on both sides of the battle (v 16)

h Absalom was taken down from the oak tree and cast into a pit in the woods; a great pile of stones was heaped upon him there as a memorial of the rebellion, and to warn men of the result of anarchy. All Israel opposing David fled to their tents and the battle was ended with 20,000 being killed, including Absalom (v 7-8, 14-15)

i Altogether Absalom had 3 sons and a daughter, but evidently all the sons had died in various ways before this (v 18; 14:27), for at the time of making the pillar, called Absalom's place, he did not have a son. It was built either before the sons were born, or after they were dead

j Zadok's son requested to bear tidings of the good news to David, but was forbidden to do so, because the king's son was dead. Tidings were sent however, by Cushi, followed by Zadok's son (v 19-28)

k Cushi, black. 3 Cushi's:
1 A messenger that took tidings to David (v 21-32)
2 Ancestor of Jehudi (Jer. 36:14)
3 Father of Zephaniah (Zeph. 1:1)

l Question 86, Next, v 29

27 manifestations of God (22:17):
1 He was wroth (v 8)
2 Smoke came out of His nostrils (v 9). Among the ancients the nose was considered the organ of wrath (cp. Dt. 29:20; Ps. 74:1)
3 Fire came out of His mouth and devoured things before it (v 10)
4 Coals of fire were kindled by it
5 He bowed the heavens
6 He came down
7 He stood on darkness
8 He rode a cherub and did fly (v 11)
9 He rode the winds
10 He made darkness, dark waters, and thick clouds His pavilions (v 12)
11 Brightness paved the way before Him through the darkness (v 13) 14) 12 He thundered from the heaven (v
13 He spoke with an audible voice
14 He sent out arrows (v 15)
15 He sent lightnings 16) 16 He made great waves in the sea (v
17 He sent earthquakes to lay bare the foundations of the earth
18 He rebuked the foundations of earth with the blast of His nostrils
19 He sent help from above (v 17)
20 He drew me out of many waters
21 He delivered me from my strong enemy and from them that hated me
22 He supported me in trouble (v 19)
23 He brought me forth in a large
24 He delivered me (v 20) place
25 He delighted in me
26 He rewarded me according to my righteousness (v 21)
27 He recompensed me according to the cleanness of my hands servants of Dā'vid. And Āb'sā-lŏm rode upon a mule, and the mule went under the thick boughs of a great oak, and [c]his head caught hold of the oak, and he was taken up between the heaven and the earth; and the mule that was under him went away.

10 And a certain man saw it, and told Jō'āb, and said, Behold, I saw Āb'sā-lŏm hanged in an oak.

11 And Jō'āb said unto the man that told him, [d]And, behold, thou sawest him, and why didst thou not smite him there to the ground? and I would have given thee [e]ten shekels of silver, and [a]a girdle.

12 And the man said unto Jō'āb, Though I should receive a[e]thousand shekels of silver in mine hand, yet would I not put forth mine hand against the king's son: for in our hearing the king charged thee and Ā-bĭsh'ā-ī and Ĭt'tā-ī, saying, Beware that none touch the young man Āb'sā-lŏm.

13 Otherwise I should have wrought falsehood against mine own life: for there is no matter hid from the king, and thou thyself wouldest have set thyself against me.

14 Then said Jō'āb, I may not tarry thus with thee. And [f]he took three darts in his hand, and thrust them through the heart of Āb'sā-lŏm, while he was yet alive in the midst of the oak.

15 And ten young men that bare Jō'āb's armour compassed about and smote Āb'sā-lŏm, and slew him.

16 And Jō'āb [g]blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after Ĭs'ra-el: for Jō'āb held back the people.

17 And they [h]took Āb'sā-lŏm, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and laid a very great heap of stones upon him: and all Ĭs'ra-el fled every one to his tent.

18 ¶ Now Āb'sā-lŏm in his lifetime had taken and reared up for himself a pillar, which is in the king's dale: for he said, I have [i]no son to keep my name in remembrance: and he called the pillar after his own name: and it is called unto this day, Āb'sā-lŏm's place.

(19) Battle reported to David

19 ¶ Then said Ā-hĭm'a-ăz the son of Zā'dŏk, Let me now run, and bear the king tidings, how that the LORD hath avenged him of his enemies.

20 And Jō'āb said unto him, Thou shalt not bear tidings this day, but thou shalt bear tidings another day: but this day thou shalt bear no tidings, because the king's son is dead.

●21 Then said Jō'āb to [k]Cŭ'shī, Go tell the king what thou hast seen. And Cŭ'shī bowed himself unto Jō'āb, and ran.

22 Then said Ā-hĭm'a-ăz the son of Zā'dŏk yet again to Jō'-āb, But howsoever, let me, I pray thee, also run after Cŭ'shī. And Jō'āb said, [l]Wherefore wilt thou run, my son, seeing that thou hast no tidings ready?

●23 But howsoever, said he, let me run. And he said unto him, Run. Then Ā-hĭm'a-ăz ran by the way of the plain, and [c]overran Cŭ'shī.

24 And Dā'vid sat between the [b]two gates: and the watchman went up to the roof over the gate unto the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold a man running alone.

25 And the watchman cried, and told the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there is tidings in his mouth. And he came apace, and drew near.

26 And the watchman saw another man running: and [c]the watchman called unto the porter, and said, Behold another man running alone. And the king said, He also bringeth tidings.

27 And the watchman said, Me thinketh the running of the foremost is like the running of Ā-hĭm'a-ăz the son of Zā'dŏk. And the king said, [d]He is a good man, and cometh with good tidings.

28 And Ā-hĭm'a-ăz called, and said unto the king, [e]All is well. And he fell down to the earth upon his face before the king, and said, Blessed be the LORD thy God, which hath delivered up the men that lifted up their hand against my lord the king.

(20) David enquires of Absalom and mourns for him

29 And the king said, [f]Is the young man Āb'sā-lŏm safe? And Ā-hĭm'a-ăz answered, When Jō'āb sent the king's servant, and me thy servant, I saw a great tumult, but I knew not what it was.

30 And the king said unto him, Turn aside, and stand here. And he turned aside, and stood still.

31 And, behold, Cŭ'shī came; and Cŭ'shī said, Tidings, my lord the king: [g]for the LORD hath avenged thee this day of all them that rose up against thee.

32 And the king said unto Cŭ'shī, [h]Is the young man Āb'sā-lŏm safe? And [i]Cŭ'shī answered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that rise against thee to do thee hurt, be as that young man is.

33 ¶ And the king was much moved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept: and as he went, thus he said, O my son Āb'sā-lŏm, my son, my son Āb'sā-lŏm! would God I had died for thee, O Āb'sā-lŏm, my son, my son!

286 CHAPTER 19

(21) Joab reproaches David and gives him sound advice

AND it was [j]told Jō'āb, Behold, the king weepeth and mourneth for Āb'sā-lŏm.

2 And the victory that day was turned into mourning unto all the people: for the people heard say that day how the king was grieved for his son.

3 And the people gat them by stealth that day into the city, as a Outran Cushi to Mahanaim

b The inner and outer gates of the city wall. He evidently waited for tidings from the battle. At the gateways of walled cities special care was taken to increase the strength of the wall to resist attacks since the worst ones from the enemy would probably be there. If the ordinary thickness of the wall was not sufficient it was doubled with considerable space between the inner and outer parts of this double section. In these two walls there were gates, and it was between these that David sat (v 24)

c Even strong walls and double gates would not of themselves make a city secure from the enemy. Men were employed to watch on top of the walls, day and night. It was from here that messengers from the army were seen afar off (v 24-28; 2 Ki. 9:17-20; Isa. 21:5-12; 62:6; Ezek. 33:2, 6-7; Hab. 2:1). The business of the porter was to open and shut the gates at the proper time. In this case the porter below could receive the message from the watchman on the wall and pass it on to David. According to the record of 2 Ki. 7:10 this officer was the porter to the city. Porters are spoken of in connection with the rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem by Nehemiah (Neh. 7:1). In Solomon's temple there were 4,000 porters (1 Chr. 23:5) who were divided into courses (2 Chr. 8:14) and had their posts assigned by lot (1 Chr. 26:13)

d It seems that it was known by the runner what kind of tidings he brought. The priest's son was spoken of as bringing good news the minute it was known who he was (v 27-28)

e These 3 words - All is well, were welcome news to the troubled king David. The second part of the message made him know that his enemies were destroyed (v 28). By this time Cushi had come up and Ahimaaz was told to stand aside for the new messenger (v 29-30)

f Question 87, Next, v 32

g Cushi enlarged a little upon the news brought by Ahimaaz who was in the process of giving it when Cushi came up (v 31)

h Question 88, Next, 19:10

i Cushi answered the direct question of David about the safety of Absalom by saying that he wished all who rose up against the king were as Absalom was (v 32). By this David knew the fate of his son, so he went up to the apartment over the gate and wept (v 33). This chamber was the second story with a flat roof where the watchmen stayed

j When Joab was told about the bitter lamentation of David for Absalom, and it was known to the people, there was great mourning instead of rejoicing over a great victory (v 1-2). The people stole away privately to their own places, as if ashamed; and it took Joab again to save the day for David, for it appeared that he loved his enemies more than he did his friends (v 3-8)

32 blessings to man (22:47):

29 Lifts above enemies
30 Delivers from violent man
31 Is a tower of salvation (v 51)
32 Shows mercy to His people a This wailing for Absalom was another one of David's mistakes before his loyal subjects. If he had continued much longer he might have undone all the good accomplished in the great victory they had brought him. It was rare indeed for a man to weep more for his enemies than for his friends (18:33-19:6) b Covering the face was another sign of mourning. Though concealed from sight in the upper chamber, the lamentations of the bereaved king could be easily heard by his followers below, for he cried with a loud voice. Such loud lamentations at the death of a loved one are referred to in a number of places (Gen. 50:10; Judg. 11:35; 1 Ki. 13:30; Jer. 22:18). Naturally, when the returned victors came back into the city and through the gate where they expected and deserved a hero's welcome by their king whom they had endangered their lives for, it was discouraging to find him shut up lamenting for the very enemy they fought to destroy so that he might live. Especially was it almost unbearable to hear the words: O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! Would God I had died for thee, O Absalom, my son, my son! (18:33). No wonder the people stole away to their houses ashamed (v 3) c Joab saved the day for David again. He boldly walked into the king's house and accused him of making his loyal servants ashamed when they had offered their very lives to save his and the lives of his other sons, his daughters and wives. He accused him of loving his enemies and hating his friends and told him that if he and all his servants had died and Absalom had lived, that would have been well pleasing to him (v6), He then advised David that if he did not quit this foolishness of lamenting over his enemy and comfort his servants that he would not have a loyal servant left to him; and that would be the worst calamity that had happened to him since his youth until now (v 7)

d After this scathing rebuke by Joab, David arose from his lamentation and sat in the gate where he should have been all the time to greet his loyal servants coming home from the battlefield after saving him, his household and his kingdom (v 8)

e This shows how completely disorganized the kingdom was at that time. The man whom they rebelled with was dead and what to do next was the question. The tribes, other than Judah, first reasoned that David had saved them out of the hands of their enemies, especially out of the hands of the Philistines, and had now fled from the land before Absalom who was dead. They apparently wanted to speak to David and welcome him back as king (v 9-10). Sentiments of 3 different parties are seen in v 9-10 - the royalists, the followers of Absalom, who had been very numerous, and others who were indifferent to David. Under these circumstances it was wise of David not to return to Jerusalem hastily as a conquering hero to take over the kingdom without the full consent of the people. This invitation was in the making at least, from all the tribes except Judah, when David sent the 2 priests, Zadok and Abiathar, to speak with the elders of Judah and inquire why they were the last to invite the king back. He seemed to be vexed with Judah, his own tribe, because of their lukewarmness and slowness in this matter. He appealed to them from the standpoint of being their own flesh and blood and even promised that Amasa would be commander of the army in place of Joab (v 11-13). This appeal brought Judah together and united them as one man in the invitation (v 14). However, this separate message to Judah, and the preference given them by David, seemed to create jealousy in the hearts of the other tribes who were ready to welcome him as king. David played politics here in that he wanted his own tribe to be the first to welcome him, and he appealed to Amasa, the only man of Judah that could hinder them from giving him such an invitation back, by offering to pardon him and make him captain in the room of Joab, whose overbearing haughtiness had be-people being [a]ashamed steal away when they flee in battle.

4 But the king [b]covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, O my son Ăb'sa-lŏm, O Ăb'sa-lŏm, my son, my son!

5 And Jō'ăb [c]came into the house to the king, and said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy servants, which this day have saved thy life, and the lives of thy sons and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines;

6 In that thou lovest thine enemies, and hatest thy friends. For thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest neither princes nor servants: for this day I perceive, that if Ăb'sa-lŏm had lived, and all we had died this day, then it had pleased thee well.

●7 Now therefore arise, go forth, and speak comfortably unto thy servants: for I swear by the LORD, if thou go not forth, there will not tarry one with thee this night: and that will be worse unto thee than all the evil that befell thee from thy youth until now.

8 [d]Then the king arose, and sat in the gate. And they told unto all the people, saying, Behold, the king doth sit in the gate. And all the people came before the king: for Ĭs'ra-el had fled every man to his tent.

VII Restoration of the kingdom (2 Sam. 19:9-21:22).

1 David accepted again as king: promises Amasa Joab's office

9 [e] And [a]all the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, The king saved us out of the hand of our enemies, and he delivered us out of the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tines; and now he is fled out of the land for Ăb'sa-lŏm.

10 And Ăb'sa-lŏm, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle. [f]Now therefore why speak ye not a word of bringing the king back?

●11 ¶ And king Dā'vid sent to Zā'dŏk and to Ă-bī'a-thär the priests, saying, Speak unto the elders of Jū'dah, saying, Why are ye the last to bring the king back to his house? seeing the speech of all Ĭs'ra-el is come to the king, even to his house.

12 Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my flesh: wherefore then are ye the last to bring back the king?

13 And say ye to Ăm'a-sá, Art thou not of my bone, and of my flesh? God do so to me, and more also, if thou be not captain of the host before me continually in the room of Jō'ăb.

●14 And he bowed the heart of all the men of Jū'dah, even as the heart of one man; so that they sent this word unto the king, Return thou, and all thy servants.

2 David returns to Jerusalem: Shimei repents (Cp. 16:5-14)

15 [g]So the king returned, and came to Jôr'dan. And [h]Jū'dah came to [i]Gĭl'gāl, to go to meet the king, to conduct the king over Jôr'dan.

16 ¶ And [c]Shĭm'e-ī the son of Gĕ'rā, a Bĕn'ja-mite, which was of Bā-hū'rim, hasted and came down with the men of Jū'dah to meet king Dā'vid.

17 And there were a thousand men of Bĕn'ja-mĭn with him, and [d]Zĭ'bā the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons and his twenty servants with him; and they went over Jôr'dan before the king.

18 And there went over [e]a ferry boat to carry over the king's household, and to do what he thought good. And Shĭm'e-ī the son of Gĕ'rā fell down before the king, as he was come over Jôr'dan;

19 And said unto the king, Let not my lord impute iniquity unto me, neither do thou remember that which thy servant did perversely the day that my lord the king went out of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, that the king should take it to his heart.

20 For thy servant doth know that I have sinned: therefore, behold, I am come the first this day of all the house of Jō'seph to go down to meet my lord the king.

21 But Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī the son of Zĕr-ū-ī'ah answered and [j]said, Shall not Shĭm'e-ī be put to death for this, because he cursed the LORD'S anointed?

22 And Dā'vid said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zĕr-ū-ī'ah, that ye should this day be [a]adversaries unto me? shall there any man be put to death this day in Ĭs'ra-el? for do not I know that I am this day king over Ĭs'ra-el?

▸23 Therefore the king said unto Shĭm'e-ī, Thou shalt not die. And the king sware unto him.

3 Mephibosheth's faithfulness (Cp. 16:1-4)

24 ¶ And Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth the son of Saul came down to meet the king, and [k]had neither dressed his feet, nor trimmed his beard, nor washed his clothes, from the day the king departed until the day he came again in peace.

25 And it came to pass, when he was come to Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm to meet the king, that the king said unto him, [l]Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth?

26 And he answered, My lord, O king, [m]my servant deceived me: for thy servant said, I will saddle me an ass, that I may ride thereon, and go to the king; because thy servant is lame.

27 And he hath slandered thy servant unto my lord the king; but my lord the king is as an angel of God: do therefore what is good in thine eyes.

28 For all of my father's house were but dead men before my lord the king: yet didst thou set thy servant among them that did eat at thine own table. [n]What right therefore have I yet to cry any more unto the king?

a David was anxious to get the good will of Judah, as Jerusalem was in Judah and it was this tribe that had originally made him king (2:1-4) b Gilgal was the place where Israel first camped when crossing the Jordan (Josh. 5), and where the kingdom was renewed in Saul's day (1 Sam. 11:15). This would be the natural crossing of Jordan if he was to be received by the men of Judah, for it was the nearest to Judah

c Shimei, the man who cursed David when he fled from Absalom (16:5-13), now came with 1,000 Benjamites to welcome David back and ask pardon for cursing him. The 1,000 were perhaps a show to emphasize that he was a man of influence and many would become David's enemies if he did not forgive (v 16-18). Abishai, who was always impulsive (v 21; 16:9; 1 Sam. 26:8) answered that such a man as Shimei should be executed; but again David showed his greatness in forgiving wrongs and swore that the man should not die (v 21-23). He did ask Solomon to deal with Shimei as he saw fit when he turned the kingdom over to him (1 Ki. 2:8-9, 36-46)

d Ziba, who had deceived Mephibosheth when David fled before Absalom, now came with his 15 sons and 20 servants to welcome David back (v 17)

e This is the only place where a ferry boat is mentioned in Scripture. It was perhaps a raft of some kind for conveying David over Jordan (v 18)

f Questions 93-96, Next, v 25

g 8 times sons were adversaries:
1 In the murder of Abner (3:27-39)
2 Joab in the recall of Absalom (14:1-24)
3 Abishai in seeking to kill Shimei when David fled from Absalom (16:9-13) 18)
4 Joab in slaying of Absalom (18:9-5 Abashai in seeking to kill Shimei when David returned to his kingdom (19:21-23)
6 Joab in murdering Amasa (20:4-12)
7 Joab in numbering Israel (24:1-4)
8 Joab regarding a successor to David (1 Ki. 1:7. Cp. 1 Ki. 2:5)

h Mephibosheth gave proof to David that he had been deceived by Ziba by not having dressed his feet, trimmed his beard, or washed his clothes from the day of David's flight from Absalom to his return (v 24)

i Question 97, Next, v 28

j Ziba had deceived Mephibosheth, thinking that David would execute those who did not prove true to him in the rebellion, should he become victor. In this way he would get the property of Mephibosheth (v 26-30; 16:1-4) come intolerable. David thought Amasa would make a better man for the place and would have a great influence over the whole tribe of Judah in cementing it back to him. The appeal was a success, for those who had stood aloof were the first ones to welcome him back (v 14)

f Questions 89-92, Next, v 21

g On the strength of the invitation from Judah, David returned, coming to Jordan where the men of his tribe welcomed him back as king and conducted him over Jordan (v 15)

Satan provoked David (24:1)

The anger of the Lord would not have been against Israel if He had been the one to move David to number Israel. The real power that provoked him to do this was Satan (1 Chr. 21:1), so we must understand v 1, He moved David to mean that He (Jehovah) only allowed or suffered him to be moved by Satan without definitely interfering. By Hebrew idiom (and also modern usage) a person is said to do that which he permits to be done. Here we have God's permission and in 1 Chr. 21:1 we have the report of Satan's actual temptation and moving of David to number the people, God was justly displeased with the action of David and punished him for it (v 10-17)

a By this statement David revoked the one of 16:4, returning to the original agreement of 9:10

3 transactions with Ziba:

1 Commanding him and his sons to have complete charge of all of Saul's land and to bring Mephibosheth part of the profits (9:1-13)

2 Giving him all the land of Mephibosheth, being convinced he had joined Absalom's rebellion (16:1-4). This was done in the belief that Ziba was telling the truth

3 When David learned differently, that Mephibosheth was true to him, he commanded that the two men share the fruit of the land, as originally done (v 29); but Mephibosheth willingly gave all his share to Ziba, being content that David was safe (v 30)

b This was the second time Barzillai helped David: 27)

1 When David fled from Absalom (17:

2 When returning to his home (v 31)

c See 17:26-29

d For Barzillai's kindness to David in his flight, his stay in Mahanaim, and his return home, David invited him to go to Jerusalem with him to live the rest of his days (v 33)

e Questions 100-105. Next, v 41

f 6 octogenarians in Scripture:

1 Abraham (Gen. 16:16)

2 Moses (Ex. 7:7)

3 Aaron (Ex. 7:7)

4 Caleb (Josh. 14:10)

5 Barzillai (19:32, 35)

6 Anna, the prophetess (Lk. 2:37)

g 3 infirmities of this octogenarian:

1 Senses impaired to discern good and evil (v 35)

2 Sense of taste impaired

3 Sense of hearing impaired

h Although he complained that his senses of discernment, taste, and hearing were impaired, he certainly had a keen sense of appreciation and enough good common sense that he did not want to be a burden on others in his old age (v 36). In this he was unlike many old people who are so lacking in good judgment concerning others, wanting to rule, dictate and be the advisor in everything, thus causing untold misunderstanding and hardship for their children and friends i Let me die in my own home and be buried near my parents (v 37). This seemed more important to Barzillai than spending his last years with David and being a burden to others

j Chimham, pining. Perhaps a son of Barzillai of Gilead (v 37-40). Also, a place near Bethlehem (Jer. 41:17). From 1 Ki. 7 we suppose that more than one son of Barzillai became a dweller at court with king David k All of Judah - half of Israel (v 40). If all Israel had co-operated then what came to pass after this would have been avoided; but this portion of Israel led the other half of the 10 tribes into a controversy with the men of Judah over welcoming David home again (v 41-43)

m This accusation was false, and merely used as an excuse to complain against the men of Judah who were the first actually to move David back as king. While the others were talking about it (v 9), the tribe of Judah became settled about the matter and invited the king back (v 14). The controversy was the 13th civil strife in Israel since coming out of Egypt (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). It was a senseless excuse for strife, and it waxed hot as do so many such senseless controversies (v 42-43)

Journey of census takers (24:5)

2 From Aroer to Jazer near the river

4 Gilead to the land of Tahtim-hodshi (an unknown place in the north)

5 Tahtim-hodshi to Dan-jaan

6 Dan-jaan to Zidon

7 Zidon to Tyre (v 7)

8 All the cities of the Hivites

9 All the cities of the Canaanites

10 South through Judah even to Beer-sheba and back to Jerusalem (v 8)

29 And the king said unto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? [a]I have said, Thou and Zi'bà divide the land.

30 And Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth said unto the king, Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my lord the king is come again in peace unto his own house.

4 Barzilli rewarded (17:27-29)

31 ¶ And Bär-zĭl'la-ī the Gĭl'e-ăd-īte [b]came down from Rō-gĕ'lim, and went over Jôr'dan with the king, to conduct him over Jôr'dan.

32 Now Bär-zĭl'la-ī was a very aged man, even fourscore years old: and he had [c]provided the king of sustenance while he lay at Mà-hà-nà'im; for he was a very great man.

33 And the king said unto Bär-zĭl'la-ī, [d]Come thou over with me, and I will feed thee with me in Jē-rụ'sà-lĕm.

34 And Bär-zĭl'la-ī said unto the king, [e]How long have I to live, that I should go up with the king unto Jē-rụ'sà-lĕm?

35 I am this day [f]fourscore years old: and [g]can I discern between good and evil? can thy servant taste what I eat or what I drink? can I hear any more the voice of singing men and singing women? wherefore then should thy servant be yet a burden unto my lord the king?

36 Thy servant will go a little way over Jôr'dan with the king: and [h]why should the king recompense it me with such a reward?

37 Let thy servant, I pray thee, turn back again, [i]that I may die in mine own city, and be buried by the grave of my father and of my mother. But behold thy servant [j]Chĭm'hăm; let him go over with my lord the king; and do to him what shall seem good unto thee.

38 And the king answered, Chĭm'hăm shall go over with me, and I will do to him that which shall seem good unto thee: and whatsoever thou shalt require of me, that will I do for thee.

39 And all the people went over Jôr'dan. And when the king was come over, the king kissed Bär-zĭl'la-ī, and blessed him; and he returned unto his own place.

40 Then the king went on to Gĭl'găl, and Chĭm'hăm went on with him: and [k]all the people of Jū'dah conducted the king, and also half the people of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 Thirteenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). (1) Contention and jealousy over David 41 ¶ And, behold, all the men of Ĭs'ra-el came to the king, and said unto the king, [l]Why have our brethren the men of Jū'dah [m]stolen thee away, and have brought the king, and his household, and all Dā'vid's men with him, over Jôr'dan?

42 And all the men of Jū'dah answered the men of Ĭs'ra-el, Because the king is near of kin to us: [a]wherefore then be ye angry for this matter? have we eaten at all of the king's cost? or hath he given us any gift?

43 And the men of Ĭs'ra-el answered the men of Jū'dah, and said, We have [n]ten parts in the king, and we have also more right in Dā'vid than ye: why then did ye despise us, that our advice should not be first had in bringing back our king? And the words of the men of Jū'dah were fiercer than the words of the men of Ĭs'ra-el.

(2) Rebellion: 3rd division of the kingdom (2:8, refs.)

AND there [c]happened to be there a man of [d]Bĕ'lĭ-al, whose name was [e]Shĕ'bà, the son of Bĭch'rī, a Bĕn'ja-mīte: and he blew a trumpet, and said, [f]We have no part in Dā'vid, neither have we inheritance in the son of Jĕs'se: every man to his tents, O Ĭs'ra-el.

2 So every man of Ĭs'ra-el went up from after Dā'vid, and followed Shĕ'bà the son of Bĭch'rī: but the men of Jū'dah clave [g]unto their king, from Jôr'dan even to Jē-rụ'sà-lĕm.

(3) David puts away his ten concubines (Cp. 12:11; 16:21)

3 ¶ And Dā'vid came to his house at Jē-rụ'sà-lĕm: and the king took [h]the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in [i]ward, and fed them, but went not in unto them. So they were shut up unto the day of their death, living in widowhood.

(4) Mobilization of Judah: Joab murders Amasa (Cp. 19:13)

●4 ¶ Then said the king [j]to Ăm'a-sà, Assemble me the men of Jū'dah within three days, and be thou here present.

5 So Ăm'a-sà went to assemble the men of Jū'dah: but he tarried longer than the set time which he had appointed him.

●6 And Dā'vid said to Ā-bĭsh'ă-ī, Now shall Shĕ'bà the son of Bĭch'rī do us more harm than did Àb'sa-lŏm: take thou thy lord's servants, and pursue after him, lest he get him fenced cities, and escape us.

7 And there went out after him Jō'ăb's men, and the Chĕr'e-thītes, and the Pĕl'e-thītes, and all the mighty men: and they went out of Jē-rụ'sà-lĕm, to pursue after Shĕ'bà the son of Bĭch'rī.

8 When they were at the great stone which is in Gĭb'e-on, Ăm'a-sà went before them. And Jō'ăb's garment that he had put on was girded unto him, and upon it a girdle with a sword fastened upon his loins in the sheath thereof; and as he went forth it fell out.

9 And Jō'ăb [k]said to Ăm'a-sà, Art thou in health, my brother?

a The argument of the men of Judah was that the king was nearer kin to them than any of the other tribes, that they had not been chargeable to him, and that the other tribes had not contributed to their material welfare, so there was no need for such controversy (v 42). It being true that all tribes shared equally in the wonderful benefits of David's reign, being nearer kin to him had no special benefits. This kind of argument did not pacify the other tribes, so they continued the strife arguing that they had 10 parts in David and therefore had the right to be the first to bring the king back (v 43). Thus it seems that the division between Judah and Benjamin on one side and the 10 tribes on the other became more or less crystalized and even wider with each new crisis. It became easier to permit division to continue between them; and about 50 years from this time they were definitely divided into 2 kingdoms (1 Ki. 12)

b Did such a division into 10 and 2 parts make either side any less of Israel? Were not both sides of Israel regardless of division, or would this make a change in nationality? The answer is that all were still Israel which is in contrast to the teaching that there is a difference between Israel and Judah or Israelites and Jews. See notes on The Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367

c In every gathering, it seems there are men of Belial (evil or Satan) who are ready to take advantage of strife and divisions among men to promote their own evil desires

4 Son of Bichi (v 1-22)

5 A Gadite (1 Chr. 5:13)

Sheba, a country in Africa or Arabia (1 Ki. 10:1-13; 2 Chr. 9:1-12; Job 6:19; Ps. 72:10, 15; Isa. 60:6; Jer. 6:20; Ezek. 27:22-23; 38:13). Sheba as a city (Josh. 19:2)

f 3 divisions of the kingdom:

1 Under David and Ish-bosheth (2:1-32) 19:33)

2 Under David and Absalom (15:1-

3 Under David and Sheba (20:1-26)

These divisions were short in duration, but the next one lasted about 260 years, or from Rehoboam to the captivity of the 10 tribes to Assyria (1 Ki. 12-17)

g Experiences like this account for a distinction being made between Judah and the main body of Israelites. Distinguishing them as Judah and Israel, or the house of Judah and house of Israel was never done to denote a difference in nationality or race, only to identify the ruling tribe as distinct from the others. All were Israelites and always will be h Here David separated the 10 concubines whom he had left at Jerusalem to care for the house when he took flight from Absalom. These Absalom defiled in the presence of all Israel, and so David put them in a separate place where they were kept in widowhood all the rest of their days (v 3). This is called widowhood here - without the death of the husband (v 3)

i This does not mean they were in jail - only living in a separate place from others of the harem (v 3)

j David had promised that Amasa would be the commander of the army of Israel instead of Joab (19:13), so now he made the vow good by telling him to assemble all the men of Judah within 3 days to put down the rebellion in Israel (v 4). He tarried longer than it was appointed him, so David told Abishai to pursue after Sheba, Joab and his men and the Cherethites and Pelethites also followed. Amasa suddenly appeared to lead the host, but Joab murdered him, then continued with Abisha as a leader to put down the rebellion (v 5-26). Thus Joab retained his position as leader of the army of Israel

a The second man Joab killed who was getting in his way and gaining favor with David (v 10; 3:7-39) b This murder left Joab and Abishai in full charge of the army again, so they pursued after Sheba to put down the new rebellion in Israel. One of Joab's men stood and called out for whoever was for Joab and David to follow; but as long as Amasa was in the road they would not go forward; so they removed his body into a field and covered it with a cloth. Then, the people went on after Joab (v 10-13) c Joab went through all the tribes of Israel unto Abel, and Beth-maachah; and all the Berites, and men from all the tribes joined Joab to beseige Sheba in Abel (v 14-15) d Abel was a town in the district of Beth-maachah, a few miles west of Dan in north Palestine (v 14-18). Abel is perhaps the same as Abel-beth-maachah (1 Kl. 15:20; 2 Kl. 15:29) and Abel-maim (2 Chr. 16:4)
e This was probably a battering engine or a tower of some kind overlooking the walls, from which archers and slingers could attack the people on the walls of the city (v 15)
f A wise woman saved the day for the inhabitants of the city who did not seem to want Sheba. He no doubt had seized the city against their will and when they knew it was Joab coming they were willing to deliver Sheba to him (v 16-21)
g Question 112, Next, v 19
h This is a proverb meaning that the inhabitants of Abel had a reputation of being so wise that others appealed to them for judgment in special matters, both sides agreeing that whatever the wise men of Abel would say should settle the problem. On these grounds the wise woman appealed to Joab, suggesting that he should have consulted them before attacking the city with the intention of destroying its inhabitants because of taking Sheba in (v 18)
i Question 113, Next, 21:3
j Joab answered that he did not wish to destroy the city or anyone in it - only Sheba who had rebelled against David; and if they would deliver up the rebel he would depart from the city (v 20-21). This the people consented to do; and so the next day his head was thrown over the wall. Then, Joab blew the trumpet and left off the siege (v 22)

the son of Jonathan and delivered up others of the house of Saul to be hung for the sins of that family (v 8-9) s Rizpah was a concubine of Saul; she bore him Armoni and Mephibosheth (v 8, 11)
t This should be of Merab, not of Michal, who had no sons (6:23). Merab, the daughter of Saul and sister of Michal, was given to Adriel and she bore him 5 sons (18:19). Some copyist in ancient times made the mistake of substituting Michal's name for Merab's and the translators allowed this to remain in the text on the grounds that Michal may have brought up these sons for Adriel who perhaps became a widower by the death of Merab. The original reads that she bore them, so this explanation will not do. Josephus says that she bore them to Adriel after a second divorce from David, but this contradicts 6:23 unless we understand it to mean that she had no child from David to the day of her death, which cannot be allowed. Some MSS. read Merab instead of Michal, which is no doubt the true original wording. The Moffatt and Berkeley versions both read Merab, not Michal u The Gibeonites hung the 7 sons and grandsons of Saul, all of them together in the days of the barley harvest, which would be about the middle of April (v 9). The Amorites, according to heathen custom, evidently intended to let the bodies remain hanging until rain came again. The purpose of this was to appease the anger of their gods in seasons of famine, God allowed the Gibeonites to kill these 7 men to clear the scandal of Israel's religion permitting Saul to break covenant and murder innocent people in his zeal, and to prove to all pagans that He required His people to respect treaties and oaths

And Jō'ăb took Ăm'a-sā by the beard with the right hand to kiss him.

10 But Ăm'a-sā took no heed to the sword that was in Jō'ăb's hand: [c]so he smote him therewith in the fifth rib, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and struck him not again; and he died. [b]So Jō'ăb and Ă-bīsh'ă-ī his brother pursued after Shē'bā the son of Bĭch'rī.

11 And one of Jō'ăb's men stood by him, and said, He that favoureth Jō'ăb, and he that is for Dā'vid, let him go after Jō'ăb.

12 And Ăm'a-sā wallowed in blood in the midst of the highway. And when the man saw that all the people stood still, he removed Ăm'a-sā out of the highway into the field, and cast a cloth upon him, when he saw that every one that came by him stood still.

13 When he was removed out of the highway, all the people went on after Jō'ăb, to pursue after Shē'bā the son of Bĭch'rī.

(5) Suppression of Sheba's revolt: Israel united

14 ¶ And [c]he went through all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el unto [d]Ā'bĕl, and to Bĕth-mā'a-chah, and all the Bē'rites: and they were gathered together, and went also after him.

15 And they came and besieged him in Ā'bĕl of Bĕth-mā'a-chah, and they cast up [e]a bank against the city, and it stood in the trench: and all the people that were with Jō'ăb battered the wall, to throw it down.

●16 ¶ Then cried a[f]wise woman out of the city, Hear, hear; say, I pray you, unto Jō'ăb, Come near hither, that I may speak with thee.

●17 And when he was come near unto her, the woman [g]said, Art thou Jō'ăb? And he answered, I am he. Then she said unto him, Hear the words of thine handmaid. And he answered, I do hear.

18 Then she spake, saying, They were wont to speak in old time, saying, [h]They shall surely ask counsel at Ā'bĕl: and so they ended the matter.

19 I am one of them that are peaceable and faithful in Ĭs'ra-el: thou seekest to destroy a city and a mother in Ĭs'ra-el: [i]why wilt thou swallow up the inheritance of the LORD?

20 And Jō'ăb answered and said, [j]Far be it, far be it from me, that I should swallow up or destroy.

▸21 The matter is not so: but a man of mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, Shē'bā the son of Bĭch'rī by name, hath lifted up his hand against the king, even against Dā'vid: deliver him only, and I will depart from the city. And the woman said unto Jō'ăb, Behold, his head shall be thrown to thee over the wall.

22 Then the woman went unto all the people in her wisdom. And they cut off the head of Shē'bā the son of Bĭch'rī, and cast it out to Jō'ăb. And he blew a trumpet, and they retired from the city, every man to [c]his tent. And Jō'ăb returned to Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm unto the king.

(6) David's officers in the restored kingdom (Cp. 8:16; 15:12; 23:8; 1 Chr. 27:25)

23 ¶ Now [b]Jō'ăb was over all the host of Ĭs'ra-el: and [c]Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dā was over the[d] Chĕr'e-thītes and over the Pĕl'e-thītes:

24 And [e]Ă-dō'ram was over the tribute: and [f]Jĕ-hōsh'a-phāt the son of [g]Ă-hĭ'lụd was recorder:

25 And [h]Shē'vā was scribe: and Zā'dōk and Ă-bī'a-thār were the priests:

26 And [i]Ī'rā also the Jā'ĭr-īte was a chief ruler about Dā'vid.

288 CHAPTER 21

6 Three years of famine: its cause and removal

THEN there was a[k]famine in the days of Dā'vid [l]three years, year after year; and Dā'vid enquired of the LORD. And the LORD answered, It is for Saul, and for his bloody house, [m]because he slew the Gĭb'e-on-ītes.

2 And the king called the Gĭb'e-on-ītes, and said unto them; (now the Gĭb'e-on-ītes were not of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, but of the remnant of the Ăm'ōr-ītes; and the children of Ĭs'ra-el had sworn unto them: and Saul sought to slay them in his zeal to the children of Ĭs'ra-el and Jū'dah.)

3 Wherefore Dā'vid said unto the Gĭb'e-on-ītes, [n]What shall I do for you? and wherewith shall I make atonement, that ye may bless the inheritance of the LORD?

4 And the Gĭb'e-on-ītes said unto him, [o]We will have no silver nor gold of Saul, nor of his house; neither for us shalt thou kill any man in Ĭs'ra-el. And he said, What ye shall say, that will I do for you.

5 And they answered the king, The man that consumed us, and that [p]devised against us that we should be destroyed from remaining in any of the coasts of Ĭs'ra-el,

▸6 Let [q]seven men of his sons be delivered unto us, and we will hang them up unto the LORD in Gĭb'e-ah of Saul, whom the LORD did choose. And the king said, I will give them.

7 But the king spared [r]Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth, the son of Jŏn'a-than the son of Saul, because of the LORD's oath that was between them, between Dā'vid and Jŏn'a-than the son of Saul.

8 But the king took the two sons of [s]Rĭz'pah the daughter of Ă-ī'ah, whom she bare unto Saul, Ar-mō'nī and Mĕ-phĭb'o-shĕth; and the five sons [t]of Mī'chal the daughter of Saul, whom she brought up for Ă'dri-el the son of Bär-zĭl'la-ī the Mĕ-hōl'ath-īte:

9 And he delivered them into the hands of the Gĭb'e-on-ītes, and they [u]hanged them in the hill before the LORD: and they fell all seven together, and were put to death in the days of k See 13 famines (note r, Gen. 12:10)

l It seems that David did not inquire of the Lord by the Urim and Thummim until the 3rd year of famine, perhaps thinking that the first 2 years might be a natural consequence of recent events and therefore nothing to be alarmed about. But when the famine continued the 3rd year it caused great concern; and he sought an answer from God, who said that it was because of the bloody house of Saul and his slaying of the Gibeonites. What happened between Saul and the Gibeonites or when it happened is not recorded in Scripture; all we know about it is this story in 21:1-14. We know that Saul, in his zeal, slew some peaceable Amorites whom the children of Israel swore to protect in the days of Joshua (v 2; Josh. 9:3, 16-17). The Gibeonites were called by David so that proper amends could be made to them. Their requirement was that 7 sons of Saul be hung by them in Gibeon (v 3-6). This was granted by David and the plague was stayed (v 7-14)
m This shows how strict God is to hold men to their vows and to fulfil their obligations to others, even to their own hurt (v 1-2; Josh. 9; Ps. 15:4)
n Questions 114-115, Next, 22:32
o It must be remembered that this requirement of the Gibeonites for the lives of 7 sons of Saul was not the requirement of God, but of pagans living in the midst of Israel. God did demand that they be treated right and that Israel live up to their obligation to these strangers and foreigners; then when they were satisfied that His own people had treated them justly as they required, God again blessed the land and removed the famine (v 14)
p This plainly shows the plan of Saul to exterminate those with whom Israel had a contact, since it was only Saul and his house that planned this, the Gibeonites were just in demanding that only the house of Saul pay for the crime (v 4-6)
q 7 men of Saul's house that were hung: 2 sons of Rizpah (Saul's concubine) - Armoni and Mephibosheth (v 8, 11); 5 sons of Merab, daughter of Saul r This Mephibosheth, son of Jonathan (9:1-13), was not the same as the son of Saul by Rizpah (v 8). David had sworn to Jonathan to protect his house (1 Sam. 20:14-15, 42; 23:18), and to Mephibosheth (v 7). Therefore, David spared

a About the middle of April

b This act of Rizpah is not equaled in human history. Taking a sackcloth and spreading it upon a rock, it seems she kept watch over the bodies of her sons about 5 months or until the autumn rains which began in October. She maintained vigil in the open field on that shadeless rock, exposed to heat by day and coldness by night from the day of their execution about passover time in April until the fall rains. This act of devotion stirred David to action in taking the bodies of Saul and his sons from the place where the men of Jabesh-gilead had buried them (1 Sam. 31:11-13). He brought them to Benjamin and buried them along with the sons and grandsons that were hung in the sepulchre of Kish in Zelah (v 11-14)

c Note that it was the bones of Saul, Jonathan, and the 7 men that were hung, the flesh evidently being gone (v 13-14)

d It has often been conjectured that this experience of ch. 21 took place early in David's reign, but there is no proof of this. The word Then in v 1 should settle the question regarding the time as being after the preceding events of Absalom's rebellion. The mention of the slaying of Gibeonites (v 1), the reference to the destruction of Saul's family (16:7-8), the statement of Mephibosheth regarding all of Saul's house being dead men (19:28) - all these can be understood as being fulfilled where recorded, among the events of this chapter, instead of earlier. Regardless of the time though, the truth remains that David was under obligaion to meet the demands of the Amorites, according to the customs of that age, country, and state of society. The severity of the punishment on Saul's seed only emphasizes the truth of the narrative concerning the league between Israel and the Gibeonites; and this even being well into the reign of David only renewed the obligations of Israel to this people with whom Joshua made the league (Josh. 9). Regardless of how little God had to do with this custom of avenging the blood of dead men, He was intreated for the land after this event (v 14)

e 4 battles with the Philistines:
1 The battle in which David killed so many men that he waxed faint. A giant, Ishbi-benob, was about ready to slay him when Abishai smote the giant and killed him (v 15-17)
2 The battle in which Sibbechai slew another giant (v 18)
3 The battle in which Elhannan slew the third giant, a brother of Goliath the Gittite (v 19)
4 The last of 4 battles in which Jonathan, the nephew of David, slew a giant (v 20-22)
These, with Goliath who was slain by David, made 5 great giants slain by him and his mighty men (1 Sam. 17)

f David was about 60 years old at this time, and evidently could not endure the long battles that he faced when younger (v 15)

g Ishbi-benob, dweller on the mount. A giant that almost killed David (v 16-17)

h His spear weighed 300 shekels of brass, or half that of the spearhead of Goliath - about 11 3/4 lbs. (v 16; 1 Sam. 17:7)

i This first physical fainting of David in the heat of battle caused his men to refuse him to go forth in active combat again, lest the light of Israel be quenched (v 17)

j Sib-bechai, entangling. The Hushathite who slew a giant (v 18; 1 Chr. 20:4), Called Sibbecai (1 Chr. 11:29; 27:11) and Mebunnai (2 Sam. 23:27)

k Saph, Jehovah is preserver. A giant (v 18), Called Sippai (1 Chr. 20:4). The 2nd and 3rd battles were at Gob, an unknown place (v 18-19) harvest, in the [a]first days, in the beginning of barley harvest.

7 Mourning of Rizpah for the sons of Saul (vss. 4-9)

10 ¶ And [b]Riz'pah the daughter of Ā-ī'ah took sackcloth, and spread it for her upon the rock, from the beginning of harvest until water dropped upon them out of heaven, and suffered neither the birds of the air to rest on them by day, nor the beasts of the field by night.

11 And it was told Dā'vid what Riz'pah the daughter of Ā-ī'ah, the concubine of Saul, had done.

8 Final burial of Saul and Jonathan (1 Sam. 31:11-13) and the seven sons of vss. 4-9

12 ¶ And Dā'vid went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jŏn'a-than his son from the men of Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd, which had stolen them from the street of Bĕth'-shăn, where the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had hanged them, when the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had slain Saul in Gĭl-bō'ā:

13 And he brought up from thence the [c]bones of Saul and the bones of Jŏn'a-than his son; and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and Jŏn'a-than his son buried they in the country of Bĕn'ja-mĭn in Zē'lah, in the sepulchre of Kish his father: and they performed all that the king commanded. And [d]after that God was intreated for the land.

9 Four battles with the Philistines: four giants slain

15 ¶ Moreover the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had [e]yet war again with Is'ra-el; and Dā'vid went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and [f]Dā'vid waxed faint.

16 And [g]Ish'bi-bĕ'nŏb, which was of the sons of the giant, the [h]weight of whose spear weighed three hundred shekels of brass in weight, he being girded with a new sword, thought to have slain Dā'vid.

●17 But Ā-bish'ā-ī the son of Zĕr-ū-ī'ah succoured him, and smote the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne and killed him. [i]Then the men of Dā'vid sware unto him, saying, Thou shalt go no more out with us to battle, that thou quench not the light of Is'ra-el.

18 And it came to pass after this, that there was again a battle with the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes at Gŏb: then [j]Sĭb'be-chāi the Hū'shath-īte slew [k]Săph, which was of the sons of the giant.

19 And there was again a battle in Gŏb with the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, where [l]El-hā'nan the son of [m]Jā-ār'e-ŏr'e-ğĭm, a Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-ite, slew [n]the brother of Gŏ-lī'ath the Gĭt'tīte, the staff of whose spear was [o]like a weaver's beam.

20 And there was yet a battle in Gāth, where was a man of great stature, that had on every hand [p]six fingers, and on every foot six toes, four and twenty in number; and he also was born to the [a]giant.

21 And when he defied Is'ra-el, Jŏn'a-than the son of Shĭm'e-ah the brother of Dā'vid slew him.

22 These four were born to the giant in Gāth, and fell by the [b]hand of Dā'vid, and by the hand of his servants.

VIII David's last song and words (2 Sam. 22:1-23:7). 1 The song (Cp. Ps. 18). (1) Nine things of God (Ps. 18:1-2)

AND Dā'vid [c]spake unto the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD had delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul:

2 And he said, The LORD [d]is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer;

3 The God of my rock; in him will I trust: he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour; thou savest me from violence.

(2) David's prayer of distress (Ps. 18:3-6)

4 [e]I will call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

5 [f]When the [g]waves of death compassed me, the [h]floods of ungodly men made me afraid;

6 The [i]sorrows of hell compassed me about; [j]the snares of death prevented me;

7 [k]In my distress I called upon the LORD, and cried to my God: and he did hear my voice out of his [l]temple, and my cry did enter into [m]his ears.

(3) God's answer: 35 miraculous manifestations (Ps. 18:7-20)

8 [n]Then [o]the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was wroth.

9 There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

10 He bowed the heavens also, and came down; and darkness was under his feet.

11 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly: and he was seen upon the wings of the wind.

12 And he made darkness pavilions round about him, dark waters, and thick clouds of the skies.

13 Through the brightness before him were coals of fire kindled.

14 The LORD thundered from heaven, and the most High uttered his voice.

15 And he sent out arrows, and scattered them; lightning, and discomfited them.

16 And the channels of the sea appeared, the foundations of the world were discovered, at the rebuking of the LORD, at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

a Heb. rapha, giant (v 16, 18, 20, 22; 1 Chr. 20:4, 6, 8). Rapha was the name of a giant, the father of all the giants mentioned in these passages. From the original Rapha descended the Rephaïms of 5:18, 22; 23:13; Gen. 14:5; 15:20; Dt. 2:11, 13; Josh. 12:4; 13:12; 15:8; 17:15; 18:16; 1 Chr. 11:15; 14:9; 20:4-8; Isa. 17:5

3 He did hear my voice out of His temple (v 7)

f 4 fold distress of David:
1 The waves of death compassed me (v 5)
2 The floods of the ungodly men made me afraid
3 The sorrows of hell compassed me about (v 6)
4 The snares of death prevented me

g This refers to the constant brushes with death which he had, and to the many overwhelming experiences of calamity - one after another, like billows of the sea (v 5)

h Referring to the troops of Saul rushing upon him like mighty floods ready to engulf him and carry him away like a torrent, in the last moment God turned the floods aside and he escaped as a bird out of the snare (v 5)

i Heb. chebel, cords, throes, pains, pangs, sorrows - of hell (Heb. sheol, the unseen world). These compassed him about (v 6)

j The snares (Heb. mogesh, nooses, hooks, snares, or traps) of death preceded me. They were in my path that I should fall into them and die; but the Lord heard me and I was snatched out of them in due time (v 6). See 12 things that ensnare men, note b, Ps. 18:5

k 2 things to do in time of distress:
1 Pray - call on Jehovah (v 7)
2 Cry to God - be in earnest
Note the results of such praying in desperation (v 8-21)

l Heb. hekal, temple, palace. The temple here is the one in heaven where God has His throne, where He is worshipped by the heavenly hosts, and from which He rules the universe (v 7; Ps. 18:6; Isa. 6:1; Rev. 7:15; 11:19; 14:15, 17; 15:5-8; 16:1, 17)

m 9 bodily parts of God:
1 Ears (v 7)
2 Nostrils (v 9)
3 Mouth
4 Feet (v 10)
5 Body (rode, v 11)
6 Form (seen, v 11)
7 Voice (v 14)
8 Breath (v 16)

i Heb. iggesh, perverse. All such persons are an abomination to God (Pr. 3:32; 11:20). See 10 froward things (note d, Ps. 18:26)
j Heb. pathal, to twine; to struggle; be full of twists, turns; bends; twisting; winding; wrestling (v 27). The idea here is that God will struggle and wrestle with man to bring him to righteousness and clean living. He will show Himself just as stubborn and perverse as man in His efforts to make him morally straight. This is unsavoury to the sinner

1 He shall be as the light of the clear morning when the sun rises
2 He shall be as the tender grass springing out of the earth in the clear sunlight after rain

r This verse is a little obscure as it reads here. It could mean one of two things:
1 Although my house has not been like the clear cloudless morning, or as the tender grass springing up out of the earth, yet God has made an everlasting covenant with me, and a sure house (v 5; 7:1-29)
2 Although my house is not yet established forever, God has made an everlasting covenant with me and my house to make it sure forever (v 5; 7:1-29)
The better rendering no doubt is this: For is not my house so with God? For He has made with me an everlasting covenant, ordered and sure, for this covenant is all my salvation and desire, and will He not make my house to grow and prosper? But Belial (worthless men) shall be thrust away like thorns, which cannot be touched with hands. The man that touches them must be protected with iron, but both the wicked and the thorns shall burn together (v 5-7)

17 He [a]sent from above, he took me; he drew me out of many waters.
18 He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.
19 They[b] prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my stay.
20 He brought me forth also into a large place: he delivered me, because he [c]delighted in me.
21 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

(4) Testimony: 5 practices (Ps. 18:21-24)

22 [d]For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.
23 For all his judgments were before me: and as for his statutes, I did not depart from them.
24 I was also upright before him, and have kept myself from mine iniquity.
25 Therefore the LORD [e]hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eye sight.

(5) God's sixfold character (v 25-51; Ps. 18:25-31)

▸26 With the [f]merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful, and with the [g]upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright.
▸27 With the [h]pure thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the [i]froward thou wilt shew thyself [j]unsavoury.
▸28 And the [k]afflicted people thou wilt [l]save: but thine eyes are upon the haughty, [m]that thou mayest bring them down.

(6) Testimony: four blessings

▸29 For thou art [n]my lamp, O LORD: and the LORD will lighten my darkness.
30 For [o]by thee I have run through a troop: by my God have I leaped over a wall.

(7) Five things about God

▸31 As for God, his way [p]is perfect; the word of the LORD is [q]tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him.
32 [r]For who is [s]God, save the LORD? and who is a rock, save our God?

(8) Testimony: 32 blessings (Ps. 18:32-50)

33 [s]God is my strength and power: and he maketh my way perfect.
34 He maketh my feet [t]like hinds' feet: and setteth me upon my high places.
35 He teacheth my hands to war; so that a bow of [u]steel is broken by mine arms.
36 Thou hast also given me the [v]shield of thy salvation: and thy [w]gentleness hath made me great.
37 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; so that my feet did not slip.

38 [x]I have [y]pursued mine enemies, and destroyed them; and turned not again until I had consumed them.
39 And I have consumed them, and wounded them, that they could not arise: yea, they are fallen under my feet.
40 For thou hast girded me with strength to battle: them that rose up against me hast thou subdued under me.
41 Thou hast also given me the [z]necks of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.
42 They looked, but there was none to save; even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.
43 Then did I beat them as small as the [a]dust of the earth, I did stamp them as the mire of the street, and did spread them abroad.
44 Thou also hast delivered me from the [b]strivings of my people, thou hast kept me [c]to be head of the heathen: [d]a people which I knew not shall serve me.
45 Strangers shall submit themselves unto me: as soon as they hear, they shall be obedient unto me.
46 Strangers shall fade away, and they shall be afraid out of their close places.
47 The LORD [e]liveth; and blessed be my rock; and exalted be the God of the rock of my salvation.
48 It is God that avengeth me, and that bringeth down the people under me, 49 And that bringeth me forth from mine enemies: thou also hast lifted me up on high above them that rose up against me: thou hast delivered me from the [f]violent man.
50 Therefore I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the heathen, and I will sing praises unto thy name.
★51 [g]He is the tower of salvation for his king: and sheweth mercy to his anointed, unto Dā'vid, and to his seed for evermore.

290 CHAPTER 23

2 David's last words (Cp. Dt. 31:1, refs.)

NOW these be the [h]last words of Dā'vid. Dā'vid the son of Jĕs'se said, and the [i]man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the [j]God of Jā'cob, and the sweet psalmist of Ĭs'ra-el, said, 2 The Spirit of the LORD spake by me, and his word was in my tongue.
3 The [k]God of Ĭs'ra-el said, the Rock of Ĭs'ra-el spake to me, He [l]that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God.
4 And [m]he shall be as the light of the morning, when the sun riseth, even a morning without clouds; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain.
5 [n]Although my house be not so with God; yet he hath made with me an everlasting covenant, ordered in all things, and a 8 accomplishments of David: I have 1 Kept the ways of Jehovah (v 22)

2 Not wickedly departed from God
3 Not departed from His judgments (v 23)
4 Been upright before Him (v 24)
5 Kept myself from iniquity
6 Run through a troop (v 30)
7 Leaped over a wall
8 Pursued my enemies and destroyed them (v 38-39)
b 12fold description of enemy defeat:
1 I have pursued them (v 38)
2 Destroyed them
3 Consumed them (v 38-39)
4 Wounded them that they cannot rise (v 39)
5 They are fallen under my feet
6 God has subdued them under me (v 40)
7 You have given me the necks of my enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me (v 41)
8 They looked, but there was none to save them (v 42)
9 They even looked to Jehovah, but He did not hear them
10 I bear them as small dust of the earth (v 43)
11 I stamped upon them as mire in the street
12 I spread them abroad
c Conquerors in ancient times would make their captured enemies lie prostrate on the ground, and then put their feet on their necks in token of complete humiliation (v 44). Early Hebrews did this on certain occasions (Josh. 7:8, 12). Numerous examples are found on the Assyrian monuments. Others put ropes around the necks of their captives as a sign of their acquired right to the defeated (Gen. 49:8; Ex. 23:27; Dt. 28:48; Isa. 10:27; Jer. 27:8; Lam. 5:5) d Sometimes the heathen would call upon Jehovah as well as their many idols, in time of extreme distress (Jonah 1:14). The reason God did not hear them was that they were outside the covenants and promises; and when in war with Israel God was always under obligation to fight for His people unless they had committed sin and it was time to punish them. In that case He would turn them over to their enemies for chastening (v 42)
e The language here is no doubt figurative of complete defeat, but there were times when bodies were left in the open fields for animals to devour; they were then stripped of their flesh and the bones left to crumble into dust if not devoured by the beasts (v 43)
f This refers to the rebellions of his own people, such as the civil wars of Abner, Absalom, Sheba (2 Sam. 2:8-4:12; 15:1-18:33)
g David was the head of all surrounding nations (2 Sam. 5:17-25; 8:1-18; 10:1-19)
h This happened in the case of the conquest of the Syrians and of the submission of others to David (8:10)
i See 32 blessings to man, p. 349 j This perhaps refers to Saul or Absalom (1 Sam. 19:1-26:25; 2 Sam. 15:1-18:33) k 5th and last prophecy in 2 Sam. (22:51, fulfilled, and will continue to be fulfilled forever) l Last words - hence very important. This no doubt refers to the last poetic words of David in the song of ch. 22 and through 23:1-7. It is likely that he spoke many other things in prose, but nothing more in verse m 5 facts about David:
1 He was exalted by God (v 1)
2 He was anointed by the God of Jacob
3 He was the sweet psalmist of Israel
4 The Spirit of God spake by him (v 2)
5 The Word of God was in his tongue n God of Jacob - the God who met Jacob when he had nothing and deserved nothing, and promised him all things - the God of all grace (v 1)

o 4 titles of God:
1 God of Jacob (v 1)
2 The Spirit of the Lord (v 2)
3 God of Israel (v 3)
4 Rock of Israel
p 2 characteristics of an ideal ruler:
1 He must be just (v 3)
2 He must rule in the fear of God
q 2 similes - an ideal ruler (v 3):

IX David's mighty men (Cp. 8:16; 15:12; 20:23; 1 Chr. 11:10; 27:25). 1 Adino the Eznite (1 Chr. 11:10)

8 ¶ [f]These be the names of the mighty men whom Dā'vid had: The [g]Tăch'mo-nite that sat in the seat, [h]chief among the captains; the same was [i]Ăd'ĭ-nō the [k]Ĕz'nīte: he lift up his spear against [l]eight hundred, whom he slew at one time.

2 Eleazar (1 Chr. 11:12)

9 And after him was [m]Ĕ-le-ā'zar the son of [n]Dō'dō the [o]Ā-hō'hite, one of the three mighty men with Dā'vid, when they defied the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes that were there gathered together to battle, and the men of Ĭs'ra-el were gone away:

10 He arose, and smote the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [p]until his hand was weary, and his hand clave unto the sword: and the LORD wrought a great victory that day; and the people returned after him only to spoil.

3 Shammah (1 Chr. 11:15)

11 And after him was [q]Shăm'mah the son of [r]Ā'ge-ē the [s]Hă'ra-rīte. And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes were gathered together into a troop, where was a piece of ground full of lentiles: and the people fled from the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

12 But [t]he stood in the midst of the ground, and defended it, and slew the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and the LORD wrought a great victory.

13 And [u]three of the [v]thirty chief went down, and came to Dā'vid in [w]the harvest time unto the [x]cave of Ā-dŭl'lăm: and the troop of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes pitched in [y]the valley of Rĕph'a-ĭm.

14 And Dā'vid was [z]then in an hold, and the garrison of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes was then in Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm.

15 And Dā'vid longed, and said, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, which is by the gate!

16 And the [a]three mighty men brake through the host of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and drew water out of the well of Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to Dā'vid: nevertheless he would not drink thereof, but poured it out unto the LORD.

17 And he said, Be it far from me, O LORD, that I should do this: [b]is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their lives? therefore he would not drink it. These things did these three mighty men.

4 Abishai (1 Chr. 11:20)

18 And Ā-bĭsh'ă-ī, the brother of Jō'ăb, the son of Zĕr-ŭ-ī'ah, was chief among [c]three. [d]And he lifted up his spear against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among three.

19 [e]Was he not most honourable of three? therefore he was their captain: howbeit he attained not unto the first three.

5 Benaiah (1 Chr. 11:22)

20 And Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dā, the son of a valiant man, of [f]Kăb'ze-el, who had done [g]many acts, he slew [h]two lionlike men of Mō'ab: he went down also and slew a lion in the midst of a pit in time of snow:

21 And he slew an Ē-gўp'tian, a goodly man: and the Ē-gўp'tian had a spear in his hand; but he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the Ē-gўp'tian's hand, and slew him with his own spear.

22 These things did Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dā, and had the name among three mighty men.

23 He was more [i]honourable than the [k]thirty, but he attained not to the first three. And Dā'vid set him over his guard.

6 Thirty-one other mighty men (1 Chr. 11:26-27)

a The covenant with me and my house is all my salvation and my desire, and God will make my house to grow (v 5) b The first and last part of this verse should be in the form of questions - Is not my house so with God? Will He not make it to grow?
c Leaving out the section in italics (supplied by translators), the verse reads: But Belial (worthless men), all of these as thorns shall be thrust away (v 6) d Wicked, worthless men, like thorns cannot be handled by men unless they are protected. They, like thorns, when cut down, will be burned down when they are destroyed (v 6-7)
e The man who handles thorns must be well protected with iron mittens or well padded gloves. He can then thrust them aside while he cuts them at the roots and burns them without fear of being pricked (v 7). Or, the man who trims the thorn hedges must have pruning-shears with handles (5 or 6 ft. long) so as to be protected from the thorns f 37 mighty men of David (v 8-39):
1 Adino the Eznite (v 8)
2 Eleazar, son of Dodo (v 8-10)
3 Shammah, son of Agee (v 11-17)
4 Abishai, brother of Joab (v 18-19)
5 Benaiah, son of Jehoida (v 20-23)
6-37 Others numbering 32 (v 24-39)
g Heb. gibbor, trans. mighty 128 times of giants (Gen. 6:4), of ordinary mighty men of war (23:8-9, 16-17, 22), of princes (Ezra 7:28), of kings (Dan. 11:3); of Christ (Isa. 69:6), and of God (Jer. 32:18). It is also trans. strong man (1 Sam. 14:25); champion (a giant, 1 Sam. 17:51); upright man (2 Sam. 22:26); valiant men (1 Chr. 7:2); very able men (1 Chr. 9:13); chief porters (1 Chr. 9:26); mighties (1 Chr. 11:12, 24); mighty (1 Chr. 27:6); men of war (2 Chr. 13:3); like a giant (Job 16:14); strongest among beasts (Pr. 30:30) b Tach-monite, the name of a family to which Adino, the chief of David's mighty men belonged (v 8). Called Jashobeam the Hachmonite (1 Chr. 11:11)
i It seems that the mightiest man or the one who had accomplished the greatest feat was considered chief among the mighties j Adino, ornament. Only here (v 8) k Eznite - of unknown meaning. Only here l This was a great feat - 800 men killed by one man in one battle. It made him chief of all the mighties (v 8). In 1 Chr. 11:11 it reads 300; but this should also read 800, for Abishai slew 300 (v 18), and he was not as great as this man m Eleazar, God is helper. 7 Eleazar's:
1 Son of Dodo (v 9; 1 Chr. 11:12)
2 Son of Aaron, 2nd high priest (Ex 6:23-25; 28:1; Lev. 10:6, 12, 16; Num. 3:2-4, 32; 4:16; 16:37-39; 19:3-4; 20:25-28; 25:7, 11; 26:1-3, 60-63; 27:2, 19-22; 31:6-54; 32:2, 28; 34:17; Dt. 10:6; Josh. 14:1; 17:4; 19:51; 22:13, 31-32; Judg. 20:28; 1 Chr. 6:3-4, 50; 9:29; 24:1-6)
3 A priest in Samuel's day (1 Sam. 7:1)
4 Son of Mahli (1 Chr. 23:21-22; 24:28)
5 A priest under Nehemiah (Neh. 12:6 A Levite (Ezra 8:33) 42)
7 An ancestor of Joseph (Mt. 1:15)
n Dodo, loving. 3 Dodo's:
1 Father of Eleazar (v 9; 1 Chr. 11:12)
2 Father of Elhanan (v 24; 1 Chr. 11:26)
3 A man of Issachar (Judg. 10:1)
o Ahohite - the name of a family of mighty men, 4 of whom came to be with David (v 9, 28; 1 Chr. 11:12, 29; 27:4) p This was a great feat - a man standing with his leader in the midst of an army, his comrades having run away, fighting and killing so many that his hand clave to the sword. The comrades returned only to take spoil (v 9-10; 1 Chr. 11:12-14)
q Shammah (note b, 1 Sam. 16:9)
r Agee - only here (v 11)
s Hararite, mountaineer, inhabitant of the hill country of Judah. 2 Hararite's:
1 Shammah (v 11, 33; 1 Chr. 11:34) water for David from Bethlehem. After they had endangered their lives thus David would not drink of it, but poured it out before the Lord as a drink offering (v 13-17; 1 Chr. 11:15-19)

v There were thirty chief men of David who attained to this place by mighty exploits (v 13, 23-24; 1 Chr. 27:6)
w Either the barley harvest in April or the wheat harvest in June. More likely the barley harvest, for kings went forth to fight generally in the spring after the early rains (v 13) a These were Adino (v 8), Eleazar (v 9-10), and Shammah (v 11-17). They evidently loved David very much to endanger their lives in such a way. David recognized their love and the danger they went through to get the water, and felt he should sacrifice it to the one they all loved the most - Jehovah (v 15-17). It was a noble trait in David not to satisfy his own appetite at the risk of the lives of his men

b David commanded Joab to go through Israel and number the people; but he and all the captains of the host objected to this new plan. Joab sensed the wrong in this move, but the king's word prevailed (v 2-4) c Perhaps there was more back of this desire of David to know the number of Israel (v 2). He may have had plans to enlarge his empire without consulting Jehovah. God saw fit to bring any such plans to an end immediately; and He punished David for his pride before it could lead him into ventures of conquest that would be a curse to him
e This shows that not only Joab, but all the captains of the host objected to the plan of numbering Israel. They all obeyed, however, going throughout Israel to make the count regardless of how much they opposed the idea (v 4)

i The land of Tahtim-hodshi is not known. The name could be literally translated: the lower parts of the country - where the new moon was worshipped. Like Beth-shemesh, which means House of the sun. It must have been somewhere in Gilead and toward Dan to the north where they took their next census (v 6)
j Dan-Jaan, found only here (v 6), but is the same as Laish or Dan in other scriptures. It was located in the far northern part of the land of Palestine occupied by Israel (Josh. 19:47; Judg. 18:29). It means: Dan in the wood n On the register there were 1,300,000 men - 800,000 valiant men in Israel, and 500,000 in Judah (v 9). In 1 Chr. 21:5 we have different numbers with Israel listed as 1,100,000 that drew sword, or 300,000 more than stated here. Evidently these additional ones were not valiant men as the 800,000 of v 9, Judah is listed as having 470,000 that drew sword, in 1 Chr. 21:5, or 30,000 less than the number here. Evidently the difference comes through some of this group not being valiant men also o This was always a good trait in David. When his heart smote him and he was convicted of wrong-doing he would always humble himself, acknowledge his sin, and make restitution as far as possible. He took the blame himself, never seeking to excuse himself or pass the responsibility on to others. Here, being smitten by his conscience and convicted by the Lord, he confessed his sin and prayed to be cleansed from iniquity and foolishness (v 10)

CHAPTER 24 291

X David's last sin (1 Chr. 21). 1 David commands Joab to number Israel

•AND again the [a]anger of the LORD was kindled against Is'ra-el, and he moved Dā'vid against them to say, Go, number Is'ra-el and Jū'dah.

•2 For the king said to Jō'ăb the captain of the host, which was with him, [b]Go now through all the tribes of Is'ra-el, from Dăn even to Bē'er-shē'bā, and number ye the people, [c]that I may know the number of the people.

2 Joab's faithful protest (1 Chr. 21:3)

3 And Jō'ăb said unto the king, Now the LORD thy God add unto the people, how many soever they be, an hundredfold, and that the eyes of my lord the king may see it: [d]but why doth my lord the king delight in this thing?

3 Numbering of Israel (1 Chr. 21:4)

4 Notwithstanding the king's word prevailed against Jō'ăb, and [e]against the captains of the host. And Jō'ăb and the captains of the host went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Is'ra-el.

5 ¶ And they [f]passed [g]over Jôr'dan, and pitched in Ar'ō-ēr, on the right side of the city that lieth in the midst of the [h]river of Gād, and toward Jā'zēr:

6 Then they came to Gĭl'e-ād, and to [i]the land of Täh'tim-hŏd'shī; and they came [j]to Dăn-jā'an, and about to Zī'dŏn,

7 And came to the [k]strong hold of Tyre, and to [l]all the cities of the Hi'vites, and of the Cā'năan-ites: and they went out to the south of Jū'dah, even to Bē'er-shē'bā.

8 So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Jē-rū'sā-lĕm [m]at the end of nine months and twenty days.

4 Total: 1,300,000 valiant men (1 Chr. 21:5)

9 And Jō'ăb gave up the [n]sum of the number of the people unto the king: and there were in Is'ra-el eight hundred thousand valiant men that drew the sword; and the men of Jū'dah were five hundred thousand men.

5 David's repentance (1 Chr. 21:7-8. Cp. 2 Sam. 12; Ps. 21)

10 ¶ And Dā'vid's [o]heart smote him after that he had numbered the people. And Dā'vid said unto the LORD, I have sinned greatly in that I have done: and now, I beseech thee, O LORD, take away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done [p]very foolishly.

•11 For when Dā'vid was [q]up in the morning, the word of the LORD came unto the [r]prophet Gād, [s]Dā'vid's seer, saying,

6 God offers David a choice of 3 punishments (1 Chr. 21:9)

•12 [t]Go and say unto Dā'vid, Thus saith the LORD, I offer thee three things; choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

13 So Gād came to Dā'vid, and told him, and [u]said unto him, [v]Shall seven years of famine come unto thee in thy land? or wilt thou flee three months before thine enemies, while they pursue thee? or that there be three days' pestilence in thy land? now advise, and see what answer I shall return to him that sent me.

7 David chooses to fall into God's hand (1 Chr. 21:13)

14 And Dā'vid said unto Gād, I am in a great strait: [w]let us fall now into the hand of the LORD; for his mercies are great: [x]and let me not fall into the hand of man.

8 Seventy thousand men die by a plague (1 Chr. 21:14)

15 ¶ So the LORD [y]sent a pestilence upon Is'ra-el [z]from the morning even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from Dăn even to Bē'er-shē'bā [a]seventy thousand men.

9 God has mercy on Jerusalem (1 Chr. 21:15)

•16 And [b]when the angel stretched out his hand upon Jē-rū'sā-lĕm to destroy it, the LORD [c]repented him of the evil, and said to [d]the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough: stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD was by the threshingplace of Ā-rau'nah the Jĕb'u-site.

10 David sees the destroying angel: prays for mercy (1 Chr. 21:16)

17 And Dā'vid [e]spake unto the LORD when he saw the angel that smote the people, and said, Lo, [f]I have sinned, and I have done wickedly: [g]but [h]these sheep, [i]what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, [j]be against me, and against my father's house.

11 David buys the temple site and makes atonement and the plague is stayed (1 Chr. 21:18-27; 2 Chr. 3:1)

•18 ¶ And Gād came [k]that day to Dā'vid, and [l]said unto him, Go up, rear an altar unto the LORD in the threshingfloor of Ā-rau'nah [m]the Jĕb'u-site.

19 And Dā'vid, according to the saying of Gād, [n]went up as the LORD commanded.

20 And Ā-rau'nah [o]looked, [p]and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him: and Ā-rau'nah went out, and bowed himself before the king on his face upon the ground.

21 And Ā-rau'nah [q]said, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his servant? And Dā'vid said, [r]To buy the threshingfloor of thee, to build an altar unto the LORD, that the plague

2 Choose one of them, and I will do it

2 Fleeing 3 months before your enemies
3 Pestilence in the land for 3 days
c Questions 121-123, Next, v 17
d David said what any sensible man would say who knew God and His dealings. The king chose the last of the three offers - 3 days of pestilence, preferring to fall into the hands of God whose mercies are great, and not into the hands of men who show no mercy (v 14). Though it was soon over, 70,000 men died of the plague. How many would have perished in either one of the other two offers cannot be estimated, but no doubt many more than through the pestilence and the suffering would have lasted much longer e David had been in the hands of Saul for years and more recently in flight from Absalom; now he could not bear the thought of being in the hands of man again, so he cast himself upon the mercy of God (v 14)
f Here is an example of the Lord being reported as doing something when in reality He only commanded it to be done. An angel was used to execute the command (v 16). Hundreds of times intelligent agents have been sent to do the Divine will and such instances are spoken of as God being the doer of the deeds
g The plague began in the morning and was to continue 3 days and 3 nights to make the full 3 days of v 13
h Why 70,000 is not explained, and what connection with wrong they had, if any, is not given; so we must accept the account as plain facts of history without any spiritual significance other than the many lessons we can derive from the story (v 15)
i The angel had already gone throughout the land from Dan to Beer-sheba or from north to south, and now a special judgment seems to have been ready for Jerusalem - to destroy it; but when God saw the city, His beloved city, which He had chosen for His headquarters on earth as a place to live and operate through His chosen people, and furthermore, when He saw the great destruction all over the land, He did not desire to continue the curse. He repented (changed His mind) of doing any more evil of destruction, and called to the angel saying: It is enough: stay now your hand (v 16)
j See note u, Gen. 6:6
k One angel, not many. One angel slew 185,000 men of war in one night (2 Chr. 32:21; Isa. 37:36), so angels must be powerful and swift beings may be stayed from the people.

22 And Á-ra̱u'nah said unto Dá'vid, Let my lord the king take and offer up what seemeth good unto him: behold, here be oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing instruments and other instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 [b]All these things did Á-ra̱u'nah, as a king, give unto the king. And Á-ra̱u'nah said unto the king, The LORD thy God accept thee.

24 And the king said unto Á-ra̱u'nah, [c]Nay; but I will surely buy it of thee at a price: neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the LORD my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So Dá'vid bought the threshingfloor and the oxen[b] for fifty shekels of silver.

25 And Dá'vid[c] built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD was intreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Ĭs'ra-el.

a Araunah, Jehovah is firm (v 16-24). Called Ornan (1 Chr. 21:15-28; 2 Chr. 3:1). He was one of the unknown number of Jebusites who were left in Jerusalem when David took the city and made it his capital (2 Sam. 5:6-12). David could have driven every one of the Jebusites out or killed them all; and it would have been legal according to the laws of conquest given to Israel. Therefore, Araunah and all his people owed their very lives to David's generosity. He offered the king the place, oxen for sacrifices, and wood from the threshing instruments to burn, after seeing the angel (v 22-23; 1 Chr. 21:20)

b This should read: All this, O King, Araunah is giving to the king (v 23)

The Davidic covenant (7:1)

This chapter records the Davidic covenant promising David an eternal seed and throne, as the 12th, 15th, and 17th chapters of Genesis record the Abrahamic covenant promising an eternal seed and land. Both covenants are conditional upon faith and obedience to God. Many call them unconditional but this can be true only in the sense that the benefits promised are not earned by works. Like the gospel of today, one does not earn salvation by works (Eph. 2:8-9), yet no man receives benefits without obedience in the initial as well as the final stage of salvation (1 Jn. 1:7). The whole gospel program of requirements is that of obedience and living soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world (2 Cor. 5:17-18; 7:1; Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 12:14; 1 Jn. 1:7). If these covenants were entirely unconditional and Israel did not have to obey God to receive their benefits, then why are they not blessed according to these benefits now? The people to whom they were promised went into sin, apostasy, captivity, and dispersion and will not receive fulfillment of the promises until they are regathered in repentance and obedience to God (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). God plainly said to David concerning his son, If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men. This is what happened. His sons and all Israel sinned and they are now in the process of chastening. See the many scriptures proving a regathering and conversion of Israel in the latter days under the Messiah in Anglo-Saxon theory notes, p. 367 See covenants 6 and 14, p. 57-58

David's desire to build a house for God (7:2)

David had just moved into the house of cedar which Hiram of Tyre had built for him (v 2; 5:10-12). Seeing the contrast between his beautiful home and the tent where God dwelled between the cherubims on the ark (v 2), he spoke out of his heart to Nathan the prophet, that he desired to build a permanent house for God. Nathan encouraged him to do all that was in his heart (v 2-7). This was the first conception of the beautiful temple of Solomon, which David got the plans for and saved materials for during many years, but was forbidden to build because of being a man of war and one who had shed much blood (5:1-5; 8:16-19; 1 Chr. 17:4-15; 22:7-16)

14 predictions of Nathan (7:10)

1 I (God) will appoint a place for My people Israel (v 10)
2 I will plant them in the land
3 They shall dwell in their own place
4 They shall move no more
5 The children of wickedness shall not afflict them anymore as before
6 I will make you a house (v 11)
7 You will die and sleep with your fathers, but I will set up your seed after you on your throne (v 12) name 8 He shall build a house for My 9 I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever (v 13)
10 I will be his father, and he shall be My son (v 14)
11 If he commits iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men
12 My mercy shall not fully depart from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I put away before you (v 15)
13 Your house and your kingdom shall be established forever before you (v 16) forever
14 Your throne will be established

Israel's millennial land (7:10)

This refers to the final appointment of the promised land to all the house of Israel, at the 2nd advent of Christ. From then on they will dwell in their own place and move no more; neither shall the wicked afflict them anymore (v 10). One reading of this should be sufficient to make it clear that this has a future fulfillment; furthermore, many other prophecies state the time of such fulfillment. God did appoint them the promised land (Gen. 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:7-8; 26:3-4; 28:4, 13-15; 35:11-12); and plant them in this land twice: first, in the settlement of the land under Moses and Joshua (Num. 32; Josh. 13:1-21:45); second, after the captivities to Assyria and Babylon (Ezra, Nehemiah, and Haggai). They sinned after the first settlement until God had to remove them (2 Kl. 17 and 24). Then they sinned after the second settlement until He had to remove them again and scatter them among the other nations (Dan. 9:26-27; Mt. 23:37-39; 24:2-3; Lk. 21:20-24). God has predicted that He will make for them a second regathering and final appointment and settlement of the land when they shall move no more; and wicked men will not afflict them anymore, as before (v 10; Dt. 4:25-30; 30:1-10; Isa. 11:10-16; 60:8-22; 66:19-21; Jer. 3:14-25; 16:14-21; 23:3-8; 30:1-24; 31:18-40; 32:37-44; 33:6-26; Ezek. 11:17-21; 20:33-44; 34:11-31; 36:1-37:28; Mt. 24:31)

15 steps in Absalom's rebellion (15:1)

1 He prepared chariots and horses and 50 men to run before him (v 1)
2 Arose early and stood in the way of the gate (v 2)
3 Every man who came to David for justice was approached and the cause of his coming to the king inquired about. Absalom would flatter the man and tell him his cause was just but that there was no one appointed by the king to give him justice. Then Absalom would declare that if he were king he would see to it that everyone received justice (v 2-4)
4 He posed as the real lover and champion of the people, kissing every man who came to him, thus stealing the hearts of the people of Israel (v 5-6)
5 He begged leave of David to go to Hebron that he might pay vows to God and serve the Lord, as he had promised while in exile (v 7-8)
6 He set up headquarters in Hebron and sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying: As soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then you shall say that Absalom reigns in Hebron (v 10)
7 He took 200 men from Jerusalem to help him, but kept all plans secret from them (v 11)
8 He sent for Ahithophel, David's counsellor and the grandfather of Bathsheba whom David had committed sin with. He was now ready to turn against David to avenge the harm done to his son's family. The conspiracy was then strong enough to cause David much trouble (v 12)
9 Absalom and the rebels with him marched on Jerusalem to take over the city (16:15-19)
10 He asked counsel of Ahithophel who advised him to go unto his father's concubines so that all Israel would know that he was abhorred by his father; then all followers would be strong for him (16:20-21)
11 He went in unto his father's concubines, as advised (16:22-23)
12 Asked counsel of Ahithophel and Hushai regarding the next step to take in the rebellion (17:1-14)
13 Mobilized all Israel (17:11-14)
14 Pursued David across Jordan and camped in the land of Gilead (17:24-26)
15 Fought David and his men in mount Ephraim and was killed, thus ending the rebellion (18:1-18)

David's mistake (14:32)

Here Absalom confessed that coming home to a partially unforgiving father to live year after year without even seeing him was a miserable life (v 32). What David hoped to gain by this stubbornness we do not know. It estranged his son from himself permanently and eventually caused the greatest trouble of his career. This should be a lesson to all parents who are called upon to forgive wayward children. Forgiveness should be wholehearted and complete, not in word only with the heart remaining reserved and implacable

Men classed as sheep (24:17)

David was the first man in Scripture to refer to men as sheep (v 17; 1 Chr. 21:17; Ps. 23). No doubt the reference came from the fact that he was such a good shepherd and sheep were the greatest part of his life as a boy (1 Sam. 16:11, 19; 17:15, 34; 2 Sam. 7:8). It was natural, therefore, to cry out to God on this occasion to spare these sheep (v 17). Nathan made a reference to sheep but it is supposed that David's use of the term as men, in Ps. 23 and elsewhere, was before this

10 men classed their kind as sheep:

1 David (v 17; 1 Chr. 21:17; Ps. 23; 119:176)
2 An unknown author (Ps. 44:11; 49:14; 95:7; 100:3)
3 Asaph (Ps. 74:1; 78:52; 79:13)
4 Isaiah (Isa. 53:6-7; Acts 8:32)

a David objected to Araunah giving him something without price, for he had indeed sinned, and Jehovah had commanded him to offer sacrifices at this very place (v 18)

b 50 shekels would be only $32.00 at 64¢ a shekel. This was only the earnest money until he could pay the whole price, for 1 Chr. 21:25 says he bought it for 600 shekels of gold, which at $9.69 1/2 in our money would make the total purchase price $5,817.00. The ground no doubt was that of the entire temple area, about 8 acres. We might say he paid $32.00 for the threshing-floor (Heb. goren, v 24), and $5,817.00 for the whole place (Heb. magom, 1 Chr. 21:25) c He built an altar (v 25), and Solomon built the temple there (2 Chr. 3:1-2)

Author: Samuel, David, Nathan, and Gad no doubt kept the original records from which Isaiah compiled the book about 743-693 B.C.

Proof of authorship: It is necessary to treat the two books as one because, in the Hebrew canon and early editions of the Hebrew text, the two were one. The division came with the Septuagint translators about 289-94 B.C. and this has been followed in all editions since then. Samuel perhaps wrote 1 Sam. 1-24; David, Nathan, and Gad, 1 Sam. 25-2 Sam. 24 (1 Sam. 10:25; 1 Chr. 29:29). There is a reference to the book of Jasher in 2 Sam. 1:18, which may have also been used in the final writing of the book of Isaiah, who wrote the history of the kings of Judah and Israel (2 Chr. 32:32, note)

Date and place: the records which make up 1 and 2 Samuel were written by Samuel, David, Nathan, and Gad from 1204-1035 B.C. in Palestine, but were perhaps finally made into one book by Isaiah the prophet, about 743-693 B.C. He perhaps compiled Judges, Ruth, 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles in their final form, according to 2 Chr. 32:32, note

Theme: In 1 Samuel we have the record of the failure of Israel under Eli, Saul, and Samuel, and in 2 Samuel we have the record of the restoration of order in Israel through David, the choice of God as ruler of His people, the full establishment of the kingdom of Israel with Jerusalem as the political and religious center (1:1-6:23), the making of the Davidic covenant as the basis of all earthly kingdom truth (7:1-29), the full conquest of the enemies of Israel (3:1; 5:17-25; 8:1-10:19), David's sin and repentance (11:1-12:31), family troubles of David (13:1-14:33), rebellion of Absalom (15:1-19:43), and the last days of David (20:1-24:25)

Purpose: see the Summary of 1 Samuel

Statistics: 10th book of the Bible; 24 chapters; 695 verses; 20,612 words; 125 questions 679 verses of history; 9 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 7 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 11 distinct messages from God (2:1, 2; 5:19, 23; 7:4; 12:1, 7; 21:1; 24:11, 16, 18); 70 commands; 25 predictions; and 13 promises

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE KINGS

COMMONLY CALLED

[a]THE THIRD BOOK OF THE KINGS

Reign of Solomon - Building the Temple - Final Division of the Kingdom - Kings of Judah and Israel
Seven Wars in 116 Years - Ministry of Elijah

a The one scroll of Kings, as in the ancient Hebrew Bibles, was divided into two books or scrolls by the Septuagint translators in the 3rd century B.C. The books are named for their contents - the history of the kings of Israel and Judah from Solomon to the Babylonian captivity, a period of 413 years. They begin with a record concerning king David and end with one regarding the king of Babylon. They open with an account of the building of the temple and close with its destruction. They begin with the story of David's first successor and end with the last one released from captivity. The characters of all the kings of Israel and Judah are tested by the standard of David b Now - And, indicating that the writer considered his work the continuation of a preceding history

c The term king David occurs 14 times in 2 Samuel and 9 times in 1 Kings. The first king of Israel, Saul, is not once mentioned in 1 and 2 Kings - as if he never existed. David and Solomon, the other two kings of Israel before the division of the kingdom are mentioned 241 times. After the division there were 20 kings of Judah (see list, p. 60) and 19 kings of Israel or Ephraim 19 kings of Israel:

1 Jeroboam (1 Ki. 12:20)
2 Nadab (14:20)

6 Omri (16:16)
7 Ahab (16:28)
8 Ahaziah (22:40)
9 Jehoram or Joram (2 Ki. 3:1) 10 Jehu (9:6)
11 Jehoahaz (13:1)
12 Jehoash (13:10)
13 Jeroboam II (14:22)

16 Menahem (15:17)
17 Pekahiah (15:23)

12 Sennacherib, of Assyria (18:13)
13 Tirhakah, of Ethiopia (19:9)
14 Pharaoh-nechoh, of Egypt (23:29)
15 Nebuchadnezzar, of Babylon (24:10-20; 25:1-30)

Besides these, a number of kings of Syria, Moab, Edom, and other countries, and the queen of Sheba are mentioned in these books, which can rightly be called the books of kings

d Old, about 70 years of age. He was made king at the age of 30 (2 Sam. 5:4) and reigned 40 years (2 Sam. 2:11; 5:5; 1 Chr. 3:4)

e Stricken in years was formerly said of people over 80 years of age (Gen. 18:11; 24:1; Josh. 13:1; 23:1); but Jews at this time did not live long. No Jewish king after David lived more than 60 years

g His advisors, probably those looking after his health. They advised that he take a virgin as his wife to wait on him, cherish him, and lie in his bosom so that he could get warmth (v 2). They sought a beautiful, young damsel throughout all Israel and when they brought her to him she ministered unto (nursed) the king; but he had no sexual relations with her (v 3-4)

I Last days of David (1:1-2:11. Cp. 2 Sam. 23:1; 1 Chr. 28:1). 1 David's declining strength

[b]NOW [c]king Dā'vid was [d]old and [e]stricken in years; and they covered him [f]with clothes, but he gat no heat.

2 Wherefore his [g]servants said unto him, Let there be sought for my lord the king a young virgin: and let her stand before the king, and let her cherish him, and let her lie in thy bosom, that my lord the king may get heat.

3 So they sought for a fair damsel throughout all the coasts of Iṣ'ra-el, and found Ăb'ī-shăg a Shu'nam-mīte, and brought her to the king.

4 And the damsel was very fair, and cherished the king, and ministered to him: but the king knew her not.

2 Adonijah plots to seize the kingdom of David

5 ¶[h]Then Ăd-o-nī'jah the son of Hăg'gĭth exalted himself, saying, [i]I will be king: and he prepared him chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him.

6 And his father had not displeased him at any time in saying, [j]Why hast thou done so? and he also was a very goodly man; and his mother bare him after Ăb'sa-lŏm.

7 And he conferred with Jō'ăb the son of Zĕr-ụ-ī'ah, and with Ă-bī'a-thär the priest: and they following Ăd-o-nī'jah helped him.

8 But Zā'dŏk the priest, and Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dă, and Nā'than the prophet, and Shĭm'e-ī, and Rē'ī, and the mighty men which belonged to Dā'vid, were not with Ăd-o-nī'jah.

9 And Ăd-o-nī'jah slew sheep and oxen and fat cattle by the stone of Zō'he-lĕth, which is by Ĕn-rō'gel, and called all his brethren the king's sons, and all the men of Jū'dah the king's servants:

3 Counter-plot of Nathan and Bath-sheba

10 But [k]Nā'than the prophet, and [l]Bĕ-nā'iah, and the mighty men, [m]and Sŏl'o-mon his brother he called not.

11 ¶ Wherefore [n]Nā'than spake unto Băth'-shĕ-bă the mother of Sŏl'o-mon, saying, [o]Hast thou not heard that Ăd-o-nī'jah the son of Hăg'gĭth doth reign, [p]and Dā'vid our lord knoweth it not?

●12 [q]Now therefore come, let me, I pray thee, give thee counsel, that thou mayest save thine own life and the life of thy son Sŏl'o-mon.

●13 [r]Go and get thee in unto king Dā'vid, and say unto him, Didst [s]not thou, my lord, O king, swear unto thine handmaid, [t]saying, Assuredly Sŏl'o-mon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? why then doth Ăd-o-nī'jah reign?

▸14 Behold, [u]while thou yet talkest there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and confirm thy words.

4 Bath-sheba reminds David of his promise concerning Solomon (2 Sam. 12:24-25)

15 ¶ And [v]Băth'-shĕ-bă went in unto the king into the chamber: and the king was very old; and Ăb'ī-shăg the Shu'nam-mīte ministered unto the king.

16 And Băth'-shĕ-bă bowed, and did obeisance unto the king. And the king said, [w]What wouldest thou?

17 And she said unto him, My lord, thou swarest by the LORD thy God unto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Sŏl'o-mon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne.

18 And now, behold, Ăd-o-nī'jah reigneth; and now, my lord the king, thou knowest it not:

19 And he hath slain oxen and fat cattle and sheep in abundance, and hath called all the sons of the king, and Ă-bī'a-thär the priest, and Jō'ăb the captain of the host: but Sŏl'o-mon thy servant hath he not called.

20 And thou, my lord, O king, the eyes of all Iṣ'ra-el are upon thee, that thou shouldest tell them who shall sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21 Otherwise it shall come to pass, when my lord the king shall sleep with his fathers, that I and my son Sŏl'o-mon shall be counted offenders.

5 Nathan confirms the plea of Bath-sheba

22 ¶ And, lo, [x]while she yet talked with the king, Nā'than the prophet also came in.

23 And they told the king, saying, Behold Nā'than the prophet. And when he was come in before the king, he bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground.

24 And Nā'than said, My lord, O king, [y]hast thou said, Ăd-o-nī'jah shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne?

25 For he is gone down this day, and hath slain oxen and fat cattle and sheep in abundance, and hath called all the king's sons, and the captains of the host, and Ă-bī'a-thär the priest; and, behold, they eat and drink before him, and say, God save king Ăd-o-nī'jah.

26 But me, even me thy servant, and Zā'dŏk the priest, and a Questions 3-4. Next, v 16

b Just when this vow was made to Bath-sheba is not stated. It could have been after the death of their first child who was born as the result of their sin, or after the birth of Solomon. We may be sure that Bath-sheba got the promise from David at the opportune time (v 13, 17; 28-30) c This was part of the plot to move David to act at once in making Solomon king. Everything was timed perfectly and the plan was successful (v 14, 22) d Bath-sheba now went before the king to carry out her part of the plan. She came right to the point regarding what he had promised her about making Solomon king, making known to him the plot of Adonijah and the danger that she and her son were in at that moment (v 15-21)

e Question 5. Next, v 24

f While Bath-sheba was speaking to David about his promise to make Solomon king, Nathan, the prophet came in to confirm the need for making it known now who should become king in his place. He also came to the point immediately regarding Adonijah, speaking of his plot, and the ones he had not called to the feast, inquiring whether the king was co-operating in such matters without his knowledge, and if David had said Adonijah was to reign after him (v 22-27) his sons, exalted himself to be king, preparing chariots, horsemen, and 50 men to run before him. His father did not object, so he thought it was by the king's approval (v 5-6). He conferred with Joab, the commander of David's army, and Abiathar, the priest, and they helped him in his plan (v 7-8)

i He was the 4th son of David, and perhaps the eldest son alive at this time, as Amnon and Absalom were dead (2 Sam. 13-18). Chileab, the 2nd son may have been dead also (2 Sam. 3:2-4). Adonijah, therefore, could have followed his rights in this action, as far as being the eldest son alive; but he did not take into consideration the promise of David to Bath-sheba, the mother of Solomon. She had been wronged by David causing her to commit adultery, and by her husband, Uriah the Hittite, being murdered. The child of her sin with David had died, so on the birth of Solomon she desired a promise that her son would be king instead of an elder son of David by some other wife (v 11-13, 17, 28-30)

j Question 1. Next, v 11

m Adonijah evidently knew of David's promise to Bath-sheba, or he would have called Solomon to the feast also (v 10 with v 13, 17, 28-30) n Nathan, the prophet took the initiative in making Solomon king, thinking of his own safety as well as that of others whom Adonijah did not call to the feast (v 11-12). Should he become king their lives would be in danger, as would be the lives of those who co-operated with Adonijah in the event that Solomon became king, as is clear from subsequent events (2:12-46)

p Either David did not know that Adonijah was actually on the verge of proclaiming himself king, or Nathan did not realize that David knew some of the plans, according to v 6

q Nathan's plan to get the throne for Solomon is here outlined as carried out during the feast of Adonijah who also sought the throne (v 12-53)

r The plan was that Bath-sheba should go to David and ask him to fulfil his promise of many years before, that Nathan should come in at the opportune time to confirm her plea, and that they should both reveal the plot of Adonijah, insisting that David act at once to make Solomon king (v 13-35) a Solomon was born soon after the first child of David and Bath-sheba died (2 Sam. 12:24). He must have been a teenager at this time, or perhaps 20 years of age

b Question 7. Next, v 47

c Then - after both Bath-sheba and Nathan, the prophet had informed David of the plot of Adonijah to make himself king, he called for Bath-sheba who came and stood in the king's presence again. Evidently she had retired when Nathan came in so as to give him undisturbed audience with the king (v 28)

d David now renewed the vow he had made to her perhaps when Solomon was born; it was at that time Nathan blessed the child and he was given a name indicating that the Lord loved him (2 Sam. 12:24-25)

e As the Lord liveth was the most common oath among the Israelites, being found over 40 times in Scripture. As my soul, or thy soul liveth was another common expression used in making oaths. See Note b, 2 Sam. 4:9

f David acknowledged that he had made such an oath to Bath-sheba, and now planned to fulfil it immediately (v 30)

g Then - when David gave assurance of the fulfillment of his oath to Bath-sheba, she bowed to the earth before him acknowledging his favor (v 31)

h 6 acts of David making Solomon king:
1 Promising this day to fulfil his oath to Bath-sheba (v 29-30)
2 Commanding that Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah be called (v 32)
3 Commanding them to take his servants with them and cause Solomon to ride upon his own mule, and bring him down to Gihon (v 33)
4 Commanding Nathan, the prophet to anoint Solomon king over Israel (v 34)
5 Commanding the trumpet to be blown and instructing him to say: God save king Solomon
6 Commanding Nathan and the others to come up from Gihon after Solomon who should sit upon the throne in his stead (v 35)

i Jewish tradition says that it meant death to ride upon the mule of David without permission, so it was therefore evident to everybody that Solomon was to succeed David with his sanction, when he came riding thus (v 33)

j Gihon was probably the ancient name of the valley that ran from the Damascus gate by Siloam, into the Kidron vale, having the temple hill on the left and Zion or the ancient city of the Jebusites on the right. Here was the upper source of the waters of Gihon which Hezekiah stopped in his day

k Inauguration into each of the 3 offices - prophet, priest, and king - was by anointing with oil

l David's subjects here are called Israel (v 34), and in v 35 they are referred to as Israel and Judah. The term Judah as distinct from Israel was thus used before the division of the kingdom at the end of Solomon's reign. Judah was emphasized because the kingly line was from the tribe of Judah. It does not mean here that they were not Israelites, or that they were the only Jews of Israel. Cp. 2 Sam. 2:9; 19:11 m This statement of Benaiah was a heartfelt expression of loyalty to Solomon, and was, in a sense, prophetical of the greatness of Israel under Solomon (v 37)

n These Cherethites and Pelethites were the servants of David referred to in v 33

o The tabernacle that David had made for the ark of the covenant when he had it brought to Jerusalem (v 39; 2 Sam. 6:17). The holy oil was part of the equipment of the tabernacle (Ex. 31:11; 39:38)

p The pipe was the most ancient and simplest of musical instruments. It was originally merely a reed with holes perforated at certain distances apart. As its use became more general it was made with greater care, and sometimes of other materials, brass, horn, bone, or ivory. Sometimes a double pipe was used, one part being played with the right hand and the other with the left, and both uniting in the mouthpiece. The pipe was used for seasons of joy and merry making (1 Sam. 10:5; Isa. 5:12; Lk. 7:32); to enliven journeys to the great feasts (Isa. 30:29); and at Bē-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dā, and thy[q]servant Sŏl'o-mon, hath he not called.

27 [r]Is this thing done by my lord the king, and thou hast not shewed it unto thy servant, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

6 David makes Solomon king

●28 [s]Then king Dā'vid answered and said, Call me Bāth'-shĕ-bā. And she came into the king's presence, and stood before the king.

29 And the king [t]sware, and said, [u]As the LORD liveth, that hath redeemed my soul out of all distress, ▸30 [v]Even as I sware unto thee by the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, saying, Assuredly Sŏl'o-mon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne in my stead; even so will I certainly do this day.

31 [w]Then Bāth'-shĕ-bā bowed with her face to the earth, and did reverence to the king, and said, Let my lord king Dā'vid live for ever.

●32 ¶ And king Dā'vid [x]said, Call me Zā'dŏk the priest, and Nā'than the prophet, and Bē-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dā. And they came before the king.

●33 The king also said unto them, Take with you the servants of your lord, and cause Sŏl'o-mon my son to ride upon mine [y]own mule, and bring him down to [z]Gī'hon:

●34 And let Zā'dŏk the priest and Nā'than the prophet [a]anoint him there king over [b]Iş'ra-el: and blow ye with the trumpet, and say, God save king Sŏl'o-mon.

●35 Then ye shall come up after him, that he may come and sit upon my throne; for he shall be king in my stead: and I have appointed him to be ruler over Iş'ra-el and over Jū'dah.

7 Solomon anointed king (1 Chr. 23:1; 29:22; 2 Chr. 1)

36 And Bē-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dā answered the king, and said, Ā-mĕn': the LORD God of my lord the king say so too.

37 [c]As the LORD hath been with my lord the king, even so be he with Sŏl'o-mon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord king Dā'vid.

38 So Zā'dŏk the priest, and Nā'than the prophet, and Bē-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dā, and the [d]Chĕr'e-thītes, and the Pĕl'e-thītes, went down, and caused Sŏl'o-mon to ride upon king Dā'vid's mule, and brought him to Gī'hon.

39 And Zā'dŏk the priest took an horn of oil out of [e]the tabernacle, and anointed Sŏl'o-mon. And they blew the trumpet; and all the people said, God save king Sŏl'o-mon.

40 And all the people came up after him, and the people [f]piped with pipes, and rejoiced with great joy, so that the earth rent with the sound of them.

8 Adonijah's submission to Solomon (Cp. 1 Ki. 2:13-25)

41 ¶ [g]And Ad-o-nī'jah and all the guests that were with him heard it as they had made an end of eating. And when Jō'ăb heard the sound of the trumpet, he said, [h]Wherefore is this noise of the city being in an uproar?

●42 And while he yet spake, behold, [i]Jŏn'a-than the son of Ā-bi'a-thär the priest came: and Ad-o-nī'jah said unto him, Come in; for thou art a valiant man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Jŏn'a-than answered and said to Ad-o-nī'jah, Verily our lord king Dā'vid hath made Sŏl'o-mon king.

44 And the king hath sent with him Zā'dŏk the priest, and Nā'than the prophet, and Bē-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dā, and the Chĕr'e-thītes, and the Pĕl'e-thītes, and they have caused him to ride upon the king's mule:

45 And Zā'dŏk the priest and Nā'than the prophet have anointed him king in Gī'hon: and they are come up from thence rejoicing, so that the city rang again. This is the noise that ye have heard.

46 And also Sŏl'o-mon sitteth on the throne of the kingdom.

47 And moreover the king's servants came [j]to bless our lord king Dā'vid, saying, God make the name of Sŏl'o-mon better than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne. And the king [k]bowed himself upon the bed.

48 And also thus said the king, Blessed be the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, which hath given one to sit on my throne this day, mine eyes even seeing it.

49 And [l]all the guests that were with Ad-o-nī'jah were afraid, and rose up, and went every man his way.

50 ¶ And Ad-o-nī'jah feared because of Sŏl'o-mon, and arose, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

51 And it was told Sŏl'o-mon, saying, Behold, Ad-o-nī'jah feareth king Sŏl'o-mon: for, lo, he hath caught hold on the horns of the altar, saying, Let king Sŏl'o-mon swear unto me to day that he will not slay his servant with the sword.

52 And Sŏl'o-mon said, [m]If he will shew himself a worthy man, there shall not an hair of him fall to the earth: but if wickedness shall be found in him, he shall die.

●53 So king Sŏl'o-mon sent, and they brought him down from the altar. And he came and bowed himself to king Sŏl'o-mon: and Sŏl'o-mon said unto him, Go to thine house.

293 CHAPTER 2

9 David's charge to Solomon (1 Chr. 22:6; 28:9, 20)

NOW [n]the days of Dā'vid drew nigh that he should die; and he charged Sŏl'o-mon his son, saying,

●2 I go the way of all the earth: be thou strong therefore, and a Anointing Solomon king was a great surprise to Adonijah, Joab, and the guests who had just finished their feast, and expected to anoint Adonijah king. The whole city of Jerusalem was now in an uproar, making merry because of the new king - Solomon (v 41)

b Question 8. Next, 2:13

c Jonathan, the son of Abiathar, the priest who had been plotting to make Adonijah king, came with the report that David had already made Solomon king; and he gave this as the reason for the great merry-making of the multitude in Jerusalem. He made a full report of the anointing by Nathan and Zadok, telling about the servants of David causing Solomon to ride on the mule of David, and stating that he was now sitting on David's throne of the kingdom (v 42-45). This Jonathan was David's faithful messenger of 2 Sam. 15:36; 17:17

d The blessing of David was simply that of expressing before him their wish to see Solomon's name and kingdom even greater than that of David, himself (v 47)

e This wish of his servants pleased David, so he bowed before them on the bed of old age. He used this as an occasion to bless the Lord with all his soul for giving him a successor to sit upon his throne to continue his house and kingdom (v 48)

f All the guests with Adonijah were afraid, knowing they had done wrong and were subject to punishment by the new king (v 49). They arose and every man went his way to his own house. Adonijah had a special reason for fearing Solomon, so he arose, went to the tabernacle, caught hold of the horns of the altar, and begged for his life (v 50-51). The right of asylum in sacred places was common to all nations, and though not formally declared in the Mosaic law, it was clearly recognized, as is evident in Ex. 21:14, where it is directed to be refused under certain circumstances. It would seem from the text and also from 2:28, that if an accused person could take hold of the horns of the altar he was safe unless his crime was of a horrible nature. The cities of refuge were appointed for the same purpose (Num. 35:15-32)

g Solomon's answer to the plea of his half-brother, Adonijah, was that if he showed himself worthy of being spared from death no harm would befall him; but if wickedness were found in him he should die (v 52). Solomon sent for him and when they brought him down from the altar he bowed before the new king. Solomon's compassion would not permit him to be killed; and so, he sent him to his own house (v 53)

h How long David lived after making Solomon king is not stated, but at the time he drew near death, he gave a final charge to the new king (v 1-3. Cp. Josh. 1:6-9)

i 5fold charge of David to Solomon:
1 I go the way of all the earth: be strong and show yourself a man (v 2)
2 Keep the charge of the Lord your God:
(1) Walk in His ways (v 3)
(2) Keep His statutes
(3) Keep His commandments
(4) Keep His testimonies
3 You know what Joab did to me, and to the two captains of Israel whom he slew; do therefore according to all your wisdom, and do not let his hoar head go down to sheol in peace (v 5-6)
4 Show kindness to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them eat at your table, for they came to me when I fled from Absalom, your brother (v 7)
5 You also have with you Shimei, the son of Gera, a Benjamite who cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I fled from Absalom. When I came back, after getting victory over Absalom, be begged for his life, and I promised that I would not put him to death with the sword. Now therefore, hold him not guiltless, for you are a wise man and will know what you ought to do to him. Do not let his hoar head come down to sheol in peace (v 8-9) funerals (Jer. 49:36; Mt. 9:23). Here the people were making merry and rejoicing over the fact that David had finally acted in making it known who was his choice for the next king shew[a]thyself a man;

●3 And[b]keep the charge of the LORD thy God, [c]to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Mō'şeş, [d]that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself:
★4[e]That the LORD [f]may continue his word which he spake concerning me, saying, [g]If thy children take heed to their way, to walk before me in truth[h]with all their heart and with all their soul, there shall [i]not fail thee (said he) a man on the throne of Iş'ra-el.
5 [j]Moreover thou knowest also what Jō'ăb the son of Zĕr-u-ī'ah did to me, and what he did to the[k]two captains of the hosts of Iş'ra-el, unto Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, and unto Ăm'a-sā the son of Jē'thēr, whom he slew, and shed the blood of war in peace, and put the blood of war upon his girdle that was about his loins, and in his shoes that were on his feet.
●6 Do therefore according to thy wisdom, and let not his hoar head go down to the[l]grave in peace.
●7 But shew kindness unto the sons of Bär-zil'la-ī the Gĭl'e-ăd-īte, and let them be of those that eat at thy table: for so they came to me[m]when I fled because of Ăb'sa-lŏm thy brother.
8 And, behold, thou hast with thee Shim'e-ī the son of Gē'rā, a Bĕn'ja-mīte of Bā-hū'rim, which[n]cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went to Mā-hă-nā'im: but he came down to meet me at Jôr'dan, and I sware to him by the LORD, saying, I will not put thee to death with the sword.
●9 Now therefore hold him not guiltless: for thou art a wise man, and knowest what thou oughtest to do unto him; but his hoar head bring thou down to the grave with blood.

10 Death of David (1 Chr. 29:26)

10 So Dā'vid slept with his fathers, and was buried[o]in the city of Dā'vid.
11 And the days that Dā'vid reigned over Iş'ra-el were forty years: seven years reigned he in Hē'bron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jē-ru'să-lĕm.

II Solomon's reign: 40 years (2:12-11:43; 2 Chr. 1:1-9:31).
1 Solomon's kingdom established

12 ¶Then sat Sŏl'o-mon upon the throne of Dā'vid his father; and his kingdom was established greatly.

2 Execution of Adonijah (1:5-10)

13 ¶ And[q]Ăd-o-nī'jah the son of Hăg'gĭth came to Băth'-shĕ-bà the mother of Sŏl'o-mon. And she said, [r]Comest thou peaceably? And he said, Peaceably.
14 He said moreover, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And she said, Say on.
15 And he said, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and that all Iş'ra-el set their faces on me, that I should reign: howbeit the kingdom is turned about, and is become my brother's: for [s]it was his from the LORD.
16 And now I ask one petition of thee, deny me not. And she said unto him, Say on.
17 And he said, Speak, I pray thee, unto Sŏl'o-mon the king, (for[t]he will not say thee nay,) that he give me Ăb'ī-shăg the Shu'nam-mīte to wife.
18 And Băth'-shĕ-bà said, Well; I will speak for thee unto the king.
19 ¶ Băth'-shĕ-bà therefore went unto king Sŏl'o-mon, to speak unto him for Ăd-o-nī'jah. And the king rose up to meet her, and bowed himself unto her, and sat down on his throne, and caused a seat to be set for the king's mother; [u]and she sat on his right hand.
20 Then she said, I desire one small petition of thee; I pray thee, say me not nay. And the king said unto her, Ask on, my mother: [v]for I will not say thee nay.
21 And she said, Let Ăb'ī-shăg the [w]Shu'nam-mīte be given to Ăd-o-nī'jah thy brother to wife.
22 And king Sŏl'o-mon answered and said unto his mother, [x]And why dost thou ask Ăb'ī-shăg the Shu'nam-mīte for Ăd-o-nī'jah? ask for him the kingdom also; for he is mine elder brother; even for him, and for Ă-bī'a-thär the priest, and for Jō'ăb the son of Zĕr-u-ī'ah.
23[y]Then king Sŏl'o-mon sware by the LORD, saying, God do so to me, and more also, if Ăd-o-nī'jah have not spoken this word against his own life.
24 Now therefore, as the Lord liveth, which hath[z]established me, and set me on the throne of Dā'vid my father, and who hath made me an house, as he promised, Ăd-o-nī'jah shall be put to death this day.
25 And king Sŏl'o-mon sent by the hand of Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dà; and he fell upon him that he died.

3 Abiathar removed from the priesthood, fulfilling 1 Sam. 2:31-36. Cp. 1 Sam. 4:11

●26 ¶ And unto Ă-bī'a-thär the priest said the king, [a]Get thee to [b]Ăn'a-thŏth, unto thine own fields; for thou art worthy of death: but I will not at this time put thee to death, because thou barest the ark of the Lord GOD before Dā'vid my father, and because thou hast been afflicted in all wherein my father was afflicted.
27 So Sŏl'o-mon thrust out Ă-bī'a-thär from being priest unto the LORD; that he might fulfil the word of the LORD, which he spake concerning the house of Ē'lī in Shī'lōh.

4 Execution of Joab (2:5-6) a Being strong and showing himself a man was good advice for Solomon, the peace-loving man, and so it is for all others (v 2) b The most important advice in this charge to Solomon was that he keep the charge of the Lord his God (v 3) c 5fold charge of God to men (v 3):

1 To walk in His ways
2 To keep His statutes
3 To keep His commandments
4 To keep His judgments
5 To keep His testimonies - not as man might like to keep them, but as they are written in the law of Moses. See underlined words in Index 3-4):
d 3 reasons for keeping God's charge (v
1 That you may prosper in all you do
2 That you may prosper wherever you go
3 That the Lord may continue His word e 1st prophecy in 1 Ki, (2:4, unfulfilled), Next, 3:11. This prediction was based upon obedience; and it was fulfilled for a time; but when sin came the throne and kingdom of David were cut off. It will be fulfilled to the letter in all eternity when David's seed, the Messiah shall come to fulfil obedience and re-establish the throne of David and his kingdom (v 4; Isa. 9:6-7; Mt. 25:31-46; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10) f David had a thorough knowledge of God and knew that He was not under obligation to continue His word with anyone who sinned and failed to keep it, as in note c, above. The idea of being once in God's favor, always in His favor unconditionally is not taught throughout Scripture. Israel is an outstanding example of men being cut off from His grace if they persist in sin and rebellion. Over 4, 000 years of history showing failures and judgments upon this one nation should be convincing to us. If anyone could sin and remain in God's grace, certainly His special chosen people could do so; and yet, they were cut off under grace the last time, and not under law (Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11). See Backsliding in Index
g Note that the conditions of continued grace and blessing were the same in the O. T. under law as required now under grace since the law - If your children take heed to their way, to walk before Me in truth with all their heart, and with all their soul (v 4; 2 Sam. 7). See conditions of God for the present, p. 237; p. 284 of N. T. h This is the same as the first and great commandment, as taught by Jesus Christ in Mt. 22:37

i See Conditions of blessing, p. 364 j 3 charges concerning 3 persons:
1 Joab - the commander of David's armies whom, it seems, David did not have the boldness to punish properly, due to his own sins which Joab was a party to. He co-operated with David in the matter of Uriah, the Hittite and this apparently was a threat to David ever afterward. The two great sins of Joab were the killings of two innocent men - rivals to the position which he held in David's kingdom (2 Sam. 3:27-39; 20:4-12), Abner and Amasa. For this he was to be punished by Solomon (v 5-6)
2 Barzillai, who showed kindness to David when he fled from Absalom. He was now to be rewarded by Solomon showing kindness to his sons (v 7)
3 Shimei, who cursed David when he fled from Absalom. He was to be punished even though David had forgiven him and spared his life (v 8-9)

o Burying place of David, p. 366 p Then - after the death of David, Solomon sat upon the throne of David, his father, and his kingdom was greatly established (v 12) q Here Adonijah came into the picture again to his own destruction. He requested of Bath-sheba, Solomon's mother, that she speak to her son regarding Abishag, the young widow of David, that she should become his wife (v 13-18). This cost Adonijah his life (v 19-25)
r Question 9, Next, v 22

a Adonijah acknowledged that the people wanted him, but Solomon was the Lord's choice for king (v 15) b In this Adonijah was mistaken, for Solomon had the greatest respect and love for his father; and it was not customary to give the father's wives to another. Solomon took that request as a great insult to David, and put Adonijah to death (v 23-25). Kings' wives either became widows for the rest of their lives, or became the wives of the deceased monarch's successor (2 Sam. 12:8; 16:22). Public opinion so closely connected the title of the crown and the possession of a deceased king's wives that, to have granted Adonijah's request would have encouraged his pretension of being king. Solomon, knowing this, assumed that Adonijah cherished a guilty purpose, that there had been a fresh plot to get the kingdom for himself, and that Abiathar and Joab, Adonijah's counsellors in the former conspiracy, were parties to a new plan to sieze the throne. He considered the severest measures necessary to crush the new treason. This is why Solomon said to his mother, who evidently saw no harm in the request, that she might as well ask for the kingdom also, for Adonijah as well as Abiathar, and Joab (v 22). For another reason this request was sinful according to the customs: the oriental mind held the monarch as very sacred, and whatever was brought near him was set apart from common use. This especially held true in the matter of the royal harem. Hence, for Adonijah to ask for one of David's widows who now belonged to the new king was like asking Solomon for one of his own wives. Either way it was unpardonable and could only be satisfied by the death penalty. Solomon therefore commanded Benaiah to slay Adonijah. To Abiathar, the priest and one of the plotters with Adonijah he said: You go to Anathoth to your own fields: you are also worthy of death, but I will not execute you now because of your position of carrying the ark of the Lord before David, my father, and because you suffered much with him in all his afflictions. He spared his life for his past help to David, but took away his priestly office (v 26-27). Regarding Joab, the other plotter to sieze the kingdom, Solomon commanded that he should be executed (v 28-34). The fact that both Abiathar and Joab were judged at this time strongly suggests that back of the request of Adonijah was a new plot to sieze the kingdom. The statement in v 22 linking them with Adonijah and his desire for the kingdom also indicates it. Thus ended all possibility of a revolt for the time being. These men may have thought that such a young king, of perhaps 20 years of age, would be easily deposed c Here we have an example of the high dignity of a queen-mother (v 19; 15:13; 2 Ki. 11:1-3) d When Solomon said this he was not aware of the nature of the request, so promised to grant it. Since it proved to be something he could not grant and something she would not have asked had she understood its meaning fully, the request had to be refused (v 20)
e 2 Shunamites and 1 Shulamite:
1 The wife of David (1:3, 15; 2:17-22)
2 A woman Elisha blessed (2 Ki. 4:12-36)
3 The virgin Solomon sought to win as his queen, without success (Song 6:13)

f Question 10, Next, v 42
g Then - when Solomon saw the motive back of this request and the danger he was in if he did not take quick action, he swore by the Lord that he would bring this effort to a halt and deliver himself and his kingdom from further plots (v 23-36)
h The establishment of his kingdom, as here and in v 12, merely means his acceptance by all Israel as their king i This removal of Abiathar from the priesthood was a definite fulfillment of the cutting off of the house of Eli (v 27; 1 Sam. 2:31-36). Here we have the fulfillment of God's rejection of the house of Ithamar (1 Chr. 24:3), to which Eli belonged, and the re-establishment of the high-priesthood in the line of Eleazar j This is where Jeremiah came from (v 26; Jer. 1:1. Cp. Josh. 21:18) a Then - when Joab heard that Adonijah had been executed and that his own life was in danger for turning after the man, he fled to the tabernacle and caught hold of the horns of the altar, as Adonijah had done and as recorded in 1:50 (v 28). When king Solomon knew of this he sent Benaiah to execute him. Joab refused to come forth, requesting to be killed at the altar. Solomon then gave word that it should be done (v 29-31)

b See note f, 1:49

c One of the things we wonder about is why some men of Bible accounts were so willing to give up their lives without resistance or flight. It seems they would have tried to flee in an effort to save themselves; but it may be that they knew of no country around which would receive them. Israel had fought with so many nations and had so many enemies that perhaps they believed it would be useless to flee. Then, too, the customs and long practices of men made them resigned, no doubt, to face death under certain circumstances. In the case of Joab, he simply decided to die at the altar of his God (v 30-34)

d The only excuse for killing a man at the altar in the tabernacle was that no murderer could be protected even in the house of God (v 31-32)

e 2 Sam. 3:27-39; 20:4-12; 1 Chr. 2:17

f Jehoiada was a priest, so this combined the commandership of the army and the high-priesthood in the tribe of Levi

g Showing that Abiathar was the high priest, and Zadok the deputy priest. Here the high-priesthood changed back to the line of Eleazar from that of Ithamar (v 35; 1 Chr. 4:3), fulfilling 1 Sam. 2:27-34

h Since he was of a mind to perform what had been suggested and charged him by David (2:1-9), Solomon next sent for Shimei, and told him to build himself a house in Jerusalem and dwell there. He was restricted not to leave the city, for in the day he would pass over the brook Kidron he would be executed for his cursing of David as he fled from Absalom (v 37). Shimei agreed to this, realizing that Solomon was a very just and merciful king. He became careless though, and thought perhaps that such a merciful one would not really execute a man for merely going over a brook. At the end of 3 years two of his servants ran away to the king of Gath. Shimei then broke his word with Solomon and went to Gath for his servants. This cost him his life, for Solomon called for him and fulfilled his word in executing him the day that he crossed over Kidron (v 39-46)

This took care of the cases for punishment charged by David (2:1-9). As to Solomon's kindness to the sons of Barzillai, this was in keeping with David's instructions. Thus the full obligation of Solomon to David was ended, except for his continued obedience to God; and in this he failed later in life (11:1-40)

28 ¶Then tidings came to Jō'ăb: for Jō'ăb had turned after Ad-o-nī'jah, though he turned not after Ăb'sa-lŏm. And Jō'ăb fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD, and [c]caught hold on the horns of the altar.

●29 And it was told king Sŏl'o-mon that Jō'ăb was fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD; and, behold, he is by the altar. Then Sŏl'o-mon sent Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dă, saying, Go, fall upon him.

30 And Bĕ-nā'iah came to the tabernacle of the LORD, and said unto him, Thus saith the king, Come forth. And he said, Nay; [c]but I will die here. And Bĕ-nā'iah brought the king word again, saying, Thus said Jō'ăb, and thus he answered me.

●31 And the king said unto him, Do [d]as he hath said, and fall upon him, and bury him; that thou mayest take away the innocent blood, which Jō'ăb shed, from me, and from the house of my father.

32 And the LORD shall return his blood upon his own head, who fell upon two men more righteous and better than he, and slew them with the sword, my father Dă'vid not knowing thereof, to wit, [e]Ăb'nĕr the son of Nĕr, captain of the host of Ĭs'ra-el, and Ăm'a-să the son of Jĕ'thĕr, captain of the host of Jū'dah.

33 Their blood shall therefore return upon the head of Jō'ăb, and upon the head of his seed for ever: but upon Dă'vid, and upon his seed, and upon his house, and upon his throne, shall there be peace for ever from the LORD.

34 So Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dă went up, and fell upon him, and slew him: and he was buried in his own house in the wilderness.

5 New prime minister and high priest (Cp. 4:1-6)

35 ¶ And the king put Bĕ-nā'iah the son of [f]Jĕ-hoi'a-dă in his room over the host: and Zā'dŏk the priest did the king put [g]in the room of Ă-bī'a-thär.

6 Execution of Shemei (vss. 8-9; 2 Sam. 16:5-13; 19:16-23)

●36 ¶ And the king [h]sent and called for Shĭm'e-ī, and said unto him, Build thee an house in Jĕ-rŭ'să-lĕm, and dwell there, and go not forth thence any whither.

37 For it shall be, that on the day thou goest out, and passest over the brook Kĭd'ron, thou shalt know for certain that thou shalt surely die: thy blood shall be upon thine own head.

38 And Shĭm'e-ī said unto the king, The saying is good: as my lord the king hath said, so will thy servant do. And Shĭm'e-ī dwelt in Jĕ-rŭ'săl-ĕm many days.

39 And it came to pass at the end of three years, that two of the servants of Shĭm'e-ī ran away unto Ă'chish son of Mā'a-chah king of Găth. And they told Shĭm'e-ī, saying, Behold, thy servants be in [c]Găth.

40 And Shĭm'e-ī arose, and saddled his ass, and went to Găth to Ă'chish to seek his servants: and Shĭm'e-ī went, and brought his servants from Găth.

41 And it was told Sŏl'o-mon that Shĭm'e-ī had gone from Jĕ-rŭ'să-lĕm to Găth, and was come again.

42 And the king sent and called for Shĭm'e-ī, and said unto him, [b]Did I not make thee to swear by the LORD, and protested unto thee, saying, Know for a certain, on the day thou goest out, and walkest abroad any whither, that thou shalt surely die? and thou saidst unto me, The word that I have heard is good.

43 Why then hast thou not kept the oath of the LORD, and the commandment that I have charged thee with?

44 The king said moreover to Shĭm'e-ī, Thou knowest all the wickedness which thine heart is privy to, that thou didst to Dă'vid my father: therefore the LORD shall return thy wickedness upon thine own head;

45 And king Sŏl'o-mon shall be blessed, and the throne of Dă'vid shall be established before the LORD for ever.

46 So the king commanded Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dă; which [c]went out, and fell upon him, that he died. And the kingdom was established in the hand of Sŏl'o-mon.

CHAPTER 3 294

7 Solomon's marriage and his alliance with Egypt

AND Sŏl'o-mon made [d]affinity with [e]Phā'raōh king of Ĕ'gўpt, and took Phā'raōh's daughter, and brought her into the city of Dă'vid, until he had made an end of building his own house, and the house of the LORD, and the wall of Jĕ-rŭ'să-lĕm round about.

2 [f]Only the people sacrificed in high places, because there was no house built unto the name of the LORD, until those days.

3 And Sŏl'o-mon [g]loved the LORD, [h]walking in the [i]statutes of Dă'vid his father: [j]only he sacrificed and burnt incense in high places.

8 Solomon sacrifices $325,000 worth of oxen to God (2 Chr. 1:2-6)

4 And the king went to [k]Gĭb'e-on to sacrifice there; for that was [l]the great high place: [m]a thousand burnt offerings did Sŏl'o-mon offer upon that altar.

9 Solomon prays for wisdom (2 Chr. 1:7-12)

■5 ¶ In Gĭb'e-on the LORD [n]appeared to Sŏl'o-mon in a dream by night: and God said, [o]Ask what I shall give thee.

6 And Sŏl'o-mon said, Thou hast shewed unto thy servant Dă'vid my father great mercy, according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of

b Questions 11-12, Next, 3:9 — 34,46)

c The 3rd execution by Benaiah (v 25, d Affinity - relationship by marriage. This was done no doubt for political reasons, in order to strengthen his kingdom; and on the same ground he had an alliance with the king of Tyre. These were his most powerful neighbors at this time. In so doing however, Solomon broke the law which forbade making alliances and inter-marrying with foreign nations, lest they should lead the hearts of Israel away from Jehovah to other gods (Ex. 34:16; Dt. 7:3-4). We do not find God rebuking him for this in this chapter; nevertheless, it was unlawful. We find it referred to elsewhere as folly of his (11:1-9; Neh. 13:26)

e Which Pharaoh is not stated, but he must have been some predecessor of Shishak who invaded Judah about 40 years later (14:25)

f This seems to be a statement of regret rather than censure. It introduces a contrast, the writer meaning to say that there was one exception to the flourishing condition of the nation - the people sacrificed in high places (v 2). The law did not necessarily condemn a high place, but the wrong use of one for idolatry. All high places used for idolatry were to be destroyed (Dt. 12:2). Israel was not to offer sacrifices except at the door of the tabernacle (Lev. 17:3-5). Nevertheless, high places were used in Israel from the times of the judges to this time (Judg. 6:25; 13:16; 1 Sam. 7:10; 13:9; 14:35; 16:5; 1 Chr. 21:26), with the full responsibility resting upon those who violated the law. Such places of divided worship no doubt created the spirit of division and strife which made it so easy for the kingdom to be divided after the death of Solomon (ch. 12)

g 2 things Solomon loved, that conflict- ed:
1 The Lord (v 3)
2 Many strange women (11:1) b This plainly shows that Solomon began his rulership serving the Lord; but his other love turned his heart away from Jehovah (v 3 with 11:1-9)

i 5 kinds of statutes:
1 Of God (2:3; 3:14; 6:12; 9:4)
2 Of David (3:3)
3 Of the heathen (2 Ki. 17:8)
4 Of Israel (2 Ki. 17:19)
5 Of Omri (Mic. 6:16)

k Gibeon was about 4 miles from Jerusalem. The tabernacle Moses made was located here at this time (2 Chr. 1:3-4). There was another tabernacle at Jerusalem (3:15), for Solomon "came to Jerusalem, and stood before the ark of the covenant"

l This suggests that it was one of the most prominent places of sacrifice in Israel at this time

m If bulls, at the estimated cost of $325.00 each, the cost of 1,000 burnt offerings would be $325,000.00; if lambs, goats, or rams at the estimated cost of $20.00 each, the cost would be $20,000.00 besides the cost of flour, wine, and oil, for each sacrifice. It is possible that 1,000 bulls were offered, for this would have been an act of royal magnificence suitable to the greatness of one like Solomon n This appearance was in a dream, but it was just as real and accomplished the same purpose as if God had appeared in actual visible form, as at other times. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

o God told Solomon to ask what he wanted to, and it is plainly implied that the request would be granted. Those who express the desire to have God say to them what He did to Solomon (v 5) should realize that He does - and even more. If one doubts this let him turn to the following plain and unlimited promises of God to His children in N. T. times:
1 Ask and you shall receive (Mt. 7:7)
2 Seek and you shall find (Mt. 7:7-11)
3 Knock and it shall be opened (Mt. 7:7) you (Mt. 17:20)
4 Nothing shall be impossible unto
5 All things, whatsoever you shall ask in prayer, believing, you shall receive (Mt. 21:21-22)
6 All things are possible to him that believeth (Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24)
7 Ask what you will, and it shall be done unto you (Jn. 15:7, 16)

a 2 things God did for David (v 6-7):
1 Showed him great mercy
2 Kept for him this great kindness: giving him a son to sit on his throne
2 things David did for God (v 6):
1 Walked before Him in truth
2 Walked in righteousness and uprightness of heart

b A little child in Solomon's own eyes, but a wise man in David's eyes (2:6, 9). He experienced humility and dependence upon Jehovah; and for this reason God loved him and gave the privilege of asking anything he wanted to. Once, even Saul was little in his own eyes (1 Sam. 15:17), but he became exalted, and through pride lost his soul (1 Chr. 10:13-14)

c 3 facts about Israel:
1 Chosen of God (v 8)
2 A great people
3 Not to be numbered for multitude

d See Solomon's request, p. 365

e Question 13. Next, 8:27

f 12 things that have and will please God, p. 366

g Emphasis should be placed upon this thing, for it was the one and only thing he asked for - and a rare thing to be asked by selfish man. In fact, it was such an unusual request and pleased Jehovah so much that He decided not only to grant this, but to grant also what the average man would ask for (v 10-11, 13)

h 2nd prophecy in 1 Ki. (3:11-14, fulfilled). Next, 5:5

2 predictions - fulfilled:
1 Because you have not asked for riches, honor, long life, and victory over your enemies, but for understanding to discern judgment, I have done according to your words, and have given you a wise and an understanding heart; there has been none like you before, neither shall any arise like you afterward (3:11-12)
2 I have also given you that which you have not asked for, both riches, and honor, so that there shall not be any among the kings like you in all your days (3:13)

i 4 things Solomon did not ask for, p. 366

j This has to be understood in the limited sense of ordinary rulers of earth. Jesus Christ had even more wisdom and knowledge than Solomon, besides many other gifts of the Holy Spirit which Israel's king did not have. Christ, Himself said: Behold, a greater than Solomon is here (Mt. 12:42; Lk. 11:31)

k Not only does this apply to the days of Solomon, but to kings after him. See facts about the riches and wisdom of Solomon in ch. 10 l This was an additional prophecy - a conditional one, given to Solomon. If he would meet certain conditions of walking in God's ways, and if he would keep the statutes and commandments of Jehovah as David did, he would be given length of days (v 14). This was not fulfilled, for he went into sin and rebellion and died when about 60 years of age. He could have lived many more years through obedience

n This proves that the tabernacle where the ark was kept was not in Gibeon, but in Jerusalem. The high place where he sacrificed was at Gibeon (2 Chr. 1:3-4). How many sacrifices were made here is not known, but the number was 1,000 at Gibeon. It would have taken many here to feed all his servants, meaning his subjects (v 15; Dt. 14:29; 2 Sam. 6:19; 1 Chr. 16:3)

o Then - after he had received the gifts of wisdom and knowledge, there came 2 women with a great problem which became a test of his gifts. Both dwelled in one house and had a child born to them 3 days apart. One child died and now both women claimed the living baby. In order to settle the controversy Solomon called for a sword and pretended he would divide the living child so as to give a part to each mother. The real mother cried out against this and showed willingness to give the child to the other woman to save its life; but the other woman showed willingness to divide the child; so on this basis Solomon gave the infant to the one who had compassion on it. She was the real mother (v 16-28)

p One of 10 deaths caused by women (see p. 270; Judg. 4:21) heart with thee; [e]and thou hast kept for him this great kindness, that thou hast given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day.

7 And now, O LORD my God, thou hast made thy servant king instead of Dā'vid my father: and I am but a [b]little child: I know not how to go out or come in.

8 And thy servant is in the midst of thy people [c]which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

9 [d]Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad: for [e]who is able to judge this thy so great a people?

10 God pleased: gift of wisdom given plus riches and honour

10 And the speech [f]pleased the LORD that Sŏl'o-mon had asked [g]this thing.

●11 [h]And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself [i]long life; neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern judgment;

12 Behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart; [j]so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arise like unto thee.

13 And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches, and honour: [k]so that there shall not be any among the kings like unto thee all thy days.

14 And [l]if thou wilt walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as thy father Dā'vid did walk, then I will lengthen thy days.

15 And Sŏl'o-mon awoke; and, behold, it was a [m]dream. And [n]he came to Jē-ru'sā'lĕm, and stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and offered up burnt offerings, and offered peace offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.

11 First exercise of the gift of wisdom (Cp. 1 Cor. 12:8)

16 ¶[o]Then came there two women, that were harlots, unto the king, and stood before him.

17 And the one woman said, O my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house; and I was delivered of a child with her in the house.

18 And it came to pass the third day after that I was delivered, that this woman was delivered also: and we were together; there was no stranger with us in the house, save we two in the house.

19 And this woman's child died in the night; [p]because she overlaid it.

20 And she arose at midnight, and took my son from beside me, while thine handmaid slept, and laid it in her bosom, and laid her dead child in my bosom.

21 And when I rose in the morning to give my child suck, behold, it was dead: but when I had [a]considered it in the morning, behold, it was not my son, which I did bear.

22 And the other woman said, Nay; but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son. And this said, No; but the dead is thy son, and the living is my son. Thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said the king, The one saith, This is my son that liveth, and thy son is the dead: and the other saith, Nay; but thy son is the dead, and my son is the living.

●24 And the king said, Bring me a sword. And they brought a sword before the king.

●25 And the king said, Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one, and half to the other.

26 Then spake the woman whose the living child was unto the king, for [b]her bowels yearned upon her son, and she said, O my lord, give her the living child, and in no wise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it.

●27 Then the king answered and said, Give her the living child, and in no wise slay it: she is the mother thereof.

28 And [c]all Iş'ra-el heard of the judgment which the king had judged; and they feared the king: for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to do judgment.

12 Solomon's officers (2:35)

SO king Sŏl'o-mon was king over [d]all Iş'ra-el.

2 And these were the [e]princes which he had; Ăz-a-rī'ah the son of Zā'dŏk [f]the priest,

3 Ĕl-i-hō'reph and Ă-hī'ah, the sons of Shī'shā, [g]scribes; Jē-hŏsh'a-phăt the son of Ă-hī'lŭd, the [h]recorder.

4 And Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jē-hoi'a-dā was over the host: and Zā'dŏk and [i]Ă-bī'a-thär were the priests:

5 And Ăz-a-rī'ah the son [j]of Nā'than was over the officers: and Zā'bud the son of Nā'than was [k]principal officer, and the king's friend:

6 And Ă-hī'shär was over the household: and Ăd-o-nī'ram the son of Ăb'dă was over the tribute.

13 Twelve commissaries of Solomon

7 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon had [l]twelve officers over all Iş'ra-el, which provided [m]victuals for the king and his household: each man his month in a year made provision.

8 And these are their names: The son of Hūr, in mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm:

9 The son of Dĕ'kär, in Mā'kăz, and in Shă-ăl'bim, and Bĕth-shĕ'mesh and Ĕ'lon-a It is reasonable to believe that a mother would be able to tell her own child, after being with it 3 days (v 21)

b This was the thing that caused the king to know which was the true mother. Not only did her compassion go out and revolt against any harm to the child, but in her eagerness to save it she was willing to give it to the wicked and heartless woman who was so low and depraved that she preferred to have it divided so that neither would have a living child (v 26-27)

c This judgment in the wisdom of God startled all Israel, so they feared him from that day forward (v 28). This was the way God magnified the youthful king (who was about 20 years old at this time), in the eyes of his subjects. God had likewise magnified Moses, Joshua and others before their subjects (Ex. 4:29-15:21; Josh. 4:14; 2 Chr. 32:23; Mt. 4:24; 9:26, 31)

d All Israel, not divided, as in the days of Saul, Ish-bosheth, and David (1 Sam. 10:27; 23:1-30:31; 2 Sam. 2:1-5:12), or in the days following Solomon (ch. 12)

e 11 princes of Solomon (v 1-6):
1 Azariah, son of Zadok the priest (v 2)
2 Elihoreph, a scribe (v 3)
3 Ahiah, a scribe
4 Jehoshaphat, the recorder or remembrancer. Cp. 1 Chr. 18:15 (v 4)
5 Benaiah, commander of the army
6 Zadok, the high priest (2:26-27)
7 Abiathar, deposed high priest (2:26-27)
8 Azariah, overseer of officers (v 5)
9 Zabud, the principal officer and Solomon's friend and counsellor
10 Ahishar, officer over the household
11 Adoniram, overseer of taxes (v 6)

f The priest belongs to Azariah, not to Zadok, and this should read: Azariah, the priest, son of Zadok. The term used (cohen) means a priest sometimes, otherwise a civil officer or perhaps a semi-priestly character. In this passage it has the definite article prefixed, and can only mean the high priest. Here Azariah is called the son, but he was really the grandson of Zadok. He seems to have succeeded him in the high priesthood (1 Chr. 6:10). His position as high priest at the time this record was made gives Azariah the foremost place in this list of men called princes and who lived part or all the time of the 40 years Solomon reigned g The scribes were probably royal secretaries who drew up the king's edicts, wrote his letters, and perhaps managed his other affairs. They were among his most influential counsellors (v 3)

h The recorder was really a remembrancer or court analyst (v 3)

i It is noticeable that Abiathar was listed among the princes of Solomon, after the disgrace of being put out of the priesthood as in 2:26-27, 35. Perhaps the historian made a list of the princes in any part of Solomon's reign (v 4)

j Which Nathan this was is not known, unless it was the son of David of whom came Mary, the mother of the Messiah (Lk. 3:23-38). If it had been Nathan the prophet his name no doubt would have been so listed k Principal or chief officer and the king's friend and counsellor, as Hushai had been David's (2 Sam. 15:37)

l 12 officers of the commissaries:
1 The son of Hur (v 7-8)
2 The son of Dekar (v 9)
3 The son of Hesed (v 10)
4 The son of Abinadab (v 11)
5 Baana, son of Ahilud (v 12)
6 The son of Geber (v 13)
7 Ahinadab, son of Iddo (v 14)
8 Ahimaaz (v 15)
9 Baanah, son of Hushai (v 16)
10 Jehoshaphat, son of Paruah (v 17)
11 Shimei, son of Elah (v 18)
12 Geber, son of Uri (v 19)

m The 12 men in these verses (7-19) were over 12 sections of the kingdom and levied taxes on the people to supply the king, his household, all those at the king's court, and any others whom he was responsible to support. Each man supplied the king for a whole month each year a The territory assigned to each of the 12 commissary officers is named in v 7-19. From each of these 12 districts the king and his household of many servants were supplied once a year for an entire month

b Hushai was David's chief friend and counsellor (2 Sam. 15:27). Now his son became honored as one of the 12 commissary officers of Solomon (v 16)

c This is said to let us know that one officer took care of all the vast territory of Sihon and Og east of the Jordan, a much larger territory than any cared for by other commissary officers

d Here we come again to the terms Judah and Israel, but this does not mean that they were two separate peoples, that they had two different destinies, or that all Israelites were not Jews. The purpose is to make clear again that Judah was the ruling tribe; it was therefore mentioned in particular (v 20)

e A fulfillment of Gen. 13:16; 22:17

f An expression of blessing, contentment, and peace - not of sinfulness (v 20)

g The extent of Solomon's kingdom was from the river Euphrates on the east and north to the land of the Philistines and the Mediterranean sea and to Egypt (v 21; Gen. 15:18-21; Josh. 1:4)

h It was customary for subject nations to send gifts along with tribute to their masters (v 21; Ps. 72:10-11)

i This was for 40 years (11:42)

j Solomon's daily provision: (Est. cost)

315 bu. fine flour @ $6.00	$1,890.00
630 bu. coarse flour @ $6.00	3,780.00
10 fat oxen @ $325.00	3,250.00
20 pasture oxen @ $325.00	6,500.00
100 sheep @ $20.00	2,000.00
Total, less other animals	$17,420.00

How many harts, roebucks, fallow-deer, and fowls were used is not stated, but without them the daily cost for a year, on the above basis would be $6,358,300.00. From this we suppose that the number fed at the royal board were at least 30,000 people

k 30 measures (Heb. kor or cor, the same as an homer or about 10 1/2 bu.) would be 315 bushels; and 60 measures or cors of coarse flour would be 630 bushels, daily

l This side the river Euphrates, the region west of the river, Tiphsah, meaning ford or passage. It was no doubt the modern Suriyeh, 45 miles below Balis, at the point where the river changes its course from south to east. It is fordable here and at no other place

m This is supposed to be Gaza in Philistia, meaning here from Tiphsah on the river Euphrates to Gaza in Philistia (v 24)

n An expression of peace, safety, and prosperity (v 25; Mic. 4:4; Zech. 3:10)

o The north and south extremities of the kingdom (v 25; Judg. 20:1; 1 Sam. 3:20) p In 2 Chr. 9:25 the number of stalls is said to be 4,000 instead of 40,000 as here. 40,000 may be a corruption of the ancient scroll. Mistakes in copying or even similarity of letters (which were used for numbers) could have led to a mistake in one of these places. It seems that 4,000 stalls would be more correct, as there were only 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen. Since some chariots used 3 horses and others only 2, the 4,000 horses would be sufficient for this number of chariots and horsemen (v 26)

q Multiplying horses was a violation of the law of Moses (Dt. 17:16), the reason being that in doing so Israel would begin to trust in the horses instead of Jehovah (Ps. 20:7; Isa. 31:1-3)

r The same number as in 2 Chr. 9:25

detail in 2 Chr. 2:2-16. Solomon's presumption that Hiram knew David's design is not recorded here, but it is in perfect harmony with 1 Chr. 22:4

l The Heb. word for cedar appears to be used, not only for the cedar but also other timber trees - the fir and juniper (v 10). The cedar still grows in Lebanon on parts of the mountain, but it is not as plentiful as in ancient times. The Tyrians made masts of their ships from it (Ezek. 27:5). It seems that Assyrians and other peoples also cut down many of these trees to take to their own countries, which added to the scarcity, as time went on běth-hā'năn:

10 The son of Hē'sed, in Ar'u-bŏth; to him pertained Sō'choh, and [a]all the land of Hē'phēr:

11 The son of Â-bĭn'a-dăb, in all the region of Dōr; which had Tā'phath the daughter of Sŏl'o-mon to wife:

12 Bā'a-nà the son of Â-hī'lud; to him pertained Tā'a-năch and Mĕ-gĭd'dō, and all Bĕth-shĕ'ăn, which is by Zăr'ta-nah beneath Jĕz're-el, from Bĕth-shĕ'ăn unto Â'bel-mĕ-hō'lah, even unto the place that is beyond Jŏk'ne-ăm:

13 The son of Gĕ'bĕr, in Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd; to him pertained the towns of Jā'ir the son of Mā-năs'seh, which are in Gĭl'e-ăd; to him also pertained the region of Ar'gŏb, which is in Bā'shăn, threescore great cities with walls and brasen bars:

14 Â-hĭn'a-dăb the son of Id'dō had Mā-hă-nā'im:

15 Â-hĭm'a-ăz was in Năph'ta-lī; he also took Bās'măth the daughter of Sŏl'o-mon to wife:

16 Bā'a-nah the son [b]of Hū'shāi was in Ash'ĕr and in Â'lŏth:

17 Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt the son of Păr'u-ah, in Ĭs'sa-char:

18 Shĭm'e-ī the son of Ē'lah, in Bĕn'ja-mín:

19 Gē'bĕr the son of Ū'rī was in the country of Gĭl'e-ăd, in the country of Sī'hŏn king of the Am'or-ītes, and of Óg king of Bā'shăn; and he was [c]the only officer which was in the land.

14 Solomon's dominions

20 [d]Jū'dah and Ĭs'ra-el were many, [e]as the sand which is by the sea in multitude, [f]eating and drinking, and making merry.

21 And Sŏl'o-mon [g]reigned over all kingdoms from the river unto the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and unto the border of Ē'gŭpt: [h]they brought presents, and served Sŏl'o-mon [i]all the days of his life.

15 Solomon's daily provision

22 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon's [j]provision for one day was [k]thirty measures of fine flour, and threescore measures of meal, 23 Ten fat oxen, and twenty oxen out of the pastures, and an hundred sheep, beside harts, and roebucks, and fallowdeer, and fatted fowl.

16 Solomon's peaceful reign and prosperity (3:13)

24 For he had dominion over all the region on [l]this side the river, from Tĭph'sah even [m]to Az'zah, over all the kings on this side the river: and he had peace on all sides round about him.

25 And Jū'dah and Ĭs'ra-el dwelt safely, every man [n]under his vine and under his fig tree, from [o]Dăn even to Bē'er-shē'bà, all the days of Sŏl'o-mon.

26 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon had [p]forty thousand stalls [q]of horses for his chariots, and [r]twelve thousand horsemen.

27 And those officers provided victual for king Sŏl'o-mon, and for all that came unto king Sŏl'o-mon's table, every man in his month: they [s]lacked nothing.

28 [t]Barley also and straw for the horses and dromedaries brought they unto the place where the officers were, every man according to his charge.

17 Solomon's gifts of wisdom and knowledge and world fame

29 ¶ And God [u]gave Sŏl'o-mon [v]wisdom and understanding exceeding much, and largeness of heart, even as the sand that is on the sea shore.

30 And Sŏl'o-mon's wisdom [w]excelled the wisdom of all the children of the east country, and all the wisdom of E'gŭpt.

31 For he was wiser than all men; than Ē'than the Ez'ra-hīte, and Hē'man, and Chăl'cŏl, and Dăr'da, the sons of Mā'hŏl: and his fame was in all nations round about.

32 And he spake three thousand proverbs: and his songs were a thousand and five.

33 And he spake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lĕb'a-non even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall: he spake also of beasts, and of fowl, and of creeping things, and of fishes.

34 And there came of all people to hear the wisdom of Sŏl'o-mon, from all kings of the earth, which had heard of his wisdom.

CHAPTER 5 296

18 Solomon's religious policies (5:1-9:9. Cp. 2 Sam. 6). (1) Preparations for building the temple (2 Chr. 2). A Solomon's request of Hiram, king of Tyre

AND [a]Hī'ram king of Tyre sent his servants unto Sŏl'o-mon; for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father: for Hī'ram was ever [b]a lover of Dā'vid.

2 And Sŏl'o-mon sent to Hī'ram, saying,

3 [c]Thou knowest how that Dā'vid my father [d]could not build an house unto the name of the LORD his God for the wars which were about him on every side, until the LORD put them under the soles of his feet.

4 But now the LORD my God hath given me rest on every side, so that there is neither adversary nor evil occurrent.

5 [e]And, behold, I purpose to build an house unto the name of the LORD my God, as the LORD spake unto Dā'vid my father, saying, Thy son, whom I will set upon thy throne in thy room, he shall build an house unto my name.

6 Now therefore [f]command thou that they hew me [g]cedar trees out of Lĕb'a-non; and my servants shall be with thy servants: and unto thee will I give hire for thy servants according to all that thou shalt appoint: for thou knowest that there is a This is the way it will always be when men serve God and He blesses them. This is the way it would have been if Adam had not fallen; and it is the way it will be when the Messiah reigns in the Millennium and on the new earth eternally (v 27; Isa. 35:1-8; 65:20-25; Rev. 22:3) b Barley was the usual fodder for cattle. They were also fed with a mixture of chopped straw, barley, beans, and pounded date kernels (v 28)

c This is why he had such wisdom and knowledge. When God gives a man an ability he has it from that point on, whereas before he receives it he is as helpless as others who do not have the gift. God gave Moses, Elijah, Elisha, Jesus Christ, the prophets, and apostles, and others power and they were entirely capable of doing whatever they were given the power to do. To claim powers and gifts of the Spirit and manifest powerlessness to do what the gifts are designed for is making mockery of God and His power. Before Jesus gave power to His disciples, as in Mt. 10:1-2, they were helpless to perform miracles, but when He gave them this ability for a special mission they could heal the sick, cleanse the leper, raise the dead, and cast out devils. Freely they had received and freely they were commanded to give out (Mt. 10:7-8). The same was true of the 70 (Lk. 10), and other disciples endued with power from on high (Lk. 24:49; Acts 1:4-8; 2:1-11; 3:6; 5:1-16; etc.). The same can be true again if any will covet earnestly a program like that in the early church (Mk. 16:15-20; Jn. 14:12-15; 1 Cor. 12)

d 5 things given to Solomon as promised:
1 Wisdom, exceeding much (v 29-32)
2 Knowledge, exceeding much (v 29-34)
3 Largeness of heart (v 29)
4 Riches (3:13; 10:1-29)
5 Honor (3:13; 4:31; 10:1-9)

e 7fold result of Solomon's gifts:
1 His gifts excelled those of the men of the East - the Beni Kedem, a distinct tribe who occupied both sides of the river Euphrates along its middle course. They were mostly nomads who for generations had concentrated on wise sayings (v 30; Job 1:3; Num. 23:7; Jer. 49:28-29)
2 They excelled the wisdom of Egypt, which included magic (Gen. 41:8; Ex. 7:11), geometry, medicine, astronomy, architecture, and dreamy philosophies of various kinds (v 30)
3 They excelled the wisdom of Ethan the Ezrahite, and Heman, Chalcol, and Darda, sons of Mahol (v 31)
4 They excelled the wisdom of all other men of all nations (v 31; 3:12-13)
5 They produced 3,000 proverbs and 1,005 songs (v 32)
6 They enabled him to speak of all things in nature (v 33)
7 They caused men to come from all nations of the earth to hear and see them in use (v 34; 10:1-9)

f Not the Hiram of David's day, but the son of the Hiram of 2 Sam. 5:11. Meander of Ephesus who wrote a history of Tyre in Greek about 300 B.C. mentioned this Hiram as the son of Abibaal, king of Tyre, and said that he ascended the throne when he was 19 years old, that he reigned 34 years, and died at the age of 53, being succeeded by his son, Baleazar. This history speaks at length on the dealings of Hiram with Solomon a The mechanical genius and nautical skill of the Phoenicians and of the Sidonians in particular, were noticed by both Homer and Herodotus. Though Sidon might have had a king of her own, she acknowledged the supremacy of Tyre during the reign of Hiram

b Sent by writing and ambassadors

c The timber was first carried westward from the flanks of Lebanon to the nearest part of the coast, where it was collected into floats or rafts and conveyed southward on the waters to Joppa (now Jaffa) where the land journey to Jerusalem was not more than 40 miles (v 9). A similar course was taken in the building of the second temple (Ezra 3:7)

d Supply of food for Hiram's household was at least part of the payment for the timber cut in Lebanon and floated down to Joppa for the building of the temple (v 8). The Phoenician cities had very little arable land so had to depend upon imports of food from abroad

e 20,000 measures (Heb. cors) at 10 1/2 bu. to the measure or cor would be 210,000 bu. of wheat; and 20 cors of pure olive oil would be 1,680 gal. This amount given to Hiram each year during the construction of the temple and Solomon's house, a period of 20 years, would make a total of 4,200,000 bu. of wheat (@ 6.00 a bu.-$25,200,000.00) and 33,600 gal. of olive oil (@ $5.60 a gal.-$188,160.00)

f The league was broken by Tyre later and for this the people were judged (Amos 1:9)

g A levy or tribute of men for free labor, not the bond-service of 9:21-22. Such a levy was predicted when Israel demanded a king (1 Sam. 8:16). David employed forced service of resident aliens (1 Chr. 22:2; 2 Sam. 12:31)

h This was the first time that Israelites had been called upon to perform forced labor for a big project stretching out over a number of years. Out of 1,300,000 able bodied men in Israel (2 Sam. 24:9), a band of 30,000 - one in 44 was raised, of whom 1/3 - 10,000 men were at work continually in Lebanon while 2/3 remained at home and carried on their occupations. 10,000 worked a month, then returned home for 2 months (v 14). This levy of men in Israel helped cause the division of the kingdom after the death of Solomon (12:4)

i Besides the 30,000 hewers of wood in Lebanon, of v 13-14, Solomon had 70,000 that bore burdens, and 80,000 hewers in the mountains. These 150,000 men were continuous workers made up of aliens in the land - Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, Jebusites, and others whom he continued in slavery as did his father David (1 Chr. 22:2)

j These were hewers of stone in the rock quarries, not hewers of wood in Lebanon as in v 14 (v 15, 17-18)

k Here we have 3,300 overseers of all the people that worked in the mountains cutting wood, hewing stones, and carrying burdens (v 16). Another 550 are mentioned in 9:23, who were chief overseers, making altogether 3,850. Of the 550 there were 300 under 250 of the overseers, according to 2 Chr. 8:10. The 163,850 regular workers were almost as many as the number hired by Ford Motor Company, U. S. A.

l Some of these stones were extra large and heavy. The largest said to be found in modern Jerusalem thus far is 38 ft. 9 in. long and weighs 100 tons. It is no doubt one of the many stones hewn out of the mountains in the days of Solomon (v 17). The marks of Phoenician masons are still on some stones. They were fully cut on the mountains to exact size, so that no chiseling or hammering took place when they were set together. The same was true of the wooden beams, so that the use of no tool was heard in the construction (6:7) m The Gebalites, the inhabitants of Gebal, a Phoenician city between Beyrout and Tripolis, which the Greeks called Byblus, and which is now known as Jebell, a place about 40 miles north of Sidon (Ezek. 27:9, Cp. Ps. 83:7) not among us [a]any that can skill to hew timber like unto the Sī-dō'nĭ-anş.

B Hiram co-operates with Solomon to build the temple

7 ¶ And it came to pass, when Hi'ram heard the words of Sŏl'o-mon, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, Blessed be the LORD this day, which hath given unto Dā'vid a wise son over this great people.

8 And Hi'ram [b]sent to Sŏl'o-mon, saying, I have considered the things which thou sentest to me for: and I will do all thy desire concerning timber of cedar, and concerning timber of fir.

9 My servants shall [c]bring them down from Lĕb'a-non unto the sea; and I will convey them by sea in floats unto the place that thou shalt appoint me, and will cause them to be discharged there, and thou shalt receive them: and thou shalt accomplish my desire, [d]in giving food for my household.

10 So Hi'ram gave Sŏl'o-mon cedar trees and fir trees according to all his desire.

C Hiram's yearly wages

11 And Sŏl'o-mon gave Hi'ram [e]twenty thousand measures of wheat for food to his household, and twenty measures of pure oil: thus gave Sŏl'o-mon to Hi'ram year by year.

D Solomon's league with Tyre

12 And the LORD gave Sŏl'o-mon wisdom, as he promised him: and there was peace between Hi'ram and Sŏl'o-mon; and they two [f]made a league together.

E 183,300 laborers and overseers working on the temple

13 ¶ And king Sŏl'o-mon raised [g][h]levy out of all Iş'ra-el; and the levy was thirty thousand men.

14 And he sent them to Lĕb'a-non, ten thousand a month by courses: a month they were in Lĕb'a-non, and two months at home: and Ad-o-nī'ram was over the levy.

15 And Sŏl'o-mon had [i]threescore and ten thousand that bare burdens, and fourscore thousand [j]hewers in the mountains;

16 Beside the chief of Sŏl'o-mon's officers which were over the work, [k]three thousand and three hundred, which ruled over the people that wrought in the work.

17 And the king commanded, and they brought [l]great stones, costly stones, and hewed stones, to lay the foundation of the house.

18 And Sŏl'o-mon's builders and Hi'ram's builders did hew them, and the [m]stonesquarers: so they prepared timber and stones to build the house.

CHAPTER 6 297

(2) Building the temple (6:1-7:51; 2 Chr. 3:1-4:22).

A Beginning date of building

AND it came to pass in the [a]four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Iş'ra-el were come out of the land of E'gy̆pt, in the fourth year of Sŏl'o-mon's reign over Iş'ra-el, in the month Zĭf, which is the second month, that he began to build the house of the LORD.

B Dimension of the temple

2 And the house which king Sŏl'o-mon built for the LORD, the [b]length thereof was three-score cubits, and the [c]breadth thereof twenty cubits, and the height thereof [d]thirty cubits.

C Porches and outside rooms

3 And the porch before the temple of the house, [e]twenty cubits was the length thereof, according to the breadth of the house; and [f]ten cubits was the breadth thereof before the house.

4 And for the house he [g]made windows of narrow lights.

5 ¶ And against the wall of the house he built [h]chambers round about, against the walls of the house round about, both of the temple and of the oracle: and he made chambers round about:

6 The nethermost chamber was [i]five cubits broad, and the middle was six cubits broad, and the third was seven cubits broad: for without in the wall of the house he made narrowed rests round about, that the beams should not be fastened in the walls of the house.

D Materials of the temple

7 And the house, when it was in building, was built of stone made ready before it was brought thither: [j]so that there was neither hammer nor ax nor any tool of iron heard in the house, while it was in building.

E Door, stairs, and outside rooms around the temple

8 The door for the middle chamber was in the right side of the house: and they went up with [k]winding stairs into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

9 So he built the house, and finished it; and [l]covered the house with beams and boards of cedar.

10 And then he built chambers against all the house, five cubits high: and they rested on the house with timber of cedar.

F Davidic Covenant confirmed in Solomon (2 Sam. 7:7-17)

11 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Sŏl'o-mon, saying,

▸12 Concerning this house which thou art in building, [m]if thou [n]wilt walk in my statutes, and execute my judgments, and keep all my commandments to walk in them; then will I perform my word with thee, which a 480 years. This was not the whole time of the period between the exodus and the 4th year of Solomon's reign. It really refers to the 480th year of the security of Israel as a nation; it does not include the 41 years at Sinai and the wandering in the wilderness, the period of the conquest of Canaan and division of the land (about 10 years), or the 3 years of confusion under Abimelech and the 111 years of servitudes during the judges. The entire period from the exodus to the 4th year of Solomon was 645 years. Some chronologists have made the mistake of basing their whole system upon this 480 year period. 12 chronologists differ from 330 to 680 years regarding the entire time from the exodus to the 4th year of Solomon, which shows no basis of proof for their conclusions. Scriptures can be found for most of the lengths of various periods and these prove some modern scholars to be mistaken as much as 300-400 years in their figuring of the time from the exodus to Christ (see p. 59-61). Any chronological differences noted in this work as compared with others can be accounted for by the fact that the Scriptures themselves have been searched and chapter and verse used as proof whenever available

b 60 cubits - 125 ft. counting 25 in. as a cubit

c 20 cubits - 41 ft. 8 in.

d 30 cubits - 62 1/2 ft.

e 20 cubits - 41 ft. 8 in. long, or all the way in front of the temple (v 3)

f 10 cubits - 20 ft. 10 in. wide (v 3)

g How many windows is not stated

h He built chambers or rooms round about the temple on the outside walls of the 2 sides and the end (v 5). They were 10 ft. 5 in. high (v 10)

i The rooms were 10 ft. 5 in. wide; 12 ft. 6 in. wide; and 14 ft. 7 in. wide, with pillars for the ceiling beams so they would not rest on the wall (v 6)

j All the stones and timbers were cut to exact size, being fully prepared for their places before being brought to the temple site; and these were so perfect that it was not necessary to use a hammer, ax, or any other tool during the entire construction work (6:7)

k The rooms were on top of each other making 3 stories with winding stairs (v 8)

l The temple was covered with beams and boards of cedar (v 9)

m Here we have another conditional prophecy, one based upon obedience. Then - when obedience is rendered, the Lord promised to perform His word which He had spoken to both David and Solomon concerning the continuation of the kingdom and God dwelling in the midst of His people (v 12-13). The prophecy never was completely fulfilled, for Solomon rebelled and Israel sinned until God could not bless them further or dwell in their midst n 3 conditions of blessing (v 12):

1 Walk in My statutes
2 Execute My judgments
3 Keep all My commandments to walk in them

Conditions of blessing (2:4)

When and how long did God bless the kings of David's house? As long as they met the conditions laid down here. Even David was dealt with because of sin (2 Sam. 11-18). Solomon, his son, the 2nd king of David's house was blessed as long as he obeyed, but when he sinned judgment was pronounced upon him and his kingdom (11:1-40). Rehoboam, the 3rd king had his kingdom divided and 10 whole tribes were lost to him in one day because of pride and sin (12:1-24). And so it continued for the next 433 years following David. One king after another sinned and was judged, and in many cases, was cut off, until the whole nation was finally destroyed (2 Ki. 23-25). When the nation was restored it still continued in sin being finally destroyed again in 70 A. D. From this it has never recovered. God will never bless Israel again with a king until they come to complete repentance (Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 23:37-39; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-29)

a God laid down the conditions on which He would dwell among Israel and not forsake them; and the fact that He ceased to dwell with them and forsook them is proof that they did not continue meeting the conditions. God would have proved Himself untrue before all beings if He had continued His grace with them when they sinned; and so it is today. If a believer sins God is obligated to impute it to him. There is no place in Christ or out of Him where one is not held responsible and where he does not incur the death penalty for breaking the new covenant laws when sin is committed (Mk. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:18-32; 6:1-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 3:16-17; 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Col. 3:5-10)

b Just as God promised not to forsake Israel as long as they lived true to Him, so He also promised to forsake them when they sinned, regardless of past grace and blessings. See p. 284 of N.T.

c The 2nd time it is stated here that he built the house and finished it (v 9, 14). V 9 refers to the external shell of the temple, and v 14 to the internal finishing of it

d All the inside walls, the ceiling, and floors of the temple were covered with cedar and fir or juniper boards (v 15)

e 20 cubits - 41 ft. 8 in. square for the most holy place (v 16)

f 40 cubits - 83 ft. 4 in. long and 20 cubits - 41 ft. 8 in. wide for the holy place (v 17)

g The cedar of the walls of the holy and most holy places was carved with knops and flowers. The boards fully covered the inside so that no stone of the walls was seen and they were covered with pure gold. The altar also was covered with gold, as well as the partition between the holy and most holy places (v 18-22)

h 2 cherubim of olive wood measuring 10 cubits - 20 ft. 10 in. high, with each wing measuring 5 cubits - 10 ft. 5 in. making a full wing spread of 10 cubits or 20 ft. 10 in., were made and set up in the most holy place side by side with the outer wings touching the outside walls and the inner ones touching each other. These were overlaid with gold (v 23-28)

the beams. The pillars were 15 to a row, making 3 rows instead of the 4 mentioned here. The Sept. says 3 rows, which would harmonize with 45 pillars and 15 to a row (v 2-3) m There were 3 rows of windows on both sides of the building, facing each other, and all the doors and posts were square with the windows (v 4-5) n This porch was made with rows of pillars holding up the roof, all the way across the width of the house, 50 cubits - 104 ft. 2 in. It was 30 cubits or 62 1/2 ft. wide (v 6). There was another porch, perhaps on the other end of the building for the throne of judgment (v 7). Whether it was as large as the one of v 7 is not stated, but most likely it was, and if so, it also measured 104 ft. 2 in. by 62 1/2 ft. It seems from v 8 that the king had a dwelling attached to these other buildings with another court and porch, and then at last the house for the queen

Solomon's request (3:9)

This request of Solomon set the pattern for all who desire to please God and be blessed by Him (v 10-14). It was for wisdom and understanding in the science of government to judge Israel in true justice. He desired gifts that would best qualify him for his work and calling in life. Too often men pray for gifts which, they think, will make them great in the eyes of others. They want to imitate the greatness of some other man and they are not called or qualified for that particular work. Their motive is one of selfishness and self-gratification. One of the chief functions of the oriental monarch has always been to hear and decide causes; hence, the chief desire of Solomon was to be his best by divine inspiration and gifts to judge this, so great a people (v 9)

I spake unto Dā'vid thy father: ▸13 [a]And I will dwell among the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and[b] will not forsake my people Ĭs'ra-el.

14 So Sŏl'o-mon [c]built the house and finished it.

G Inside cedar walls

15 And he built the [d]walls of the house within with boards of cedar, both the floor of the house, and the walls of the ceiling: and he covered them on the inside with wood, and covered the floor of the house with planks of fir.

H Dimensions and decorations of the Holy of Holies and the Holy Place (vs. 2, 20) 16 And he built [e]twenty cubits on the sides of the house, both the floor and the walls with boards of cedar: he even built them for it within, even for the oracle, even for the most holy place.

17 And the house, that is, the temple before it, was [f]forty cubits long.

18 And the cedar of the house within was [g]carved with knops and open flowers: all was cedar; there was no stone seen.

19 And the oracle he prepared in the house within, to set there the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

20 And the oracle in the forepart was twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and twenty cubits in the height thereof: and he overlaid it with pure gold; and so covered the altar which was of cedar.

21 So Sŏl'o-mon overlaid the house within with pure gold: and he made a partition by the chains of gold before the oracle; and he overlaid it with gold.

22 And the whole house he overlaid with gold, until he had finished all the house: also the whole altar that was by the oracle he overlaid with gold.

I Two cherubims in the Holy of Holies

23 ¶ And within the oracle he made [h]two cherubims of olive tree, each ten cubits high.

24 And five cubits was the one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the other wing of the cherub: from the uttermost part of the one wing unto the uttermost part of the other were ten cubits.

25 And the other cherub was ten cubits: both the cherubims were of one measure and one size.

26 The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was it of the other cherub.

27 And he set the cherubims within the inner house: and they stretched forth the wings of the cherubims, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings touched one another in the midst of the house.

28 And he overlaid the cherubims with gold.

J Wall and floor decorations

29 And he [c]carved all the walls of the house round about with carved figures of cherubims and palm trees and open flowers, within and without.

30 And the floor of the house he overlaid with gold, within and without.

K Doors of the Holy of Holies

31 ¶ And for the entering of the oracle he made [b]doors of olive tree: the lintel and side posts were a fifth part of the wall.

32 The two doors also were of olive tree; and he carved upon them carvings of cherubims and palm trees and open flowers, and overlaid them with gold, and spread gold upon the cherubims, and upon the palm trees.

33 So also made he for [c]the door of the temple posts of olive tree, a fourth part of the wall.

34 And the two doors were of fir tree: the two leaves of the one door were folding, and the two leaves of the other door were folding.

35 And he carved thereon cherubims and palm trees and open flowers: and covered them with gold fitted upon the carved work.

L The inner court

36 ¶ And he built the [d]inner court with [e]three rows of hewed stone, and a row of cedar beams.

M The temple finished

37 ¶ In the fourth year was the foundation of the house of the LORD [f]laid, in the month Zif:

38 And in the eleventh year, in the month Bŭl, which is the eighth month, was the house finished throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the fashion of it. So was he seven years in building it.

298 CHAPTER 7

(3) Thirteen years building Solomon's house

BUT Sŏl'o-mon was building his own house [g]thirteen years, and he finished all his house.

2 ¶ He built [h]also the house of the forest of Lĕb'a-non; the length thereof was an [i]hundred cubits, and the breadth thereof [j]fifty cubits, and the height thereof [k]thirty cubits, upon [l]four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams upon the pillars.

3 And it was covered with cedar above upon the beams, that lay on forty five pillars, fifteen in a row.

4 And there were [m]windows in three rows, and light was against light in three ranks.

5 And all the doors and posts were square, with the windows: and light was against light in three ranks.

6 ¶ And he made a [n]porch of pillars; the length thereof was a The walls all around the inner and outer rooms, the holy and most holy places, were carved with figures of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers; and the floor was covered with gold (v 29-30)

b The 2 doors of the most holy place were made of olive wood, carved with cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers, and covered with gold (v 31-32). They formed a fifth part of the wall or about 8 1/2 ft. of the 41 ft. 8 in. wall (v 31). Each of the 2 doors was possibly 3 1/2 ft. wide which would leave some room for posts and lintel

c The 2 folding doors between the porch and the most holy place, with the posts and lintels, took up 1/4 the wall. They were made of olive wood, carved with cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers, and covered with gold. This 10 ft. 8 in. space for the 2 folding doors would make each opening at least about 4 1/2 ft. (v 33-35)

d The inner court. An outer court is mentioned in 2 Chr. 4:9. The inner court was perhaps the same as the higher court of Jer. 36:10, being raised above the outer one a few steps. It seems the inner court surrounded the temple building and was perhaps double the size of the temple all the way around. The outside width of the temple was no doubt 40 cubits - 104 ft. 2 in. (We cannot be certain because we do not know how thick the walls were). If double, the inner court then, extended 208 ft. 4 in. from the temple itself on all sides. There may have even been more space in front to make room for the brazen altar and sacrifices. The outer court was evidently much larger, measuring perhaps 500-750 feet

e There were 3 rows of stone in the inner court walls and a row of cedar beams (v 36). This does not tell us how wide the stones were, but we know they were seen only on the outside of the court walls. Inside there was a covering of cedar f The foundation was laid in the month of Zif, and 2nd month or May (v 1, 37), and the temple was finished in the 8th month, Bul or November, 7 years and 6 months later (v 38). It was dedicated in the 7th month or October (8:2), which means it took 11 months to complete the furnishings unless the people waited purposely until the next feast of tabernacles for the dedication. Compare this with the years Solomon took to build his own house - 13 years in all or 6 more than the time spent on the temple (7:1). We have a fair idea of what it would cost to build such a temple - more than $174,000,000,000.00, according to some calculations; but we do not know about Solomon's own house. If he spent half as much on this the cost, according to prices of today would be more than $87,000,000,000.00; and for the two buildings, over $261,000,000,000.00

g How many men he used as workers on his house is not stated, but it is significant that the Holy Spirit records the time it took Solomon to build his own house in comparison to God's house. There must have been more than the idea of time that God wanted us to see from this. The king used the same kind of stone, wood, and other materials, but covered his house with gold on the inside. It was no doubt as beautiful and magnificent as the temple. It plainly states in v 2 that he built it of the forest of Lebanon, and in v 9-12 that he used great and costly stones and cedars for his large palace which cared for many hundreds of wives, concubines, servants, and government officers

h The word also here plainly reveals that the house of the forest of Lebanon was a different part of the palace from his own house of v 1 (v 2). Besides this there was the queen's house (v 8). Perhaps there was a long range of buildings to the one palace of v 1

i 100 cubits - 208 ft. 4 in. counting 25 in. to the cubit

j 50 cubits - 104 ft. 2 in.

k 30 cubits - 62 1/2 ft.

l This was certainly not the temple described before. This building was 83 ft. 4 in. longer than the temple and 62 1/2 ft. wider. It had rows of cedar pillars with cedar beams upon them and a roof covered with cedar above a 50 cubits - 104 ft. 2 in. counting 25 in. to the cubit b 30 cubits - 62 1/2 ft.

c It seems there was a series of buildings and porches to the palace:
1 The house of the forest of Lebanon, which perhaps was the harem in 3 stories measuring 208 ft. 4 in. by 104 ft. 2 in. (v 2-5)
2 The porch - 104 ft. 2 in. by 62 1/2 ft. on one end of the house (v 6)
3 The porch of the throne of judgment, perhaps the same size as the one above and attached to the other end of the harem (v 7)
4 The king's private house and porch and court, perhaps connected with the porch of judgment (v 8)
5 The queen's house (v 8)
d All these, the houses and porches of note c, above, were of costly stones which made the walls and foundations. The stones were 10 cubits - 20 ft. 10 in. by 8 cubits - 16 ft. 8 in. (v 9-10). Cedar beams and boards were used throughout the palace and temple (v 11-12) c Modern man is not the only generation having tools to work with, for there were saws for cutting wood and stone this far back - 1100-1000 B.C. (v 9)
f Though he bore the same name this Hiram was not the king of Tyre. He was a metal worker and had charge of all the castings of pillars, brazen sea, and many other things used in the temple furnishings (v 13-14; 2 Chr. 2:13; 4:16)
g 2 brass pillars - 18 cubits or 37 1/2 ft. high by 12 cubits - 25 ft. around (v 15)
h 2 capitals of brass were cast to be placed on top the 2 pillars of brass. These were 5 cubits - 10 ft. 5 in. high (v 16)
i They had foundaries that far back in ancient times and cast brass for the large pillars and pieces of furniture for the temple mentioned in this chapter
j 5 cubits - 10 ft. 5 in. counting 25 in. to the cubit

5 things Araunah did (2 Sam. 24:20)

1 Looked (v 20)
2 Saw the king and his servants coming 3 Went out
4 Bowed himself before the king on his face
5 Said, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his servant? (v 21). Let the king take and offer up what seems good to him. Here are oxen for burnt-sacrifice, and threshing instruments for wood (v 22). The Lord your God accept you

Hell not the grave (2:6)

Heb. sheol, the unseen world; the place of departed spirits - not the grave, the place for a body. This word is used in both v 6 and 9; and it might appear at first that it could refer to the grave, but not so, as proved on p. 620. This should be understood in the same sense as the rich man in hades (Lk. 16:19-31). He was in sheol-hades with his spiritual bodily parts. The inner man is as real as the physical body, having spiritual parts that fit into the physical. The rich man in hell had eyes, and other bodily parts as well as full consciousness while out of his body. Hence, the word should have been trans. hell instead of grave

Burying place of David (2:10)

This was a departure from the ordinary custom, as the dead were usually buried outside the cities. It was therefore a mark of high honor to be buried in the city, and a special honor to David to be buried in the city called by his name. Here also other kings of David's line were buried (11:43; 2 Chr. 32:33). Some were buried in the city, but at different places (2 Ki. 21:18, 26). The sepulchre of David was known in apostolic times (Acts 2:29). Its location today is pointed out on the southern hill of Jerusalem, commonly called Zion, under the Mosque of David. It is jealously guarded by Mohammedans from all intrusion fifty [c]cubits, and the breadth thereof [b]thirty cubits: and the porch was before them: and the other pillars and the thick beam were before them.

7 ¶ Then he made a porch for the [c]throne where he might judge, even the porch of judgment: and it was covered with cedar from one side of the floor to the other.

(4) The queen's house

8 ¶ And his house where he dwelt had another court within the porch, which was of the like work. Sŏl'o-mon made also an house for Phā'raōh's daughter, whom he had taken to wife, like unto this porch.

(5) Materials for Solomon's houses and temple

9 [d]All these were of costly stones, according to the measures of hewed stones, [e]sawed with saws, within and without, even from the foundation unto the coping, and so on the outside toward the great court.

10 And the foundation was of costly stones, even great stones, stones of ten cubits, and stones of eight cubits.

11 And above were costly stones, after the measures of hewed stones, and cedars.

12 And the great court round about was with three rows of hewed stones, and a row of cedar beams, both for the inner court of the house of the LORD, and for the porch of the house.

(6) Brass work on the temple (7:13-47). A Work of Hiram 13 ¶ And king Sŏl'o-mon sent and fetched Hi'ram out of Tyre.

14 [f]He was a widow's son of the tribe of Năph'ta-lī, and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in brass: and he was filled with wisdom, and understanding, and cunning to work all works in brass. And he came to king Sŏl'o-mon and wrought all his work.

B Two pillars of brass 37 ft. 6 in. high, 25 ft. round

15 For he cast two pillars of brass, of [g]eighteen cubits high apiece: and a line of twelve cubits did compass either of them about.

C Two capitals of brass 10 ft. 5 in. high

16 And he made [h]two chapiters of [i]molten brass, to set upon the tops of the pillars: the height of the one chapiter was five cubits, and the height of the other chapiter was [i]five cubits:

D Brass net-work, 14 chain wreaths, 400 pomegranates and lily work for the capitals

17 And nets of checker work, and wreaths of chain work, for the chapiters which were upon the top of the pillars; seven for the one chapiter, and seven for the other chapiter.

18 And he made the pillars, and two rows round about upon the one network, to [a]cover the chapiters that were upon the top, with pomegranates: and so did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were upon the top of the pillars were of lily work in the porch, [b]four cubits.

20 And the chapiters upon the two pillars had pomegranates also above, over against [c]the belly which was by the network: and the pomegranates were [d]two hundred in rows round about upon the other chapiter.

21 And he set up the pillars in the porch of the temple: and he set up the right pillar, and called the [e]name thereof Jā'chin: and he set up the left pillar, and called the name thereof Bō'āz.

22 And upon the top of the pillar was lily work: so was the work of the pillars finished.

E Brass molten sea, 10 ft. 5 in. high, 20 ft. 10 in. across and 80 1/2 ft. around: 805 knobs and about 10 in. thick (2 Chr. 4:2-5)

23 ¶ And he made a [f]molten sea, [g]ten cubits from the one brim to the other: it was round all about, and his height [h]was five cubits: and a line of [i]thirty cubits did compass it round about.

24 And under the brim of it round about there were [j]knops compassing it, ten in a cubit, compassing the sea round about: the knops were cast in two rows, when it was cast.

F Twelve oxen to hold the laver and 16,750 gal. water

25 It stood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east: and the sea was set above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 And it was an hand breadth thick, and the brim thereof was wrought like the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies: it contained [k]two thousand baths.

G Ten bases on wheels, 8 ft. 4 in. square, 6 ft. 3 in. high with engraved lions, oxen, cherubims and palm trees

27 ¶ And he made ten bases of brass; [l]four cubits was the length of one base, and four cubits the breadth thereof, [m]and three cubits the height of it.

28 And the work of the bases was on this manner: they had borders, and the borders were between the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were between the ledges [n]were lions, oxen, and cherubims: and upon the ledges there was a base above: and beneath the lions and oxen were certain additions made of thin work.

30 And every base had four brasen [o]wheels, and [p]plates of brass: and the four corners thereof had [q]undersetters: under the laver were undersetters a The nets of checker work, the wreaths of chain work, the pomegranates, and the lily work on the capitals must have been beautiful beyond words to describe (v 17-22)

b 4 cubits - 8 ft. 4 in. counting 25 in. to the cubit c The belly - the swell or protuberance d 200 pomegranates. In v 42 called 400 because of 200 being reckoned to each, as in 2 Chr. 4:13. In 2 Chr. 3:16 they are said to be 100 because of 100 to the row; and in Jer. 52:23 they are 96 on a side, referring to those that were exposed, the rest being sheltered or covered e The name of one pillar was Jachin, meaning: He (God) will establish; and the other Boaz, meaning: In Him (God) is strength f The brazen sea was cast in the foundry like the pillars of v 16. It was 20 ft. 10 in. across from brim to brim; 10 ft. 5 in. high; and 62 1/2 ft. around. It had 2 rows of knobs around the rim of the bowl (v 24). It stood upon 12 brazen oxen cast of the brass; 3 looked in each of the 4 directions with their hinder parts inward and under the brazen laver which was a hand breadth, or about 4 in. thick, with the brim made like that of a cup with flowers of lilies (v 25-26). The brazen sea was an immense vase of solid brass, 10 ft. 5 in. deep and weighing about 25-30 tons. Filled with 16,750 gallons of water the laver would weigh about 100 tons. The small lavers were supposed to contain 300 gallons of water, which with the lavers would weigh about 2 tons each. Jewish writers say that the water was changed daily, so as to be always pure for use in the ceremonial worship g 10 cubits - 20 ft. 10 in. counting 25 in. as a cubit h 5 cubits - 10 ft. 5 in.
i 30 cubits - 62 1/2 ft.
j The knobs were cast with the bowl itself, and no doubt the checker, chain, pomegranate, and lily work on the capitals was likewise cast with the capitals of v 17-22 k 2,000 baths - 16,750 gallons (v 26), a bath being 1 bu. 3 pts. or 67 pts. In 2 Chr. 4:5 it reads: 3,000 baths which would be 25,125 gallons. This is evidently how much it could possibly hold, while the usual content was 16,750 gallons l 4 cubits - 8 ft. 4 in.
m 3 cubits - 6 ft. 3 in.
n The lions, oxen, and cherubim upon the borders between the ledges and the work upon the ledges were of thin brass (v 29) instead of heavy work as in the case of the oxen supporting the laver (v 25)
o Indicating that the bases were movable (v 30) p The plates were really brazen axletrees for the wheels
q The undersetters were no doubt shoulders - brackets or bars proceeding from the 4 corners of the bases and stretching upward to the outer rim of the small laver being supported

12 things pleasing to God (3:10):

1 That Israel was blessed (Num. 24:1)
2 Israel was His people (12:22)
3 Solomon's prayer (1 Ki. 3:10)
4 Bruising of the Messiah (Isa. 53:10)
5 Messiah's life and mission (Mt. 3:17) 1:21)
6 Saving of souls by preaching (1 Cor.
7 Setting members in the church (1 Cor. 12:18) 15:38)
8 Resurrection of dead bodies (1 Cor.
9 Separation of Paul (Gal. 1:15)
10 All fulness dwelling in Christ (Col. 1:19)
11 Enoch's life and faith (Heb. 11:5)
12 Sacrifices of praise (Heb. 13:16)

4 things Solomon did not ask for (3:11)

1 Long life (v 11)
2 Riches
3 Life of his enemies
4 Honor (v 13)
These things which would have been requested by the average man were also granted to him for his wise choice in asking for something to benefit others instead of himself a The opposite side

b The mouth of it and the chapiter that was above no doubt refer to the open bowl and cap or lid for each of the 10 lavers on wheels (2 Chr. 4:8) c Borders - panels. They were removed by Ahaz (2 Ki. 16:17), and replaced by Hezekiah (2 Chr. 29:19), being in the temple when taken by Nebuchadnezzar (Jer. 52:17, 20)
d The wheels were 1 1/2 cubits high - 3 ft. 1 1/2 in. (v 32); and they were made like chariot wheels, of molten brass (v 33)
e Naves - hubs of the wheels 33)
f Felloes - the rims of the wheels g The undersetters - shoulders to hold the laver, were cast with the base (v 34) h A circular elevation, half a cubit (12 1/2 in.) high on which the laver sat, rather than a depression that deep. It is called the base above, in v 29
i Gravings of cherubim, lions, and palm trees were made according to the space (v 36) j The 10 bases for the 10 lavers were all of one casting, one measure, and one size (v 37). The 10 lavers were the same in size and contained 40 baths (v 38) k 40 baths. One bath being equal to 1 bu. and 3 pts. (or 67 pts.), 40 baths would be 335 gallons l 4 cubits - 8 ft. 4 in. counting 25 in. to the cubit
m Here we have the placing of the 10 small lavers and the large one, called the molten sea (v 39). 5 small ones were put on the right side of the house, and 5 on the left. The molten sea was put on the right side of the house eastward over toward the south; that is, nearer the south side of the house than the north side, or toward the southeast corner (v 39)
n Summary of brazen castings:
1 Lavers (pots or cauldrons, v 40)
2 Shovels
3 Basons
4 The 2 pillars (v 41)
5 The 2 bowls of the chapiters for the tops of the pillars
6 The 2 networks to cover the bowls of the chapiters upon the pillars
7 400 pomegranates for the 2 networks, even 2 rows for each network, to cover the bowls of the chapiters upon the pillars (v 42)
8 The 10 bases for the water lavers
9 The 10 lavers to hold water (v 43)
10 A molten sea or water reservoir
11 12 oxen to hold the molten sea (v 44)
12 The pots, shovels, and basons (v 45). There must have been a difference between these and those of point 1 which were for the boiling places, for these were for the brazen altar of sacrifice o The cauldrons for boiling the sacrifices, not the lavers for water, as in v 38-39

Anglo-Saxon or British-Israel theory (2 Sam. 2:9)

In general, the modern Anglo-Saxon theory teaches the following:
1 That the British and American people are the 10 lost tribes of Israel
2 That Britain is Ephraim and America is Manasseh
3 That all the promises made to Israel are now being fulfilled with Britain and America and never will be fulfilled with Jews
4 That the royal family of England are the true legal heirs of the throne of David through Zedekiah's daughter, and that the throne of England is the throne of David. See note j, 2 Sam. 7:16
5 That the Coronation Stone of England was the original Jacob's pillow
6 That there is a vital distinction between Israel and the Jews; that they are not the same kind of people and never will be; and that each has a different destiny
7 That the terms Israel, Judah, Jews, the house of Israel, and the house of Judah are never used interchangeably in Scripture
8 That the Israel of Isaiah, Jeremiah, and the other prophets had no tribe of Judah in it 9 That Jews descended from the tribe of Judah only molten, at [a]the side of every addition.

31 And the [b]mouth of it within the chapiter and above was a cubit: but the mouth thereof was round after the work of the base, a cubit and an half: and also upon the mouth of it were gravings with their [c]borders, foursquare, not round.

32 And under the borders were [d]four wheels; and the axletrees of the wheels were joined to the base: and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit.

33 And the work of the wheels was like the work of a chariot wheel: their axletrees, and their [e]naves, and their [f]felloes, and their spokes, were all molten.

34 And there were four undersetters to the four corners of one base: and the [g]undersetters were of the very base itself.

35 And in the [h]top of the base was there a round compass of half a cubit high: and on the top of the base the ledges thereof and the borders thereof were of the same.

36 For on the plates of the ledges thereof, and on the borders thereof, he graved cherubims, lions, and palm trees, according to the [i]proportion of every one, and additions round about.

37 After this manner he made the [j]ten bases: all of them had one casting, one measure, and one size.

H Ten brass lavers 8 ft. 4 in. square for boiling peace offerings (vs. 45; 2 Chr. 4:11)

38 ¶ Then made he ten lavers of brass: one laver [k]contained forty baths: and every laver was [l]four cubits: and upon every one of the ten bases one laver.

39 And [m]he put five bases on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house: and he set the sea on the right side of the house eastward over against the south.

I Summary of the brazen work

40 ¶ And Hi'ram [n]made [o]the lavers, and the shovels, and the basons. So Hi'ram made an end of doing all the work that he made king Sŏl'o-mon for the house of the LORD:

41 The two pillars, and the two bowls of the chapiters that were on the top of the two pillars; and the two networks, to cover the two bowls of the chapiters which were upon the top of the pillars;

42 And four hundred pomegranates for the two networks, even two rows of pomegranates for one network, to cover the two bowls of the chapiters that were upon the pillars;

43 And the ten bases, and ten lavers on the bases;

44 And one sea, and twelve oxen under the sea;

45 And the pots, and the shovels, and the basons: and all these vessels, which Hi'ram made to king Sŏl'o-mon for the house of the LORD, were [a]of bright brass.

J Where foundry was located

46 [b]In the plain of Jôr'dan did the king cast them, in the clay ground between Sŭc'coth and Zăr'than.

47 And Sŏl'o-mon left all the vessels unweighed, because they were exceeding many: neither was the weight of the brass found out.

(7) Gold work of the temple

48 And Sŏl'o-mon [c]made [d]all the vessels that pertained unto the house of the LORD: the altar of gold, and the table of gold, whereupon the shewbread was,

49 And the candlesticks of pure gold, five on the right side, and five on the left, before the oracle, with the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs of gold,

50 And the bowls, and the snuffers, and the basons, and the spoons, and the censers of pure gold; and the hinges of gold, both for the doors of the inner house, the most holy place, and for the doors of the house, to wit, of the temple.

51 So was ended all the work that king Sŏl'o-mon made for the house of the LORD. And Sŏl'o-mon brought in the things which Dā'vid his father had dedicated; even the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, did he put among the treasures of the house of the LORD.

CHAPTER 8 299

(8) Dedication of the temple (8:1-9:9; 2 Chr. 5:2-7:22). A Ark brought in: glory appears (2 Chr. 5:2-14)

THEN Sŏl'o-mon assembled the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, unto king Sŏl'o-mon in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, that they might bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of Dā'vid, which is Zi'ŏn.

2 And [a]all the men of Ĭs'ra-el assembled themselves unto king Sŏl'o-mon at the feast in the month Ĕth'a-nĭm, which is the seventh month.

3 And all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el came, and the [b]priests took up the ark.

4 And they brought up the ark of the LORD, [c]and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, even those did the priests and the Lĕ'vites bring up.

5 And king Sŏl'o-mon, and all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, that were assembled unto him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, [d]that could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

6 And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD unto [e]his place, into the oracle of the house, to the most holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

7 For the cherubims spread a Heb. magat, to polish: make bright; furbish (v 45). Then, as now, they had a way of giving the brass a fine bright polish instead of making rough castings b In the plain of Jordan where there was clay ground suitable for castings and cores used in making the various shapes from melted metal poured into forms (v 46). In Succoth and Zarthan they had clay and sand. It took a large foundry and many furnaces to make enough metal to pour so many bronze castings, and the large molten sea. Tons of metal had to be melted and poured at the same time to keep the great castings from being faulty and in pieces. So much brass was used that it was almost impossible to keep a record of the weight (v 47)

c He made them in the same way that God makes or does many things - not personally, but by having the work done by various agencies
d Summary of the gold work:
1 The altar of gold (v 48)
2 The table of showbread
3 The 10 candlesticks (v 49)
4 The tongs
5 The bowls (v 50)
6 The snuffers
7 The basons
8 The spoons
9 The censers
10 The hinges for the doors of the holy and most holy places
e Then - when the temple and furnishings were completed, Solomon assembled the elders, the heads of the tribes, and all the chiefs of the fathers of Israel, to bring up the ark of the covenant from the city of David, which is Zion (v 1)
f All the men of Israel were also gathered to the feast of tabernacles in the 7th month, October, which was 11 months after the temple proper was finished (6:38)
g The priests alone could be set apart to carry the ark. Solomon did not make the mistake his father did by seeking to bring it to Jerusalem on a cart instead of being carried by the priests, as God had commanded (2 Sam. 6, Cp. Num. 3:39-41; 4:4, 15; Dt. 10:8; 1 Chr. 15:2, 15)
h The tabernacle of Moses was located in Gibeon (v 4; 2 Chr. 1:3-4)
i There were so many that they did not try to keep account of them (v 5) j His place - into the most holy place, under the wings of the great cherubim that Solomon had made which stretched out their wings until two of them touched the outer walls (v 7-11; 6:23-28)

10 things to be done with all the heart (8:23)

1 Return to Jehovah (6:48; Dt. 30:2)
2 Walk before Him (2:4; 8:23)
3 Serve Him (Dt. 11:13; Josh. 22:5)
4 Love Him (Dt. 30:6; Mt. 22:37)
5 Keep His word (Dt. 26:16)
6 Follow Him (14:8)
7 Seek Him (2 Chr. 15:12-15; 22:9)
8 Praise Him (Ps. 86:12)
9 Trust in Him (Pr. 3:5) 10:9-10) 10 Believe in Him (Acts 8:37; Rom.

8 ways to get rid of sin (8:33)

1 Turn again to God - be converted (v 33)
2 Confess the name of God (v 33, 35)
3 Make supplication to Him (v 33)
4 Turn from sin (v 35)
5 Fear God (v 43) 47)
6 Repent, and make supplication (v
7 Acknowledge sins committed
8 Return to God with all the heart, and with all the soul (v 48)

8 blessings for obedience:

1 God will hear from heaven and forgive all sins confessed (v 34, 36, 38)
2 One will be taught the good way wherein he should walk (v 36)
3 Will be given material blessings
4 Will receive answers to prayers (v 38, 52) works (v 39)
5 Will be rewarded according to 6 Will learn to fear God and know His name (v 40, 43)
7 Will have his cause maintained by God (v 45, 49)
8 Will be shown mercy by men (v 50)

a The two wings covering the ark were the inner wings of the cherubim that touched each other in the center of the room. The outside wings reached to the outer walls. The wing spread of each was 10 cubits - 20 ft. 10 in; and the cherubim were set side by side. This gave plenty of space for the ark under the wings. The cherubim measured 10 cubits or 20 ft. 10 in. high, so the wings could have been 10-15 ft. above the ark which no doubt rested on a table which sat on the floor (v 7; 6:23-28)

b The staves were partially taken out of the rings of the ark by which it was carried, so that the ends could be seen from the holy place but not from the porch outside the holy place (v 8). In this way the ark never needed to be handled, as the staves could be easily put back into the rings without even touching the ark. It seems that it was unlawful to take them wholly out of the rings. Pulling the staves out so the ends could be seen indicated the ark had found its resting place in the temple and was not to be borne any more. It had a permanent house, not a tent as before

c The most holy place where the ark was kept (v 8)

d Outside the holy place from the porch

e Unto this day, proving that this part of the book of Kings was written while the temple was still standing. This would mean before it was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar and before the captivity (Cp. 2 Chr. 5:9; 2 Ki. 8:22; 10:27)

f At this time there was nothing in the ark but the 10 commandments (v 9). When, in Heb. 9:4 Paul mentioned the golden pot of manna and Aaron's rod, he was speaking of the ark while in the tabernacle instead of the temple. It is not known when these two things were removed; it could have been when the Philistines had the ark, or when many men were killed for looking into it, as in 1 Sam. 5-6. We know that the original stones on which the 10 commandments were written were in existence at this time

g When the priests had taken the ark into the temple, into the most holy place, had finished arranging the furniture, and had left never to enter this place again, except for the high priest once a year, the glory cloud filled the temple so that the priests could not minister because of it (v 10-11). This glory was a symbol of the divine presence of God, which had been promised before the ark was begun (Ex. 29:43); had filled the tabernacle as soon as it was completed (Ex. 40:34); and had been seen on the journeys of the children of Israel (Ex. 13:21-22; 14:24; 19:18; 40:38; Num. 14:14)

h Then - when the priests had left the temple and the glory of God had filled it so they could not minister in it, Solomon, the preacher, gave a short sermon (v 12-21), and a much longer prayer of dedication to God (v 22-54)

i Where God ever said this is not recorded. Solomon may have taken the idea from the fact of God's appearance in darkness on Sinai (Ex. 20:21), or from David who said that darkness was under His feet and that He made darkness His secret place (Ps. 18:9-11), and that darkness and light are alike to God (Ps. 139:12). The N. T. says that God dwells in a light no man can approach unto and no man has seen or can see; that is, no man has seen or can see God in all His glory (1 Tim. 6:16). It was God in His glory that Moses wanted to see; and he was told this could not be; but outside the glory or in limited glory, men have seen Him (Ex. 33:18-23)

j Solomon here told God that he had built a house for Him to dwell in - a settled place so that He would not need to dwell in a tent to be moved from place to place. He offered it to God for a dwelling forever (v 13). After saying this to the Lord, the king turned to the congregation and blessed them as they stood (v 14)

k Solomon now blessed the Lord before the congregation. Like all good preachers he gave a short expository message from God's Word, building all his remarks around the Word, applying the same to himself and his people (v 15-21) forth their[a] two wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the staves thereof above.

8 And they [b]drew out the staves, that the ends of the staves were seen out in the holy place before [c]the oracle, and they were not seen[d] without: and there they are [e]unto this day.

9 There was nothing in the ark[f] save the two tables of stone, which Mō'ses put there at Hō'reb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Is'ra-el, when they came out of the land of E'gypt.

10 And it came to pass,[g] when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD, 11 So that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of the LORD.

B Sermon of Solomon (2 Chr. 6:1-11. See Ecl. 1:1)

12 ¶[h] Then spake Sŏl'o-mon, The LORD [i]said that he would dwell in the thick darkness.

13 I have surely built thee an house to dwell in, a settled place for thee to abide in for ever.

14 And the king turned his face about, and blessed all the congregation of Is'ra-el: (and all the congregation of Is'ra-el stood;)

15 And he said, [k]Blessed be the LORD God of Is'ra-el, which spake with his mouth unto Dā'vid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

16 [l]Since the day that I brought forth my people Is'ra-el out of E'gypt, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Is'ra-el to build an house, that my name might be therein; but I chose Dā'vid to be over my people Is'ra-el.

17 And it was in the heart of Dā'vid my father to build an house for the name of the LORD God of Is'ra-el.

18 And the LORD said unto Dā'vid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house unto my name, thou didst well that it was in thine heart.

*19 [m]Nevertheless thou shalt not build the house; but thy son that shall come forth out of thy loins, he shall build the house unto my name.

20 And the LORD hath performed his word that he spake, and I am risen up in the room of Dā'vid my father, and sit on the throne of Is'ra-el, as the LORD promised, and have built an house for the name of the LORD God of Is'ra-el.

21 And I have set there a place for the ark, wherein is the covenant of the LORD, which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of E'gypt.

C Solomon's dedication prayer (2 Chr. 6:12-42):

(a) Concerning God's past faithfulness

22 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon [a]stood before the [b]altar of the LORD in the presence of all the congregation of Is'ra-el, and spread forth his hands toward heaven:

23 And he [c]said, LORD God of Is'ra-el, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepest covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with [d]all their heart:

24 Who [e]hast kept with thy servant Dā'vid my father that thou promisedst him: thou spakest also with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

(b) Plea for continued blessing on Israel (2 Chr. 6:16-17)

*25 [f]Therefore now, LORD God of Is'ra-el, keep with thy servant Dā'vid my father that thou promisedst him, saying, There shall not fail thee a man in my sight to sit on the throne of Is'ra-el; so that thy children take heed to their way, that they walk before me as thou hast walked before me.

26 And now, O God of Is'ra-el, let thy word, I pray thee, be verified, which thou spakest unto thy servant Dā'vid my father.

(c) God's omnipresence (2 Chr. 6:18)

27 [g]But [h]will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?

(d) Plea for answers to prayers uttered toward the temple (2 Chr. 6:19)

28 Yet have thou respect unto the [i]prayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and to the prayer, which thy servant prayeth before thee to day:

29 That thine eyes may be open [j]toward this house night and day, even toward the place of which thou hast said, My name shall be there: that thou mayest hearken unto the prayer which thy servant shall make toward this place.

30 And hearken thou to the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Is'ra-el, when they shall pray toward this place: and hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place: and when thou hearest, forgive.

(e) Plea for just judgment (2 Chr. 6:22-23)

31 ¶[k] If any man trespass against his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him to cause him to swear, and the oath come before thine altar in this house:

32 Then hear thou in heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, condemning the wicked, to bring his way upon his head; and justifying the righteous, to give him according to his right-

a He stood for prayer before the altar, the brazen altar of sacrifice in the court outside the temple, and stretched out his hands toward heaven; but before he prayed, he kneeled before the Lord (v 54; 2 Chr. 6:13)

b Note the intelligent prayer of Solomon. In a prayer of 1,050 words he addressed God 4 different ways, but only 5 times:
1 Lord God of Israel (v 23, 25)
2 O God of Israel (v 26)
3 O Lord my God (v 28)
4 O Lord God (v 53)
He addressed God by name 4 times at the beginning and once at the end

c See 12 parts to this prayer and blessing, p. 376

d See 10 things to be done with all the heart, p. 367

e No man will ever be able to say that God has not kept His promises and covenants and fully met His obligations to him. All the promises of God are Yea and Amen, and thus it will always be (2 Cor. 1:20)

f 5th prophecy in 1 Ki. (8:25, fulfilled). Next, 9:3. This is a quotation of a previous prophecy which was fulfilled up to this time, for obedience had been rendered to Jehovah (v 25; 2:4; 2 Sam. 7:12, Cp. Ps. 132:12; Jer. 33:20-33; Lk. 1:32-33)

g Questions 14-15. Next, 9:8

h This question can be answered in the affirmative. God will indeed dwell on the earth, in person and in visible form in all eternity, as He now dwells on the planet heaven (Isa. 66:22-24; Tit. 2:13; Rev. 21:1-27; 22:4-5). This does not mean, however, that His presence will be limited to the earth any more than it is now limited to heaven. Solomon could have been referring to omnipresence here, not omnibody. God's body cannot be everywhere present; but His presence can be in all places at the same time. This is governed by relationship with others, not substance. See God in Index

i Prayer includes every thought and word from the heart that is God-ward. If ever there was a prayer going direct to God this one was j 4 major requests of Solomon (v 29-30):

1 For God's eyes to be toward the temple night and day - to hear all the prayers of His people
2 For God to hear his prayers that would be prayed toward the temple
3 For God to hear the prayers of all Israel wherever they were and when they prayed toward the temple
4 For God to answer and forgive, not merely hear what was said

k Note the if's, when's, and then's
1 If men sin, then hear (v 31-32)
2 When Israel sins and is defeated, and shall confess and pray, Then hear (v 33-34)
3 When they have sinned and are judged, and if they pray and confess, then hear (v 35-36)
4 If there be plagues and curses, and they pray, then hear (v 37-40)
5 When strangers seek You and pray toward this temple, hear from heaven (v 41-43)
6 If Your people go out to battle and pray toward the temple, then hear (v 44-45)
7 If they sin, are defeated in battle, go into captivity, and return to You with all the heart, then hear (v 47-53)

1 For about 600 years God had not chosen a particular place among Israel where a house should be built for Himself, but He had chosen David to be over Israel (v 16). In all this time the first instance of a desire for such a place, was present in David's heart, and that after he had built his own house and recalled that while he, himself was blessed with a cedar building, God remained in an old tent, God spoke to him commending him for this thought (v 17-18; 2 Sam. 7) and told him that whereas, he could not build the temple, David's son who would succeed him on the throne would do it (v 19). Now it was finished and ready for dedication (v 20-21. See 2 Chr. 6:5) m 4th prophecy in 1 Ki. (8:19, fulfilled). Next, v 25. This predicts the building of the temple by the son of David, which was fulfilled at this time; the temple had just been finished and was ready for the dedication prayer (v 12-21)

a In the Holy Spirit of prayer Solomon seems to have sensed the future of Israel prophetically (v 33-53):
1 When Israel is smitten down before the enemy, because of sin (v 33)
2 Bring them again unto their land (plainly implying captivity, v 34)
3 When heaven is shut and there is no rain, because of sin (v 35)
4 When You afflict them (v 35)
5 If You send famine, pestilence, blasting, mildew, locust, and caterpillar (v 37)
6 If their enemy besiege them in their land (v 37) 37)
7 If plagues and sicknesses come (v 8 If You deliver Israel to the enemy to carry them captives unto another land, and they repent in the land of their enemy, then give their enemies compassion on them (v 46-53)
Things mentioned in the above could not have been mere guesswork on the part of Solomon, for Israel experienced all that he referred to; so technically they could be considered prophetical. However, we shall not list them as definite predictions for the reason that they are so general and were given in connection with conditions of answered prayer

b This is the only reason Israel was defeated before Solomon, and the only reason they were defeated after him. Sin is to blame for all the troubles and curses among men. These verses not only state the results of sin, but also reveal the remedy for sin. See 8 ways to get rid of sin, p. 367

c Bring them again into their own land (v 34). This has been literally fulfilled, as recorded in Ezra and Nehemiah. Isaiah predicted two such gatherings (Isa. 11:10-12, notes)

d Solomon and others of Scripture recognize all Israel, not only part of the 13 tribes. No writer of Scripture makes a distinction between two classes of Israelites, part fulfilling the original destiny promised their fathers; all writers show that all Israelites will be eventually restored and blessed under their Messiah (Isa. 11:10-12; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 36-37, 47-48; Zech. 12-14; Mt. 24:29-31; Rom. 11:25-29)

e Naturally, Solomon knew the law of Moses that predicted all these curses if they disobeyed God (Lev. 26; Dt. 28)

f No rain was recognized as a curse from God. In the Millennium, withholding the rain will be a means of forcing recognition of the Messiah and fulfillment of religious laws (Zech. 14:16-21)

g No less than 8 times praying toward the temple is mentioned (v 29-30, 35, 38, 42, 44), and praying toward Jerusalem and Palestine is mentioned twice (v 44, 48)

h Famine, pestilences, blasting, mildew, sicknesses, locusts, and other plagues are mentioned in Lev. 26 and Dt. 28 as among the curses that would come upon them for sin (v 37)

i This was one posture in prayer (v 22, 38)

j Heaven is now the dwelling place of God (v 39), but in the new earth He will be on earth (Isa. 66:22-24; Rev. 21-22)

k There can be no question about God knowing the hearts of all men. Several passages state this (v 39; Ps. 139:4; Acts 1:24)

l This verse expresses the ultimate purpose of God in all His dealings with men (v 40)

m Solomon, in his wisdom, did not forget the Gentiles whom God had in mind to bless from the very beginning of His calling of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. All nations were to be blessed through them and their seed (Gen. 12:1-3; Gal. 3:8; Rev. 5:8-10; 7:9-17. See also Num. 15:14; Dt. 10:19)

n This implies the preaching of the gospel, for how shall they hear without a preacher? (v 42; Mk. 16:15-20; Rom. 10:9-17; 1 Cor. 1:18-24)

o In the Millennium all nations will go to Jerusalem and pray and worship (v 43; Isa. 2:2-4; Zech. 14:16-21)

p Solomon was very unselfish in his prayer. He asked that the Gentiles have all their prayers answered, as he had previously requested for Israel (v 43 with v 38). The N.T. is very plain in its teaching that every child of God can

(f) Plea for forgiveness and restoration from captivity (2 Chr. 6:24)

33 ¶ When thy people Is'ra-el be smitten down before the enemy, [b]because they have sinned against thee, and shall turn again to thee, and confess thy name, and pray, and make supplication unto thee in this house:

34 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the sin of thy people Is'ra-el, and [c]bring [d]them again unto the land which thou gavest unto their fathers.

(g) Plea for forgiveness and rain from heaven (2 Chr. 6:26)

35 ¶ [e]When heaven is shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against thee; if they pray [g]toward this place, and confess thy name, and turn from their sin, when thou afflictest them:

36 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the sin of thy servants, and of thy people Is'ra-el, that thou teach them the good way wherein they should walk, and give rain upon thy land, which thou hast given to thy people for an inheritance.

(h) Plea for forgiveness, deliverance from famine and enemies and sickness (2 Chr. 6:28)

37 ¶ If there [h]be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, blasting, mildew, locust, or if there be caterpiller; if their enemy besiege them in the land of their cities; whatsoever plague, whatsoever sickness there be;

38 What prayer and supplication soever be made by any man, or by all thy people Is'ra-el, which shall know every man the plague of his own heart, [i]and spread forth his hands toward this house:

39 Then hear thou in [j]heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and do, and give to every man according to his ways, [k]whose heart thou knowest; (for thou, even thou only, knowest the hearts of all the children of men;)

40 [l]That they may fear thee all the days that they live in the land which thou gavest unto our fathers.

(i) Plea for God's blessing upon the Gentiles seeking Israel's God and praying in the temple (2 Chr. 6:32)

41 Moreover [m]concerning a stranger, that is not of thy people Is'ra-el, but cometh out of a far country for thy name's sake;

42 (For [n]they shall hear of thy great name, and of thy strong hand, and of thy stretched out arm:) [o]when he shall come and pray toward this house;

43 Hear thou in [j]heaven thy dwelling place, and [p]do according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for: [q]that all people of the earth may know thy name, to fear thee, [p]as do thy people Is'ra-el; and that they may know that this house, which I have builded, is called by thy name.

(j) Plea for God's defense of Israel in war (2 Chr. 6:36)

44 ¶ [b]If thy people go out to battle against their enemy, whithersoever thou shalt send them, and shall pray unto the LORD toward [c]the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house that I have built for thy name:

45 Then hear thou in heaven their prayer and their supplication, and [d]maintain their cause.

(k) Plea for forgiveness and restoration from captivity (2 Chr. 6:36)

46 [f]If they sin against thee, (for [there] is no man that sinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, so that they carry them away captives unto the land of the enemy, far or near;

47 Yet if they shall bethink themselves in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make supplication unto thee in the land of them that carried them captives, saying, We have sinned, and have done perversely, we have committed wickedness;

48 And so return unto thee with all their heart, and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies, which led them away captive, and pray unto thee toward their land, which thou gavest unto their fathers, the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built for thy name:

49 Then hear thou their prayer and their supplication in heaven thy dwelling place, and maintain their cause,

50 And forgive thy people that have sinned against thee, and all their transgressions wherein they have transgressed against thee, and [g]give them compassion before them who carried them captive, that they may have compassion on them:

51 For they be thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest forth out of E'gypt, from the midst of [h]the furnace of iron:

52 That thine eyes may be open unto the supplication of thy servant, and unto the supplication of thy people Is'ra-el, to hearken unto them in [i]all that they call for unto thee.

53 For thou didst [j]separate them from among all the people of the earth, to be thine inheritance, as thou spakest by the hand of Mo'ses thy servant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of E'gypt, O Lord GOD.

D Solomon blesses Israel (2 Chr. 7:1)

54 And it was so, that when Sol'o-mon had made an end of praying all this prayer and supplication unto the LORD, he arose from before the altar of a As do Israel. It is true that at that time David had brought Israel, as a whole, to a place of respect for God so that they feared Him. This wonderful state continued through most of the days of Solomon; but after him Israel went into many sins and had to be destroyed as a nation twice (2 Ki. 24-25; Lk. 1:20-24). In the Millennium when Christ reigns visibly on earth, they will all fear and know God (Isa. 2:2-4; 52:7; 65:20-25; 66:19-21; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)

b This provided God as a defence for Israel when He wanted them to make war on any people - when they had not sinned and were to be chastened by other nations. In this instance God was to send them, which is not the same as God sending other nations to punish Israel for sin (v 44-45)

c It seems that God revealed to David His choice of Jerusalem as His capital on earth (v 44; 1 Chr. 22:1; Ps. 78:68; 132:13)

d God does maintain the cause of His people as long as they live right, but when sin is committed he, Himself becomes their judge and metes out the penalty for sin. Twice here Solomon prayed for God to maintain the cause of Israel (v 45, 49. Cp. v 59)

e Again Solomon referred to a time when Israel might sin until God became angry with them, delivering them into the hands of their enemies to go into captivity (v 46). He prayed that if they should come to themselves in the land of their captivity, repent, make supplication to God, acknowledge their sins, confess that they had done perversely, turn to Him with their whole heart and soul, and pray toward Palestine and Jerusalem, that God would then hear their prayer and bring them home again (v 47-50)

f This statement of Solomon must be understood in connection with all men as sinners. It is equal to Paul's statement in Rom. 3:23 that all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. It should not be taken in the all-inclusive sense, else we should have to believe that the man Christ Jesus and all His followers kept on committing sin all their days. Christ knew no sin, neither was guile found in His mouth (1 Pet. 2:22). Christians are to live free from sin (Mt. 1:21; Rom. 6:14-23; 8:1-13; 12:1-2; 2 Cor. 5:17-18; Gal. 5:19-23; Col. 3:5-10; Heb. 12:14-15; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 2:29; 3:5-10; 5:1-4, 18)

g This was fulfilled a number of times (2 Ki. 25:27-30; Ezra 1:1-3; Neh. 2:6; Jer. 52:31-34; Dan. 6)

h Egypt was so-called because of the severe trials and afflictions heaped upon Israel before their deliverance. This could also refer to the deliverance from the furnaces and brick-kilns in Egypt (v 51)

i Solomon had a better understanding of the gospel than many today who reject the doctrine of Christians having all prayers answered through faith. He prayed that such would be the case with himself, with all Israel, and all others who call upon God (v 52). Thus it should be with Christians, for great and precious promises are given unto us, and all of God's promises are Yea and Amen to those who believe (2 Cor. 1:20; 2 Pet. 1:1-9)

j This is the secret of answered prayer for Israel or any other people (v 53). If they are truly separated from the world, prayer will be answered have every prayer answered that he prays in faith (Mt. 7:7-11; 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:4-8; 1 Jn. 3:21-22; 5:14-15)

q The purpose for answers to all prayers, even those of Gentiles, was and ever will be to make the name of God known among the nations of earth, so that all men might fear Him (v 43)

a He kneeled while speaking to God, but stood while speaking to man (v 54-55. Cp, v 22; 1:18; 2 Chr. 6:13; Ezra 9:5; Ps. 95:6; Isa. 45:23; Dan. 6:10). See 1 Sam. 1:26

b The prayer of Solomon was patterned after the Pentateuch, so all theories about the late origin of Deuteronomy are surely false. The prayer is modelled after Deuteronomy in particular, proving that the book had already been written. The promises and threats contained therein must have been in the mind of Solomon while he was praying

c Solomon knew Josh. 21:45; 23:14 about nothing failing that God had promised, so confirmed the earlier statement (v 56). The failure of God to keep any of His promises in the Bible has never been recorded; nor will it ever be thus, for He will always be faithful to keep His Word and fulfil with anyone the promises when he meets the conditions laid down in them. This much is certain and can be relied upon (2 Cor. 1:20)

2 Let us walk in His statutes (v 61)
3 Let us keep His commandments

55 And he stood, and blessed all the congregation of Iṣ'ra-el with a loud voice, saying,

59 And let these my words, wherewith I have made supplication before the LORD, be nigh unto the LORD our God day and night, that he maintain the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Iṣ'ra-el at all times, as the matter shall require:

60 That all the people of the earth may know that the LORD is God, and that there is none else.

61 [d]Let your heart therefore be perfect with the LORD our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.

63 And Sŏl'o-mon [f]offered a sacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered unto the LORD, two and twenty thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the children of Iṣ'ra-el dedicated the house of the LORD.

64 The same day did the king hallow the [g]middle of the court that was before the house of the LORD: for there [h]he offered burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings: because the brasen altar that was before the LORD was too little to receive the burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings.

F Feast of 14 days (2 Chr. 7:9-11)

66 On the eighth day he sent the people away: and they blessed the king, and went unto their tents joyful and glad of heart for all the goodness that the LORD had done [j]for Dā'vid his servant, and for Iṣ'ra-el his people.

CHAPTER 9 300

G Second appearance of God to Solomon (3:5): Davidic Covenant again confirmed (6:11-13; 2 Chr. 7:12)

AND it came to pass, [a]when Sŏl'o-mon had finished the building of the house of the LORD, and the king's house, and all Sŏl'o-mon's desire which he was pleased to do,

■2 That the LORD appeared to Sŏl'o-mon the second time, as he had appeared unto him at Gĭb'e-on.

■3 [b]And the LORD said unto him, I have heard thy prayer and thy supplication, that thou hast made before me: I have hallowed this house, which thou hast built, to put my name there for ever; and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

4 And if thou wilt walk before me, as Dā'vid thy father walked, in integrity of heart, and in uprightness, to do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my statutes and my judgments:

5 [c]Then I will establish the throne of thy kingdom upon Iṣ'ra-el for ever, as I promised to Dā'vid thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man upon the throne of Iṣ'ra-el.

6 But if ye shall at all turn from following me, ye or your children, and will not keep my commandments and my statutes which I have set before you, but go and serve other gods, and worship them:

7 [d]Then will I cut off Iṣ'ra-el out of the land which I have given them; and this house, which I have hallowed for my name, will I cast out of my sight; and Iṣ'ra-el shall be a proverb and a byword among all people:

8 And at this house, which is high, every one that passeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss; and they shall say, [e]Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and to this house?

9 And they shall answer, Because they [f]forsook the LORD their God, who brought forth their fathers out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, and have taken hold upon other gods, and have worshipped them, and served them: therefore hath the LORD brought upon them all this evil.

19 Summary of Solomon's reign (9:10-11:43). (1) First twenty years building two houses

10 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of [g]twenty years, when Sŏl'o-mon had built the two houses, the house of the LORD, and the king's house,

(2) Solomon and Hiram's business deal

11 (Now Hĭ'ram the king of Tўre had furnished Sŏl'o-mon with cedar trees and fir trees, and with gold, according to all his desire,) that then king Sŏl'o-mon [h]gave Hĭ'ram twenty cities in the land of Gă'lĭ-lee.

a When - after building the temple and his own house, or after 20 years, the Lord appeared to Solomon a second time and assured him that He had heard his prayer, that He had hallowed the temple, and that His eyes and heart would be there continually. He also renewed the Davidic covenant with Solomon as He had renewed and confirmed the Abrahamic covenant with Isaac and Jacob (v 1-9)

b 6th prophecy in 1 Ki. (9:3-9, V 6-9 fulfilled; v 3-5 unfulfilled), Next, 11:11

5 predictions - fulfilled:
1 I will cut off Israel out of the land which I have given them (9:7)
2 This house which I have hallowed for My name will be cast out of My sight
3 Israel shall be a byword and a proverb among all people
4 Everyone that passes by shall be astonished at this house, and shall hiss, and say, Why hath the Lord done this unto this land, and to this house? (9:8)
5 They shall answer, Because they forsook the Lord their God, and have taken hold of other gods, and have worshipped them, and served them: therefore hath the Lord brought upon them all this evil (9:9)

3 predictions - unfulfilled:
1 My eyes and My heart shall be there perpetually (9:3)
2 I will establish the throne of your kingdom upon Israel forever, as I promised your father, David (9:5)
3 There shall not fail you a man upon the throne of Israel

c Then - if you will walk before Me as David walked, according to all that I have commanded you, and will keep My statutes and My judgments, I will establish your throne upon Israel forever (v 5; 2 Sam. 7:12)

d Then - after you turn from following Me, and when you will not keep My commandments and My statutes, but will go and serve other gods, and worship them, I will cut off Israel and this house shall be cast out of My sight, and Israel shall be a byword and a proverb among all other people (v 6-7)

22 That because the Anglo-Saxons are so great, powerful, and rich, they must be the 10 tribes or the whole house of Israel

82 proofs Jews and Israel the same:

1 There is no special significance to the term Israel when used in contrast or in apposition with other names other than the fact that it conveys the idea of the majority of the nation of Israel as compared with a smaller body of the same nation. In no case does it mean the 2 parts of the same nation are 2 different kinds of people

(1) Israel is used in apposition to Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh (Josh. 22:11-34)

(2) Israel is used in apposition to Benjamin (Judg. 20:1-21:6). It is the term used of Benjamin in 2:25-28

(3) Israel is used in apposition to Judah, and only from the time of David's being chosen king over all Israel, from the tribe of Judah (1 Sam. 16:1-13; 17:52; 18:16). Naturally, from this time on Judah would be emphasized because of being chosen as the ruling tribe in fulfillment to prophecy (Gen. 49:10), because it was the time when it was made known more fully that the Messiah was to come through this tribe; and because it was to be the eternal head of all the other tribes in God's program (7:1-29; 1 Chr. 5:2; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; Mt. 1:1-17; Lk. 3:23-38; Heb. 7:14; Rev. 5:5). Hence, before the division of Israel into 2 kingdoms, during this division for 260 years, from Rehoboam to the captivity of the northern kingdom to Assyria, and after the return from captivity and the uniting of all the tribes again as a single nation under Ezra, Nehemiah, and the prophets to the first coming of Christ, this distinction of Judah over any one or all the other tribes was made. But this certainly could not make the tribe of Judah any less Israel or less a part of the whole 12 tribes in the fulfillment of God's covenants and promises, which were made to all Israel and not to 10 tribes only. In fact, the promises of an eternal Davidic kingdom were made to Judah in particular, and if any tribes were ever to be cut off it would have to be any or all the tribes except Judah (7:1-29; Ps. 89:4-5, 20-37). If we make two different peoples with two different destinies out of Israel and Judah because the terms are used in apposition, then to be consistent we must do likewise with Israel, Benjamin, Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh listed in previous points; and if we did this we would be destroying part of the 10 tribes as well as Judah and Benjamin as having a part in the plan of God

2 It was Ephraim that departed from Judah which was the ruling tribe, and not Judah that departed from Ephraim (Isa. 7:17), so if anyone was to be cut off for departure from God's plan it would be Ephraim, not Judah

3 The promises of a Davidic throne were based upon obedience, and it was to be cut off until the 2nd advent of Christ if the royal line went into sin; then at the 2nd advent Judah and all Israel were to become one nation again under the Messiah in Palestine - not in the British Isles (7:10-16, 24-29). Nothing is said here or in any other passage about this Israel of the Davidic covenant consisting of the tribe of Judah only, or meaning the 10 tribes exclusive of Judah and Benjamin; nor is there a statement anywhere in Scripture that even hints that the throne or kingdom would be taken from Judah and given to the 10 tribes. On the con-

12 And Hi'ram came out from Tyre to see the cities which Sŏl'o-mon had given him; and they pleased him not.

13 And he said, [a]What cities are these which thou hast given me, my brother? And he called them the land of [b]Cā'bŭl unto this day.

14 And Hi'ram sent to the king [c]sixscore talents of gold.

(3) Solomon's building program and levies

15 ¶ And this is the reason of the [d]levy which king Sŏl'o-mon raised; for to [e]build the house of the LORD, and his own house, and [f]Mĭl'lō, and the [g]wall of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, and Hā'zôr, and Mĕ-gĭd'dō, and Gē'zēr.

16 For Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt had gone up, and taken Gē'zēr, and burnt it with fire, and slain the Cā'năan-ītes that dwelt in the city, and given it for a present unto his daughter, Sŏl'o-mon's wife.

17 And Sŏl'o-mon built Gē'zēr, and Bĕth-hō'rŏn the nether,

18 And Bā'al-ăth, and Tăd'môr in the wilderness, in the land,

19 And all the cities of store that Sŏl'o-mon had, and cities for his chariots, and cities for his horsemen, and that which Sŏl'o-mon desired to build in Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, and in Lĕb'a-non, and in all the land of his dominion.

20 And all the people that were left of the Ăm'ôr-ītes, Hĭt'tītes, Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, Hī'vītes, and Jĕb'u-sītes, which were not of the children of Ĭs'ra-el,

21 Their children that were left after them in the land, whom the children of Ĭs'ra-el also were not able utterly to destroy, [h]upon those did Sŏl'o-mon levy a tribute of bondservice unto this day.

22 But of the children of Ĭs'ra-el did Sŏl'o-mon make no bondmen: but they were men of war, and his servants, and his princes, and his captains, and rulers of his chariots, and his horsemen.

(4) Solomon's officers and yearly sacrifices

23 These were the chief of the officers that were over Sŏl'o-mon's work, [i]five hundred and fifty, which bare rule over the people that wrought in the work.

24 ¶ But Phā'raōh's daughter came up out of the city of Dā'vid unto her house which Sŏl'o-mon had built for her: then did he build Mĭl'lō.

25 ¶ And [j]three times in a year did Sŏl'o-mon offer burnt offerings and peace offerings upon the altar which he built unto the LORD, and he burnt incense upon the altar that was before the LORD. So he finished the house.

(5) Israel's first navy made by Solomon (2 Chr. 8:17-18. Cp. 22:48)

26 ¶ And king Sŏl'o-mon made a [k]navy of ships in [l]Ē'zī-on-gĕ'bēr, which is beside Ē'lŏth, on the shore of the Red sea, in the land of Ē'dom.

27 And Hi'ram sent in the navy his servants, [a]shipmen that had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Sŏl'o-mon.

28 And they came to [b]Ō'phĭr, and fetched from thence gold, [c]four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Sŏl'o-mon.

CHAPTER 10 301

(6) Solomon's fame and wisdom: queen of Sheba (2 Chr. 9:1)

AND when the [d]queen of Shĕ'bā [e]heard of the fame of Sŏl'o-mon concerning [f]the name of the LORD, she [g]came to prove him with [h]hard questions.

2 And [i]she came to Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm [j]with a very great train, with camels that bare spices, and very much gold, and precious stones: and when she was come to Sŏl'o-mon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Sŏl'o-mon told her all her questions: there was not any thing hid from the king, which he told her not.

4 And when the queen of Shĕ'bā had [k]seen all Sŏl'o-mon's wisdom, and the house that he had built,

5 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel, and his cupbearers, and his ascent by which he went up unto the house of the LORD; there was no more spirit in her.

6 And she said to the king, It was a true report that I heard in mine own land of thy acts and of thy wisdom.

7 Howbeit I believed not the words, until I came, and mine eyes had seen it: and, behold, the half was not told me: [l]thy wisdom and prosperity exceedeth the fame which I heard.

8 Happy are thy men, happy are these thy servants, which stand continually before thee, and that hear thy wisdom.

9 Blessed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee, to set thee on the throne of Ĭs'ra-el: because the LORD loved Ĭs'ra-el for ever, therefore made he thee king, to do judgment and justice.

(7) Solomon's riches: A $3,490,200.00 in gold plus precious stones, etc. from the queen of Sheba

10 And she gave the king [m]an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of spices very great store, and [n]precious stones: there came no more such abundance of [o]spices as these which the queen of Shĕ'bā gave to king Sŏl'o-mon.

B Gold: $12,215,700.00 plus other treasures from Ophir (see 9:28; 10:22)

11 And the navy also of Hi'ram, that brought gold from a Solomon's navy was evidently trained by the navy men of Tyre who had knowledge of the sea (v 27) b Ophir, A country of the East, celebrated for its production of gold and precious stones (v 28; 10:11; 2 Chr. 8:18; 9:10). Supposedly settled by the sons of Joktan (Gen. 10:29), it produced gold in the time of Job (Job 22:24; 28:16). From the time of David to the time of Jehoshaphat Israel traded with Ophir. The Jewish fleet spent 3 years on their voyage to this place and brought back gold, apes, peacocks, spices, ivory, ebony, and almug trees. Its location is not definitely known; and no less than 16 sites are suggested by Bible scholars. If it took 3 years for the journey and trading it was no doubt a long way off (10:22). It could be Ophir was in Africa, for the same fleet is called the navy of Tarshish, which would be in Spain. There was no Suez Canal in those days and the navy was located in the Red Sea. To get from here to the Atlantic Ocean and then to Spain would require a trip around Africa; and a stop at Ophir could be made on the voyage to Spain and the return trip. In 3 years, no doubt many places were visited c 420 talents of gold @ $29,085.00 would be $12,215,700.00 d Two opinions are held about the queen of Sheba. Some say she came from southeast Arabia, and others contend she came from Ethiopia. This is partly founded on Ethiopian history. Sheba, the grandson of Cush, for whom the place was named, is supposed to have settled in Ethiopia or Nubia and north Abbyssinia where female sovereigns were common (Gen. 10:7; Acts 8:27). Jesus spoke of the queen of Sheba as the queen of the south (Mt. 12:42), which could refer to Ethiopia more than Arabia

e She heard by commercial intercourse of Solomon (9:26-28; 2 Chr. 8:17; 9:1) f The name of the Lord accompanied the fame of Solomon, for only Jehovah could have given such wisdom to a man (v 1)
g 7 steps in her quest to hear Solomon:
1 She heard (v 1, 7)
2 Came to prove him with riddles
3 Communed with him all that was in her heart (v 2)
4 Saw all his wisdom (v 4)
5 Said it was a true report - the half had not been told (v 6-7)
6 Gave gifts to him (v 10)
7 Returned to her own country (v 13)
h Riddles and complicated sayings i Note the use Jesus made of this (Mt. 12:42; Lk. 11:31). She not only came to prove him with hard sayings (v 1), but also to reward him should he prove to be as she had heard (v 2)
j She came with 4 things
1 Hard questions (v 1)
2 A very great train of camels that bare spices (v 2)
3 Very much gold
4 Many precious stones
k 8 things that took her breath:
1 Solomon's wisdom (v 4)
2 The house that he built
3 The meat at his table (v 5)
4 The sitting of his servants
5 The attendance of his ministers
6 The apparel of his ministers
7 The apparel of his cupbearers
8 The ascent by which he went up into the house of the Lord Note: It says in v 5 "there was no more spirit in her" when she had seen the above things; this would be like saying the queen found everything so wonderful that it "took her breath away"
l All she saw was summarized by two words: wisdom and prosperity (v 7) m 120 talents of gold @ $29,085.00 would be $3,490,200.00 n The spices and precious stones could have been equal in value to the gold (v 10)
o The term spice as used in Scripture is more comprehensive than it is the way we use it in modern times. It included not only fragrant gums, as myrrh, and roots and barks, as cassia, cinnamon, and cane, but also odors of flowers and various perfumes (Song 4:14-15). Spices were imported into Judea chiefly from southern Arabia. They were sold in all Eastern markets. Sweet spices were merely aromatic substances used in embalming (Mk. 16:1) a Almug (v 11), or algum trees (2 Chr. 2:8). The wood, which was fine and glossy, was used for musical instruments and ornamental work in the temple (v 12)

b 666 talents of gold @ $29,085.00 would be $19,370,610.00 (v 14)

c 200 targets of beaten gold - 600 shekels each would be 120,000; and these @ $9.69 1/2 a shekel, would be worth $1,163,400.00 (v 16)

d 300 shields of beaten gold - 3 lbs. or 300 shekels each would be 90,000 shekels; and these @ $9.69 1/2 each would be worth $872,550.00, making a total of $2,035,950.00 in gold for the targets and shields (v 16-17). These shields were taken away by Shishak, king of Egypt in the reign of Rehoboam, son of Solomon (14:26)

e According to a report of the Illinois Society of Architects in 1925, the cost of Solomon's temple according to existing values would have been about $87,000,000,000.00. The cost of the temple, its internal decorations, and the paraphernalia was one of the wonders of the olden times. According to Vallapardus, the talents of gold, silver, and brass used in the construction were valued at the enormous sum of $34,-399,110,000.00. The worth of the jewels is generally placed at a figure usually as high. The vessels of gold, according to Josephus, were valued at 140,000 talents, which, when reduced to everyday coinage according to Chapel's reduction tables, would equal the sum of $1,876,481,515.00. The vessels of silver, according to the same authority, were still more valuable, being reckoned at $3,246,720,000,00. The priests' vestments and robes of the singers were worth $10,050,000.00. The trumpets alone were worth $1,000,000.00

To the above add the expense of building materials, labor, and the like, and some amazing figures present themselves. There were 10,000 men hewing cedars, 70,000 bearers of burden, 80,000 hewers of stone, 3,850 overseers, all of whom were employed for 7 years and upon whom, besides wages, Solomon bestowed $33,669,-885.00 as a bonus. The cost of daily food for this army of workmen for the 7 years and 6 months it took to complete the temple has been estimated at $344,385,440.00; and the materials, other than gold, silver, jewels, etc. above - $12,726,685,000.00. All of these estimates added together give us a figure in excess of $87,000,000,-000.00 as the worth of the temple and furnishings according to modern prices - in 1925. Prices having doubled or more since then, we can estimate the present-day value would be more than $174,000,000,000.00

f Some ancient and even modern interpreters have made the 6 steps to Solomon's throne mean 6 steps leading to God, but this is without proof from Scripture. The steps are to be understood as literal and material as we see every day in certain buildings was about 20 years old. He was at least old enough not to permit outlandish women to cause him to commit sin and depart from his first love of Jehovah (3:3; Neh. 13:26)

o David was faultless as far as idolatry was concerned, for he did not show the slightest inclination along this line. His life was practically blameless in obedience to God except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite (2 Sam. 11-12)

1 Ashtoreth, goddess of Zidon (v 5)
2 Milcom, the abomination of Ammon

Solomon also favored other gods worshipped by various wives (v 8). See Bible facts about false gods, p. 116

Ō'phĭr, brought in from Ō'phĭr great plenty of [g]almug trees, and precious stones.

12 And the king made of the almug trees pillars for the house of the LORD, and for the king's house, harps also and psalteries for singers: there came no such almug trees, nor were seen unto this day.

C Queen of Sheba departs

13 And king Sŏl'o-mon gave unto the queen of Shē'bā all her desire, whatsoever she asked, beside that which Sŏl'o-mon gave her of his royal bounty. So she turned and went to her own country, she and her servants.

D Gold: $19,310,610.00 in one year (see vs. 22; 9:14) plus riches from other kings

14 ¶ Now the weight of gold that came to Sŏl'o-mon in one year was [b]six hundred threescore and six talents of gold, 15 Beside that he had of the merchantmen, and of the traffick of the spice merchants, and of all the kings of Ā-rā'bĭ-ā, and of the governors of the country.

E Gold: $2,035,950.00 targets and shields

16 ¶ And king Sŏl'o-mon made [c]two hundred targets of beaten gold: six hundred shekels of gold went to one target.

17 And he made [d]three hundred shields of beaten gold; three pound of gold went to one shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Lĕb'a-non.

F Ivory throne, drinking vessels of gold, and other riches year by year besides what David left to build the temple which [e]cost over $174,000,000,000.00

18 ' Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the best gold.

19 The throne had [f]six steps, and the top of the throne was round behind: and there were stays on either side on the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the stays.

20 And twelve lions stood there on the one side and on the other upon the six steps: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

21 ¶ And all king Sŏl'o-mon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lĕb'a-non were of pure gold; none were of silver: it was nothing accounted of in the days of Sŏl'o-mon.

22 For the king had at sea a navy of Thär'shish with the navy of Hi'ram: once in three years came the navy of Thär'-shish, bringing gold, and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

23 So king Sŏl'o-mon [h]exceeded all the kings of the earth for riches and for wisdom.

(8) Solomon's fall (10:24-11:8). A First step: greatly multiplying silver and gold, breaking the law of Dt. 17:17

24 ¶ And all the earth sought to Sŏl'o-mon, to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart.

25 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and garments, and armour, and spices, horses, and mules, a rate year by year.

26 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon [i]gathered together chariots and horsemen: and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he bestowed in the cities for chariots, and with the king at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

27 And the king made silver to be in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm as stones, and cedars made he to be as the [k]sycomore trees that are in the vale, for abundance.

B Second step in his downfall: multiplying horses, breaking the law of Dt. 17:16

28 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon had horses brought out of E'gypt, and linen yarn: the king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

29 And a chariot came up and went out of E'gypt for [l]six hundred shekels of silver, and an [m]hundred and fifty: and [n]so for all the kings of the Hit'tites, and for the kings of Sўr'ĭ-ā, did they bring them out by their means.

302 CHAPTER 11

C Third step in his downfall: multiplying wives, breaking the law of Dt. 17:17

BUT king Sŏl'o-mon [o]loved [p]many [q]strange women, together with the daughter of Phā'raōh, [r]women of the Mō'-ab-ĭtes, Am'mon-ĭtes, E'dom-ites, Zī-dō'nĭ-anș, and HIt'tites;

2 Of the nations concerning which the LORD [s]said unto the children of Iș'ra-el, Ye shall not go in to them, neither shall they come in unto you: for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods: Sŏl'o-mon clave [t]unto these in love.

3 And he had [u]seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines: and [v]his wives turned away his heart.

D Fourth step in his downfall: failed to read and obey the law breaking the law of Dt. 17:19

4 For it came to pass, when Sŏl'o-mon was [w]old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, [x]as was the heart of Dā'vid his father.

E Fifth step in his downfall: idolatry, breaking the law of Ex. 20:1-5 5 For Sŏl'o-mon [y]went after Ash'to-rĕth the goddess of the Zī-dō'nĭ-anș, and after Mĭl'-com the abomination of the Am'mon-ĭtes.

a Multiplying horses was contrary to the law (Dt. 17:17)

b These were the Egyptian fig trees; the fruit closely resembled figs and was highly esteemed. The wood was used for buildings, coffins, and other things. Such Egyptian coffins have been found in a sound state of preservation after 3,000 years

c 600 shekels of silver @ 64¢ - $384.00. This price included the horses, chariot, harness and full equipment (v 28-29) d 150 shekels of silver @ 64¢ - $96.00. This was the price of a horse only e Meaning that Solomon's horses and chariots, as well as those of the kings of the Hittites and the Syrians came out of Egypt by the merchants of Solomon (v 28-29)

f 2 things Solomon loved:
1 The Lord (early in life when he was godly and first blessed, 3:3) 2 Many strange women (later in life, when backslidden, 11:1-3)

g 5 steps in Solomon's fall:
1 Wealth (10:14-27)
2 Weapons (10:26-29)
3 Women (11:1-3)
4 Turning his heart from Jehovah (v 4)
5 Outright idolatry (v 5)
Wealth can be a blessing if properly used for the Lord; but if "consumed upon lusts" and turned into "provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof" it becomes a curse (Jas. 4:3; Rom. 13:14). Solomon's great riches contributed to his downfall. As to weapons, no king needs to multiply them for his protection who has God as his helper in the way that Israel once had Him. God fought Israel's battles with miracles when they lived in obedience to Him. As to women, the law forbad a king to multiply wives, as well as horses to himself (Dt. 17:16-18). These 3 W's - wealth, weapons, women - were temptations Solomon yielded to, and they led to his complete downfall

h Strange - particularly foreign women, women of heathen nations whom God commanded Israel not to take as wives, lest they turn the heart after other gods (v 1; Ex. 34:15-16). In Proverbs there are many warnings against strange women. If Solomon had taken heed to his own warnings the record would be different

8 warnings against strange women:
1 To deliver you from the strange woman, even the stranger which flattereth with her words (Pr. 2:16)
2 The lips of a strange woman drop as an honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil... Remove far from her (Pr. 5:3-8)
3 Why will you, my son, be ravished with a strange woman and embrace the bosom of a stranger? (Pr. 5:20)
4 To keep you from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman (Pr. 6:24)
5 That they may keep you from the strange woman, from the stranger that flattereth with her words (Pr. 7:5)
6 The mouth of a strange woman is as a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the Lord shall fall therein (Pr. 22:14)
7 For a whore is a deep ditch; and a strange woman is a narrow pit (Pr. 23:27)
8 Your eyes shall behold strange women, and your heart shall utter perverse things (Pr. 23:33)
Either Solomon (writer of Proverbs) did not live up to his own warnings, as above, or he wrote these verses after his experiences with such women

i These women were idolaters and lacked proper teaching regarding Jehovah and His Word

j Ex. 34:15-17; Dt. 7:3-4; Josh. 23:12

k The more he clave to these strange women, the more his heart grew cold toward Jehovah. They finally turned his heart away from Him entirely, and it became imperfect before God in love and service (v 2-4)

l 1,000 women - 700 wives, 300 concubines. Cp. this number with that of his chariots (v 3 with 10:26)

m The wives completed the work of turning his heart from Jehovah (v 3-4) n Perhaps in his 50's because he died when 60 years old, after a reign of 40 years (11:42). He became king when he

2 Asa (15:11)
3 Jehoshaphat (22:43)
4 Jehoash (2 Ki. 12:2)
5 Amaziah (14:3)
6 Uzziah (15:3)
7 Jotham (15:34)
8 Hezekiah (18:3)
9 Josiah (22:2)

Not one king of the northern kingdom was godly b Mount of Olives, which is called the mount of corruption (2 Ki. 23:13). See Zech. 14:4

c In other words, he set up a false god and place of worship for each wife whose god was different from those of other wives. He catered to their idolatry and forgot Jehovah and His commands (v 8)

d 3 causes of judgment upon Solomon:
1 Because his heart was turned away from Jehovah (v 1–4, 9–10)
2 Because he went after other gods (v 5–8)
3 Because of not keeping God's covenant and His statutes (v 11)

e 7th prophecy in 1 Ki. (11:11–13, fulfilled). Next, v 30

3 predictions - fulfilled:

1 I will surely rend the kingdom from you, and give it to your servant (11:11)
2 I will not do it in your days for David's sake, but I will rend it out of the hand of your son (11:12)
3 I will not rend away all your kingdom, but will give one tribe to your son for David My servant's sake, and for Jerusalem's sake, which I have chosen (11:13)

f To Jeroboam (v 26–40; 12:1–33)

g God does some things for the sake of man, not always for His own sake. Here, for the sake of a dead man, God blessed another all his remaining days (v 12)

h 2 reasons God saved part of David's kingdom for his descendants:
1 For David's sake (v 13)
2 For Jerusalem's sake
Both David and Jerusalem were chosen of God and He honored both as long as He could do so justly. For the sake of 9 righteous kings in Judah there was a delay of total judgment in the southern kingdom whereas, there was no righteous king in Ephraim to cause delay in the northern kingdom being destroyed (note a, above)

i 3 adversaries of Solomon:
1 Hadad the Edomite (v 14–22)
2 Rezon the Syrian (v 23–25)
3 Jeroboam the Israelite (v 26–40)

j Preparing to judge the house of David for the sins of Solomon, the Lord stirred up certain adversaries against him at this time (v 14, 23, 27). God's anger (v 9) began to burn until it was satisfied only with justice in the punishment of David's royal line, as predicted in 2 Sam. 7:12–15

6 And Sŏl'o-mon [a]did evil in the sight of the LORD, and went not fully after the LORD, as did Dā'vid his father.

7 Then did Sŏl'o-mon build an high place for Chĕ'mŏsh, [b]the abomination of Mō'ab, in the hill that is before Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm, and for Mō'lech, the abomination of the children of Ăm'mŏn.

8 And likewise did he for all his [c]strange wives, which burnt incense and sacrificed unto their gods.

(9) Solomon's chastening, fulfilling 2 Sam. 7:12-15.

A Prophecy of judgment

9 ¶ And the LORD was angry with Sŏl'o-mon, [d]because his heart was turned from the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

11 [e]Wherefore the LORD said unto Sŏl'o-mon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to [f]thy servant.

12 Notwithstanding in thy days I will not do it [g]for Dā'vid thy father's sake: but I will rend it out of the hand of thy son.

13 Howbeit I will not rend away all the kingdom; but will give one tribe to thy son [h]for Dā'vid my servant's sake, and for Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm's sake which I have chosen.

B First adversary of Solomon: Hadad the Edomite

14 ¶ [i]And the LORD [j]stirred up an [k]adversary unto Sŏl'o-mon, [l]Hā'dăd the Ē'dom-īte: he was of the king's seed in Ē'dom.

15 For it came to pass, when Dā'vid was in Ē'dom, and Jō'ăb the captain of the host was gone up to bury the slain, after he had smitten every male in Ē'dom;

16 (For six months did Jō'ăb remain there with all Iṣ'ra-el, until he had cut off every male in Ē'dom:)

17 That Hā'dăd fled, he and certain Ē'dom-ītes of his father's servants with him, to go into Ē'gўpt; Hā'dăd being yet a little child.

18 And they arose out of Mĭd'ī-an, and came to Pā'ran: and they took men with them out of Pā'ran, and they came to Ē'gўpt, unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt; which gave him an house, and appointed him victuals, and gave him land.

19 And Hā'dăd found great favour in the sight of Phā'raōh, so that he gave him to wife the sister of his own wife, the sister of Täh'pen-ēṣ the queen.

20 And the sister of Täh'pen-ēṣ bare him Ĝĕ-nū'băth his son, whom Täh'pen-ēṣ weaned in Phā'raōh's house: and Ĝĕ-nū'băth was in Phā'raōh's household among the sons of Phā'raōh.

21 And when Hā'dăd heard in Ē'gўpt that Dā'vid slept with his fathers, and that Jō'ăb the captain of the host was dead, Hā'dăd said to Phā'raōh, Let me depart, that I may go to mine own country.

22 Then Phā'raōh said unto him, [m]But what hast thou lacked with me, that, behold, thou seekest to go to thine own country? And he answered, Nothing: howbeit let me go in any wise.

C Second adversary of Solomon: Rezon the Syrian

23 ¶ And God stirred him up another [k]adversary, Rē'zŏn the son of Ē-lī'a-dah, which fled from his lord Hăd-ăd-ē'zĕr king of Zō'bah:

24 And he gathered men unto him, and became captain over a band, when Dā'vid slew them of Zō'bah: and they went to Dā-măs'cus, and dwelt therein, and reigned in Dā-măs'cus.

25 And he was an adversary to Iṣ'ra-el all the days of Sŏl'o-mon, beside the mischief that Hā'dăd did: and he abhorred Iṣ'ra-el, and reigned over Sўr'ī-ā.

D Third adversary of Solomon: Jeroboam the Israelite. Second prophecy of judgment (vss. 9-13)

26 ¶ And Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, an Ĕph'rath-īte of Zĕr'e-dā, Sŏl'o-mon's servant, whose mother's name was Zē-rụ'ah, a widow woman, [n]even he lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Sŏl'o-mon built Mĭl'lō, and repaired the breaches of the city of Dā'vid his father.

28 And the man Jĕr-o-bō'am was a mighty man of valour: and Sŏl'o-mon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Jō'ĕ-ṣeph.

29 And it came to pass at that time when Jĕr-o-bō'am went out of Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm, that the prophet [o]Ā-hī'jah the Shī'lo-nīte found him in the way; and he had clad himself with a new garment; and they two were alone in the field:

30 [p]And Ā-hī'jah caught the new garment that was on him, and [q]rent it in twelve pieces:

31 And he said to Jĕr-o-bō'am, Take thee ten pieces: for thus saith the LORD, the God of Iṣ'ra-el, Behold, I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Sŏl'o-mon, and will give ten tribes to thee:

32 [r](But he shall have one tribe [s]for my servant Dā'vid's sake, and for Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm's sake, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el:)

33 [t]Because that they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Ash'to-rĕth the goddess of the Zī-dō'nī-ans, Chĕ'mŏsh the god of the Mō'ab-ītes, and Mĭl'com the god of the children

a Question 18. Next, v 41

b The 2nd satan (adversary) stirred up against Solomon was Rezon of Syria, who was perhaps the general of the Syrian armies when Hadadezer was defeated by David (2 Sam. 8:3–8). He had withdrawn quite a force of his men into the wilderness, living a life like David when he fled from Saul. Finally becoming king of Damascus, he threw off the Israelite yoke; and he hated Israel all the days of his life (v 23–25) c The 3rd satan (adversary) stirred up against Solomon was Jeroboam, an Israelite. Solomon made him ruler over all those from Ephraim and Manasseh who helped build Millo and repair the breaches of the city of David (v 26–28). Jeroboam received a prophecy that he was to be king over the 10 tribes which would separate from Judah and Benjamin (v 29–39). When Solomon heard of it he sought to kill him, but he fled into Egypt until Solomon's death (v 40)

d Ahijah from Shiloh, where the tabernacle was for a long time, found Jeroboam in the field. Taking his new garment and rending it into 12 pieces, he gave 10 to Jeroboam, thus predicting that God would rend 10 tribes from the house of David and give them to him (v 29–39)

e 8th prophecy in 1 Ki. (11:30–39, fulfilled). Next, 13:2

8 predictions - fulfilled:

1 Take 10 pieces... I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give 10 tribes to you (11:31)
2 David's house shall have one tribe left after the division - one tribe, Benjamin, with Judah (v 32)
3 I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand, but will make him (Solomon) a prince all the days of his life for David's sake (11:34)
4 I will take the kingdom out of his son's hand, and will give it unto you, even 10 tribes (11:35)
5 Unto his son will I give one tribe, that David, My servant, might have a light always before Me in Jerusalem (11:36)
6 I will take you, and you shall reign according to all your soul desires, and shall be king over Israel (11:37)
7 It shall be, if you will hearken unto all that I command you, and will walk in My ways and do that which is right in My sight to keep My statutes and My commandments, as David, My servant did, that I will be with you, and build you a sure house, as I built for David, and will give Israel unto you (11:38)
8 I will for this afflict the seed of David, but not forever (11:39)

f This was a symbolic act, as in 22:11; Isa. 20:2; Jer. 19:1–13; Ezek. 12; Zech. 11:7–14 and many other places. See 25 pantomimes of Ezekiel, p. 816

i 7 reasons for judgment on Solomon:
1 Because they (Solomon and his people) have forsaken Me (v 33)
2 They have worshipped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Zidonians
3 They have worshipped Chemosh the god of the Moabites
4 They have worshipped Milcom the god of the Ammonites
5 They have not walked in My ways
6 They have not done that which is right in My eyes
7 They have not kept My statutes and My judgments, as David did k Heb. Satan, Trans. Satan (1 Chr. 21:1; Job 1:6–12; 2:1–7; Ps. 109:6; Zech. 3:1–2); adversary (5:4; 11:14, 23, 25; Num. 22:22, 32; 1 Sam. 29:4); and adversaries (2 Sam. 19:22–23). The word means to attack; accuse; resist; be an adversary; be an opponent; be the archenemy of good. In this sense every adversary of good is satan

l See Dynasty of Hadad, p. 376

a David was always the standard by which other kings were judged (v 33)
b Solomon, as in v 31
c David did keep God's commandments and statutes, except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite (2 Sam. 11-12). But God did not count this against him in all the later references to his character, for that sin was put away; it was not a habitual sin continuing in his life. He did not make the same mistake again. Here, God counted it as if it had not been committed, for it had been forgiven d Solomon's son's hand - Rehoboam's. Fulfilled as in ch. 12 e Although 10 tribes, generally speaking, were given to Jeroboam, leaving only the tribes of Judah and Benjamin and the tribe of Levi (with but few exceptions) to the house of David, there were multitudes from the 10 tribes that continually came back to the southern kingdom, because of Jeroboam's idolatry and his idolatrous demands of his subjects (note b, 12:17). This made the southern kingdom truly representative of all the 13 tribes in a short time. The northern kingdom continued in sin and rebellion against God, without one king being godly and doing right in the eyes of the Lord. Thus God had to abandon them to total destruction as a nation long before the southern kingdom became apostate enough to send into captivity
f Solomon's son, Rehoboam (12:1-24)
g One tribe, meaning Benjamin to be with Judah and the house of David. The Levites as a whole, also remained true to David and Judah, making altogether 3 of the 13 tribes of Israel at the initial division (v 36)
h Light - lamp, implying the continued existence of the divine purpose in making the house of David and Judah the eternal ruling family and tribe, as provided in the Davidic covenant and many scriptures (Gen. 49:10; 2 Sam. 7; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33)
i Jeroboam, to whom the prophecy was addressed and to whom it applied (v 29, 37)
j 3 conditions of blessing to Jeroboam:
1 If you will hearken unto all that I command you (v 38)
2 If you will walk in My ways
3 If you will do that which is right in My sight to keep My statutes and My judgments, as David did k 3 blessings for obedience:
1 I will be with you (v 38)
2 I will build you a sure house, as I did for David 3 I will give Israel to you
l A sure house - a long and unbroken line of descendants as kings (v 38)
m If he had done right perhaps all Israel would have been given to him; but as it was Israel meant the 10 tribes (v 35, 38)
n This - referring to the sins of Solomon for which God was going to afflict the seed of David (v 39)
o But not for ever - confirming the prophecy of Gen. 49:10; 2 Sam. 7:14-15 p This shows the complete backsliding of Solomon, instead of becoming penitent and humble like Ahab and some others when God pronounced judgment upon them, he became bitter and determined to murder the man God had chosen to fulfil His will (v 40, Cp. 21:27-29; 2 Chr. 33:12) q Not the Pharaoh whose daughter Solomon married, but another man who invaded Judah in the days following Solomon (14:25-29)
r Question 19, Next, 12:6
s All Israel is mentioned here again, indicating that others had reigned over part of Israel (v 42, Cp. 2 Sam. 2:1-5:5) t 3 first kings reigned 40 years:
1 Saul (Acts 13:21)
2 David (2 Sam. 5:4)
3 Solomon (11:42)
Jehoash was the only other king of Judah to reign 40 years (2 Ki. 12:1). Asa reigned 41 years (15:10); Uzziah 52 years (2 Ki. 15:1-2); Manasseh 55 years (2 Ki. 21:1). All others had shorter reigns. See p. 60

303 CHAPTER 12

III Reign of Rehoboam, 1st king of Judah: 17 years (12:1-24; 14:21-31; 2 Chr. 10:1-12:16). 1 Folly of Rehoboam (2 Chr. 10:1-11)

AND Rē-ho-bō'am went to [u]Shĕ'chem: for all Ĭs'ra-el were come to Shĕ'chem to make him king.

2 And it came to pass, [v]when Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, who was yet in Ē'gĭpt, heard of it, (for he was fled from the presence of king Sŏl'o-mon, and Jĕr-o-bō'am dwelt in Ē'gĭpt;)

3 That they sent and called him. And Jĕr-o-bō'am and all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el came, and spake unto Rē-ho-bō'am, saying,

4 [a]Thy father made [b]our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will serve thee.

5 And he said unto them, Depart yet for three days, then come again to me. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rē-ho-bō'am consulted with the old men, that stood before Sŏl'o-mon his father while he yet lived, and said, [c]How do ye advise that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake unto him, saying, [d]If thou wilt be a servant unto this people this day, and wilt serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be thy servants for ever.

8 But he forsook the counsel of the old men, which they had given him, and [c]consulted with the young men that were grown up with him, and which stood before him:

9 And he said unto them, [e]What counsel give ye that we may answer this people, who have spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put upon us lighter?

10 And the young men that were grown up with him spake unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou speak unto this people that spake unto thee, [f]saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it lighter unto us; thus shalt thou say unto them, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 And now whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: my father hath chastised you with[g]whips, but I will chastise you with [h]scorpions.

12 ¶ So [i]Jĕr-o-bō'am and all the people came to Rē-ho-bō'am the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come to me again the third day.

13 And the king answered the people [j]roughly, and forsook the old men's counsel that they gave him;

14 And spake to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father also chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

15 Wherefore the king hearkened not unto the people; for the [k]cause was from the LORD, that he might perform his saying, which the LORD spake by Ā-hī'jah the Shī'lo-nīte unto Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt.

2 Fourteenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.): 4th division of the kingdom (2 Sam. 2:8, refs.). Jeroboam made king of the ten tribes (2 Chr. 10:12)

16 ¶ So when all Ĭs'ra-el [l]saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people answered the king, saying, [m]What portion have we in Dā'vid? neither have we inheritance in the son a The congregation came to Rehoboam complaining about the oppression of the people and hoping for certain changes in the attitude of the kings of the house of David. They agreed to continue being ruled by them if they would only lighten the burden somewhat (v 4). Rehoboam told them to depart and come again in 3 days when he would give an answer (v 5). He then consulted the old men and they gave him the right advice, saying he should be kind and lighten the burden for his subjects who would then willingly serve him (v 6-7). But when he counselled with the young men who had grown up with him, they advised Rehoboam to become harder on the people (v 8-11); and when they heard his hard speech and saw his haughty attitude they rebelled (v 11-20) b Their yoke was somewhat grievous under Solomon who had used forced labor to construct all the public buildings and his own house. They had also been greatly taxed in other ways, so they were no doubt due some changes

c Question 20, Next, v 9
d This was some of the wisest advice ever given a king (v 7); but Rehoboam permitted the youth of the kingdom to cause him to make one of the greatest mistakes a ruler ever made (v 8-15). Through this one choice and wrong decision many wars were fought and hundreds of thousands of lives were lost. Much bitterness, hatred, jealousy, idolatry, and numerous other sins also resulted. There seemed to be no end to the harm done to God's cause in Israel by this one man's folly e Many times this is the mistake of new and younger rulers and executives. It is always wise to stay wise by consulting older and more experienced men (v 8)
f Question 21, Next, v 16
g One thing is certain - any answer of this nature will make trouble in any kingdom, business, church, or other phase of society; but the answer of v 7 will always be good counsel to follow
h Whips - the badge of the taskmaster and slave driver on the Egyptian monuments i Scorpions. Knotted whips, so-called, as we call one the cat j Note that Jeroboam was the head of the people who were seeking easier terms from the new king. He was ready to lead his people in rebellion if the answer was not as they wished. Had it been right he no doubt would have become disarmed and co-operated with the king. Evidently God foresaw these events, and knowing the disposition of Rehoboam and what the outcome of this very meeting would be, made the predictions of 11:30-39 on these grounds k This is the most unwise and immature kind of answer to give any people (v 13-15)
l The cause - the turning of events was foreknown by God; and they were necessary to fulfil the prophecy of 11:30-39
m Seeing that there was no hope of better relationship with the house of David, and that the king would not hear their cause or meet any of their requests, they openly rebelled and for 260 years there were two kingdoms of Israel (v 16-20)
n Question 22 Next, 13:12

caused them to submit to the tribe of Judah, as this was a great honor given them. Shechem lay on the flank of Mt. Gerizim, directly opposite Mt. Ebal, the mounts of curses and blessings (Dt. 11:29; 27:1-8). It was a national sanctuary (Josh. 24:1), and the site of Abraham's first altar (Gen. 12:6). Isaac and Jacob both lived here. Joseph was buried here: Jacob's well was here (Jn. 4:5). The modern town called Nablous or Neapolis has two long streets running parallel with the valley, 6 mosques, a church of Greek Christians, public baths, and a variety of factories, a synagogue of Samaritans, and other points of interest
v Jeroboam now returned and entered actively into the affairs of his tribe, becoming leader of those who sought certain changes in their treatment by the kings of the house of David (v 2-15) a This was the beginning of 240 years of division and strife between the two nations of Israel. Wars, bloodshed, and intrigue became the program of a once united and godly people. God's plan for a united nation being a blessing to all other nations of the earth had now come to a definite standstill and both kingdoms faced ruin and dispersion among the Gentiles. Little did these rebels realize what their departure to their tents meant for the future. Such is characteristic of rebels - they never stop to think, being guided only for the moment in the direction which is convenient for their bitter passions (v 16)

b It is made clear that in the very beginning of the division of Israel, the house of David and Judah continued to have many of the 10 tribes in their territory; and thus Judah at once became representative of all the tribes of Israel. These with the continual exodus of multiplied thousands from the 10 tribes who joined the kingdom of David and Judah, made the southern kingdom more and more representative of the 13 tribes (v 17-23; 1 Chr. 9: 3; 2 Chr. 10:17; 11:3, 16-17; 15:9; 16: 1; 19:8; 23:2; 30:1, 5, 10-11; 31:6; 35: 17-18). In Ezra 1:5; 2:2, 59, 70; 7:13; 9:1; 10:5 we read of those returning from captivity and they are called of Israel and all Israel (2:2, 70; 3:1; 6:21; 7:10, 13; 8:25; 9:1; 10:1-2, 5, 10, 25; Neh. 2:10; 7:7, 61, 73; 8:17; 10:33; 11: 3; 12:47). Thus, the Jews of the new nation were all Israel; and the same nation of Jews are called the people of Israel in the N. T. (Acts 4:27) and of Judah (Acts 2:14, 22, 36). The two terms Israel and Judah are used interchangeably throughout the N. T. See note a, Acts 13:16 c All Israel here means the Israelites of the 10-tribe kingdom, not those of the southern kingdom, so the term must be understood in a limited sense in many passages (v 18, 20, 23)

d One of 8 stonings, See p. 82

e Proving that this part of the book was written before the removal of Israel as in 2 Ki. 17 (v 19)

f This also must be understood in a limited sense, for Benjamin (v 21), and most of Levi (Ezek. 44:9-16), stayed true to David, as well as many in the 10 tribes. See note g, 11:36

g 180, 000, while in David's time there were 500, 000 (2 Sam. 24:9)

h He could muster an army and determine to cause bloodshed, with perhaps the loss of his kingdom, sooner than speak a few kind words and humble himself to save his kingdom (v 21; 12: 7-10). He was rebuked by a prophet and commanded not to fight because the division was of God: so he and his followers obeyed and kept the peace (v 22-24) of Jĕs'se: to your tents, O Iş'ra-el: now see to thine own house, Dā'vid. So Iş'ra-el departed unto their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iş'ra-el which dwelt in the cities of Jū'dah, Rĕ-ho-bō'am reigned over them.

18 Then king Rĕ-ho-bō'am sent Ă-dō'ram, who was over the tribute; and all Iş'ra-el stoned him with stones, that he died. Therefore king Rĕ-ho-bō'am made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

19 So Iş'ra-el rebelled against the house of Dā'vid unto this day.

20 And it came to pass, when all Iş'ra-el heard that Jĕr-o-bō'am was come again, that they sent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Iş'ra-el: there was none that followed the house of Dā'vid, but the tribe of Jū'dah only.

3 Judah mobilized: civil war averted by prophecy (2 Chr. 11:1-4)

21 ¶ And when Rĕ-ho-bō'am was come to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, he assembled all the house of Jū'dah, with the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, an hundred and fourscore thousand chosen men, which were warriors, to fight against the house of Iş'ra-el, to bring the kingdom again to Rĕ-ho-bō'am the son of Sŏl'o-mon.

22 But the word of God came unto Shĕm-a-ī'ah the man of God, saying,

23 Speak unto Rĕ-ho-bō'am, the son of Sŏl'o-mon, king of Jū'dah, and unto all the house of Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and to the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus saith the LORD, Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Iş'ra-el: return every man to his house; for this thing is from me. They hearkened therefore to the word of the LORD, and returned to depart, according to the word of the LORD.

IV Reign of Jeroboam, 1st king of Israel, 22 years. 1 Sins of Jeroboam. (1) Selfishness, jealousy and unbelief (see 11:37-38)

25 Then Jĕr-o-bō'am built Shĕ'chem in mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, and dwelt therein; and went out from thence, and built Pĕ-nū'el.

26 And Jĕr-o-bō'am said in his heart, Now shall the kingdom return to the house of Dā'vid:

27 If this people go up to do sacrifice in the house of the LORD at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, then shall the heart of this people turn again unto their lord, even unto Rĕ-ho-bō'am king of Jū'dah, and they shall kill me, and go again to Rĕ-ho-bō'am king of Jū'dah.

(2) Idolatry: religious unity of Israel destroyed

28 Whereupon the king took counsel, and made two calves of gold, and said unto them, It is too much for you to go up to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm: behold thy gods, O Iş'ra-el, which brought thee up out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

29 And he set the one in Bĕth'-el, and the other put he in Dăn.

30 And this thing became a sin: for the people went to worship before the one, even unto Dăn.

(3) Imitates God's program

31 And he made an house of high places, and made priests of the lowest of the people, which were not of the sons of Lē'vī.

32 And Jĕr-o-bō'am ordained a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, like unto the feast that is in Jū'dah, and he offered upon the altar. So did he in Bĕth'-el, sacrificing unto the calves that he had made: and he placed in Bĕth'-el the priests of the high places which he had made.

33 So he offered upon the altar which he had made in Bĕth'-el the fifteenth day of the eighth month, even in the month which he had devised of his own heart; and ordained a feast unto the children of Iş'ra-el: and he offered upon the altar, and burnt incense.

CHAPTER 13 304

2 Jeroboam and the prophet: (1) Prophecy against the altar

AND, behold, there came a man of God out of Jū'dah by the word of the LORD unto Bĕth'-el: and Jĕr-o-bō'am stood by the altar to burn incense.

2 And he cried against the altar in the word of the LORD, and said, O altar, altar, thus saith the LORD; Behold, a child shall be born unto the house of Dā'vid, Jō-sī'ah by name; and upon thee shall he offer the priests of the high places that burn incense upon thee, and men's bones shall be burnt upon thee.

(2) Prophecy confirmed: three miracles

3 And he gave a sign the same day, saying, This is the sign which the LORD hath spoken; Behold, the altar shall be rent, and the ashes that are upon it shall be poured out.

4 And it came to pass, when king Jĕr-o-bō'am heard the saying of the man of God, which had cried against the altar in Bĕth'-el, that he put forth his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him. And his hand, which he put forth against him, dried up, so that he could not pull it in again to him.

5 The altar also was rent, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

6 And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the LORD thy God, and pray for me, that a This one was desecrated by Josiah (2 Ki. 23:15). The one in Dan was carried away by Tiglath-pileser (2 Ki. 15:29)

b Jeroboam's idols became a sin to Israel. The expression made Israel to sin is used 23 times of Jeroboam (14:16; 15: 26, 30, 34; 16:2, 13, 19, 26; 21:22; 22:52; 2 Ki. 3:3; 10:29, 31; 13:2, 6, 11; 14:24; 15:9, 18, 24, 28; 17:21; 23:15). There was nothing like this in Judah, except in the days of Manasseh who made the people to sin (2 Ki. 21:11-17)

c A temple, not merely high places

d This is where all false religions come from. No doubt Satan had something to do with putting it into his heart, for he is the spirit that works in all sons of disobedience (Jn. 8:44; Eph. 2:1-3; 1 Jn. 3:8). False prophecies also come from the same source (Jer. 13:10; 14:14; 16:12; 17:9; 18:12; 23:16-26; Ezek. 13:17)

e Man-made feasts always go with man-made priests (v 31, 33)

f See note, Dt. 33:1

g Upon the ledge where the priest always stood to make sacrifice (v 1)

h 9th prophecy in 1 Ki. (13:2-3, fulfilled). Next, v 21

4 predictions - fulfilled:
1 A child shall be born unto the house of David, Josiah by name (13:2)
2 He shall offer upon this altar the priests of the high places that burn incense upon it
3 Bones of men shall be burnt upon this altar
4 The altar shall be rent this day and the ashes that are upon it will be poured out (13:3)

i This prophecy was uttered 322 years before Josiah was born, and 348 before it was fulfilled (v 2; 2 Ki. 22:1, 3, 17-18). Isaiah mentioned Cyrus by name about 175 years before he was born, and about 213 before he fulfilled prophecy (2 Chr. 36:22-23; Isa. 44:28)

j Fulfilled in 2 Ki. 23:17-18 k The prophet gave a sign that was to be fulfilled that very day, showing that the prophecy would be literally fulfilled. The sign was that the altar would be rent by God's power and all the ashes poured out (v 3). It was fulfilled a few minutes later when Jeroboam sought to take hold of the man of God (v 4-5)

l 3 great miracles:
1 Drying up of the king's hand (v 4)
2 Rending of the altar (v 5)
3 Healing of the king's hand (v 6)

m In spite of these 3 miracles Jeroboam did not repent or turn from his wickedness in the least, which proves again that miracles will not make all men repent (v 4-6)

Note: since the total of the above list is 19 yrs. short of the total for the reign of the kings of Judah during the same period (listed on p. 60), we are obliged to recognize that the writer failed to give a complete chronology of Israel here, being interested perhaps in the chronology of Judah only n Repaired and enlarged Shechem, including fortifications (2 Chr. 11:11)

o Penuel, east of Jordan (v 25; Gen. 32: 30; Judg. 8:8) p Here jealousy and selfishness entered his heart and he sought for some way to keep the 10 tribes from going to Jerusalem to worship. This shows the apostasy was wilful, designed, and deliberate (v 26-27)

q 8 steps to Jeroboam's fall, p. 376

a To the man of God who had healed him through prayer, Jeroboam offered the hospitality of his palace and a reward (v 7). The man refused saying that he would not accept any bread in Jeroboam's kingdom, for God had told him not to eat bread in Ephraim, and to go back by another way from which he had come (v 8-9)

h When the man of God started back another way, according to the word of the Lord, an old prophet in Bethel caused him to disobey the Lord. His sons had reported the miracles of the man and the prediction he had made against the altar of Jeroboam (v 10-12); so the prophet had the sons to saddle an ass which he rode, going after the departing one. He found the man sitting under an oak and invited him to come home with him and eat bread (v 13-15). When the invitation was refused and the reason given, the old prophet declared that an angel had told him to go after the man of God and bring him back to eat bread at his house. This was a false report but so convincing, that the man sinned against the commandment of the Lord and went back (v 16-19). At the table the true word of the Lord came to the older prophet who made a prediction of younger one's destruction for disobedience (v 20-22)

c Question 23. Next, v 14

d This slow travelling of the man of God no doubt cost him his life. If he had gone right back to Judah, which was only a few miles, he would have been out of danger of disobedience (v 14)

e Question 24. Next, 14:6

f Then - after the old prophet had found the man of God, he invited him home to eat and drink (v 15), declaring falsely that an angel had commanded it. Instead of obeying God, the man obeyed the voice of a stranger who lied about his contact with an angel (v 16-19). This should be a great lesson for all the prophets and servants of God not to do one thing, even though an angel from heaven commands it, if the action is contrary to orders from God. The man of God knew the will of God, for he had repeated it twice already; and he should have known that God would not change His orders through another after giving previous orders to him direct g 10th prophecy in 1 Ki. (13:21-22, fulfilled). Next, 14:7. There was only one prediction - that the man of God would die and his carcase would not come unto the sepulchre of his fathers, meaning that his body would be buried at some other place

h 4fold sin of the man of God (v 21-22):
1 He disobeyed the mouth of Jehovah
2 He did not keep the commandment of the Lord
3 He went back to Bethel when God had told him not to turn again to Bethel (v 9, 22)
4 He ate bread and drank water contrary to the commandment (v 8, 22)

8 steps to Jeroboam's fall (12:28)

1 Conceived in his heart a plan to keep the 10 tribes from ever going to Jerusalem (v 26-27)
2 Took counsel, but not of Jehovah (v 28. Cp. Isa. 30:1)
3 Made 2 golden calves (v 28)
4 Made a decree that the 10 tribes not go to Jerusalem to worship, and that they should accept his idols as the gods that had brought them out of Egypt (v 28)
5 Set one golden calf in Bethel, and the other in Dan, to be worshipped (v 30)
6 Built a house of worship in high places and consecrated the lowest of the people who were not Levites, making them priests (v 31)
7 Ordained a feast on the 15th day of the 8th month to correspond with the one in Judah, made an altar, and offered sacrifices to the calves (v 32-33)
8 Stubbornly rebelled against the Word of God and still made priests of the lowest of the people (13:33-34) my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the LORD, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before.

(3) The prophet's obedience

●7 And the king said unto the man of God, [c]Come home with me, and refresh thyself, and I will give thee a reward.

8 And the man of God said unto the king, If thou wilt give me half thine house, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread nor drink water in this place:

●9 For so was it charged me by the word of the LORD, saying, Eat no bread, nor drink water, nor turn again by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Bĕth'-el.

(4) The prophet's disobedience

11 ¶[b]Now there dwelt an old prophet in Bĕth'-el; and his sons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Bĕth'-el: the words which he had spoken unto the king, them they told also to their father.

12 And their father said unto them, [c]What way went he? For his sons had seen what way the man of God went, which came from Jū'dah.

13 And he said unto his sons, Saddle me the ass. So they saddled him the ass: and he rode thereon, 14 And went after the man of God, and found him [d]sitting under an oak: and he said unto him, [d]Art thou the man of God that camest from Jū'dah? And he said, I am.

15 Then he said unto him, Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 And he said, I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread nor drink water with thee in this place:

●17 For it was said to me by the word of the LORD, Thou shalt eat no bread nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that thou camest.

●18 He said unto him, I am a prophet also as thou art; and an angel spake unto me by the word of the LORD, saying, Bring him back with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drink water. But he lied unto him.

19 So he went back with him, and did eat bread in his house, and drank water.

(5) The prophet's judgment

■20 ¶ And it came to pass, as they sat at the table, that the word of the LORD came unto the prophet that brought him back;

*21 [d]And he cried unto the man of God that came from Jū'dah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Forasmuch as thou [h]hast disobeyed the mouth of the LORD, and hast not kept the commandment which the LORD thy God commanded thee, 22 But camest back, and hast eaten bread and drunk water in the place, of the which the LORD did say to thee, [d]Eat no bread, and drink no water; thy carcase shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And it came to pass, after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he saddled for him the ass, to wit, for the prophet whom he had brought back.

24 And when he was gone, [b]a lion met him by the way, and slew him: and his carcase was cast in the way, and the ass stood by it, the lion also stood by the carcase.

25 And, behold, men passed by, and saw the carcase cast in the way, and the lion standing by the carcase: and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And when the prophet that brought him back from the way heard thereof, he said, It is the man of God, who was disobedient unto the word of the LORD: therefore the LORD hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath torn him, and slain him, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake unto him

(6) The prophet's burial

27 And he spake to his sons, saying, Saddle me the ass. And they saddled him.

28 And he went and found his carcase cast in the way, and the ass and the lion standing by the carcase: the lion had not eaten the carcase, nor torn the ass.

29 And the prophet took up the carcase of the man of God, and laid it upon the ass, and brought it back: and the old prophet came to the city, to mourn and to bury him.

30 And he laid his carcase in his own grave; and they mourned over him, saying, Alas, my brother!

31 And it came to pass, after he had buried him, that he spake to his sons, saying, When I am dead, then bury me in the sepulchre wherein the man of God is buried; lay my bones beside his bones:

32 For the saying which he cried by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bĕth'-el, and against all the houses of the high places which are in the cities of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, shall surely come to pass.

(7) Jeroboam persists in evil

33 ¶ [c]After this thing Jĕr-o-bō'am returned not from his evil way, but made again of the lowest of the people priests of the high places: whosoever would, he consecrated him, and he became one of the priests of the high places.

34 And this thing became sin unto the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am, even to cut it off, and to destroy it from off the face of the earth.

305 CHAPTER 14

3 Jeroboam's judgment.
(1) Sickness of his son

a These orders from God were clear, definite and unmistakable. Just why God did not want him to eat and drink in Bethel is not known unless doing so would be recognized as an action sanctioning Jeroboam's policies of idolatry. The truly godly Israelites among the 10 tribes left their homes to strengthen Rehoboam and oppose idolatry. The old prophet had remained in Bethel, one of the two places where the golden calves were placed; hence, to eat with either Jeroboam or this prophet could have been counted a breach of godliness. It seems God did not even want one of His own to fellowship anyone in the program of idolatry, in the least way b The lion bothered to kill only the man, not the ass; and he didn't even eat the flesh of the man. Both the ass and the lion were standing by the body of the man of God when he was found (v 24-25). This demonstrates that wild animals can obey the voice of God and do so to the letter, even better than some men obey Him. When the matter was reported to the prophet at Bethel he came, and taking the dead man, buried him in his own sepulchre (v 24-30). The old prophet even requested his sons to bury him beside the man of God at death (v 31)

c After this - after the experience with the man of God and the miracles of v 4-6, Jeroboam was still hardened and determined to rebel against God in his idolatry. He even became more wicked, as is always the case when men harden themselves against Him (v 33). These sins caused God to plan his destruction (v 34)

Dynasty of Hadad (11:14)

The dynasty of Hadads continued to rule until the time of David who completely conquered Edom and ordered Joab to stay there 6 months to cut off all the males and leave none (2 Sam. 8:13). Hadad, as a mere boy was rescued from Joab and carried into Egypt, where he was hospitably entertained and became allied with the house of the Egyptian king. Eventually, Pharaoh gave him his own sister-in-law for a wife. Not only Hadad, but his son, Genubath was also brought up in Egyptian court circles. This war on Edom was brought about by the Edomites attacking Israel when David and his army were fighting in northern Syria. The sneak attack was met by David taking his army into Edom and winning a great victory in the valley of Salt. He took vengeance on them and the slaughter was terrible (v 15-17; 2 Sam. 8:13-14; 1 Chr. 18:12; Ps. 60:6-12). This destruction of Edom made Hadad deeply bitter toward Israel; so after Solomon's death he was ready to take vengeance at any opportunity. Having asked leave of the king of Egypt to return to his own country, after the death of David and Joab (v 17-22), he caused much trouble for Israel in spite of the fact that Edomites were tributary to Israel up to the time of Jehoshaphat (22:47)

AT that time Â-bī'jah the son of Jĕr-o-bō'am fell sick.
2 And Jĕr-o-bō'am said to his wife, Arise, I pray thee, and disguise thyself, that thou be not known to be the wife of Jĕr-o-bō'am; and get thee to Shī'lōh: behold, there is Â-hī'jah the prophet, which told me that I should be king over this people.
3 And take with thee ten loaves, and [b]cracknels, and [a] cruse of honey, and go to him: he shall tell thee what shall become of the child.
4 And Jĕr-o-bō'am's wife did so, and arose, and went to Shī'lōh, and came to the house of Â-hī'jah. But Â-hī'jah could not see; for his[d]eyes were set by reason of his age.

(2) Exercise of the gifts of the word of knowledge and discernment (1 Cor. 12:8; 2 Ki. 6:32)

5 ¶ And the LORD [e]said unto Â-hī'jah, Behold, the wife of Jĕr-o-bō'am cometh to ask a thing of thee for her son; for he is sick: thus and thus shalt thou say unto her: for it shall be, when she cometh in, that she shall feign herself to be another woman.
6 And it was so, when Â-hī'jah heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the door, that he said, [f]Come in, thou wife of Jĕr-o-bō'am; [g]why feignest thou thyself to be another? for I am sent to thee with heavy tidings.

(3) Prophecy against Jeroboam

7 [h]Go, tell Jĕr-o-bō'am, Thus saith the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, Forasmuch as I exalted thee from among the people, and made thee prince over my people Iṣ'ra-el,
8 And rent the kingdom away from the house of Dā'vid, and gave it thee: and yet thou hast not been as my servant Dā'vid, who [i]kept my commandments, and who followed me with all his heart, to do that only which was right in mine eyes;
9 But hast done evil above all that were before thee: [j]for thou hast gone and[k]made thee other gods, and molten images, to provoke me to anger, and[l]hast cast me behind thy back:
10 Therefore, behold, I will bring evil upon the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am, and will cut off from Jĕr-o-bō'am him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and[m]left in Iṣ'ra-el, and[n]will take away the remnant of the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am, as a man taketh away dung, till it be all gone.
11 Him that dieth of Jĕr-o-bō'am in the city shall the[o]dogs eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the air eat: for the LORD hath spoken it.

(4) Sign to confirm the prophecy against Jeroboam

12 Arise thou therefore, get thee to thine own house: and when thy feet enter into the city, the child shall die.
13 And[a]all Iṣ'ra-el shall mourn for him, and bury him: for he only of Jĕr-o-bō'am shall come to the [b]grave, because in him there is found some good thing toward the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el in the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am.

(5) Further prophecy against Jeroboam and the captivity of Israel

14 Moreover the LORD shall raise him up a king over Iṣ'ra-el, [c]who shall cut off the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am that day: but[d]what? even now.
15 For the LORD shall [e]smite Iṣ'ra-el, as a reed is shaken in the water, and he shall root up Iṣ'ra-el out of this [f]good land, which he gave to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond the [g]river, because they have made their [h]groves, provoking the LORD to anger.
16 And he shall [i]give Iṣ'ra-el up because of the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am, who did sin, and [j]who made Iṣ'ra-el to sin.

(6) Sign fulfilled: death of Jeroboam's son

17 ¶ And Jĕr-o-bō'am's wife arose, and departed, and came to[k]Tĭr'zah: and when she came to the threshold of the door, the [l]child died;
18 And they buried him; and all Iṣ'ra-el[m]mourned for him, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake[n]by the hand of his servant Â-hī'jah the prophet.

4 Death of Jeroboam: accession of Nadab his son, the 2nd king of Israel (2 Chr. 13:20)

19 And the[o]rest of the acts of Jĕr-o-bō'am, how he warred, and how he reigned, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iṣ'ra-el.
20 And the days which Jĕr-o-bō'am reigned were [p]two and twenty years: and he[q]slept with his fathers, and Nā'dăb his son reigned in his stead.

V Rehoboam's reign continued. 1 Length of reign: 17 years

21 ¶ And Rĕ-ho-bō'am the son of Sŏl'o-mon reigned in Jū'dah. Rĕ-ho-bō'am was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned [r]seventeen years in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, the city which the LORD did choose out of all the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el, to put his name there. And his[s]mother's name was Nā'a-mah, an Am'-mon-ĭt-ess.

2 Apostasy: 8 sins of Judah (2 Chr. 12:1)

22 And Jū'dah [t]did evil in the sight of the LORD, and they provoked him to jealousy with their sins which they had committed, above all that their fathers had done.
23 For they also built them high places, and images, and groves, on every high hill, and under every green tree.

a At that time - at the time when Jeroboam's altar was rent by Jehovah, and he had been healed of his withered hand (13:4-6), his son Abijah fell sick (v 1). He told his wife to go in disguise to Ahijah, the prophet in Shiloh who had previously predicted he would be king over Israel, and find out what would become of the child (v 2). This indicates that he had no confidence in his own gods, and that he considered them more political expedients. All he ever cared to use them for was to keep his people from going down to Jerusalem to worship, so that he might keep his kingdom (12:26-28). He clung to them in desperation for this purpose only. No doubt, in his heart he knew that Jehovah was the only true God. One thing is certain, he realized that his golden calves did not give him the kingdom; and it should have been clear that they were not going to establish his kingdom for his offspring, as Jehovah had promised, if he would obey Him (11:30-39)

b Cracknels. Heb. niqqud, biscuit. It was some sort of hard biscuit carried by the common people on their journeys. The literal meaning is a thin pricked or punctured biscuit - one that would crumble easily, perhaps something like our crackers (v 3)

c Flask or bottle of honey

d He was nearly blind from old age. The fact that Jeroboam had her disguise herself to go before a man that could hardly see is proof of his own guilty conscience. He felt that the prophet would not even give the queen a favorable reply, if he knew who she was, for he, himself had not met the conditions upon which he could claim a sure house (11:30-39). The very presents selected were for the purpose of deception, being such as a poor country-person would likely bring. Jeroboam also counted some on the blindness of Ahijah in his plans to deceive, as Rebekah and Jacob did when they deceived Isaac (Gen. 27:1, 22)

e The Lord knows how to discover deception; He made it known by word to the prophet who was coming and what she was coming for. Furthermore, God told him exactly what to say even before she arrived (v 5)

f This must have been quite a shock to Jeroboam's wife - to be addressed as such by a man who was practically blind, when all possible secrecy had been kept regarding her arrival and no one knew her disguise. She was told that the prophet had bad news for her (v 6)

h 11th prophecy in 1 Ki. (14:7-16, fulfilled). Next, 16:1

10 predictions - fulfilled:

1 I will bring evil upon the house of Jeroboam (14:10)
2 I will cut off from Jeroboam every male of his house
3 I will also cut off others of his line, free or bond, and do away with his whole house as refuse is swept completely away
4 The ones who die in the city of Jeroboam shall the dogs eat, and those that die in the field shall the fowls eat (14:11)
5 When your feet enter into the city your child shall die (14:12)
6 All Israel shall mourn for him, and bury him (14:13)
7 He only of the house of Jeroboam shall come to the grave, for in him has been found some good toward Jehovah, of all the house of Jeroboam (14:13)
8 The Lord shall raise up a king over Israel who shall cut off the house of Jeroboam (14:14)
9 The Lord will smite Israel, as a reed is shaken in the water (14:15)
10 He shall root up Israel out of this good land, and shall scatter them beyond the river (Euphrates), because they have made their groves, provoking the Lord to anger; and He shall give them up because of the sins of Jeroboam (14:15-16)

p 22 years - Jeroboam. According to 15:25 Nadab, his son, reigned 2 years, beginning in the 2nd year of Asa, which was the 21st year of Jeroboam; so Nadab's 2 years were the last two of Jeroboam. In 2 Chr. 13:20 we learn that Jeroboam was stricken with a lingering disease; during this time Nadab reigned with him, then reigned 2 years after him. It must be remembered that the writer of Kings was not giving a detailed or chronological record of the kings of Ephraim, but of Judah; so he was not particular about all the facts regarding the kings of northern Israel

q The wicked sleep with their fathers, as well as the righteous; hence the term refers only to the death of the body - when the spirit leaves it, and not to the place or state of the soul at all (Jas. 2:26). At physical death the immortal soul and spirit of the righteous go to paradise (Lk. 23:43; Eph. 4:8-10), while those of the wicked go to hell, the torment compartment of sheol-hades, to await the resurrection (Ps. 9:17; Isa. 14:9; Lk. 16:19-31; Rev. 20:11-15). b Shishak was founder of the 22nd Egyptian dynasty. He invaded Judah, took Jerusalem, and carried away all the treasures of the king's house, and the shields of gold which Solomon had made (v 26). This was allowed of God because Judah had transgressed against Him (2 Chr. 12:2). Shishak had an army of 1200 chariots, 60,000 horsemen, and innumerable foot-soldiers of Egyptians, Lubims, and Sukkiims, and Ethiopians (2 Chr. 12:3). Judah humbled themselves and God spared them total destruction (2 Chr. 12:4-12)

Ravens (17:4)

Heb. oreb, raven, not Arabiy, Arabian. Some who seek to do away with the miraculous in Scripture would have us believe that Arabians or merchantmen fed Elijah twice daily during his long stay at the brook Cherith, but nothing is to be gained by such teaching, for it would be practically as miraculous if men brought the meals two times a day to such an isolated spot. The above Heb. words are never used interchangeably in Scripture; they mean two different things. The same interpreters do not seek to make this change in any other passage. Suppose we read Arabian for raven in other scriptures and see how ridiculous the result can be. We should have:

1 Noah sending out an Arabian from the ark to see if the flood was gone (Gen. 8:7) 11:15; Dt. 14:14)
2 The Arabians as clean food (Lev.
3 Hair as black as Arabians (Song 5:11)
4 Young Arabians crying for food along with other beasts and birds (Ps. 147:9)
5 Arabians picking eyes out of dead bodies to eat them (Pr. 30:17)

24 And there were also [a]sodomites in the land: and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the LORD cast out before the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

3 First Egyptian invasion of Judah (2 Chr. 12:2-12)

25 ¶ And it came to pass in the fifth year of king Rē-ho-bō'am, that [b]Shī'shāk king of E'gўpt came up against Jē-rų'sā-lēm:

26 And he took away the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house; he even took away all: and he took away all the shields of gold which Sŏl'o-mon had made.

27 And king Rē-ho-bō'am made in their stead brasen shields, and committed them unto the hands of the chief of the guard, which kept the door of the king's house.

28 And it was so, when the king went into the house of the LORD, that the guard bare them, and brought them back into the guard chamber.

31 And Rē-ho-bō'am [d]slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid. And his mother's name was Nā'a-mah an Am'mon-it-ess. And A-bī'jam his son reigned in his stead.

VI Kings of Judah (15:1-24; 2 Chr. 13:1-16:14). 1 Reign of Abijam, 2nd king of Judah: 3 years (2 Chr. 13:1-22)

NOW in the [e]eighteenth year of king Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt reigned [f]A-bī'jam over Jū'dah.

2 Three years reigned he in Jē-rų'sā-lēm. And his mother's name was Mā'a-chah, the daughter of A-bīsh'a-lom.

3 And he [g]walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him: and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, as the heart of Dā'vid his father.

4 Nevertheless [h]for Dā'vid's sake did the LORD his God give him a lamp in Jē-rų'sā-lēm, to set up his son after him, and to establish Jē-rų'sā-lēm:

5 Because Dā'vid did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, and turned not aside from any thing that he commanded him all the days of his life, save only in the matter of U-rī'ah the Hĭt'tite.

6 [i]And there was war between Rē-ho-bō'am and Jĕr-o-bō'am all the days of his life.

7 Now the rest of the acts of A-bī'jam, and all that he did, [c]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah? [b]And there was war between A-bī'jam and Jĕr-o-bō'am.

8 And A-bī'jam [c]slept with his fathers; and they buried him in the city of Dā'vid: and A'sá his son reigned in his stead.

2 Reign of Asa, 3rd king of Judah: 41 years (2 Chr. 14:1-16:14). (1) First good king in Judah (22:43; 2 Ki. 12:1)

9 ¶ And in the twentieth year of [d]Jĕr-o-bō'am king of Iṣ'ra-el reigned A'sá over Jū'dah.

10 And [e]forty and one years reigned he in Jē-rų'sā-lēm. And his mother's name was Mā'a-chah, the daughter of A-bīsh'a-lom.

11 And A'sá [f]did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, as did Dā'vid his father.

12 And he [g]took away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.

13 And also Mā'a-chah his mother, even her he removed from being queen, because she had made an idol in a grove; and A'sá destroyed her idol, and burnt it by the brook Kid'ron.

14 But the high places were not removed: nevertheless A'sá's heart was perfect with the LORD all his days.

15 And he brought in the things which his father had dedicated, and the things which himself had dedicated, into the house of the LORD, silver, and gold, and vessels.

(2) Fifteenth civil strife (2 Chr. 16:1-6; 2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

16 ¶ [h]And there was war between A'sá and Bā'a-shá king of Iṣ'ra-el [i]all their days.

17 And [j]Bā'a-shá king of Iṣ'ra-el went up against Jū'dah, and built [k]Rā'mah that he might not suffer any to go out or come in to A'sá king of Jū'dah.

(3) Asa's league with Syria (2 Chr. 16:7-11)

18 Then A'sá took all the silver and the gold that were left in the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house, and delivered them into the hand of his servants: and king A'sá [l]sent them to Bĕn-hā'dăd, the son of Tăb'rī-mon, the son of Hē'zī-on, king of Sўr'ĭ-á, that dwelt at Dā-más'cus, saying,

19 There is a league between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent unto thee a present of silver and gold; come and break thy league with Bā'a-shá king of Iṣ'ra-el, that he may depart from me.

(4) Syria invades Israel (2 Chr. 16:2-4): 4th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

20 [m]So Bĕn-hā'dăd hearkened unto king A'sá, and sent the captains of the hosts which he had against the cities of Iṣ'ra-el, and smote I'jon, and Dăn, c Died a physical death - his body went to sleep and was put in a burial place in the city of David (v 8). No soul sleep is taught in Scripture

d In spite of the sins of Jeroboam he lived through the reigns of 2 kings of Judah (Rehoboam and Abijam), and into the reign of Asa 2 years

e Asa had the 3rd longest reign of any king of Judah - 41 years (v 10)

f This is a pleasant change from the often repeated fact with most kings - he did that which was evil. This man was the first king of Judah after the division of the kingdom that did right in the sight of the Lord, as David did. Because of this he had a long life and outlived 7 kings of Israel who did evil in the eyes of the Lord. See note a, 11:6

g 5 good acts of Asa:
1 Took away the sodomites out of the land (v 12)
2 Removed all the idols that his fathers (previous kings) had made
3 Removed his mother from being queen, because of her idolatry (v 13)
4 Destroyed her idol, burning it by the brook Kidron. This suggests it was made of wood. Here and in 2 Chr. 15:16 the word rendered idol is miphletseth, meaning horror, terror, or monstrosity. It is supposed the god was an obscene figure, the worship of which shows the demoralizing influence of idolatry. Such figures were often worshipped among idolaters
5 Brought the things his father and he had dedicated, into the temple (v 15)

k Ramah, which he intended to menace, was 5 mi. north of Jerusalem

l Asa's calling of Benhadad to his aid was condemned by the prophet, Hanani (2 Chr. 17:7). An alliance had been made between Benhadad's father (v 19), and Abijam which helped the latter get victory over Jeroboam (2 Chr. 13:17-20). This alliance had been brought to an end by Baasha, the successor of Benhadad. It was only natural that Asa should endeavor to break up this league and secure the Syrian troops for himself. The Israelites had begun to call in foreign help against each other when Jeroboam called for the aid of Shishak, king of Egypt. They continued such a program until both kingdoms were taken into captivity and both destroyed as nations m Benhadad agreed to help Asa by making war on the northern kingdom of Israel. He smote Ijon, Dan, Abel-beth-maachah, all Chinneroth, and all the land of Naphtali. This caused Baasha to leave off fortifying Ramah and thus Asa was greatly relieved (v 20-21) trary, the sceptre is not to depart from Judah until Shiloh come (Gen. 49:10); and then the Messiah from Judah will reign over the house of Judah and the other tribes eternally. David understood that his throne would be cut off temporarily if his descendents sinned (1 Ki. 2:4); Solomon and all Israel understood it this way (1 Ki. 9:3-9); and this is exactly what happened when Solomon sinned (1 Ki. 11:11-13, 30-38). The books of Kings and Chronicles are full of records of God cutting off many kings because of their going into sin. This continued until God found it necessary to cut off both houses of Israel (2 Ki. 17:4-23; 23:27; 24:1-25:30; 2 Chr. 36). Failure to find the throne of David in generations past until now is no failure on God's part, nor does it prove the Bible untrue; it only proves that God will not bless any people who continue in sin to the point that God has to curse them. Such was true of all the tribes of Israel, not Judah only; and so, God would not curse Judah only and not the other tribes since all were guilty of the same sins. On the other hand, the British Empire and America have been as guilty of sin and departure from God as all the tribes; so why should God bless these and curse others for the a Chinneroth (v 20). Called Chinneroth Josh. 11:2; 12:3). It was a northern district of Palestine, which probably took its name from the sea of Chinnereth, called also the Sea of Galilee (Num. 24:11; Dt. 3:17; Josh. 13:27; 19:35)

b When he heard of the league between Asa and Benhadad, he left off fortifying Ramah from which he intended to trouble Judah (v 16-21)

c Then - when Baasha had left off building Ramah as a fortification against Judah, Asa commanded all men of Judah to remove the fortifications. With the stone and timber he got from here he built Geba and Mizpah (v 22) d Geba was located opposite Michmash (1 Sam. 14:5), and on the top of a steep terraced hill at the very verge of the Wady Suweinit. Its position was very strong. Being further north of Ramah, the danger of Ephraim bothering Jerusalem was farther removed e From Jer. 41:9 we learn that Asa had also dug a well at Mizpah to give the garrison water if the town was besieged

f See 2 Chr. 14:9-15:10

g Question 29, Next, v 31

h The writer of Kings did not see fit to record the story of Asa's disease other than merely mention it. The writer of Chronicles gave more details, speaking of it as exceedingly great and mentioning that Asa did not seek the Lord, but turned to the physicians - and he died (2 Chr. 16:12-14). See Bible plagues, p. 317 of N. T.

i This refers to bodily sleep, not soul sleep which is not once taught in the Bible. What slept was buried in the city of David - the body (v 24)

j 7 kings of Israel during Asa's reign:
1 Nadab (v 25)
2 Baasha (v 33)
3 Elah (16:8)
4 Zimri (16:11-15)
5 Tibni (16:21)
6 Omri (16:21-22)
7 Ahab (16:28-34)

k Walked in the way of Jeroboam, and in the sin of all Israel - the 10 tribes of the northern kingdom (v 26)

l 14 assassinations - kings and queens:
1 Servants slew Ish-bosheth (2 Sam. 4)
2 Baasha slew Nadab (v 27-28)
3 Zimri slew Elah (16:8-10)
4 Omri slew Tibni (16:21-22)
5 Jehu slew Jehoram (2 Ki. 9:14-26)
6 Jehu slew Ahaziah (2 Ki. 9:27-29)
7 Jehu slew queen Jezebel (2 Ki. 9:30-37)
8 Captians slew Athaliah (2 Ki. 11:13-16)
9 Servants slew Joash (2 Ki. 12:19-21)
10 Servants slew Amaziah (2 Ki. 14:17-20)
11 Shallum slew Zachariah (2 Ki. 15:10)
12 Menahem slew Shallum (2 Ki. 15:14)
13 Pekah slew Pekahiah (2 Ki. 15:25)
14 Hoshea slew Pekah (2 Ki. 15:30)
It is noticeable that only one king and one queen of Judah were killed by conspirators. Another happened to be in Israel when Jehu, seeking the throne, assassinated the king of Israel; and he also was killed. The others were murdered by conspirators who wanted the throne for themselves or another. One king of Israel committed suicide because conspirators had him trapped and would have killed him (16:18). This is another indication of the utter wickedness of Israel compared to Judah, during the time of the division of the kingdom. And yet, some today contend that God cut Judah off, not Israel, and that Israel is now enjoying the covenants and blessings exclusive of Judah. On the basis of wickedness it was Israel that was cut off as a nation even until now; but Judah survived and was restored. Thus it will be in the future - Judah as well as the 10 tribes will be restored again under the Messiah (Acts 15:13-18). In this N. T. passage David and his kingdom of Judah are spoken of in particular and not the 10 tribes, aland A'bel-bĕth-mā'a-chah, and all Cin'ne-rŏth, with all the land of Năph'ta-lī.

21 And it came to pass, when Bā'a-shā heard thereof, that he left off building of Rā'mah, and dwelt in Tĭr'zah.

(5) Asa's building program (2 Chr. 16:5-6)

22 Then king A'sā made a proclamation throughout all Jū'dah; none was exempted: and they took away the stones of Rā'mah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Bā'a-shā had builded; and king A'sā built with them Gē'bā of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and Mĭz'pah.

(6) Asa's disease and death (2 Chr. 16:12-14)

23 The rest of all the acts of A'sā, and all his might, and all that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah? Nevertheless in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet.

24 And A'sā slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid his father: and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt his son reigned in his stead.

VII Kings of Israel (15:25-16:27). 1 Reign of Nadab, 2nd king of Israel: 2 years

25 ¶ And Nā'dăb the son of Jĕr-o-bō'am began to reign over Ĭs'ra-el in the second year of A'sā king of Jū'dah, and reigned over Ĭs'ra-el two years.

26 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sin wherewith he made Ĭs'ra-el to sin.

2 Reign of Baasha, 3rd king of Israel: 24 years (2 Chr. 16:1-6). (1) Sixteenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

27 ¶ And Bā'a-shā the son of A-hī'jah, of the house of Ĭs'sa-char, conspired against him; and Bā'a-shā smote him at Gĭb'be-thŏn, which belonged to the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes; for Nā'dăb and all Ĭs'ra-el laid siege to Gĭb'be-thŏn.

28 Even in the third year of A'sā king of Jū'dah did Bā'a-shā slay him, and reigned in his stead.

(2) Baasha destroys Jeroboam's house, fulfilling 14:7-13

29 And it came to pass, when he reigned, that he smote all the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am; he left not to Jĕr-o-bō'am any that breathed, until he had destroyed him, according unto the saying of the LORD, which he spake by his servant A-hī'jah the Shī'lo-nīte:

30 Because of the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am which he sinned, and which he made Ĭs'ra-el sin, by his provocation wherewith he provoked the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el to anger.

31 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Nā'dăb, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el?

(3) Wars, character and length of Baasha's reign

32 And there was war between A'sā and Bā'a-shā king of Ĭs'ra-el all their days.

33 In the third year of A'sā king of Jū'dah began Bā'a-shā the son of A-hī'jah to reign over all Ĭs'ra-el in Tĭr'zah, and twenty and four years.

34 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of Jĕr-o-bō'am, and in his sin wherewith he made Ĭs'ra-el to sin.

CHAPTER 16 307

(4) Prophecy against Baasha

THEN the word of the LORD came to Jē'hū the son of Hă-nā'nī against Bā'a-shā, saying, *

2 Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, and made thee prince over my people Ĭs'ra-el; and thou hast walked in the way of Jĕr-o-bō'am, and hast made my people Ĭs'ra-el to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins;

3 Behold, I will take away the posterity of Bā'a-shā, and the posterity of his house; and will make thy house like the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt.

4 Him that dieth of Bā'a-shā in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth of his in the fields shall the fowls of the air eat.

5 Now the rest of the acts of Bā'a-shā, and what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el?

6 So Bā'a-shā slept with his fathers, and was buried in Tĭr'zah: and Ē'lah his son reigned in his stead.

7 And also by the hand of the prophet Jē'hū the son of Hă-nā'nī came the word of the LORD against Bā'a-shā, and against his house, even for all the evil that he did in the sight of the LORD, in provoking him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am; and because he killed him.

3 Reign of Elah, 4th king of Israel: 2 years

8 ¶ In the twenty and sixth year of A'sā king of Jū'dah began Ē'lah the son of Bā'a-shā to reign over Ĭs'ra-el in Tĭr'zah, two years.

4 Reign of Zimri, 5th king of Israel: 7 days. (1) Seventeenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

9 And his servant Zĭm'rī, captain of half his chariots, conspired against him, as he was in Tĭr'zah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Ar'zā steward of his house in Tĭr'zah.

10 And Zĭm'rī went in and smote him, and killed him, in the twenty and seventh year of A'sā king of Jū'dah, and reigned in his stead.

a Question 30, Next, 16:5

b Here again, it refers to border fighting, not to an all out war (v 32)

c This is the length of his reign. If he began to reign in the 3rd year of Asa, as stated, he died in the 26th year of Asa (16:8). Yet in 2 Chr. 16:1 we read that he made war in the 36th year of the reign of Asa. This would be about 10 years after his death; and so, it could only refer to the 36th year of the kingdom of Israel after the division of the kingdom. This agrees with all the other dates and reigns. The word reign should be kingdom

d He lived in the sins of Jeroboam and those of the 10 tribes, continuing a long line of rebellious kings, not of the same line, but of the same people (v 34)

4 predictions - fulfilled:
1 I will take away the posterity of Baasha and his house (16:3)
2 I will make his house like that of Jeroboam
3 Him that dieth of Baasha in the city shall the dogs eat (16:4) 4 Him that dieth of his, in the fields, shall the fowls of the air eat

f Jehu, Jehovah is He. 5 Jehu's
1 A prophet (v 1, 7, 12; 2 Chr. 19:2; 20:34)
2 Son of Obed (1 Chr. 2:38)
3 A Simeonite (1 Chr. 4:35)
4 A Benjamite (1 Chr. 12:3)
5 A king of Israel (2 Ki. 9:1-10:36)

g Baasha, boldness. He was of the tribe of Issachar and one who obtained the throne by usurpation (15:27-16:13; 2 Chr. 16:1-6; Jer. 41:9)

b Baasha was the 2nd man whom God exalted thus far over the 10 tribes. The first one, Jeroboam, was to be cut off completely because of his sins. Baasha, who started the 2nd dynasty was raised up to destroy Jeroboam's house; but he also went into the same sins Jeroboam was responsible for; and now God predicted his house would be totally cut off (v 1-4). Baasha fulfilled the prophecy of the destruction of all belonging to Jeroboam (15:27-31). Zimri was raised up to fulfil this prophecy of the destruction of the house of Baasha (v 11-20)

i See 2 Ki. 9:9; 2 Chr. 16; Jer. 41:9 for the only statements about Baasha in Scripture, other than 15:16-16:13; 21:22

j Question 31, Next, v 14

k This must have been a book solely to record the history of the kings of Israel - one which we do not possess now

l Slept bodily in death, for what slept was buried in a tomb and went to dust again (v 6). The soul and spirit were not made of dust and will never return to dust; they are immortal. See Immortality in Index

m This indicates that Baasha overstepped God's will in the destruction of the house of Jeroboam, in some way - perhaps by killing king Nadab before it was God's time (15:27-29)

n This confirms the fact that Baasha reigned only 24 years (v 8; 15:33, note)

2 Because he made Israel to sin by worshipping golden calves

o See 12:25-33

p Nadab is not mentioned in 1 and 2 Chronicles, and all that is said of him is in v 25-31; 14:20, so there must have been some records in Israel other than Chronicles a This was the reason for destroying the house of Baasha and Elah (v 13)

b Vanities - idols (v 13, 26)
c There are no details of his reign in 1 and 2 Chronicles, other than one thing (1 Chr. 9:8), so the book mentioned here must refer to a special history of the kings of the northern kingdom (v 14)

e 7 days. The shortest reign of any king of Israel or Judah (v 15). Omri was made king by the army who then turned against him, and caused him to commit suicide (v 16-20)
f This suggests that he forced Israel to sin. Being the head of half the chariots (v 9), he no doubt was commanded to force obedience to the new religious laws related to the worshipping of the golden calves. He, himself also sinned after this manner (v 19)
g His acts were also recorded in the special book of the kings of Israel (v 20). None are recorded in 1 and 2 Chronicles of our Bible, so the chronicles of the kings of Israel must refer to another book which we do not possess same thing - disobedience and rebellion? We see no reason therefore, to believe that the throne of David is the British throne

4 David's kingdom and throne were postponed from the time of the Babylonian captivity, with such to continue until the 2nd advent of Christ (Hos. 3:4-5; Acts 15:13-18). There has been no such throne from then until now. It was said to Jechoniah, the last ruler of David's line to be king in Judah, that no man of his seed would ever rule again on David's throne or rule in Jerusalem over Judah; so there could not have been a succession of Israelitish kings and queens from his day to the present queen of England. None could have been a legal heir to the throne of David; no man can ever again be a legal heir to that throne until Messiah comes. Even He is not the literal seed of Jechoniah or of the royal line of David, for Christ inherited the throne rights through Joseph, the husband of Mary (note k, Mt. 1:6). He came through Nathan, son of David and not Solomon, the kingly line

5 David's throne will be re-established after the church age, for we read: "And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written, After this (after taking out of the Gentiles a people for His name) I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down (not which is built up and kept up by the kings of England); and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up" (Acts 15:13-18; Amos 9:11-15)

6 David's throne will be restored at the regathering of Israel and the 2nd advent of Christ. He cannot sit on David's throne until He does come (Isa. 9:6-7; 16:5; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:4-6)

7 David's throne will be restored to Judah when the time comes, and not to another tribe of Israel or to Anglo-Saxons who never were descendants of Israel, but rather plain Gentiles from Japheth (Gen. 49:10; Amos 9:11-12; Acts 15:13-18). The British, Irish, Welsh, German, Scandinavian, and other Anglo-Saxon people descended from Japheth - not from Shem, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. See Sons of Japheth, p. 40

8 Jerusalem, not London, Washington, or some other Gentile city, will be the capital of the restored kingdom of the 12 tribes when Messiah comes (Isa. 2:1-4; 44:26; 52:7-9; 62:6-12; 65:18-25; 66:19-20; Jer. 3:17; Ezek. 48; Joel 3:16-20; Mic. 4; Zech. 12:2-11; 13:1; 14:1-21). No Gentile city in the British Isles or America is ever once mentioned in Scripture; but Jerusalem is named 810 times

(2) Zimri destroys Baasha's house, fulfilling 16:1-7

11 ¶ And it came to pass, when he began to reign, as soon as he sat on his throne, that he slew all the house of Bā'a-shā: he left him not one that pisseth against a wall, neither of his kinsfolks, nor of his friends.

12 Thus did Zīm'rī destroy all the house of Bā'a-shā, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake against Bā'a-shā by Jē'hū the prophet, 13 For all the sins of Bā'a-shā, and the sins of Ē'lah his son, by which they sinned, and by which they made Iṣ'ra-el to sin, in provoking the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el to anger with [b]their vanities.

14 Now the [c]rest of the acts of Ē'lah, and all that he did, [d]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iṣ'ra-el?

(3) Eighteenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). Omri made 6th king of Israel

15 ¶ In the twenty and seventh year of Ā'sā king of Jū'dah did Zīm'rī reign [e]seven days in Tir'zah. And the people were encamped against Gīb'be-thŏn, which belonged to the Phi-lĭs'tĭnes.

16 And the people that were encamped heard say, Zīm'rī hath conspired, and hath also slain the king: wherefore all Iṣ'ra-el made Ōm'rī, the captain of the host, king over Iṣ'ra-el that day in the camp.

17 And Ōm'rī went up from Gīb'be-thŏn, and all Iṣ'ra-el with him, and they besieged Tir'zah.

(4) Death of Zimri

18 And it came to pass, when Zīm'rī saw that the city was taken, that he went into the palace of the king's house, and burnt the king's house over him with fire, and died,

19 For his sins which he sinned in doing evil in the sight of the LORD, in walking in the way of Jĕr-o-bō'am, and in his sin which he did, [f]to make Iṣ'ra-el to sin.

20 Now the [a]rest of the acts of Zīm'rī, and his treason that he wrought, [h]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iṣ'ra-el?

5 Reign of Omri, 6th king of Israel: 6 years. (1) Nineteenth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). Death of Tibni, 7th king of Israel

21 [i]Then were the people of Iṣ'ra-el divided into two parts: half of the people followed Tĭb'nī the son of Gī'năth, to make him king; and half followed Ōm'rī.

22 But the people that followed Ōm'rī prevailed against the people that followed Tĭb'nī the son of Gī'năth: so Tĭb'nī died, and Ōm'rī reigned.

(2) Omri builds Samaria

23 ¶ In the thirty and first year of Ā'sā king of Jū'dah began Ōm'rī to reign over Iṣ'ra-el, twelve years: six years reigned he in Tir'zah.

24 And [a]he bought the hill Sā-mā'rĭ-ā of Shē'mēr for [b]two talents of silver, and built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, after the name of Shē'mēr, owner of the hill, Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.

(3) Wickedness and death of Omri

25 ¶ But Ōm'rī wrought evil in the eyes of the LORD, and [c]did worse than all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, and in his sin wherewith he made Iṣ'ra-el to sin, to provoke the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el to anger with their [d]vanities.

27 Now the [e]rest of the acts of Ōm'rī which he did, and his might that he shewed, [f]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iṣ'ra-el?

28 So Ōm'rī [g]slept with his fathers, and was buried in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā: and Ā'hăb his son reigned in his stead.

VIII Reign of Ahab, 8th king of Israel: 22 years. Ministry of Elijah (16:29-22:40; 2 Chr. 18:1-34). 1 Accession and wickedness of Ahab (18:18; 21:19, 25-26)

29 ¶ And in the [h]thirty and eighth year of Ā'sā king of Jū'dah began Ā'hăb the son of Ōm'rī to reign over Iṣ'ra-el: and Ā'hăb the son of Ōm'rī reigned over Iṣ'ra-el in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā twenty and two years.

30 And Ā'hăb the son of Ōm'rī did evil in the sight of the LORD above [i]all that were before him.

31 And it came to pass, as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, that he took to wife Jĕz'e-bĕl the daughter of Ĕth-bā'al king of the Zī-dō'nĭ-anṣ, and went and served Bā'al, and worshipped him.

32 And he reared up an altar for Bā'al in the house of Bā'al, which he had built in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.

33 And Ā'hăb made a grove; and Ā'hăb did more to provoke the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el to anger than all the kings of Iṣ'ra-el that were before him.

2 Curse upon builders of Jericho, fulfilling Josh. 6:22

34 [j]In his days did Hĭ'el the Bĕth'-el-īte build Jĕr'ī-chō: he laid the foundation thereof in Ā-bī'ram his firstborn, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest son Sē'gub, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake by Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nūn.

d Idols (v 13, 26)
e The other acts of Omri are not written in the Chronicles of the Bible, so this must refer to another book of records of the kings of Israel which we do not possess

g Slept bodily, for that which slept was hurled in a tomb (v 28). The body only sleeps at the time of physical death. The inner man leaves the body (Jas. 2:26), and is in a state of full consciousness in heaven or hell h 3 years before the close of the long reign of Asa over Judah, Ahab began to reign over Israel. He ruled for 22 years (v 29)
i In v 25 we read that Omri did evil - worse than all the wicked kings that were before him; but now we read that Ahab did evil above him and all others (v 30). How he could excel in wickedness above the previous one is not clear unless it was in taking a pagan wife, serving Baal, building him an altar, and worshipping him (v 31). Omri also built a grove, or set up an Asherah, a totem pole idol, p. 106

portant as changing the throne rights from Judah to an Israel which has no Judah in it, changing the capital of Israel from Jerusalem to London, and the changing of the promises and covenant made in particular to David and Judah to another distinct people which has no tribe of Judah whatsoever. But such is not the case, for Judah and Jerusalem are the subject of the prophets, not Israel and Jerusalem, excluding Judah. The term Judah and Jerusalem is used 82 times whereas Israel and Jerusalem is not found once. Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem is found only once (Zech. 1:10), referring to the scattering and restoration of all the tribes of Israel to Jerusalem, their capital. There is not one hint anywhere in Scripture regarding God casting off Judah from the promises and covenants, and no suggestion that there is an Israel which does not have a tribe of Judah in it, which will enjoy these blessings along with other tribes

10 Not one scripture ever says that God would give Israel a land other than the original land of promise to all the 12 tribes. They will never be moved from this, for it was given to Abraham and his seed to be the land of the 12 tribes forever; and the land is definitely stated to be Canaan and that of surrounding nations with boundary lines clearly marked as from the Mediterranean on the west to the Euphrates on the east, and from Hamath on the north to the Indian Ocean on the south (Gen. 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:8; 26:3-4; 28:4; 35:12; Ezek. 48)

11 It is in the original promised land that all the 12 tribes will be gathered again to make an eternal nation under the Messiah (Dt. 30:1-10; Isa. 11:10-16; 60:8-22; 66:19-21; Jer. 16:14-21; 23:3-8; 30:1-24; 31:18-40; 32:37-44; 33:6-26; 50:19-20; Ezek. 11:17-21; 20:33-44; 28:26-28; 34:11-31; 36:1-38; 37:1-28)

12 Both the house of Israel and the house of Judah were to be gathered again the second time and assemble in their own land the outcasts of Israel and the dispersed of Judah from the 4 corners of the earth, to be united together again, not to envy each other, but the two being victor over their enemies (Isa. 11:10-15). The first dispersion was in the Assyrian and Babylonian captivities (2 Ki. 17 and 25). After the Babylonian captivity the first gathering of Israel and Judah was under Ezra and Nehemiah. If both are to be gath-

[a] Elijah, God is Jehovah. 2 Elijah's:
1 A returning exile (Ezra 10:21)
2 The prophet. He is mentioned 68 times (17:1-18:21; 21:17-29; 2 Kl. 1:1-17; 2:1-15; 3:11; 9:36; 10:10, 17; 2 Chr. 21:12; Mal. 4:5). He is called Elias 30 times in the N. T. (Mt. 11:14; 16:14; 17:3-12; 27:47-49; Mk. 6:15; 8:28; 9:4-13; 15:35-36; Lk. 1:17; 4:25-26; 9:8, 19, 30, 33, 54; Jn. 1:21-25; Rom. 11:2; Jas. 5:17), this being the Gr. form of the name. Elijah is considered one of the greatest of the prophets. He is not called a writing prophet because of not leaving any book like the ones from Isaiah to Malachi, but he did write 4 verses (2 Chr. 21:12-15). No prophet has been more vividly described and none has been counterfeited as he has been. Many in all ages have claimed to be Elijah, the reason being that he is clearly predicted to come back to the earth to help restore Israel just before the 2nd advent of Christ (Mal. 4:5-6; Rev. 11:3-12). Elijah is also revealed as one of 2 anointed men who now stand before the God of the whole earth, symbolized by 2 olive trees and 2 candlesticks (Zech. 14:11-14; Rev. 11:3-12). He is the only prophet whom people tried to identify with John the Baptist (Mt. 16:14; Mk. 6:15; 8:28; Jn. 1:21-25); and the only one whom John the Baptist imitated in spirit, power, and ministry (Mt. 11:14; 17:11-12; Mk. 9:12-13; Lk. 1:17)

14 points of similarity between Elijah and John the Baptist

1 Both were anointed with the same Spirit and power (2 Kl. 1:9; Lk. 1:17)
2 Both were familiar with deserts and solitude (17:3; 19:4; Lk. 1:80)
3 They wore the same kind of garments and lived simply (2 Kl. 1:8; Mt. 3:4)
4 Both were fearless and bold to rebuke kings (18:17-18; 2 Kl. 1; Mt. 14:4)
5 They were sought to be killed by kings (2 Kl. 1:9-16; Mt. 14:3-4)
6 Both were prone to discouragement (19:4; Mt. 11:1-6)
7 They were preachers of righteousness (18:20-24; Mt. 21:32)
8 Both incurred enmity of a queen (19:1-7; Mt. 14:3-12)
9 Both were fruitful in their ministry (18:17-41; Mt. 3:5-6)
10 Both had a great influence over Israel (18:25-41; Mk. 11:32)
11 They were subjects of prophecy (Mal. 4:5-6; Isa. 40:3; Mal. 3:1)
12 They have been or will be a forerunner of the Messiah - John before the 1st advent (Mal. 3:1), and Elijah before the 2nd advent (Mal. 4:5-6)
13 Both had a lapse of faith but quickly recovered (19:1-7, 18; Rom. 11:1-4; Mt. 11:1-6)
14 Both were prophets (18:22; Mt. 11:9)

[b] 13th prophecy in 1 Kl. (17:1, fulfilled). Next, v 3. This was one prediction of no rain for these years - until he would say it should rain again. These years proved to be 3 1/2 in number (Lk. 4:25; Jas. 5:17). The 6 months must be reckoned before the 3 years because the third year (meaning the third full year) is mentioned at the end of these years (18:1)

[c] 14th prophecy in 1 Kl. (17:3-4, fulfilled). Next, v 9. This was a prediction that there would be enough water in the brook Cherith for him to drink, and that ravens would feed him his 2 daily meals (v 5-7)

[d] 2 commands of God concerning Elijah:
1 I have commanded the ravens to feed you (v 4)
2 I have commanded a widow to sustain you (v 9)

[e] 3 times Elijah miraculously fed:
1 By ravens - many meals, 2 times daily for many days (v 4-7)
2 By a widow (v 9-16)
3 By an angel (19:5-6)
Which was the most miraculous? It would seem the ravens feeding a man 2 meals a day would be, for they are dumb creatures, afraid of man, and have no means of getting such meals as a widow or an angel. The multiplication of the meal and oil for the widow, her son, and the prophet was, nevertheless, an outstanding miracle

[f] There - any other place would have brought starvation, being out of God's own appointed place (v 4)

17 AND [a]Ē-lī'jah the Tĭsh'bīte, who was of the inhabitants of Gĭl'e-ăd, [b]said unto Ā'hăb, As the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word.

4 Elijah fed by ravens twice daily: 2nd miracle

2 And the word of the LORD came unto him, saying,
3 [c]Get thee hence, and turn thee eastward, and hide thyself by the brook Chĕ'rĭth, that is before Jŏr'dan.
4 And it shall be, that thou shalt drink of the brook; and I have [d]commanded the ravens [e]to feed thee [f]there.
5 So he went and did according unto the word of the LORD: for he went and dwelt by the brook [g]Chĕ'rĭth, that is before Jŏr'dan.
6 And the [h]ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening; and he drank of the brook.
7 And it came to pass after a while, that the brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land.

5 Elijah multiplies meal and oil daily: 3rd miracle

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto him, saying,
9 [i]Arise, get thee to Zăr'e-phăth, which belongeth to Zi'dŏn, and dwell there: behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee.
10 So he arose and went to Zăr'e-phăth. And when he came to the gate of the city, behold, the [j]widow woman was there gathering of sticks: and he called to her, and said, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.
11 And as she was going to fetch it, he called to her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread in thine hand.
12 And she said, As the LORD thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oil in a cruse: and, behold, I am gathering two sticks, that I may go in and dress it for me and my son, that we may eat it, and die.
13 [k]And Ē'lī'jah said unto her, Fear not; go and do as thou hast said: but make me thereof a little cake first, and bring it unto me, and after make for thee and for thy son.
14 For thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, The barrel of meal shall not waste, neither shall the cruse of oil fail, until the day that the LORD sendeth rain upon the earth.
15 And [l]she went and did according to the saying of Ē-lī'jah: and she, and he, and her house, did eat many days.
16 And the [m]barrel of meal wasted not, neither did the cruse of oil fail, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake by Ē-lī'jah.

6 Elijah resurrects the widow's son: 4th miracle

17 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick; and his sickness was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.
18 [b]And she said unto Ē-lī'jah, What have I to do with thee, O thou [c]man of God? art thou come unto me to call my sin to remembrance, and to slay my son?
19 And he said unto her, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.
20 And he cried unto the LORD, and said, O LORD my God, [d]hast thou also brought evil upon the widow with whom I sojourn, by slaying her son?
21 And he stretched himself upon the child three times, and cried unto the LORD, and said, O LORD my God, I pray thee, let this child's [e]soul come into him again.
22 And the LORD heard the voice of Ē-lī'jah; and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived.
23 And Ē-lī'jah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him unto his mother: and Ē-lī'jah said, See, thy son liveth.
24 ¶ And the woman said to Ē-lī'jah, [f]Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in thy mouth is truth.

CHAPTER 18 309

7 Elijah goes to meet Ahab

18 AND it came to pass [g]after many days, that the word of the LORD came to Ē-lī'jah in the third year, [h]saying, Go, shew thyself unto Ā'hăb; and I will send rain upon the earth.
2 And Ē-lī'jah went to shew himself unto Ā'hăb. And there was a sore [i]famine in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.

8 Ahab's search for water

3 And Ā'hăb called Ō-ba-dī'ah, which was the governor of his house. (Now Ō-ba-dī'ah feared the LORD greatly:
4 For it was so, when [j]Jĕz'e-bĕl cut off the prophets of the LORD, that Ō-ba-dī'ah took an hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave and fed them with bread and water.)
5 And Ā'hăb said unto Ō-ba-dī'ah, Go into the land, unto all fountains of water, and unto all brooks: peradventure we may find grass to save the horses and mules alive, that we lose not all the beasts.
6 So they divided the land between them to pass throughout it: Ā'hăb went one way by himself, and Ō-ba-dī'ah went another way by himself.

9 Elijah meets Obadiah and sends him to Ahab

7 ¶ And as Ō-ba-dī'ah was in the way, behold, Ē-lī'jah met

[a] Here we have the death of the widow's son, and his resurrection from the dead - the first resurrection of a dead body in Scripture, not to immortality but to live again in this life-time only (v 17-24)

[b] Questions 35-36. Next, v 20

[c] The widow could not help knowing by the miraculous supply of meal and oil that Elijah was a man of God. She concluded, as many have always done, that her past sins were responsible for the death of her son and God was now beginning to punish her for her crimes (v 18). Taking the dead body of the boy out of her bosom, Elijah carried it to the loft where he abode, and laid it on the bed. He then prayed to God, accusing Him, as many have done, of causing the death of the boy (v 19-20). Then stretching himself upon the body 3 times, he prayed that God would let the child's soul come into it again (v 21). God heard Elijah, and the soul of the child came again into his body and he revived - came to life again (v 22). He then took the live child down to his mother who acknowledged that now she knew that he was a man of God (v 23-24)

[d] Regardless of how large the child was he was held, in sickness and death, in his mother's lap (v 19)

[f] Elijah and immortality, p. 382

[g] Now by this I know that you are a man of God (v 24). Did she not know this before when he had multiplied meal and oil for many days? Yes, but now it was doubly confirmed that he was a man of God. The performing of miracles was always a sign or proof of men being of God. Many are the proofs of such sonship in both testaments. Christ, the apostles, prophets and early Christians proved their sonship by power; and so it should be today (MK. 16:15-20; Jn. 14:12-15; Heb. 2:3-4)

[h] After many days, meaning the end of the 3rd year, the word of the Lord came to Elijah again to go, show himself to Ahab, the promise being: I will send rain upon earth (v 1)

[i] 17th prophecy in 1 Kl. (18:1, fulfilled). Next, 19:17. The one prediction here is that God would send rain again on earth

[j] One of 13 famines, note r, Gen. 12:10

[k] This is the first record of civil power being used in Israel to destroy true religion, and that by a woman

[g] This place was one which carried the winter rains into the Jordan, described as through a thicket of wild fig trees and oak shrubs entwined with oleanders, the water seeming to hide itself at the base of a flowery appearing rock - a wonderful resting place

[i] 15th prophecy in 1 Kl. (17:9, fulfilled). Next, v 13. The one prediction here was that a widow would sustain Elijah during the remainder of the famine

[k] 16th prophecy in 1 Kl. (17:13-14, fulfilled). Next, 18:1

2 predictions - fulfilled:

1 The barrel of meal shall not waste or fail until the Lord sends rain upon the earth (17:14)
2 The cruise of oil shall not fail until the Lord sends rain on earth

[l] The whole story is contrary to nature, for without the woman having faith in God and in the word of His prophet she would have been selfish enough to protect her own son as well as herself as long as possible from starvation. Faith enabled her to act according to the word of the prophet, and by faith she continued to have a supply throughout the famine; and then, after it was over, the meal gave out and the oil failed (v 14-16)

[m] The barrel was not one with staves and hoops as we know it, but a clay vessel. This is the Heb. kad, trans. barrel (v 12-16; 18:33) and pitcher (Judg. 7:16-20). The container was common in the East for storing grain and flour

a Questions 38-39, Next, v 13
b Ahab had been searching for Elijah in all countries, so Obadiah thought that if he reported Elijah was in Israel, the king would kill him for lying (v 9-16)
c Question 40, Next, v 17
d Obadiah went to tell Ahab that Elijah was here only when the prophet swore that he would show himself that very day (v 15-16)
e Question 41, Next, v 21
f Elijah was not afraid to answer and accuse the king of being the one responsible for the famine and suffering in Israel. The cause was the forsaking of the covenant commandments, and the worship of Baal who was now the god of most Israelites (v 18)
g Elijah made a proposition to the king in which he should gather together all Israel to mount Carmel with the 450 prophets of Baal, and the 400 prophets of the groves (Asherahs, p. 106). All 850 were regular boarders of queen Jezebel. Feeding these at an estimated cost of $15.00 a week would be equal to an expenditure of $12,750.00 weekly or $663,000.00 yearly, on false prophets h Ahab accepted the challenge so all Israel and the 850 false prophets gathered at mount Carmel (v 20)
i Elijah made a proposition to all the people to prove whether Jehovah or Baal was the true God, so they could stop their halting between two opinions. If Jehovah proved Himself to be God, they should serve Him; if Baal gave such proof they could serve him (v 21). Reminding them that he was only one prophet of Jehovah whereas they were 850 prophets of Baal, he ordered them to cut a bullock in pieces and put them upon an altar without any fire. He would do the same and the God answering by fire would be declared the true God (v 21-24)
j Question 42, Next, 19:9

Angel feeds Elijah (19:5)

As he lay down to sleep under the juniper tree, being exhausted by the flight from Jezebel, an angel touched him - not to take his life in answer to his prayer, but to feed him and prepare him for a long journey. The angel did this twice. His fare was very simple, but mighty under God's blessing - merely a cake baked on coals and a cruise of water. No doubt food never tasted better to a worn runner. He ate the first cake and drank the water, then lay down again to sleep under the personal protection of the angel. Being awakened by the angel a second time, Elijah was told the journey was too great for him without eating and drinking again of the angel's cooking. He went in the strength of such food for 40 days and 40 nights, and came to Horeb, the mount of God (v 5-8)

Elijah and immortality (17:21)

Without the scores of simple passages we now have in the Bible, Elijah knew more about the body, soul, and spirit than many today. To teach that the soul is not immortal or that the soul and body are the same and both go to the tomb at death is to reject many scriptures. The soul is immortal and fully conscious after leaving the body; it can go out and return to the body, as clearly demonstrated here. When Elijah prayed, the soul came back and the body revived and lived again (v 21-22), which proves that the soul is the life part of the body. The soul and spirit must be in the body in order for it to live (Jas. 2:26). At physical death the soul goes to one place and the body to another. See Hell, p. 620; also Immortality in the Index

6fold answer of Elijah to Jehovah (19:10)

1 I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts (v 10)
2 The children of Israel have forsaken Your covenant
3 They have thrown down Your altars
4 They have slain Your prophets with the sword
5 I am the only prophet left 6 They seek my life, to take it away him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and said, [a]Art thou that my lord Ê-lī'jah?

8 And he answered him, I am: go, tell thy lord, Behold, Ê-lī'jah is here.

9 And he said, [b]What have I sinned, that thou wouldest deliver thy servant into the hand of Ā'hāb, to slay me?

10 As the LORD thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not sent to seek thee: and when they said, He is not there; he took an oath of the kingdom and nation, that they found thee not.

12 And it shall come to pass, as soon as I am gone from thee, that the Spirit of the LORD shall carry thee whither I know not; and so when I come and tell Ā'hāb, and he cannot find thee, he shall slay me: but I thy servant fear the LORD from my youth.

13 [c]Was it not told my lord what I did when Jĕz'e-bĕl slew the prophets of the LORD, how I hid an hundred men of the LORD'S prophets by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou sayest, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Ê-lī'jah is here: and he shall slay me.

15 And Ê-lī'jah said, [d]As the LORD of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, I will surely shew myself unto him to day.

16 So Ŏ-ba-dī'ah went to meet Ā'hāb, and told him: and Ā'hāb went to meet Ê-lī'jah.

10 Elijah challenges Ahab and his false prophets to a miraculous demonstration

17 ¶ And it came to pass, when Ā'hāb saw Ê-lī'jah, that Ā'hāb said unto him, [e]Art thou he that troubleth Ĭs'ra-el?

18 And [f]he answered, I have not troubled Ĭs'ra-el; but thou, and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the LORD, and thou hast followed Bā'al-ĭm.

19 [g]Now therefore send, and gather to me all Ĭs'ra-el unto mount Cär'mel, and the prophets of Bā'al four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, which eat at Jĕz'e-bĕl's table.

20 [h]So Ā'hāb sent unto all the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Cär'mel.

21 [i]And Ê-lī'jah came unto all the people, and said, [j]How long halt ye between two opinions? if the LORD be God, follow him: but if Bā'al, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word.

22 Then said Ê-lī'jah unto the people, I, even I only, remain a prophet of the LORD; but Bā'al's prophets are four hundred and fifty men.

23 Let them therefore give us two bullocks; and let them choose one bullock for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under: and I will dress the other bullock, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under:

24 And [a]call ye on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD: and the God that answereth by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered and said, It is well spoken.

11 Efforts of Baal's prophets

●25 And [b]Ê-lī'jah said unto the prophets of Bā'al, Choose you one bullock for yourselves, and dress it first: for ye are many; and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire under.

26 And they took the bullock which was given them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Bā'al from morning even until noon, saying, O Bā'al, hear us. But there was no voice, nor any that answered. And they leaped upon the altar which was made.

27 And it came to pass at noon, that Ê-lī'jah mocked them, and said, Cry aloud: for he is a god; [c]either he is talking, or he is pursuing, or he is in a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awaked.

28 And they cried aloud, [d]and cut themselves after their manner with knives and lancets, till the blood gushed out upon them.

29 And it came to pass, when midday was past, and they prophesied until the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that there was neither voice, nor any to answer, nor any that regarded.

12 Fire from heaven: 5th miracle (Lev. 9:24, refs.)

●30 And Ê-lī'jah [e]said unto all the people, Come near unto me. And all the people came near unto him. And he repaired the altar of the LORD that was broken down.

31 And Ê-lī'jah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jā'cob, unto whom the word of the LORD came, saying, Ĭs'ra-el shall be thy name:

32 And with the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD: and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two measures of seed.

●33 And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid him on the wood, and said, Fill four barrels with water, and pour it on the burnt sacrifice, and on the wood.

●34 And he said, Do it the second time. And they did it the second time. And he said, Do it the third time. And they did it the third time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar; and he filled the trench also with water.

36 And it came to pass [f]at the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that Ê-lī'jah the prophet came near, and said, LORD God of Ā'brā-hām, Ĭ'şaac, and of Ĭs'ra-el, let it be known this day that thou art God in Ĭs'ra-el, and that I am thy serv-

a The proposition was to bring fire down from heaven by calling upon their god (or God), and the one answering thus would be accepted as the true God. All the people agreed to such terms saying: It is well spoken (v 24)
b Elijah permitted the prophets of Baal to try calling fire down first. They cried to Baal from morning until noon and there was no answer of any kind. They leaped upon the altar, cried aloud, and cut themselves with all manner of knives and lancets until the blood ran down upon their bodies. They even prophesied trying to get an answer, but none came. At noon Elijah began to mock them, goading them on to more desperate means c This is a clear example of irony, an expression wherein the ordinary meaning of words is the opposite of the thought in the speaker's mind. Elijah knew in his own mind that Baal was not in existence, and much less could he talk, run, sleep or perform any other person al act (v 27). Such idols were sometimes pictured as sleeping, on a journey, or in deep meditation d Among the heathen it was customary to make lacerations in the flesh, not only as a mark of mourning for the dead (Lev. 19:28), but also as an act of idolatrous worship. The custom originated in Syria, and is still practiced among some pagans in different countries, it being considered that such letting of blood is meritorious in cleansing from sin e Toward the time of evening sacrifice Elijah spoke to the people, asking them to come near and see his God send fire from heaven. He had all the faith that was necessary; and he knew he was being supported by Jehovah, the true and living God. He repaired the altar that was broken down, taking 12 stones according to the number of the tribes of Israel. Building the altar in the name of Jehovah, he made a trench about it that would hold 2 measures (Heb. seah, about 1 peck for each measure) of seed. He put the wood in order, cut the bullock in pieces, and laid them upon the wood; he then had 4 barrels (large water pitchers) filled with water and poured on the meat and wood. This pouring of water was repeated 3 times so that the altar was soaked and water filled the trench (v 33-35). The purpose was to assure all present that there was no secret fire concealed beneath the altar, as some pagans were in the habit of having, in order to deceive the poor ignorant masses. One ancient writer tells of seeing holes dug in the earth beneath heathen altars-holes with funnels proceeding from them to the wood on the altars. The priests concealing the fire would, at the proper time, open these funnels and fan the fire until it would burn the wood on the altar. Elijah wanted to show that no such thing had been done to his altar; therefore he soaked it with water and filled the trench before he prayed f At the time of the evening sacrifice, Elijah directed a simple prayer to Jehovah, asking Him to make it known that He was the true God, and that he, His prophet, had done all this at His word. He asked the Lord to make the people know that He was surely Jehovah, so as to turn the hearts of the people back to Him. Then, the fire fell (v 36-38). Tradition among the Jews says there were two evenings - one when the sun began to decline toward the west shortly after noon, the other when the sun was set. The time for the evening sacrifice would be between noon and sunset, or about 3:00 in the afternoon

Elijah's statements, like much of modern praying, only gave God some information which He knew better than the prophet did. In fact, some of the statements were really not true. Elijah was not the only prophet left, for Obadiah had hid and fed 100 (18:4), and 7,000 other men in Israel had not bowed down the knee to Baal (19:18). Israel did not seek his life, for he had turned their hearts back to God (18:39). Only one woman was after his life (19:1-7) ant, and that I have done all these things at thy word.

37 Hear me, O LORD, hear me, that this people may know that thou art the LORD God, and that thou hast turned their heart back again.

38 [a]Then the fire of the LORD fell, and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces: and they said, The LORD, he is the God; the LORD, he is the God.

40 And [b]Ē-lī'jah said unto them, Take the prophets of Bā'al; let not one of them escape. And they took them: and Ē-lī'jah brought them down to the brook Kī'shŏn, and slew them there.

13 Rain and 30 mile foot race: 6th and 7th miracles

41 ¶ And [c]Ē-lī'jah said unto Ā'hāb, Get thee up, eat and drink; for there is a sound of abundance of rain.

42 So Ā'hāb went up to eat and to drink. And Ē-lī'jah went up to the top of Cär'mel; and he[d]cast himself down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees, 43 And said to his servant, Go up now, look toward the sea. And he went up, and looked, and said, There is nothing. And he said, Go again seven times.

44 And it came to pass at the seventh time, that he said, Behold, there ariseth a little cloud out of the sea, like a man's hand. And he said, Go up, say unto Ā'hāb, Prepare thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain stop thee not.

45 And it came to pass in the mean while, that the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ā'hāb rode, and went to Jĕz're-el.

46 And [e]the hand of the LORD was on Ē-lī'jah; and he[f]girded up his loins, and [g]ran before Ā'hāb to the entrance of Jĕz're-el.

CHAPTER 19 310

14 Elijah flees from a woman

AND [h]Ā'hāb told Jĕz'e-bĕl all that Ē-lī'jah had done, and withal how he had slain all the prophets with the sword.

2 Then Jĕz'e-bĕl sent a messenger unto Ē-lī'jah, saying, So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I make not thy life as the life of one of them by to morrow about this time.

3 And when he saw that, he arose, and went for his life, and came to Bĕ'er-shĕ'bā, which belongeth to Jū'dah, and left his servant there.

15 Supernatural strength: 8th miracle

4 ¶ But he himself went [i]a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and [j]sat down under a [k]juniper tree: and [l]he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O LORD, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers.

5 And [m]as he lay and slept under a juniper tree, behold, then an angel touched him, and said unto him, Arise and eat.

6 And he looked, and, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruse of water at his head. And he did eat and drink, and laid him down again.

7 And the angel of the LORD came again the second time, and touched him, and said, Arise and eat; because the journey is too great for thee.

8 And he arose, and did eat and drink, and went in the strength of that meat [n]forty days and forty nights [o]unto Hō'reb the mount of God.

16 Elijah a cavedweller: new revelation and commission

9 ¶ And he came thither unto a cave, and lodged there; and, behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and he said unto him, [p]What doest thou here, Ē-lī'jah?

10 And he [q]said, I have been very jealous for the LORD God of hosts: for the children of Iş'ra-el have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away.

11 And he said, [r]Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the LORD. And, behold, the LORD passed by, and a [s]great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the LORD; but the LORD was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the LORD was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake a fire; but the LORD was not in the fire: and after the fire [t]a still small voice.

13 And it was so, when Ē-lī'jah heard it, that he [u]wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the cave. And, behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, [p]What doest thou here Ē-lī'jah?

14 And he said, I have been very jealous for [v]the LORD God of hosts: [w]because the children of Iş'ra-el have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away.

15 And the LORD said unto him, [x]Go, return on thy way to the wilderness of Dā-măs'cus: and [y]when thou comest, anoint Hăz'a-el to be king over Sȳr'ĭ-ā:

16 And Jē'hū the son of Nĭm'shī shalt thou anoint to be king over Iş'ra-el: and Ē-lī'shā the son of Shā'phat of Ā'bel-mĕ-hō'lah shalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

17 [z]And it shall come to pass, that him that escapeth the sword of Hăz'a-el shall Jē'hū a After a 63-word prayer the fire of God fell from heaven and consumed the sacrifice, the wood, the stones, the dust, and the water in the trench. The blazes must have been intense to burn up the very stones and dust. It was no common fire, but one which nothing could resist; and it burned from the top down instead of the bottom up. It was altogether miraculous; and the people fell on their faces at once declaring that Jehovah was God (v 38-39)

b Elijah saw his opportunity. The people were in a mood to obey the living God; so he commanded that they take the prophets of Baal and of the groves and kill every one. These were brought down to the brook Kishon and slain (v 40)

c In his zeal and victory Elijah announced an abundance of rain, warning the king to go to Jezreel before it began. The king departed and Elijah went to pray on the top of mount Carmel. He cast himself down upon the ground, put his face between his knees, and sent his servant to look for clouds toward the sea. When he had looked 7 times there appeared a cloud the size of a man's hands. This was the sign Elijah wanted, so he got up and fled before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel - about 30 miles from Carmel (v 41-46)

d This was not, as some think, a posture of kneeling on the ground and then bending the face to the ground. It refers to a common Oriental position of meditation and prayer among Turks, Moors, Persians, Hindoos, and others, wherein the person sits with his feet drawn close to his body, thus bringing the knees nearly on the level with his chin. In Egypt there are many statues of men in this position, some in museums. This was the posture of Elijah who, in addition to sitting down inclined his head between his knees by leaning forward (v 42)

e He went in the power of the Holy Spirit before Ahab. The expression the hand of the Lord in such cases always refers to the power of the Lord in a miraculous way (v 46; Acts 4:30; 11:21). It was miraculous that he could run 30 miles before a chariot drawn by fast horses, in his effort to arrive at the place before it rained

f Girdles or sashes were worn by all. They were removed when one was resting and put on again when he prepared to work or go on a journey (v 46; Ex. 12:11; 2 Ki. 4:29; 9:1; Lk. 12:37; 17:8; Acts 12:8). Such was necessary to hold the long, flowing garments close to the body. It would be difficult to walk or run without one. Girdles were made of various sizes and materials. The rich used silk or linen, and sometimes decorated them with gold, silver, and precious stones. The poor used coarser materials, leather being a common one. The girdle of Elijah was of leather (2 Ki. 1:8), and that of John the Baptist (Mt. 3:4)

g It was customary to honor a king by running before his chariot (v 46; 1:5; 1 Sam. 8:11; 2 Sam. 15:1)

h Ahab made his report to Jezebel regarding the prophets of Baal being destroyed, and she rejected the miraculous fire and the supernatural element altogether. It had no effect on her other than to cause her to become determined to destroy the man who had caused her idol god to be so humbled. She swore that by the next day Elijah would be dead like the prophets of Baal. She made one mistake however - telling Elijah of her intentions through a messenger. This gave him the opportunity to escape. He fled for his life to Beer-sheba and left his servant, going further by himself because of not wanting anyone to know where he was so as to report to Jezebel (v 1-4)

i This reminds us of Jonah sitting down under a gourd vine and wishing to die the next day (Jonah 4). Here Elijah, the mighty servant of Jehovah, with power to save and to destroy had fled from a lone woman (v 4)

j A day's journey was the ancient way of estimating distances. Such a journey varied according to circumstances, from 18-30 miles (v 4; Gen. 30:36; 31:23; Ex. 5:3; 8:27; Num. 11:31; Dt. 1:2; 2 Ki. 3:9; Lk. 2:44). A sabbath day's journey was about a mile (Acts 1:12)

a Juniper. A well-known tree of the cedar family (v 4-5; Job 30:4; Ps. 120:4) b Having had enough of running, Elijah was willing to call life at an end, so prayed that Jehovah would take his life away. Strange as it may seem, God has not permitted him to die even until now. He is now over 3,500 years old and still alive in his moral body, having been translated that he should not see death until the future tribulation when he will die as one of the two witnesses (2 Ki. 2:11; Zech. 4:11-14; Rev. 11:3-12, notes)

c See Angel feeds Elijah, p. 382

d See 4 men fasted 40 days (note j, Mt. 4:2). It seems that Elijah was going toward mount Horeb without it being the direct will of God for him to do so; but God permitted it in order to teach others that much time and effort can be wasted following self-made plans. Eventually one has to come back to the point where he left off following the direct will of God, if he wants Him to lead and guide. There was no need for Elijah to go to Horeb, for when he arrived he was sent right back farther north than the place where he had started from (v 15-18). Over 80 days of much hard travelling was his only reward except for the new experience of hearing from God e Horeb was about 180 miles south of the place where he sat under a juniper tree. His was a slow journey, for it took him 40 days to get there (v 8). Perhaps this was because of the fast he was on. The journey north again was over 300 miles

f Question 43. Next, v 13. This question confirms the fact that God did not tell the prophet to go to mount Horeb, but permitted him to go where he desired, to get away from Jezebel, before giving him the next assignment. It seems he was so moved with fear to get away from Jezebel that he did not inquire of God what to do. The Lord could have protected him without going all this distance to mount Horeb and then back north to Syria

g See 6 fold answer of Elijah to Jehovah, p. 382

h 4 commands to Elijah:

2 Stand upon the mount before Jehovah

i 3 great things God was not in:
1 A great wind (v 11)
2 A great earthquake
3 A great fire (v 12)

j One thing God was in: a still small voice (v 12). This can be a great lesson to people who believe that loud, boisterous, and highly demonstrative worship is the mark of power from God, and that quietness is a sign of a lack of the Spirit. On some occasions God was revealed in mighty thunderings (Ex. 20:18; Rev. 10:3-4), but here only in the still small voice k Covering the face was a sign of reverence in the presence of God. Thus Moses, when the Lord appeared to him in the burning bush hid his face, for he was afraid to look upon God (Ex. 3:6). Even the seraphim of Isa. 6:2 were seen covering their faces with 2 wings

l Question 44. Next, v 20. This was the second time God asked Elijah what he was doing at mount Horeb (v 9, 13). In other words He was saying: I did not tell you to come here; go right back north (v 13-15)

a That is, declare should be slain
b Quoted in Rom. 11:4
c This can be taken literally, for it was customary to kiss the idol in worship, or during certain ceremonies (v 18)
d The Eastern plow was a rude instrument which did not go deep into the soil - very light and of simple construction. It was sometimes made of the trunk of a young tree having 2 branches running in opposite directions. Some however, had handles and plow shares, and were generally drawn by 2 oxen. Here Elisha was back of 6 plows, 5 of them ahead of his yoke of oxen; he was plowing with the 6th plow (v 19). Elijah passed by and cast his mantle upon him, indicating that he was to follow him. Elisha made preparations to leave at once. He slew his yoke of oxen, made a feast for the people and left home to follow and minister to Elijah (v 20-21)
e Question 45. Next, 20:13
f Ben-hadad, king of Syria, sought a war with Ahab, king of Israel. The first demand was met by Ahab who was willing to surrender his gold, silver, wives and children without a struggle (v 1-4). The second demand to permit soldiers to search all the houses of Israel and take what they wanted was refused (v 5-9). War was then declared by Ben-hadad, but in the end he was defeated (v 10-20) ered again it proves that some of all the 12 tribes were gathered this first time under Ezra and Nehemiah, and not some from Judah only, as we shall see below. There was no other gathering of any of Israel in history. The second dispersion of Israel was at the destruction of Jerusalem, 70 A. D. The second gathering is now under way and will continue until the 2nd advent of Christ when all Israel will be gathered (Isa. 66:19-21; Mt. 24:29-31). If Britain and America were made up of some lost tribes, it would require the people of these countries to move to Palestine, which would be contrary to the teachings of Anglo-Israelism. All scriptures (see under point II, above) plainly state that all Israel was dispersed among the nations, not only Judah; therefore, all must be regathered a second time the way they were the first time under Ezra and Nehemiah

13 Both houses of Israel were to become one nation in the same land of promise after this second regathering (Ezek. 37:22); and they were to be under their Messiah forever (Ps. 2; Isa. 2:1-4; 9:6-7; 52:7; Ezek. 37:28; 43:7; 48:35; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 22, 27; Zech. 14:1-5, 9, 16-21; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

14 David will be resurrected in the latter days to reign as king over both houses of Israel, as he did before while alive on earth (Jer. 30:9; 33:17; Ezek. 34:23-24; 37:24-25; Hos. 3:4-5)

15 The 12 apostles will sit on 12 thrones judging the 12 tribes of Israel under David and their Messiah (Mt. 19:28; Lk. 22:28-30). All 12 tribes must be back in Palestine when this happens, so we must limit Israel to the Jews of today who are already beginning to return to Palestine; we are not to suppose that the Anglo-Saxon peoples of Europe and the Americans are included, for they will never go from their countries as a regathered people in Palestine

16 The gathering of both houses of Israel is to be in the latter days (Dt. 4:25-31; Jer. 30:22-31:14). Both houses are to go through the great tribulation of the future, the last 3 1/2 years of Daniel's 70th week, called the time of Jacob's trouble; and both are to be saved out of it, then be ruled by David and Messiah (Jer. 30:3-10; Dan. 7:27; Rev. 10:1-18:21)

17 All the families of Israel, not Judah only, will be gathered at the same time to Zion (Jer. 31:1-14)

18 A new covenant will be made with both houses of Israel (Jer. 31:27-40; 33:7). Anglo-Israelites cut off Judah from all the original covenants and promises and claim these are being

●20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Ê-lī'jah, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he said unto him, [e]Go back again: for what have I done to thee?

21 And he returned back from him, and took a yoke of oxen, and slew them, and boiled their flesh with the instruments of the oxen, and gave unto the people, and they did eat. Then he arose, and went after Ê-lī'jah, and ministered unto him.

311 CHAPTER 20

18 Ahab's first Syrian war: 5th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.). (1) First demand of Ben-hadad accepted

AND [f]Běn-hā'dăd the king of Sȳr'ī-ā gathered all his host together: and there[a]were thirty and two kings with him, and horses, and chariots: and he went up and besieged Sā-mā'rī-ā, and warred against it.

2 And he sent messengers to Ā'hāb king of Iṣ'ra-el into the city, and said unto him, Thus saith Běn-hā'dăd,

3 Thy silver and thy gold is mine; thy wives also and thy children, even the goodliest, are mine.

4 And the king of Iṣ'ra-el answered and said, My lord, O king, according to thy saying, I am thine, and all that I have.

(2) Second demand of Ben-hadad rejected by Ahab

5 And the messengers came again, and said, Thus speaketh Běn-hā'dăd, saying, Although I have sent unto thee, saying, Thou shalt deliver me thy silver, and thy gold, and thy wives, and thy children;

6 Yet I will send my servants unto thee to morrow about this time, and they shall search thine house, and the houses of thy servants; and it shall be, that whatsoever is pleasant in thine eyes, they shall put it in their hand, and take it away.

7 Then the king of Iṣ'ra-el called all the elders of the land, and said, Mark, I pray you, and see how this man seeketh mischief: for he sent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my silver, and for my gold; and I denied him not.

●8 And all the elders and all the people said unto him, Hearken not unto him, nor consent.

9 Wherefore he said unto the messengers of Běn-hā'dăd, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didst send for to thy servant at the first I will do: but this thing I may not do. And the messengers departed, and brought him word again.

(3) Ben-hadad boasts to Ahab

10 And Běn-hā'dăd sent unto him, and said, [a]The gods do so unto me, and more also, if the dust of Sā-mā'rī-ā shall suffice for handfuls for all the people that follow me.

(4) Ahab's answer to Ben-hadad

11 And the king of Iṣ'ra-el answered and said, Tell him, Let not him that[b]girdeth on his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off.

12 And it came to pass, when Běn-hā'dăd heard this message, as he was drinking, he and the kings in the pavilions, that he said unto his servants, Set yourselves in array. And they set themselves in array against the city.

(5) God promises Ahab victory

●13 ¶ [c]And, behold, there came a [d]prophet unto Ā'hāb king of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, Thus saith the LORD, [e]Hast thou seen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

●14 And Ā'hāb said, By whom? And he said, Thus saith the LORD, Even by the young men of the princes of the provinces. Then he said, Who shall order the battle? And he answered, Thou.

(6) Victory over the Syrians

15 Then he [f]numbered the young men of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred and thirty two: and after them he numbered all the people, even all the children of Iṣ'ra-el, being seven thousand.

16 And they went out at noon. But Běn-hā'dăd was drinking himself drunk in the[g]pavilions, he and the kings, the thirty and two kings that helped him.

17 And the young men of the princes of the provinces went out first; and Běn-hā'dăd sent out, and they told him, saying, There are men come out of Sā-mā'rī-ā.

18 And he said, Whether they be come out for peace, take them alive; or whether they be come out for war, take them alive.

19 So these young men of the princes of the provinces came out of the city, and the army which followed them.

20 And they slew every one his man: and the Sȳr'ī-anṣ fled; and Iṣ'ra-el pursued them: and Běn-hā'dăd the king of Sȳr'ī-ā escaped on an horse with the horsemen.

a Ben-hadad boasted of destroying Israel at once, but Ahab boldly replied with an old proverb to the effect that the one who puts off the boaster's armour is greater than the one who puts it on (v 10-11). This enraged the drunken Ben-hadad so much that he ordered an immediate attack on Samaria (v 12)

d God sent a prophet to Ahab promising him victory over Syria. Ahab inquired by whom would the Lord deliver him, and he was told it would be by the young men of the provinces. He inquired again regarding who should lead them, and was told that he should be the leader (v 13-14)

f The army of Israel was a very small one, numbering only 7,232, to fight against 33 kings and their armies. The drunkenness and overconfidence of Syria and her allies, besides the power of God which was against them, brought immediate defeat to the armies of these enemies (v 15-21) fulfilled only with Anglo-Saxons, declaring that the Israel of the prophets has no tribe of Judah in it

19 Both houses of Israel will be the people of God from this final regathering forever (Jer. 32:37-44)

20 There will be a great real estate boom in Judah, Jerusalem, and all other cities of Israel after this regathering (Jer. 32:44). Judah and Jerusalem are the subject here and not London and Washington or other cities of England and America

21 Israel is mentioned as being blessed with a part of Judah's blessings, not Judah blessed with part of Israel's (Jer. 33:7-14)

22 Judah shall be saved and Jerusalem made safe in the days of the Messiah; but nothing is said of an Israel being a separate people in a land northwest who will never be moved to Palestine (Jer. 33:14-21)

23 The Davidic covenant was made with all Israel, but particularly with David, his house, and Judah; and God swore He would never break this covenant or fulfil it with anyone else (7:1-29; Ps. 89:4-5, 20-37; Jer. 33:23-26). He did not break it with Judah and David; and therefore, it could not be fulfilled with Anglo-Saxons even if by any stretch of the imagination they could be the 10 tribes

24 God cast out two families of Israel that they should not be a nation again until regathered as one nation (Jer. 33:23-26; Ezek. 37); so one of these families could not be blessed or be a nation while the other is scattered among the Gentile nations

25 Both houses will be converted to God at the same time in their own land, and not while in other lands (Isa. 66:7-8; Jer. 50:19-20; Ezek. 36:16-37:28; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-28)

26 God said He had not forsaken Judah anymore than He had the rest of Israel (Jer. 50:5; Rom. 11)

27 The house of Israel, including Judah, will be brought back to Palestine and make a 7-year covenant with Syria. In the middle of the 7 years Syria will break the covenant and defeat Israel in a war when they will flee into the wilderness for 3 1/2 years where the 2 witnesses will minister to them (Ezek. 20:33-44; notes, Rev. 12). b The question of gods was now put forth by the servants of the king of Syria. They thought Jehovah was the god of the hills only, and not of the valleys, so to fight in the plain might bring victory. They further concluded that they should put captains in the place of the kings and raise up an army as large as the one they had in the previous year (v 23-25) c The army of Israel again was like 2 little flocks of kids in comparison to the great multitude of Syrians; but God again came to the rescue simply because of the question regarding whether He was the god of the hills only (v 26-28)

e Just why ancient armies faced each other so many times for days without attack is not explained, but this they did as high as 40 days (1 Sam. 17:16). Here it was 7 days. The battle began the 7th day and 100,000 footmen of Syria were slain in one day (v 29). Another 27,000 were killed by a wall falling on them (v 30) part in this defeat and make the flight into Edom and Moab as predicted of Israel (Dan. 11:14-45; also Rev. 12, notes)

28 Israel now, including Judah, is fulfilling the many days without a king, prince, sacrifice, image, ephod, or teraphim (Hos. 3:4-5). There is no present throne of David because continued kingship in Israel and Judah was on the basis of meeting God's conditions of righteousness. When the nation comes to repentance, God will continue His covenants with them and not before (Rom. 11:25-29). There is no kingdom of Israel now and there has not been one since about 616 B.C.

29 The whole 12 tribes were to be dispersed or scattered among the nations (Dt. 4:25-31), not Judah only with 10 tribes together to migrate to England and America. Jews are the only descendants of Abraham fulfilling this dispersion, so England and America could not be Israel (Ezek. 28:25-26; 34:11-17). The fact that Abraham was to be the father of many nations and kings does not prove that Anglo-Saxons are the people of Israel. See note a, Gen. 35:11. Abraham was indeed the father of nations and kings - the Israelites, Ishmaelites, Midianites, Edomites, and other Arab races. Ishmael alone was to have 12 princes come from his loins (Gen. 17:20). From Jacob, Esau, Midian, and others came many kings and branches of the race which became separate nations

30 The whole house of Israel will be jealous for God in the day of their regathering and will receive an outpouring of the Spirit when Messiah comes (Ezek. 39:25-29; Joel 2:28-31). Judah is included in this particular prediction of Ezek. 39 but not Anglo-Saxons who will never go to Palestine to live

31 A temple will be built by Christ at His 2nd advent and He will sit upon His throne in this temple at Jerusalem to reign over all Israel in the promised land (Ezek. 40-48. See 43:7; 45:6; 47:1-48:35; Zech. 6:12-13)

32 The promised land, in the Millennium and New Earth will be divided into 12 strips, from east to west, named after the 12 tribes of Israel, with a holy portion between Judah and Benjamin for the priests and Levites (Ezek. 47-48). This proves that all 13 tribes will live eternally in the promised land

21 And the king of Iṣ'ra-el went out, and smote the horses and chariots, and slew the Sȳr'ī-anṣ with a great slaughter.

19 A prophet warns Ahab of war the next year

22 [a]And the prophet came to the king of Iṣ'ra-el, and said unto him, Go, strengthen thyself, and mark, and see what thou doest: for at the return of the year the king of Sȳr'ī-á will come up against thee.

20 Ahab's second Syrian war: 6th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.). (1) The Syrian plan

23 And the servants of the king of Sȳr'ī-á said unto him, Their [b]gods are gods of the hills; therefore they were stronger than we; but let us fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they.

24 And do this thing, Take the kings away, every man out of his place, and put captains in their rooms:

25 And number thee an army, like the army that thou hast lost, horse for horse, and chariot for chariot: and we will fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they. And he hearkened unto their voice, and did so.

(2) Prophecy of vs. 22 fulfilled

26 And it came to pass at the return of the year, that Běn-hā'dăd numbered the Sȳr'ī-anṣ, and went up to Á'phek, to fight against Iṣ'ra-el.

27 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el were numbered, and were all present, and went against them: and the children of Iṣ'ra-el pitched before them [c]like two little flocks of kids; but the Sȳr'ī-anṣ filled the country.

(3) God again promises Ahab victory to prove He is Lord

28 [d]And there came a man of God and spake unto the king of Iṣ'ra-el, and said, Thus saith the LORD, Because the Sȳr'ī-anṣ have said, The LORD is God of the hills, but he is not God of the valleys, therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

(4) Ahab's second victory over the Syrians by God's help

29 And they pitched one over against the other [e]seven days. And so it was, that in the seventh day the battle was joined: and the children of Iṣ'ra-el slew of the Sȳr'ī-anṣ an hundred thousand footmen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Á'phek, into the city; and there a wall fell upon twenty and seven thousand of the men that were left. And Běn-hā'dăd fled, and came into the city, into an inner chamber.

(5) Ahab sins in sparing Ben-hadad

31 ¶ And his servants said unto him, Behold now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Iṣ'ra-el [f]are merciful kings: let us, I pray thee, put sackcloth on our loins, and ropes upon our heads, and go out to the king of Iṣ'ra-el: peradventure he will save thy life.

32 So they girded sackcloth on their loins, and put ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Iṣ'ra-el, and said, Thy servant Běn-hā'dăd saith, I pray thee, let me live. And he said, [g]Is he yet alive? [h]he is my brother.

33 Now the men did diligently observe whether any thing would come from him, and did hastily catch it: and they said, Thy brother Běn-hā'dăd. Then he said, Go ye, bring him. Then [i]Běn-hā'dăd came forth to him; and he caused him to come up into the chariot.

34 And Běn-hā'dăd said unto him, The cities, which my father took from thy father, I will restore; and thou shalt make streets for thee in Dā-măs'cus, as my father made in Sā-mā'rī-á. Then said Á'hăb, I will send thee away with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and sent him away.

(6) A prophet rebukes Ahab

35 ¶ And [j]a certain man of the sons of the prophets said unto his neighbour in the word of the LORD, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man refused to smite him.

36 [k]Then said he unto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voice of the LORD, behold, as soon as thou art departed from me, a lion shall slay thee. And as soon as he was departed from him, a lion found him, and slew him.

37 Then he found another man, and said, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, so that in smiting he wounded him.

38 So the prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way, and disguised himself with ashes upon his face.

39 And as the king passed by, he cried unto the king: and he said, [l]Thy servant went out into the midst of the battle; and, behold, a man turned aside, and brought a man unto me, and said, Keep this man: if by any means he be missing, then shall thy life be for his life, or else thou shalt pay a[m]talent of silver.

40 And as thy servant was busy here and there, he was gone. And the king of Iṣ'ra-el said unto him, So shall thy judgment be; thyself hast decided it.

41 And he hasted, and took the ashes away from his face; and the king of Iṣ'ra-el discerned him that he was of the prophets.

42 [n]And he said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a a Regardless of the backslidings and apostasy of the children of Israel there remained some basic good qualities in them which were not in other nations. Even the pagans recognized here that they were merciful (v 31); and they fell upon a plan to put sackcloth on their loins and ropes on their heads, and go out to the king of Israel begging for mercy (v 32)

b Question 49. Next, 21:5

c He is my brother-king (v 32)

d Ben-hadad, the king of Syria, surrendered to Ahab who made a covenant with him and let him go (v 33-34). This displeased the Lord, who sent a prophet to rebuke Ahab and predict defeat and judgment in the next war with Syria (v 35-43)

e A certain prophet asked his neighbor smite him and wound him, but he refused to do so. He then made a prediction that because he had not obeyed the voice of the Lord he would be slain by a lion as soon as he departed (v 35-36). He found another man and commanded him to smite him; and he did (v 37). The wounded prophet then went to Ahab in disguise to make a prediction to him (v 38). As Ahab passed by he cried to him telling a story of a man whom he was duty bound to keep, or forfeit his life. He told the king that he had let the man escape, so Ahab gave sentence concerning him. The prophet then took away the disguise and predicted that because Ahab had not executed Ben-hadad he would be punished (v 39-43)

f 22nd prophecy in 1 Ki. (20:36, fulfilled). Next, v 42. The one prediction here is that the man who refused to smite the prophet would be killed by a lion. This is the second slaying of a man by a lion mentioned in this book (v 36; 13:24)

g The prophet gave a story of Ahab, like Nathan did of David, in 2 Sam. 12. Ahab passed sentence on himself like David did (v 39-41)

h Talent of silver was equal to $1,920.00

2 predictions - fulfilled:

1 Because you have let a man go out of your hand, whom I appointed to destruction (Ben-hadad, v 31-34), therefore your life shall go for his life (20:42)

2 The lives of your people shall go for the lives of his people

33 All Israel, including Judah, must be planted in their own land again before any of the prophecies of the kingdom of Israel can be fulfilled. This will be after the church age (Amos 9:11-15; Mic. 4:1-8; Acts 15:13-18)

34 God was to give up all Israel, not only Judah, until the future time of Israel's travail and when the nation is born again at the 2nd advent of Christ; then they were to be received back by God forever (Isa. 66:7-8; Mic. 5:3-14; 7:7-20; Mt. 23:39; 24:29-31; Rom. 11:25-28)

35 God will yet inherit Judah in the holy land, and choose Jerusalem as the capital of all Israel forever (Zech. 2:11-13; 3:3-8, 23; 10:6-12; 12:1-14:21; Mal. 4:5-6). London will never fulfil this

36 The curses of God upon Israel for sin were promised to all the tribes alike (Lev. 26; Dt. 28), and all are partaking of them alike among the nations where they are scattered. Britain and America not being so scattered and cursed, could not be fulfilling such predictions, but rather the Jews of the world; they are truly all Israel

37 The Messiah was to be Judah's king, the rest of Israel being blessed through Him as a united nation with Judah (Isa. 11:10-15; 40:9; 65:9; Zech. 14:1-5, 9, 14-21)

38 There is no doctrine in Scripture teaching their identity. The only sense in which Israel has been lost is in the same way as Gentiles, lost in sin and being estranged from God. The lost sheep of the house of Israel in Mt. 10:

a He had a right to be heavy-hearted as the record will show; but he could have avoided this bad he obeyed God (v 43). Instead of appreciating what God had done for him and living right, he went further into sin and rebellion (21:1-24)
b Inherited a vineyard (v 3) c In this chapter we have the story of Ahab coveting the vineyard of Naboth, and obtaining through murder and force that which did not belong to him. When he offered to trade a better vineyard for it, or give the worth in money (v 2), Naboth refused because it was the inheritance from his father (v 3). Being very heavy-hearted and displeased because of his failure to get the vineyard, Ahab even refused to eat (v 4). When Jezebel came to him to find out the reason for his disappointment he told her his story. She rebuked him for not taking what he could as the king, and then set about getting the vineyard for him through murder and lying (v 5-16)

d The law of Moses forbad the sale of ancestral rights, except in extreme destitution, and even then the property would always return to the original owners in the year of release (Lev. 25: 23-25; Num. 36:7). In those days such inheritances from forefathers which had been passed on for many generations in the same family were considered priceless; and to part with such was almost like parting with life itself, because of the very dear associations connected with it

f She was a wicked, conniving woman who would not stop at anything to get what she wanted. She determined to get this vineyard for Ahab by false accusation and murder

6fold plot of Jezebel:

1 She wrote letters in Ahab's name
2 Sealed them with his official seal
3 Sent them to the elders and nobles of the city of Naboth (v 8)
4 Commanded them to proclaim a fast and set Naboth on high among the people (v 9)
5 Commanded 2 false-witnesses to swear falsely that they had heard Naboth blaspheme God and the king
6 They were then to take him out and stone him to death (v 10)

g In the East, the seal was of more importance than the signature, often being used in place of the signature. No document was valid without it. Ordinarily, a seal was covered with ink and pressed on the paper. Some seals were made into a ring and worn on the finger (Gen. 41:42). Ancient seals have been found of various shapes and sizes - cylindrical, square, pyramidal, and round. A very common style among the Egyptians was one made of stone, rounded on one side and flat on the other, the inscription being on the flat side, and the convex surface being skillfully wrought into the form of a beetle. The beetle was worshipped by the Egyptians; and their example was followed by the Phoenicians, after whose deities Ahab had gone; therefore, some think that Ahab's seal may have been of this kind. Some seals which were not set in a ring had a hole in them through which a string was passed so as to be worn about the neck. It is supposed that Judah's was worn in this way (Gen. 38:18). Many ancient seals were in the shape of a cylinder set in a frame fastened at both ends so that they could be rolled to make the impression. Some of this kind have been found in both Chaldea and Assyria. The figures carved on them are various. Seals were made of pottery, stone, brass, silver, and gold h The second time letters are mentioned in Scripture, David having written the first (2 Sam. 11:14-15). Both his and Jezebel's concerned lying and murder (v 9-11). The art of letter writing was well known and practiced from the very beginning of any need for communication between human beings. God has used the method of writing to give much of His revelation to man man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the king of Iṣ'ra-el went to his house [c]heavy and displeased, and came to Sā-mā'rī-ā.

CHAPTER 21 312

21 Ahab's sin against Naboth. (1) Covets his vineyard

AND it came to pass after these things, that Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte [b]had a vineyard, which was in Jĕz're-el, hard by the palace of Ā'hăb king of Sā-mā'rī-ā.

●2 And Ā'hăb [c]spake unto Nā'bŏth, saying, Give me thy vineyard, that I may have it for a garden of herbs, because it is near unto my house: and I will give thee for it a better vineyard than it; or, if it seem good to thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Nā'bŏth said to Ā'hăb, The LORD [d]forbid it me, that I should give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

4 And Ā'hăb came into his house heavy and displeased because of the word which Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte had spoken to him: for he had said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers. And he laid him down upon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.

(2) Jezebel's plot to get Naboth's vineyard for Ahab

5 [e]But Jĕz'e-bĕl his wife came to him, and said unto him, [e]Why is thy spirit so sad, that thou eatest no bread?

6 And he said unto her, Because I spake unto Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte, and said unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money, or else, if it please thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he answered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

●7 And Jĕz'e-bĕl his wife said unto him, Dost thou now govern the kingdom of Iṣ'ra-el? arise and eat bread, and let thine heart be merry: [f]I will give thee the vineyard of Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte.

8 So she wrote letters in Ā'hăb's name, and [g]sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters unto the elders and to the nobles that were in his city, dwelling with Nā'bŏth.

●9 And she wrote in the [h]letters, saying, Proclaim a [i]fast and [i]set Nā'bŏth on high among the people:

10 And set two men, sons of Bĕ'lī-al, before him, to bear witness [k]against him, saying, Thou didst blaspheme God and the king. And then carry him out, and [l]stone him, that he may die.

(3) Jezebel's plot succeeds

11 And the men of his city, even the elders and the nobles who were the inhabitants in his city, did as Jĕz'e-bĕl had sent unto them, and as it was written in the letters which she had sent unto them.

12 [e]They proclaimed a fast, and set Nā'bŏth on high among the people.

13 And there came in two men, children of Bĕ'lī-al, and sat before him: and the men of Bĕ'lī-al witnessed against him, even against Nā'bŏth, in the presence of the people, saying, Nā'bŏth did blaspheme God and the king. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones, that he died.

14 Then they sent to Jĕz'e-bĕl, saying, Nā'bŏth is stoned, and is dead.

(4) Ahab's possession of Naboth's vineyard

●15 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jĕz'e-bĕl heard that Nā'bŏth was stoned, and was dead, that [b]Jĕz'e-bĕl said to Ā'hăb, Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte, which he refused to give thee for money: for Nā'bŏth is not alive, but dead.

16 And it came to pass, when Ā'hăb heard that Nā'bŏth was dead, that [c]Ā'hab rose up to go down to the vineyard of Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte, to take possession of it.

(5) Elijah announces doom on Ahab and Jezebel: 9th miracle

●17 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Ē-lī'jah the Tish'bīte, saying, ●18 Arise, go down to meet Ā'hăb king of Iṣ'ra-el, which is in Sā-mā'rī-ā: behold, he is in the vineyard of Nā'bŏth, whither he is gone down to possess it.

●19 [d]And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the LORD, [e]Hast thou killed, and also taken possession? And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the LORD, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Nā'bŏth shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine.

20 And Ā'hăb said to Ē-lī'jah, Hast thou found me, O [f]mine enemy? And he answered, I have found thee: because thou hast sold thyself to work evil in the sight of the LORD.

●21 [d]Behold, I will bring evil upon thee, and will take away thy posterity, and will cut off from Ā'hăb him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and left in Iṣ'ra-el,

22 And will make thine house like [k]the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, and like the house of Bā'a-shā the son of Ā-hī'jah,. for the provocation wherewith thou hast provoked me to anger, and made Iṣ'ra-el to sin.

23 And of Jĕz'e-bĕl also spake the LORD, saying, [i]The dogs shall eat Jĕz'e-bĕl by the wall of Jĕz're-el.

24 Him that dieth of Ā'hăb in the city the dogs shall eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the air eat.

(6) Ahab's wickedness and a The elders of the city, who were sworn to uphold the law, were forbidden by the law to have such a pre-judged case. They should have resisted the queen, and the king if need be, to see that justice was done. On the contrary, they followed wicked instructions from a higher authority and will in the future meet God in judgment to be consigned to eternal hell for condemning a man to death who was perfectly innocent (v 12-14)

b Jezebel was depraved to the limit to excuse her crime so easily, as if wiping her hands of any guilt over what she had done. Her only reaction to the stoning was to tell Ahab to take over the vineyard of the murdered man (v 15) c Ahab went to take possession, but God sent Elijah to predict his doom, so the vineyard was not as wonderful and important to him in the end, as he had supposed it would be (v 16-24) sins against God and the king (v 9)

j To set on high means to put him on trial before the bar of justice (v 9, 13). Two false witnesses were also to be set on high with him to accuse him of crime. Sons of Belial were sons of wickedness, or sons of Satan (v 10; Dt. 13:13, note)
k What an example of injustice! Naboth was already accused, judged, and executed beforehand; and this was carried out by wicked men. The elders of the city and others who witnessed the trial were as guilty of his murder as Jezebel, for they knew him to be innocent. They had no right to allow such a trial, but they went along with the queen in her wickedness (v 10-11)

5-6; 15:24 were definitely Jews, as can be seen by the fact that Christ ministered only to Jews in Judea, Samaria, Galilee, and a few miles beyond Jordan (Mt. 4:23-25; Lk. 7:3; Jn. 1:19; 2:6, 18-20; 3:1, 25; 4:22; 5:1-18; 6:4, 41, 52, 57; 9:18, 22; 19:19, 24, 31, 34; 11:8,19,31-36,45,54; 12:9,11; 13:33; 18:12-39; 19:3-40; 20:19). Not one time is there a reference to a people called Israel being distinct from Jews in the N.T. See note a, Acts 13:16

39 It is Judah that is mentioned as the Israel that will fight on the side of Christ at Armageddon when Jerusalem has already been half taken (Zech. 14: 1-5, 14, 16-21)

40 The reason the term Judah and Israel is used so often from David's reign on is that Christ was to come from David, and Judah was the ruling tribe (Gen. 49:10). It was only natural to refer to this tribe in particular when speaking of Israel (2 Sam. 3:10; 5:5; 11: 11; 12:8; 19:11, 43; 21:2; 24:1; 1 Sam. 17:52; 18:16; 1 Ki. 1:35; 4:20, 25). The reason this term is used from Rehoboam a Ahab was the most wicked king of Israel so far. The wickedness of the kings was increasing in spite of the judgments of God. It is said of Jeroboam, the first king of the 10 tribes, that he turned not from his evil and that he laid the foundation of sin for all his people (13:33-34). It was said of Nadab, Baasha, and Elah, the 2nd, 3rd and 4th kings of the 10 tribes, that they walked in the way of Jeroboam (15:25-26; 16:13); and of Omri it is said that he did worse than all the kings before him (16:25). And now, of Ahab it is stated that there was none like him this far (v 25), none that sold himself to do such evil and yet God had given him two great victories over his enemies. This program of ever increasing wickedness continued until the whole nation had to be destroyed (2 Ki. 17)

b When Ahab heard the judgment pronounced against him he humbled himself for the first time. It evidently was a genuine humility for awhile, for God sent Elijah back to the king commending him and predicting mercy in his days (v 26-29)

2 Put on sackcloth as a garment

4 Lay in sackcloth

f Probably reckoned from the peace of 20:34. During this time Syria recovered from two defeats and Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, strengthened himself against Ahab (2 Chr. 17:1)

g 5 ways Jehoshaphat "came down":
1 By matrimonial alliance with the most wicked king of the 10 tribes (2 Chr. 18:1)
2 By military alliance (v 4; 2 Chr. 18:3)
3 By being defeated by Syria (v 29-36)
4 By commercial alliance with Ahaziah, king of the 10 tribes (2 Chr. 20:36)
5 By punishment from God for alliance with Ahaziah (2 Chr. 20:37)

h Questions 55-58, Next, v 15

i This time the king of Israel picked a quarrel with Syria, while on the two previous occasions Syria was the aggressor (v 3-4; 20:1-12, 23-27)

j Jehoshaphat wanted to inquire of the Lord first, so Ahab gathered all the false prophets together, about 400 men, and inquired if he should go to war with Syria over Ramoth-gilead. They all advised going to war and the Lord would deliver the Syrians into his hand (v 6). Something seemed lacking in the messages of these prophets, so Jehoshaphat asked if there was a prophet of Jehovah in the kingdom besides these prophets of Baal. One was found who made an opposite prediction (v 8-28) to the captivity of the 10 tribes is because of the division into 2 kingdoms (1 Ki. 15:9; 2 Ki. 14:13; 17:13; 1 Chr. 9:1; 12:16; 2 Chr. 11:1, 3; 15:2, 9; 25:26; 27:7; 28:26; 30:1,6; 31:6; 32:32; 34:9, 21; 35:18, 27; 36:8). The reason such a term is used after the captivities is to show that both houses of Israel spoken of by the prophets were still the people of God, and that He would bring them back together again as one nation to fulfil with them the everlasting covenants made with their fathers. Not once is it stated that those of Israel were not Jews or that Jews were not Israelites; and not once does it say that Jews were only from the tribe of Judah

41 God has no literal kingdom of David or any other literal kingdom on earth at present. It will not be until the 2nd advent of Christ that the kingdoms of this world will become those of God and Christ, and the throne of David will be established again (Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 22-27; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Mt. 25:31-46; Jude 14-15; Rev. 5:10; 11:15; 20:1-10)

CHAPTER 22 313

22 Ahab's third Syrian war: 7th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.). (1) League with Jehoshaphat (2 Chr. 18:1-3)

AND they continued [f]three years without war between Sȳr'ī-ā and Iş'ra-el.

2 And it came to pass in the third year, that Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt the king of Jū'dah [g]came down to the king of Iş'ra-el.

3 And the king of Iş'ra-el said unto his servants, [h]Know ye that Rā'moth in Gĭl'e-ăd is ours, and [i]we be still, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Sȳr'ī-ā?

4 And he said unto Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, Wilt thou go with me to battle to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd? And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said to the king of Iş'ra-el, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, my horses as thy horses.

(2) Jehoshaphat desires to know God's will (2 Chr. 8:4)

5 And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said unto the king of Iş'ra-el, [j]Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

(3) False prophets predict victory (2 Chr. 18:5)

●6 Then the king of Iş'ra-el gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said unto them, Shall I go against Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up; for the Lord shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

(4) Jehoshaphat enquires of a true prophet (2 Chr. 18:6)

7 And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD besides, that we might enquire of him?

(5) Micaiah sent for out of prison (vs. 27; 2 Chr. 18:8)

8 And the king of Iş'ra-el said unto Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, There is yet[a]one man, Mī-cā'iah the son of Im'lah, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: [b]but I hate him; for he doth not prophesy good concerning me, [c]but evil. And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said, [d]Let not the king say so.

●9 [e]Then the king of Iş'ra-el called an officer, and said, Hasten hither Mī-cā'iah the son of Im'lah.

(6) False prophets predict victory (2 Chr. 18:10-11)

10 And the king of Iş'ra-el and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt the king of Jū'dah sat each on his throne, having put on their robes, in a void place in the entrance of the gate of Sā-mā'rī-ā; and all the prophets prophesied before them.

11 And Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Chĕ-nā'a-nah made him horns of iron: and he said, Thus saith the LORD, With these shalt thou push the Sȳr'ī-anş until thou have consumed them.

●12 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd, and prosper: for the LORD shall deliver it into the king's hand.

(7) The officer warns Micaiah to prophesy good to Ahab (2 Chr. 18:12)

13 And the messenger that was gone to call Mī-cā'iah spake unto him, saying, Behold now, the words of the prophets declare good unto the king with one mouth: let thy word, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and speak that which is good.

14 And Mī-cā'iah said, As the LORD liveth, what the LORD saith unto me, that will I speak.

(8) Micaiah's ironic prophecy of Ahab's success (2 Chr. 18:14)

15 ¶ So he came to the king. And the king said unto him, Mī-cā'iah, [f]shall we go against Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd to battle, or shall we forbear? And he answered him, [g]Go, and prosper: for the LORD shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king said unto him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the LORD?

(9) Micaiah's true prophecy of Israel's defeat: Ahab's complaint (2 Chr. 18:16)

■17 And he said, [h]I saw all Iş'ra-el scattered upon the hills, as sheep that [i]have not a shepherd: and the LORD said, These have no master: let them return every man to his house in peace.

18 And the king of Iş'ra-el said unto Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, Did I not tell thee that he would prophesy no good concerning me, [j]but evil?

(10) Micaiah's vision of the a There is generally one man who will always stand for truth in the midst of apostasy. In fact, there is often more than one, though they may be few (v 8). Elijah was alive at this time and had already given several messages to Ahab, but he was ignored altogether on this occasion

h Many times this is the case when things go contrary to personal ambitions and desires (v 8) c Evidently Micaiah had made predictions contradictory to those of false prophets before and had incurred the wrath of Ahab (v 8)

d This was a weak protest of Jehoshaphat to Ahab concerning his attitude toward what might be a true prophet (v 8)

e Then, after the false prophecies did not sound genuine, and a true prophet of Jehovah was inquired about, Ahab sent again for Micaiah to satisfy his visiting ally (v 9). The false prophets, 400 strong, continued to prophesy before the 2 kings while they sat upon their thrones in the entrance to the gate of Samaria (v 10). One of the false prophets made horns of iron and predicted that by these Ahab would push the Syrians until he had consumed them. The rest of the prophets kept on saying, "Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and prosper, for the Lord shall deliver it into the king's hand" (v 11-12). In the meantime the messenger sent to call Micaiah was giving him advice to prophesy like the other prophets, predicting victory to Ahab. Micaiah answered that he would speak only what the Lord told him to speak (v 13-14). When he prophesied the same as the false prophets, the king knew it was unlike him, so adjured Micaiah to speak the truth in the name of Jehovah (v 15-16). He then gave a true prophecy of Ahab's defeat (v 17-18)

f Questions 59-61, Next, v 20

g This is irony, like 18:27, for he knew that this was what Ahab wanted to hear, though not a true message of God. He intended to see what Ahab would do if he did agree with the false prophets. Knowing that it was not genuine, Ahab pressed him further for the truth, even though it did not harmonize with the words spoken by the prophets of Baal (v 15-16)

h 27th prophecy in 1 Ki. (22:17, fulfilled). Next, v 25. This one prediction was that Israel would be defeated and be scattered upon the hills as sheep without a shepherd

i This predicted the death of Ahab in the coming battle, so that the sheep of Israel would have no king, and therefore, could go home (v 17, 36)

j The prediction of defeat did not stop the 2 kings of Israel. In their stubbornness they went into battle. Ahab was killed and Jehoshaphat barely escaped with his life (v 34-36) all times, or His word would fail, we should have to believe that it failed, for He has not had such a kingdom from 721 B.C. when the northern kingdom went into captivity and 616 B.C. when the 2 tribes went into captivity. Both houses of Israel have been without kings since then, and will not have a kingdom again until the Messiah comes. He will be the next King of Israel, with David (Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 37:24; Hos. 3:4-5; Acts 15:13-18), and the 12 apostles under Him (Mt. 19:28; Lk. 22:29-30; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

43 David's throne did not rule over the northern part of Israel for about 260 years, during the division of the kingdom, and for over 2,500 years after that, for neither section of the kingdom was restored after the captivities. The restoration of the kingdom has been predicted for the last days, but there can be none if Anglo-Saxons have fulfilled the prophets all these years by extending David's kingdom, and if they will never be moved back to Palestine. How could God gather them back to their own land, if they have already been led of God to a new land, and will not return to the former?

44 The blessings of Israel and the coming kingdom of Israel were based upon conditions, as laid down in Lev.

a Micaiah continued his message to Ahab by repeating what he had seen - the Lord sitting upon a throne, and all the host of heaven standing by Him on both sides. The Lord inquired as to whom He could send to persuade Ahab to go to Ramoth-gilead to battle. Various spirits gave their suggestions, and finally there came a demon who volunteered to be a lying spirit in the mouths of Ahab's prophets to urge him to go to battle. The Lord gave him permission to carry out his plan (v 19-22)

b This is just one of many times when men have seen God. Here again He is pictured as an ordinary sized being in the midst of all His subjects on the right hand and on the left. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

c This reveals that God and His heavenly hosts, including demons on certain occasions, have conferences concerning the affairs of men on earth. This one had to do with only one part of the earth, one people on the earth, and one king in particular. He was in rebellion against God, in league with idol gods, and listening to their prophets instead of the true prophets of Jehovah, so God permitted him to be deceived instead of saving him from such deception. There was very little that could be done with such a stubborn man - one consecrated to demon worship and demon prophets. Micaiah had been sent to Ahab but he would not receive Jehovah's instructions. In this case 2 Th. 2:8-12 is clearly illustrated. Because he and his associates had no love for the truth that they might be saved, God sent them a strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: that they might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. The idea is that God permitted such deception to take the place of the truth rejected. If men will not have the truth they will automatically have a substitute that will be more in harmony with their wicked ways for the time being. Ahab would not have truth and would not listen to Jehovah, but he would have lies and listen to the prophets of Baal. This passage simply gives an insight into the spirit realm showing that behind all human acts there are good and bad spirits seeking to carry out the respective wills of their masters. The Lord protects as long as He can, and when there is nothing else He can do to turn men from their wicked ways, error, and harm, He then permits demon spirits to deceive and cause them to go further astray

d Questions 62-64, Next, v 39

e This indicates that many spirits in heaven have the right of hearing on matters important enough to be discussed. Even demon spirits have access to some conferences (v 21-23; Job 1:6; 2:1; Rev. 12:9-12)

f This was a demon spirit, for no good one could be a lying spirit in the mouth of anyone (v 21-23)

g It is clear that this demon spirit volunteered to do this work - he was not forced in any way (v 21)

h All things here were on a volunteer basis. The Lord first inquired for someone willing to persuade Ahab. The talks were on a voluntary basis also (v 20). When a spirit volunteered (v 21), the Lord inquired as to how he would persuade Ahab, and was told that he would be a lying spirit in the mouths of Ahab's prophets. Then the Lord gave permission (v 22)

i Hath put, that is, has permitted a demon spirit to be a lying spirit to deceive men who would not accept the Holy Spirit message through Micaiah (v 23)

j It seems that Zedekiah was the chief prophet of these 400 false ones of Baal, for this is the second time he took the lead (v 11, 24). He smote Micaiah on the cheek and tauntingly asked where the Holy Spirit went "from me to speak unto you?" (v 24). Micaiah answered that he would know when he went into the chamber to hide himself (v 25)

k 28th prophecy in 1 Ki. (22:25, fulfilled). Next, v 28. This one prediction was that Zedekiah would hide himself for shame because of his false prophecies of Ahab's victory (v 25, Cp. v 11)

20 And the LORD [c]said, [d]Who shall persuade Ā'hāb, that he may go up and fall at Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd? [e]And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner.

21 And there came forth [f]a spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said, [g]I will persuade him.

22 And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And [h]he said, Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth, and do so.

23 Now therefore, behold, the LORD [i]hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil concerning thee.

24 But Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Chĕ-nā'a-nah went near, [j]and smote Mī-cā'iah on the cheek, and said, Which way went the Spirit of the LORD from me to speak unto thee?

25 [k]And Mī-cā'iah said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyself.

26 And the [l]king of Ĭs'ra-el said, Take Mī-cā'iah, and carry him back unto Ā'mon the governor of the city, and to Jō'ăsh the king's son;

27 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I come in peace.

28 [m]And Mī-cā'iah said, If thou return at all in peace, the LORD hath not spoken by me. And he said, [n]Hearken, O people, every one of you.

(12) Battle of Ramoth-gilead (2 Chr. 18:28-34)

29 So the king of Ĭs'ra-el and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phāt the king of Jū'dah went up to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd.

30 And the king of Ĭs'ra-el said unto Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phāt, [o]I will disguise myself and enter into the battle; but put thou on thy robes. And the king of Ĭs'ra-el disguised himself, and went into the battle.

31 But the king of Sȳr'ĭ-ā commanded his thirty and two captains that had rule over his chariots, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, save only with the king of Ĭs'ra-el.

32 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phāt, that they said, Surely it is the king of Ĭs'ra-el. And they turned aside to fight against him: and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phāt cried out.

33 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Ĭs'ra-el, that they turned back from pursuing him.

34 And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and smote the king of Ĭs'ra-el between the joints of the harness: wherefore he said unto the driver of his chariot, Turn thine hand, and carry me out of the host; for I am wounded.

35 And the battle increased that day: and the king was stayed up in his chariot against the Sȳr'ĭ-anș, and [p]died at even: and the blood ran out of the wound into the midst of the chariot.

36 And there went a proclamation throughout the host about the going down of the sun, saying, [q]Every man to his city, and every man to his own country.

37 ¶ So the king died, and was brought to Sā-mā'rĭ-ā; and they buried the king in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.

38 And one washed the chariot in the pool of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā; [r]and the dogs licked up his blood; and they washed his armour; according unto the word of the LORD which he spake.

39 Now [s]the rest of the acts of Ā'hāb, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he made, and all the cities that he built, [t]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el?

m 29th prophecy in 1 Ki. (22:28, fulfilled). Last prophecy in 1 Kings. It predicted one thing - that Ahab would lose the war and not return in peace; if he did then it would be proof that Jehovah had not spoken to Micaiah n Hearken - I want all of you to witness what I have predicted and know that the Lord has spoken by me (v 38)

o This itself was treachery and deception - feigning which almost cost Jehoshaphat his life. → Cont. from col. 4, p. 387

26 and Dt. 28. Since the curses of the law in these chapters were passed upon all the tribes of Israel, since all lost their kingdom and are still in rebellion, then God could not have cut off Judah only and established a kingdom over the other tribes, and fulfilled these covenants with them

45 Judah was only one of the 12 sons of Jacob or Israel, and of the same stock as all the other tribes (Gen. 29:28-35; 30:1-24). One tribe is as much Israel as any other

46 Judah was chosen as the ruling tribe and the sceptre was not to depart from him until Shiloh comes (the 2nd advent of Christ, Gen. 49:10; 2 Sam. 7). No daughter of Judah being the mother of rulers of England could bring about the fulfillment of this

47 Balaam, by the Holy Spirit, said of all Israel, including the 10 tribes, The people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations (Num. 23:7-12). Britain and America could not fulfil this, for they have ever been reckoned among them and intermarried in great numbers. Jews have kept their distinction in a decided way

48 When out of the promised land, Israel was not to receive the blessings of the covenants (Gen. 12:1-3; 26:13; 31:3; Lev. 26; Num. 15:2, 18; Dt. 26:1-15; 28:8; 30:5-20). This would exclude England and America. Being driven out of the promised land is evidence that all Israel sinned and broke the covenants; and God cannot give them the blessings promised the nation in Palestine, until they return. Abraham was not blessed until he came to the promised land (Gen. 12:1-3; 13:14-18; 17:6-8, 15-19). If ever Israel would have to leave their own land and be forced to live in another, it would be a curse, not a blessing (Lev. 26:32-39; Dt. 28:63-64). They were to stay out of the land after dispersion for sin, until the Messiah came and then they would become one nation again under Him in their own land

49 The Bible throughout deals with all the tribes as one nation and one people, except during the 260 years of their division into 2 kingdoms. They have the same parentage, calling, covenants, promises, blessings, history, and destiny, in the captivities and return they were the same, and also reckoned the same in the N.T. As to destiny they will be regathered and reunited again in the last days to live eternally in the promised land under their Messiah (Ezek. 47-48; 21:12). No scripture hints of two different destinies for two different peoples of Israel

50 Israelites out of the land were to be few in number compared to other nations (Dt. 4:26-27; 28:63-68). This applied to the whole 12 tribes and not to Judah only. Jews fulfil this, not Britain and America

51 The penalty of uncircumcision was excision, being cut off from the covenants and blessings of God promised Israel (Gen. 17:1-14; Ex. 4:24-26; 12:48). Jews and not Anglo-Saxons were circumcised, so they are the only ones that could partake of the blessings of the covenants. Anyone can partake of the N.T. blessings, Jew or Gentile, without circumcision (Jn. 3:3-5, 16-18; Acts 10:11-33; 11:5-18; 13:44-52; 15:7-11; Rom. 1:16; 2:9-11; 10:9-13; 1 Cor. 12:13; Gal. 3:28; Col. 3:11), but to claim the blessings of the national covenants with Abraham, David, and Moses requires circumcision. Otherwise, people would be cut off

52 The 2520-year theory, dealing with Israel's removal from world leadership from 721 B.C. to 1800 A.D. when England's greatness began, and claiming this removal fulfilled the punishment of the seven times of Lev. 26 is entirely unscriptural. See The times of the Gentiles, p. 873. England coming into prominence proves nothing regarding her identity as the 10 tribes

53 At the division of Israel into 2 kingdoms, the godly of the 10 tribes remained true to David and these were constantly moving to the kingdom of Judah (1 Ki. 12:17-23; 1 Chr. 9:3; 2 Chr. 10:17; 11:3, 16-17; 15:9; 19:8; 31:6; 35:17-18), so much so that the king of Israel built Ramah in an effort to keep his subjects from going to David's kingdom (2 Chr. 16:1). The fathers of Israel were with David's kingdom (2 Chr. 18:8; 23:2). The steady increase of Judah and the decrease of Israel (supposed to be the Anglo-Saxons) is clear. Rehoboam of Judah could assemble 180,000 (1 Ki. 12:21); Abijah 18 years later could assemble 400,000 (2 Chr. 13:3); Asa 6 years later, 580,000 (2 Chr. 14:8); Jehoshaphat 32 years later, 1,160,000 (2 Chr. 17:13-19). On the other hand, Israel decreased from 800,000 under Jeroboam when the kingdom was divided (which was 620,000 more than Judah to begin with, 2 Chr. 13:3), to Ahab's army at the time of Jehoshaphat which was small - compared to two little flocks of kids - and no match for the Syrians (1 Ki. 20:27). Of the 800,000 there were 500,000 killed in one battle (2 Chr. 13:17). The great increase of Judah over Israel was because of the many godly ones of the 10 tribes leaving the idolatrous northern kingdom of Israel. The ungodly ones hardened themselves so much that God abandoned them and cast them out of His sight in 721 B.C., which was 133 years before the kingdom of David became sinful enough to be cut off also and sent into captivity (2 Ki. 17 and 24). It was with David's kingdom that God carried on His covenants after the northern kingdom went into captivity, because this was the only kingdom left and it contained what was left of the whole 12 tribes; it was all Israel. The others were rebels and idolaters and unfit for God's blessings; and whether any of them or their descendants ever repented and returned with all Israel to establish the kingdom under Ezra and Nehemiah, such was not necessary to make a new nation in the promised land to be there when the Messiah came to fulfil with all Israel that which God intended when He sent Christ (Mt. 1:21; 21:33-46; 23:37-39; Acts 1:21-26; 2:22-41; 3:12-26; 13:16-52; 15:13-18; Rom. 11)

54 Captives who returned from Babylon under Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah (2:2,59, 70; 3:1; 6:21; 7:10-13; 8:25; 9:1; 10:1-2, 5, 10, 25; Neh. 2:10; 7:7, 61, 73; 8:17; 10:33; 11:3; 12:47) are called all Israel, the people of Israel, and the children of Israel. Thus Judah was always representative of all Israel, for it was the only kingdom of Israel left on earth. These people of Israel and all Israel of Ezra and Nehemiah are called Jews, proving that all descendants of Jacob known as Israel were also known to be Jews (Ezra 4:12, 23; 5:1, 5; 6:7-8, 14; Neh. 1:2; 2:16; 4:1-2, 12; 5:1, 8, 17; 6:6; 13:23). All the people of all the tribes of Israel still scattered among the nations, during the time many had returned to Jerusalem to make a nation, are also called Jews (Esther 3:6, 13; 4:3, 7, 13-14, 16; 6:13; 8:3, 5, 7-9, 11, 13, 16-17; 9:1-3, 5-6, 10, 12-13, 15-16, 18-20, 22-25, 27-28, 30; 10:3)

55 Haman sought to destroy all the Jews, not only those belonging to the tribe of Judah (Esther 3:6, 13). He had no way of telling which ones were from Judah or the other tribes. Queen Esther and Mordecai were Benjamites and Jews (Esther 2:5, 7; 4:13; 7:3)

56 Israelites from all 12 tribes were called Jews. Any Israelite in all the kingdom of David was a Jew (Jer. 34:9). A number of tribes have been named as a part of his kingdom - Judah and Benjamin (1 Ki. 12:19-23), Ephraim and Manasseh (1 Chr. 9:3), Simeon (2 Chr. 15:9), Levites (2 Chr. 19:8; 23:2), Zebulun, and others (2 Chr. 10:17; 11:3, 16-17; 30:1, 5, 10-11; 31:6). Jesus was a Jew (Jn. 4:9). Peter, Aquila, Apollos, Alexander, and Paul were Jews (Acts 10:28; 18:2, 24; 19:34; 21:39; 22:3)

57 All Israel was permitted to return from Babylon (Ezra 1:3-5; 2:2, 59, 70; 3:1; 6:16-17, 21; 7:7-10; 1 Chr. 9:1-3). The whole 12 tribes were in Babylon, for this empire had overthrown the Assyrian that had taken the northern kingdom of Israel captive 133 years before the southern kingdom was taken by Babylon

58 After the captivity of the northern kingdom, the southern kingdom of Judah was called Israel (2 Chr. 31:1-6, 8, 20; 34:6-7, 9, 33; 35:3, 17-18, 25)

59 Even Gentiles were considered Jews during the captivities (Esther 8:17), which proves that the term is not used exclusively of Judahites or even Israelites

60 In the books of Ezra and Nehemiah the terms Jew and Jews are used 18 times; Israel 62 times; and Judah 43 times of the same returning captives from Babylon

61 In the book of Esther the terms Jew and Jews are found 51 times of the captive Israelites

62 In Psalms the term Jews is found once, but Israel is found 62 times and Judah 10 times of the same people. No northern and southern kingdoms are referred to at all; what is spoken of Israel and Judah clearly refers to the same people - the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, or the 12 tribes

63 The terms Judah and Israel are used interchangeably in Isaiah of the same people. The whole book concerns Judah and Jerusalem, as seen in 1:1, yet Israel is addressed in the very next statement (1:3); and so it is throughout the entire book. The terms house of Israel, house of Jacob, house of Judah, house of Joseph, house of Aaron, and house of Levi are all mentioned in Scripture. All these branches are from Jacob, and we are not to make them different peoples with different destinies. It is error then to say the house of Israel and house of Judah are 2 peoples with 2 destinies; all branches came from the same parents, had the same God, the same covenants and promises, and will yet share the same eternal blessings (Ezek. 37 and 48-49)

64 In Jeremiah the term Israel is used 124 times, Judah, 180 times, and Jews 9 times of the same people - the Jews of the various tribes in the kingdom of Judah. Jeremiah lived in Judah during the captivity of the southern kingdom of Israel, 133 years after the northern kingdom was taken into captivity. Therefore, he could not have been prophesying to the so-called 10 tribes, but to the Jews made up of the many tribes in Judah. This we shall see in the notes on Jeremiah

In Lamentations the terms Zion, Jerusalem, Judah, Israel, My people, and Jacob are used of the Jews who were taken captive in Jeremiah's day (1:3-8, 15, 17-18; 2:1-6, 8, 10, 13, 15, 18; 4:2, 11-12, 22; 5:18)

65 In Ezekiel we have many prophecies to the Jews of the captivities in which we find the word Israel used 185 times, and Judah 15 times of the Jews taken to Babylon. Of course the words Zion, Jerusalem, and others describing Judah are found many times also in Isaiah, Jeremiah, etc. of the same people as we shall see in the various notes of those books. Ezekiel prophesied to the captives of Jehoiachin's captivity (1:1-3; 3:11, 15-17; 4:2; 16:16) who were called children of Israel, house of Israel, and all the house of Israel (2:3; 3:1, 4-7, 11, 15, 17). The term house of Israel is used of these captives 82 times in Ezekiel and Judah 15 times. This is because all Israel were one people again and not divided into 2 parts during and after the captivities; all made the house of Israel the days of his father A'sa, he took out of the land.

47 There was then no king in E'dom: a*b*deputy was king.

3 Second navy of Judah (2 Chr. 8:17; 20:35)

48 Je-hosh'a-phat made*c* ships of Thar'shish to go to O'phir for gold: but they went not; for the ships were broken at E'zi-on-ge'ber.

49 Then said A-ha-zi'ah the son of A'hab unto Je-hosh'a-phat, Let my servants go with thy servants in the ships. But Je-hosh'a-phat would not.

4 Death of Jehoshaphat: accession of Jehoram, 5th king of Judah (2 Chr. 21): 11th miracle of Elijah (2 Chr. 21:12)

50 ¶ And Je-hosh'a-phat*a* slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Da'vid his father: and Je-ho'ram his son reigned in his stead.

X Reign of Ahaziah, 9th king of Israel: 2 years (2 Ki. 1:1-18; 2 Chr. 20:35)

51 ¶ A-ha-zi'ah the son of A'hab began to reign over Is'ra-el in Sa-ma'ri-a the *a*seventeenth year of Je-hosh'a-phat king of Ju'dah, and reigned two years over Is'ra-el.

52 And he did *b*evil in the sight of the LORD, and *c*walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jer-o-bo'am the son of Ne'bat, who made Is'ra-el to sin:

53 For he served Ba'al, and worshipped him, and provoked to anger the LORD God of Is'ra-el, according to all that his father had done.

a The 17th year of Jehoshaphat was 8 years before his death (v 42, 51). Thus, it was in these 8 years that Ahaziah and Jehoshaphat were in league to build a navy together. It was destroyed, and after that Jehoshaphat would not continue the agreement (v 48-49; 2 Chr. 20:35-37). Ahaziah reigned only 2 years, so the dealings between the 2 kings had to be about 6-8 years before Jehoshaphat died (v 51)
b See note a, 11:6
c Here it is clear that the great-grandfather, the mother, and the son were all evil. Ahaziah served Baal, worshipped him, and provoked Jehovah to anger, according to all that his father had done. Thus one king after another, in the northern kingdom, went deeper and deeper into sin until the nation had to be destroyed (2 Ki. 17)

Summary of 1 Kings

Date and place: the records which make up 1 and 2 Kings were written in Palestine, 1046-616 B.C., by scribes or prophets whose duty it was to record events during the reign of whatever king or kings they served under. These records were put into one book by the final author or authors; and the one book was divided into two by the Septuagint translators about 294-289 B.C. If written by Isaiah and Jeremiah in its final form the book was so compiled about 743-663 B.C. and 782-616 B.C.

Author: It seems that Isaiah and Jeremiah were the authors or final compilers using the public records of the kings of Israel. Among the recorders were Nathan, Gad, Iddo, Ahijah, Jehu, and others (2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; 20:34; 26:22; 32:22)

Proof of authorship: Jewish tradition says that Jeremiah was the author. It seems from 2 Chr. 32:32 that Isaiah was the writer; so it could be that Isaiah wrote the book of Kings up to the time of Hezekiah, and Jeremiah completed it, telling of the happenings from then on to the captivity

Theme: history of the kings of Israel and Judah from the time of Solomon to the captivity by Babylon

Purpose: to show the reason for the Davidic kingdom not being perpetually continued and to reveal why God sent Israel into captivity

Statistics: 11th book of the Bible; 22 chapters; 816 verses; 24,524 words; 66 questions; 1 verse of unfulfilled prophecy; 71 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 36 distinct messages from God (3:5, 11; 9:2; 11:11, 30; 12:22; 13:1, 9, 20; 14:5, 7; 16:1; 17:1, 2, 8, 13; 18:1; 19:5, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15; 20:13, 14, 22, 28, 36; 21:17, 21, 28; 22:17, 19, 25, 28); 92 commands; 73 predictions; 6 promises

a See Rebellion of Moab, p. 392
b Lattice - network which protected the open window of the upper chamber (v 2; Judg. 3:20; 1 Kl. 17:19; 2 Kl. 4:10); or, it could have been the lattice work which protected one from falling off the flat roof where they did much living in the East c In what way he was sick is not stated. He could have had a back injury; but whatever it was, it was serious and a lingering trouble. The windows of the East had lattices of interlaced wood which opened outward; and if the fastening was not properly secured, one leaning against a lattice could easily fall out. The same was true concerning a railing around the open roof - leaning against a weak one could cause a very injurious fall
d See Ahaziah's sin, p. 392
e As a punishment for such an insult to Jehovah, from a king over His people, the Lord sent His prophet, Elijah the Tishbite, to the messengers of the king who were to tell him that because of this he would surely die (v 3-4, 6, 16-17)
f Whether this was an ordinary angel or one of the members of the Divine Trinity is not clear, but whoever it was this was a ministering spirit (Heb. 1:14). It was a Divine Person who appeared to Abraham, Moses, and others; and it could have been one here
g Question 1, Next, v 5
h 1st prophecy in 2 Ki. (1:4, fulfilled), Next, v 6. The one prediction was that Ahaziah would not get well; he would die of the sickness he now had because he sought not to the Lord but to an idol god
i Question 2, Next, v 6
j This was the message Elijah was commanded to give the messengers of Ahaziah. He forbad them to go down to Ekron, saying they should turn back to their king and give him a message from God (v 6)
k Question 3, Next, v 7
l One can see from the content of the message why God was intervening. Ahaziah had lost all faith in Jehovah due to the fact that he had been brought up in Israel to worship Baal. His mother, Jezebel had been the chief defender of Baal. Over 850 prophets of Baal and the groves (Asherahs, p. 106) had eaten at her table (1 Ki. 18:19). He himself had been a personal disciple of Baal (1 Ki. 22:51-53). Though he might have heard of the miracles of Jehovah through Elijah, Ahaziah was not a convert to Him, so he naturally would send to the gods he had faith in. This is what God hated and judged (v 6) m 2nd prophecy in 2 Ki. (1:6, fulfilled), Next, v 16. The one prediction was that the king would not live. This was a repetition of the prediction of v 4 n Question 4, Next, v 16
o This could refer to his garment of shaggy untanned skin, as well as to his uncut long hair and long beard. Prophets wore coarse clothing (v 8; Zech. 13:4; Mt. 3:4). By the description of his person and clothing the king recognized him as the prophet Elijah. This is enough proof that he knew of him and his God, so there was no excuse for sending to an idol god in Ekron p Then - when Ahaziah recognized that it was Elijah who had stopped his messengers and made a prediction of his death, he sent 51 men to get him (v 9). He did not run this time, but sat calmly on a hill perhaps waiting for some word from the king. The captain of the 50 men called to Elijah to come down to be taken to the king (v 9). Elijah answered, "If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your 50 men." Fire came down and consumed them (v 10) r The term man of God was the people's name for a prophet. See p. 326 s It could be that the man was haughty and insulting to Elijah, and thus needed the judgment of this miracle. It must be remembered that the whole story is not told here
t Quoted in Lk. 9:54

314 CHAPTER 1

I Reign of Ahaziah, 9th king of Israel: 2 years (1:1-18; 2 Chr. 20:35; 1 Ki. 22:51-53). Ministry of Elijah (1:1-2:11; 1 Ki. 17:1-21:29). 1 Rebellion of Moab and sickness of Ahaziah

THEN Mō'ab rebelled against Iṣ'ra-el after the death of Ā'hāb.

2 And Ā-ha-zī'ah fell down through a[b]lattice in his upper chamber that was in Sā-mā'rī-ā, and was[c]sick: [d]and he sent messengers, and said unto them, Go, enquire of Bā'al-zē'būb the god of Ēk'rŏn whether I shall recover of this disease.

2 Elijah's prediction of Ahaziah's death: 12th miracle

3 But [e]the [f]angel of the LORD said to Ē-lī'jah the Tĭsh'bīte, Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Sā-mā'rī-ā, and say unto them, [g]Is it not because there is not a God in Iṣ'ra-el, that ye go to enquire of Bā'al-zē'būb the god of Ēk'rŏn?

4 [h]Now therefore thus saith the LORD, Thou shalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but shalt surely die. And Ē-lī'jah departed.

5 ¶ And when the messengers turned back unto him, he said unto them, [i]Why are ye now turned back?

6 And they said unto him, There came a man up to meet us, and said unto us, [j]Go, turn again unto the king that sent you, and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD, [k]Is it not[l]because there is not a God in Iṣ'ra-el, that thou sendest to enquire of Bā'al-zē'būb the god of Ēk'rŏn? therefore [m]thou shalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but shalt surely die.

7 And he said unto them, [n]What manner of man was he which came up to meet you, and told you these words?

8 And they answered him, He was[o]an hairy man, and girt with a girdle of leather about his loins. And he said, It is Ē-lī'jah the Tĭsh'bīte.

3 Fire from heaven kills 102 men: 13th and 14th miracle

9 [p]Then the king sent unto him a captain of fifty with his fifty. And he went up to him: and, behold, [q]he sat on the top of an hill. And he spake unto him, Thou [r]man of God, the king hath said, [s]Come down.

10 And Ē-lī'jah answered and said to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then [t]let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And there came down fire from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty.

11 [u]Again also he sent unto him another captain of fifty with his fifty. And he answered and said unto him, O man of God, thus hath the king said, Come down quickly.

12 And Ē-lī'jah answered and said unto them, If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And the fire of God came down from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty.

13 ¶ And he sent [v]again a captain of the third fifty with his fifty. And the third captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on his knees before Ē-lī'jah, and besought him, and said unto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life, and the life of these fifty thy servants, be precious in thy sight.

14 Behold, there came fire down from heaven, and burnt up the two captains of the former fifties with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

4 Elijah personally repeats his prediction to Ahaziah

15 And the angel of the LORD said unto Ē-lī'jah, Go down with him: be not afraid of him. And he arose, and went down with him unto the king.

16 And he said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, [w]Forasmuch as thou hast sent messengers to enquire of Bā'al-zē'būb the god of Ēk'rŏn, is it not because there is no God in Iṣ'ra-el to enquire of his word? [x]therefore thou shalt not come down off that bed on which thou art gone up, but shalt surely die.

5 Death of Ahaziah, fulfilling 1:3-4, 15-16: accession of Jehoram, 10th king of Israel

17 [y] So [z]he died according to the word of the LORD which Ē-lī'jah had spoken. And [a]Jĕ-hō'ram reigned in his stead in the second year of Jĕ-hō'ram the son of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Jū'dah; because he had no son.

18 Now the rest of the acts of Ā-ha-zī'ah which he did, [b]are they not written in the [c]book of the chronicles of the kings of Iṣ'ra-el?

315 CHAPTER 2

6 Revelation of Elijah's translation.

AND it came to pass, [d]when the LORD would take up Ē-lī'jah into heaven [e]by a whirlwind, that [f]Ē-lī'jah went with Ē-lī'shá from Gĭl'găl.

2 And Ē-lī'jah said unto Ē-lī'shá, Tarry here, I pray thee; for the LORD hath sent me to Bĕth'-el. And Ē-lī'shá said unto him, As the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth, [g]I will not leave thee. So they went a Again - a second time the king sent 51 men to arrest Elijah, knowing, no doubt by now, the fate of the first 51 he had sent. There could have been eye-witnesses to the miracle. The second captain demanded that Elijah come down quickly at the king's command, not humbling himself any more than the first one. Elijah answered as before, "If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your 50 men." And again, fire fell and consumed the second 51 men (v 11-12)

b Again - the third time king Ahaziah sent a captain and his 50 men to arrest Elijah. The third captain took a different attitude toward Elijah. He went up the hill instead of demanding that Elijah come down to him and his men. Falling on his knees before the prophet he begged that their lives would be spared and counted as precious in his sight (v 13-14). Before Elijah had time to act or reply, he received a message from the angel of the Lord who told him that he should not be afraid and that it was all right to go down (v 15). This kind of message indicates that the king had some definite plan to do away with him and that Elijah was somewhat fearful of the outcome of meeting with this new king of Samaria; but now that he had word from the angel he knew all would be well, so he went down with the third captain and his 50 men to the king c Elijah's message was the same to the king in person as it was when he delivered it to the king's messengers. This shows the boldness of Elijah. He did not soften the message in the least before the king (v 16, Cp. v 6)
d Question 5, Next, v 18
e 3rd prophecy in 2 Ki. (1:16, fulfilled), Next, 3:16. The one prediction was that the king would not live but die on his bed of sickness because of insulting Jehovah and not trusting in Him in preference to a lifeless idol. It was the third time this prediction was made f It does not say how long it was after Elijah gave the prophecy before he died; and there was no time element in the prophecy. Neither does it mention the conversation between them, or state whether Elijah offered any advice. This was purely a prediction without conditions, and something that would happen regardless of what the king would do g The similarity of names of both kings of Israel at this time, and at no other, would seem to have the tendency to unite the two reigning families. The northern Jehoram was Ahab's brother; Ahaziah, Ahab's son had no son to succeed him (v 17)
h Question 6, Next, 2:3
i This must refer to a special book which we do not have - one recording the histories of the kings of the 10 kingdoms, for the rest of the acts of these kings are not given in 1 and 2 Chronicles of our Bible
j It was evidently known by revelation that Elijah would be translated that day, for such is plainly implied by this chapter 1 The chapter is introduced as if it were already a known fact (v 1)
2 The sons of the prophets at Bethel knew it (v 3)
3 Elisha knew it (v 3, 5)
4 The sons of the prophets at Jericho knew it (v 5)
5 Elijah knew it (v 9-10)
k Not only was it known that Elijah was to be taken to heaven that day, but it was made clear also that it would be by a whirlwind (v 1), and that it would not take place until they had passed Bethel (v 2), Jericho (v 4), and crossed the Jordan (v 6), for the Lord had sent him to all those places
l See Elisha's test, p. 392
m At Gilgal (v 1-2), at Bethel (v 4), and at Jericho (v 6) Elisha frankly told Elijah: I will not leave you. After that Elijah did not try to persuade him to stay at any one place, indicating that he had been merely testing Elisha a Down. Therefore, Gilgal in v 1 could not be the well known Gilgal between Jericho and the Jordan, but another one between Tibneh and Shiloh (v 2) b See Prophets, p. 392

c Question 7, Next, v 5
d Twice here Elisha testified that he knew Elijah was to be translated that day (v 3, 5). This revelation perhaps did not come through Elijah only, but also through some of the other prophets. At least it was known to Elijah, for by faith he was translated as Enoch was (Heb. 11:5). In order to have faith or any knowledge of it at all it had to be through God's word that He would do such a thing. This whole story is one of absolute acceptance of revelation as a fact. The prophets were merely waiting for the proper time of the day when the event would occur. Instead of waiting at the place of revelation for fear of missing God, Elijah travelled from one place to another, knowing that the Lord knew every minute where he was and would find him when the time came. In fact, God was accompanying him from one place to another (v 2-6); if not in person, by agents who were sent to get him, and by the Holy Spirit that led him and anointed him. It may be that God even told him to visit certain places and cross the Jordan where he would be picked up and taken to heaven to reside until he would return as one of the two witnesses of Zech. 4:11-14; Mal. 4:5-6; Rev. 11:2-12
e Question 8, Next, v 14
f How many sons of the prophets there were is not known, but there must have been hundreds, for here we have 50 in one place (v 7); Jezebel killed many of them; 100 were saved by Obadiah (1 Ki. 18:4); and another 100 were at Gilgal (4:38-43)
g See Water in Index for water miracles h A double portion, proving that there are different measures of the Holy Spirit and power which men have received. It is a fact that men have done things in a miraculous way according to the measure of the Spirit they have received. It is also a fact, that to claim any one of these measures without power to do the things intended to be accomplished by such a measure is stating an untruth and making a false claim. If one has any degree of power or any gift of the Spirit he will be able to do at all times what the power or gift is designed for and given to accomplish. See note a, Jn. 3:34
i Heb. qashah, hard; severe; tough; difficult. It is trans. hard labor (Gen. 35:16-17); hard causes in the sense of being difficult (Dt. 1:17; 15:18). The true idea here is a difficult thing for me to grant and it was. How could a man impart twice as much as he, himself had? How could he give something that he did not have? The answer is by faith and Jehovah honoring him in requesting a double portion for Elisha. Some would have been jealous of a successor receiving more with which to do more than they, themselves did in life, but not so with anyone filled with God in any special sense j It was so, for the record shows that Elijah experienced 16 miracles besides the translation and Elisha experienced 32-double the number, and some twice as great (p. 394). For instance, Elijah shut the heavens for 3 1/2 years; (Jas. 5:17) and Elisha shut them for 7 years (8:1) k It would be interesting to have a record of such a conversation between two great prophets. One can conclude that it was nothing vain and light. Perhaps Elijah gave his successor his final instructions regarding what to do and how to carry on in his place (v 11; 1 Ki. 19:16)
l While they were having their last words together there suddenly appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire which came between them, separating them and taking Elijah up into heaven by a whirlwind (v 1, 11) m Elijah was the second man to be taken to heaven in a natural body, Enoch being the first (Gen. 5:24; Heb. 11:5). Both now reside in heaven in their natural bodies, having never died. However, they will die their own appointed death on earth as the two witnesses of the future tribulation period (Zech. 4:11-14; Mal. 4:5-6; Rev. 11:3-12). Since their time at least two other men have been taken to heaven and brought back (2 Cor. 12:1-5; Rev. 4:1). Christ also went to heaven and came back after His resurrection (Jn. 20:17-19); then returned to heaven leading many resurrected men, and souls and spirits of just men whose bodies were not resurrected (Mt. 27:53-54; Eph. 4:8-10; Heb. 12:23). Before this, all righteous souls and spirits went into sheol-hades where they were fully conscious while their bodies went to qeber, the grave. Now, when a Christian dies he no longer goes into the underworld of departed spirits to be held by the devil against his will (Heb. 2:14-15); instead he goes immediately to heaven to await the resurrection day (2 Cor. 5:8; Phil. 1:21-24; Heb. 12:23)

[a]down to Bĕth'-el.
3 And the[b]sons of the prophets that were at Bĕth'-el came forth to Ĕ-lī'shá, and said unto him, [c]Knowest thou that the LORD will take away thy master from thy head to day? And he said, [d]Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.
4 And Ĕ-lī'jah said unto him, Ĕ-lī'shá, tarry here, I pray thee; for the LORD hath sent me to Jĕr'ī-chō. And he said, As the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jĕr'ī-chō.
5 And the sons of the prophets that were at Jĕr'ī-chō came to Ĕ-lī'shá, and [e]said unto him, Knowest thou that the LORD will take away thy master from thy head to day? And he answered, Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.
6 And Ĕ-lī'jah said unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here; for the LORD hath sent me to Jŏr'dan. And he said, As the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on.

7 Parting the river Jordan: 15th miracle

7 And [f]fifty men of the sons of the prophets went, and stood to view afar off: and they two stood by Jŏr'dan.
8 And Ĕ-lī'jah took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and smote the waters, and [g]they were divided hither and thither, so that they two went over on dry ground.

8 Double portion of the Spirit of Elijah given to Elisha: 16th miracle

9 ¶ And it came to pass, when they were gone over, that Ĕ-lī'jah said unto Ĕ-lī'shá, Ask what I shall do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Ĕ-lī'shá said, I pray thee, let [h]a double portion of thy spirit be upon me.
10 And he said, Thou hast asked a [i]hard thing: nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, [j]it shall be so unto thee; but if not, it shall not be so.

9 Translation of Elijah (Cp. Gen. 5:11; Heb. 11:5; 2 Cor. 12:1-3; Rev. 4:1; Jn. 20:17-19; Acts 1:9-11)

11 And it came to pass, as they still went on, and [k]talked, that, behold, there [l]appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder; and Ĕ-lī'jah [m]went up by a [n]whirlwind into [o]heaven.
12 ¶ And Ĕ-lī'shá [p]saw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Iş'ra-el, and the horsemen thereof. And he saw him no more: and he took hold of his [q]own clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

II Ministry of Elisha. 1 Elisha's 1st miracle

13 He took up also the mantle of Ĕ-lī'jah that fell from him, and went back and stood by the bank of Jŏr'dan;
14 And he took the mantle of Ĕ-lī'jah that fell from him, and smote the waters, and [a]said, Where is the LORD God of Ĕ-lī'jah? and when he also had smitten the waters, [b]they parted hither and thither: and Ĕ-lī'shá went over.
15 And when the sons of the prophets which were [c]to view at Jĕr'ī-chō saw him, they said, The spirit of Ĕ-lī'jah doth rest on Ĕ-lī'shá. And they came to meet him, and bowed themselves to the ground before him.

2 Unbelief of the prophets

16 ¶ And they said unto him, Behold now, there be with thy servants fifty strong men; [d]let them go, we pray thee, and seek thy master: lest peradventure the Spirit of the LORD hath taken him up, and cast him upon some mountain, or into some valley. And he said, Ye shall not send.
17 And when they urged him till he was ashamed, he said, Send. They sent therefore fifty men; and they sought three days, but found him not.
18 And when they came again to him, (for he tarried at Jĕr'ī-chō,) he said unto them, [e]Did I not say unto you, Go not?

3 Water and barren land healed: 2nd miracle

19 ¶ And the men of [f]the city said unto Ĕ-lī'shá, Behold, I pray thee, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord seeth: but the water is naught, and the ground barren.
20 And he said, Bring me a new [g]cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.
21 And he went forth unto the spring of the waters, and cast the salt in there, and said, Thus saith the LORD, I have [h]healed these waters; there shall not be from thence any more death or barren land.
22 So the waters were healed unto this day, according to the saying of Ĕ-lī'shá which he spake.

4 Irreverence cursed: 42 men killed: 3rd miracle

23 ¶ And he went up from thence unto Bĕth'-el: and as he was going up by the way, there came forth [i]little children out of the city, and mocked him, and said unto him, Go up, thou [j]bald head; go up, thou bald head.
24 And he turned back, and looked on them, and cursed them in the name of the LORD. And there came forth two she bears out of the wood, and tare forty and two children of them.
25 And he went from thence to mount Cär'mel, and from thence he returned to Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.

316 CHAPTER 3

5 Accession and character of Jehoram, 10th king of Israel

a Question 9, Next, v 18
b Miracles of Elijah and Elisha, p. 394
c At least 50 men were witnesses of Elijah's translation and of the first miracle of Elisha, and testified that the Spirit of Elijah now rested upon Elisha. He, therefore, was accepted as the successor of the translated prophet, at once. They came and bowed themselves to the ground before him (v 15) d 50 sons of the prophets begged Elisha to permit them to go up and down over mountains and valleys to see if Elijah had been cast down to death. He refused the request, for it showed unbelief and virtually accused God of destroying His prophet instead of preserving him and taking him to heaven. When they kept urging him Elisha finally allowed the sons to go. After 3 days they returned without finding Elijah (2:16-18)
e Question 10, Next, 3:7
f Jericho. See v 18. It seems that the water of Jericho was bad and the ground barren. Elisha called for a new cruse with salt in it. By casting the salt in the spring he healed the water and the ground, in the name of the Lord (v 19-22)
g Cruse-a flat metal dish. Heb. tselochith rendered dish (21:13); pan (2 Chr. 35:13); and bosom (Pr. 19:24; 26:15) h 3 cases of healing the waters:
1 Waters of Marah by Moses (Ex. 15:
2 Waters of Jericho by Elisha (2:19-22)
3 Waters of the Dead Sea by God (Ezek. 47)
i Heb. na'ar, a child from the age of infancy to adolescence. It generally implies youth, but not always, for the word is used of Isaac when 28 years old (Gen. 22:5), of Joseph when 39 years old (Gen. 41:12), and of Rehoboam when fully grown (2 Chr. 13:7). Here the little children were the infidel young men of Bethel who were worshippers of the golden calf instead of Jehovah. It was God who sent the bears, and we have to believe that the offenders were worthy of such judgment
j The term bald head had no special reference to lack of hair, according to some authorities; it signified a worthless fellow. It was a term of contempt. Here it was equal to blasphemy of God for the young men mocked Elisha as a prophet of Jehovah, in contemptuous allusion to the translation of Elijah, which they no doubt denied and made fun of. The idea seems to be: Go up (be translated) like Elijah, you worthless fellow!

e Questions 11-12. Next, v 11
f Jehoram questioned and Jehoshaphat answered that it should be the way through the wilderness of Edom (v 8). Cp. their two statements in v 10-11. The king of the 10 tribes thought God had called them together to destroy the Edomites, but the king of Judah inquired of a prophet. One spoke of Elisha, so the 3 kings went down to him. Elisha told the king of Israel, the Baal worshipper, to go to his own prophets and those of his mother, Jezebel. The king repeated his accusation of God by saying that He had brought them down into the wilderness to destroy them. Then Elisha gave an answer simply because of the presence of Jehoshaphat, the good king of Judah (v 12-15)
g Questions 13-14. Next, 4:2
h This refers to Jezebel in particular (v 13)

Rebellion of Moab (1:1)

Then - after the death of Ahab, Moab rebelled against the northern kingdom of Israel (v 1). The word then indicates the book is a continuation of 1 Kings. The two books were one up to the time of the Septuagint translators in the 3rd century B. C. It was then that the book of Kings was divided into two sections

Moab had been subdued by David (2 Sam. 8:2; 23:20); and after the division of the kingdom it passed to the 10-tribe kingdom. Moabites were greatly oppressed by Omri and Ahab and, on the death of the latter, Mesha, king of Moab, rebelled and gained independence. The Moabite stone discovered in 1868 at Dibon in Moab is revealing. The writing is in ancient Hebrew characters down to the time of 140 B. C. when it was replaced by modern square characters in use today. According to the stone Mesha, son of Chemosh-Melech, king of Moab of Dibon, saw his desire upon his enemies after Omri and Ahab had oppressed them for many days. It tells of his victories at Ataroth, Kerioth, Nebo, Jahaz, and other places. It gives all credit to Chemosh, national god of Moab, for past defeats and slavery to Israel, because he was angry; and it gives the god credit for victories won after this. See 3:1-27

Abaziah's sin (1:2)

His great sin in this matter was ignoring Jehovah, the God of Israel, the only true and living God, by going down to Ekron to inquire of an idol god called Baal-zebub who was the god of flies (v 2). In the East, flies were one of the most terrible plagues and pagans would naturally have a god of flies as they had gods of rain, thunder, and other things. Later, Jews changed the name to Beel-zebul, lord of the dunghill (Mt. 12:24). In the Gr. it is Baal-zebul, lord of abominable idols; the prince of idols and idolatry; the worst and chief of all wickedness. To inquire of such a god was to deny Jehovah. Ahaziah therefore cast away the last remnant of faith in the old religion of his fathers and consulted a foreign oracle, as if the voice of God was silent in his own country

Elisha's test (2:1)

Elijah permitted Elisha to accompany him to Gilgal without saying a word about staying some place, but when he arrived here he told him to stay while he went to Bethel (v 2). Then Elijah urged him to tarry at Bethel while he went to Jericho (v 4), and to

NOW Jĕ-hō'ram the son of Ă'hăb began to reign over Ĭs'ra-el in Să-mā'rĭ-ā the eighteenth year of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Jū'dah, and reigned twelve years.

2 And he wrought[a] evil in the sight of the LORD; but not like his father, and like his mother: for he put away the[b] image of Bā'al that his father had made.

3 Nevertheless he cleaved unto the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, which made Ĭs'ra-el to sin; he departed not therefrom.

6 Moab rebels: alliance of Jehoram and Jehoshaphat

4 ¶ And[c] Mē'shă king of Mō'ab was a sheepmaster, and rendered unto the king of Ĭs'ra-el an [d]hundred thousand lambs, and an hundred thousand rams, with the wool.

5 But it came to pass, when Ă'hăb was dead, that the king of Mō'ab rebelled against the king of Ĭs'ra-el.

6 ¶ And king Jĕ-hō'ram went out of Să-mā'rĭ-ā the same time, and numbered all Ĭs'ra-el.

7 And he went and sent to Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt the king of Jū'dah, saying, The king of Mō'ab hath rebelled against me: [e]wilt thou go with me against Mō'ab to battle? And he said, I will go up: I am as thou art, my people [e]as thy people, and my horses as thy horses.

8 And [f]he said, Which way shall we go up? And he answered, The way through the wilderness of Ē'dom.

9 So the king of Ĭs'ra-el went, and the king of Jū'dah, and the king of Ē'dom: and they fetched a compass of seven days' journey: and there was no water for the host, and for the cattle that followed them.

7 Elisha reproves the alliance of Jehoshaphat with Jehoram

10 And the king of Ĭs'ra-el said, Alas! that the LORD hath called these three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Mō'ab!

11 But Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said, [g]Is there not here a prophet of the LORD, that we may enquire of the LORD by him? And one of the king of Ĭs'ra-el's servants answered and said, Here is Ĕ-lī'shā the son of Shā'phat, which poured water on the hands of Ē-lī'jah.

12 And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said, The word of the LORD is with him. So the king of Ĭs'ra-el and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt and the king of Ē'dom went down to him.

●13 And Ĕ-lī'shā said unto the king of Ĭs'ra-el, What have I to do with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father, and to the prophets of [h]thy mother. And the king of Ĭs'ra-el said unto him, Nay: for the LORD hath called these three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Mō'ab.

14 And Ĕ-lī'shā said, As the LORD of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt the king of Jū'dah, I would not look toward thee, nor see thee.

●15 [a]But now bring me a minstrel. And it came to pass, when the minstrel played, that the hand of the LORD came upon him.

8 Waters without rain and promised victory: 4th and 5th miracles

¶16 [b]And he [c]said, Thus saith the LORD, Make this valley full of ditches.●

17 For thus saith the LORD, Ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain; yet that valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye, and your cattle, and your beasts.

18 And this is but a light thing in the sight of the LORD: he will deliver the Mō'ab-ītes also into your hand.

19 And ye shall smite every fenced city, and every choice city, and shall fell every good tree, and stop all wells of water, and mar every good piece of land with stones.

20 And it came to pass in the morning, when the meat offering was offered, that, behold, there came water by the way of Ē'dom, and the country was filled with water.

9 Optical illusion: 6th miracle

21 ¶ And when all the Mō'ab-ītes heard that the kings were come up to fight against them, they gathered all that were able to put on armour, and upward, and stood in the border.

22 And they rose up early in the morning, and the sun shone upon the water, and the Mō'ab-ītes saw the water on the other side as red as blood:

23 And they said, This is blood: the kings are surely slain, and they have smitten one another: now therefore, Mō'ab, to the spoil.

10 Defeat of the Moabites, fulfilling vss. 18-19

24 And when they came to the camp of Ĭs'ra-el, the Ĭs'ra-el-ītes rose up and smote the Mō'ab-ites, so that they fled before them: but they went forward smiting the Mō'ab-ites, even in their country.

25 And they beat down the cities, and on every good piece of land cast every man his stone, and filled it; and they stopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees: only in Kĭr-hăr'a-sĕth left they the stones thereof; howbeit the slingers went about it, and smote it.

26 ¶ And when the king of Mō'ab saw that the battle was too sore for him, he took with him seven hundred men that drew swords, to break through even unto the king of Ē'dom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldest son that should have reigned in his stead, and offered him for a burnt offering upon the wall. And there was great indignation against Ĭs'ra-el: and they a Here is an instance of a musician being used in connection with prophecy. There is no particular explanation of this. It must be that he liked the soft music of a harper and sought thereby to get into a religious and prophetical attitude before giving his information (v 15). Since the sons of the prophets were studying music and poetry in the schools of the prophets it seems that music was a regular part of prophecy. Cp. Ex. 15:20; Eph. 5:19-20. Hymn-singing is a great inspiration to men who preach; and good singing and music precede most all preaching today

b 4th prophecy in 2 Ki. (3:16-19, fulfilled). Next, 4:16

3 predictions-fulfilled

1 You will not see wind or rain, and yet the valley shall be full of water that you may drink, both you and your cattle, and your beasts (3:17)

2 This is but a light thing for the Lord: He will also deliver the Moabites into your hand (3:18)

c Elisha's instructions were for the armies of Israel and Edom to fill all the valley with ditches, and God would fill them with water without wind and rain (v 16-20). The water for this came by the way of Edom (v 20). The Moabites had an optical illusion. To them the water looked like blood and they thought the kings of Israel and Edom had killed each other, so they went to what they thought would be the spoil (v 21-23). When they came to the camp of Israel the men rose up and smote the Moabites, so that they fled. The Israelites continued until they had smitten the whole country, beating down the cities, stopping the wells, and otherwise destroying everything (v 24-25). The king of Moab took 700 men to break through to the king of Edom, but could not; so he took his eldest son, the heir to the throne, and offered him for a burnt offering upon the wall. There was great hatred and wrath against Israel (v 26-27) remain at Jericho while he went to Jordan (v 6); but Elisha would not leave Elijah, being determined to go on with him until he was taken to heaven that day. The reason for all this is not explained. It could be that Elijah was testing the man to see how determined he was to have his Spirit and power so as to carry on in his place after his departure. Elisha had already been anointed to take his place (19:16), but he had not yet received the Spirit and power of Elijah. This is what he was desiring, as is clear from v 9-11

The prophets were the divine philosophers, the instructors, and the guides of the Hebrews in piety and virtue. They generally lived retired being seen in public mainly when they had some message of God to deliver. Their habitations and mode of life were plain, simple, and consistent. Sons of the prophets were pupils of the prophets being trained in religion and habits of devotion and piety. They were not a monastic order but a group of theological students studying the law and history of God's people, together with sacred poetry and music. There were several schools of the prophets from the days of Samuel to the N. T. times when Israel was a nation (1 Sam. 10:5, 10-12; 19:20, 24). In the days of Elijah he was head-master of several schools at Gilgal (4:28), at Bethel where Jeroboam had his altar and one of his golden calves (1 Ki. 12:29; 13:1-32), at Jericho, and other places (v 3-7, 15; 1 Ki. 20:35, 21). Elisha succeeded Elijah over these schools and even enlarged them (4:1, 38; 5:22; 6:1-7; 9:1) departed from him, and returned to their own land.

CHAPTER 4 317

11 Increase of the widow's oil: 7th miracle

NOW there cried a certain [a]woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets unto Ĕ-lī'shá, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant did fear the LORD: and the creditor is come [b]to take unto him my two sons to be bondmen.

2 And Ĕ-lī'shá [c]said unto her, What shall I do for thee? tell me, what hast thou in the house? And she said, Thine handmaid hath not any thing in the house, save a[d]pot of oil.

●3 Then he said, Go, borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels; borrow not a few.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and shalt pour out into all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full.

5 So she went from him, and shut the door upon her and upon her sons, who brought the vessels to her; and she poured out.

●6 And it came to pass, when the vessels were full, that she said unto her son, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is not a vessel more. And the oil stayed.

●7 Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, Go, sell the oil, and pay thy debt, and live thou and thy children of the rest.

12 Hospitality of the "great woman" of Shunem

8 ¶ And it fell on a day, that Ĕ-lī'shá passed to Shu'nem, where was a[e]great woman; and she constrained him to eat bread. And so it was, that as oft as he passed by, he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And she said unto her husband, Behold now, I perceive that this is an holy man of God, which passeth by us continually.

10 Let us make a little [f]chamber, I pray thee, on the wall; and let us set for him there a bed, and a table, and a [g]stool, and a candlestick: and it shall be, when he cometh to us, that he shall turn in thither.

11 And it fell on a day, that he came thither, and he turned into the chamber, and lay there.

13 Child given to the Shunammite woman: 8th miracle

●12 And he said to Gĕ-hā'zī his servant, Call this Shu'nammite. And when he had called her, she stood before him.

13 And he said unto him, Say now unto her, Behold, thou hast been careful for us with all this care; [h]what is to be done for thee? wouldest thou be spoken for to the king, or to the captain of the host? And [i]she answered, I dwell among mine own people.

14 And he said, What then is to be done for her? [a]And Gĕ-hā'zī answered, Verily she hath no child, and her husband is old.

●15 And he said, Call her. And when he had called her, she stood in the door.

●16 [b]And he said, About this season, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a son. And she said, Nay, my lord, thou man of God, [c]do not lie unto thine handmaid.

17 And the woman conceived, and bare a son at that season that Ĕ-lī'shá had said unto her, according to the time of life.

14 Sickness and death of the son of the Shunammite

18 ¶ And when the [d]child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father to the reapers.

●19 And he said unto his father, My head, my head. And he said to a lad, Carry him to his mother.

20 And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees till noon, and then died.

21 And she went up, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door upon him, and went out.

15 The Shunammite woman finds Elisha on Mt. Carmel

●22 And she called unto her husband, and said, [e]Send me, I pray thee, one of the young men, and one of the asses, that I may run to the man of God, and come again.

23 And he said, [f]Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? [g]it is neither new moon, nor sabbath. And she said, It shall be well.

●24 Then she saddled an ass, and said to her servant, Drive, and go forward; slack not thy riding for me, except I bid thee.

25 So she went and came unto the man of God to mount Cär'mel. And it came to pass, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to Gĕ-hā'zī his servant, Behold, yonder is that Shu'nam-mīte:

●26 Run now, I pray thee, to meet her, and say unto her, [h]Is it well [i]with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the child? And she answered, It is well.

●27 And when she came to the man of God to the hill, she caught him by the feet: but Gĕ-hā'zī came near to thrust her away. And the man of God said, Let her alone; for her soul is vexed within her: and the [j]LORD hath hid it from me, and hath not told me.

16 Elisha accompanies the Shunammite woman to her home

28 Then she said, [k]Did I desire a son of my lord? did I not say, Do not deceive me?

●29 Then he said to Gĕ-hā'zī, [l]Gird up thy loins, and take my staff in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou meet any man, a When the great woman turned down all offers of reward for her hospitality, even all royal offers, Gehazi, the servant of Elisha, solved the problem by suggesting a child as the greatest reward possible. When Elisha had called for her the second time and she stood before him (v 12, 15), he predicted that according to the time of life for a child to be conceived and born, she would embrace a son (v 16). Realizing this was almost too good to be true she remarked, "Nay, my lord, man of God, do not lie to me." She did conceive and bear a son at the appointed season (v 17)

b 5th prophecy in 2 Ki. (4:16; fulfilled). Next, v 43. The one prediction was that she would have a son according to the manner of life

c Though this sounds like harsh speech to us, it was only plain, straight-forward, simple talk in that day, meaning literally: Do not deceive me by saying something that can never be (v 16)

d Heb. gadal, become large; grow up. He must have been merely a growing-up boy, not old enough yet to work in the field with the men, for he was only going out to his father and the reapers in the field when he experienced sunstroke. His mother held him on her knees until noon, and then he died. She laid him upon the bed and went immediately for Elisha (v 18-27)

e Ladies of the higher class in the East seldom walked; almost always they rode asses. The rider was attended by a servant running behind with a whip or stick to drive or goad the animal forward at whatever pace would be desired (Eccl. 10:5-7)

f Question 20. Next, v 26

g This indicates that it is the custom of the prophets to gather the people together at the time of the new moons and sabbaths, for edification and instruction. The question of the husband appears to express astonishment that she would go to the prophet other than at these times. Amos refers to this in his book (8:5) as the times Israel wished were over so they could sell their produce. They preferred business to sacred days and times of worship and instruction from men of God. Regarding the Shunammite, she kept it a secret that she wanted the prophet to resurrect her son. She simply told her husband that all would be well if she could only get to the prophet, and she went to him in mount Carmel. When Elisha saw her afar off, he sent his servant to meet her and inquire regarding her problem. She answered that all was well; but when she came to the man of God she caught him by the feet. His servant was about to thrust her away, but he interfered saying her soul was vexed within and the Lord had hidden it from him. When the woman made it known that her son was dead, Elisha then sent his servant to lay his rod upon the face of the boy; but the mother would not let the man of God go until he agreed to come with her. And so, he arose, followed her, and resurrected her child (v 22-37)

h Questions 21-23. Next, v 28

i 3 personal questions (v 26):
1 Is it well with you?
2 Is it well with your husband?
3 Is it well with your child?
Her answer was: It is well. She said it by faith, for the child was dead. She believed the man of God would help her in the matter. In those days it was a common thing to get answers from God through the men of God. Unusual things were expected of them, and they always met the need. Not one time do we find them questioning the will of God or leading the people to believe that anything would be impossible

j This indicates that it was customary for the Lord to tell secrets to the prophets, for Elisha was surprised that God had keep this from him (v 27)

k Questions 24-25. Next, v 43

l 6 things that did not cause resurrection:
1 Gird up your loins (v 29)
2 Take my staff in you hands
3 Go your way
4 Salute no man by the way
5 If any man salute you do not answer
6 Lay my staff upon the face of the child a One of the sons of the prophets died and his wife, like the wives of most prophets, was left penniless. His creditors demanded their money, being determined to take her 2 sons as bondmen. She came to Elisha who was now the head of the schools of the prophets, and begged for relief. He told her to borrow all the vessels she could and pour into them from the little pot of oil which she had in the house. When she did so all the vessels were filled and innumerable others could have been filled if she had borrowed them. She was told to sell the oil and pay her debt (v 1-7). What a notable miracle! Even multiplying one ounce of oil would be a miracle, but here many vessels were filled and 2 sons were saved from slavery b The Mosaic law gave the right to claim the person and children of the debtor who could not pay, that they might serve the creditor until the year of jubile, at which time they became free again (Lev. 25:39-41). Cp. Neh. 5:5-8; Job 24:9; Isa. 50:1; Mt. 25:25)

c Questions 15-16. Next, v 13

d Heb. acuwk, an oil flask. It is supposed this was an earthern jar, deep and narrow, with a pointed bottom which was inserted into a stand of wood or stone, or stuck into the ground, like the Roman and Egyptian amphora-a 2-handled earthern vessel for oil, wine or water. Some flasks were made of metal. The pitcher of Mk. 14:13; Lk. 22:10 is supposed to have been an amphora

e Heb. gadol, great in any sense; high; mighty; noble; rich. This woman was a rich one, as in 1 Sam. 15:2; 2 Sam. 19:32

f Heb. aliyah, generally refers to an upper room of an Eastern house, being built on the roof sometimes or making a second story to the porch, the access to which is by stairs. It is sometimes called the chamber over the gate (2 Sam. 18:33). Here it is a chamber on the wall, perhaps because of the window opening to the street that was made in the solid wall, the only evidence that a new room had been added to the house. Such a room was usually well furnished and kept for the intertainment of honored guests. Thus the Shunammite entertained Elisha. It was in such a room that Elijah dwelt with the widow in Zeraphath (1 Ki. 17: 19, 23). In that passage we have the word loft as a translation of the word aliyah, thus conveying the idea of a bare, desolate garret, which is very far from the fact. The poorer homes had no aliyah, which leads to a conclusion that the widow who entertained Elijah was not of the poorest class, but that her extreme destitution was was due to the dreadful famine which then prevailed. Such a room made a desirable place of retirement for the master of the house. Ahaziah was in an aliyah in the palace of Samaria when he fell through the lattice work of the window and injured himself (1: 2). Eglon was in a room like this when he was assassinated by Ehud (Judg. 3: 20). In this instance aliyah is rendered summer parlor, which was a parlor of cooling. It was on the roof of an aliyah in the palace of Ahaz that the kings of Judah had altars erected for idolatrous worship (23:12). It was in an aliyah that Daniel prayed daily in the midst of idolatry (Dan. 6:10). In the N. T. it is called an upper room (Acts 1:13; 9:37, 39; 20:7-8). In such a place Christ ate the passover with His disciples (Mk. 14:15; Lk. 22:12)

g The word stool is misleading to modern people, for it is used so differently today. The Heb. word trans. stool here is kicceh, covered; it means a canopied seat or throne. This piece of furniture was no doubt the best that the rich woman could get for the prophet

i She wanted no reward for her hospitality to the prophet and his servant (v 13). This is the only true spirit of hospitality and the only kind that will be rewarded by God, sometimes now (v 16), and always hereafter (Mt. 10:40-42; 2 Cor. 5:10). Those who do things to be seen of men here already have their full receipt (Mt. 6:1-8) a This was breaking all the rules of etiquette. It was customary to make lengthy, formal salutations when meeting anyone, but here such greetings were to be dispensed with because the matter of the Shunammite's son was urgent (v 29)

b This was a solemn way of expressing determination (v 30). The term was used 3 times to express Elisha's determination to stay with Elijah until he was translated (2:2, 4, 6) c Was dead - the soul and spirit had departed from the child (Jas. 2:26). The prophet shut the door and remained alone with the body, and prayed to Jehovah. Laying himself upon the child, he put his mouth to its mouth, his eyes to its eyes, and his hands to its hands, until the flesh became warm. He then walked back and forth in the house and returned to stretch himself upon the child again. This time the woman's son sneezed 7 times and opened his eyes. Calling for the mother, Elisha presented him alive to her; and after she had bowed herself to the ground, she took him up and left the room (v 32-37)
d The second resurrection of a boy from death - one by Elijah (1 Ki. 17:17-24), and this one by Elisha (v 32-37). The third resurrection was that a dead man touching the bones of Elisha in the grave (13:20-25). Christ, Peter, and Paul resurrected people as is recorded in the N. T. (note a, Mt. 9:25)

33 He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the LORD.

34 And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands: and he stretched himself upon the child; and the flesh of the child waxed warm.

35 Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went up, and stretched himself upon him: and the child [d]opened his eyes.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered thereof wild gourds his lap full, and came and shred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew them not.

40 So they poured out for the men to eat. And it came to pass, as they were eating of the pottage that they cried out, and said, O thou man of God, there is death in the pot. And they [c]could not eat thereof.

●41 But he said, Then bring meal. And he cast it into the pot; and he said, Pour out for the people, that they may eat. And there was no harm in the pot.

●42 ¶ And there came a man from Ba'al-sha'li-sha, and brought the man of God bread of the firstfruits, twenty loaves of barley, and full ears of corn in the husk thereof. And he said, Give unto the people, that they may eat.

43 And his [a]servitor [b]said, What, should I set this before an hundred men? [c]He said again, Give the people, that they may eat: for thus saith the LORD, They shall eat, and shall leave thereof.●

44 So he set it before them, and they did eat, and left thereof, according to the word of the LORD.

CHAPTER 5 316

20 Healing Naaman of leprosy: 12th miracle

NOW [a]Na'a-man, [c]captain of the host of the king of Sy'ri-a, was a great man with his master, and honourable, because [f]by him the LORD had given deliverance unto Sy'ri-a: he was also a mighty man in valour, but he was [g]a leper.

2 And the Sy'ri-ans had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Is'ra-el a little maid; and she waited on Na'a-man's wife.

3 And she said unto her mistress, Would God my lord were with the prophet that is [h]in Sa-ma'ri-a! for [i]he would recover him of his leprosy.

4 And one went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus said the maid that is of the land of Is'ra-el.

●5 And the king of Sy'ri-a said, Go to, go, and I will send a letter unto the king of Is'ra-el. And he departed, and took with him [j]ten talents of silver, [k]and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten [l]changes of raiment.

6 And he brought the letter to the king of Is'ra-el, saying, Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith sent Na'a-man my servant to thee, [m]that thou mayest recover him of his leprosy.

7 And it came to pass, when the king of Is'ra-el had read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and said, [n]Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth send unto me to recover a man of his leprosy? wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarrel against me.

8 ¶ And it was so, [o]when E-li'sha the man of God had heard that the king of Is'ra-el had rent his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Is'ra-el.

9 So Na'a-man came with his horses and with his chariot, and stood at the door of the house of E-li'sha.

10 And E-li'sha sent a messenger unto him, saying, [p]Go and wash in Jor'dan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean.

11 But Na'a-man was wroth, and went away, and said, Behold, I thought, He will surely m This was a strange request. The king of Israel was an ungodly man with no more power over leprosy than the king of Syria or Naaman, so it is no wonder that he thought the Syrians were seeking a quarrel with him (v 6-7)

n Questions 27-28, Next, v 12
o It was a good thing that Elisha was in Samaria and heard of the request, for the king might have done something to bring on a war with Syria. He could have killed Naaman and his servants thinking this was the thing to do under the circumstances. The prophet requested Naaman to come to him, for he would show the man that there was a God in Israel (v 8). When Naaman came with his horses and chariot, he stood at the door of the house of Elisha; but the prophet did not show him the courtesy of inviting him in or going out to meet him. He only sent a messenger to tell Naaman that he should go and wash in Jordan 7 times in order for his flesh to come again, and for him to be clean (v 9-10). This made Naaman angry and he went away saying:
1 I thought he would surely come out to me
2 I thought he would stand by me and call upon the name of Jehovah, his God
3 I thought he would strike his hand over my body and heal me
4 Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel?

a Naaman thought that he was such a great man that it would be an honor to come out to him, lay hands on his body and pray; but Elisha thought differently, being led of God regarding what to do. The Lord not only wanted Naaman to learn a lesson in humility and obedience; He wanted men of all ages to learn that God does not honor human greatness, and that His thoughts are not as our thoughts, and His ways not as our ways (Isa. 55:8-9). Had this been man's work, all that Naaman thought would have been done and he would have paid a great price for it. He had brought along the equivalent of $77,370.00 in gold and silver besides 10 changes of raiment to pay his "doctor bill;" but it appeared that he would not even be able to see the "doctor," much less be healed. And he would not have been healed if it had not been for the common sense of his servants who reasoned with him to follow instructions (v 11-14)

b Questions 29-32. Next, v 17

c Heb. chema, heat; anger; hot displeasure; be furious, indignant, wrathful, in a rage; poison from its fever (v 12; Pr. 6:34)

d Note the better judgment of his servants. Naaman was so angry he could have and might have started a war with Israel. The king of Israel had done nothing for him, and now the prophet did not even show him the courtesy of coming out of the house to meet him or tell him personally what to do. His dealings were with the servant of the prophet only. With his hopes high at first, he was willing to make a man rich who would heal him, but after receiving this kind of treatment he was in a great fever of rage. This treatment was too much for his pride. His servants simply pointed out to him that if the prophet had told him to do some great thing he would have done it peacefully, and now, how much easier it would be to dip in Jordan 7 times in order to be clean. Had he come there for cleansing for leprosy or to do something great? Was he going away in a rage without even trying the thing which the prophet said would make him clean? Such reasoning pacified the captain and he decided to follow the suggestions. On the return trip he would have to cross Jordan anyway, so he agreed to do the dipping 7 times. When he did his flesh came again like that of a little child, and he was healed (v 14)

e Naaman, upon being healed, was like the one leper out of ten whom Christ healed - he was ready to give thanks for cleansing (Lk. 17:12-17). He was glad to return and show his gratitude, and all his company with him; and so, they stood before Elisha. The captain confessed faith in Jehovah before them all, declaring there was no God like Him in any other nation. This was the motive of God in choosing Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and the other seed of Israel originally - that through them all the nations of the earth would be blessed. If Israel had continually obeyed God they would have evangelized the world many centuries ago, and men everywhere would have seen the miraculous power of Jehovah in many ways. Today the nations would know of salvation, healing, and complete deliverance from sin, poverty, sickness, and all bodily diseases. This example of Naaman would have been repeated millions of times in all ages. The same is true of the church - its program was to carry on the work Israel failed to finish, and the work that Christ and the early believers began (Mt. 28:20; Mk. 16:15-20; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 1 Cor. 12; Heb. 2:3-4) 12 [b]Are not Ăb'a-ná and Phär'-par, rivers of Dă-más'cus, better than all the waters of Ĭs'ra-el? may I not wash in them, and be clean? So he turned and went away in[a] rage.

13 And his servants came near, and spake unto him, and said, My father, [c]if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean?

14 Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jôr'dan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

21 Naaman returns to reward Elisha and confesses conversion to Israel's God

15 ¶ And [c]he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came, and stood before him: and he said, Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, but in Ĭs'ra-el: now therefore, I pray thee, take a blessing of thy servant.

16 But he said, As the LORD liveth, before whom I stand, I will receive none. And he urged him to take it; but he refused.

17 And Nā'a-man said, [d]Shall there not then, I pray thee, be given to thy servant two mules' burden of earth? for thy servant will henceforth offer neither burnt offering nor sacrifice unto other gods, but unto the LORD.

18 In this thing the LORD pardon thy servant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rĭm'mon to worship there, and he leaneth on my hand, and I bow myself in the [h]house of Rĭm'mon: when I bow down myself in the house of Rĭm'-mon, the LORD pardon thy servant in this thing.

22 Gehazi's sin of lying and covetousness

20 ¶ But Gĕ-hā'zī, the servant of Ĕ-lī'shā the man of God, said, Behold, my master hath spared Nā'a-man this Sȳr'ĭ-an, in not receiving at his hands that which he brought: but, as the LORD liveth, I will run after him, and take somewhat of him.

21 So Gĕ-hā'zī followed after Nā'a-man. And when Nā'a-man saw him running after him, he lighted down from the chariot to meet him, and [j]said, Is all well?

22 And he said, All is well. My master hath sent me, saying, Behold, even now there be come to me from mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm two young men of the sons of the prophets: give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two changes of garments.

23 And Nā'a-man said, Be content, take two talents. And he urged him, and bound two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and laid them upon two of his servants; and they bare them before him.

24 And when [a]he came to the tower, he took them from their hand, and bestowed them in the house: and he let the men go, and they departed.

23 Discernment and plague: 13th and 14th miracles

25 But he went in, and stood before his master. And Ĕ-lī'-shā said unto him, [b]Whence comest thou, Gĕ-hā'zī? And he said, Thy servant went no whither.

26 And he said unto him, Went not mine heart with thee, when the man turned again from his chariot to meet thee? Is it a time to [c]receive money, and to receive garments, and oliveyards, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and maidservants?

★27 [d]The leprosy therefore of Nā'a-man shall cleave unto thee, and unto thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence a leper as white as snow.

24 Elisha makes iron to swim: 15th miracle

AND the [e]sons of the prophets said unto Ĕ-lī'shā, Behold now, the place where we dwell with thee is too strait for us.

●2 Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jôr'dan, and take thence every man a beam, and let us make us a place there, where we may dwell. And he answered, Go ye.

3 And one said, Be content, I pray thee, and go with thy servants. And he answered, I will go.

4 So he went with them. And when they came to Jôr'dan, they cut down wood.

5 But as one was felling a beam, the ax head fell into the water: and he cried, and said, Alas, master! for it was borrowed.

6 And the man of God [f]said, Where fell it? And he shewed him the place. And he cut down a stick, and cast it in thither; and the iron did swim.

●7 Therefore said he, Take it up to thee. And he put out his hand, and took it.

25 Eighth Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.). Revealing secrets: 16th, 17th, and 18th miracles

8 ¶ Then the king of Sȳr'ĭ-a warred against Ĭs'ra-el, and took counsel with his servants, saying, In such and such a place shall be my camp.

9 And the man of God sent unto the king of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, Beware that thou pass not such a place; for thither the Sȳr'ĭ-ans are come down.

10 And the king of Ĭs'ra-el sent to the place which the man of God told him and warned him of, and saved a Gehazi took the 2 talents of silver ($3,840.00) and the 2 changes of raiment from the servants of Naaman and hid them in the tower (v 23-24); but when he went in to stand before Elisha, the prophet asked where he had gone. And when Gehazi answered that he had not gone anywhere, Elisha made it clear that his heart had gone with him when the man turned again from the chariot to meet him, rebuking him, the prophet announced that the leprosy of Naaman would cleave to Gehazi and his seed forever; and he went out from the presence of Elisha a leper as white as snow (v 25-27)

b Questions 35-37. Next, 6:6

e One of the schools of the prophets was overcrowded so they started a building program. The students went down to Jordan and began cutting down trees to build a school by the river where they could have larger and better dwellings. While doing this an axe came off the handle and fell into the stream of water. The man using it cried, "Alas, master! for it was borrowed." Elisha asked where it fell, and when he was shown he cut down a stick which he cast into the river. Then, a miracle happened. The iron arose to the surface and began to swim to shore where the man who lost it could put forth his hand and take it from the water (v 1-7)

f Question 38. Next, v 11

g Then - some time after the healing of Naaman, the captain of the army of Syria, the king of Syria made war on Israel, taking counsel with his servants as to where to make camp and attack. His camps and places of attack were made known to Elisha who passed the information on to the king of Israel; he was saved 3 times thereby (v 8-10). When it was discovered who was telling these secrets the whole army of Syria was sent to get Elisha (v 11-22)

fered Elisha 2 mules, and promised to offer no sacrifice other than what he would offer to Jehovah (v 17). "If I am forced to go into the house of my former gods because of my position," he told Elisha, "then may Jehovah pardon me for this thing" (v 18)

g Question 33. Next, v 21

h Rimmon is supposed to have been a prominent deity of the Syrians. Nothing definite is known of him or his worship, and the derivation is uncertain. It appears that the god had some connection with sun worship. It was probably customary for the king, whenever he went into the house of Rimmon, to lean on the arm of some chief officer, and this is what Naaman referred to here (v 18). This was the custom in Israel (7:2, 17). According to tradition two young women waited on Esther when she was queen of Persia - one to hold up her train, and the other for her to lean on i Elisha blessed him and sent him away in peace; but when he was only a short distance away Gehazi, the servant of Elisha, went after Naaman to receive something for himself. He lied saying that Elisha had changed his mind and wanted a talent of silver ($1,920.00) and 2 changes of raiment for 2 sons of the prophets who had just come to him to take 2 talents of silver, one of each of the sons of the prophets, which would amount to $3,840.00 (v 23)

j Question 34. Next, v 25

a The king of Syria was troubled when he learned the king of Israel was being informed of his plans so he made search among his servants for the informer. One spoke up saying that it was none other than the prophet Elisha telling the king of Israel what he, the Syrian king, had spoken in his bedchamber (v 11-12)

b Question 39. Next, v 15

c The king of Syria sent spies to find out where Elisha was; and it was reported to him that he was in Dothan, about 14 miles north of Samaria. Quickly then he sent horses, chariots, and a great army by night; and they compassed the whole city. In the morning when the servant of Elisha had risen and gone forth, he saw the Syrians and returned to the prophet saying fearfully, "How shall we do?" His master, the prophet urged him not to fear because they who were for them were more than the ones against them. Elisha then prayed for the servant's eyes to be opened, and they were; he saw the mountain full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha (v 13-17)

d Question 40. Next, v 21

e This is another revelation in Scripture regarding men on earth receiving an insight into the invisible world of spirit beings. It was a chariot with spirit horses that came for Elijah (2:11). Here there were innumerable chariots and horses which could not be seen with the natural eyes except through divine adjustment - until they were opened by the Lord to see spirit beings. In Zech. 1 and 6 we have the record of other spirit riders and various colored horses harnessed to chariots, explained to be the spirits of the heavens sent forth to find out about conditions on earth for the Lord - to report to him so that He could take action if necessary. Also in Rev. 19:11, 14, 21 we have mention of the armies of the heaven riding on horses and coming to the earth. These spirit beings are as real as beings we know on earth. In size, shape, and outward appearance they are alike, being different only in bodily substance. All visible things are thus like their invisible counterparts (Rom. 1:20; Col. 1:15-18). See Spirit-world in Index

f The Syrians came down to the wall of the city making their demands that the city surrender Elisha to them; but Elisha was ready for action and prayed for God to smite them with blindness. The Lord answered and did that very thing. The prophet then led them to Samaria, suggesting the man they wanted was there (v 18-19)

g This was more truth than it appears on the surface, for it was really the king of Israel they were wanting, not Elisha who was merely in the way of their getting the king. Elisha led them to the very man they were warring against (v 19-23). What happened during this 14-mile journey to Samaria is not revealed, but it must have been a wonderful experience for this man of God to capture and deliver an entire army all by himself and the power of God

h When the captured Syrian army was safe in the hands of the king of Israel, Elisha prayed for God to open their eyes and when He did they looked upon the two men they wanted - the king of Israel and the prophet who had revealed their secrets (v 20)

i Questions 41-43. Next, v 27

j The king of Israel wanted to smite the army, but they were saved by Elisha who advised to feed them and let them go to their master, the king of Syria. When they had eaten they were permitted to return home. This was enough to prove to them that the king of Syria was to blame for the war, and that Israel had not made plans to harm the Syrians. This goodness on the part of Israel made the Syrians ashamed of their plans of war, so they came no more into the land of Israel for some time (v 21-23) himself there, not once nor twice.

11 Therefore the heart of the king of Sȳr'ĭ-á was [a]sore troubled for this thing; and he called his servants, and said unto them, [b]Will ye not shew me which of us is for the king of Iṣ'ra-el?

12 And one of his servants said, None, my lord, O king: but Ĕ-lī'shá, the prophet that is in Iṣ'ra-el, telleth the king of Iṣ'ra-el the words that thou speakest in thy bedchamber.

26 Ninth Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.). Elisha opens eyes of his servant: 19th miracle ●13 ¶ And he [c]said, Go and spy where he is, that I may send and fetch him. And it was told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dō'than.

14 Therefore sent he thither horses, and chariots, and a great host: and they came by night, and compassed the city about.

15 And when the servant of the man of God was risen early, and gone forth, behold, an host compassed the city both with horses and chariots. And his servant said unto him, [d]Alas, my master! how shall we do?

●16 And he answered, Fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them.

17 And Ĕ-lī'shá prayed, and said, LORD, I pray thee, open his eyes, that he may see. And the LORD opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of [e]horses and chariots of fire round about Ĕ-lī'shá.

27 Elisha blinds and captures the Syrian army single handed: 20th and 21st miracles

●18 And when [f]they came down to him, Ĕ-lī'shá prayed unto the LORD, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness according to the word of Ĕ-lī'shá.

▸19 ¶ And Ĕ-lī'shá said unto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, and [g]I will bring you to the man whom ye seek. But he led them to Sā-má'rĭ-á.

28 Elisha heals the army of blindness: 22nd miracle

20 And it came to pass, when they were come into Sā-má'rĭ-á, that Ĕ-lī'shá [h]said, LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see. And the LORD opened their eyes, and they saw; and, behold, they were in the midst of Sā-má'rĭ-á.

21 And the king of Iṣ'ra-el said unto Ĕ-lī'shá, when he saw them, [i]My father, [j]shall I smite them? shall I smite them?

●22 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: wouldest thou smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow? set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their master.

23 And he prepared great provision for them: and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. So the [a]bands of Sȳr'ĭ-á came no more into the land of Iṣ'ra-el.

29 Syrian siege of Samaria. Cannibalism in Israel: 10th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

24 ¶ And it came to pass [b]after this, that Bĕn-há'dăd king of Sȳr'ĭ-á gathered all his host, and went up, and besieged Sā-má'rĭ-á.

25 And there was a great famine in Sā-má'rĭ-á: and, behold, they besieged it, [c]until an ass's head was sold [d]for fourscore pieces of silver, and the [e]fourth part of a cab of dove's dung for five pieces of silver.

26 And as the king of Iṣ'ra-el was passing by upon the wall, there cried a woman unto him, saying, Help, my lord, O king.

27 And he said, [f]If the LORD do not help thee, whence shall I help thee? out of the barnfloor, or out of the winepress?

28 And the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said unto me, Give thy son, that we may eat him to day, and we will eat my son to morrow.

29 So we boiled my son, [g]and did eat him: and I said unto her on the next day, Give thy son, that we may eat him: and she hath hid her son.

30 Jehoram blames Elisha for his own troubles

30 ¶ And it came to pass, when [h]the king heard the words of the woman, that he rent his clothes; and he passed by upon the wall, and the people looked, and, behold, he had sackcloth within upon his flesh.

31 Then he said, God do so and more also to me, if the head of Ĕ-lī'shá the son of Shā'phat shall stand on him this day.

31 Elisha uses the gifts of the word of knowledge and discernment (1 Cor. 12:8; 1 Ki. 14:5): 23rd miracle

32 But [i]Ĕ-lī'shá sat in his house, and the elders sat with him; and the king sent a man from before him: but ere the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, [j]See ye how this son of a murderer hath sent to take away mine head? look, when the messenger cometh, shut the door, and hold him fast at the door: is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?

33 And while he yet talked with them, behold, the messenger came down unto him: and he said, Behold, this evil is of the LORD; what should I wait for the LORD any longer?

320 CHAPTER 7

32 Food and death to the unbeliever (vss. 16-20): 24th and 25th miracles

a Marauding bands, not the army of Syria

b After this - after the captivity of the army of Syria and their liberation, and no doubt after several years had gone by, Syria gathered together against Israel again. This was not the same as marauding bands of Syrians making inroads into Israel, as in v 23. It was the army of Syria, not robber bands that lived off the plunder they accumulated from raids on isolated places

c The famine was so great that the people of Israel even ate asses - unclean animals. Furthermore, they also ate human beings during this time (v 24-29). Moses predicted this would come to pass if they went into sin (Lev. 26:29; Dt. 28:53-57)

d 80 shekels of silver at 64¢ each would be $51.20 for an ass's head (v 25)

e A cab was a dry measure of about 2 qts., making 1/4 cab about 1 pt. which sold for 5 shekels of silver - $3.20 for a pt. of dove's dung, at 64¢ a shekel

f Questions 44-46. Next, v 32

g See Lev. 26:29; Dt. 28:53-57

h The king became desperate and rent his clothes, put on sackcloth, and swore to take vengeance on the prophet or Elisha that day (v 30-31). Thus, like many other ungodly men, he blamed a man of God for his troubles

i While the king was threatening to take the life of Elisha, he sat in the house with the elders; and it was revealed to him that a messenger was on his way to carry out the king's wishes. Elisha told the elders about this and instructed them to hold the messenger fast when he came to the door. This they did and saved the prophet (v 32-33). He then gave a prediction of an abundance of food by this same time on the following day (6:30-7:2)

j Questions 47-49. Next, 7:2

66 In Daniel the captives from Jerusalem are spoken of as being the children of Israel (1:1-3), the captives of Judah (2:25; 5:13; 6:13), and Jews (3:8, 12). Daniel recognized only one Israel, all of whom had sinned and were scattered among the nations (9:7, 11-12, 15-27); that they would be regathered in the latter days to make a 7-year covenant with Antichrist and go through the great tribulation (8:9-14, 24-25; 9:24-27; 12:1, 7-11); and then enter the Millennium (12:12-13). Daniel uses the term Israel 4 times and Judah 7 times of the same people 67 In Hosea, the first of three minor prophets that prophesied concerning both kingdoms of Israel, before the destruction of either kingdom, we have the term Israel used 44 times and Judah 15 times. When Israel and Judah are to be distinguished from each other it will be clear in a particular passage. The 10 tribes were to be wanderers among the nations like Judah (9:17). Hosea continued to prophesy even after the captivity of the 10-tribe kingdom. Amos and Micah are the other 2 prophets who prophesied to both kingdoms. All the major prophets - Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, and 9 of the 12 minor prophets were exclusively prophets to Judah. Isaiah prophesied mainly after the captivity of the northern kingdom to Assyria. Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi were prophets to Judah after the northern captivities. Only Joel, Obadiah, and Nahum were prophets to Judah before that. Jonah was a prophet to Nineveh and not to Israel or Judah. One can say then that only 3 of 16 prophets prophesied to Israel and Judah, and not one exclusively to Israel. From this it is plain that Judah was the part of Israel that God still dealt with as representative of all Israel because of David's kingdom in Jerusalem. The northern kingdom was simply a rebellious part of Israel, refusing to continue in the kingdom of David which had the covenants and promises. Just as we speak of the North and the South in the U. S.

a Then-when the messenger of the king who came to get Elisha for execution, was at the door where he sat among the elders prophesying,, the prophet uttered a prediction of sufficient food for everybody in Samaria by this time tomorrow (v 1-2)

b 9th prophecy in 2 Ki. (7:1-2, fulfilled). Next, 8:1
3 predictions-fulfilled:
1 Tomorrow about this time a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel in the gate of Samaria (7:1)
2 Tomorrow about this time 2 measures of barley will be sold for a shekel in the gate of Samaria
3 You shall see it with your eyes, but shall not eat thereof (7:2) c Heb. seah, about 1 peck. A peck of fine flour for a shekel-64¢. This was much lower than flour at modern prices d The vicinity of the gate was a convenient place for the sale of produce where people would be seeing it, go-in and out. Sales are often seen in the gates of such cities. Cp. Neh. 13:20-21

e This was the man the king had sent after Elisha to execute him (6:32-33; 7:1)

f Questions 50-51. Next, v 19

g One of 10 cases in Scripture. See p. 67

h This was a wise decision to make. If they went into Samaria or stayed where they were, they would die of hunger; and if they went to the Syrians there was a possibility that they would be fed and permitted to live. So they arose, went into the camp of the Syrians and found it entirely deserted (v 3-5) i The Lord had already performed a miracle to fulfil the prophecy of Elisha (v 1-2). He had simply caused the Syrians to hear the noise of chariots, horses, and a great host which made them think the king of Israel had hired the kings of the Hittites and the Egyptians to come against them; so they arose in the darkness to escape destruction. Leaving their tents, horses, asses, and all the food, they fled for their lives. The 4 lepers helped themselves to food, silver, gold, raiment, and other things, and went to hide them. This they did the second time, then decided to tell about their discovery to Jehoram, the king of Israel, before daybreak (v 6-15)

j The kings of the Hittites ruled from the Euphrates to Asia Minor. They were divided into several tribes with a king over each one. The Assyrian monuments speak of 12 such tribes at this time. In the day of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob they were powerful in Canaan (Gen. 15:20; 23:10; 25:9; 26:34; 36:2; 49:29-30; 50:13). They were dispossessed by Israel under Joshua (Ex. 3:8, 17; 13:5; 23:23, 28; 33:2; 34:11; Num. 13:29; Dt. 7:1; 20:17; Josh. 1:4; 3:10; 9:1; 11:3; 12:8; 24:11). Their kingdom was extended northward after this, although some remained in the land (Judg. 1:26; 3:5; 2 Sam. 11:3, 6, 17, 21, 24; 12:9-10; 23:29; 1 Ki. 9:20; 10:29; 11:1; 15:5; 2 Ki. 7:6; 1 Chr. 11:41; 2 Chr. 1:17; 8:7; Ezra 9:1; Neh. 9:8; Ezek. 16:3, 45)

k The kings of the Egyptians. Elsewhere in Scripture Egypt seems to have been under the rule of a single monarch. Here kings probably refers to a number of princes ruling with the Pharaoh at this time, or to allied kings-those of Ethiopia, Libya, the Lubims, Sukkiims, and others under the king of Egypt. Cp. 2 Chr. 12:3; 16:8; Jer. 46:9; Ezek. 30:5; 38:5

THEN Ê-lī'shā said,[b]Hear ye the word of the LORD; Thus saith the LORD, To morrow about this time shall [a]a measure of fine flour be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, [d]in the gate of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.★●

2 Then [a]a lord on whose hand the king leaned answered the man of God, and said, [f]Behold, if the LORD would make windows in heaven, might this thing be? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but shalt not eat thereof.

33 Four lepers find the Syrian camp empty and hide riches

3 ¶ And there were [e]four leprous men at the entering in of the gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here until we die?

4 If we say, We will enter into the city, then the famine is in the city, and we shall die there: and if we sit still here, we die also. [h]Now therefore come, and let us fall unto the host of the Sŷr'ĭ-anş: if they save us alive, we shall live; and if they kill us, we shall but die.

5 And they rose up in the twilight, to go unto the camp of the Sŷr'ĭ-anş: and when they were come to the uttermost part of the camp of Sŷr'ĭ-ā, behold, there was no man there.

34 Confusion and flight of Syrians: 26th miracle

6 For the Lord [i]had made the host of the Sŷr'ĭ-anş to hear a noise of chariots, and a noise of horses, even the noise of a great host: and they said one to another, Lo, the king of Iş'ra-el hath hired against us [j]the kings of the Hĭt'tītes, and [k]the kings of the Ê-gŷp'tĭanş, to come upon us.

7 Wherefore they arose and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses, even the camp as it was, and fled for their life.

8 And when these lepers came to the uttermost part of the camp, they went into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence silver, and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it; and came again, and entered into another tent, and carried thence also, and went and hid it.

35 Four lepers report to the king: investigation is made

9 Then they said one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace: if we tarry till the morning light, some mischief will come upon us: now therefore come, that we may go and tell the king's household.

10 So they came and called unto the porter of the city: and they told them, saying, We came to the camp of the Sŷr'ĭ-anş, and, behold, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horses tied, and asses tied, and the tents as they were.

11 And he called the [c]porters; and they told it to the king's house within.

12 ¶ And the king arose in the night, and said unto his servants, [f]I will now shew you what the Sŷr'ĭ-anş have done to us. They know that we be hungry; therefore are they gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the field, saying, When they come out of the city, we shall catch them alive, and get into the city.

13 And one of his servants answered and said, Let some take, I pray thee, five of the horses that remain, which are left in the city, (behold, they are as all the multitude of Iş'ra-el that are left in it: behold, I say, they are even as all the multitude of the Iş'ra-el-ītes that are consumed:) and let us send and see.

●14 They took therefore [c]two chariot horses; and the king sent after the host of the Sŷr'ĭ-anş, saying, Go and see.

15 And they went after them unto Jôr'dan: and, lo, all the way was full of garments and vessels, which the Sŷr'ĭ-anş had cast away in their haste. And the messengers returned, and told the king.

36 Elisha's prophecy of plenty of vss. 1-2 fulfilled

16 And [d]the people went out, and spoiled the tents of the Sŷr'ĭ-anş. [g]So a measure of fine flour was sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the LORD.

17 ¶ And [f]the king appointed the lord on whose hand he leaned to have the charge of the gate: and the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had said, who spake when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to pass as the man of God had spoken to the king, [g]saying, Two measures of barley for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for a shekel, shall be to morrow about this time in the gate of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā:

19 And that lord answered the man of God, and said, [h]Now, behold, if the LORD should make windows in heaven, might such a thing be? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but shalt not eat thereof.

20 And so it fell out unto him: for the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died.

321 CHAPTER 8

37 Heaven shut for 7 years: 27th miracle

THEN /spake Ê-lī'shā unto the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, Arise, and go thou and thine household, and sojourn wheresoever thou canst sojourn: for the LORD hath called for a famine; and it shall also come upon the land seven years.★

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God: and she went with her a One porter was called, then another; and they decided to wake the king and tell him (v 10-12)

b Again the king was wrong in his conclusion. Before this he was wrong in thinking that Elisha was responsible for the famine (6:30-31). Here he concluded that the Syrians were playing a trick on him, seeking to enter the city (v 12), but it was decided they should send out a scouting party to see if the report was true (v 13). The riders of the 2 chariots which went out at night to see what had happened (v 14), found garments and other things scattered by the Syrians in flight, all the way to Jordan (v 15)

c This should be trans. two two-horse chariots (v 14)

d The whole city went out to the camp of the Syrians, spoiled their tents, and had plenty supplies as predicted by Elisha (v 1-2, 16)

e A measure (Heb. seah, about 1 peck) of fine flour sold for a shekel (64¢), and 2 measures of barley for that amount, according to the word of Jehovah (v 1-2, 16)

f The king of Israel sent the same man to the gate to take care of the supplies that he had sent to get Elisha for execution-the man to whom the prophet made the prediction that he would not eat any of the food (6:31-33; 7:1-2). He was trampled to death by the starving people, thus fulfilled the prophecy (v 16-20)

g See v 1-2 for the prediction

h Question 52. Next, 8:8

i 10th prophecy in 2 Ki. (8:1, fulfilled). Next, v 10. This one prediction was that there would be a famine in the land for 7 years

j Predicting a famine, Elisha warned the Shunammite woman to take her household wherever she could to sojourn and be saved from the suffering (v 1). This was the woman that had made the prophet a room in her house, and had been given a son who, in childhood, had died and been resurrected to life again. The famine was to last twice as long as the one in the days of Elijah (v 1; Jas. 5:17). The Shunammite arose and went into the land of the Philistines with her household, to remain for 7 years (v 2)

even since the Civil War, so we can speak of Israel and Judah. It was only before the captivities that they were distinguished; during the captivities and afterward, although the same terms were sometimes used, it does not mean that the nation of Israel has been divided ever since. Many of all tribes made up the restored nation and many of the same tribes continued to be scattered among the other nations where they are today

68 In Joel the term Israel is used 3 times and Judah 6 times of the same people: namely, of the people of Israel that will return to Zion and Jerusalem in the days of the Messiah (1:15-3:21). Judah and Jerusalem will be gathered and continue forever (3:1, 20). This includes all Israel, for they will be gathered together and make a nation again in Palestine (3:2, 16; Isa. 11:10-15; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 36-37)

69 In Amos the term Israel is used 30 times and Judah 4 times of the same people called the whole family that came out of Egypt (3:1). Also Zion and Jerusalem are used throughout the book, indicating that Judah is much involved in the message to the whole of Israel (2:4-16; 3:1; 5:1; 6:1). Part of the prophecy conveys God's regret that He had sent many judgments and the people had not returned to Jehovah (4:6-5:27). God promised to punish them and they were to perish like summer fruit (6:1-8:11). They were to wander from sea to sea and from one place to another seeking the word of God but not finding it (8:12-14). The message ends with a prediction that the house of David would be ruined and God would raise it up again after the church age (9:11-15; Acts 15:13-18; Ezek. 37) household, and sojourned in the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes seven years.

38 Jehoram restores the Shunammite's inheritance

3 And it came to pass at the seven years' [e]end, that the woman returned out of the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and she went forth to cry unto the king for her house and for her land.
4 And the king [b]talked with Ge-hă'zī the servant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great things that Ĕ-lī'shá hath done.
5 And it came to pass, as he was telling the king how he had restored a dead body to life, that, behold, the woman, whose son he had restored to life, cried to the king for her house and for her land. And Ge-hă'zī said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Ĕ-lī'shá restored to life.
6 And when the king asked the woman, she told him. So the king appointed unto her a certain [c]officer, saying, Restore all that was hers, and all the fruits of the field since the day that she left the land, even until now.

39 Three miracles (28th, 29th, and 30th) of revelation and knowledge

7 ¶ And Ĕ-lī'shá came to Dă-măs'cus; and Bĕn-hă'dăd the king of Sȳr'ĭ-a was sick; and it was told him, saying, [d]The man of God is come hither.
8 And the king said unto Hăz'a-el, Take a present in thine hand, and go, meet the man of God, and enquire of the LORD by him, saying, [e]Shall I recover of this disease?
9 So Hăz'a-el went to meet him, and took a [f]present with him, even of every good thing of Dă-măs'cus, forty camels' burden, and came and stood before him, and said, Thy son Bĕn-hă'dăd king of Sȳr'ĭ-á hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?
10 And Ĕ-lī'shá said unto him, Go, say unto him, [g]Thou mayest certainly recover: [h]howbeit the LORD hath shewed me that he shall surely die.
11 And [i]he settled his countenance stedfastly, until he was ashamed: and the man of God wept.
12 And Hăz'a-el said, Why weepeth my lord? [j]And he answered, Because I know the evil that thou wilt do unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el: their strong holds wilt thou set on fire, and their young men wilt thou slay with the sword, and wilt dash their children, and rip up their women with child.
13 And Hăz'a-el said, [k]But what, is thy servant a dog, that he should do this great thing? And Ĕ-lī'shá answered, The LORD hath shewed me that thou shalt be king over Sȳr'ĭ-á.
14 So he departed from Ĕ-lī'shá, and came to his master; who said to him, What said Ĕ-lī'shá to thee? And he answered, He told me that thou shouldest surely recover.
15 And it came to pass on the morrow, that [c]he took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and spread it on his face, so that he died: and Hăz'a-el reigned in his stead.

III Kings of Judah. 1 Reign of Jehoram, 5th king of Judah: 8 years (2 Chr. 21).

(1) His character

16 ¶ And in the fifth year of Jō'ram the son of Ă'hăb king of Ĭs'ra-el, [l]Je-hŏsh'a-phăt being then king of Jū'dah, Je-hō'ram the son of Je-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Jū'dah began to reign.
17 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Je-ru'sa-lĕm.
18 And he walked in the way of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el, as did the house of Ă'hăb: for the daughter of Ă'hăb was his wife: and he did [c]evil in the sight of the LORD.
19 [d]Yet the LORD would not destroy Jū'dah for Dā'vid his servant's sake, as he promised him to give him alway a [a]light, and to his children.

(2) Revolt of Edom and Libnah (2 Chr. 21:8-11)

20 ¶ In his days [f]Ĕ'dom revolted from under the hand of Jū'dah, and made a king over themselves.
21 So Jō'ram went over to Zā'ĭr, and all the chariots with him: and he rose by night, and smote the Ĕ'dom-ites which compassed him about, and the captains of the chariots: and the people fled into their tents.
22 Yet Ĕ'dom revolted from under the hand of Jū'dah [g]unto this day. Then Lĭb'nah revolted at the same time.

(3) Death of Jehoram: accession of Ahaziah, 6th king of Judah (2 Chr. 22)

23 And the [h]rest of the acts of Jō'ram, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?
24 And Jō'ram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid: and Ă-ha-zī'ah his son reigned in his stead.

2 Reign of Ahaziah, 6th king of Judah: 1 year (2 Chr. 22).

(1) His character

25 ¶ In the twelfth year of Jō'ram the son of Ă'hăb king of Ĭs'ra-el did Ă-ha-zī'ah the son of Je-hō'ram king of Jū'dah begin to reign.
26 Two and twenty years old was [i]Ă-ha-zī'ah when he began to reign; and he reigned one year in Je-ru'sa-lĕm. And his mother's name was Ăth-a-lī'ah, the [k]daughter of Ōm'rĭ king of Ĭs'ra-el.
27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ă'hăb, and did evil in the sight of the LORD, as did the house of Ă'hăb: for he was the son in law of the house of Ă'hăb.

a The woman Elisha had warned to go into some other land to sojourn during the 7 years of famine, now returned to find her land occupied by others; so she went to Jehoram, king of Israel, to get her land back. Gehazi, the servant of Elisha and the king were talking together at the time, the monarch having inquired about the great miracles of Elisha. The servant was even telling of her son's restoration when the Shunammite cried to the king for her land. He then appointed her an officer to restore her property with rental payment for her fields during the 7 years (v 5-6)

b This talk with Gehazi must have been before he was made a leper, for it is not likely that the king would have been having contact and close conversation with one so diseased. It could be that the writer of Kings collected the facts about Elisha and wrote them without any chronological arrangement

c A certain eunuch. It appears that eunuchs were common in the courts of the kings of Israel as they were in pagan courts of other lands where the kings had many women (v 6; 9:32). There were eunuchs in David's court (1 Chr. 28:1); and no doubt some were maintained by Solomon and following kings. They are mentioned as being in Hezekiah's court (Isa. 56:3-4); and later, even the descendants of Hezekiah became eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon (Isa. 39:5-8; Dan. 1)

d The Syrians had no doubt heard of Elisha, for he was famous in all lands as a prophet of the Lord. This could have been after the healing of Naaman, when all the Syrians would know him because of this miracle. When Elisha was in Damascus, king Ben-hadad, being sick, sent Hazael to inquire of him whether he would recover from the disease he had. This gave Elisha the occasion for his next predictions, which in due time came to pass (v 7-15)

e Questions 53-57. Next, v 23

f Whether Elisha received or accepted this present is not known. 40 camels laden with all good things of Damascus must have been worth much money then, as now (v 9)

g This answer seems a little strange, but it simply meant that as far as recovering from the disease was concerned that was possible; nevertheless, the prophet foresaw the king's assassination by Hazael; and so, the message was that he would surely die (v 10, 15)

h 11th prophecy in 2 Ki. (8:10, fulfilled). Next, v 12. This one prediction was that Ben-hadad would surely die

i Hazael settled his countenance stedfastly, until he was ashamed (v 11). This is no doubt when the thought of murdering Ben-hadad came into his mind; and because of such a thing the man of God wept. Not only for this but for other things Elisha wept also -things which he saw Hazael would do to Israel (v 12)

j 12th prophecy in 2 Ki. (8:12-13, fulfilled). Next, 9:6

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I know the evil you will do to the children of Israel-you will set their strongholds on fire (8:12)
2 You will slay their young men with the sword
3 You will dash their children to death
4 You will rip up their women with child
5 You will be king over Syria (8:13)

k Hazael was surprised at the predictions of Elisha, perhaps not believing at the time that he would become so mean and depraved as to do all these things. Murder had already entered his mind and heart, as in v 11 (note i, above) but evidently not all of the other things the prophet mentioned. Hazael began the fulfillment of the prophecy on the following day when he murdered Ben-hadad (v 15). The other predictions were fulfilled in due time (13:3-7) a Hazael took a wet cloth and smothered Ben-hadad who was weakened by disease, and he died; Hazael then became king of Syria, fulfilling the prediction of v 13

b This shows that Jehoram, son of Jehoshaphat, began reigning with his father in the 5th year of Joram, king of Israel, and that he became sole king the next year. Joram began reigning in the 18th year of Jehoshaphat (3:1), His 5th year would be Jehoshaphat's 23rd or 24th year when Jehoram was associated with him 2 or 3 years before his death (v 16)

c Jehoram married Athaliah, the daughter of wicked Ahab. She influenced him to introduce Baal-worship in Judah. He walked in all the wicked ways of the previous kings of Israel; his worst crime was the slaying of his 6 brothers for their wealth (2 Chr. 21:5-20). See note a, 11:6

d Yet-not just yet, but it had to come eventually, because they were becoming more wicked and confirmed in ungodliness every day until there was no other remedy except judgment-captivity and dispersion. This shows that God delayed action as long as He possibly could (v 19)

e The light here refers to a king and a kingdom, according to the Davidic covenant of 2 Sam. 7. The Heb. ner, light, is used 4 times in respect to David (v 19; 2 Sam. 21:17; 1 Ki. 11:36; 2 Chr. 21:7). A natural consequence of Jehoram's apostasy would have been the destruction of the house of David, and the starting of another dynasty, as in the case of Jeroboam (1 Ki. 14:10), Baasha (1 Ki. 16:2-4), and Ahab (1 Ki. 21:20-22); but the promises to David prevented this, and Jehoram was punished in other ways (v 22; 2 Chr. 21:5-20)

f This was one of the ways of punishing Jehoram for his sins (v 20-22). Edom had been conquered by David (2 Sam. 8:14), but had apparently revolted in the days of Solomon (1 Ki. 11:14-16). It seems that the Edomites were then subdued again in Jehoshaphat's reign (3:8-26). They retained their kings and were more or less independent from this time on until subdued by the Assyrians and Babylonians (Jer. 25:21; 49:7-22; Ezek. 25:12-14; Amos 1:11-14; Oba. 1-14). Libnah also revolted. It was a city of priests, so when Jehoram broke up the temple worship and started the worship of Baal, they rebelled (Josh. 21:13; 2 Chr. 23:1; 24:1-14). The rebellion continued and culminated in the overthrow of wicked Athaliah, as in ch. 11

g This proves the book of Kings was written before the captivity of Judah to Babylon (v 22)

i Question 58. Next, 9:5

j Azariah, Joash, and Amaziah are all omitted in Mt. 1:8; all died violent deaths (9:27; 12:20; 14:19)

k Granddaughter or descendant of Omri. She was really the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel. The words son and daughter are used many times in Scripture of descendants, as in Mt. 1:1. The reason Omri is used here instead of Ahab implies the idea of some greatness attached to him, as is also illustrated with the names in Mt. 1:1. His name prevailed above that of Ahab. Indications of this greatness can be found on Assyrian inscriptions where even Jehu is called the son of Omri

10 acts of Job in his calamity (Job 1:20):

1 He arose (v 20)
2 Rent his mantle as a sign of sorrow. See Rending in Index
3 Shaved his head as a sign of mourning (Lev. 21:5; Jer. 7:29; 16:6; Mic. 1:16)
4 Fell down upon the ground in humility
5 Worshipped Jehovah who had provided all these things for him
6 Consecrated to leave the world as naked as he had come into it (v 21)
7 Acknowledged that God can give or take away
8 Blessed the name of Jehovah
9 Refused to sin (v 22)
10 Did not charge God foolishly a It seems the war of the 2 kings of Syria was for the recovery of Ramoth-gilead, something which Ahab and Jehoshaphat had attempted 14 years before (1 Ki. 22:3-36). Joram probably thought that the coming of a new king to the throne of Judah presented a favorable opportunity for the renewal of the old war. It may also have been that Hazael was at war with the Assyrians in the north and he thought it was the best time to regain this place. It appears that it was recovered (9:14)

b According to Josephus, Joram was struck with an arrow at the source of the siege, but he remained until the city was taken. He then withdrew to Jezreel (v 29; 1 Ki. 18:45; 21:1), leaving his army under Jehu within the walls of the town (9:1-5) c Heb. pak, a flask. Trans. box (v 1, 3), and vial (1 Sam. 10:1)

e 13th prophecy in 2 Ki. (9:6-10, fulfilled). Next, v 26

6 predictions fulfilled:

1 You shall smite the house of Ahab, your master that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, at the hand of Jezebel (9:7)
2 The whole house of Ahab shall perish (9:8)
3 I will cut off from Ahab all males, and him that is shut up and left in Israel
4 I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and the house of Baasha (9:9)
5 The dogs shall eat Jezebel in the portion of Jezreel (9:10)
6 None shall bury her

70 In Obadiah we have a short prophecy that mentions Judah (v 12) and Israel (v 20) along with other nations, as being punished, after which Israel would finally triumph in Mount Zion; and the kingdom would be the Lord's (v 17-21). This Israel is Judah in particular as head of the 12 tribes, for the prophecy is to them and concerns Zion and Jerusalem

71 In Micah the term Israel is used 12 times and Judah 4 times of the people of both Samaria (capital of the 10 tribes) and Jerusalem (capital of the 2 tribes, 1:1). All were equally sinners (1:5) and to be destroyed (1:6-16; 3:12). God will yet gather the remnant of Israel of both houses (2:12-13). The princes of the house of Israel are accused of making Jerusalem sinful, so they must be of Judah (3:8-10, 12). Christ will reign over the remnant of both houses in Jerusalem forever (4:1-8). He was to be born in Bethlehem to be ruler of Israel (5:1-2), which in the N. T. is changed to king of the Jews (Mt. 2:2). Christ, Himself acknowledged Himself as such (Mt. 27:11). Before His kingship, however, He was to give up Israel or both houses until He would come again to rule them (5:3-15). Israel was to wait for Him until He comes again (7:7-20)

72 In Nahum the term Judah is found once (1:15) and Israel once (2:2) of the same people who will be redeemed and made free of wicked men

73 In Habakkuk the words Israel and Judah are not found, but the work predicted in 1:5 was done among Jews in Paul's day; and these are also called men of Israel (Acts 13:16-17, 41-42, 45, 50)

74 In Zephaniah the term Israel is found 4 times and Judah 3 times. The book was written to Judah about 110 years after the 10-tribe kingdom ceased to be. It speaks of the immediate destruction of the kingdom of Judah (1:1-6); the future day of the Lord (Millennium); the wrath of God and also His turning their captivity, making Judah a nation again; and sending Christ to be their king (1:7-2:15; 3:8-20). When Christ is in their midst as their king they will be a praise among all nations (3:14-20). If God is to do this to Judah and the tribe is not representative of the 12, then the other tribes have no part in this, for they are not

(2) Ahaziah assists Joram of Israel in wars (2 Chr. 22:5-7): 11th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

28 ¶ And he went with Jō'ram the son of Ā'hāb [a]to the war against Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-ā in Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd; and the Sȳr'ĭ-ans [b]wounded Jō'ram.

29 And king Jō'ram went back to be healed in Jĕz're-el of the wounds which the Sȳr'ĭ-ans had given him at Rā'mah, when he fought against Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-ā. And Ā-ha-zī'ah the son of Jē-hō'ram king of Jū'dah went down to see Jō'ram the son of Ā'hāb in Jĕz're-el, because he was sick.

322 CHAPTER 9

IV Reign of Jehu, 11th king of Israel: 28 years (9:1-10:36). 1 His anointing: 31st miracle of Elisha

AND Ĕ-lī'shā the prophet called one of the children of the prophets, and said unto him, Gird up thy loins, and take this [c]box of oil in thine hand, and go to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd:

●2 And when thou comest thither, look out there Jē'hū the son of Jē-hŏsh'a-phăt the son of Nĭm'shī, and go in, and make him arise up from among his brethren, and carry him to an inner chamber;

●3 Then take the box of oil, and pour it on his head, and say, Thus saith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Ĭs'ra-el. Then open the door, and flee, and tarry not.

2 Commission of Jehu to destroy all of Ahab's house, fulfilling 1 Ki. 21:21-24

4 ¶ So the young man, even the young man the prophet, went to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd.

5 And when he came, behold, the captains of the host were sitting; and he said, I have an errand to thee, O captain. And Jē'hū said, [d]Unto which of all us? And he said, To thee, O captain.

●6 [e]And he arose, and went into the house; and he poured the oil on his head, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, I have anointed thee king over the people of the LORD, even over Ĭs'ra-el.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Ā'hāb thy master, that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD, at the hand of Jĕz'e-bĕl.

8 For the whole house of Ā'hāb shall perish: and I will cut off from Ā'hāb him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and left in Ĭs'ra-el:

9 And I will make the house of Ā'hāb like the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, and like the house of Bā'a-shā the son of Ā-hī'jah:

10 And the dogs shall eat Jĕz'e-bĕl in the portion of Jĕz're-el, and there shall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.

3 Jehu proclaimed king by the army of Israel

11 ¶ Then Jē'hū came forth to the servants of his lord: and one said unto him, [b]Is all well? wherefore came this mad fellow to thee? And he said unto them, Ye know the man, and his communication.

12 And they said, It is false; tell us now. And he said, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Ĭs'ra-el.

13 Then they hasted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with trumpets, saying, Jē'hū is king.

4 Jehu slays Jehoram king of Israel: 20th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

14 So Jē'hū the son of Jē-hŏsh'a-phăt the son of Nĭm'shī conspired against Jō'ram. (Now Jō'ram had kept Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd, he and all Ĭs'ra-el, because of Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-ā.

15 But king Jō'ram was returned to be healed in Jĕz're-el of the wounds which the Sȳr'ĭ-ans had given him, when he fought with Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-ā.) And Jē'hū [c]said, If it be your minds, then let none go forth nor escape out of the city to go to tell it in Jĕz're-el.

16 So Jē'hū rode in a chariot, and went to Jĕz're-el; for Jō'ram lay there. And Ā-ha-zī'ah king of Jū'dah was come down to see Jō'ram.

●17 And there stood [d]a watchman on the tower in Jĕz're-el, and he spied the company of Jē'hū as he came, and said, I see a company. And Jō'ram said, Take an horseman, and send to meet them, and let him say, [e]Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horseback to meet him, and said, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Jē'hū said, What hast thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me. And the watchman told, saying, The messenger came to them, but he cometh not again.

19 Then he sent out a second on horseback, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Jē'hū answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me.

20 And the watchman told, saying, He came even unto them, and cometh not again: and the driving is like the driving of Jē'hū the son of Nĭm'shī; for he driveth furiously.

●21 And Jō'ram said, Make ready. And his chariot was made ready. And Jō'ram king of Ĭs'ra-el and Ā-ha-zī'ah king of Jū'dah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out against Jē'hū, and met him in the portion of Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-īte.

22 And it came to pass, when Jō'ram saw Jē'hū, that he said, Is it peace, Jē'hū? And he answered, What peace, [f]so long as the whoredoms of thy mother

b Questions 60-61, Next, v 17
c Jehu obtained a promise from the captains that no man should leave Ramoth-gilead to report to Joram that he had been anointed king. He then went immediately to assassinate king Joram and secure the kingdom for himself (v 15-37) d The watchman in Jezreel reported the approach of Jehu, who captured 2 messengers of the king. Finally Joram and his visiting king from Judah went out to meet Jehu and were slain (v 12-29)
e Questions 62-66, Next, v 31
f Jehu made it clear to Joram, king of Israel, why he had to destroy him - because of the whoredoms of his mother, Jezebel, and her witchcrafts (v 22)

mentioned. However, from Isa. 11:10-15; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 36-37 and other scriptures it is clear that all the tribes will be with Judah, the ruling tribe in that day. When Christ comes it will be to the Jews at Jerusalem where He will reign over His own tribe along with the others of the 12 tribes of Israel (Isa. 2:1-4; 9:6-7; 65:20-25; Zech. 14; Lk. 22:29-30)

75 In Haggai the word Israel is not found, but Judah is mentioned 4 times and refers to the ones the prophet speaks to (1:1, 14; 2:2, 21). The book speaks of the coming of Christ as the desire of all nations, and the eternal glory of Israel as greater than the glory of the past (2:6-9). The last prophecy is of the overthrow of all kingdoms when the kingdoms of this world will become God's and Christ's to reign over forever (2:21-23; Rev. 11:15)

76 In Zechariah the term Israel is used 4 times and Judah 22 times. The book was written mainly to show the restoration of Judah and all Israel to Jerusalem in the last days when Messiah comes. It first shows that Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem were scattered and how God will yet choose Jerusalem (1:16-21). It predicts the coming of Jehovah to dwell in the midst of Zion, not London, and bless all nations (2:1-13). It speaks of Christ building the Millennial temple and being the king of Jerusalem (6:12-13; 8:3-8, 20-23); of the gathering of Judah, Joseph, Ephraim and all Israel back to Jerusalem; and of God having mercy on them as if He had not cast them off at all (10:6-12). It finally predicts that the armies of Gentile nations will be gathered against Jerusalem and Judah (12:1-9; 14:1-15). All inhabitants of Jerusalem will be saved in that day by an outpouring of the Spirit (12:10-13:7). Christ will be King over all the earth from that time, and Jerusalem will be His eternal capital (14:1-21). Both houses of Israel will share these blessings (8:13-23). Emphasis is on the house of Judah as the ruling tribe of the 12 (1:19-21; 2:12; 8:13-19; 9:7, 13; 10:3, 6; 11:14; 12:2-7; 14:5, 14, 21)

77 In Malachi the word Israel is found 5 times, and Judah 3 times of the same people. The Israel of 1:1 is called Jerusalem and Judah (2:11; 3:4). The book speaks of the ministry of John the Baptist to Israel (3:1) which was fulfilled with Jews at Jerusalem (Mt. 3; Lk. 3; Jn. 1:19). It also speaks of Elijah coming as one of the 2 witnesses of Rev. 11, which will be fulfilled with Jews at Jerusalem (4:5-6; Rev. 11:8). Malachi prophesied to the restored Jews of all the tribes after the captivities

78 In the N. T. the words Jew and Jews are used 191 times as compared to 94 times in the O. T. It is definite in the N. T. as to which people are called Jews. The word Judah is used only once compared to 346 times in the O. T. The word Juda is found 10 times and Judea 43 times (In the N. T.). The word Israel is found 74 times compared to 2,475 times in the O. T. One can see from this that the term Jews is the more com-

h Literally, put her eyes in paint, alluding to the ancient custom of coloring the eyelids, eyebrows and lashes with black powder called kohl. It was made by burning liban, a kind of frankincense, and the shells of almonds. This was purely for ornamental purposes whereas another kind made from powder of ore or lead was used as much for medicinal purposes as for beauty. In the use of kohl the arch of the brows was much darkened and elongated, and the edges of the eyelids, both above and below, were colored. This, by contrast made the white of the eyes look larger. Such painting was practiced as far back as the days of Job, from which fact one of his daughters was called Keren-happuch, meaning paint horn (Job 42:14). Kohl was applied to the eyelids with a small piece of wood, ivory, or silver made for this purpose; in shape it was like the bodkin. It was first moistened in rose water then dipped into the black powder and drawn over the eyelids. See Pr. 6:25; Jer. 4:30; Ezek. 23:40 moon name for Israelites in the N. T., regardless of tribe. The Anglo-Israel argument that the term Jew means from Judah and only Judahites are Jews is unscriptural, for Israelites of other tribes are also Jews. If Benjamites are called Jews because of being a part of Judah, then every man from any other tribe is a Jew if he belongs to this kingdom

42 proofs Jews are the Israel of N. T.:

(1) Jesus was born to be king of the Jews (Mt. 2:2), as Jesus, Himself acknowledged (Mt. 27:11). These Jews are called My people Israel (Mt. 2:6)

(2) The land of Israel (Mt. 2:20) is called the land of the Jews (Acts 10:39), and Judea (Mt. 2:20-22)

(3) John the Baptist was sent to Israel (Mal. 1:1; 3:1), and he went to the Jews in Judea (Mt. 3:1, 5; Jn. 1:19), not to a lost Israel in England and America

(4) Christ recognized that the Jews He ministered to were Israel (Mt. 8:10; 9:35). The Anglo-Israel teaching declares the 10 tribes did not return to the land with the Jews after the captivities, so all that is said of those whom Christ and the apostles ministered to must be understood as Jews and the only Israel in existence in God's plan

(5) Christ called the Jews He ministered to the lost sheep of the house of Israel (Mt. 10:5-6; 15:24)

(6) The apostles were commanded to go only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel (Mt. 10:6); and they ministered to known Israelites of all the tribes in the promised land. They never left the promised land, and were not told to do so until they had first gone to Jerusalem, Judea, and Samaria (Lk. 24:47; Acts 1:8; 2:5, 14, 22, 36;

Jĕz'e-bĕl and her witchcrafts are so many?

23 And Jō'ram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Ā-ha-zī'ah, There is treachery, O Ā-ha-zī'ah.

24 And Jē'hū drew a bow with his full strength, and smote Jēhō'ram between his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he sunk down in his chariot.

25 Then said Jē'hū to Bĭd'kär his captain, Take up, and cast him in the portion of the field of Nā'bŏth the Jĕz're-el-ite: for remember how that, when I and thou rode together after Ā'hăb his father, the LORD laid this burden upon him;

26 Surely I have seen yesterday the blood of Nā'bŏth, and the blood of his sons, saith the LORD; and I will requite thee in this plat, saith the LORD. Now therefore take and cast him into the plat of ground, according to the word of the LORD.

27 ¶ But when Ā-ha-zī'ah the king of Jū'dah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden house. And Jē'hū followed after him, and said, Smite him also in the chariot. And they did so at the going up to Gūr, which is by Ĭb'le-ăm. And he fled to Mē-gĭd'dō, and died there.

28 And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jē-rū'sălēm, and buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid.

29 And in the eleventh year of Jō'ram the son of Ā'hăb began Ā-ha-zī'ah to reign over Jū'dah.

31 And as Jē'hū entered in at the gate, she said, Had Zĭm'rī peace, who slew his master?

32 And he lifted up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side? who? And there looked out to him two or three eunuchs.

33 And he said, Throw her down. So they threw her down: and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and he trode her under foot.

34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and said, Go, see now this cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a king's daughter.

35 And they went to bury her: but they found no more of her than the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came again, and told him. And he said, This is the word of the LORD, which he spake by his servant Ē-lī'jah the Tĭsh'bīte, saying, In the portion of Jĕz'reel shall dogs eat the flesh of Jĕz'e-bĕl:

37 And the carcase of Jĕz'e-bĕl shall be as dung upon the face of the field in the portion of Jĕz're-el; so that they shall not say, This is Jĕz'e-bĕl.

CHAPTER 10 32?

7 Jehu slays the sons of Ahab fulfilling 1 Ki. 21:21

AND Ā'hăb had seventy sons in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā. And Jē'hū wrote letters, and sent to Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, unto the rulers of Jĕz're-el, to the elders, and to them that brought up Ā'hăb's children, saying,

2 Now as soon as this letter cometh to you, seeing your master's sons are with you, and there are with you chariots and horses, a fenced city also, and armour;

3 Look even out the best and meetest of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, Behold, two kings stood not before him: how then shall we stand?

5 And he that was over the house, and he that was over the city, the elders also, and the bringers up of the children, sent to Jē'hū, saying, We are thy servants, and will do all that thou shalt bid us; we will not make any king: do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

6 Then he wrote a letter the second time to them, saying, If ye be mine, and if ye will hearken unto my voice, take ye the heads of the men your master's sons, and come to me to Jĕz're-el by to morrow this time. Now the king's sons, being seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, which brought them up.

7 And it came to pass, when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons, and slew seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets, and sent him them to Jĕz're-el.

8 ¶ And there came a messenger, and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the king's sons. And he said, Lay ye them in two heaps at the entering in of the gate until the morning.

9 And it came to pass in the morning, that he went out, and stood, and said to all the people, Ye be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slew all these?

10 Know now that there shall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the LORD, which the LORD spake concerning the house of Ā'hăb: for the LORD hath done that which he spake by his servant Ē'lī'jah.

11 So Jē'hū slew all that remained of the house of Ā'hăb in Jĕz're-el, and all his great men, and his kinsfolks, and his priests, until he left him none remaining.

8 Jehu slays the princes of Judah, descendants of a The next accomplishment of Jehu was the total destruction of Ahab's 70 sons or grandsons. He wrote a letter to the rulers of Jezreel, and the elders that brought them up, warning them to set one of the sons on the throne and have all the others prepare to defend him and themselves (v 1-3). The elders were exceedingly afraid because two kings already had not been able to stand before Jehu, so they surrendered to him. He demanded all the heads of Ahab's sons by the following day and this was granted (v 4-9). He then slew all that remained of the house of Ahab-all his kinsfolk, the great men, and his priests (v 10-11)

(7) The cities of Israel (Mt. 10:23) were cities of the Jews (Mt. 11:1, 20-24). The so-called 10 tribes had no cities in Palestine at this time unless they were the Jews of the N. T.

(8) Christ promised that the 12 apostles would sit on 12 thrones judging the 12 tribes of Israel when He comes again to set up the kingdom of Israel (Mt. 19:28; Lk. 22:29-30). Paul spoke of the whole 12 tribes in his day as having hope in the resurrection (Acts 26:7). James spoke of the 12 tribes scattered abroad and wrote to them (Jas. 1:1). How could he write to 10 tribes who were lost and unknown at the time? There will be 12,000 from each of the 12 tribes sealed in the future tribulation in Palestine, so they will be back in their own land at that time or this could not be true (Rev. 7:1-8). The 12 tribes will be restored in Palestine during the Millennium, for Ezekiel names them as inheriting 12 portions of the land of promise at that time (Ezek. 47:13-29). The names of 12 tribes will be on the earthly city Jerusalem in the Millennium (Ezek. 48:30-35). They will also be on the heavenly New Jerusalem (Rev. 21:12). Since Anglo-Saxons are not going back to Palestine and they plainly declare they are not supposed to go back, then they are not of the 12 tribes of Israel

(9) Jesus plainly taught that the kingdom of God was in the hands of the Jews during His day (Mt. 21:33-46). It was to be taken from them and given to another nation (people), the Gentiles, as Paul declares (Acts 13:46-49; Rom. 11:13-29. Cp. Acts 15:13-18)

(10) Matthew calls the Jews who helped crucify Christ the children of Israel (Mt. 27:9; 28:15; Jn. 18:12-39; 19:7-40). They are also called men of Israel, all the house of Israel, elders of Israel, all the people of Israel (Acts 2:22, 36; 3:12; 4:8-10; 5:21)

(11) John the Baptist was to turn many of the children of Israel to God (Lk. 1:16), but all he ever went to were Jews. He was to minister to Israel, but he ministered only to Jews (Mt. 3:1, 5; Jn. 1:19)

(12) Simeon waited for the consolation of Israel (Lk. 2:25), but the Jews got the consolation (Lk. 2:26-32; Mt. 10:5; Jn. 1:11)

(13) Christ was to be the glory of thy people Israel (Lk. 2:32), but He only went to the Jews (Jn. 11:11; Rom. 1:16)

(14) Christ was set for the fall and rising of many in Israel (Lk. 2:34), but this was fulfilled only with Jews (Mt. 21:42-44; 23:37-39)

(15) Christ was to be made manifest to Israel (Jn. 1:31), but it was to Jews only that He was manifested (Jn. 1:11, 29)

(16) Christ was called king of Israel (Jn. 1:49; 12:13); and He was king of e Jehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Samaria, thus ending the political revolution which transferred the throne of Israel from the house of Omri to the house of Nimshi, the 5th of the royal families of Israel. Having now slain all the political rivals of Ahab's line, Jehu turned to the religious question (v 18-28)

f Jehu now gathered all the worshippers and prophets of Baal together for one great festival, pretending a desire to worship Baal more than others before him. His real motive was to destroy completely everyone in Israel who worshipped Baal (v 18-19). He followed a plan which would guarantee every such worshipper to be together at one time with no worshipper of Jehovah present (v 20-23)
g Like the priests of other nations, the priests of Baal had their particualr sacred robes which they used while ministering the rites of their religion. It seems that even every worshipper had a special vestment (v 22)
h The presence of persons belonging to another religion was usually regarded by the ancients as profaning the rites. In the case of the Greek mysteries such intrusion is said to have meant death. Hence, Jehu could give these injunctions to Baal worshippers without arousing suspicion (v 23)

the Jews (Mt. 2:2; 27:11)

(17) Nicodemus was master in Israel, but ruler of the Jews (Jn. 3:1,10)

(18) Disciples wanted to know whether Christ was now going to restore the kingdom to Israel (Acts 1:7). When it does happen it will be to Judah and the house of David (Isa. 9:6-7; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18)

(19) The senate of the children of Israel is mentioned in Acts 5:21, but it was the senate of the Jews, called elders of the Jews (Lk. 7:3; Jn. 3:1)

(20) Paul was chosen to bear the name of Christ before the children of Israel (Acts 9:15). This he did not do if Jews were not the Israel of his day, for he went to Jews in various places of the Roman Empire. No reference is made of him going to 10 lost tribes. His first sermons were to Jews and his first persecution was from them (Acts 9:22-23). In fact, the first gospel sermon by any apostle was to Jews only, called men of Israel (Acts 2:5, 10, 14, 22) and all the house of Israel (Acts 2:36). Paul's first missionary trip was to Jews (Acts 13:5, 42-45). They rejected his preaching and he became bold enough to declare that if they did not want the gospel he would take it to the Gentiles, not to some so-called lost tribes of Israel (Acts 13:46-50). He continued preaching however, in the synagogues of the Jews (Acts 14:1-5, 13; 16:3, 20; 17:1, 5, 10, 13, 17; 18:4-5, 12, 14, 19, 28; 19:10-17, 33; 20:21; 21:11, 20-21, 27; 22:12, 30; 24:5, 9, 18; 26:2-7, 21; 28:17, 19, 29; Rom. 3:9, 29; 9:24; 1 Cor. 9:20; 10:32; 12:13; Gal. 2:13-15). The Jews were his persecutors (Acts 20:9, 19; 21:11-27; 23:12-30; 24:5-9, 18, 27; 25:2-24; 26:2-21; 2 Cor. 11:24)

(21) Jesus was sent to Israel (Acts 10:36), but He went to Jews (Jn. 1:11; 5:1-11:54)

(22) Paul called all the Jews he preached to men of Israel and this people of Israel (Acts 13:5, 16, 17). He declared to these Jews that God had fulfilled His promise in sending a Saviour to Israel and that John the Baptist had preached repentance to all the people of Israel (Acts 13:23-24)

(23) The Jews from Asia visiting the temple in Jerusalem saw Paul with all the other Jews and cried out Men of Israel, help. They caught Paul and started to kill him, but he was rescued (Acts 21:27-28)

●14 And he said, Take them alive. And they took them alive, and slew them at the pit of the shearing house, even two and [d]forty men; neither left he any of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he lighted [e]on Jē-hŏn'a-dāb the son of Rē'chāb coming to meet him: and he saluted him, and said to him, [f]Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jē-hŏn'a-dāb answered, It is. If it be, give me thine hand. And he gave him his hand; and he took him up to him into the chariot.

●16 And he said, Come with me, and see my zeal for the LORD. So they made him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, he [g]slew all that remained unto Ā'hăb in Sā-ma'rĭ-ā, till he had destroyed him, according to the saying of the LORD, which he spake to Ē-lī'jah.

10 Jehu slays all Baal worshippers: burns their gods

18 ¶ And [h]Jē'hū gathered all the people together, and said unto them, Ā'hăb served Bā'al a little; but Jē'hū shall serve him much.

●19 Now therefore call unto me all the prophets of Bā'al, all his servants, and all his priests; let none be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice to do to Bā'al; whosoever shall be wanting, he shall not live. But Jē'hū did it in subtilty, to the intent that he might destroy the worshippers of Bā'al.

20 And Jē'hū said, Proclaim a solemn assembly for Bā'al. And they proclaimed it.

21 And Jē'hu sent through all Ĭs'ra-el: and all the worshippers of Bā'al came, so that there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Bā'al; and the house of Bā'al was full from one end to another.

●22 And he said unto him that was over the vestry, [i]Bring forth vestments for all the worshippers of Bā'al. And he brought them forth vestments.

●23 And Jē'hū went, and Jē-hŏn'a-dāb the son of Rē'chāb, into the house of Bā'al, [j]and said unto the worshippers of Bā'al, Search, and look that there be here with you none of the servants of the LORD, but the worshippers of Bā'al only.

24 And when they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings, [k]Jē'hū appointed fourscore men without, and said, If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands escape, he that letteth him go, his life shall be for the life of him.

●25 And it came to pass, as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, that Jē'hū said to the guard and to the captains, Go in, and slay them; let none come forth. And they smote them with the edge of the sword; and the guard and the captains cast them out, and went to the city of the house of Bā'al.

26 And they brought forth the images out of the house of Bā'al, and burned them.

27 And they brake down the image of Bā'al, and brake down the house of Bā'al, and made it a draught house unto this day.

28 Thus Jē'hū destroyed Bā'al out of Ĭs'ra-el.

11 Jehu continues in idol worship yet is rewarded for fulfilling 1 Ki. 21:21-24

29 ¶ [l]Howbeit from the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, who made Ĭs'ra-el to sin, Jē'hū departed not from after them, to wit, the golden calves that were in Bĕth'-el, and that were in Dăn.

●30 And the LORD [m]said unto Jē'hū, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ā'hăb according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Ĭs'ra-el.

31 But Jē'hū [n]took no heed to walk in the law of the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el with all his heart: for he departed not from the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am, which made Ĭs'ra-el to sin.

12 God begins judgment upon Israel to destroy them out of the land, fulfilling 8:12-13; Lev. 26:14-44; Dt. 28:15-68

13 Death of Jehu: accession of Jehoahaz, 12th king of Israel (13:1-9)

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jē'hū, and all that he did, and all his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el?

35 And Jē'hū slept with his fathers: and they buried him in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā. And Jē-hō'a-hăz his son reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Jē'hū reigned over Ĭs'ra-el in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā was twenty and eight years.

a Jehu appointed 80 men to be outside the temple of Baal with swords ready to destroy all worshippers. He commanded them not to let one man escape or their own life would be forfeited (v 24). When the Baal worshippers were finished with the burnt offering these men were told to go in and slay all without exception. They obeyed, bringing forth the images and burning them. They broke down the image of Baal and the house of Baal, making it a dunghill. Thus, Baal worship was destroyed out of Israel (v 24-28)
b Jehu did much good in destroying Baal worship, but he still held on to the golden calf worship of Jeroboam. In spite of this God promised to reward him by permitting his children to continue as rulers of Israel to the 4th generation (v 29-31)

The 4 generations were:
1 Jehoahaz (v 34-36; 13:1-9)
2 Joash (13:10-25; 14:16)
3 Jeroboam II (14:16-29)

at Rome (Acts 28:17-19) told them that he was bound in chains because of the hope of Israel (Acts 28:20). This would be no way to win Jews if they thought he was referring to an unknown and lost people and not to them

(25) The Judah of Isa. 1:1, 9 is called Israel in Rom. 9:27-33; but these people were the Jews of the N. T. (Rom. 3:9, 29; 9:24)

(26) Paul speaks of Jews and Israel as being the same and sets forth their rejection by God because of sin, and the acceptance of the Gentiles (not the so-called 10 lost tribes) in their place (Rom. 1:16; 2:9, 10, 17, 28-29; 3:1, 9, 29; 9:24; 10:1-12; 11:1-29)

(27) Blindness in part is happened to Israel until the Messiah comes to save them (Rom. 11:25-29), but it was to the Jews that Christ said their house was left desolate until they would accept Him - at His 2nd advent (Mt. 23:27-29)

(28) Paul said that Israel after the flesh were partakers of the altar of God (1 Cor. 10:18). This could only refer to those of Judah and the Jews of other tribes with them, for they were the only ones who had the true worship at Jerusalem. The 10 tribes made golden calves as their gods which they worshipped until they were cut off and scattered among the nations (1 Ki. 12:25-33; 13:33-34; 2 Ki. 17:7-23). The godly of the 10 tribes left the idolatry and returned to Judah in great numbers

(29) Paul speaks of the new covenant yet to be made with both houses of Israel (Heb. 8:8-10). Jeremiah reveals that it would be made in the day of the 2nd advent of Christ when all Israel will be gathered from among the nations to be under their Messiah in Palestine forever (Jer. 30:3-11, 18-24; 31:1-40; 32:37-44; 33:3-26. (32) The apostles did not recognize any other class of people besides Jews and Gentiles (Rom. 1:16, 2:9-10, 3:9, 29; 9:24; 1 Cor. 1:22-24; 10:32; 12:13; Gal. 2:13-15; 3:28; Col. 3:11; 1 Th. 2:14; Rev. 2:9; 3:9)

2 A returned exile (Ezra 8:7)
3 The only ruling queen of both Judah and Israel. She was the granddaughter of Omri (2 Chr. 22:2), and the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel. The marriage between Jehoram, king of Judah, and Athaliah, daughter of Jezebel, was part of Satan's design to introduce idolatry into Judah, so that Athaliah might do for Judah what Jezebel did for Israel. Jehoshaphat began his reign by strengthening himself against Israel (2 Chr. 17:1), but married his son to the idolatress daughter of Israel's worst rulers - Ahab and Jezebel. The leaven worked morally and politically, and was used by Satan in an effort to destroy the Seed of the women, the Messiah, whom he was determined to prevent from coming into the world. Jehoram, king of Judah, began this destruction by killing all his brethren (2 Chr. 21:4). The Arabians came and destroyed all his sons, save the youngest, Azariah (2 Chr. 22:1). Then Athaliah killed all the sons of Ahaziah on his death (v 1-2; 2 Chr. 23:3), or thought she did; but the infant Joash was rescued, being the only one left in the line of the coming Messiah. He was hid for 6 years, while the faithfulness of Jehovah's word hung upon the divine preservation of the child's life. Athaliah's was a case of "like mother like daughter" - both were wicked queens, idolaters and murderers. Imagine a woman killing her grandchildren and other close relatives as Athaliah did, to further her political ambitions

b Jehosheba, daughter of king Jorom and queen Athaliah - the wife of Jehoiada, the high priest. Jehoiada was brother-in-law to Azariah and uncle of Joash, son of Azariah (2 Chr. 22:11) c This was the safest place, for the worship in the temple had been abolished and everything removed from it (2 Chr. 24:7). The temple courts were deserted. The abolishment of Jehovah in favor of Baal caused Jehoiada, the high priest to plot the overthrow of Athaliah, the restoration of the rightful heir to the throne, and the establishment of the worship of Jehovah again

d In the 7th year Jehoiada saw his opportunity to put the rightful heir on the throne of Judah; so he called all the rulers of hundreds and captains of the guards to the temple, and made a covenant with them; he took an oath of them, and showed them the king's son. His agreement with them was to protect the king's son, take part in the rebellion, and overthrow the wicked queen, Athaliah. They brought the king's son, Joash, out from the temple and crowned him king (v 4-12)

e 7 fold act in making a king (v 12):
1 Brought forth the king's son
2 Put a crown upon him
3 Gave him the testimony (10 commandments; Ex. 31:18; 32:15; 34:29)
4 Declared him king
5 Anointed him
6 Clapped the hands
7 Shouted: God save the king!

they and not some other people who were lost and unknown, were Israel - the custodians of religion

(34) Jesus said, salvation is of the Jews (Jn. 4:22)

(35) The feasts of the law of Moses given to all Israel were called feasts of the Jews in the days of Christ, proving that they only had preserved the law and its rituals and were the custodians of the program of God (Jn. 2:13; 5:1; 6:4; 7:2, 11; 11:55; 19:42)

(36) The Jews were the only people who had the first responsibility of hearing and obeying the gospel from John the Baptist (Jn. 1:19; 3:25); from Christ (Jn. 1:11; 3:1; 4:9-24; 5:1-18; 6:4, 41, 52; 7:1-35; 8:22-57; 9:18-22; 10:19-33; 11:8-54; 12:9-11; 13:33; 18:12-39; 19:3-40; 20:19); and from the apostles and early Christians who were mainly all Jews (Mt. 10:6; Acts 2:5, 10, 22-36; 9:22-23; 10:22, 39; 11:19; 13:5,

CHAPTER 11 324

V Kings of Judah (11:1-12:21). 1 Reign of Athaliah, first and only woman ruler of Judah and Israel: 6 years (11:1-21; 2 Chr. 22:10-12). (1) Accession and character

AND when [a]Ath-a-lī'ah mother of Ā-ha-zī'ah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the seed royal.

2 But [b]Jĕ-hŏsh'e-bā, the daughter of king Jō'ram, sister of Ā-ha-zī'ah, took Jō'ăsh the son of Ā-ha-zī'ah, and stole him from among the king's sons which were slain; and they hid him, even him and his nurse, in the bedchamber from Ăth-a-lī'ah, so that he was not slain.

3 And he was with her hid [c]in the house of the LORD six years. And Ăth-a-lī'ah did reign over the land.

(2) Rebellion of Jehoiada the priest (2 Chr. 23:1-11): 21st civil strife (2 Ki. 25: 25, refs.)

4 ¶ And the [d]seventh year Jĕ-hoi'a-dā sent and fetched the rulers over hundreds, with the captains and the guard, and brought them to him into the house of the LORD, and made a covenant with them, and took an oath of them in the house of the LORD, and shewed them the king's son.

●5 And he commanded them, saying, This is the thing that ye shall do; A third part of you that enter in on the sabbath shall even be keepers of the watch of the king's house;

●6 And a third part shall be at the gate of Sûr; and a third part at the gate behind the guard: so shall ye keep the watch of the house, that it be not broken down.

●7 And two parts of all you that go forth on the sabbath, even they shall keep the watch of the house of the LORD about the king.

●8 And ye shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand: and he that cometh within the ranges, let him be slain: and be ye with the king as he goeth out and as he cometh in.

9 And the captains over the hundreds did according to all things that Jĕ-hoi'a-dā the priest commanded: and they took every man his men that were to come in on the sabbath, with them that should go out on the sabbath, and came to Jĕ-hoi'a-dā the priest.

10 And to the captains over hundreds did the priest give king Dā'vid's spears and shields, that were in the temple of the LORD.

11 And the guard stood, every man with his weapons in his hand, round about the king, from the right corner of the temple to the left corner of the temple, along by the altar and the temple.

12 And he [e]brought forth the king's son, and put the crown upon him, and gave him [e]the testimony; and they made him king, and anointed him; and they clapped their hands, and said, God save the king.

(3) Execution of Athaliah (2 Chr. 23:12-15)

13 ¶ And when Ăth-a-lī'ah heard the noise of the guard and of the people, she [b]came to the people into the temple of the LORD.

14 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by a pillar, as the manner was, and the princes and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew with trumpets: and Ăth-a-lī'ah rent her clothes, and [c]cried, Treason, Treason.

●15 But Jĕ-hoi'a-dā the priest commanded the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the host, and said unto them, Have her forth without the ranges: and him that followeth her kill with the sword. For the priest had said, Let her not be slain in the house of the LORD.

16 And they laid hands on her; and she went by the way by the which the horses came into the king's house: and there was she slain.

(4) Revival through Jehoiada (2 Chr. 23:16-21)

17 ¶ And Jĕ-hoi'a-dā [d]made a covenant between the LORD and the king and the people, that they should be the LORD's people; between the king also and the people.

18 And all the people of the land went into [e]the house of Bā'al, and brake it down; his altars and his images brake they in pieces thoroughly, and slew Măt'tan the priest of Bā'al before the altars. And the priest appointed officers over the house of the LORD.

19 And he took the rulers over hundreds, and the captains, and the guard, and all the people of the land; and they brought down the king from the house of the LORD, and came by the way of the gate of the guard to the king's house. And he sat on the throne of the kings.

20 And all the people of the land [f]rejoiced, and the city was in quiet: and they slew Ăth-a-lī'ah with the sword beside the king's house.

21 [g]Seven years old was [h]Jĕ-hŏ'ăsh when he began to reign.

325 CHAPTER 12

2 Reign of Joash or Jehoash, 7th king of Judah: 40 years (2 Chr. 24:1-3). (1) Third good king in Judah (1 Ki. 15:9; 22:43)

IN the seventh year of [i]Jē'hū Jĕ-hŏ'ăsh began to reign; and forty years reigned he in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm. And his mother's name was Zĭb'ī-ah of Bĕ'er-shē'bā.

2 And Jĕ-hŏ'ăsh did that which was [j]right in the sight of the LORD [k]all his days wherein a At the anointing of a king he was given a copy of the law of Moses, by which he should govern and mete out justice to the people (Dt. 17:18). The 10 commandments are called the testimony in Ex. 25:16, 21; 27:21; 30:6; 31:18; 32:15; 34:29; 40:20

b She never dreamed of such a thing happening as took place on that day - her own assassination. Thinking she had killed all the possible heirs to the throne, she considered herself secure; but in her case, as in the case of the others who sin, there was a reaping day for transgression of the law and the conscience

c Justice! justice! would have been the better cry for this wicked queen who had killed so many in order to reign (v 1-2, 15). She paid for her crimes with her life here (v 15-16), and will continue to pay in all eternity in hell for rejecting Jehovah

d 8 fold revival under Jehoiada:
1 He made a covenant between the Lord and the king and his people that they should be the people of Jehovah (v 17)
2 He made a covenant between the king and the people
3 All the people broke down the house of Baal (v 18)
4 They broke down the Baal altars
5 They broke all the images of Baal
6 They slew Mattan, the priest of Baal
7 Priests were appointed officers over the house of Jehovah (v 19)
8 The new king was placed on his throne

e The house of Baal was built by Jehoram and Athaliah (2 Chr. 24:7)

f There was great rejoicing and peace in all the city as a result of the revival under Jehoiada (v 20)

g Joash was the youngest person to become king in all Israel, being only 7 years of age (v 21). He reigned 40 years, and was slain by his servants at the age of 47 (12:1, 19-21)

h Jehoash, Jehovah supports, 2 so-called:
1 Son of Ahaziah, 11th king of Judah (11:1-12:18; 14:13). Called Joash (11:2)
2 12th king of the 10 tribes (13:10, 25; 14:8-17)

i 10th king of the 10 tribes (9:1-10:36)

j He was the 3rd of 8 good kings of Judah (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6)

k This means all the days of Jehoiada only, and while he was alive to keep him from doing wrong (v 2), for when Jehoiada died at the age of 130 years Joash or Jehoash did evil in God's sight and brought judgment upon his people as well as himself. For this, God permitted a small band of Syrians to conquer a large army of Israel (2 Chr. 24:14-27)

Jews, not an unknown nation of Israelites, are mentioned in all these passages

(37) Jews had the responsibility of passing on the religion of Jehovah to others, but failed; so it was taken from them and given to the Gentiles - the only other class of human beings mentioned in Scripture, other than Jews (Mt. 21:33-46; Rom. 11; 1 Cor. 10:32; Gal. 1:13-14)

(38) Jews were the ones who arrested Jesus, tried Him, and condemned Him as worthy of death (Jn. 18:12-19:40; Acts 2:22, 36)

(39) No man was ever called to go to a separate people from the Jews and Gentiles who are mentioned so often together. Not one reference can be found of a third class of people other than these. The church which is often referred to, is made up of both Jews and Gentiles (1 Cor. 10:32). So it is clear that there is not an Israel separate and distinct from the ones known as Jews

(40) The Jews of the days of Christ and the apostles are the only people

a This is repeated 6 times in the history of the kings (v 3; 14:4; 15:4, 35; 1 Ki. 15:14; 22:43). The term high places is found 77 times, its first use being in connection with the worship of Baal (Num. 22:41). Israel was to destroy all such places (Num. 33:52; Dt. 33: 29). They are first mentioned in Israel in the reign of Solomon (1 Ki. 3:2-4), who built a large one himself (1 Ki. 11:7). From his time forward they were numerous and continued throughout the time of most of the kings of Israel and Judah. They were removed in the reign of Hezekiah, 16th king of Judah, when all the groves were burned, the images broken, and the brazen serpent that Moses made was destroyed (18:4). They were built again by Manasseh, son of Hezekiah (21:3); and again destroyed by Josiah (23:8-20)

b It seems that Solomon's temple needed repairs, having been built about 153 years by this time, and not kept in repair as it should have been by the priests, Jehoash commanded that the money dedicated to God should be used for this purpose, but the priests used it for themselves, neglecting the house of God. Calling them into conference, Jehoash commanded them again to repair the temple; and the priests consented to do so (v 4-8). In order to obtain money quickly for the work a chest was made with a hole in the lid to receive gifts from all who came to worship (v 9); and much was given (v 10-16)

c From the completion of the temple in the 11th year of Solomon to the 23rd year of Jehoash would be 153 years. By this time, no doubt, the wood part of the building needed to be replaced and this would also affect some of the stone work. In the repairing carpenters, masons, hewers of stone, and other workmen were hired (v 12). The word breaches in v 4-8 suggests that there were breaks here and there in the structure that time and neglect had brought about

e It seems from this that the priests were using the money they had been commanded to repair the temple with. Now they agreed not to use it thus anymore, but to finance the repairs with it (v 7-8)

f It does not seem reasonable that the priests would agree not to repair the house when that is what they were commanded to do (v 5-6). The Sept. reads: "So the priests agreed not to receive any money from the people, on condition that they should not bear the expense of the repairs of the house" (v 8). The idea seems to be that they would discontinue receiving money for themselves if they would not be held responsible for the expense of the repairs out of what they had already received. The problem of raising money for such repairs was then solved by the making of a chest to hold gifts from the worshippers (v 9). This was a success, for much money came in (v 10-16)

g Showing that they had such tools as the brace and bit, or auger in those days (v 9)

h There were 2 chests to be used in collecting money for the repairs - this one in the temple (v 9), and another which the king commanded to be put outside at the gate (2 Chr. 24:8-14). Money from the one mentioned here was used mainly in making vessels for the temple

i Not made from the money of this chest, but from what was received in another outside at the gate (2 Chr. 24:8-14). Money from this chest was used to pay the workers and buy materials (v 12, 14)

Jĕ-hoi'a-dá the priest instructed him.

3 [c]But the high places were not taken away: the people still sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places.

(2) The faithless priests (2 Chr. 24:4-7)

4 ¶ And Jĕ-hō'ăsh said to the priests, All the money of the dedicated things that is brought into the house of the LORD, even the money of every one that passeth the account, the money that every man is set at, and all the money that cometh into any man's heart to bring into the house of the LORD,

5 Let the priests take it to them, every man of his acquaintance: and [b]let them repair the breaches of the house, wheresoever any breach shall be found.

6 But it was so, that [c]in the three and twentieth year of king Jĕ-hō'ăsh the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house.

7 Then king Jĕ-hō'ăsh called for Jĕ-hoi'a-dá the priest, and the other priests, and said unto them, [d]Why repair ye not the breaches of the house? [e]now therefore receive no more money of your acquaintance, but deliver it for the breaches of the house.

8 And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, [f]neither to repair the breaches of the house.

(3) The temple repaired (2 Chr. 24:8-14)

9 But Jĕ-hoi'a-dá the priest took a chest, and [g]bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, [h]on the right side as one cometh into the house of the LORD: and the priests that kept the door put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the LORD.

(4) Results of the collection to repair the temple

10 And it was so, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest came up, and they put up in bags, and told the money that was found in the house of the LORD.

11 And they gave the money, being told, into the hands of them that did the work, that had the oversight of the house of the LORD: and they laid it out to the carpenters and builders, that wrought upon the house of the LORD,

12 And to masons, and hewers of stone, and to buy timber and hewed stone to repair the breaches of the house of the LORD, and for all that was laid out for the house to repair it.

13 Howbeit there were [i]not made for the house of the LORD bowls of silver, snuffers, basons, trumpets, any vessels of gold, or vessels of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of the LORD:

14 But they gave that to the workmen, and repaired therewith the house of the LORD.

15 Moreover they [e]reckoned not with the men, into whose hand they delivered the money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The trespass money and sin money was not brought into the house of the LORD: [i]it was the priests'.

(5) Joash ransoms Jerusalem (2 Chr. 24:23-24): 12th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

17 ¶ Then Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-á [f]went up, and fought against Gath, and took it: and Hăz'a-el set his face to go up to Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm.

18 And Jĕ-hō'ăsh king of Jū'dah took all the hallowed things that Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, and Jĕhō'ram, and Ă-ha-zī'ah, his fathers, kings of Jū'dah, had dedicated, and his own hallowed things, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the LORD, and in the king's house, and sent it to Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-á: and he went away from Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm.

(6) Death of Joash: accession of Amaziah, 8th king of Judah (2 Chr. 24:25-25:28)

19 ¶ And the [d]rest of the acts of [g]Jō'ăsh, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

20 And his servants arose, and made a conspiracy, and [h]slew Jō'ăsh in the house of Mĭl'lō, which goeth down to Sĭl'lá.

21 For Jŏz'a-chär the son of Shĭm'e-ăth, and Jĕ-hŏz'a-băd the son of Shō'mēr, [h]his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid: and Ăm-a-zī'ah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER 13 326

VI Kings of Israel and Judah (13:1-15:31). 1 Reign of Jehoahaz, 12th king of Israel: 17 years. (1) Accession and character

IN the three and twentieth year of Jō'ăsh the son of Ă-ha-zī'ah king of Jū'dah Jĕhō'a-hăz the son of Jē'hū began to reign over Ĭs'ra-el in Sā-mā'rĭ-á, and reigned seventeen years.

2 And he did that which [j]was evil in the sight of the LORD, and followed the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, which made Ĭs'ra-el to sin; he departed not therefrom.

(2) Israel oppressed by Syria: 14th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.), fulfilling 8:11-13. Cp. 10:32-33)

3 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Ĭs'ra-el, and he [j]delivered them into the hand of Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-á, and into the hand of Bĕn-hă'dăd the son of Hăz'a-el, all their days.

4 And Jĕ-hō'a-hăz [k]besought the LORD, and the LORD hearkened unto him: for he saw the a They required no accounting of the men into whose hands the money was delivered to be paid out by them for repairs, for they dealt faithfully (v 15)

b The money received by the priests for trespasses and other fines was taken by them for their living, while before the repair work on the temple began they also took all dedicated money of the dedicated things (v 4) c Hazael had to pass through Israel in order to get to Gath, so probably this attack was in connection with his war on Jehu and Jehoahaz, kings of the 10 tribes (13:3-7). At this time he came against Jerusalem and Jehoash took all the hallowed things, which he had just made for the temple (2 Chr. 24:8-14), other dedicated things, and all the gold in the temple and gave them to Hazael on condition that he would leave Jerusalem (v 17-18). See 1 Ki. 15:18 for the record of Asa taking the treasures from the house of the Lord and sending them to Ben-hadad

4 Officer of David (1 Chr. 27:28)
5 Son of Ahab (1 Ki. 22:26; 2 Chr. 18: 25)

7 A Judahite (1 Chr. 4:22)
8 Follower of David (1 Chr. 12:3)

f Question 78, Next, 13:8

g One of 12 kings of Israel assassinated by their subjects (note 1, 1 Ki. 15:28). Jehoash, king of Judah, began reigning as a boy 7 years of age. He remained godly doing the right thing before Jehovah until the death of his uncle and teacher, Jehoiada, the high priest. Then he went into sin and rebellion
4 sins of Jehoash of Judah:
1 Hearkened to the princes of Judah in the matter of leaving Jehovah and the temple worship to re-establish Baal worship (2 Chr. 24:17)
2 Would not listen to prophets God sent (2 Chr. 24:19)
3 Commanded that Zechariah the prophet should be slain (2 Chr. 24:20-21)
4 Remembered not the kindness of Jehoiada, but slew his son (2 Chr. 24: 22)
4 judgments on Jehoash:
1 Defeated by the Syrians (2 Chr. 24: 23-24)
2 Lost all the dedicated things of the kings of Israel and all the gold in the treasuries (v 18-19)
3 Was afflicted with great diseases (2 Chr. 24:25)
4 Was assassinated (v 19-21)

(42) In the N. T. the term Jews and Greeks, Jews and Gentiles, and Jews, Gentiles and church of God are found, but never Jews Israel, and Gentiles (Acts 18:4, 12-17, 28; 19:10, 17; 21: 20-26; Rom. 3:9; 1 Cor. 10:32; 12:13; Gal. 3:28; Col. 3:11)

79 The theory of Anglo-Israelites is not scriptural from any standpoint

30 scriptural ideas wrongly applied:

(1) Israel to be a great nation (Gen. 18:18). This has been true in the past and will be in the future when Israel becomes great under the Messiah who will reign in Jerusalem, not London or elsewhere. This applies to the whole 12 tribes, including Judah and all Jews

a This was about the only reason some of the kings of Israel sought God. Such was the history of Israel, more of less, from the very beginning. During a period of 450 years God delivered them from servitudes under nations round about. They would serve other gods and go into the greatest of sins until Jehovah would permit them to be defeated; then in their distress they would call upon Him for mercy and deliverance; and He would raise up a deliverer to set them free again. They would then serve God all the days of the deliverer but when he died they would go into sin, be brought down as before and call upon the Lord for help. The same condition continued under the kings as seen in this history. Here, Jehoahaz sought the Lord and He delivered His people in due time (v 4-5). When Manasseh was in captivity and affliction he prayed and God restored him (2 Chr. 33:11-13). And so it was with several other kings who were in desperate trouble

b He did not give Jehoahaz deliverance, but provided it for Israel through his son, Joash who defeated Syria 3 times (v 25) c Records of this kind had to be given repeatedly in order to show the true nature of Israel in their backslidings and apostasy. Regardless of the goodness of God to them, they never did come to the place where they appreciated Him and His help enough to follow Him wholly (v 5-6) d The Asherah (note, p. 106)

e King Hazael of Syria limited the army of Israel to 50 horsemen, 10 chariots, and 10,000 footmen (v 7)

f A figurative expression showing defeat and grinding oppression of an enemy. It also has a literal meaning, indicating the use of threshing instruments in the execution of prisoners of war (v 7; 2 Sam. 12:31)

g Question 79. Next, v 12

h Here again we have a king of Israel and a king of Judah with the same name living at the same time (v 9-10)

j Question 80. Next 14:10

k What kind of sickness he had is not known. Very likely it was old-age infirmity as in the case of Isaac (Gen. 27:1-2), David (1 Ki. 1:1-4), and others who died without any particular disease. At this time Elisha had been a prophet for 66 years, 6 years longer than David or Solomon lived. He was a grown young man when called to the prophetic office, so he must have been at least 85-90 at his death

l This is a reference to the happening recorded in 2:12-wondering whether his end would be like that of Elijah

m 16th prophecy in 2 Ki. (13:15-19, fulfilled). Next, 14:25

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The arrow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria; for you shall smite the Syrians in Aphek, till you have consumed them (13:17)

2 You should have smitten 5 or 6 times; then you would have smitten Syria until you had consumed it: now you shall smite Syria 3 times (13:19)

n The bow was very ancient. Ishmael was an archer (Gen. 21:20); also Esau (Gen. 27:3). Early used as weapons of war (Gen. 48:22), bows were made of various materials-wood, horn, ivory, and steel (Job 20:24; Ps. 18:34)-and were of various shapes. The Egyptian bow was about 6 ft. long and nearly straight, having a slight curve at each end, or a curve in the center when unstrung. The Assyrian bow was sometimes curved and sometimes angular, and shorter than the Egyptian bow. Strings were of leather thongs, horse hair, hide, or catgut. There were various methods of bending the bow-with the hand, the knee, or the foot. The foot was probably used the most, since darak, the Heb. word commonly used in speaking of bending the bow, literally means to tread. The arrows were made of wood or reed and tipped with metal or horn. Some were feathered and had barbed points oppression of Iş'ra-el, [a]because the king of Sŷr'Ĭ-á oppressed them.

5 (And the LORD [b]gave Iş'ra-el a saviour, so that they went out from under the hand of the Sŷr'Ĭ-ans: and the children of Iş'ra-el dwelt in their tents, as beforetime.

6 [c]Nevertheless they departed not from the sins of the house of Jĕr-o-bō'am, who made Iş'ra-el sin, but walked therein: and there remained the [d]grove also in Să-mā'rĭ-á.)

7 Neither did [e]he leave of the people to Jĕ-hō'a-hăz but fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen; for the king of Sŷr'Ĭ-á had destroyed them, and had [f]made them like the dust by threshing.

(3) Death of Jehoahaz: accession of Joash, 13th king of Israel

8 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz, and all that he did, and his might, [g]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iş'ra-el?

9 And Jĕ-hō'a-hăz slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Să-mā'rĭ-á: and [h]Jō'ăsh his son reigned in his stead.

2 Reign of Jehoash, 13th king of Israel: 16 years (2 Chr. 25:21). (1) Accession and character

10 ¶ In the thirty and seventh year of Jō'ăsh king of Jū'dah began Jĕ-hō'ăsh the son of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz to reign over Iş'ra-el in Să-mā'rĭ-á, and reigned sixteen years.

11 And he [i]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD; he departed not from all the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, who made Iş'ra-el sin: but he walked therein.

(2) Death of Joash: accession of Jeroboam II, 14th king of Israel

12 And the [j]rest of the acts of Jō'ăsh, and all that he did, and his might wherewith he fought against Am-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iş'ra-el?

13 And Jō'ăsh slept with his fathers; and Jĕr-o-bō'am sat upon his throne: and Jō'ăsh was buried in Să-mā'rĭ-á with the kings of Iş'ra-el.

(3) Jehoash visits Elisha in his sickness: 32nd miracle of Elisha - revelation and prophecy

14 ¶ Now Ĕ-lī'shá was fallen sick of his [k]sickness whereof he died. And Jō'ăsh the king of Iş'ra-el came down unto him, and wept over his face, and said, O my father, my father, the [l]chariot of Iş'ra-el, and the horsemen thereof.

●15 [m]And Ĕ-lī'shá said unto him, Take [n]bow and arrows. And he took unto him bow and arrows.

●16 And he said to the king of Iş'ra-el, Put thine hand upon the bow. And he put his hand upon it: and Ĕ-lī'shá put his hands upon the king's hands.

●17 And he said, Open the window eastward. And he opened it. Then Ĕ-lī'shá said, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, [o]The arrow of the LORD's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Sŷr'Ĭ-á: [p]for thou shalt smite the Sŷr'Ĭ-ans in Á'phek, till thou have consumed them.

●18 And he said, Take the arrows. And he took them. And he said unto the king of Iş'ra-el, Smite upon the ground. And he smote thrice, and stayed.

19 And the man of God was wroth with him, and said, Thou shouldest have smitten five or six times; then hadst thou smitten Sŷr'Ĭ-á till thou hadst consumed it: whereas now thou shalt smite Sŷr'Ĭ-á [q]but thrice.

(4) Death of Elisha: last miracle - resurrection

20 ¶ And Ĕ-lī'shá died, and they buried him. And the bands of the Mō'ab-ites invaded the land at the coming in of the year.

21 And it came to pass, as they were burying a man, that, behold, they spied a band of men; and they cast the man into the sepulchre of Ĕ-lī'shá: and when the man was let down, and touched the bones of Ĕ-lī'shá, he [r]revived, and [s]stood up on his feet.

(5) Victories of Jehoash, king of Israel, fulfilling 13:17-19: 14th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

22 ¶ But Hăz'a-el king of Sŷr'Ĭ-á oppressed Iş'ra-el all the days of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz.

23 And the LORD [t]was gracious unto them, and had compassion on them, and had respect unto them, because of his covenant with Á'brā-hăm, I'şaac, and Já'cob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from his presence [u]as yet.

24 So Hăz'a-el king of Sŷr'Ĭ-á died; and Bĕn-hā'dăd his son reigned in his stead.

25 And Jĕ-hō'ăsh the son of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz took again out of the hand of Hăz'a-el the cities, which he had taken out of the hand of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz his father by war. Three times [v]did Jō'ăsh beat him, and recovered the cities of Iş'ra-el.

CHAPTER 14 327

3 Reign of Amaziah, 8th king of Judah: 25 years (2 Ki. 14:1-19). (1) Fourth good king in Judah (2 Chr. 25:1-4)

IN the [w]second year of Jō'ăsh son of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz king of Iş'ra-el reigned Am-a-zī'ah the son of Jō'ăsh king of Jū'dah.

2 He was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and reigned twenty and nine years in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm. And his mother's name was a This was the ancient method of declaring war-often referred to in ancient and classical writings. Coming to the confines of the enemy territory, a herald, after observing certain solemnities, would cry with a loud voice, "I wage war against you!" He would then give his reasons for war and shoot or throw a spear into the country to be invaded. This was considered sufficient warning of warlike intentions. 30 days were allowed after that for the making of peace and settling of differences; but if no such settlement could be reached during that time, hostilities began

b Joash, king of Israel, was the saviour or deliverer of v 5, for this and v 25 prove it (v 17)

c Fulfilled as in v 25

d This miracle of Elisha's bones was the 33rd and final miracle of his life-story. The miracles of his experience numbered twice as many as Elijah's-and some were twice as great. See p. 394. If the power of God in a dead man's bones could raise the dead, should not His power in a living man do the same? Such should not seem impossible, for Christ commanded His disciples to do even this (Mt. 10:1-8); and He promised power to the believers that would enable them to do the works He did and also greater works (Jn. 14:12). Regarding the full enduement of power from on high, see Mk. 16:15-20; Jn. 7:37-39; Acts 1:4-8; 1 Cor. 12. Cp. Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 8:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 15:7, 16

e To understand this text fully we must know that the Israelites did not adopt the burial method of the Egyptians-putting the dead into coffins. They wrapped their dead in linen cloths and laid them in a tomb which was cut out of the side of a mountain. When these men saw the band they simply thrust the body of the man they were to bury into the tomb of Elisha and fled. When the body touched the bones of the prophet it came to life again and stood up, as in the story of Jn. 11 (v 21)

f 3 blessings of Jehovah to Israel:

1 He was gracious to them (v 23)
2 He had compassion on them
3 He had respect unto them

Many times all this was true even when Israel did not deserve a blessing. God spared the nation as much as He could because of His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob-men who had been dead for centuries, God still manifests these blessings to the Jews in all lands; otherwise they would be destroyed

g As yet, implying that He might have to cast them out of His presence and destroy them. This He did, not many years afterward (Chs. 17 and 25)

h Fulfilling v 19

i According to 13:10, Joash, king of Israel, began to reign in the 37th year of Joash, king of Judah. This would make the 2 kings contemporary for about 3 years

(Isa. 2:2-4; 9:6-7; Ezek. 36-37; Mic. 4; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15)

(2) Israel's name to be "great" (Gen. 12:2). This refers to Abraham, not Israel, so proves nothing as far as Great Britain is concerned. Suppose we used the same argument in other scriptures; we could have Great Ishmael (Gen. 17:20), the Great nations of Canaan (Josh. 23:9), Great Babylon (Jer. 6:22; 50:41), and other Great people, all of whom would be identified with Israel because of the word great being used of them

(3) Israel was to be exceedingly fruitful (Gen. 28:14). This does not prove Anglo-Saxons to be Israel any more than the fruitfulness of China, India or other large nations

(4) Israel was to spread abroad in four directions (Gen. 28:14). This was to be done only in the bounds of the promised land (Gen. 15:18-21; Ezek. 47:13-48:29). Many other nations have spread in four directions in larger countries than the promised land and yet we do not seek to identify them as Israel on this basis

b He did right, but not like David. Thus we have constant reminders of David as the ideal in these books of Kings and Chronicles -the standard by which all others are measured in God's sight. Cp. 16:2; 18:3; 22:2; 1 Ki. 3:14; 11:6, 33, 38; 14:8; 15:3, 6; 2 Chr. 7:17; 28:1; 29:2; 34:2. When God uses David as an example it is not as man who thinks first of all his sins and failures; God thinks of his true nature and faithful heart and zeal for Jehovah in living free from idolatry and the gross wickedness of so many of the rulers in those days. David was a man after God's heart in loving Jehovah and considering Him and obeying Him when corrected c This showed patience and being sensible in dealing with the murderers of his father. He did not seek undue vengeance, for he spared their children (v 5-6). This, in itself, was a wonderful act, seeing that kings before him killed many and wiped out whole households, distant relatives and even acquaintances of those whom they executed d See Dt. 24:16. Cp. Ezek. 18:4-20
e See other details in 2 Chr. 25:5-11
f The valley of salt was the broad open plain at the southern end of the Dead Sea. At the north western corner of this plain stood a mountain of rock salt, and between the mountain and the sea were salt marshes and salt springs g Sela or Petra was the rock-hewn city and capital of Edom, a rock stronghold that was considered Impregnable. Amaziah called Sela, Joktheel, meaning subdued by God. Thus he honored God who gave him the victory. See Sela in Index h Amaziah's victory in Edom caused him to become exalted and think himself more than a match against the 10-tribe kingdom. He managed a fight against Jehoash who completely defeated him, broke down the wall of Jerusalem, took all the gold and silver, and all the vessels of the temple and returned to Samaria (v 8-14). What a foolish man! not to be able to enjoy success without becoming proud and haughty
i This was a way of saying let us go to war or meet each other face to face in arms, and see who is the better man (v 8)
j For a similar fable see Judg. 9:8
k It was apparent to all that Amaziah was lifted up in pride because of his victory over Edom. In him was fulfilled the old proverb: Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall (Pr. 16:18)
l Question 81, Next, v 15
m Pride, haughtiness, and an implacable spirit will never listen to reason if it is not crushed (v 11) n Went to war. Cp. v 8 and 11
o Beth-shemesh, house of the sun, was on the frontier of Judah and Dan, 15 miles west of Jerusalem (v 11; Josh. 15:10). It was a city of priests (Josh. 21:9-16). Afterwards associated with idolatry (Jer. 43:13) p The object of breaking down the walls of Jerusalem was to leave the city at the mercy of Jehoash. It must have been part of the conditions of peace not to rebuild the walls q Oriental gates were generally named for the places they led to. The gate of Ephraim must have been the one in the north wall leading to Ephraim. It was also called the gate of Benjamin (Jer. 37:13; Zech. 14:10)
r 400 cubits at 25 in. each would be 833 ft. 4 in. (v 13)
s Here (v 14) and in 2 Chr. 25:24 we have the only mention of hostages in the Bible. It seems that conquerors generally regarded the terror of their arms as sufficient to secure the performance of agreements. All this loss and human suffering would have been avoided if one man -the king, had not lifted himself up in pride to the point of being unreasonable and rebellious. Judah lost the war, the protection of the wall of Jerusalem, all the public silver and gold, all the vessels of the temple, and all the treasures of the king's house, and was completely humiliated before their enemies. What did they gain? It took years to recover what was lost in a few hours of time -all through pride and selfishness

Jĕ-hō-ăd'dan of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

3 And he did that which [a]was right in the sight of the LORD, yet not [b]like Dā'vid his father: he did according to all things as Jō'ăsh his father did.

4 Howbeit the high places were not taken away: as yet the people did sacrifice and burnt incense on the high places.

5 ¶ And it came to pass, [c]as soon as the kingdom was confirmed in his hand, that he slew his servants which had slain the king his father.

6 But the children of the murderers he slew not: according unto that which is written in the book of the law of Mō'şeş, wherein the LORD commanded, saying, [d]The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man shall be put to death for his own sin.

7 [e]He slew of Ē'dom in the [f]valley of salt ten thousand, and took [g]Sē'lah by war, and called the name of it Jŏk'the-el unto this day.

8 ¶ [h]Then Ăm-a-zī'ah sent messengers to Jĕ-hō'ăsh, the son of Jĕ-hō'a-hăz son of Jē'hû, king of Iş'ra-el, saying, [i]Come, let us look one another in the face.

9 And Jĕ-hō'ăsh the king of Iş'ra-el sent to Ăm-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying, [j]The thistle that was in Lĕb'a-non sent to the cedar that was in Lĕb'a-non, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and there passed by a wild beast that was in Lĕb'a-non, and trode down the thistle.

10 Thou hast indeed smitten Ē'dom, and [k]thine heart hath lifted thee up: glory of this, and tarry at home: for [l]why shouldest thou meddle to thy hurt, that thou shouldest fall, even thou, and Jū'dah with thee?

11 But Ăm-a-zī'ah [m]would not hear. Therefore Jĕ-hō'ăsh king of Iş'ra-el went up; and he and Ăm-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah [n]looked one another in the face at [o]Bĕth-shē'mesh, which belongeth to Jū'dah.

12 And Jū'dah was put to the worse before Iş'ra-el; and they fled every man to their tents.

13 And Jĕ-hō'ăsh king of Iş'ra-el took Ăm-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah, the son of Jĕ-hō'ăsh the son of Ă-ha-zī'ah, at Bĕth-shē'mesh, and came to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and [p]brake down the wall of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm from [q]the gate of Ē'phrăi-im unto the corner gate, [r]four hundred cubits.

18 And the [c]rest of the acts of Ăm-a-zī'ah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

19 Now they made a conspiracy against him in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm: and he fled to Lā'chish; but they sent after him to Lā'chish, and [d]slew him there.

20 And they brought him on horses: and he was buried at Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid.

21 ¶ And all the people of Jū'dah took [e]Ā-za-rī'ah, which was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Ăm-a-zī'ah.

22 He built [f]Ē'lăth, and restored it to Jū'dah, after that the king [g]slept with his fathers.

4 Reign of Jeroboam II, 14th king of Israel: 41 years. (1) Accession and character

23 ¶ In the fifteenth year of Ăm-a-zī'ah the son of Jō'ăsh king of Jū'dah Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Jō'ăsh, king of Iş'ra-el began to reign in Să-mā'rī-ă, and reigned forty and one years.

24 And he did that which [h]was evil in the sight of the LORD: he departed not from all the [i]sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, who made Iş'ra-el to sin.

(2) Prophecy of Jonah fulfilled: 15th Syrian war (2 Ki. 16:5, refs.)

25 [j]He restored the coast of Iş'ra-el from the entering of Hā'math unto the sea of the plain, according to the word of the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, which he spake by the hand of his servant [k]Jō'nah, the son of Ă-mĭt'ta-ī, the prophet, which was of Gă th-hē'phĕr.

26 For the LORD saw the affliction of Iş'ra-el, that it was very bitter: for there was not any shut up, nor any left, nor any helper for Iş'ra-el.

27 [l]And the LORD said not that he would blot out the name of Iş'ra-el from under heaven: but he saved them by the hand of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Jō'ăsh.

(5) Israel to have a Davidic king (2 Sam. 7; Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 37:24; Hos. 3:4-5). This is true but it does not identify Israel as Britain and America who even has no king. It will come to pass when all Israel is regathered from the nations to be back in their own land under their Messiah, as is clear in these scriptures and many others

(6) Israel will be the first of the nations (Gen. 49:22-26; Dt. 4:7; 14:2). These scriptures applied to the whole nation of Israel in Moses' day, except Gen. 49:22-26 which applies to this one tribe of 12 that will be fruitful and great under the Messiah when He comes in the last days (Gen. 49:1)

(7) Israel was to continue a nation forever (2 Sam. 7; Jer. 31:35-37). This is true but will not be fulfilled until all Israel is regathered as in points above. These scriptures prove nothing concerning England and America

(8) Israel to have a new home... north of Palestine (2 Sam. 7:10; 1 Chr. 17:9; Isa. 24:15; Jer. 3:18; 31:8). There is nothing in any of these scriptures to give the idea that Israel would be moved to a place north. The land for Israel has been settled by God as between the Mediterranean and the Euphrates, and from north Palestine to the river of Egypt in the south (Gen. 15:18-21). In the future restoration of all Israel to Palestine the north and south borders are to be enlarged to be from Hamath on the north to the Indian

c In the 38th year of Azariah, Zechariah began to reign in the 10-tribe kingdom after an interruption of 11 years; and he ruled for 6 months (15:18). In the 15th year of Amaziah, Jeroboam began to reign and ruled for 41 years (v 23). Amaziah reigned 14 years after Jeroboam began to rule whereas Azariah had reigned 38 by the time Zechariah began to rule, making 52 years of Jeroboam and the reign of Zechariah. Taking 41 from 52 leaves a period of 11 years during which there was no king over the 10 tribes. This would make up part of the 19 years of difference in the full time of the division of the kingdom to the captivity of the 10 tribes, as mentioned in note k, 1 Ki. 12:25

Ocean on the south, taking in all the Arabian peninsula (Ezek. 47:13-48:29). The Isles referred to do not mean the British Isles any more than in Gen. 10:5 where we have the Isles of the Gentiles. In Esther 10:1 we read of the king of Persia taxing the isles of the sea; and we know he did not rule Britain. The term isles in many places simply means the coast lands surrounding the Mediterranean or any other large body of water. Regarding the bringing of Israel from the north, the Bible teaches that Israel was to have invaders from the north who would take them captive; and the reference means they would be gathered again from the north in the last days when they will also be gathered from other countries (Jer. 23:3, 8; Ezek. 20:33-39; 37:11-28)

(9) Israel's home was to be uninvadable and undefeatable (Isa. 41:11-14). This scripture and others like it merely teach that when Israel comes to repentance and is gathered to Palestine under their Messiah in the Millennium that no enemy will hurt them anymore. It could never mean that Israel could never be defeated, for the nation was defeated and the land invaded numerous times; they were finally led captive among all nations where they are today and from where they will be gathered by Christ at His 2nd advent. This has nothing to do with England and America as to identity of these people. The promise of victory over enemies was conditional - according to their obedience to God (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). Dispersion was predicted if they sinned (Lev. 26:32-34)

(10) Israel like a lion (Num. 23:24; 24:9). This does not prove that England is Israel anymore than the same symbol makes Assyria (Jer. 50:17-18), Babylon (Dan. 7:1-6, 17), Satan (1 Pet. 5:8), or Christ (Rev. 5:5) to become Israel

(11) Israel to be the mistress of the uttermost parts of the earth (Dt. 33:17; Ps. 2; 98:3). These passages are Millennial. The first refers to Joseph's tribe only. Ps. 2 refers to Christ reigning over the nations of the earth at His 2nd advent, and Ps. 98:3 refers to His salvation

(12) Israel to be immensely wealthy (Dt. 28:14; Isa. 60:16). The first passage was to be fulfilled with the whole 12 tribes to whom it was given, and that only if they obeyed God. This was true when they did obey, and not true when they sinned. The last passage will be fulfilled in the Millennium when all Israel is fully restored to Palestine accession of Zachariah (15:8-12)

28 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jĕr-o-bō'am, and all that he did, and his might, how he warred, and how he [a]recovered Dă-măs'cus, and Hă'math, which belonged to Jū'dah, for Iş'ra-el, [b]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iş'ra-el?

29 And Jĕr-o-bō'am slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Iş'ra-el; and [c]Zăch-a-rī'ah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER 15 328

5 Reign of Azariah or Uzziah, 9th king of Judah: 52 years (14:20-22; 2 Chr. 26). (1) Fifth good king of Judah (2 Chr. 26:1-5)

IN the twenty and seventh year of Jĕr-o-bō'am king of Iş'ra-el began Áz-a-rī'ah son of Ám-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah to reign.

2 Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm. And his mother's name was Jĕch-o-lī'ah of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

3 And he did that which [d]was right in the sight of the LORD, according [e]to all that his father Ám-a-zī'ah had done;

4 Save that the high places were not removed: the people sacrificed and burnt incense still on the high places.

(2) Leprosy of Uzziah (2 Chr. 26:6-21; Zech. 14:5)

5 ¶ And the LORD [f]smote the king, so that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a [g]several house. And Jō'tham the king's son was over the house, judging the people of the land.

(3) Death of Uzziah: accession of Jotham (2 Chr. 26:22-23)

6 And the [h]rest of the acts of Áz-a-rī'ah, and [i]all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

7 So Áz-a-rī'ah slept with his fathers; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid: and Jō'tham his son reigned in his stead.

6 Reign of Zachariah, 15th king of Israel: 6 months (14:28-29). (1) Accession and character

8 ¶ In the thirty and eighth year of Áz-a-rī'ah king of Jū'dah did Zăch-a-rī'ah the son of Jĕr-o-bō'am reign over Iş'ra-el in Să-mā'rĭ-ă six months.

9 And he did that which [j]was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his fathers had done: he departed not from the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, who made Iş'ra-el to sin.

(2) Death of Zachariah completing the prophecy concerning Jehu in 10:30: 23rd civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

10 And Shăl'lum the son of Jā'besh conspired against him, and smote him before the people, and [a]slew him, and reigned in his stead.

11 And the rest of the acts of Zăch-a-rī'ah, behold, they are written in [b]the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iş'ra-el.

12 This was the word of the LORD which he spake unto Jē-hū, saying, [c]Thy sons shall sit on the throne of Iş'ra-el unto the fourth generation. And so it came to pass.

7 Reign of Shallum, 16th king of Israel: 1 month; 24th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

13 ¶ Shăl'lum the son of Jā'besh began to reign in the nine and thirtieth year of Ŭz-zī'ah king of Jū'dah; and he reigned a full month in Să-mā'rĭ-ă.

14 For Mĕn'a-hĕm the son of Gā'dī went up from [d]Tĭr'zah, and came to Să-mā'rĭ-ă, and smote Shăl'lum the son of Jā'besh in Să-mā'rĭ-ă, and slew him, and reigned in his stead.

15 And the rest of the acts of Shăl'lum, and his conspiracy which he made, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iş'ra-el.

8 Reign of Menahem, 17th king of Israel: 10 years. (1) Accession and character: 25th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

16 ¶ Then Mĕn'a-hĕm smote Tĭph'sah, and all that were therein, and the coasts thereof from Tĭr'zah: [e]because they opened not to him, therefore he smote it: and all the women therein that were with child he ripped up.

17 In the nine and thirtieth year of Áz-a-rī'ah king of Jū'dah began Mĕn'a-hĕm the son of Gā'dī to reign over Iş'ra-el, and reigned ten years in Să-mā'rĭ-ă.

18 And he did that which [f]was evil in the sight of the LORD: he departed not all his days from the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'băt, who made Iş'ra-el to sin.

(2) First Assyrian invasion of Israel (v 29; 16:7-18; 17:3-41; 18:13; 2 Chr. 33:11-13)

19 And [g]Pūl the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă [h]came against the land: and Mĕn'a-hĕm gave Pūl [i]a thousand talents of silver, [j]that his hand might be with him to confirm the kingdom in his hand.

20 And Mĕn'a-hĕm exacted the money of Iş'ra-el, even of all the mighty men of wealth, [k]of each man fifty shekels of silver, to give to the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă. So the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă turned back, and stayed not there in the land.

(3) Death of Menahem: accession of Pekahiah a One of 12 kings of Israel assassinated (note 1, 1 Ki. 15:28)

b This must refer to a book recording the kings of the 10-tribe kingdom that we do not have, for they are not written in the Chronicles of our Bible (v 11) c A repetition of the prophecy to Jehu of 10:30. Fulfilled here in the death of Zechariah, the 4th generation of kings after Jehu. See note b, 10:29 for a list of the 4 generations
d Tirzah, the old capital of the 10 tribes, became prominent again by being the birthplace of this pretender to the throne who, of all these latter kings, was the only one to die a natural death and leave his crown to his son (v 22)
e Menehem was another king who obtained his kingdom through violence and murder. Men would have to be very depraved to commit such sins as mentioned here (v 14-18)

g This name, Pul is not found on the Assyrian inscriptions; it is thought by some to be the same as Tiglath-pileser; but he is listed as a separate king in 1 Chr. 5:26
h The first distinct mention of Assyria in Scripture as an aggressive power. By this time they had been rising to a great power for nearly a century, and had reached far beyond the river Euphrates, even to Egypt. From here on the history of the 2 kingdoms of Israel is linked with that of Assyria and Babylon

7 Assyrian invasions of Israel:
1 That of Pul (v 19-20)
2 That of Tiglath-pileser (v 29)
3 2nd invasion by Tiglath-pileser (15:29; 16:7-18)
4 That of Shalmaneser (17:3)
5 2nd invasion by Shalmaneser and complete destruction of the 10-tribe kingdom and their dispersion (17:4-41)
6 That of Sennacherib against Judah (18:13-19:35; 2 Chr. 32; Isa. 37:38)
7 That of Assyria when Manasseh was taken to Babylon (2 Chr. 33:11-13)

i 1,000 talents of silver at $1,920.00 each would be $1,920,000.00 j Judah usually bought off foreign invaders (v 19-20; 12:18; 16:8; 18:15)
k Each man of wealth was charged 50 shekels of silver - $32.00 at 64¢ a shekel (v 20)

(13) Israel was to be a company of nations, or have a great colonial empire (Gen. 17:4-16; 35:11). The Heb. word for nations means troops, tribes, or peoples, meaning that Israel was to consist of a company of tribes. This has been fulfilled and will be fulfilled in all eternity when the 12 tribes will be under Christ and the apostles (Mt. 19:28; Lk. 22:29-30; Ezek. 47-48). Israel was never to have colonies of her own people all over the earth; she was to remain one nation upon the mountains of Israel (Ezek. 37), and be the head of all Gentile nations (Dt. 28:13; Isa. 60:16; 61:5; Rev. 11:15). England and America certainly have not been the head of all nations and never will be as God promised Israel

(14) Israel to lend to other nations, and borrow from none (Dt. 28:12). This was promised to Israel upon obedience only (Dt. 28:1), and it was true of them when they served God, but not true when they sinned

(15) Israel was to possess the gates of her enemies, said by some to be Gibralter and the Suez Canal (Gen. 22:17). This passage means that Israel will conquer the city gates of her enemies in siege. Out of 246 times the word gate is used it never means canals or strategic points, as one can see in Ex. 32:27; Dt. 21:19; 22:24; 25:7; Josh. 2:7, etc.

(16) Israel was to be an island or a coast people (Isa. 24:15). This passage does not speak of Israel being an island people; it merely refers to them singing among many other peoples while in dispersion. See point (8), above. Such passages where isles is found means maritime countries, not any one country in particular i Twenty years. The Assyrian inscription on stone says 4 years, and this is accepted by some who seem to think that writing in stone is more nearly correct than writing on skins and paper. It must be acknowledged though that mistakes have been made in stone, the fault not being with the material but the graver and writer. (17) Israel was to lose all trace of her lineage and be blind as to her origin (Hos. 1:9-10; 2:17; Isa. 42:16). The first scripture refers to the cutting off of Israel as God's people, not to the losing of their identity as Israelites, for the very next verse (Hos. 1:11) predicts that both Israel and Judah would be gathered as one people again. The second scripture has nothing to say about the name of Israel, but refers to the names of Baal as not being remembered anymore. The passage in Isa. 42:16 speaks of the spiritually blind

(18) Israel was to keep sabbath forever (Ex. 31:13-17). Keeping sabbath could not possibly identify race, color, or creed. Israel has not kept sabbath forever up until now, for God promised to do away with all her sabbaths (Isa. 1:13; Hos. 2:11). England and America are surely not sabbath-keeping nations as is well known by those who have lived in these countries

(19) Israel was to have a great heathen empire (Ps. 2). This refers to Christ and not to Israel. We could not substitute England for Son in this passage and be logical

(20) Israel was to be the custodian of the oracles of God (Isa. 59:21). The Jews of the N. T. were (Rom. 3:1-2; 9:4-6)

(21) Israel was to carry the gospel to all the world (Gen. 28:14). True, and it will be the Jews that do it (Isa. 1:1; 2:2-4; 52:7; Zech. 8:23)

(22) Israel was to be called by the name of Isaac - Isaac's sons (Gen. 21:12). This scripture refers to the whole 12 tribes and not only 10 of them. This is shallow argument, for in the N. T., not only Jews but Gentiles also are said to be in Isaac in the sense that they are children of the promise like Isaac (Rom. 4:9-25; 9:8, 23-33; 10:9-21; 11:1-32; 1 Cor. 12:13; Gal. 3:6-16, 25-29; 4:28-31; Col. 3:11)

IN the seventeenth year of Pĕ'kah the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah [a]Ā'hăz the son of Jō'tham king of Jū'dah began to reign.

2 Twenty years old was Ā'hăz when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jĕ-ru'-sā-lĕm, and [b]did not that which was right in the sight of the LORD his God, like Dā'vid his father.

3 But he walked in the way of the kings of Iş'ra-el, yea, and made his son to pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Iş'ra-el.

Ahaz was the worst of all the kings of Judah; he imitated the worst of the kings of the 10 tribes - Ahab and Ahaziah, by establishing Baal worship again in Judah when it had been rooted out of the 10 tribes by Jehu (10:19-31) and out of Judah by Jehoiada (11:17-21). Ahaz even made his sons to pass through the fire, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and burnt incense in the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree (v 2-4). nant; and "Ish" means man, so British means covenant-man, and Britain means covenant-land. The Bible teaches that Palestine is the covenant-land and the Israel to whom this land belongs are the covenant-people (Gen. (12:1-3; 5:18-21; 17:1-17)

(24) Israel was to pray toward Jerusalem (1 Kl. 8:44-48). There is no connection between this scripture and England any more than other countries that pray in all directions, including the east

(25) Israel was to deliver Jerusalem in the last days (Ezek. 35:14; 36:8-12; Lk. 21:24). These passages say nothing about Israel delivering Jerusalem, much less England. When Christ comes He will deliver Jerusalem (Zech. 14:1-21)

(26) Israel's teachers, pastors, and shepherds were to be blind (Ezek. 34:1-16). This really refers to Judah and her leaders, for Ezekiel prophesied to the Jews during the captivities, and not one word was said of an Israel apart from Judah

(27) Israel will ever live under a monarchy (Num. 23:21; 1 Kl. 7:13-15). The first passage refers to Israel 450 years before they had a king; and the last one does not mention a monarchy; so this claim is based on theory only. Israel has been without a king for over 2,500 years and will not have one again until the Messiah comes to reign forever over them; then, they will always have a monarchy (Isa. 9:6-7; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 36-37; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

(28) Israel was always to be separated from the Gentile nations (1 Sam. 12:22). This says nothing about being separated from Gentiles, but simply states that God had made them His people. This applies to all the tribes, and not to 10 only. Jews are the only separated people of Israel today; Anglo-Saxons mix with other races all the time

(29) Israel's soldiers in the latter days were to wear scarlet uniforms (Nah. 2:3-4). This refers to the Assyrian soldiers of Nineveh (1:1, 11; 2:1, 3, 7, 8, 13; 3:7), not soldiers of England

(30) Israel was to live part of their history without a king (Hos. 3:4-5). This proves nothing regarding England, but it does say that after this in the last days Israel will return to God and seek David and be established again as a nation (Hos. 1:10-11; 2:14-23; Acts 15:13-18) a Rezin and Pekah were the 2 fire-brands of Isa. 7:4. The events of v 5-9 seem to contradict 2 Chr. 28:5-20 but not so, for the happening of the latter took place a year before. Rezin and Pekah both attacked successfully alone, but were unsuccessful when they were leagued together

b Could not, because of the promise of the house of David. Cp. Isa. 7:7, 16

c Elath had been restored to Judah by Ahaziah or Uzziah (14:22), but now in the reign of Ahaz it was lost to the Syrians who dwelled there until the writing of Kings (v 6) d This was opposed by Isaiah (Isa. 7:17). Tiglath-pileser was the razor of Isa. 7:20. He regarded this present as tribute, according to the Assyrian inscriptions

e The submission of Judah here helped the king of Assyria make further conquests. He met Rezin on the field of battle and defeated and slew him. An attack upon Pekah followed and many Israelites were taken captive (1 Chr. 5:26). The king of Assyria returned to Damascus, where a son of Rezin had assumed the crown of Syria. He besieged the city and took it, killing Rezin's son. It was at this time that he held court in Damascus and all tributary kings came to pay homage to him, the kings of Judah, Edom, Ammon, Moab, Gaza, Ascalon, and Tyre being mentioned on the Assyrian inscriptions as being present f Here we have the record of the trip of Ahaz to Damascus to meet and pay homage to Tiglath-pileser. There he saw an altar which he wanted to duplicate for his Baal worship; and so, he sent Urijah, the priest to copy it, then built one in Jerusalem. He offered sacrifices on it (v 10-13), and also brought the brazen altar which was before the Lord in the temple and put it on the north side of this new altar. He commanded the priest to burn the offerings upon the great altar or the new one, as he would use the brazen one to inquire by, meaning he would give further consideration as to what use to make of it (v 15-16)

g No high priest named Urijah is mentioned in any list of these priests, so perhaps he was the same as Uriah of Isa. 8:2; or, he could have been a special priest of Baal worship and therefore, not listed among the high priests of Jehovah

We have given these 30 so-called scriptural arguments of the Anglo-Saxon theory to show how utterly unsound the teaching is in the light of hundreds of passages

80 The theory is unhistorical. No genuine and authentic history has ever been found to show that the kings of England are direct descendants of the kings of Judah, or that Anglo-Saxons are the 10 tribes. Anglo-Saxons are of Japheth, not Shem (see p. 40). There have been some attempts to attach some human records of Irish and Scotch kings to Bible genealogies but the efforts have been in vain for lack of proof

81 The theory is not true from a national and racial standpoint. As to the language, there is no affinity between Hebrew and English. As to history, the British are a totally distinct people from Israel. As to manners and customs, both religious and social, there has been a great contrast throughout the ages. If there was an Israelitish emigration to England there is not the slightest scriptural or historical evidence. The pages of English history have no trace of such mighty tribes ever landing in England. How vastly different is the record of the short Roman invasion and occupation

82 The theory is not logical, practical, or beneficial in any way except to exalt the British Empire and America:

(1) None of the arguments are aimed to lead souls to Christ and personal salvation

(2) The blood of Christ and the new birth are not emphasized

(3) It leads to division and strife

(4) It classifies other Bible knowledge as shallow and of the ABC class li'ah king of Is'ra-el came up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm to war: [a]and they besieged A'hăz, but [b]could not overcome him.

6 At that time Re'zin king of Syr'i-a recovered [c]E'lăth to Syr'i-a, and drave the Jews from E'lăth: and the Syr'i-ans came to E'lăth, and dwelt there unto this day.

(3) Ahaz makes alliance with Assyria (2 Chr. 28:16-20)

7 So A'hăz [d]sent messengers to Tig'lath-pi-le'ser king of As-syr'i-a, saying, I am thy servant and thy son: come up, and save me out of the hand of the king of Syr'i-a, and out of the hand of the king of Is'ra-el, which rise up against me.

8 And A'hăz took the silver and gold that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the king's house, and sent it for a present to the king of As-syr'i-a.

(4) Third Assyrian invasion

9 And the king of As-syr'i-a hearkened unto him: for the king of As-syr'i-a [e]went up against Da-mas'cus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Re'zin.

(5) Ahaz's idolatrous altar (2 Chr. 28:23-25)

10 ¶ And king A'hăz [f]went to Da-mas'cus to meet Tig'lath-pi-le'ser king of As-syr'i-a, and saw an altar that was at Da-mas'cus: and king A'hăz sent to [g]U-ri'jah the priest the fashion of the altar, and the pattern of it, according to all the workmanship thereof.

11 And U-ri'jah the priest built an altar according to all that king A'hăz had sent from Da-mas'cus: so U-ri'jah the priest made it against king A'hăz came from Da-mas'cus.

12 And when the king was come from Da-mas'cus, the king saw the altar: and the king approached to the altar, and offered thereon.

13 And he burnt his burnt offering and his meat offering, and poured his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings, upon the altar.

14 And he brought also the brasen altar, which was before the LORD, from the forefront of the house, from between the altar and the house of the LORD, and put it on the north side of the altar.

15 And king A'hăz commanded U-ri'jah the priest, saying, Upon the great altar burn the morning burnt offering, and the evening meat offering, and the king's burnt sacrifice, and his meat offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings; and sprinkle upon it all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice: and the brasen altar shall be for me to enquire by.

16 Thus did U-ri'jah the priest, according to all that king A'hăz commanded.

(6) Ahaz desecrates the temple (vs. 14; 2 Chr. 28:21-22)

17 ¶ And king A'hăz [a]cut off the borders of the bases, and removed the laver from off them; and took down the sea from off the brasen oxen that were under it, and put it upon a pavement of stones.

18 And the covert for the sabbath that they had built in the house, and the king's entry without, turned he from the house of the LORD for the king of As-syr'i-a.

(7) Death of Ahaz: accession of Hezekiah, 13th king of Judah (2 Ki. 18-20; 2 Chr. 28:26)

19 ¶ Now the [b]rest of the acts of A'hăz which he did, [c]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Ju'dah?

20 And A'hăz slept with his fathers, and was [d]buried with his fathers in the city of Da'vid: and Hĕz-e-ki'ah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER 17 330

VIII Captivity of the ten tribes to Assyria (15:19, refs.). 1 Reign of Hoshea, 20th king of Israel: 9 years (15:30). (1) Accession and character

IN the twelfth year of A'hăz king of Ju'dah began Ho-she'a the son of E'lah to reign in Sa-ma'ri-a over Is'ra-el nine years.

2 And he did that which [a]was evil in the sight of the LORD, but not as the kings of Is'ra-el that were before him.

(2) Fourth Assyrian invasion of Israel (15:19, refs.)

3 ¶ Against him [b]came up Shăl-man-e'ser king of As-syr'i-a; and Ho-she'a became his servant, and gave him presents

(3) Fifth Assyrian invasion of Israel (15:19, refs.): ten tribes taken captive to Assyria

4 And the king of As-syr'i-a found conspiracy in Ho-she'a: for he had sent messengers to So king of E'gypt, and brought no present to the king of As-syr'i-a, as he had done year by year: therefore the king of As-syr'i-a shut him up, and bound him in prison.

5 ¶ Then the king of As-syr'i-a came up throughout all the land, and went up to Sa-ma'ri-a, and besieged it three years.

6 ¶ In the ninth year of Ho-she'a the king of As-syr'i-a took Sa-ma'ri-a, and [a]carried Is'ra-el away into As-syr'i-a, and placed them in Ha'lah and in Ha'bor by the river of Go'zan, and in the cities of the Me'des.

2 Ten sins for which Israel was taken into captivity

7 For so it was, that the chila Ahaz not only removed the brazen altar from the court of the temple, but also the brazen oxen from beneath the great laver as well as the borders of the bases of the smaller lavers. He put the great laver on stones and gave all this to the king of Assyria (v 17-18)

d The part of Ahaz that slept and was buried could only refer to his body. the soul never sleeps at death or afterward (v 20; Jas. 2:26). See Immortality in Index

e Not like the kings of Israel that were before him. Nevertheless, judgment was due, for God had been longsuffering; in His dealings with the 10 tribes for 260 years not one king of the 19 had been godly. It seems that when national sins reach a certain height, after scores of admonitions and judgment with no repentence forthcoming, total destruction and abandonment of the nation is the only thing left. In such cases forces have been set in motion that only genuine forsaking of sin could stop. Even then if God did not see fit to work a miracle in a nation's behalf, the judgment would come. See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6

f This invasion of Shalmaneser was perhaps in his first year. The archives of Tyre mention him as warring against their king, Elulaeus. This expedition brought about the complete subjugation of Phenicia which had asserted its independence from Assyria. The Assyrians passed from Phenicia into Galilee where they attacked Beth-arbel, treating the people with great severity (Hos. 10:14), in order to alarm Hoshea who then submitted and became tributary. Then Shalmeneser went back to Assyria (v 3). See note h, 15:19

g Hoshea rebelled against Assyria in his 7th year, sending presents to the king of Egypt and not to the king of Assyria. The Assyrians then came against Samaria overthrowing it in 3 years. The 10 tribes were taken into captivity and placed in the cities of the Medes and other places far to the east (v 4-6)

a 25 sins of Israel:
1 Sinned against Jehovah by fearing other gods (v 7)
2 Walked in the statutes of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out for like sins (v 8)
3 Walked in the sins of the kings of Israel by making and worshipping golden calves (v 8; 1 Ki. 12:25-33)
4 Committed secret sins which were not right in God's sight (v 9)
5 Built high places in all their cities
6 Set up images on every high hill and under every green tree (v 10)
7 Set up groves (Asherahs, p. 106) on hills and under trees
8 Burnt incense in all high places, as the heathen did (v 11)
9 Wrought wicked things to provoke God to anger
10 Served idols contrary to God's law (v 12)
11 Would not hear God (v 14)
12 Hardened their necks as their fathers had done
13 Did not believe in the Lord
14 Rejected His statutes (v 15)
15 Rejected His convenant that He had made with their fathers
16 Rejected His testimonies which He testified against them
17 Followed vanity
18 Became vain
19 Went after the heathen round about to follow them
20 Left all the commandments of the Lord (v 16)
21 Worshipped the host of heaven, the sun, moon, and planets
22 Served Baal
23 Caused their sons to pass through the fire (v 17)
24 Used divination and enchantments
25 Sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke Him to anger

b Here God reveals that Judah also went into the same sins of the 10 tribes. Many were the prophets God had sent to both nations of Israel in the attempt to turn them from sin 14 prophets to the 10 tribes:
1 A man of God (1 Ki. 13:1-32)
2 Ahijah (1 Ki. 14:1-18)
3 Jehu (1 Ki. 16:1-4)
4 Elijah (1 Ki. 17:1-2 Ki. 2:11)
5 Elisha (1 Ki. 19:19-21; 2 Ki. 2:1-13:25)
6 An unknown prophet (1 Ki. 20:13-14, 22)
7 A man of God (1 Ki. 20:28)
8 A son of the prophets (1 Ki. 20:35-42)
9 Micaiah (1 Ki. 22:17-28)
10 A son of the prophets (2 Ki. 9:1-10)
11 Jehu, the king (2 Ki. 10:30)
12 Jonah (2 Ki. 14:25)
13 Iddo (2 Chr. 9:29)
14 Oded (2 Chr. 28:9-15)
10 prophets, 1 prophetess to Judah:
1 Shemaiah (2 Chr. 12:7-8)
2 Oded (2 Chr. 15:1-7)
3 Hanani (2 Chr. 16:7-9)
4 Jehu (2 Chr. 19:1-3)
5 Jahaziel (2 Chr. 20:14-17)
6 Eliezer (2 Chr. 20:37)
7 Elijah (2 Chr. 21:12-15)
8 Zechariah (2 Chr. 24:20)
9 A man of God (2 Chr. 25:7-16)
10 Huldah, a prophetess (2 Chr. 34:22-28)
11 Isaiah (2 Ki. 19:6-7, 20-34)
These 25-24 prophets and 1 prophetess - are the only ones mentioned in the books of Kings and Chronicles during the division of Israel into 2 kingdoms. In the introduction to Isaiah we have many others listed which are mentioned elsewhere. Only 7 of the 15 writing prophets from Isaiah to Malachi lived and prophesied during this time of national division. Only Hosea and Amos were prophets to the 10 tribes before their captivity; and 5 of the 7 to Judah before that part of the kingdom's captivity. The other prophets either lived and prophesied before the division of Israel into 2 nations or following the captivity of the 10 tribes to Assyria

c The Benjamites, Levites, and thousands from the 10 tribes were included with Judah. See Anglo-Saxon theory, column 1, p. 367

dren of Is'ra-el had [a]sinned against the LORD their God, which had brought them up out of the land of E'gypt, from under the hand of Phā'raōh king of E'gypt, and had feared other gods,

8 And walked in the statutes of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Is'ra-el, and of the kings of Is'ra-el, which they had made.

9 And the children of Is'ra-el did secretly those things that were not right against the LORD their God, and they built them high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

10 And they set them up images and groves in every high hill, and under every green tree:

11 And there they burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen whom the LORD carried away before them; and wrought wicked things to provoke the LORD to anger:

12 For they served idols, whereof the LORD had said unto them, Ye shall not do this thing.

3 God's pleading with Israel only hardened them: 18 sins of Israel (vs. 7)

●13 Yet the LORD testified against Is'ra-el, and against Jū'dah, by all [b]the prophets, and by all the seers, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my statutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my servants the prophets.

14 Notwithstanding they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the LORD their God.

15 And they rejected his statutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified against them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the LORD had charged them, that they should not do like them.

16 And they left all the commandments of the LORD their God, and made them molten images, even two calves, and made a grove, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served Bā'al.

17 And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divination and enchantments, and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

18 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Is'ra-el, and removed them out of his sight: there was none left but the tribe of [c]Jū'dah only.

4 Judah also destined to captivity for her sins

19 [d]Also Jū'dah kept not the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the statutes of Is'ra-el which they made.

20 And the LORD rejected [e]all the seed of Is'ra-el, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of spoilers, until he had cast them out of his sight.

5 God's justice demanded punishment for Israel

21 For [f]he rent Is'ra-el from the house of Dā'vid; and they made Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'bāt king: and [g]Jĕr-o-bō'am drave Is'ra-el from following the LORD, and made them sin a great sin.

22 For the children of Is'ra-el walked [h]in all the sins of Jĕr-o-bō'am which he did; they departed not from them;

23 [i]Until the LORD removed Is'ra-el out of his sight, as he had said by all his servants the prophets. So was Is'ra-el carried away out of their own land to Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā unto this day.

6 Assyria repeoples the cities of Israel: beginning of the New Testament Samaritans

24 ¶ And the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā [j]brought men from Bāb'ȳ-lon, and from [k]Cū'thah, and from Ā'vā, and from Hā'math, and from Sĕph-ar-vā'im, and placed them in the cities of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā instead of the children of Is'ra-el: and they possessed Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

7 God sends lions on the new inhabitants of Israel

25 And so it was at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared not the LORD: therefore the LORD [l]sent lions among them, which slew some of them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā, saying, The nations which thou hast removed, and placed in the cities of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent lions among them, and, behold, they slay them, because they know not the manner of the God of the land.

8 The Assyrian remedy to pacify the God of Israel

●27 Then the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā commanded, saying, [m]Carry thither one of the priests whom ye brought from thence; and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the manner of the God of the land.

28 Then one of the priests whom they had carried away from Sā-mā'rĭ-ā came and dwelt in Bĕth'-el, and taught them how they should fear the LORD.

9 Continued idolatry of the nations for which God punished Israel

29 [n]Howbeit every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the houses of the a This refers also to the captivity of Judah which is recorded in chs. 24-25. God had to reject Judah also because of their sins for He is no respector of persons. The judgment upon Judah was delayed because 8 of the kings out of 20 were somewhat godly, and they brought periods of revival which turned the people back to Jehovah for a time. After the captivity of the 10 tribes, as recorded here, Judah went deeper into sin and finally had to be destroyed and go into captivity. This made the whole 13 tribes in captivity to Babylon, for in the meantime Babylon had overthrown the Assyrian empire and now ruled all the countries where the 13 tribes were scattered. When Cyrus gave commandment for all Israelites or Jews to go back to their own land and rebuild the city of Jerusalem and their temple, after he had overthrown Babylon, it opened the door for all the 13 tribes to become united again as one nation. This is what happened, for they are spoken of, in Ezra and Nehemiah, as having returned. Furthermore, we have proof of this in the N. T., for the Jews spoken of there were of all the tribes of Israel, the terms 12 tribes, Israel, and Jews being used of the same people (note a, Acts 13:16; Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367)

b Jehovah brought this about because of the sins of Solomon (1 Ki. 11-12)

c See 1 Ki. 12:25-33

d See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6

e This refers to the 10 tribes as dealt with in v 1-18, 21-41

f This proves that the books of Kings were written after the captivity of the 10 tribes as well as after the captivity of Judah, which is recorded in chs. 24-25

g These were the substituted people forming the nucleus of the later Samaritans, and subsequently intermixed with the Jews who returned from captivity (Neh. 13:3, 23-31). They are called foreigners and strangers (Lk. 17:18; Eph. 2:19)

h Cuthah, 15 mi. north of Babylon (v 24). They were removed to Samaria because of the war between Sargon and this city

i This was God's method of causing men in Samaria to fear and respect Him in a measure. At least the colonists regarded their sufferings from lions as judgment sent upon them from the god of the land (v 25-26)

j The king of Assyria sent one of the priests of Israel back to teach the people about the kind of God that dwelled in the land. He taught them to fear Jehovah (v 27-28)

k Regardless of such teaching about Jehovah the people still served gods of their own, put them in houses in the high places, and in all cities where they dwelled (v 29)

d These verses (18-19) make it clear that the 10 tribes were completely destroyed and that Judah, including the many thousands from all the other tribes was the only kingdom of Israelites left to be dealt with by Jehovah as the nation of Israel. Even Judah went into many of the sins of the 10 tribes and, as history records, God had to destroy them also about 133 years later

30 And the men of Bäb'ў-lon made [a]Sŭc'coth-bĕ'noth, and the men of Cüth made[b]Nĕr'gal, and the men of Hă'math made [c]Ash'ĭ-mà, 31 And the Å'vītes made[d]Nĭb'-hăz and[e]Tär'tăk, and the Sĕph'-ar-vītes burnt their children in fire to [f]Å-drăm'me-lĕch and [g]Å-năm'me-lĕch, the gods of Sĕph-ar-vā'ĭm.

32 So they feared the LORD, and made unto themselves of the lowest of them priests of the high places, which sacrificed for them in the houses of the high places.

33 [h]They feared the LORD, and served their own gods, after the manner of the nations whom they carried away from thence.

34 Unto this day they do after the former manners: they fear not the LORD, neither do they after their statutes, or after their ordinances, or after the law and commandment which the LORD commanded the children of Jā'cob, whom he named Iş'ra-el;

35 With whom the LORD had made a covenant, and charged them, saying, Ye shall not fear other gods, nor bow yourselves to them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them:

36 But the LORD, who brought you up out of the land of E'gўpt with great power and a stretched out arm, him shall ye fear, and him shall ye worship, and to him shall ye do sacrifice.

37 And the statutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment, which he wrote for you, ye shall observe to do for evermore; and ye shall not fear other gods.

38 And the covenant that I have made with you ye shall not forget; neither shall ye fear other gods.

39 But the LORD your God ye shall fear; and he shall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit they did not hearken, but they did after their former manner.

41 So these nations feared the LORD, and served their graven images, both their children, and their children's children: as did their fathers, so do they unto this day.

CHAPTER 18 331

IX Kings of Judah hetween the captivities of Israel and Judah (18:1-23:37). 1 Reign of Hezekiah, 13th king of Judah: 29 years (16:19; 2 Chr. 29:1-32:33). (1) Seventh good king of Judah (2 Chr. 29:1-2)

NOW it came to pass in the [k]third year of[l]Hŏ-shē'á son of E'lah king of Iş'ra-el, that [l]Hĕz-e-kī'ah the son of Å'hăz king of Jū'dah began to reign.

2 Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jĕ-rų'sâ-lĕm. His mother's name also was Å'bi, the daughter of Zăch-a-rī'ah.

3 And he[m]did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Dā'vid his father did.

(2) Revival under Hezekiah (2 Chr. 29:3-31:21)

4 ¶ He removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces[n]the brasen serpent that Mō'şes had made: for unto those days the children of Iş'ra-el did burn incense to it: and he called it Nĕ-hŭsh'-tan.

5 He trusted in the LORD God of Iş'ra-el; so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Jū'dah, nor any that were before him.

6 For he clave to the LORD, and departed not from following him, but kept his commandments, which the LORD commanded Mō'şes.

(3) Hezekiah rebels against Assyria (Cp. 16:7, 18)

7 And [o]the LORD was with him; and he prospered whithersoever he went forth: and[p]he rebelled against the king of Às-sўr'ĭ-á, and served him not.

(4) Hezekiah defeats Philistia (Cp. 2 Chr. 28:16-19)

8 He smote the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, even unto Gā'zá, and the borders thereof, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

(5) Captivity of the ten tribes to Assyria in Hezekiah's 4th year of reign over Judah (15:19, refs.)

9 ¶ And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Hĕz-e-kī'ah, which was the seventh year of Hŏ-shē'á son of E'lah king of Iş'ra-el, that Shăl-man-ē'şĕr king of Às-sўr'ĭ-á came up against Să-mā'rĭ-á, and besieged it.

10 And at the end of three years they took it: even in the sixth year of Hĕz-e-kī'ah, that is the ninth year of Hŏ-shē'á king of Iş'ra-el, Să-mā'rĭ-á was taken.

11 And the king of Às-sўr'ĭ-á did [q]carry away Iş'ra-el unto Às-sўr'ĭ-á, and put them in Hă'-lah and in Hă'bôr by the river of Gō'zan, and in the cities of the Mēdeş:

12 [r]Because they obeyed not the voice of the LORD their God, but transgressed his covenant, and all that Mō'şes the servant of the LORD commanded, and would not hear them, nor do them.

(6) End of 10 years of peace (vs. 9): 1st invasion of Judah by Assyria (2 Chr. 32; Isa. 36:1; 2 Ki. 15:19, refs.)

13 ¶ Now [s]in the fourteenth year of king Hĕz-e-kī'ah did Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Às-sўr'-ĭ-á come up against [t]all the fenced cities of Jū'dah, and took them.

a The exact meaning of Succoth-benoth is booths of the daughters - supposed to be the places where women abandoned themselves to impure rites, giving their bodies over to men who devoted themselves to the worship of the Babylonian goddess Zĭr-banĭt, the wife of Merodach. She and her husband were next to Bel and Beltis, the favorite gods of Babylon. The term should read: the booths in the high places, consecrated to idols (v 30)

b Nergal, meaning hero, was a well known Assyrian deity. On the monuments he is called the great brother, the storm ruler, the god of battles, and the god of the chase, the last being his principal title; he was the patron of hunting, and was supposed to represent the deified hero and hunter, Nimrod. His symbol was a man-lion, or human-headed lion with eagle's wings (v 30). See p. 116

c Ashima was the god of Hamath, a deity worshipped under the figure of a goat without wool. The goat is found among the sacred animals of the Babylonian monuments. Ashima corresponded with the Egyptian Mendes, the Greek Pan, and the Phenician Esmun (v 30). See p. 116

d Nibhaz was the god of the Avites. Nothing is known as to its shape or peculiar traits. Hebrew interpreters say that it was in the form of a man with the head of a dog. Egyptians worshipped the dog, and their god Anubis was represented as a man with a dog's head (v 31). See p. 116

e Tartak was another Avite deity thought by some, to be in the form of an ass. Others believe it refers to a planet, Mars, Saturn, or another one (v 31)

f Adrammelech was a god of the Sepharvites, supposedly identical with Molech (v 31). See p. 116

g Anammelech was also a god of the Sepharvites, and supposed to be in the form of a horse. Human sacrifices were offered to it (v 31). See p. 116

h The people of Samaria worshipped all these gods in their own way, in all high places and in their own cities. They feared Jehovah, but served other gods (v 32-33), that is, they were afraid of Him, but not enough to serve Him or keep His laws (v 34-41). When the Samaritans wanted to join the Jews in rebuilding their temple they showed an inclination to draw closer to the Jehovah religion. Long before the erection of a temple to Jehovah on mount Gerizim, 409 B. C., They laid aside idols, accepted the Pentateuch as their religious text book, and began to observe the whole law. The Jews did not take advantage of this desire for Jehovah, but always remained segregated from the Samaritans because of their mixed nationality. As stated in Jn. 4:9 the Jews had no dealings with them

i The sacred writer, having now completed his history of the joint kingdom, and reviewed the religion of the Samaritans, proceeded to give a brief history of the kingdom of Judah from the 10-tribe captivity to the 2-tribe captivity (18:1-25:30)

j The 3rd year of Hosea would be 6 years before the captivity of the 10 tribes, or to the 6th year of the reign of Hezekiah, king of Judah (v 1; 17:1-6; 18:9-12)

k Hoshea, Jehovah is salvation. 4 Hoshea's:
1 Last king of the 10 tribes (15:30; 17:1-6; 18:1, 9-10)
2 Joshua (Dt. 32:44), Hoshea being an early name for Joshua
3 An Ephraimite (1 Chr. 27:20)
4 A returning exile (Neh. 10:23)

l Hezekiah, Jehovah is strength. 3 so-called:
1 King of Judah. Mentioned 128 times (16:20; 18:1-21:3; 1 Chr. 3:13; 4:41; 2 Chr. 28:27; 29:1-33:3; Pr. 25:1; Isa. 1:1; 36:1-39:8; Jer. 15:4; 26:18-19; Hos. 1:1; Mic. 1:1)
2 A son of Neariah (1 Chr. 3:23)
3 An exile (Ezra 2:16; Neh. 7:21)

m 9 "right" things Hezekiah did:
1 Imitated David (v 3)
2 Removed the high places (v 4)
3 Broke the images
4 Cut down the groves (Asherahs, p. 106)
5 Broke the brazen serpent Moses made
6 Trusted in the Lord God of Israel more than other kings did (v 5)
7 Clave to the Lord (v 6)
8 Departed not from following Him
9 Kept His commandments

n The brazen serpent was over 900 years old by this time. It had been an object of worship all these years (v 4)

o 4 rewards to Hezekiah:
1 The Lord was with him (v 7)
2 He prospered wherever he went
3 He broke the yoke of Assyria
4 He conquered the Philistines (v 8) p Ahaz, his father, had become tributary to the Assyrians (16:7-20) now Hezekiah refused to pay any more tribute

q The practice of carrying all the inhabitants of a city or section of the country into captivity was a custom of the Assyrians from a very early period of their history. It is frequently referred to and illustrated on their monuments. Chaldeans were transported to Armenia; Jews into Assyria and Media; and Arabians, Babylonians, and Persians to Samaria. This was the ancient method of keeping down rebellion. Whenever a certain section became rebellious they would be weakened by dispersion; and the independent spirit would be subdued by a severance of all social associations (v 11). See 17:1-23

r 4 reasons for captivity of 10 tribes:
1 Because they obeyed not the voice of the Lord their God (v 12) nant
2 Because they transgressed His cove-
3 Because they transgressed all that Moses commanded 4 Because they would not hear or do the commands

s This was 8 years after the captivity of the 10 tribes. If Hezekiah had yielded, no doubt Sennacherib would have taken the whole kingdom of Judah into captivity. But God gave them victory over the Assyrians because of Hezekiah's trust in Him; and it was not until 125 years later that the Babylonians took the Jews captive (chs. 24-25)

t All except Jerusalem (19:24)

74 charges against God, continued
56 Taken my crown
57 Destroyed me on every side (19:10)
58 Removed my hope like a tree
59 Kindled His wrath against me (19:11)
60 Counted me as one of His enemies
61 His troops raise up their way against me, and encamp round my house (19:12)
62 He has put my brethren far from me
63 Estranged my acquaintances (19:13)
64 The Almighty troubles me (23:16)
65 God has taken away my judgment (27:2)
66 Vexed my soul
67 Loosed my cord (30:11)
68 Afflicted me
69 Cast me into the mire (30:19)
70 I cry to You, and You do not hear me (30:20)
71 I stand up and You do not regard me
72 You are become cruel to me (30:21)
73 You oppose me
74 You have lifted me up to the wind and have dissolved my substance (30:22)

All the above 74 statements are untrue, for it was Satan who took away his substance (1:12-19), terrorized him, and did all the other cruel things to Job 2:6-7; 42:10). At first Job did not sin with his lips or charge God foolishly, but after his friends came and he endured long months of suffering, he began to sin thus. For this he repented (40:1-6; 42:1-6) a By this time Hezekiah had lost all the defenced cities of Judah to the king of Assyria (v 13); so he now confessed the offence of rebelling against the Assyrians, promising to pay any tribute laid upon him. The king of Assyria demanded 300 talents of silver and 30 talents of gold. Estimated value of these would be:

300 silver @ $1,920.00.. $576,000.00
30 gold @ $29,085.00... 872,560.00
Total..... $1,448,560.00

b To the king of Assyria Hezekiah gave all the silver found in the house of the LORD, and in the king's treasury. He also gave him all the gold cut off the doors of the temple and from the pillars which he had overlaid with gold; and yet the Assyrians made war on him (v 15-25) c The king of Assyria was not satisfied with all the gold and silver in Judah, having already planned to take the Jews captive, perhaps; and so he sent a large army to take Jerusalem. His commanders stood before the walls and insulted Judah (v 17-25)

d Tartan, a title of commander-in-chief e Rabsaris, title of chief of the heads

f Rabshakah, title of chief of the captains

g Hezekiah sent the chief of his officers to negotiate a settlement with Assyria (v 18). It appears from the monuments that Sennacherib, content with his tribute and captives, went back to Nineveh. Hezekiah, left to himself, repented of his submission, and commenced negotiations with Egypt (v 21, 24; Isa. 30:3-6; 31:1), which implied treason against the king of Assyria. Then Sennacherib led another expedition into Palestine, following the regular coast route into Philistia. He planned to conquer Egypt, leaving Jerusalem alone for the time being. While he was besieging Lachish on his way to meet the Egyptians he decided to try out the Jews by sending an army to fight against Jerusalem (v 17-25)

h Questions 89-93. Next, v 27

i Here the Assyrians insulted Judah by making fun of their power to make war for rebelling, trusting in Egypt and trusting in God, taunting them with the idea that they would not be able to find enough men to ride on 2,000 horses (v 20-24). They even boasted that the God of Israel had commanded them to come against Jerusalem (v 25)

j This shows the ignorance of the Assyrians concerning Jehovah. Hezekiah had taken all the high places of Baal away and removed all his worship; and they thought it was Jehovah and His worship that Hezekiah had taken away (v 23)

k Either they were boasting or they had heard the prophecies of Isa. 10:5-19

34 great works of God (Job 36:27):

1 He makes small drops of water (36:27)
2 Pours rain on earth according to the vapour that ascends from earth
3 Causes the clouds to drop rain upon man abundantly (36:28)
4 Spreads out the clouds for a tabernacle (36:29)
5 Makes thunder in the clouds
6 Spreads light upon His tabernacle (36:30)
7 Covers the seas with water
8 Judges the people by means of the clouds, lightning, and thunder (36:31)
9 Gives all things meat in abundance
10 Covers the clouds with light (36:32)
11 Commands light not to shine by bringing clouds between it and the earth
12 Manifests the thunder (36:33)
13 Manifests vapour to the cattle; that is, gathers the vapour like cattle
14 Causes the heart of man to tremble (37:1)
15 Causes it to move out of place
16 Directs the thunder under the whole heaven (37:3)
17 Directs the lightning unto the ends of the earth
18 Sends the thunder after the lightning (37:4)
19 Thunders with the voice of excellency

(7) Hezekiah submits and pays tribute but not enough

14 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah [a]sent to the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă to Lā'chish, saying, I have offended; return from me: that which thou puttest on me will I bear. And the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă appointed unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.

15 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah [b]gave him all the silver that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the king's house.

16 At that time did Hĕz-e-kī'ah cut off the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars which Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă.

(8) Judah insulted (2 Chr. 32:9-16; Isa. 36:4-10)

17 ¶ And [c]the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă sent [d]Tär'tan and [e]Răb'-sa-rĭs and [f]Răb'-sha-keh from Lā-chish to king Hĕz-e-kī'ah with a great host against Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm. And they went up and came to Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm. And when they were come up, they came and stood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is in the highway of the fuller's field.

18 And when they had called to the king, [g]there came out to them Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, which was over the household, and Shĕb'ná the scribe, and Jō'ah the son of Ă'saph the recorder.

19 And Răb'-sha-keh said unto them, Speak ye now to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Thus [h]saith the great king, the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

20 Thou sayest, (but they are but vain words,) I have counsel and strength for the war. Now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Now, behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Ĕ'gўpt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Phă'raōh king of Ĕ'gўpt unto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say unto me, We trust in the LORD our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hĕz-e-kī'ah hath taken away, and hath said to Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm?

23 Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my lord the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă, and I will deliver thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

24 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Ĕ'gўpt for chariots and for horsemen?

25 Am I now come up [i]without the LORD against this place to destroy it? The LORD said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

(9) Judah's answer (Isa. 36:11)

26 [j]Then said Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, and Shĕb'ná, and Jō'ah, unto Răb'-sha-keh, Speak, I pray thee, to thy servants in the Sўr'ĭ-an language; for we understand it: and talk not with us in the Jews' language in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

(10) Assyria insults God (2 Chr. 32:17-19; Isa. 36:12-21)

27 [k]But Răb'-sha-keh said unto them, [l]Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

28 Then Răb'-sha-keh stood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and spake, saying, Hear the word of the great king, the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă:

29 Thus saith the king, Let not Hĕz-e-kī'ah deceive you: for he shall not [m]be able to deliver you out of his hand:

30 Neither let Hĕz-e-kī'ah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us, and this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă.

31 Hearken not to Hĕz-e-kī'ah: for thus saith the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă, Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me, and then eat ye every man of his own vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his cistern:

32 [n]Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oil olive and of honey, that ye may live, and not die: and hearken not unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah, when he persuadeth you, saying, The LORD will deliver us.

33 [o]Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered at all his land out of the hand of the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă?

34 [p]Where are the gods of Hă'-math, and of Ăr'pad? where are the gods of Sĕph-ar-vă'im, Hē'-ná, and Ĭ'vah? have they delivered Să-mā'rĭ-ă out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the countries, that have delivered their country out of mine hand, that the LORD should deliver Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm out of mine hand?

36 But [q]the people held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

37 Then came Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, which was over the household, and Shĕb'-ná the scribe, and Jō'ah the son of Ă'saph the recorder, to Hĕz-e-kī'ah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Răb'-sha-keh.

a The officers of Assyria were evidently speaking loud enough to be heard on the walls of Jerusalem, so that the people would become afraid and surrender, for an appeal was made by officers of Israel that they speak in the Syrian tongue so that the people on the walls would not understand (v 26)

b Instead of being quiet so that the people might not be weakened, the officers of Assyria spoke all the louder, and now made insults against Jehovah and the king (v 27-37)

c Questions 94-95. Next, v 33

d 3 grounds for Hezekiah's trust:
1 His own power to make war
2 The help of his allies (v 21)
3 Supernatural assistance (v 30; Isa. 30:31; 31:4-9)

e This reveals the plan to take all the Jews into captivity (v 32)

f Questions 96-100. Next, 19:11. There was no living God in those nations only idols; but they were faced with Him this time, one who manifested His power and killed 185,000 men in one night (19:35-37)

g The Assyrian monuments give evidence of a custom which illustrates the haughty language of this text. It was their practice to take the idols of the various nations to Assyria where they were assigned a place among the captive gods. Here they were boasting that their god was more powerful than all others, so it was vain to expect Jehovah to rescue them, especially since He did not rescue their brethren in Samaria (v 34-35)

h The people held their peace; but the officers rent their clothes at such bold threats (v 38-37: 19:1)

1 Hear my speeches (33:1)
2 Hearken to all my words (33:1)
3 Set your words in order before me (33:5)
4 Stand up (33:5)
5 Mark well, O Job, hearken to me (33:31)
6 Hold your peace (33:31)

9 If not, hearken to me (33:33)
10 Hold your peace, and I will teach you wisdom (33:33)

12 Hearken to me (34:10)
13 Hear this: hearken to the voice of my words (34:16)

15 Take heed, regard not iniquity (36:
16 Remember that you magnify His work (36:24)
17 Hear attentively the noise of His voice (37:2)
18 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God (37:14)

a Rending clothes was a sign of despair, and certainly showed lack of faith in God. Such information caused the king to put on sackcloth and go into the house of God to pray (v 1) b The king sent to Isaiah for a message and prayer (v 2). This is the first mention of the prophet in the historical books. Hezekiah was the 4th king in whose reign he had prophesied (Isa. 1:1). The passages in the book of Isaiah which refer to these events are 10:5-19; 14:24-27; 22:1-25; 36:1-37:38

c Isaiah, Jehovah is helper. He is mentioned 32 times (19:2-20:19; 2 Chr. 26:22; 32:20, 32; Isa. 1:1; 2:1; 7:3; 13:1; 20:2-3; 37:2-39:8). Called Esaias in the N. T. 21 times (Mt. 3:3; 4:14; 8:17; 12:17; 13:14; 15:7; Mk. 7:6; Lk. 3:4; 4:17; Jn. 1:23; 12:38-41; Acts 8:28-30; 28:25; Rom. 9:27-29; 10:16-20; 15:12)

2 A day of rebuke
3 A day of blasphemy

4 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will send a blast upon him (19:7)
2 He shall hear a rumor

g Questions 101-103. Next, v 22

4fold character of Job (Job 1:1):

1 Perfect. Heb. tam. Trans. perfect 1:1, 8; 2:3; 8:20; 9:20-22; Ps. 37:37; 64:4); plain (Gen. 25:27); upright (Pr. 29:10); and undefiled (Song 5:2; 6:9). Tam is derived from tamam, to complete; make full; be entire; to finish. It denotes that in which there is no part lacking to complete the whole, as the complete parts of a watch or piece of machinery in which no wheel is wanting. Job was not only upright as a chief among his people, but pious toward God. He was not only kind to his family, but just to his neighbors, and benevolent to the poor. The word perfect used to describe him, properly means utter simplicity, sincerity, being free from guile and evil intention toward anyone, having no part lacking in outward life, conduct, and religion. It does not mean sinless perfection or being without any tendencies to evil, for Job was a human with the usual traits and short-comings that show up under pressure, as can be seen from a list of the mistakes of Job, p. 420

2 Upright. Heb. yashar, to be straight. It is trans. upright (1:1, 8; 2:3; 8:6; 17:8; 1 Sam. 29:6; 2 Chr. 29:34; Ps. 7:10; 11:2, 7; 25:8; 32:11; 33:1-4; 37:14, 37; Pr. 11:3); right (Ex. 15:26; Dt. 6:18; 12:8); righteous (4:7; 23:7); meet (2 Ki. 10:3; Jer. 26:14); just (Pr. 29:10); straight (Jer. 21:9; Ezek. 1:7, 23); convenient (Jer. 40:4-5); and equity (3:9)

3 Feared God. Heb. yare, to revere; be afraid of; to have deep respect for (1:1; Ex. 9:20; 1 Ki. 18:3; 2 Ki. 17:32-33, 41). True religion in Scripture is often represented as the fear of God (Pr. 1:7, 29; 2:5; 8:13; 14:26-27; Isa. 11:2; Acts 9:31)

4 Eschewed evil. Heb. suwr, to turn off; decline; depart from; lay away; leave undone; be past; pluck away; put down; rebel against; remove; be sour against; withdraw (1:1, 8; 2:3, Cp. 1 Pet. 3:11)

(11) Hezekiah turns to God for help (Isa. 37:1-4)

AND it came to pass, when king Hĕz-e-kī'ah heard it, that he [a]rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.

2 And he sent Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm, which was over the household, and Shĕb'nā the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, [b]to [c]Ī-şā'iah the prophet the son of Ā'mŏz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hĕz-e-kī'ah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will hear all the words of Răb'-sha-keh, whom the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā his master hath sent to reproach the living God; and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

(12) Isaiah's prophecy of Assyrian defeat (Isa. 37:5-7)

5 So the servants of king Hĕz-e-kī'ah came to Ī-şā'iah.

6 ¶ And Ī-şā'iah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, with which the servants of the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā have blasphemed me.●

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

(13) Sennacherib defies God (Isa. 37:8-13)

8 ¶ So Răb'-sha-keh returned, and found the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā warring against Lĭb'-nah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lā'chish.

9 And [d]when he heard say of Tir'ha-kah king of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-ā, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: he sent messengers again unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jē-rų'sā-lĕm shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly: [e]and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed; as Gō'zan, and Hā'ran, and Rē'-zeph, and the children of Ĕ'dĕn which were in Thĕ-lā'sar?

13 Where is the king of Hā'-math, and the king of Ār'pad, and the king of the city of Sĕph-ar-vā'im, of Hē'nā, and Ī'vah?

(14) Hezekiah again prays (vs. 1; 2 Chr. 32:20; Isa. 37:14-20)

14 ¶ And Hĕz-e-kī'ah [a]received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hez-e-kī'ah went up into the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.

15 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah prayed before the LORD, and said, O LORD God of Iş'ra-el, which dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth.

16 [b]LORD, bow down thine ear, and hear: open, LORD, thine eyes, and see: and hear the words of Sĕn-năch'e-rīb, which hath sent him to reproach the living God.

17 Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā have destroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beseech thee, save thou us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD God, even thou only.

(15) Isaiah's second prophecy of Assyrian defeat (Isa. 37:21-35. Cp. 2 Ki. 19:5-7)

20 ¶ [c]Then Ī-şā'iah the son of Ā'mŏz sent to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, That which thou hast prayed to me against Sĕn-năch'e-rīb king of Ăs-sўr'-ī-ā I have heard.

21 This is the word that the LORD hath spoken concerning him; The virgin the daughter of Zī'ŏn hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm hath shaken her head at thee.

22 [c]Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Iş'ra-el.

23 By thy messengers thou hast reproached the Lord, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lĕb'a-non, and will cut down the tall cedar trees thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into the lodgings of his borders, and into the forest of his Cär'mel.

24 I have digged and drunk strange waters, and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of besieged places.

25 [d]Hast thou not heard long ago *how*I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps.

26 Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house tops, and a It was characteristic of Hezekiah to take his problems to God; and this is to be greatly admired (v 1, 2, 14; 20:2). He made a prayer of 134 words for Jehovah to deliver the whole nation - and it was answered (v 14-37)

b 4 requests of Hezekiah:
1 Bow down Your ear, and hear (v 16)
2 Open Your eyes, and see
3 Hear the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to reproach You
4 I beseech You, save us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that You are the only Lord God (v 19)

c Then - after the prayer of Hezekiah over the letter from the king of Assyria, Isaiah gave God's answer to the prayer (v 20-34). This was an answer of 486 words to a prayer of 134 words

d God always has answered and always will answer prayers that are made in faith, trust, and entire dependence upon Him. It is always, and without exception, His will to answer petitions that are in harmony with faith and the promises He has made. God had already given the promise of protection to Hezekiah and told him in several details what He was going to do (v 7). The king had the word of God as the grounds of his faith and confidence. So it is today, when one makes a prayer in harmony with God's word; it will be answered if faith is properly exercised (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:4-8; 1 Jn. 1:13-14; 5:21-22)

e Questions 104-105. Next, v 25

f God recognized that the Assyrians had blasphemed Him (v 22-24)

g Question 106. Next, 20:8

h Here God revealed that what Assyria had been able to do was by His will and permission. His people needed chastening and He had planned to bring it about by them (v 25-26). This is another revelation of God as the Sovereign of the creations, showing that He works His will out among the inhabitants of the earth toward an ultimate end - ridding the earth of all rebellion and bringing everything back into perfect harmony with Himself (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; 3:11)

21 facts about Satan (Job 1:7):

1 He is a person - with personal name, personal acts, and personal plans to oppose God in the earth (v 6-12; 2:1-8)
2 He has access to heaven (v 1; 2:1; Rev. 12:9-12)
3 He is the accuser of the brethren (v 9-11; 2:4-5; Rev. 12:10)
4 He goes from place to place (v 6-7; 2:1-2)
5 Associates with angels (v 6; 2:1)
6 Appears before God (v 6; 2:1)
7 Roams the earth (v 7; 2:2; 1 Pet. 5:8)
8 Carries on conversations with God (v 7-12; 2:2-6)
9 Singles out individuals hoping to destroy them (v 8, 12; 2:4-5)
10 Hates good men (v 8-12; 2:3-6)
11 Recognizes and envies the blessing of God upon others (v 10; 2:4-5)
12 Seeks to destroy fellowship between God and His children (v 10-11; 2:4-6)
13 Seeks to cause men to curse God and deny Him (v 11; 2:5)
14 Is limited by God in touching His children (v 12; 2:6)
15 Can destroy riches of men (v 12-19)
16 Destroys to the limit of his ability through the permission of God (v 12-19; 2:6-10)
17 Has many agents on earth who do his bidding (v 15, 17)
18 Can send fire from heaven (v 16)
19 Can control the elements and cause storms when God permits (v 18-19)
20 Is untiring in his efforts to destroy good men (2:1-8) 21 Is the propagator of sickness and disease in the bodies of men (2:7; Acts 10:38)

a God knows this about each person, for His agents are universal, and His presence is over all creation

b 4 things God knows of all men (v 27):
1 Their abode
2 Their going out
3 Their coming in 4 Their rage against Him, if any. He also knows all other attitudes and acts for or against Him

c 19th prophecy in 2 Ki. (19:28-34, fulfilled). Next, 20:1
10 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will put My hook in your (Sennacherib's) nose, and My bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back by the way you came (19:28)
2 You (Israel) shall eat such things as grow of themselves, this year and the next (19:29)
3 In the 3rd year you will sow and reap, plant vineyards, and eat the fruits from them
4 The remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward (19:30)
5 Out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant and they that escape out of Zion (19:31)
6 The king of Assyria shall not come into the city (19:32)
7 He shall not shoot any arrow there or come before it with shield
8 He shall not cast a bank against it
9 By the way that he came he shall return and not come into this city (19:33)
10 I will defend this city, to save it, for my servant David's sake (19:34)

d Meaning arrogance here (v 28)

e Sculptures show that the kings of Assyria and Babylon were in the habit of actually putting a ring or fish hook through the flesh of their more distinguished prisoners, then attaching a thong or rope and leading them about as with a bridle. In Assyria the ring or hook was passed through the lower lip, while in Babylon it was through the membrane of the nose. Thus God threatened Sennacherib with the punishment he had inflicted on others many times (v 28). God did not do this literally, so it expresses figuratively the complete defeat and humiliation of Sennacherib whenever he would be judged by Him

f The Assyrian king was to return to his land by the same way he came (v 28)

g The sign given to show that God would do this was that Israel would be free from any siege and could roam the fields to gather such food as grew of itself for the rest of this particular year and the next. After that they would sow and reap again in a normal way (v 29). Besides this, there would be a remnant saved through any trouble to the city of Jerusalem, and these would live normal lives in becoming settled again in Judah (v 29). This happened as predicted, and it was not until about 125 years later that they were destroyed as a nation and taken into captivity, as recorded in chs. 24-25

h See the 5 things that were to happen to the king of Assyria, note c, above. All this was literally fulfilled in that God sent an angel to destroy 185,000 of his men in one night and Sennacherib had to give up all plans for besieging Jerusalem or continuing away from his own country among hostile people (v 32-37)

i Here God associated Himself with David in giving the reason for sparing the nation of Israel from complete destruction at this time (v 34). For His own sake and for David's He did this. See 16 uses of the word "sake", p. 415

j That night, that very night of the day in which the prophecy of v 28-34 was uttered, God fulfilled it by sending an angel who killed 185,000 Assyrians. This forced Sennacherib to withdraw from the city without casting an arrow into it or building a bank against it, as predicted in v 32-34 (v 35-37)

k The meaning here is not that Sennacherib did not make any more expeditions at all, for the records show that he warred in Armenia, Babylonia, Susiana, and Cilicia after this; but he confined himself to his own part of Asia and never again attempted to invade Palestine or threaten Jerusalem (v 36)

27 But [a]I know [b]thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

28 [c]Because thy rage against me and thy [d]tumult is come up into mine ears, therefore I will put my [e]hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee [f]back by the way by which thou camest.

29 And this shall be a [g]sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such things as grow of themselves, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Jū'dah shall yet again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm shall go forth [h]a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zī'ŏn: the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

32 Therefore thus saith the LORD [i]concerning the king of As-sȳr'ī-a, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a bank against it.

33 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the LORD.

34 For I will defend this city, to save it, for [j]mine own sake, and for my servant Dā'vid's sake.

(16) Miraculous defeat of Assyria (2 Chr. 32:21; Isa. 37:36), fulfilling 2 Ki. 19:5, 20

35 ¶ And it came to pass [k]that night, that the angel of the LORD went out, and smote in the camp of the As-sȳr'ī-anș an hundred fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Sĕn-năch'e-rīb king of As-sȳr'ī-a departed, and went and returned, and [l]dwelt at Nin'e-veh.

37 And it [m]came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of [n]Nĭs'rŏch his god, that Ă-drăm'me-lĕch and Shā-rē'zĕr his [o]sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Är-mē'nĭ-a. And Ē'sar-hăd'don his son reigned in his stead.

(17) Hezekiah's sickness and prophecy of healing (2 Chr. 32:24-25; Isa. 38:1-6)

IN those days was Hĕz-e-kī'ah sick unto death. And the prophet Ī-ṣā'iah the son of Ā'mŏz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, [p]Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, saying, ★●

3 [q]I beseech thee, O LORD, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, [a]and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hĕz-e-kī'ah wept sore.

4 And it came to pass, [b]afore Ī-ṣā'iah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the LORD came to him, saying,

5 [c]Turn again, and tell Hĕz-e-kī'ah the captain of my people, Thus saith the LORD, the God of [d]Dā'vid thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the LORD.●

6 And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of As-sȳr'ī-a; and I will defend this city for mine [e]own sake, and for my servant Dā'vid's sake.

●7 And Ī-ṣā'iah said, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and [f]he recovered.

(18) Miraculous sign of Hezekiah's healing (Isa. 38:7-8)

8 ¶ And Hĕz-e-kī'ah said unto Ī-ṣā'iah, [g]What shall be the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the LORD the third day?

★9 [h]And Ī-ṣā'iah said, [i]This sign shalt thou have of the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing that he hath spoken: shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

10 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but let the shadow return backward ten degrees.

11 And Ī-ṣā'iah the prophet cried unto the LORD: and he brought the shadow ten degrees backward, by which it had gone down in the dial of Ā'hăz.

(19) Isaiah's prophecy of Judah's captivity (2 Chr. 32:31; Isa. 39:1-8)

12 ¶/At that time [k]Bĕ-rō'dăch-băl'a-dăn, the son of Băl'a-dăn, king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, sent letters and a present unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah: for he had heard that Hĕz-e-kī'ah had been sick.

13 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah hearkened unto them, and shewed them [l]all the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hĕz-e-kī'ah shewed them not.

14 ¶ Then came Ī-ṣā'iah the prophet unto king Hĕz-e-kī'ah, and said unto him, [m]What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hĕz-e-kī'ah said, They are come from a far country, even from Bāb'ȳ-lon.

15 And he said, What have they seen in thine house? And Hĕz-e-kī'ah answered, All the things that are in mine house have they seen: there is noth-

j At that time-when Hezekiah had been sick and was healed, the king of Babylon sent spies to pose as ambassadors giving thanks for the healing of the king. Hezekiah was so flattered that a strange king from a strange country would be so concerned that he showed them all his riches (v 12-13). Then, after they were gone, Isaiah was sent of God to give Hezekiah a message saying that this very country would send an army to take all these riches to Babylon, and that his own descendants would be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon (v 14-19)

l Meaning after some years beyond the invasion of Palestine, as he was worshipping in the house of his god, his sons killed him (v 37)

m Nisroch was an idol of Nineveh which has not yet been either identified with any known Assyrian deity or the name of the temple of his god, for temples were always given special names. Should this be true, then it could read: As he was worshipping his god in the house Nisroch (v 37)

a The last thing said about the treasures was that Hezekiah gave them all to the king of Assyria in order to persuade the Assyrian not to come against him (18:13-16). Where Hezekiah got the treasures referred to here is not stated; but in 2 Chr. 32:22-30 we read about many bringing gifts unto the Lord, and unto Hezekiah until he had exceeding great riches of gold, silver, precious stones, spices, shields, all manner of pleasant jewels, and flocks in abundance ing among my [o]treasures that I have not shewed them.

16 [h]And Ī-şā'iah [c]said unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Hear the word of the LORD.

17 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store unto this day, shall be carried into Băb'ȳ-lon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.

18 And of thy [d]sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Băb'ȳ-lon.

19 Then said Hĕz-e-kī'ah unto Ī-şā'iah, [e]Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. And he said, Is it not good, if peace and truth be in my days?

(20) Death of Hezekiah: accession of Manasseh (2 Chr. 32:32)

20 ¶ And the [f]rest of the acts of Hĕz-e-kī'ah, and all his might, and how he [g]made a pool, and a conduit, and brought water into the city, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

21 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah slept with his fathers: and Mā-nās'seh his [i]son reigned in his stead.

334 CHAPTER 21

2 Reign of Manasseh, 14th king of Judah: 55 years (2 Chr. 33:1-20). (1) Accession and 16 sins (2 Chr. 33:1-10)

[k]MĀ-NĀS'SEH was twelve years old when he began to reign, and reigned [l]fifty and five years in Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm. And his mother's name was [m]Hĕph'-zī-bah.

2 And he [n]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out before the children of Ĭş'-ra-el.

3 For he built up again the high places which Hĕz-e-kī'ah his father [o]had destroyed; and he reared up altars for Bā'al, and made a [p]grove, [q]as did Ā'hăb king of Ĭş'ra-el; [r]and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them.

4 And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD said, In Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm will I put my name.

5 And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the [s]two courts of the house of the LORD.

6 And he [t]made his son pass through the fire, and [u]observed times, and used enchantments, and dealt with familiar spirits and wizards: he wrought much wickedness in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

*7 And he set a [v]graven image of the grove that he had made in the house, of which the LORD said to Dā'vid, and to Sŏl'o-mon his son, [w]In this house, and in Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, which I have chosen out of all tribes of Ĭş'ra-el, will I put my name for ever:

8 Neither will I make the feet of Ĭş'ra-el move any more out of the land which I gave their fathers; [x]only if they will observe to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the law that my servant Mō'şeş commanded them.

9 But they hearkened not: and Mā-nās'seh [y]seduced them to do more evil than did the nations whom the LORD destroyed before the children of Ĭş'ra-el.

(2) Prophecy of judgment on Manasseh

*10 ¶ [z]And the LORD spake by his servants the prophets, saying,

11 Because Mā-nās'seh king of Jū'dah hath done these abominations, and hath done wickedly above all that the Ăm'ŏr-ītes did, which were before him, and hath made Jū'dah also to sin with his idols:

12 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Ĭş'ra-el, Behold, I am bringing such evil upon Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm and Jū'dah, that whosoever heareth of it, [a]both his ears shall tingle.

13 [b]And I will stretch over Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm the line of Sā-mā'-rī-ā, and the plummet of the house of Ā'hăb: and I will wipe Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it, and turning it upside down.

14 And I will forsake the [c]remnant of mine inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies; and they shall become a prey and a spoil to all their enemies;

15 [d]Because they have done that which was evil in my sight, and have provoked me to anger, since the day their fathers came forth out of Ē'gўpt, even unto this day.

(3) Continued sins of Manasseh (2 Chr. 33:11-19)

16 Moreover [e]Mā-nās'seh shed innocent blood very much, till he had filled Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm from one end to another; beside his sin wherewith he made Jū'dah to sin, in doing that which was evil in the sight of the LORD.

(4) Death of Manasseh: accession of Amon (2 Chr. 33:20)

17 ¶ Now the [f]rest of the acts of Mā-nās'seh, and all that he did, and his sin that he sinned, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

18 And Mā-nās'seh [g]slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own house, in the garden of Ŭz'zā: and Ā'mon his son reigned in his stead.

3 Reign of Amon, 15th king of Judah: 2 years (2 Chr. 33:21). (1) Accession and character

19 ¶ [h]Ā'mon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years a This is why these two predictions are to have a future fulfillment. Israel has never obeyed all that was commanded them; instead they always went into sin. Therefore, God could not bless them with an eternal temple and city or give them a permanent land to dwell in. When the Messiah comes and Israel is brought to repentance and converted these prophecies will be literally fulfilled (v 7-8; Ezek. 37; 43:7; 48:35; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29)

b This is not said of any other king of Judah. He not only sinned himself, but spent time and effort to seduce others to join him in his sinning (v 9)

c 25th prophecy in 2 Ki. (21:10-15, fulfilled). Next, 22:15

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will bring evil on Jerusalem and Judah, that whoever hears of it, his ears will tingle (21:12)
2 I will stretch over Jerusalem the line of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab (21:13)
3 I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it, and turning it upside down (21:13)
4 I will forsake the remnant of My inheritance (21:14)
5 I will deliver them into the hand of their enemies (21:14)
6 They shall become a prey and a spoil to all their enemies (21:14)

d Cp. 1 Sam. 3:11

e 3 figurative statements of destruction:
1 I will stretch over Jerusalem the line of Samaria, meaning the city would be destroyed as Samaria was (v 13; 17:1-9)
2 And the plummet of the house of Ahab, meaning the inhabitants would be destroyed like the house of Ahab (v 13; 9:14-10:30)
3 I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it, and turning it upside down (v 13)

f A remnant survived the calamities of 18:13-19:37, but they were not to be protected in the coming judgment on Judah and Jerusalem. They were to be given into the hands of their enemies (v 14)

g 4 causes for destruction of Judah:
1 Because of the sins of Manasseh (v 11)
2 He had done more wickedly than all the Amorites of old
3 Because of the sins of Judah
4 They had done evil in God's sight to provoke Him to anger, since the day that He brought them out of Egypt (v 15)

h Manasseh shed much innocent blood from one end of Jerusalem to the other (v 16). It is held by many that he even killed Isaiah, the prophet. Josephus says that he did not even spare the prophets

c 6 sins of Amon:
1 Did evil in the sight of the Lord (v 20)
2 Walked in all the sins of his father
3 Served idols his father served

g Next to the youngest king in Israel at the beginning of his reign. Josiah was 7 years old when he began to reign (1:4); and Manasseh began ruling when he was 12. Brought up under godly Hezekiah, his father, Manasseh became the worst king of all. Josiah (who began ruling when he was 8) was born to and brought up by wicked Amon; but he became one of the most godly kings. Thus the truth of Ezek. 18 is illustrated here; that is a righteous father may produce a very wicked son, and a wicked father may produce a godly son l This was the year of completing the repair work on the temple and instituting certain reforms (v 3; 23:23). The repairing began in the 12th year (2 Chr. 34:3-8). CHAPTER 22 335

4 Reign of Josiah, 16th king of Judah: 31 years (2 Chr. 34:1-35:27). (1) Eighth and last good king of Judah (2 Chr. 34:1-7)

JŎ-SĪ'AH was [a]eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and one years in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm. And his mother's name was Jĕ-dī'dah, the daughter of Ăd-a-ī'ah [b]of Bŏs'cāth.

2 And he [c]did [d]that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in all the way of Dā'vid his father, and [e]turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

(2) The temple repaired (2 Chr. 34:8-13)

3 ¶ And it came to pass [f]in the eighteenth year of king Jŏ-sī'-ah, that the [g]king sent Shā'phan the son of Āz-a-lī'ah, the son of Mĕ-shŭl'lam, the scribe, to the house of the LORD, saying,

4 Go up to Hĭl-kī'ah the high priest, that he may sum the silver which is brought into the house of the LORD, which the keepers of the door have gathered of the people:

5 And let them deliver it into the hand of the [h]doers of the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD: and let them give it to the doers of the work which is in the house of the LORD, to repair the breaches of the house,

6 Unto carpenters, and builders, and masons, and to buy timber and hewn stone to repair the house.

7 Howbeit there was [a]no reckoning made with them of the money that was delivered into their hand, because they dealt faithfully.

(3) The law discovered (2 Chr. 34:14-17)

8 ¶ And Hĭl-kī'ah the high priest said unto Shā'phan the scribe, [b]I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hĭl'kī'ah gave the book to Shā'phan, and he read it.

9 And Shā'phan the scribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and said, Thy servants have gathered the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD.

10 And Shā'phan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Hĭl-kī'ah the priest hath delivered me a book. And [c]Shā'phan read it before the king.

(4) Sin discovered: true repentance (2 Chr. 34:18-21)

11 And it came to pass, when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

12 And the king commanded Hĭl-kī'ah the priest, and Ă-hī'-kam the son of Shā'phan, and Ăch'bôr the son of Mī-chā'iah, and Shā'phan the scribe, and Ă-sa-hī'ah a servant of the king's, saying,

13 Go ye, enquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Jū'dah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us.

14 So Hĭl-kī'ah the priest, and Ă-hī'kam, and Ăch'bôr, and Shā'phan, and Ă-sa-hī'ah, went unto Hŭl'dah, the prophetess, the wife of Shăl'lum the son of Tĭk'vah, the son of Hăr'has, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm [d]in the college;) and they communed with her.

(5) Huldah's prophecy of judgment on Judah (2 Chr. 34:22-28)

15 ¶ [e]And she said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, Tell the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the words of the book which the king of Jū'dah hath read:

17 [f]Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

18 But to the king of Jū'dah which sent you to enquire of the LORD, thus shall ye say to him, a No accounts were kept regarding how these overseers used the money in the hiring of workers and buying materials, for they were trustworthy and dealt faithfully (v 7, 9)

b This might have been the original copy of the Pentateuch laid up beside the ark (Dt. 31:24-26). It could have been hidden during the reigns of Manasseh and Amon because of their wickedness and turning against Jehovah (21:16, 21) c Read especially the parts applicable to the present circumstances, as Lev. 26 and Dt. 28. When the king heard the words of the book he rent his clothes, and commended his servants to inquire of the Lord for him, the people, and all Judah. He recognized that they were in trouble because of transgressing the law. They went to Huldah, the prophetess who dwelled in Jerusalem (v 11-14)
d The Heb. trans. college here is mishneh, a repetition; duplicate; double; second; and twice as much. Some trans. it the second quarter of Jerusalem, second ward of Jerusalem, the second part or second rank of buildings joining the palace. It should not have been trans. college (v 14)

2 My wrath shall be kindled against this place and it shall not be quenched (22:17)
3 I will gather you (Josiah) unto your fathers, and you shall be gathered unto the grave in peace (22:20)

f 2 causes of judgment upon Judah:
1 Because they have forsaken Me (v 17)
2 Because they have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke Me to anger with all the works of their hands

Hezekiah's prayer (20:3)

There were only 30 words in Hezekiah's prayer, but they brought an answer that give him 15 more years to live and reign in Judah. It was a short prayer compared to the 134 words of a previous prayer asking for the whole nation to be saved (note a, 19:14). His was a quick answer on this occasion, for before Isaiah had departed from the middle court God told him to return and give a new message of life to the king (v 4-7)

Hezekiah's sun dial (20:9)

Hezekiah chose the harder thing-that the sun be turned backward 10 degrees instead of forward. By God's eternal law it always moves forward but here is a notable miracle of the sun being turned backward; or, technically speaking, the earth revolving back 10 degrees from where it had come on that day. There is no need to guess how this was done, by eclipse or some other act of nature, for then we begin to question the supernatural. Could not God turn His earth backward 10 degrees? If so, then we need not manufacture theories to explain the matter

3 arguments to Jehovah (20:3)
1 I have walked before You in truth
2 I have walked before You with a prefect heart
3 I have done that which is good in Your sight

These arguments formed the basis of Hezekiah's request to live, and Jehovah recognized them, for they were true (note a, 18:3); and He respected the king enough to continue his life 15 more years (v 6). God enjoys doing things, not altogether for His own sake, as some believe, but for the sake of His people also. The gospel fact is that God is consecrated to the highest good of being and of the universe; and this truth applies to the individual as well as to the minutest detail of all creation. See note I, 19:34

a 4 reasons Josiah would escape judgment:
1 Because his heart was tender (v 19)
2 He humbled himself before Jehovah when he heard the words of the law
3 Because he rent his clothes
4 He wept before the Lord

b Heb, qeber, the grave, the place of the body; not sheol, the place of departed souls. There is no such thing as the body going to sheol at death or the soul going to qeber. One is a place where the body returns to dust; the other a place of consciousness after death. See Hell, p. 620

c Josiah sent for all of Judah to gather at the temple where he read the Pentateuch to them (v 1-2). He stood by a pillar, and made a covenant with the people to walk after the Lord, to keep His commandments, testimonies, and statutes with all the heart and all the soul, and to perform the wordsof the covenant. All the people stood, signifying that they accepted the covenant terms and would obey them (v 3)

2 To keep His commandments
3 To keep His testimonies
4 To keep His statutes
5 To perform the words of the Mosaic covenant that are written in this book
6 To do this with all the heart and soul

h Burned them as described in Dt. 7:25

i Carried the ashes to Bethel to defile the altar of Jeroboam, as predicted in 1 Ki. 13:2 where even the name of Josiah is mentioned 322 years before he was born and 348 years before the prediction was fulfilled (note i, 1 Ki. 13:2)

j Idolatrous priests who were black-robed instead of white-robed as God's priests. They were not the kohen, as appointed by God, but kemarim, as appointed by man (v 5). Cp. Hos. 10:5; Zeph. 1:4

k Each separate idol had its own priests, so there were many orders of priests in Israel-those that burned incense in the high places, ordained by the kings of Israel from the lowest of the people, those that burned incense to Baal, and those that burned it to the sun, moon, planets, and all the host of heaven (v 5). Cp. 1 Ki. 12:31

l Planets-the 12 signs of the zodiac. Heb. mazzaloth, spelled Mazzaroth, meaning stations (Job 38:32). This was the Babylonian name for the divisions of the zodiac called Mauzalti in the Assyrian inscriptions. The word is used only here (v 5) m Here is a clear reference proving that the words grove and groves, which are used with idolatry so many times, do not indicate a group of growing trees. Such could not be in the temple building. They refer to asherahs or gods made of trunks of trees-something like totem poles of the American Indians. See Asherah, p. 106 across the sky. The Greeks and Romans may have taken this idea from the Persians. Such chariots were used mainly in Israel in religious processions

h The kings of Judah who started many of these idolatries were Ahaz, Manasseh, and Amon. Now Josiah broke down all the places and things pertaining to idolatry (v 12)

i See 21:5, 21-22; 2 Chr. 33:15

j This was the mount of Olives and so-called because of the idolatries connected with it. Here Solomon had promoted the idol worship of his wives, part of which is mentioned-Ashtoreth, Chemosh, Milcom, abominations of Zidon, Moab, and Ammon. Josiah defiled these idols and their places of worship on the mount of Olives, by breaking down their images, and groves (asherahs) and with the bones of men (v 13-14)

Thus saith the LORD God of Is'ra-el, As touching the words which thou hast heard;

19 [m]Because thine heart was tender, and thou hast humbled thyself before the LORD, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, that they should become a desolation and a curse, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me; I also have heard thee, saith the LORD.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered into thy [b]grave in peace; and thine eyes shall not see all the evil which I will bring upon this place. And they brought the king word again.

2 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Ju'dah and all the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, both small and great: and [d]he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the LORD.

(7) Josiah's covenant with God (2 Chr. 34:31-32)

3 ¶ And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before the LORD, [e]to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.

(8) Twenty other reformations (2 Chr. 34:33): A Destroys Baal worship and his priests

4 And the king commanded Hil-ki'ah the high priest, and the priests of the [f]second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD all the [g]vessels that were made for Ba'al, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven: and he [h]burned them without Je-ru'sa-lem in the fields of Kid'ron, and [i]carried the ashes of them unto Beth'-el.

5 And he put down the [j]idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Ju'dah had ordained to burn incense in the high places in the cities of Ju'dah, and in the places round about Je-ru'sa-lem; [k]them also that burned incense unto Ba'al, to the sun, and to the moon, and to [l]the planets, and to all the host of heaven.

6 And he brought out [m]the grove from the house of the LORD, without Je-ru'sa-lem, unto the brook Kid'ron, and burned it at the brook Kid'ron, and stamped it small to powder, and cast the powder thereof upon [n]the graves of the children of the people.

B Destroys sodomite houses

7 And he brake down the houses of the [o]sodomites, that were by the house of the LORD, where the [p]women wove hangings for the grove.

C Destroys high places of idolatry

8 And he [q]brought all the priests out of the cities of Ju'dah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burned incense, from Ge'ba to Be'er-she'ba, and [r]brake down the high places of the gates that were in the entering in of the gate of Josh'u-a the governor of the city, which were on a man's left hand at the gate of the city.

9 Nevertheless the priests of the high places came not up to the altar of the LORD in Je-ru'sa-lem, but they did eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

D Destroys fire worship to Molech

10 And he defiled [s]To'pheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hin'nom, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Mo'lech.

E Removes sun worship and its dedicated horses and chariots

11 And he took away [t]the horses that the kings of Ju'dah had given to the sun, at the entering in of the house of the LORD, by the chamber of Na'than-me'lech the chamberlain which was in the suburbs, and burned the chariots of the sun with fire.

F Destroys idolatrous altars

12 And the altars that were on the top of the upper chamber of A'haz, which the [u]kings of Ju'dah had made, and the altars which Ma-nas'seh had [v]made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, did the king beat down, and brake them down from thence, and cast the dust of them into the brook Kid'ron.

G Destroys other idol gods

13 And the high places that were before Je-ru'sa-lem, which were on the right hand of the [w]mount of corruption, which Sol'o-mon the king of Is'ra-el had builded for Ash'to-reth the abomination of the Zi-do'ni-ans, and for Che'mosh the abomination of the Mo'ab-ites, and for Mil'com the abomination of the children of Am'mon, did the king defile.

14 And he brake in pieces the images, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

H Destroys Jeroboam's altar and high place at Bethel, a The qebers, not sheol, which is never in the plural and never refers to the grave. Qeber is the proper Heb. word for grave, tomb, or burying-place, while sheol is the one for hell, the present place for wicked departed souls and spirits-a place where they are in a conscious state of torment and where they will remain until the resurrection of their bodies from the qebers. Even the righteous souls and spirits of the departed went into sheol before the resurrection of Christ, but in a separate compartment from that of the wicked. These were in comfort awaiting their liberation from that place. When Christ descended into sheol-hades He liberated the righteous being held captive by the devil against their will (Heb. 2:14-15); and He, Himself took them captive into heaven when He ascended on high (Eph. 4:8-10). At that time many bodies of the saints which slept arose and went into Jerusalem appearing to many (Mt. 27:53). This compartment in Sheol-hades was called paradise (Lk. 23:43); and there was a great gulf between it and the torment compartment of the wicked souls (Lk. 16:19-31). Only the wicked go to sheol-hades now; and this will continue until they are liberated from this place in the second resurrection time to be judged and finally cast into the lake of fire-not in their soul and spirit form only, as before the judgment, but in their resurrected and immortal bodies to be tormented bodily as well as in soul and spirit eternally (Mt. 10:28; 25:41, 46; Mk. 9:43-49; Rev. 14:9-11; 20:11-15; 21:15; Isa. 66:22-24). The righteous go immediately to heaven now, in soul and spirit form at the time of physical death, and their bodies are put into graves until their resurrection (2 Cor. 5:8; Phil. 1:21-24; Heb. 12:22-23; Rev. 6:9-11). See Hell p. 620 b The sin God condemned more than any other sexual sin was practiced here by the temple. The sodomites were male prostitutes in connection with idolatry. Besides these they had many women prostitutes consecrated to idols to attract men. See Sodomy in Index

c These women were prostitutes in the worship of the Asherah, and one of their duties was the weaving of coverings for the Asherah-coverings which seem to have been in various colors (v 7)

d Josiah removed the Levitical priests who had officiated at the various high places, taking them from the scenes of their idolatries and bringing them to Jerusalem where their conduct could be watched (v 9)

e He broke down all high places in Jerusalem; and the priests whom he brought from all parts of his kingdom, as in v 8, were disqualified from coming to Jehovah's altar. Yet they ate of the unleavened bread of their brethern and were supported from ecclesiastical money that came in f The word Topheth, or Tophet, is derived, no doubt, from toph, a drum, because of the cries of the children being burned in the fire of Molech. The drums and noisy worship would drown out such cries so the worship could be tolerated. Or, the word is derived from taph, to burn. Topheth was a spot in the valley of the son of Hinnom where continual fires were kept to burn the refuse of Jerusalem, and where such idolatry was carried on. This place had been given to the priests of Molech by kings of Judah-Ahaz, Manasseh, and Amon; and the idolatrous worship had flourished here (v 10)

g The custom of dedicating a chariot and horses to the sun was a Persian practice. When he made sacrifices, the king of Persia offered a white horse to the sun, they mounted their horses early in the morning and rode toward the rising orb of the sun as if to salute it, then offered the horses in sacrifice. The wicked Manasseh heard of this custom and imitated it to some extent, maybe not actually slaying the horses but dedicating them to the sun. The idea came from regarding the sun as a charioteer who drove his horses daily

a Josiah broke down the altar and high place Jeroboam had made at Bethel, burned the grove (asherah), stamped the high place to powder, and polluted the altar with dead men's bones, fulfilling the prophecy made concerning the altar in 1 Ki. 13:1-3 (v 15-16)
b Heb. plural of qeber, grave, tomb (note a, 23:6)
c Question 116, Next, v 28
d This story is recorded in 1 Ki. 13; the happening took place 348 years before this e He also broke down all the houses of the high places where immoralities had been carried on by male and female prostitutes in connection with idols. Furthermore, he slew all the depraved priests of such places, and burned the bones of men on the altars to pollute them (v 19-20)
f After destroying all the idolatrous places in Jerusalem, Samaria, Bethel, and other cities throughout his realm, and completely ridding the country of all idol worship, he now commanded the people that were left to keep the passover and observe all the law. No such passover had been held in all Israel from the days of the judges and kings up to this time (v 21-23). This was also said of the one Hezekiah held, and it was true up to that time, but this one exceeded it. Cp. 2 Chr. 30:26 and 35:1
g After destroying the public places of idolatry he then started on the destruction of all household gods and persons who had traffic with demon spirits h For comments on familiar spirits and wizards, see note b, Lk. 12:29
i This book, found by Hilkiah, was accepted at that time as the original writing of Moses; and it has come down to us as we now have it in the first 5 books of our Bible. If it had been a fraud there were means of detecting it:
1 The Jewish Liturgies, which embodied large portions of the law of Moses
2 The memory of living men in that day
3 Other copies, entire and fragmentary, existing among the learned Jews and in schools of the prophets which were numerous in Judah as well as in the 10 tribes, before the captivity
4 Quotations from the law in other words, especially in the records of the judges and kings, and writings of the psalmists and prophets who referred to it often j There was no king like Josiah, before or after him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, soul, and might, to do according to all the law of Moses (v 25)

fulfilling 1 Ki. 13:2-3

15 ¶ Moreover the altar that was at Bĕth'-el, and the high place which Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'bāt, who made Ĭs'ra-el to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place [a]he brake down, and burned the high place, and stamped it small to powder, and burned the grove.

16 And as Jō-sī'ah turned himself, he spied the [b]sepulchres that were there in the mount, and sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burned them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the LORD which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

17 Then he said, [c]What title is that that I see? And the men of the city told him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, [d]which came from Jū'dah, and proclaimed these things that thou hast done against the altar of Bĕth'-el.

18 And he said, Let him alone; let no man move his bones. So they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet that came out of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā.

I Destroys high places in all Samaria and kills the idolatrous priests

19 And [e]all the houses also of the high places that were in the cities of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, which the kings of Ĭs'ra-el had made to provoke the LORD to anger, Jō-sī'ah took away, and did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Bĕth'-el.

20 And he slew all the priests of the high places that were there upon the altars, and burned men's bones upon them, and returned to Jē-rū'sā-lĕm.

J Restores the Passover (2 Chr. 35:1-19)

21 ¶ And the king commanded all the people, saying, [f]Keep the passover unto the LORD your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant.

22 Surely there was not holden such a passover from the days of the judges that judged Ĭs'ra-el, nor in all the days of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el, nor of the kings of Jū'dah;

23 But in the eighteenth year of king Jō-sī'ah, wherein this passover was holden to the LORD in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm.

K Destroys all traffic with demons and household gods

24 ¶[g]Moreover, the workers with familiar spirits, and [h]the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Jū'dah and in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, did Jō-sī'ah put away, that he might perform the words of the law which were [i]written in the book that Hĭl-kī'ah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

25 And [j]like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the LORD with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Mō'sĕs; neither after him arose there any like him.

(9) Judah doomed despite the reformations of Josiah

26 ¶[a]Notwithstanding the LORD turned not from the fierceness of his great wrath, wherewith his anger was kindled against Jū'dah, because of all the provocations that Mā-nās'seh had provoked him withal.

27 [b]And the LORD said, I will remove Jū'dah also out of my sight, as I have removed Ĭs'ra-el, and will cast off this city Jē-rū'sā-lĕm which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.

28 Now the rest of the acts of Jō-sī'ah, and all that he did, [c]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

(10) Death of Josiah: accession of Jehoahaz

29 ¶ In his days Phā'raōh–nē'choh king of Ē'gĭpt went up against the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ā to the river Eū-phrā'tēs: and king Jō-sī'ah [d]went against him; and he slew him at Mē-gĭd'dō, when he had seen him.

30 And his servants carried him in a chariot dead from Mē-gĭd'dō, and brought him to Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, and buried him in his own sepulchre. And the people of the land took Jĕ-hō'a-hāz the son of Jō-sī'ah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's stead.

5 Reign of Jehoahaz, 17th king of Judah: 3 months (2 Chr. 36:1-4). (1) Accession and character

31 ¶ Jĕ-hō'a-hāz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm. And his mother's name was Hā-mū'tal, the daughter of Jĕr-e-mī'ah of Lĭb'nah.

32 And he [e]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

(2) Fourth war of Israel and Egypt (vss. 29-30; Ex. 14:5-28; 1 Ki. 14:25-30). Death of Jehoahaz; accession of Jehoiakim (2 Chr. 36:5-7)

33 And Phā'raōh–nē'choh put him in bands at Rĭb'lah in the land of Hā'math, that he might not reign in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm; and put the land to a tribute of [f]an hundred talents of silver, and [g]a talent of gold.

34 And Phā'raōh–nē'choh made Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king in the room of Jō-sī'ah his father, and turned his name to [h]Jē-hoi'a-kĭm, and took [i]Jĕ-hō'a-hāz away: and he came to Ē'gĭpt, and [j]died there.

35 And Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm gave the silver and the gold to Phā'raōh; but he taxed the land to give the money according to the commandment of Phā'raōh: he exacted the silver and the gold a Regardless of the 43-fold reformation of Josiah, Jehovah did not see fit to turn away all His wrath, for He knew the change would last only during the days of Josiah, and that Judah would follow the old pattern of most of the previous kings of Israel and Judah, continuing in sin (v 26). He had already determined the destruction of Judah because of the long record of sin and rebellion (v 27). However, if He had seen a deep rooted reformation, something of a permanent nature, there is no doubt but what He would have changed His plans of destruction. He even said that He would bless the very small remnant left after the destruction of Judah, if they would only stay in the land and obey Him, so He surely would have done as much for the whole nation if the change in Josiah's day had continued. See Jer. 41:9-22

b 27th and last prophecy in 2 Ki. (23:27, c Question 117, Next, 24:5 fulfilled)
d Why Josiah went against him is not known; it could have been because the Egyptian armies were going through Judah. He was thus slain at Megiddo and buried with his fathers (v 29-30)
e See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6
f 100 talents of silver at $1,920.00 each would be $192,000.00
g A talent of gold would be $29,085.00
h Jehoiakim, Jehovah sets up. He was the older brother of Jehoahaz, who was only 23 years old when he began to reign (v 31). Jehoiakim was 25 years old when he began to reign after the 3-month reign of his younger brother (v 36). Both he and his brother did evil, and this immediately after the revival under their father, Josiah. No doubt this is one of the reasons for Jehovah not removing His wrath from Judah (v 26-27). Josiah was the last good king in Judah. Jehoiakim, being wicked, permitted many of the pagan practices to return, which his father had previously put away. He even defied God and burned the scroll of prophecies addressed to him, warning of his fate and that of Judah if he persisted in sin (Jer. 36). He gave the tribute money to Pharaoh-that which he had collected in a special tax program throughout Judah (v 35)
i Jehoahaz, Jehovah upholds. He was the 17th king of Judah (v 31-32; 2 Chr. 25:17, 25). Another Jehoahaz was the 11th king of the 10 tribes (10:34-36; 13:1-9; 14:8-14; 2 Chr. 25:17, 25) a There were 2 kings who reigned 11 years each - Jehoiakim and Zedekiah; and 2 who reigned 3 months each-Jehoahaz and Jehoiachin, after the good reign of Josiah. The time was drawing near when the kingdom of Judah would pay for its sins, going into captivity like the 10 tribes about 111 years before (v 31, 36; 24:8,18)

b See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6
c Nebuchadnezzar, meaning Nobe de-fend the boundary, was the name of the son of Nabopolassar, king of Babylon. He became prominent in Scripture in the history of the chastening of Judah by God. He is called Nebuchadnezzar 60 times (v 1, 10-11; 25:1-22; 1Chr. 6:15; 2Chr. 36; Ezra 1:7; 2:1; 5:12-14; 6:5; Neh. 7:6; Esther 2:6; Jer. 27:6-8, 20; 28:3-14; 29:1-3; 34:1; 39:5; Dan. 1:1-5:18) and Nebuchadrezzar 31 times (Jer. 21:2-7; 22:25; 27:1; 25:1-9; 29:21; 32:1,28; 35:11; 37:1; 39:1, 11; 43:10; 44:30; 46:2, 13, 26; 49:28-30; 50:17; 51:34; 52:4-30; Ezek. 26:7; 29:18-19; 30:10) d Came up in the 4th year of Jehoiakim (v 1; Jer. 25:1; 46:2). In the book of Daniel it says in the 3rd year of Jehoiakim (1:1), but Daniel wrote from Babylon at the time Nebuchadnezzar started to Palestine, while other scriptures record the actual time of his coming against Jehoiakim and his submission to Babylon. Jehoiakim served Babylon 3 years and then rebelled (v 1)
e The Lord allowed marauding bands of Chaldees, Syrians, Moabites, and Ammonites to begin destroying Judah, as He had predicted by the prophets. Then came Nebuchadnezzar whom He had predicted by name as being the one to destroy Judah and Jerusalem (v 2-3; Jer. 27:6-8). God even commanded the destruction of Judah - their removal out of the land for the sins of Manasseh and other kings (v 3-4)

g Question 118. Last question in 2 Ki.
h Slept in body with his fathers, as the soul never sleeps at death; it is fully conscious in hell or heaven. See Hell in Index. He was not buried like his fathers, for his body was left in the open field and buried like a beast (Jer. 22:18-19; 36:30-31)
i The king of Babylon had now got rid of Egypt and there was no fear of help for Judah from this quarter (v 7). Nebuchadnezzar then came against Judah to fulfil the many prophecies concerning his conquest of the Jews j Jehoiachin, Jehovah establishes. 19th king of Judah. He was taken to Babylon and was in captivity for 37 years before being released (v 8-15; 25:27; 2 Chr. 36:8-9; Jer. 53:31). He is called Conlah. See Jer. 22:24-28, notes. Also called Jeconiah (1 Chr. 3:16-17; Esther 2:6; Jer. 24:1; 27:20; 28:4; 29:2) and Jechonias (Mt. 1:11-12)
k In 2 Chr. 36:9 it says 8 years. This can be explained only as an error in copying the number in one of the two places. Such mistakes were easy to make if the copy from which another was made was in the slightest way marred. 18 must be the true age, as he had wives (v 15). A boy 8 years of age would not have wives, unless we judge him as inheriting some at his father's death, as the custom was

3 The beginning of the end of the kingdom of Judah: first deportation of Judah to Babylon (2 Chr. 36:5-7)

2 And the LORD [e]sent against him bands of the Chăl'dees, and bands of the Sўr'ĭ-anș, and bands of the Mō'ab-ites, and bands of the children of Am'mŏn, and sent them against Jū'dah to destroy it, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake by his servants the prophets.

3 Surely at the commandment of the LORD came this upon Jū'dah, to remove them out of his sight, for the sins of Mănăs'seh, according to all that he did;

4 And also for the innocent blood that he shed: for he filled Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm with innocent blood; which the LORD would not pardon.

4 Death of Jehoiakim: accession of Jehoiachin (2 Chr. 36:8-10)

5 ¶ Now the[f] rest of the acts of Jĕhoi'a-kĭm, and all that he did, [g]are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Jū'dah?

6 So Jĕhoi'a-kĭm[h] slept with his fathers: and Jĕhoi'a-chĭn his son reigned in his stead.

5 Babylon conquers Egypt

7 And the king of Ē'gўpt came not again any more out of his land: [i]for the king of Băb'ў-lon had taken from the river of Ē'gўpt unto the river Eū-phrā'tēș all that pertained to the king of Ē'gўpt.

6 Reign of Jehoiachin, 19th king of Judah: 3 months (2 Chr. 36:8-10). Accession and character

8 ¶ [j]Jĕhoi'a-chĭn was [k]eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jĕru'să-lĕm three months. And his mother's name was Nĕhŭsh'tă, the daughter of Ĕl'nathăn of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

9 And he[a] did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.

7 Second deportation to Babylon (2 Chr. 36:5-10)

10 ¶ [b]At that time the servants of Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon came up against Jĕru'să-lĕm, and the city was besieged.

11 And Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon came against the city, and his servants did besiege it.

12 And Jĕhoi'a-chĭn the king of Jū'dah went out to the king of Băb'ў-lon, he, and his mother, and his servants, and his princes, and his officers: and the king of Băb'ў-lon took him in the eighth year of his reign.

13 And [c]he carried out thence all the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces [d]all the vessels of gold which Sŏl'o-mon king of Ĭs'ra-el had made in the temple of the LORD, as the LORD had said.

14 And he carried away all Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valour, even ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen and smiths: none remained, save the poorest sort of the people of the land.

15 And he carried away Jĕhoi'a-chĭn to Băb'ў-lon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his officers, and the mighty of the land, those carried he into captivity from Jĕru'să-lĕm to Băb'ў-lon.

16 And all the men of might, even seven thousand, and craftsmen and smiths a thousand, all that were strong and apt for war, even them the king of Băb'ў-lon brought captive to Băb'ў-lon.

8 Reign of Zedekiah, 20th and last king of Judah: 11 years (2 Chr. 36:11-21). Accession and character (2 Chr. 36:11-14)

17 ¶ And the king of Băb'ў-lon made Măt-ta-nī'ah[c] his father's brother king in his stead, and changed his name to Zĕd-e-kī'ah.

18 Zĕd-e-kī'ah was twenty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm. And his mother's name was Hă-mū'tal, the daughter of Jĕre-mī'ah of Lĭb'nah.

19 And he[k] did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jĕhoi'a-kĭm had done.

9 Zedekiah rebels against Babylon (2 Chr. 36:13)

20 For [l]through the anger of the LORD it came to pass in Jĕru'să-lĕm and Jū'dah, until he had cast them out from his presence, that Zĕd-e-kī'ah re-

a See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6
b At that time - when Jehoiakim was dead and Jehoiachin began to reign - Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came up against Jerusalem (in the 8th year of his reign) to besiege the city. Jehoiakim, who had reigned 3 months, went out to meet him with his mother, servants, princes, and officers; and Nebuchadnezzar took him into captivity (v 8-12; Jer. 25:1; 22:25) c 12 things captured by Nebuchadnezzar
1 All the treasures of the temple (v 13)
2 Treasures of the king's house
3 Vessels of gold that Solomon had made for the temple
4 All inhabitants of Jerusalem (v 14)
5 All the princes
6 All the mighty men of valour
7 All the craftsmen and smiths
8 Jehoiachin (v 15)
9 The king's mother
10 The king's wives
11 The king's officers
12 The mighty of the land
d The only explanation we have for all the vessels of gold, that Solomon had made, being in the temple is that by this time they had been brought back from other places where they had been taken in various tributes to Assyrians, Egyptians, and others in the past. Perhaps the true meaning is that all the vessels that were left at this time, were taken - and that would not be very many of the original ones e Jehoiachin's father's brother, hence the kings in the line of David and the Messiah ended in Jehoiachin (v 17)
f See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6
g This means that God permitted Zedekiah to rebel, for it was determined that Judah should be destroyed at this time and go into captivity because of repeated sinning (v 20)

21 Torments me until I cannot even take a little comfort (10:20)

Is it not strange that in one discourse Job revealed almost as many false concepts about God as true ones? Concerning the above, it was Satan and not God who had brought all these miseries upon him (1:12-19; 2:6-7) a This is what Jehoiakim had done, causing the invasion (24:1). This was to be the last rebellion of Judah, for Nebuchadnezzar was determined to take all the Jews captive except a few of the poorest people in the land. He intended to destroy the nation and make it ineffective as a military power, so that he would have no more trouble from this source b In the 9th year of his 11-year reign, the 10th month (Tebeth, January), the 10th day of the month (v 1), the siege began; and it ended in the 11th year, the 9th day of the 4th month (Tammuz, July, v 3). See Jer. 30-44 for a divine comment on this history. The day of the siege was revealed to Ezekiel in far away Babylon (Ezek. 24:1)

c This fulfilled Lev. 26:29; Dt. 28:53-57; Jer. 15:2; 27:13; Lam. 2:20-22; Ezek. 4:16

d The city was breached. Before this an Egyptian force approached and the Babylonians retired (Jer. 37:5-11). This was only temporary, as predicted

e He was made blind so that he could not see Babylon (where he died), and this is what had been predicted (v 7; Ezek. 12:13); but he did see the king of Babylon, as also had been predicted (Jer. 32:4; 34:3). The blinding of captives was long an Oriental custom (v 7; Judg. 16:21; 1 Sam. 11:2). In Persia, during the time of the younger Cyrus, men being deprived of their sight for crimes was common and many could be seen along the highway. One mode of blinding was by passing a red-hot copper plate before the eyes. This did not always produce total blindness, and sometimes the point of a dagger or spear was thrust into the eyes. Fetters used on captives were of different materials; those used on Zedekiah were of brass or copper. It is said that there was a pair of bronze fetters brought from Nineveh and displayed in the British Museum weighing 8 lbs. 11 oz., and measuring 16 1/2 in. in length f Jer. 52:12 says 10th day. He may have set fire to it on the 7th day and it burned until the 10th (v 8-9)

g This explains why a very small remnant was left in Palestine. They were to be caretakers of the land 43fold reformation of Josiah (23:3):

2 Made a covenant to keep the law (v 3)

4 And all the vessels made for and used in the grove (Asherah, p. 106)

10 Put down all who burned incense to the sun, moon, planets-all the host of heaven
11 Brought out the grove (the Asherah, p. 106) from the temple (v 6) 12 Burned it outside Jerusalem
13 Stamped it into powder
14 Cast it upon the graves of the children of the people
15 Broke down the houses of the sodomites that were near the temple, where women wove hangings for the grove (Asherah, v 7)
16 Brought all the priests of idol gods out of the cities (v 8)
17 Defiled the high places where they burned incense 18 Broke down the high places of the gates belled[a] against the king of Bāb'-ȳ-lon.

338 CHAPTER 25

10 Fifth and last war of Babylon and Israel (24:6-10; Gen. 14; Judg. 3:8)

AND it came to pass in the [b]ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon came, he, and all his host, against Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, and pitched against it; and they built forts against it round about.

2 And the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zĕd-e-kī'ah.

3 And on the ninth day of the fourth month the [c]famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

11 Defeat of Israel: Zedekiah carried to Babylon (2 Chr. 36:15-21)

4 ¶ And the city was[d] broken up, and all the men of war fled by night by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king's garden: (now the Chăl'dees were against the city round about:) and the king went the way toward the plain.

5 And the army of the Chăl'-dees pursued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō: and all his army were scattered from him.

6 So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon to Rĭb'lah; and they gave judgment upon him.

7 And they slew the sons of Zĕd-e-kī'ah before his eyes, and [e]put out the eyes of Zĕd-e-kī'ah, and bound him with fetters of brass, and carried him to Bāb'ȳ-lon.

12 Jerusalem and the temple destroyed (2 Chr. 36:19)

8 ¶ And in the fifth month, on the [f]seventh day of the month, which is the nineteenth year of king Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, came Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan, captain of the guard, a servant of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, unto Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm:

9 And he burnt the house of the LORD, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, and every great man's house burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Chăl'dees, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down the walls of Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm round about.

13 Third and final deportation of Judah to Babylon (2 Chr. 36:15-21)

11 Now the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the fugitives that fell away to the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard carry away.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land [g]to be vinedressers and husbandmen.

14 Temple vessels and metals taken to Babylon (2 Chr. 36:18)

13 [a]And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the house of the LORD, did the Chăl'dees break in pieces, and carried the brass of them to Bāb'ȳ-lon.

14 And the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and all the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

15 And the firepans, and the bowls, and such things as were of gold, in gold, and of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away.

16 The two pillars, one sea, and the bases which Sŏl'o-mon had made for the house of the LORD; the brass of all these vessels was without weight.

17 The height of the one pillar was [b]eighteen cubits, and the chapiter upon it was brass: and the height of the chapiter [c]three cubits; and the wreathen work, and pomegranates upon the chapiter round about, all of brass: and like unto these had the second pillar with wreathen work.

15 High priest and others executed by Nebuchadnezzar

18 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Sĕr-a-ī'ah the chief priest, and Zĕph-a-nī'ah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door:

19 And out of the city he took an officer that was set over the men of war, and five men of them that were in the king's presence, which were found in the city, and the principal scribe of the host, which mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land that were found in the city:

20 And Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan captain of the guard took these, and brought them to the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon to Rĭb'lah:

21 And the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon smote them, and [d]slew them at Rĭb'lah in the land of Hā'math. So [e]Jū'dah was carried away out of their land.

16 Gedaliah made governor of the remaining Jews

22 ¶ And as for the people that remained in the land of Jū'dah, whom Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon had left, even over them he made Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam, the son of Shā'phan, ruler.

23 And [f]when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon had made Gĕd-a-lī'ah governor there came to Gĕd-a-lī'ah to Mĭz'pah, [h]even Ish'ma-el the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah and Jō-hā'nan the son of Cā-rē'ah, and Sĕr-a-ī'ah the son of Tăn'hu-mĕth the Nē-tōph'a-thīte, and Jā-ăz-a-nī'ah the son of Mā-ăch'a-thīte, they and their men.

•24 And Gĕd-a-lī'ah [i]sware to a Only the brass was removed from the temple here, as the more precious things had already been taken (24:13). A full list is given in Jer. 52:17-23. All the brass of the pillars, the brazen sea, the bases of the smaller lavers, the pots, shovels, snuffers, spoons, and other articles were removed, as well as a few things of gold and silver which could be found in the temple (v 13-17) c 3 cubits at 25 in. each would be 6 ft. 3 in.

d Slew them for their part in the rebellion against him (v 21)

e This completed the judgment of God upon Judah, the people He had sought to bless for centuries and could not because of their sins and stubbornness. He tried redeeming them again 70 years later, but had to permit their destruction again as a nation, in 70 A.D. (Lk. 21:20-24)

f He had befriended Jeremiah (Jer. 26:24)

i Johanan and the others warned Gedaliah of the treachery of Ishmael (Jer. 40:13; 41:15)

j Their lives were forfeited because of their rebellion against Nebuchadnezzar, but Gedaliah swore to those that remained that if they gave no further trouble the offences of the past would be forgiven (v 25) a Gedaliah gave the only sound advice that could be given under the circumstances; but the stubborn and proud Jews, the die-hard rebels of the seed royal and the Chaldees that were with Ishmael at Mizpah came and smote Gedaliah; and the people were without a leader again. The plan was instigated by Baalis, king of Ammon (Jer. 40:7-43:13). For this the remnant of Judah had to endure untold sufferings; many died in the land of Egypt for disobedience to the Lord and His prophets

2 great mistakes of Job (Job 1:21)

1 Claiming: the Lord has taken away (1:21)
2 Questioning: shall we not receive evil? (2:10)

Job was like many others who think that sickness, disease, calamity and other evils come from God, and Satan has nothing to do with them. Some declare that these are the heritage of of believers, and those who go through them are in the perfect will of God. It is true that Christians experience tests of faith, persecutions, injustices, and trials of life but they are not required to suffer sickness, disease, or poverty in order to be saved and in the will of God. The tests Joseph went through in Egypt (Gen. 39-41), Stephen suffered of the Jews (Acts 7), and Paul experienced the beatings, buffetings, dangers, perils, slander, lies, distresses, hunger, nakedness, stonings, imprisonments, shipwrecks, and other things of 2 Cor. 11 were not the same kind as sickness, disease, and the curses of sin and rebellion which Christ died to free us from. Nevertheless, these also were caused by Satan and evil men not by God. He was not responsible for the things which caused Joseph, Stephen and Paul to suffer. God helped them to go through the things heaped upon them by Satan and his agents. God can teach us lessons from any kind of trial, but He does not necessarily send trials in order to teach us such lessons. A father could use the experience of his son, should he break the law and suffer penalties in jail, as an occasion to teach certain lessons for the betterment of the son's future, but it would be a very ungodly father who would lead him into such troubles for the particular purpose of teaching those lessons which could be taught otherwise. Thus it is with us we do not need to experience sickness, disease, poverty, and accidents in order to learn what we should know, from God. We have been given examples in the Word to go by Job, Asa, Hezekiah and many more. One can best glorify God by learning through these and becoming an example himself one experiencing God's blessings by being kept from such troubles and sufferings. There are enough sinners and unbelievers giving us examples without Christains going through needless sufferings. See p. 270 of N.T. for kinds of suffering Christians may be called upon to endure for the sake of the gospel at the hands of Satan

6 things Christians should not suffer:

1 With sin which Christ suffered to cleanse us from completely (Mt. 1:21; 26:28; 2 Cor. 5:17-21; Rom. 1:21-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; 1 Pet. 4:15; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 2:29; 3:8-10; 5:1-4, 18)

2 Sickness which Christ died to take away from men (Isa. 53, notes; Mt. 8:16-17; Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38; Jas. 5:14-16; 1 Pet. 2:24). Even provision has been made to keep the Christian immune from sickness (Ps. 34:9-10; 91:1-12) as well as to give him power to heal others (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; 16:15-20; Lk. 24:49; Jn. 12:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Acts 1:4-8; 2:36-39; 5:32; 1 Cor. 12; Jas. 5:14-16). See Healing in Index

3 Failure in business or poverty (Ps. 1:3-4; 23:1-6; 34:9-10; 37:1-8; 84:11; and scriptures under point 2, above)

4 Bad habits (Rom. 6:14-23; 8:1-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; 2 Cor. 5:17-21; Gal. 5:16-26; Col. 3:5-10; Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 4:14-16; 7:25; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 2:29; 3:8-10; 5:1-5, 18)

5 Lack of spiritual power (Mt. 17:20; Mk. 9:23; 16:15-20; Lk. 24:49; Jn. 14:12-15; Acts 1:4-8; 2:38-39; 1 Cor. 12)

6 Failure in prayer (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:5-8; 1 Jn. 3:21-24; 5:14-16)

It is not the will of God for us to suffer any of the above named things. In the Word of God provision has been made through the exceeding great and precious promises to give us all things which pertain to life and godliness (2 Cor. 1:20; 2 Pet. 1:3-4). To use Job as an excuse for unbelief is unwise, for he was a man without the gospel promises and a full revelation regarding the benefits of the entire truth. Furthermore it is uncalled-for to stumble over Paul's thorn in the flesh, which has nothing to do with sickness (2 Cor. 12:7, notes). When the inspired writer used Job as an example it was not to picture him as a weak, helpless, powerless, unbelieving, rebellious person, ignorant about appropriating the benefits of the gospel; it was to encourage Christians to believe in God for the healing promised in that same N. T. chapter. He cited Job as an example who became healed, not one who died of sickness and disease (Jas. 5:14-18). In the end, God healed and blessed Job materially beyond anything he had experienced before his trial, and such is the plan of God for all men, not only Job. It is clear from Scripture that Job's trouble was of Satan, and not of God (1:6-19; 2:1-7). The Lord was the deliverer of Job (42:1-10); and if He delivered Job from Himself He was fighting against Himself. This, we know could not be. Christ came to heal all that were oppressed of the devil, not oppressed of God (Mt. 8:17; Lk. 13:16; Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38; 1 Pet. 2:24). To follow truth we should cease blaming God for sickness, pain, poverty, and calamity, and count them as curses or enemies of both God and man, then co-operate with God and look to Him for deliverance and immunity from such

74 charges against God (Job 1:22)

1 The Lord taketh away (1:21), Satan did this (1:6-19)
2 What?... shall we not receive evil? (2:10). God cannot tempt men with evil (Jas. 1:13-16). We are to pray "deliver us from evil" - not deliver us from God (Mt. 6:13)
3 God has hedged in with calamity them, and to their men, and said unto them, Fear not to be the servants of the Chal'dees: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Bab'y-lon; and it shall be well with you.

17 Thirtieth and last civil strife in Israel (Josh. 22:1; Judg. 8:1; 9:1; 12:1; 20:1; 1 Sam. 22:11; 23:13; 24:1; 26:2; 2 Sam. 2:12; 3:1; 15:1; 20:41; 1 Ki. 12:16; 15:16, 27; 16:9, 15, 21; 2 Ki. 9:14; 11:4; 14:8; 15:10, 13, 16, 25, 30; 16:5; 21:23)

25 But it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah, the son of E-lish'a-ma, of the seed royal, came, and ten men with him, and smote Ged-a-li'ah, that he died, and the Jews and the Chal'dees that were with him at Miz'pah.

18 Flight of the remnant to Egypt

26 And all the people, both small and great, and the captains of the armies, arose, and came to E'gypt: for they were afraid of the Chal'dees.

19 Release of Jehoiachin in Babylon

27 ¶ And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Je-hoi'a-chin king of Ju'dah, in the twelfth month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, that E'vil-me-ro'dach king of Bab'y-lon in the year that he began to reign did lift up the head of Je-hoi'a-chin king of Ju'dah out of prison;

28 And he spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Bab'y-lon;

29 And changed his prison garments: and he did eat bread continually before him all the days of his life.

30 And his allowance was a continual allowance given him of the king, a daily rate for every day, all the days of his life.

Summary of 2 Kings

Date and place: the records which make up 1 and 2 kings were written in Palestine, 1046-616 B.C. by scribes and prophets whose duty it was to record events during the reign of whatever king or kings they served under. These records were put into one book by the final author or authors; and the one book was divided into two by the Septuagint translators about 294-289 B.C. If written by Isaiah and Jeremiah in its final form the book was so compiled about 743-683 B.C. and 782-616 B.C.

Author: it seems that Isaiah and Jeremiah were the authors or final compilers using the public records of the kings of Israel. Among the recorders were Nathan, Gad, Iddo, Abijah, Jehu, and others (2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; 20:34; 26:22; 32:32)

Proof of authorship: Jewish tradition says that Jeremiah was the author. It seems from 2 Chr. 32:32 that Isaiah was the chief writer; so it could be that Isaiah wrote the book of Kings up to the time of Hezekiah (1 Ki. 1:1-2 Ki. 20:21) and Jeremiah completed it, telling of the happenings from then on to the captivity (2 Ki. 21-25)

Theme: history of the kings of Israel and Judah from the time of Solomon to the captivity to Babylon

Purpose: to show the reason for the Davidic kingdom not being perpetually continued and to reveal why God sent Israel into captivity

Statistics: 12th book of the Bible; 25 chapters; 719 verses; 23,532 words; 118 questions; 560 verses of history; 58 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 1 verse of unfulfilled prophecy; 65 predictions; 118 commands; 3 promises; and 20 distinct messages from God (1:3, 15; 2:21; 3:16; 4:43; 7:1; 8:1, 10; 9:1, 6, 26; 10:30; 19:6, 20; 20:1, 5, 16; 21:10; 22:15; 23:27)

a They went into Egypt in defiance of God and His prophets (Jer. 42-43). Jeremiah told them that Egypt would also be given to Nebuchadnezzar and they therefore would still be in his dominion (Jer. 44:29-30) b After Jehoiachin was held captive for 37 years in Babylon he was liberated by Evil-merodach in the first year of his reign. He exalted Jehoiachin higher than any other of the captive kings in Babylon, permitting him to eat at his own table until his death (v 27-29)

b The writer of Chronicles began abruptly with Adam, supposing that his readers would understand, from the first book of the Bible, about the origin of Adam, the first man since the pre-Adamite world - a new creation on earth from whom all other men have their beings (Gen. 1:26-31; 2:7) c The spelling of these names is different from that in Genesis which reads: Seth, Enos, Cainan, Jared, Enoch (Gen. 5:1-32) d There are 10 generations here from Adam to Noah, or from Adam to the flood, as in Gen. 5
e In cases where there are several sons to one father, the main line is taken up last instead of first, as here where we have the sons of Japheth and Ham before the sons of Shem through whom the Messiah was to come (v 5-23) f First, we have the 7 sons and 7 grandsons of Japheth, the same as in Gen. 10:2-5. See notes there g Next we have the 4 sons and 26 descendants of Ham, which are dealt with more fully in Gen. 10:6-21, notes
h See Nimrod in Index
i Lastly, of the 3 sons of Noah we have 9 sons and 16 descendants of Shem; also listed in Gen. 10:22-32. Actually, there were only 5 sons, for Uz, Hul, Gether, and Meshech were grandsons. In Jewish genealogies grandsons were often reckoned as sons. See Laban (Gen. 29:5), Mephibosheth (2 Sam. 19:24), and those of Judah (4:1-4), in which list only the first named is his actual son. It is assumed that we are acquainted with Genesis and will supply the needed links in this brief record j Today there is mounting evidence that our continents were one time joined together. It is said that the continents could be fitted together like a jigsaw puzzle. The east coast-line of South America matches the west coast of Africa with the rounded corner of Brazil fitting into the gulf of Guinea. Facing coasts of the United States and Europe can be fitted together, etc. At last scientists are waking up to a fact which the Bible recorded as truth about 4,000 years ago (v 19; Gen. 10:25, note). It was in the days of Peleg that God divided the earth, after the confusion of tongues and scattering of the people abroad upon all the face of the earth - from Babel (Gen. 11:7-9). Without this truth we should have no explanation for the presence of the American Indian and inhabitants of numerous islands before the discoveries made by explorers from the old world

Notes on Chronicles

The name Chronicles is from the Heb. Dibrei hayyamim, words of the days. The Gr. name, Paraleipomena means things omitted. It is from the Latin name, Chronicon that we get our word Chronicles. The 2 books, like 1 and 2 Kings, were only one originally. The division was the work of the Septuagint translators, and it was adopted by Jerome, then by various branches of the Western Church. The Heb. meaning is literally the daily acts or occurrences, a title originally applied to the accounts of the reigns of the kings of Israel and Judah. Afterward, Chronicles was applied to the book taken from these narratives. The 2 books of Chronicles are not new history; they cover many things written before. They belong to quite another part of the O. T. because they do not follow in sequence after the books of Kings. They are, according to the Jewish canon, the conclusion of the O. T., and the genealogies here lead to those of the N. T. They begin with the first Adam and end looking forward to the 2nd Adam. They deal primarily with the kingdom of Judah, because Christ was to be the successor of David on an eternal throne. As compared with 1 and 2 Kings which give the history from the a Here we have the second 10 generations - Shem to Abraham (v 24-27). The first being 10 generations from Adam to Noah (v 1-4), made 20 generations from Adam to Abraham or a period of 2,083 years from Adam to the 75th year of Abraham (Gen. 12:4). The first 10 generations were from Adam to the 600th year of Noah (Gen. 7:11) b Isaac, though younger than Ishmael, is placed first, as the legitimate heir, since Sarah was the only true wife of Abraham (v 28). But in the genealogy the sons of Ishmael and of Abraham's second wife are put first, so that the true line of the Messiah might be dealt with more fully, for that is the real purpose of all the genealogies (v 29-33) c Ishmael, like Jacob, had 12 sons, the heads of 12 tribes, making 24 tribes descending from Abraham through only 2 of his sons. There were 6 other sons born to Abraham by Keturah, his second wife, after he was 100 years of age (v 32-33). How many tribes descended from them is not known. The 12 tribes that came from Keturah settled in the country of Arabia. They were the fulfillment of a prediction made by God of Ishmael, a prediction of 12 princes that would multiply exceedingly (Gen. 17:20; 25:12-18)

d Keturah was one of several concubines Abraham had (v 32; Gen. 25:1). How many sons were born to the others is not stated, but we are told that he did send them away to the East from his son, Isaac (Gen. 25:6)
e The sons and grandsons of Keturah (v 33)
f The author comes back to Isaac and his seed, Esau and Jacob (v 34), and follows the main purpose of his writing, dealing briefly with the seed of Esau first before going into the more lengthy genealogies of the seed of Jacob or Israel (v 35-54). After this he writes 12 chapters recording the genealogies of Jacob's sons to the time of Saul and David (2:1-12:40)
g This was the Eliphaz of the book of Job who was a Temanite (v 35-36; Gen. 36:4-16; Job 2:11; 4:1; 15:1; 22:1; 42:7, 9)
h Amalek was noted for opposition to Israel; the Amalekites were the first to attack the nation coming out of Egypt (Ex. 17:8-16). For this God swore that they would have war from generation to generation and be destroyed. This was true, and they were finally destroyed by Saul - all but a few. One of the reasons Saul was cut off was that he spared some of the Amalekites (1 Sam. 15). See Num. 24:20; Dt. 25:17-19; Judg. 3:13; 5:14; Ps. 83:7 i The Horites dwelled in Edom long before Esau (Gen. 36:20). They are listed here as part of Esau's descendants, due to the fact that so many inter-married that the two became one people human standpoint, the 2 books of Chronicles give the history from the divine standpoint. The former records are as man ruled the history; the latter, as God overruled it. Cp. Saul's death in 1 Sam. 31:6 with 1 Chr. 10:13-14; also note that only 4 verses are devoted to Hezekiah's reformation in Kings (2 Ki. 18:4-7) whereas 3 whole chapters are given to it in Chronicles (chs. 29-31). The books of Chronicles give God's standpoint, pointing to the moral side and giving reasons for both judgments and mercies. The books of Kings are chronological in order; whereas, in Chronicles chronology is sometimes ignored in order to bring out causes or consequences for the purpose of comparison and contrast between records. In Kings we have the complete history of both houses of Israel, while in Chronicles we have only that which pertains to the house of David and of Judah as being founded on the covenent God made with David of the tribe of Judah, and Ith'ran, and Chĕ'ran.

12 Eleven early dukes of Edom (Gen. 36:15-30, 40-43)

a 8 kings of Edom before Israel's kings
1 Bela, son of Beor, of Dinhabah (v 43)
2 Jobab, son of Zerah, of Bozrah (v 44)
3 Husham, a Temanite (v 45)
4 Hadad, son of Bedad, of Avith (v 46)
5 Samlah of Masrekah (v 47)
6 Shaul of Rehoboth (v 48)
7 Baal-hanan, son of Achbor (v 49)
8 Hadad of Pai (v 50)
These 8 kings evidently reigned over Edom from the time of the end of the exodus and entrance into Canaan well into the period of the judges in Israel

b This proves that the Chronicles were written after the kings of Judah and Israel ceased to exist, and also that the ancient record of the kings of Edom of Gen. 36:31 was before the writer's eyes when he compiled these genealogies (v 43)

c This Beor was the father of Balaam the prophet, and the first king of Edom (v 43; Gen. 36:32; Num. 22:5; 24:3, 15; 31:8; Dt. 23:4; Josh. 13:22; 24:9; Mic. 6:5)

d The dukes of Edom were evidently leaders of the tribes or clans, the chief men other than the king. Some think they may have superseded the rank of king in Edom, but this cannot be proved. There are 11 mentioned here (v 51-54). It appears that there were more than one duke at a time, implying they were simply chief men under the kings (Ex. 15:15; Josh. 13:21). See Gen. 36:15-43

e Here we have a complete list of the sons of Jacob, re-named Israel:

12 sons of Israel:
1 Reuben (v 1; Gen. 29:32)
2 Simeon (v 1; Gen. 29:33)
3 Levi (v 1; Gen. 29:34)
4 Judah (v 1; Gen. 29:35)
5 Issachar (v 1; Gen. 30:18)
6 Zebulun (v 1; Gen. 30:20)
7 Dan. (v 2; Gen. 30:6)
8 Joseph (v 2; Gen. 30:24)
9 Benjamin (v 2; Gen. 35:16-20)
10 Naphtali (v 2; Gen. 30:8)
11 Gad (v 2; Gen. 30:11)
12 Asher (v 2; Gen. 30:13)

These sons are not listed in rank of birth. The 6 sons of Leah are given first, then the 4 sons of Rachel and her maid (with Joseph and Benjamin, the sons of Rachel between the 2 sons of her maid). After that come the 2 sons of Leah's maid. To speculate why they are listed in this order is useless, for there are no less than 24 combinations of such names (see p. 160). If we removed Dan from the place after Benjamin we should have the following:
1 The 6 sons of Leah (v 1)
2 The 2 sons of Rachel (v 2)
3 The 2 sons of Rachel's maid (v 2)
4 The 2 sons of Leah's maid (v 2)

f Dan was 7th in the blessing of the tribes, as here, but the rest of the list does not work out this way (v 2; Gen. 49:16)

g After listing the 12 sons of Jacob, or Israel, the writer takes up the sons and descendants of Judah, the 4th son of Jacob and Leah (2:3-4:23). The reason for dealing with Judah first was that he was to be the chief and ruling tribe of the 12, and the Messiah was to come through him (Gen. 49:8-12; Lk. 3:23-38; Heb. 7:14; Rev. 5:5)

h Judah, praise. 7 Judah's:
1 The 4th son of Jacob. Mentioned 341 times in Scripture. Called Juda 10 times (v 3-6; Gen. 29:35; Num. 26:19-21)
2 Ancestor of Kadmiel (Ezra 3:9)
3 A Levite (Ezra 10:23)
4 A Benjamite (Neh. 11:9)
5 Another Levite (Neh. 12:8)
6 A prince of Judah (Neh. 12:34)
7 A priest and musician (Neh. 12:36)

i 5 sons of Judah:
1 Er (v 3; Gen. 38:3)
2 Onan (v 3; Gen. 38:4)
3 Shelah (v 3; Gen. 38:5)
4 Pharez (v 4; Gen. 38:29)
5 Zerah (v 4; Gen. 38:30)

j The evil thing that caused the Lord to slay Er was not recorded, either in Gen. 38 or elsewhere in Scripture. All we know is that it was something God hated so much that He slew him. It could have been the same sin for which God killed Onan as in Gen. 38:8-10 - that of refusing to have offspring. This (Onanism) was the first sin that caused God to take human life, unless the sin of Er was something different. God commanded man to multiply and replenish the earth with his own kind and a sin of this nature was against bringing into existence one in God's own image and likeness a The 2nd twins born to man that are mentioned in Scripture. See Twins in note j, Gen. 25:24

b The line of the Messiah came through Pharez of these twins (v 5, 9-12; Ruth 4:18; Lk. 3:23-38). The kingly line also came through him (Mt. 1:1-17)

c The Messianic line came through Hezron of the 2 sons of Pharez (v 5, 9-12; Ruth 4:18; Lk. 3:23-38). Also the kingly line came through him (Mt. 1:1-17)

d Here, for the first time, the writer of Chronicles drew from a source of information not known to us, a record of facts not mentioned in earlier scriptures. This is the first naming of these 5 men e Zimri, vine. 4 Zimri's:

1 Son of Zerah (v 6)
2 A Benjamite (8:36; 9:42)
3 Prince of Simeon (Num. 25:14)
4 A king of the 10 tribes (1 Ki. 16:9-20; 2 Ki. 9:31)

f Ethan, firmness. 4 Ethan's:
1 Son of Zerah (v 6, 8)
2 Descendant of Gershon (6:42) 19)
3 Descendant of Merari (6:44; 15:17, 4 A wise man in Solomon's time (1 Ki. 4:31)

g Heman, faithful. 4 Heman's:
1 Son of Zerah (v 6)
2 A Levite, a musician (6:33; 15:17; 25:1-5; 2 Chr. 5:12; 35:15; Ps. 88)
3 Son of Lotan (Gen. 36:22). Called Homan of Seir (1:39) Ki. 4:31)
4 A wise man in Solomon's reign (1

h Calcol, sustaining. 2 Calcol's
1 Son of Zerah (v 6) Ki. 4:31)
2 A wise man in Solomon's reign (1

i Dara, bearer. Only here in v 6

j Carmi, vinedresser. 2 Carmi's
1 Father of Achan (v 7; 4:1; Josh. 7:1, 18) 6:14; Num. 26:6)
2 Son of Reuben (5:3; Gen. 46:9; Ex. Whose son Carmi was is not stated here, but he must be identified with the sons of Zerah, for Achan is the only son of his mentioned, and according to Josh. 6:16-18 he was of the Zarhites, which must refer to Zerah of v 6

k Achan Achan. 7:25)

l Ram, the grandson of Hezron (v 9, 25)

m Nathon led Judah in the exodus (Num. 2:3, 9)

n Salma, or Salmon married Rahab of Jericho (v 11; Ruth 4:21; Mt. 1:5; Lk. 3:32)

o David the 7th. Jesse begat 8 sons (1 Sam. 16:8-11; 17:12-14). Here only 7 are numbered and named. David was the youngest (1 Sam. 16:11), so the 8th may have died while young and without offspring. While it was proper to mention 8 sons in the history, it was unnecessary to do so in the genealogy p David's sisters, Abigail and Zeruiah, are spoken of in 2 Sam. 17:25 as being the daughters of Nahash, so this was the name of the mother of David q These 3 nephews played important roles in David's kingdom, especially Joab who was captain of the host until the death of David r Another name for Ithra (2 Sam. 17:26)

s Caleb, the son of Hezron, the ancestor of Caleb the son of Jephunneh (Num. 13:6, 30; 14:6, 24; 32:12; 34:19; Josh. 14:9, 14) who is distinguished from this Caleb in 4:15

t He had sons of both Azubah and Jerioth, but only those of Azubah are given, Jerioth being a concubine perhaps, in such cases the sons were not always listed (v 18)

u Ephrath, called Ephratah in v 50, Cp. 4:4

v Bezaleel was gifted for the construction of the tabernacle (Ex. 31:2; 35:30; 36:1-2; 37:1). This proves the assumption wrong that the Caleb of v 18 is the same as the Caleb who was the son of Jephunneh (Bezaleel's great-grandfather)

w Hezron's wife, Azubah, died and he married the daughter of Machir when he was 60 years old and had Segub, who in turn begat Jair, the conqueror of 23 cities in the land of Gilead (v 21-22)

x These 23 cities were increased to 30, as recorded in Judg. 10:4. He also took Geshur and Aram, with the towns of Jair from them - the Geshurites and Syrians. It seems that the Aramites and Syrians had regained many villages from the early settlers of Manasseh; and Segub then regained control of them for Israel (v 23)

y See Num. 32:33; Dt. 3:4

z Substitute took for belonged to and it will be more understandable (v 23)

a 6 sons of Jerahmeel:
1 Ram, the firstborn (v 25)
2 Bunah
3 Oran
4 Ozem
5 Ahijah
6 Onam of the other wife (v 26)
From these 6 sons we have 18 descendants listed in v 27-33
b Descendants of Jerahmeel
c An Egyptian became heir to Sheshan by marrying his daughter. The father's inheritance could remain in the family through the daughter. This was an exception to the law of Moses which provided that the daughters could retain the inheritance by marrying someone who belonged to the tribe of their father (Num. 36:6). In this case the Egyptian became an adopted son of the tribe of Judah (v 34-41)
d This Caleb is explained to be the brother of Jerahmeel (of v 25-33) and son of Hezron (v 18, 42)
e Hebron, Mareshah, Tappuah, and Rekem (v 42-43) were also names of cities (Gen. 13:18; 23:2, 19; Josh. 15:34, 44). The first 2 cities were given to Caleb, one of the spies of Canaan (Josh. 14:13). Tappuah was in Judah (Josh. 15:34) and Rekem in Benjamin (Josh. 18:27)
f Maon was also a city in Judah (Josh. 15:55; 1 Sam. 23:24)
g Some sons of concubines were listed, but not all (v 46). No explanation is given for some being included and others not as in 2 Sam. 7 and 1 Chr. 17. The Chronicles are entirely independent of the books of Samuel and Kings and the differences between them are designed to be so. Many critics create their own difficulties by first assuming that all the books should be alike; and because they are not, they conclude that there are many discrepancies and corruptions in the text when actually the writings are full of divine instruction, some containing additions for our learning. The following table of parallel passages may be used as a harmony between Samuel and Kings on one hand and Chronicles on the other 58 parallel passages:

(5) Six sons: 18 descendants of Jerahmeel of vs. 9

25 ¶ And the [c]sons of Je-rah'-me-el the firstborn of Hez'ron were, Ram the firstborn, and Bu'nah, and O'ren, and O'zem, and A-hi'jah.

27 And the sons of Ram the firstborn of Je-rah'me-el were Ma'az, and Ja'min, and E'ker.

41 And Shal'lum begat Jek-a-mi'ah, and Jek-a-mi'ah begat E-lish'a-ma.

45 And the son of Sham'ma-i was [f]Ma'on: and Ma'on was the father of Beth'-zur.
46 And E'phah, Ca'leb's [g]concubine, bare Ha'ran, and Mo'za, and Ga'zez: and Ha'ran begat Ga'zez.
47 And the sons of Jah'da-i; Re'gem, and Jo'tham, and Ge'sham, and Pe'let, and E'phah, and Sha'aph.
48 Ma'a-chah, Ca'leb's concubine, bare She'ber, and Tir'ha-nah.
49 She bare also Sha'aph the father of Mad-man'nah, She'va the father of Mach'be-nah, and the father of Gib'e-a: and the daughter of Ca'leb was Ach'sa.

(8) Descendants of Caleb, son of the Hur of vs. 19; 4:15

50 ¶ These were the sons [h]of Ca'leb the son of Hur, the firstborn of [i]Eph'ra-tah; Sho'bal the father of [d]Kir'jath-je'a-rim, 51 [i]Sal'ma the father of Beth'-le-hem, Ha'reph the father of Beth-ga'der.
52 And Sho'bal the father of Kir'jath-je'a-rim had sons; Ha'ro-eh, and [f]half of the Ma-na'heth-ites.

54 The sons of Sal'ma; Beth'-le-hem, and the Ne-toph'a-thites, At'a-roth, the house of Jo'ab, and half of the Ma-na'heth-ites, the Zo'rites.
55 And the families of the scribes which dwelt at [g]Ja'bez; the Tir'rath-ites, the Shim'e-ath-ites, and Su'chath-ites. These are the [h]Ken'ites that came of He'math, the father of the house of Re'chab.

341 CHAPTER 3

(9) Six sons of David in Hebron (2 Sam. 3:2-5)

NOW [a]these were the sons of Da'vid, which were born unto him in He'bron; the firstborn [b]Am'non, of A-hin'o-am the Jez're-el-i-tess; the [k]second Dan'iel, of Ab'i-gail the Car'mel-it-ess:
2 The third, [l]Ab'sa-lom the son of Ma'a-chah the daughter of Tal'mai king of Ge'shur:
3 The fourth, Ad-o-ni'jah the son of Hag'gith:
The fifth, Sheph-a-ti'ah of Ab'i-tal:
4 These six were [m]born unto him in He'bron; and there he reigned seven years and six months: and in Je-ru'sa-lem he reigned thirty and three years.

(10) Fourteen sons and daughters of David in Jerusalem (2 Sam. 5:13-16; 2 Sam. 13)

5 And these were born unto him in Je-ru'sa-lem; Shim'e-a, and Sho'bab, and [c]Na'than, and Sol'o-mon, four, of [g]Bath'-shu-a the daughter of [g]Am'mi-el:
6 Ib'har also, and E-lish'a-ma, and E-liph'e-let,
7 And No'gah, and Ne'pheg, and Ja-phi'a,
8 And E-lish'a-ma, and E-li'a-da, and E-liph'e-let, [n]nine.
9 These were all the sons of Da'vid, beside the sons of the a Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, one of the 12 spies of Canaan, had a daughter named Achsah (Josh. 15:16-17; Judg. 1:12-15), and for this reason some get him confused with this Caleb, the son of Hezron, who had a daughter named Achsa (v 49)

b Caleb, the son of Hur, the Caleb of v 19. Hur gave him the name of his own father. It is possible that this Caleb is the son of Jephunneh (Num. 13:6), that being the surname of the Hur of Ex. 17:10; 24:14; 31:2; 35:30 c The wife of the Caleb of v 18-20 d Kirjath-jearim, an old Gibeonite city (Josh. 9:17; 15:60), where the ark tarried long, and from whence it was brought to Zion by David (1 Sam. 6:21; 7:2; 2 Sam. 6:2; 1 Chr. 13:5-6) e Salma, strength; father of Bethlehem (v 51, 54). Another Salma was father of Boaz (v 11; Ruth 4:20-21; Mt. 1:4-5; Lk. 3:32)
f See v 54 for the other half (v 52)
g Supposed to have been founded by Jabez of 4:9-10 h The Kenites were the descendants of Jethro, father-in-law of Moses (Judg. 1:16; 4:11-17; 5:24; 1 Sam. 15:6; 27:10; 30:29). It is unusual that they should be alluded to as the descendants of Judah. This was because they were attached to the tribe of Judah in their inheritance, and had become intermixed with them for so many centuries
i 5 lists of the sons of David:

j Amnon committed sin with Tamar and was killed by her brother, Absalom (2 Sam. 13)
k Daniel, God is my judge. 3 Daniel's:
1 Second son of David called Chileab (2 Sam. 3:2-5)
2 A returned exile (Ezra 8:2; Neh. 10:6)
3 The well known Jewish prophet of the exile who wrote the book of Daniel (Ezek. 14:14, 20; 28:3)
l Absalom was the son that killed Amnon for defiling his sister, Tamar (2 Sam. 13), and the one who rebelled against his father (2 Ki. 15-18) m This is the only woman mentioned in the list called David's wife. She was perhaps his original wife n The 6 were born to him in Hebron while he reigned there for 7 years and 6 months (v 4). The others of v 5-8 were born in Jerusalem when he reigned over the united kingdom of Israel for 33 years (v 4). David reigned first over Judah and then over the whole of Israel. This was the first division of the kingdom of Israel, the second and final division being after the death of Solomon, when 10 tribes were given to Jeroboam, and Rehoboam kept Judah, Benjamin, Levi, and many people from the other 10 tribes (1 Ki. 12)
o Nathan was the son through whom the Messiah actually came. This was Mary's family line (Lk. 3:23-38). Joseph was of the kingdom line through Solomon (Mt. 1:1-17)
p Bathsheba (2 Sam. 11-12) q Another name for Eliam (2 Sam. 11:3)
r 11 are mentioned in 2 Sam. 5:14-16, but perhaps 2 died young and are not listed here a Tamar. See 2 Sam. 13

b 21 royal descendants of Solomon:
1 Rehoboam (v 10; 1 Ki. 14:21)
2 Abia (Abijam, v 10; 1 Ki. 15:2)
3 Asa (v 10; 1 Ki. 15:10)
4 Jehoshaphat (v 10; 1 Ki. 22:41-42)
5 Joram (Jehoram, v 11; 2 Ki. 8:16-17)
6 Ahaziah (v 11; 2 Ki. 8:25-26)
7 Joash (Jehoash, v 11; 2 Ki. 12:1)
8 Amaziah (v 12; 2 Ki. 14:1-2)
9 Azariah (Uzziah, v 12; 2 Ki. 15:1-2)
10 Jotham (v 13; 2 Ki. 15:32)
11 Ahaz (v 13; 2 Ki. 16:1-2)
12 Hezekiah (v 13; 2 Ki. 18:1-2)
13 Manasseh (v 13; 2 Ki. 21:1)
14 Amon (v 14; 2 Ki. 21:19)
15 Josiah (v 14; 2 Ki. 22:1)
16 Johanan (no king, v 15)
17 Jehoahaz (Shallum, v 15; 2 Ki. 23:30)
18 Jedekiah (no king, v 15) 31-33)
19 Jehoiakim (v 15; 2 Ki. 23:36)
20 Jeconiah (v 16; 2 Ki. 24:6-16)
21 Zedekiah (v 15-16; 2 Ki. 24:18)
The wicked queen Athaliah who reigned 6 years in Judah is not listed here in the royal genealogy. She reigned between Ahaziah and Joash. Johanan was never a king, and nothing else is known about him
c Abijam (1 Ki. 15:2) d Jehoram (2 Ki. 8:16-17)
e Jehoash (2 Ki. 12:1)
f Johanan was the firstborn of Josiah, but he must have died before the events making Jehoiahaz and Jehoiakim kings of Judah (2 Ki. 23:31-37). Zedekiah is spoken of in v 15 as a son of Josiah, and if so, he also is not mentioned after this. He was not the same Zedekiah of v 16 who was not a son of Josiah, but his brother (2 Ki. 24:17). The word son as applied to him, being the son of Jehoiakim, must be understood as successor (v 16)
g Called Eliakim (2 Ki. 23:34)
h 2 Zedekiah's - son of Josiah (v 15), and brother of Josiah (v 16; 2 Ki. 24:17)
i Shallum, or Jehoahaz (2 Ki. 23:31-33)
j Jechoniah, or Jehoiachin (2 Ki. 24:6) and Coniah (Jer. 22:24-28) k Zedekiah, or Mattaniah (2 Ki. 24:17-18). He was the last king of Judah l 8 sons of Jehoiachin, or Coniah:
1 Assir (v 17)
2 Salathiel
3 Malchiram
4 Pedaiah
5 Shenazar
6 Jecamiah
7 Hoshama
8 Nedabiah
Though Coniah had all these sons, not one of them or any descendant of any one of them could ever sit on the throne of David and rule in Jerusalem and over Israel, for God had cursed him and his seed forever, cutting them off from kingship. The next king of Judah was not of his seed; he was an uncle. The eternal king of Judah was to be the Messiah who was not to come of the kingly line, yet had to obtain the throne rights through the kingly line to fulfill the Davidic covenant regarding an eternal king of David's seed. This was completely met in Mary, the virgin-mother of the Messiah, coming through Nathan the son of David who was not of the kingly line, and in Joseph who was the legal heir to the throne through Solomon, the son of David, he by Joseph (whose genealogy is in Mt. 1:1-17) married Mary (whose genealogy is in Lk. 3:23-38) It caused Jesus to be counted the firstborn of the family of Joseph and Mary, and therefore the legal heir to the throne of David; and yet, He did not come through Coniah; and the curse of Jer. 22:24-30 was literally fulfilled
m Assir, captive. 3 Assir's:
1 Son of Jehoiachin (3:17)
2 Son of Korah (6:22; Ex. 6:24)
3 Son of Ebiasaph (6:23, 37)
Because Assir means captive some think he was not a real person; but this is no proof that it was not a true son as all the others mentioned in v 17-18; nor is it an indication that he was born in captivity any more than the other Assir's of Scripture. Something evidently happened to Assir, either death without heirs or being made a eunuch in Babylon, for Salathiel was next in the line of the Messiah (v 17; Mt. 1:12); called the son of Neri in Lk. 3:27, which could be son-in-law in this case, as explained in note a, of that passage n Salathiel was actually begotten by Jehoiachin (Mt. 1:12)
o The Zerubbabel here could be a different one from the son of Salathiel of Mt. 1:12, and this might solve some seem-

342 CHAPTER 4

(13) Eighteen descendants of Judah by Hur and Shobal (2:18, 20, 50, 52)

THE [a]sons of Jū'dah; Phā'rĕz, Hĕz'rŏn, and Cär'mi, and Hūr, and Shō'bal.

2 And Rē-a-ī'ah the son of Shō'bal begat Jā'hăth; and Jā'hăth begat Ā-hū'ma-ī, and Lā'hăd. These are the families of the Zō'rath-ites.

3 And these were of the father of Ē'tăm; Jĕz're-ĕl, and Ish'mà, and Ĭd'băsh: and the name of their sister was Hăz'e-lĕl-pō'nī:

4 And Pē-nū'el the [q]father of Gē'dôr, and Ē'zĕr the father of Hū'shah. These are the sons of Hūr, the firstborn of Ephra-tah, the father of Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm.

(14) Ten descendants of Judah by Ashur (2:24)

5 ¶ And [b]Ash'ūr the father of Tē-kō'ā had[c]two wives, Hē'lah and Nā'a-rah.

6 And Nā'a-rah bare him Ā-hū'zam, and Hē'phĕr, and Tĕm'e-nī, and Hā-a-hăsh'ta-rī. These were the sons of Nā'a-rah.

7 And the sons of Hē'lah were, Zĕ'reth, and jē-zō'ar, and Ēth'nan.

8 And Cŏz begat Ā'nub, and Zō-bē'bah, and the families of Ā-hăr'hel the son of Hā'rum.

(15) Jabez of Judah and his answered prayer (2:55)

9 ¶ And [d]Jā'bĕz was more honourable than his brethren: and his mother called his name Jā'bĕz, saying, Because I bare him with sorrow.

10 And Jā'bĕz called on the God of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, [e]Oh that thou wouldest bless me indeed, and enlarge my coast, and that thine hand might be with me, and that thou wouldest keep me from evil, that it may not grieve me! And God granted him that which he requested.

(16) Five unidentified descendants of Judah by Chelub or Caleb, not the Caleb's of 2:18, 50; 4:15

11 ¶ And Chē'lŭb the brother of Shu'ah begat Mē'hĭr, which was the father of Ēsh'ton.

12 And Ēsh'ton begat Bĕth-rā'phà, and Pā-sē'ah, and Tē-hin'nah the father of Ĭr-nā'hăsh. These are the men of Ré'chah.

(17) Six descendants of Kenaz of Judah (Josh. 15:13-19; Judges 1:9-15)

13 And the sons of [f]Kĕ'nāz; Ŏth'nĭ-el, and Sĕr-a-ī'ah: and the sons of Ŏth'nĭ-el; Hā'thăth.

18 And his wife [h]Jē-hū-dī'jah bare Jē'red the father of Gē-a Ashur, the son of Hezron (2:24)

b Women are not listed very often in genealogies of the Jews, but once in awhile, as here, they are mentioned because of some interesting fact - being one of two wives, for instance, or having the name of a prominent place, as Ephratah (v 4; 2:50). Generally, there was one wife and a number of concubines, so when there was more than one wife of equal standing the fact was sometimes mentioned (v 5) c Jabez, he makes sorrow. A man of Judah introduced here as a man without family connection and more honorable than his brethren. He was called Jabez because his mother bore him in sorrow. The outstanding thing about him was that he called upon God and was heard of Him (v 9-10). Why the writer or why God wanted this little refreshing note here in the midst of all these names, we do not know. Perhaps the city Jabez in Judah was named after him (2:55)
d 5 requests of Jabez (v 10):
1 Bless me indeed
2 Enlarge my coast
3 Let Your hand be with me
4 Keep me from evil
5 Keep me from grief
These 5 requests are the most general ones Jehovah hears from the average man. God heard Jabez and we have all the right in the world to believe that He will also hear all others who pray likewise from the heart, for He is no respecter of persons (Rom. 2:11)
e Kenaz, hunting. 3 Kenaz's:
1 Son of Eliphaz (1:36; Gen. 36:11, 15, 33)
2 Brother of Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and father of Othniel, the first judge of Israel (v 13; Josh. 15:17; Judg. 1:13; 3:9-11)
3 Grandson of Caleb, the son of Jephunneh (4:15)
f This Caleb was one of the 12 spies who went into Canaan. Here 37 descendants of his are listed (v 15-20)
g Here is another woman mentioned in the genealogies. Also called Bithiah, the daughter of Pharaoh. She evidently became a Jewish convert. Bithiah means daughter of Jehovah, and Jehudijah means a Jewess. This implies that she became a worshipper of Jehovah ing difficulties in trying to force certain conclusions that are sometimes made in genealogies. Could there not be 2 men in the same family with the same name? That this is often the case is seen in the various genealogies p After giving us a long list of descendants of Judah in chs. 2-3 - from Judah to Jeconiah, the last king of Judah of David's line, the writer begins again with descendants of Judah and traces them through Hur, Shobal, Ashur, Chelub, Kenaz, Caleb, and Shelah (v 1-23); then he takes up the descendants of Simeon (v 24-43)

q Lord, or prince

First mention of Satan (Job 1:6)

Here we have the first mention, historically speaking, of the arch enemy of God and man, by his name. Not even in Genesis is he mentioned by name - and the time of Job was early in history, for he was the son of Issachar who was the son of Jacob (Gen. 46:13). It is clear in Gen. 3 that there was an invisible enemy who caused the fall of man, but in the passage he is shown as using the serpent as a tool, in the same way that he used Peter (Mt. 16:23). In ch. 41 he is symbolized by a great dragon. He is the evil spirit working in the children of disobedience throughout the ages (Eph. 2:1-3); here he is named and spoken of as a real person and shown to be one having access to heaven with power to accuse the brethren and seek their destruction (Rev. 12:9-12). The word Satan means adversary. See note k, 1 Ki. 11:14 and Satan, p. 633 a Mered must have been a very prominent man to marry the daughter of Pharaoh b In some versions this verse reads: The sons of the wife of Hodiah (v 19) c What time this refers to is not known d We come now to the sons of Simeon who had inheritance in southern Judah. Only 20 verses are devoted to his descendants (v 24-43), whereas 100 verses are devoted to the sons of Judah (2:3-4:23)

e Simeon, bearing. The second son of Jacob and Leah. He is mentioned 43 times in the O. T. and only once in the N. T. (2:1; 4:24, 43; 6:65; 12:25; Gen. 29:33; 34:25-30; 35:23; 42:24, 36; 43:23; 46:10; 48:5; 49:5; Ex. 1:2; 6:15; Num. 1:6, 22-23; 2:12; 7:36; 10:19; 13:5; 26:12; 34:20; Josh. 19:1, 9; 21:4-9; Judg. 1:3, 17; 2 Chr. 15:9; 34:6; Ezek. 48:24-33; Rev. 7:7). See 6 Simeon's, p. 90 of N. T.
f Shimei had 22 sons and daughters, more than his brethren, but on the whole the Simeonites did not multiply like the Judahites (v 27)
g This gives the only time element idea in the whole passage (v 24-33), indicating all these generations lived before and up to the time of David h It seems the generations of v 34-43 were after David; such is implied in v 31, 41

Job's plea to his friends (Job 13:6)

Give me hearing as I plead my own case. Will you speak deceitfully and wickedly and then claim that you are speaking for God? Will you be partial to God and show injustice for my cause? Will you be special pleaders in His stead? Will it be well with you when He puts you on trial? Do not your arguments make a mock of God? He will surely reprove you if you show a respect of persons. You should treat me as justly as you would God. Can you deceive Him like a man? Should not you be afraid of Him? Your weighty sayings are like ashes, your arguments crumble like lumps of clay. Be silent, let me alone that I may speak, and then let come what will (v 6-13)

10 false accusations of God (Job 13:24)

1 You hide Your face from me (v 24)
2 You count me as an enemy
3 You break me like a leaf driven to and fro (v 25)
4 You pursue me as dry stubble
5 You write bitter things against me
6 You make me to possess the iniquities of my youth (v 26)
7 You put my feet in stocks (v 27)
8 You look narrowly unto all my paths
9 You set a print upon the heels of my feet
10 Thus You cause me to be consumed like a rotten thing or a moth-eaten garment (v 28)

Job - on immortality (Job 14:7)

Job reasoned that a tree seems to have more hope than a man. When a tree is cut down it will sprout again and grow into another, but when man is cut down, where is he? (v 7-10). Job expressed the idea that man gives up the ghost -his body lies down and does not rise till the heavens be no more (v 10-12). He asked God to hide him in sheol until His wrath was past, and then set a fixed time to remember him again (v 13). Attempts have been made to use such a passage to prove that there is no hell, that men become extinct at death, and that the soul sleeps; but nothing like this is stated here. It is only the body that lies down, sleeps and goes back to dust (Gen. 3:19; Eccl. 3:19-21); the ghost or inner man leaves the body at physical death (Jas. 2:26). The statement that man will not rise till the heavens be no more, proves that the ancients believed in a continued existence after death and that they would be raised again in due time (v 12). Wishing that God would hide him in sheol, and keep him there in secret for a time (until His wrath was past), then appoint a set time to remember him

19 And [b]the sons of his wife Hō-dī'ah the sister of Nā'ham, the father of Kĕī'lah the Gär'mite, and Ĕsh-te-mō'ā, the Mā-ăch'a-thīte.

20 And the sons of Shī'mon were, Ăm'nŏn, and Rĭn'nah, Bĕn-hā'nan, and Tī'lon. And the sons of Ĭ'shī were, Zō'hĕth, and Bĕn-zō'hĕth.

(19) Ten descendants of Judah by Shelah (Gen. 38:5)

21 ¶ The sons of Shē'lah the son of Jū'dah were, Ēr the father of Lē'cah, and Lā'a-dah the father of Mā-rē'shah, and the families of the house of them that wrought fine linen, of the house of Ash-bē'ā, 22 And Jō'kim, and the men of Chō-zē'bā, and Jō'ăsh, and Sā'răph, [c]who had the dominion in Mō'ab, and Jăsh'u-bī-lē'hĕm. And these are ancient things.

23 These were the potters, and those that dwelt among plants and hedges: there they dwelt with the king for his work.

15 Generations of Simeon, son of Jacob: (1) Twenty-seven descendants and their inheritance

24 ¶ The [d]sons of [e]Sĭm'e-on were, Nĕ-mū'el, and Jā'min, Jā'rib, Zĕ'rah, and Shā'ul:

25 Shăl'lum his son, Mĭb'sam his son, Mĭsh'mā his son.

26 And the sons of Mĭsh'mā; Hā-mū'el his son, Zăc'chur his son, Shĭm'e-ī his son.

27 And Shĭm'e-ī had [f]sixteen sons and six daughters; but his brethren had not many children, neither did all their family multiply, like to the children of Jū'dah.

28 And they dwelt at Bē'er-shĕ'bā, and Mō'la-dah, and Hā'zar-shu'al, 29 And at Bĭl'hah, and at Ĕ'zĕm, and at Tō'lăd,

30 And at Bĕth-u'el, and at Hôr'mah, and at Zĭk'lăg, 31 And at Bĕth-mär'ca-bōth, and Hā'zar-sū'sim, and at Bĕth-bĭr'e-ī and at Shā-ra'ĭm. These were their cities [g]unto the reign of Dā'vid.

32 And their villages were, Ē'tăm, and Ā'in, Rĭm'mon, and Tō'chen, and Ā'shan, five cities:

33 And all their villages that were round about the same cities, unto Bā'al. These were their habitations, and their genealogy.

(2) Twenty-two other princes of Simeon and their conquests

34 [h]And Mĕ-shō'băb, and Jăm'lech, and Jō'shah the son of Ăm-a-zī'ah, 35 And Jō'el, and Jē'hū the son of Jŏs-ĭ-bī'ah, the son of Sĕr-a-ī'ah, the son of Ā'sĭ-el.

36 And Ē-lĭ-o-ē'na-ī, and Jā-ăk'o-bah, and Jĕsh-o-hā'iah, and Ā-sa-ī'ah, and Ā'dĭ-el, and Jĕ-sĭm'ĭ-el, and Bĕ-nā'iah, 37 And Zĭ'zā the son of Shĭ'phī, the son of Āl'lŏn, the son of Jĕ-dā'iah, the son of Shĭm'rī, the son of Shĕm-a-ī'ah;

38 [i]These mentioned by their names were princes in their families: and the house of their fathers increased greatly.

39 ¶ And they went to the entrance of Gē'dôr, even unto the east side of the valley, to seek pasture for their flocks.

40 And they found fat pasture and good, and the land was wide, and quiet, and peaceable; for they of [j]Hăm had dwelt there of old.

41 And these written by name came in the days of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and smote their tents, and the habitations that were found there, and destroyed them utterly unto this day, and dwelt in their rooms: because there was pasture there for their flocks.

42 And some of them, even of the sons of Sĭm'e-on, five hundred men, went to mount Sē'ĭr, having for their captains Pĕl-a-tī'ah, and Nĕ-a-rī'ah, and Rĕph-a-ī'ah, and Ŭz'zĭ-el, the sons of Ĭ'shī.

43 And they smote the [k]rest of the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes that were escaped, and dwelt there unto this day.

CHAPTER 5 343

16 Generations of Reuben, son of Jacob: (1) Why Reuben lost his birthright

NOW the [a]sons of [b]Reu'ben the firstborn of Ĭs'ra-el, (for he was the firstborn; but, forasmuch as he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given unto the sons of Jō'sĕph the son of Ĭs'ra-el: and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright.

2 For Jū'dah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the chief ruler; but the [c]birthright was Jō'sĕph's:)

(2) Seventeen descendants of Reuben to the Assyrian captivity (2 Ki. 15:29; 17:6; 18:11)

3 The sons, I say, of Reu'ben the firstborn of Ĭs'ra-el were, Hā'nŏch, and Păl'lu, Hĕz'rŏn, and Cär'mī.

4 The sons of Jō'el; Shĕm-a-ī'ah his son, Gōg his son, Shĭm'e-ī his son,

5 Mī'cah his son, Rē-a-ī'ă his son, Bā'al his son,

6 Bĕ-ē'rah his son, [d]whom Tĭl'gath-pĭl-nĕ'ser king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-a carried away captive: he was prince of the Reu'ben-ites.

7 And his brethren by their families, when the genealogy of their generations was reckoned, were the chief, Jĕ-ī'el, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah,

8 And Bē'lă the son of Ā'zăz, the son of Shĕ'mă, the son of Jō'el, who dwelt in Ā'rō-ēr, even unto Nē'bō and Bā'al-mē'on:

(3) Conquests and expansion

a Those named in previous verses b The descendants of Ham possessed these parts in ancient times. When and by whom they were driven out is not fully known. We know that from then to the conquest of Canaan by Israel, the giants ruled that section; they might have driven the sons of Ham out. The reason the Simeonites conquered it was to possess the pasture land (v 41). They are mentioned as being registered in the days of Hezekiah, but continue unto this day, meaning to the writing of the Chronicles long after Hezekiah (v 41-43)
c The Amalekites were to be destroyed as a nation; individuals here and there were spared (v 43; Ex. 17:14). Not all were destroyed at the time of 1 Sam. 15. Cp. 1 Sam. 27:8; 30:1; 2 Sam. 8:12; Esther 3:1
d We now come to the record of the sons of Reuben for 10 verses, compared to 100 for Judah (2:3-4:23), and 22 for Simeon (4:24-43)
e Reuben, behold a son. The first son of Jacob and Leah (Gen. 29:32). He is mentioned 74 times in Scripture (2:1; 5:1-3, 18; 6:63, 78; Gen. 29:32; 30:14; 35:22-23; 37:21-29; 42:22, 37; 46:8-9; 48:5; 49:3; Ex. 1:2; 6:14; Num. 1:5, 20; 2:10-16; 7:30; 10:18; 13:4; 16:1; 26:5; 32:1-37; 34:14; Dt. 11:6; 27:13; 33:6; Josh. 4:12; 13:15-23; 15:6; 18:7, 17; 20:8; 21:7, 36; 22:9-34; Judg. 5:15-16; Ezek. 48:6-7, 31; Rev. 7:5). He lost the birthright through sin and the blessings passed on to others. Unstable as water, he did not possess the traits of priest, prophet, or king. That is why his genealogy was not given first (v 1). Judah inherited the kingly rights (v 2; Gen. 49:10), and Joseph the other blessings of the birthright (v 2)
f See Birthright in Index
g This was the first captivity of the 10 tribes (2 Ki. 15:29; Isa. 9:1); and it indicates the time of the facts in the previous verses as before this captivity again, is proof that Job believed in a separation of the inner man from the body, in the inner man going to sheol, and in the set time of the resurrection of the dead (v 13). The fact that he asked the question shall he live again? - gives evidence of faith in a future resurrection. So also the statement of waiting until his change would come is proof of his faith in the resurrection (v 14). All of this is in perfect harmony with truth as seen in notes listed under Hell and Immortality in Index

2 great changes for all men (Job 14:14)

1 The change at death from this life to another when the soul and spirit leave the body for a temporary place of confinement until the second change (Heb. 9:27; Jas. 2:26). At this time the righteous go to heaven to await the resurrection of their bodies (2 Cor. 5:8; Phil. 1:21-24; Heb. 12:22-23; Rev. 6:9-11); and the wicked go to hell to await the resurrection of their bodies (Ps. 9:17; Isa. 14:9; Lk. 16:19-31)

2 The change at resurrection. All bodies will be resurrected and the immortal and living souls and spirits will re-enter their bodies to live forever; at this time the bodies will become immortal (Dan. 12:2; Jn. 5:28-29; 1 Cor. 15; 1 Th. 4:13-16; Rev. 20:4-6, 11-15)

Ancient seals (Job 14:17)

It was customary with the ancients to use a seal oftentimes where we use a lock. Money was counted and put into a bag, then a seal put on it. Thus a seal might be put to a bag as evidence that its contents need not be counted again. The idea here is that Job's sins were all numbered, put into a bag, and carefully stored away for future reference; God watched over them as one watches over a treasure (v 16-17)

a This gives the extent of the spreading out of the Reubenites eastward. Their bands of herdmen roamed from the wilderness of Palestine to the river Euphrates (v 9)

b The Hagarites were the descendants of Hagar through Ishmael (v 10, 19; Gen. 16; Ps. 83:6). See v 18-22 regarding their defeat

c Here we have the descendants of Gad listed in 7 verses (v 11-17)

d Gad, a troop. The 7th son of Jacob (Gen. 30:11). Mentioned 57 times (2:2; 5:11; 6:63, 80; 12:14; Gen. 30:11; 35:26; 46:16; 49:19; Ex. 1:4; Num. 1:14-25; 2:14; 7:42; 10:20; 13:15; 26:15-18; 32:1-34; 34:14; Dt. 27:13; 33:20; Josh. 4:12; 13:24-28; 18:7; 20:8; 21:7, 38; 22:9-34; 1 Sam. 13:7; Jer. 49:1; Ezek. 48:27-34; Rev. 7:5). A prophet in David's time was also called Gad (21:9-19; 29:29; 1 Sam. 22:5; 2 Sam. 24:11-19; 2 Chr. 29:25); and there was a river Gad (2 Sam. 24:5)

e All these names were registered in the days of Jotham, king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, king of the 10 tribes, indicating these persons all lived before and up to this time (v 17)

f This victory should have shown them that there would be no captivity if they would obey God (v 20-21)

g 5fold spoils of war:
1 The 100,000 men slain (v 21)
2 Cattle - an unknown number
3 50,000 camels @ $100.00..... $5,000,000.00
4 250,000 sheep @ $20.00..... 5,000,000.00
5 2,000 asses @ $50.00 100,000.00
Estimated total.... $10,100,000.00

h Until the captivity - that of Tiglath-pileser (2 Ki. 15:29), for the Jews on the east of the Jordan were taken captive before the others, as in 2 Ki. 17 (v 26)

of Israel: war with the Hagarites

9 And [a]eastward he inhabited unto the entering in of the wilderness from the river Eŭphrā'tēs: because their cattle were multiplied in the land of Gĭl'e-ăd.

10 And in the days of Saul they made war with the [b]Hā'gar-ītes, who fell by their hand: and they dwelt in their tents throughout all the east land of Gĭl'e-ăd.

17 Generations of Gad, son of Jacob to Jotham, king of Judah (2 Ki. 15:32)

11 ¶ And the [c]children of [d]Găd dwelt over against them, in the land of Bā'shăn unto Săl'cah:

12 Jō'el the chief, and Shā'pham the next, and Jă-ā'năi, and Shā'phat in Bā'shăn.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were, Mī'chaĕl, and Mē-shŭl'lam, and Shĕ'bā, and Jō'rāi, and Jā'chan, and Zī'ă, and Hē'bĕr, seven.

14 These are the children of Ăb-i-hā'il the son of Hū'rī, the son of Jā-rō'ah, the son of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mī'chaĕl, the son of Jē-shĭsh'a-ī, the son of Jäh'dō, the son of Bŭz;

15 Ă'hī the son of Ăb'dĭ-el, the son of Gū'nī, chief of the house of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gĭl'e-ăd in Bā'shăn, and in her towns, and in all the suburbs of Shār'on, upon their borders.

17 [e]All these were reckoned by genealogies in the days of Jō'tham king of Jū'dah, and in the days of Jĕr-o-bō'am king of Ĭs'ra-el.

18 Army of 44,760 of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh that conquered the Hagarites in the day of king Saul (vs. 10)

18 ¶ The sons of Reu'ben, and the Gād'ītes, and half the tribe of Mă-năs'seh, of valiant men, men able to bear buckler and sword, and to shoot with bow, and skilful in war, were four and forty thousand, seven hundred and threescore, that went out to the war.

19 And they made war with the Hā'gar-ītes, with Jē'tŭr, and Nē'phish, and Nō'dăb.

20 And they were [f]helped against them, and the Hā'gar-ītes were delivered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cried to God in the battle, and he was intreated of them; because they put their trust in him.

21 And they took away their cattle; of their camels [g]fifty thousand, and of sheep two hundred and fifty thousand, and of asses two thousand, and of men an hundred thousand.

22 For there fell down many slain, because the war was of God. And they dwelt in their steads [h]until the captivity.

19 Chief men of Manasseh east of Jordan (Num. 32; Josh. 13:8)

23 ¶ And the [c]children of the half tribe of [d]Mă-năs'seh dwelt in the land: they increased from Bā'shăn unto Bă'al-hĕr'mon and Sē'nir, and unto mount Hĕr'mon.

24 And these were the heads of the house of their fathers, even Ē'phĕr, and Ĭ'shī, and Ĕ-lī'el, and Ăz'rī-el, and Jĕr-e-mī'ah, and Hŏd-a-vī'ah, and Jäh'dĭ-el, mighty men of valour, famous men, and heads of the house of their fathers.

20 Idolatry and first captivity of Israel to Assyria (2 Ki. 15:29; 17:6; 18:11)

25 ¶ And [c]they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whom God destroyed before them.

26 And the God of Ĭs'ra-el stirred up the [d]spirit of Pŭl king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-a, and the spirit of Tĭl'gath-pĭl-nē'sĕr king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-a, and he carried them away, even the Reu'ben-ītes, and the Gād'ītes, and the half tribe of Mă-năs'seh, and brought them unto Hă'lah, and Hā'bôr, and Hā'rā, and to the river Gō'zan, unto this day.

THE [a]sons of [b]Lĕ'vĭ; [c]Gĕr'shŏn, Kō'hath, and Mĕ-rā'rĭ.

11 And Ăz-a-rī'ah begat Ăm-a-rī'ah, and Ăm-a-rī'ah begat Ă-hī'tub, 12 And Ă-hī'tub begat Zā'dŏk, a Here, in 2 verses, we have the record of the chief men of the half of Manasseh, the part of the tribe east of Jordan (v 23-24)

b Manasseh, causing forgetfulness. He is mentioned 111 times in Scripture (5:18-26; 6:61-71; 7:14-29; 9:3; 12:19-37; 26:32; 27:20-21; Gen. 41:51; 46:20; 48:1-20; 50:23; Num. 1:10, 34-35; 2:20; 7:54; 10:23; 13:11; 26:28-34; 27:1; 32:33-41; 34:14, 23; 36:1, 12; Dt. 3:13-14; 29:8; 33:17; 34:2; Josh. 1:12; 4:12; 12:6; 13:7, 29-31; 14:4; 16:4-9; 17:1-17; 18:7; 20:8; 21:5-27; 22:1-31; Judg. 1:27; 6:15, 35; 7:23; 11:29; 18:30; 1 Ki. 4:13; 2 Chr. 15:9; 30:1-18; 31:1; 34:6-9; Ps. 60:7; 80:2; 108:8; Isa. 9:21; Jer. 15:4; Ezek. 48:4-5). Called Manasses (Rev. 7:6)
There are 5 men named Manasseh in Scripture (note k, 2 Ki. 21:1). Only two of them are prominent - the elder son of Joseph (Gen. 41:51; 46:20; 48:1-20) and the 14th king of Judah, the son of Hezekiah (2 Ki. 20:21-21:20; 2 Chr. 32:33-33:23)

c 2 reasons for the first captivity:
1 They transgressed against the God of their fathers (v 25)
2 They went whoring after the gods of the people whom God had destroyed before them for like sins

d See 2 Ki. 15:19, 29

e Here we have the list of the sons of Levi in 81 verses compared to the list of Judah's in 100 and those of the other tribal heads in 1 to 40 verses (6:1-81). The tribe of Naphtali has but a single verse devoted to it (7:13)

f Levi, joined. He was the 3rd son of Jacob and Leah. Mentioned 68 times in Scripture (2:1; 6:1, 38, 43, 47; 9:18; 12:26; 21:6; 23:6, 14, 24; 24:20; Gen. 29:34; 34:25-30; 35:23; 46:11; 49:5; Ex. 1:2; 2:1; 6:16-19; 32:26-28; Num. 1:49; 3:6, 15, 17; 4:2; 16:1-10; 17:3-8; 18:2, 21; 26:59; Dt. 10:8-9; 18:1; 21:5; 27:12; 31:9; 33:8; Josh. 13:14, 33; 21:10; 1 Ki. 12:31; Ezra 8:15-18; Neh. 10:39; 12:23; Ps. 135:20; Ezek. 40:46; 48:31; Zech. 12:13; Mal. 2:4-8; 3:3; Heb. 7:5). The terms Levite and Levites, referring to the descendants of Levi, are found 293 times in the Bible

4 Levi's in Scripture:

1 Son of Jacob (see above scriptures)
2 Matthew (Mk. 2:14; Lk. 5:27-29)
3 Ancestor of Christ (Lk. 3:24)
4 Another ancestor of Christ (Lk. 3:29)

g 3 great branches of Levites:
1 Gershonites (v 1, 20-21; Num. 3:21-4:27) 4:37)
2 Kohathites (v 1, 22-28; Num. 3:27-3 Merarites (v 1, 29-30; Num. 3:17-4:45; 26:57)

h Amram, exalted people. The father of Aaron, Moses, and Miriam (v 2-3)

i Aaron had 4 sons - Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. The first two died by a plague from the Lord at Sinai (Lev. 10) j Here we have a line of 22 priests from Aaron to the Babylonian captivity (v 4-15). This is not a complete list, as a number mentioned in Kings and Chronicles elsewhere are not here. Not all of these were high priests. The list gives more the line of Jehozadak which coincides partly with that of the high priests (v 15). In Ezra 7:1-5 we have a partial list of these priests. Though Moses was the highest of the high priests in office (Ps. 99:6), he is not listed with them, not being considered a priest because of his separation to civil government before the appointment of the Levitical priesthood. See 89 high priests, p. 236

k See Phinehas in Index

l Ex. 6:25; Num. 25:11; Ps. 106:30

m It is supposed that the change in the high priesthood from the line of Eleazar to Ithamar took place in the days of Uzzi. The change was made for some unrecorded reason and continued for several generations

n 2 Sam. 8:17; 15:27; 1 Chr. 24:3-6, 31

o 2 Sam. 15:27, 36; 18:19, 22, 27

a Called Meshullam in Neh. 11:11 b The high priest in the reign of Josiah (2 Ki. 22:4; 2 Chr. 34:9) c Put to death by Nebuchadnezzar at Riblah because of rebellion (2 Ki. 25: 18, 21) d He succeeded Seraiah, the high priest who was killed by Nebuchadnezzar. He went into captivity; his son was Joshua the high priest who returned from captivity (v 15; Ezra 3:2; 5:2; Neh. 12:26; Hag. 1:1, 12; Zech. 6:11)
e 3 branches of Levites (note g, v 1) f Elkanah was the father of Samuel, yet it is not mentioned here (1 Sam. 1-2). Samuel is finally mentioned when the record speaks of his sons, but that is the only reference to him here (v 26-27)
g In 1 Sam. 8:2 his name is Joel, so perhaps he went by both names (v 28)
h 3 chief choir leaders in Israel:
1 Heman the Kohathite (v 33)
2 Asaph the Gershonite (v 39)
3 Ethan the Merarite (v 44)

54 Reign of Jehoahaz (2 Ki. 23:31-33; 55 Reign of Jehoiakim (2 Ki. 23:34-24:6; 2 Chr. 36:4-7)
56 Reign of Jehoiachin (2 Ki. 24:6-16; 2 Chr. 36:8-10)

58 Destruction of Judah and Jerusalem (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36:15-21)

Doctrine of the remnant (Isa. 1:9):

The doctrine of the remnant of men saved always refers to Judah and the other tribes of Israel, never to Gentiles or the church. It expresses the idea that God is under obligation to all Israel to save a remnant of them, so as to preserve their seed to fulfil with them eventually, the covenants made with Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and David to whom He promised an eternal seed and to the seed an eternal land (Gen. 12:1-3, 7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:2-8, 19; 21:12; 22:17-18; 26:3-4; 28:3-4, 13-15; 2 Sam. 7). Many times God predicted the deliverance and preservation of a remnant of the 12 tribes and their final and eternal restoration under their Messiah (v 9; 10:20-22; 11: 10-12, 16; 38:31-32; 46:3; Jer. 23:3; 31:7; 39:9; 40:11; Ezek. 6:8-10; Joel 2:32; Mic. 2:12; 5:3-8; Zeph. 2:7-9; 3:13; Zech. 8:6-12; Rom. 9:27; 11:5; Rev. 12:17). According to v 9 Isaiah predicted that a very small remnant would be saved in the coming destruction of Judah and Jerusalem; otherwise Israel would have been totally destroyed like Sodom and Gomorrah

Sinful state of Judah (Isa. 1:10)

The people of Judah were so corrupt and sinful that God called their rulers the rulers of Sodom, and the people themselves the people of Gomorrah (v 10). This is the first reference to Sodom since Moses accused Israel of having the vine of Sodom (Dt. 32:32); and suggests the people were committing the same homosexual sins as practiced in Sodom and Gomorrah. Sodomites are mentioned for the first time in connection with the kingdom of Israel, in the reign of Rehoboam and his successors (1 Ki. 14:24; 15:12; 22:46; 2 Ki. 23:7), indicating that the sin of Sodom was practiced in Israel again after the land was cleansed of it in the days of the judges when Benjamin was almost totally destroyed (Judg. 19:1-21: 25). The law commanded that there be no sodomite in Israel (Dt. 23:17). Moral depravity was the condition of Judah and Jerusalem in general in the days of Isaiah (v 5-6, 10; 3:9). It became worse during the next 150 years until God could tolerate it no longer; so He completely destroyed the nation (Jer. 23:14; 49:18; 50:40; Lam. 4:6; Ezek. 16:48-56). Jerusalem is called Sodom in Rev. 11:8 suggesting prevalence of the sin again in the last days

(7) David appoints 3 chief choir leaders in the house of the Lord (v 33, 39, 44)

31 And [h]these are they whom Dā'vid set over the service of song in the house of the LORD, after that the ark had rest.
32 And they ministered before the dwelling place of the tabernacle of the congregation with singing, until Sŏl'o-mon had built the house of the LORD in Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm: and then they waited on their office according to their order.

A From Kohath - Heman, the first choir leader: his genealogy from Levi to David 33 And [d]these are they that waited with their children. Of the sons of the Kō'hath-ītes: Hē'man [b]a singer, the son of Jō'el, the son of [c]Shĕ-mū'el,

B From Gershom - Asaph, the second choir leader: his genealogy from Levi to David

C From Merari - Ethan, the third choir leader: his genealogy from Levi to David 44 And their brethren the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī stood on the left hand: [f]Ē'than the [g]son of Kish'ī the son of Ăb'dī, the son of Mäl'luch, 45 The son of Hăsh-a-bī'ah, the son of Ăm-a-zī'ah, the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, 46 The son of Ăm'zī, the son of Bā'nī, the son of Shā'mĕr,

(8) Services other than music in charge of other Levites

48 [h]Their brethren also the Lĕ'vites were [i]appointed unto all manner of service of the tabernacle of the house of God.

(9) High priests from Aaron to David and their services

49 ¶ But [j]Aär'on and his sons offered upon the altar of the burnt offering, and on the altar of incense, and were appointed for all the work of the place most holy, and to make an atonement for Ĭs'ra-el, according to all that Mō'sĕs the servant of God had commanded.
50 And these are the sons of Aär'on; Ĕ-le-ā'zar his son, Phĭn'e-has his son, Ā-bĭsh'u-ā his son, 51 Bŭk'kī his son, Ŭz'zī his son, Zĕr-a-hī'ah his son, 52 Mĕ-rā'ioth his son, Ăm-a-rī'ah his son, Ā-hī'tub his son, 53 Zā'dŏk his son, Ā-hĭm'a-ăz his son.

a Here we have Heman's genealogy - 21 generations from Heman back to Levi, the son of Jacob (v 33-38)
b Heman, the singer, was Samuel's grandson (15:17-19; 25:1-6; 1 Ki. 4:31)
c This was Samuel (v 28, 33)
d His brother of another branch of the tribe of Levi, not a brother of the same father and mother (v 39)
e Here we have 15 generations from Asaph back to Levi, the son of Jacob (v 39-43)
f Ethan is called Jeduthun (9:16; 16:41; 25:1; 2 Chr. 35:15). Ethan is used up to 15:19 and the new name, Jeduthun used after that. Ethan means firmness; and Jeduthun means one to give praise g Here we have 14 generations from Ethan back to Levi, the son of Jacob (v 44-47)
h Their - referring to the 3 choir leaders and musicians
i See kind of work in v 49
j Only the priests were allowed to do this work, not the kings or prophets unless they were of the tribe of Levi. Kings were never of this tribe, but sometimes a prophet would also be a Levite and hypocritical observance of them is nauseating to God (v 11) 2 I am full of burnt offerings of the fat of fed beasts - I have had enough and am now nauseated with them

3 I delight not in the blood of animals
4 I no longer require the fat and blood of animals when you come before Me (v 12)
5 Bring no more vain oblations (v 13)
6 Incense is an abomination to Me
7 Away with your new moons, sabbaths, and the religious convocations, for they are iniquity, even the solemn meetings
8 I hate your new moons and your regular feasts, for they are ever a source of trouble and hypocrisy to Me (v 14)
9 I am weary of all your rituals, your sacrifices of animals with their fat and blood, the vain oblations, incense burning, new moons, sabbaths, solemn meetings, feasts, spreading of hands to Me, and your many prayers, for your hands are full of blood and your lives are corrupt
10 When you spread your hands toward Me I will hide My eyes from you (v 15)
11 When you make many prayers I will close My ears to you
12 Your hands are full of blood
All this emphasizes the fact that religious rituals and the making of many prayers are worthless unless accompanied by an upright life

14 things God not able to endure (Isa. 1:4):

Heb. yakol, to be able. Here: I am not able to endure. Cp. Hos. 2:11; Amos 5:21-24. The 14 things referred to in Isa. 1 are:
1 Immoralities of Israel (v 10)
2 Multitudes of sacrifices offered in hypocrisy (v 11)
3 The fat of fed beasts
4 The blood of animals
5 Profanity of His courts (Heb. ramas, tread or profane My courts, v 12; Ezek. 26:11; 34:18; Dan. 8:7-10)
6 Vain oblations or gift offerings to secure favor with Him (v 13)
7 Incense burning
8 New-moon rituals
9 Sabbaths, weekly and otherwise
10 Calling of assemblies, even the solemn meetings (v 13)
11 Appointed yearly feasts (v 14)
12 Spreading forth the hands toward Him in prayer as if they were clean in His sight, when they are full of blood (v 15)
13 Making of many prayers
14 Hands that are full of blood
Such depraved condition as pictured above caused Jehovah finally to abandon the nation to destruction, to dispersion, from which they have not yet fully recovered. The final purging of Israel awaits the terrible tribulation judgments, during which time 2/3 of them will be destroyed and the other 1/3 face extermination before they will repent (Zech. 12:10-14:21)

25 Your talk is unprofitable (15:3)
26 You cast off fear and restrain prayer before God (15:4)
27 Your mouth utters iniquity (15:5)
28 You have a crafty tongue 6)
29 Your own mouth condemns you (15:
30 You talk as if you were the first man born and you were older than the hills (15:7)
31 You try to use wisdom to cover up (8:15)
32 There are many men older than your father (15:10)
33 You do not have any secret that is not known (15:11)
34 You wink at sin and turn your spirit against God (15:12-13)
35 The heavens are not even clean so how can you be? (15:14-15)
36 You drink up iniquity like water (15:16)
37 You must be wicked or you would not be suffering the judgments of the wicked (15:20-35)
38 There is no end to your words of justification of yourself (18:2)

54 ¶ Now these are their dwelling places throughout their castles in their coasts, of the sons of Aâr'on, of the families of the Kō'hath-ites: for theirs was the lot.

CHAPTER 7 345

22 Generations of Issachar, son of Jacob. (1) First branch: 22,600 men of war

NOW the [c]sons of [d]Is'sa-char were, Tō'lă, and Pū'ah, Jăsh'ŭb, and Shĭm'rŏm, four.

2 And the sons of Tō'lă; Ŭz'zī, and Rĕph-a-ī'ah, and Jē'rĭ-el, and Jăh'ma-ī, and Jĭb'sam, and a To the remaining Gershomites cities were given in east Manasseh, in Issachar, Asher, and Naphtali (v 71-76)

b To the remaining Merarites cities were given in Zebulun, and on the east of Jordan in Reuben and Gad (v 77-81)

c Here we have a list of the sons of Issachar in 5 verses (v 1-5)

d Issachar, reward. This son of Jacob is mentioned 41 times in Scripture (2:1; 6:62, 72; 7:1, 5; 12:32, 40; 27:18; Gen. 30:18; 35:23; 46:13; 49:14; Ex. 1:3; Num. 1:8, 28-29; 2:5; 7:18; 10:15; 13:7; 26:23-25; 34:26; Dt. 27:12; 33:18; Josh. 17:10-11; 19:17, 23; 21:6, 28; Judg. 5:15; 10:11; 1 Ki. 4:17; 15:27; 2 Chr. 30:18; Ezek. 48:25-33; Rev. 7:7)

2 Issachar's

1 The son of Jacob (see above scriptures)

39 You count your friends as beasts and vile in your sight when we are trying to help you (18:3)
40 Since you are suffering the doom of the wicked you must be wicked (18:5-21)
41 The triumph of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite is but for a moment, so you must be both because of your sufferings (20:5-29)
42 You think that your claim to righteousness and perfection will profit God (22:3)
43 Your wickedness is great (22:5)
44 Your iniquities are infinite
45 You have taken a pledge from your brother, and stripped the naked of his clothing (22:6)
46 You have held drink from the thirsty (22:7)
47 You have kept food from the hungry
48 You have sent widows away empty (22:9)
49 You have broken the arms of the fatherless 10)
50 Because of all this, you suffer (22:
51 You have sought to hide your sins from God (22:13)
52 You have not taken a lesson from the ways of the wicked or been warned at their end (22:15-16)
53 If you would return to God, pray, and receive His words, good would come to you (22:21-23)
54 If you put away iniquity you will be built up (22:23)
55 You claim to be clean, but you are not, for even the stars are not pure in God's sight (25:4-6)
56 I have heard you say that you are without sin, you are innocent, and there is no iniquity in you (33:9)
57 You have said that God counts you as an enemy, but it is you that strives against Him (33:10-13)
58 God has sought to hide pride from you, but you would not listen, so this has come upon you (33:14-28)
59 You have said: I am righteous; and God has taken away my judgment (34:5)
60 You drink up scorning like water (34:7)
61 You keep company with workers of iniquity and walk with the wicked (34:8)
62 You have said that it does not profit to delight in God (34:9)
63 You have spoken without knowledge
64 Your words are without wisdom (34:35)
65 You have answered for wicked men (34:36)
66 You add rebellion to sin (34:37)
67 You clap your hands among us and multiply words against God
68 You have claimed your righteousness to be more than God's (35:2)
69 You have argued against cleansing yourself of sin (35:3)
70 You are wicked (35:8)
71 You multiply words without knowledge (35:16)
72 God's dealings with the wicked prove that you are wicked (36:17)

a This is proof that Chronicles was written after the days of David (v 2) b This shows that polygamy was a common thing in Israel (v 4). Solomon was the greatest polygamist of all, having 700 wives and 300 concubines (1 Kl. 11:3) c Here we have a list of the sons of Benjamin in 7 verses (v 6-12)
d Benjamin, son of my right hand (Gen. 35:16, 24). He is mentioned 156 times in Scripture (2:2; 6:60,65; 7:6; 8:1, 40; 9:3, 7; 11:31; 12:2, 16, 29; 21:6; 27:21; Judg. 20:3-48; 21:1-23; Rev. 7:8, etc.)

5 Benjamin's in Scripture:

1 Son of Jacob (see above scriptures)
2 Son of Bilhan (7:10)
3 A returned exile (Ezra 10:32)
4 Another exile (Neh. 3:23)
5 A third returned exile (Neh. 12:34)

e In Gen. 46:21 there were 10 sons. When Chronicles was written only 3 of the 10 were counted here, and 5 sons in 8:1-2, the others being deceased no doubt. Even in Num. 26:38 only 5 sons are mentioned, and we have no record of what really happened to the others. They could have died in Egypt before the exodus. Regarding the 3 sons here, it could be that these were the heads of the 3 greatest branches of the Benjaminites and the only ones worthy of mention in this partial genealogy
f Here we have a list of the sons of Naphtali in a single verse (v 13)
g Naphtali, obtained by wrestling (Gen. 30:8). He is mentioned 49 times in Scripture (2:2; 6:62, 76; 7:13; 12:34, 40; 27:19; Gen. 30:8; 35:25; 46:24; 49:21; Ex. 1:4; Num. 1:15, 42-43; 2:29; 7:78; 10:27; 13:14; 26:48-50; 34:28; Dt. 27:18; 33:23; 34:2; Josh. 19:32-39; 20:7; 21:6, 32; Judg. 1:33; 4:6-10; 5:18; 6:35; 7:23; 1 Kl. 4:15; 7:14; 15:20; 2 Kl. 15:29; 2 Chr. 16:4; 34:6; Ps. 68:27; Isa. 9:1; Ezek. 48:3-4, 34). Called Naphthalim (Rev. 7:6)

60 facts and statements - Job's suffering (Job 2:7):

2 Job was in such misery that he cursed the day he was born (3:1-13, 20)
3 Bitter in soul (3:20; 7:11; 10:1)
4 Longing for death (3:21-23; 7:15)
5 Sighing and roarings are poured out like waters (3:24)
6 My grief and my calamity are heavier than the sands of the sea (6:1-3)
7 The poison drinks up my spirit (6:4)
8 I long for God to destroy and cut me off (6:8-9)

24 I am afraid of all my sorrows (9:28)
25 My soul is weary of life (11:1)
26 My neighbors mock and scorn me (12:4)
27 I take my flesh in my teeth (13:14)
28 I cannot hold my tongue from crying out in pain (13:19)

a After giving the partial genealogies of most of the tribes of Israel (the tribe of Dan not listed), the writer gives a long list of the sons of Benjamin, leading up to the family of Saul, which is given in 40 verses (8:1-40). The date of writing was post-exilic (v 28; 9:3, 27) and this compares with Ezra 2 and 4, and Neh. 7:1-73; 10:1-11:7, 31; 12:34, which show that Benjamin and other tribes were restored after the Babylonian captivity

50 lessons to learn from book of Job (Job 2:5)

1 Satan is the author of sickness and disease (2:7; Acts 10:38)
2 He causes calamities to come upon men (1:6-22; Rev. 12:9)
3 Satan is the accuser of the righteous (1:6-12; 2:1-8; Rev. 12:10)
4 He is permitted to go only so far in testing God's people (1:12; 2:6; 1 Cor. 10:12-13; 1 Pet. 5:8-9)
5 God does permit Satan to test His own people (1:6-12; 2:1-8; Lk. 22:31-34; 1 Pet. 5:8-9)
6 Satan has access to God's throne (1:6-12; 2:1-8; Rev. 12:10)
7 Satan has many helpers in disguise (1:6-22; 2 Cor. 11:13-14; Rev. 12:7-12)
8 God will not utterly forsake the righteous in times of trial (42:1-17; Ps. 34:6; 37:23-24; 2 Cor. 4:8-12; 6:5-10; Jas. 5:10-11)
9 God is the deliverer of His people in sickness and trouble (ch. 42; Jas. 5:10-11; Acts 10:38; Jn. 10:10; 1 Cor. 10:12-13)
10 God always delivers those whom Satan is permitted to attack for the purpose of testing (ch. 42; Jas. 5:10-11; Ps. 91:1-12; 103:1-4)
11 He uses troubles to purify and refine men as a father would use any trouble befalling his son, in an effort to make him a better man (33:14-30)
12 God is not the cause of trouble any more than a wise and righteous earthly parent, but since men are attacked by Satan He works things out to their best good when they turn to Him for help and deliverance (ch. 42; Ps. 34:6-19; 37:1-10; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:5-8)
13 God is not to be judged concerning His acts (2:10; 1 Cor. 13:12-13)
14 Men must learn that co-operating with God is His method of deliverance (33:14-30; Jas. 4:7; 5:10-16; 1 Pet. 5:8-9; Acts 10:38)
15 God is greater than all; and He can and will deliver from any power that afflicts His people (ch. 42; Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38; Lk. 13:14; Ps. 103:1-4)
16 Man in himself is frail and helpless to defeat Satan (1:6-22; 2:6-10; Eph. 6:10-18; 2 Cor. 10:4-7; Jas. 4:7; 1 Pet. 5:8-9; Rev. 12:10-11)
17 Man should have faith and depend upon God before he gets into trouble (Ps. 91; 2 Cor. 10:4-7; Eph. 6:10-18; Jas. 4:7; 1 Pet. 5:8-9)
18 Sickness is not always experienced because of some personal sin (1:1-12; 2:1-10; Jn. 9:1-3; Jas. 5:14-16)
19 Man's friends are always ready to criticize, find fault and interpret divine providence wrongly in time of sickness or calamity (4:1-37:24)
20 Attacks from Satan are part of the lot of the saints of God (1:1-12; Eph. 6:10-18; Jn. 10:10; Jas. 4:7; 1 Pet. 5:8-9)
21 Men must learn patience while trusting in God (Rom. 5:1-11; Jas. 5:10-11)
22 Men must learn to give thanks to God in trouble (1:21; Phil. 4:6)
23 Men under trial generally accuse God falsely of being responsible for the trouble (42:3)
24 Satan causes men to accuse God and blame Him for his (the devil's) own works (Rev. 12:10)

30 Sum: Israel's genealogies

[d]SO all Ĭs'ra-el were reckoned by genealogies; and, bea Here we have another act proving that Benjamin adhered to the worship of the true God and remained loyal to Judah (v 28)

b Another name for Ish-bosheth (2 Sam. 2-8) c Another name for Mephi-bosheth d All Israel, except Dan and certain portions of some of the other tribes. This simply means that all the genealogies of Israel were recorded in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah - records which are not our Bible books. These genealogies are merely partial - taken from the other book that we do not have now

25 It is God's purpose and will to test men through the attacks of Satan (1 Cor. 10:12-13)
26 God seeks to obtain glory by men remaining true to Him, and by delivering them from the works of the devil (Jn. 10:10)
27 Under testing it is only natural to defend one's self, as Job did (42:1-6)
28 It does not pay to criticize anyone in trouble, God and sometimes man will make critics humble themselves before the ones they have talked about (42:7-9)
29 It does not pay to find fault with God (42:1-6; Gal. 6:7-8)
30 Men must learn to trust God in sickness and calamity (42:1-10; Jas. 5:10-11)
31 God does not always reveal Himself the very moment we pray, but He will answer men who have faith (40:1-6; 42:1-6; Lk. 18:1-8)
32 It does not pay to argue in defense of one's self in time of trouble (40:1-6; Ps. 37:1-9; 1 Pet. 4:12-19)
33 The godly are always vindicated in the end, and right always prevails in time (42:1-17; Heb. 10:30-36; 1 Pet. 4:12-19)
34 Even the best of men are weak and discouraged at times (ch. 3)
35 We should seek to help and encourage men in trouble instead of condemning them (13:1-4; 16:1-6; 19:3; 21:5; Mt. 7:1-5; Gal. 6:7-8)
36 Riches and honor are insecure (29:1-30:31)
37 Satan is the adversary of God's people (1:1-22; 2:1-12; Rev. 12:10)
38 Trials and sickness should not cause men to backslide (1:1-22; 2:1-12; 1 Cor. 10:12-13; Jas. 5:10-11; 1 Pet. 4:12-19)
39 Bodily sickness need not affect the status of the soul (2:1-12)
40 One should not permit wife or husband to cause discouragement and backsliding (2:1-12; 1 Cor. 7:15-17)
41 Satan is sometimes given permission by God to cause storms (1:6-22)
42 Do not give your own theories when trying to help others; give what the Bible says and seek to be led of the Holy Spirit in such cases (42:7-9; 2 Tim. 3:15-17; 4:1-5)
43 Instead of nagging at them continually, as Job's friends did, let God deal with people who sin (42:7-9; Gal. 6:7-8)
44 Seek God when in trouble; and do not blame or criticize Him as the source of the trouble (13:15; Jas. 5:10-11)
45 God's grace sustains us in the greatest of calamities (19:25-26; 42:1-17; 2 Cor. 12:1-12; Heb. 11; Jas. 5:10-11)
46 Counsellors are not always right (42:1-9)
47 All the suffering that can be heaped upon a man is not enough to satisfy self-righteous hypocrites or make them sympathetic with him (42:7-9; Acts 7:54-60)
48 God takes account of all criticism against His people (42:7-9; Mt. 12:37)
49 Troubles are no proof of a man's wickedness (1:1-22; 2:1-12; 42:1-6)
50 God is very compassionate and of tender mercy toward those who are in need (Ps. 103:1-19; Rom. 8:32; Jas. 5:10-11)

a A book which we do not have now, but which no doubt contained a complete record of the genealogies of Israel from which the author of Chronicles took only a part to serve his purposes of identifying certain key men in the history of the nation and giving their background, so that something could be known of the coming Messiah's ancestors b Again, we have proof that this book was written after the Babylonian captivity c The first inhabitants of the return from Babylon under Zerubbabel, Joshua, Nehemiah, and Ezra (v 2) d The returning exiles were called Israelites as before the captivity, for they were the same people of all the tribes of Israel (v 2) e The Nethinims were the temple servants taken from the people of one in 50 to assist the Levites (v 2; Ezra 2:43,58, 70; 7:7,24; 8:17-20; Neh. 3:26,31; 7:46, 60, 73; 10:28; 11:3, 21)
f The children of Ephraim and Manasseh were representative of 10 tribes, for the northern 10-tribe kingdom was often called Ephraim. This proves that many of the whole 13 tribes of Israel returned to make the new nation after the Babylonian captivity, and not just Judah and Benjamin (v 3). It also proves that Israelites from the other tribes besides Judah and Benjamin were included in the people known as the Jews. Cp. Ezra 6:21; Neh. 10:28-29; note a, Acts 13:16
g Here we have several priests who were mentioned in previous books (v 10-13)
h This was the high priest who was considered the ruler of the temple. The heads of the priests were 1,760 so there must have been many more than this who returned from captivity

10 demands of sinners by God (Isa. 1:16):

1 Wash yourself (v 16)
2 Make yourself clean
3 You put away your own evil doings
4 You cease to do evil
5 You learn to do well (v 17)
6 You seek judgment
7 You relieve the oppressed
8 You judge the fatherless
9 You plead for the widow
10 You come now, let us reason together (v 18)

Note that in each of the requirements man has something to do. There was no difference in the way of O. T. salvation from that of the N. T. These statements simply mean that the individual must clean up his life and be willing to consecrate fully to put away all sin and do the will of God from the heart. When he does this he will meet God's other requirements of salvation-he will repent, confess sins, and believe the gospel in his heart; then God will do His part of forgiving and making him a new creature in Christ (Mk. 1:15; 16:15; Jn. 3:16; Rom. 10: 9-10; 2 Cor. 5:17-21; Eph. 2:8-9; 1 Jn. 1:7-9). Man does not nor cannot wash himself in the blood of Christ. This is done by the Spirit of God through faith (1 Cor. 6:11; 8:1-13; Col. 2: 11-13; Rev. 1:5; 5:8-10). There is a washing of water by the Word which the sinner must apply to himself, to be born again (Jn. 3:3, 5; 15:3; 17:17; Eph. 5:26; Jas. 1:18; 1 Pet. 1:23). As a person reads and applies the Word of God to his life and conforms to its teaching, he washes himself making himself clean. The washing of this passage (v 16-18) primarily concerns ceremonial washing after one has been cleansed

10fold state of Jerusalem (Isa. 1:21):

1 Jerusalem, like an unfaithful wife, has become an harlot (v 21)
2 It has become the den of murderers instead of a center of righteousness and justice
3 Its silver is become dross, having lost its pureness (v 22)
4 Its wine is mixed with water (an idiom meaning adulteration of wines, which to the Hebrews meant the wine was made stronger and more intoxicating by the addition of more powerful ingredients, as hold, they were written in [a]the book of the kings of Is'ra-el and Ju'dah, who were carried away to Bab'y-lon for their transgression.

II Genealogies of Israel after the Babylonian captivity:

1 Remnant of various tribes return to Jerusalem

2 ¶ Now the [c]first inhabitants that dwelt in their possessions in their cities were, [d]the Is'ra-elites, the priests, Le'vites, and the [e]Neth'i-nims.

3 And in Je-ru'sa-lem dwelt of the children of Ju'dah, and of the children of Ben'ja-min, and of the [f]children of E'phra-im, and Ma-nas'seh;

2 Of Judah: 690 men among the first captives to return

4 U'tha-i the son of Am-mi'hud, the son of Om'ri, the son of Im'ri, the son of Ba'ni, of the children of Pha'rez the son of Ju'dah.

5 And of the Shi'lo-nites; A-sa-i'ah the firstborn, and his sons.

6 And of the sons of Ze'rah; Je-u'el, and their brethren, six hundred and ninety.

3 Of Benjamin: 956 men among the first captives to return

7 And of the sons of Ben'ja-min; Sal'lu the son of Me-shul'lam, the son of Hod-a-vi'ah, the son of Has-e-nu'ah,

8 And Ib-ne'iah the son of Jer'o-ham, and E'lah the son of Uz'zi, the son of Mich'ri, and Me-shul'lam the son of Sheph-a-thi'ah, the son of Re-u'el, the son of Ib-ni'jah;

9 And their brethren, according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty and six. All these men were chief of the fathers in the house of their fathers.

4 First priests to return from Babylon

10 ¶ And of the priests; Je-da'iah, and Je-hoi'a-rib, and Ja'chin, 11 And [g]Az-a-ri'ah the son of Hil-ki'ah, the son of Me-shul'lam, the son of Za'dok, the son of Me-ra'ioth, the son of A-hi'tub, the [h]ruler of the house of God;

12 And Ad-a-i'ah the son of Jer'o-ham, the son of Pash'ur, the son of Mal-chi'jah, and Ma-as'i-ai the son of A'di-el, the son of Jah'ze-rah, the son of Me-shul'lam, the son of Me-shil'le-mith, the son of Im'mer;

13 And their brethren, heads of the house of their fathers, a thousand and seven hundred and threescore; very able men for the work of the service of the house of God.

5 First Levites to return from Babylon

14 And of the Le'vites; Shem-a-i'ah the son of Has'shub, the son of Hash-a-bi'ah, of the sons of Me-ra'ri;

15 And Bak-bak'kar, He'resh, and Ga'lal, and Mat-ta-ni'ah the son of Mi'cah, the son of Zich'ri, the son of A'saph;

16 And O-ba-di'ah the son of Shem-a-i'ah, the son of Ga'lal, the son of Jed'u-thun, and Ber-e-chi'ah the son of A'sa, the son of El'ka-nah, that dwelt in the villages of the Ne-toph'a-thites.

17 And the porters were, Shal'lum, and Ak'kub, and Tal'mon, and A-hi'man, and their brethren: Shal'lum was the chief;

18 Who hitherto waited in the king's gate eastward: they were [e]porters in the companies of the children of Le'vi.

19 And Shal'lum the son of Ko're, the son of E-bi'a-saph, the son of Ko'rah, and his brethren, of the house of his father, the Ko'rah-ites, were over the work of the service, keepers of the gates of the tabernacle: and their fathers, being over the host of the LORD, were keepers of the entry.

20 And Phin'e-has the son of E-le-a'zar was the ruler over them in time past, and the LORD was with him.

21 And Zech-a-ri'ah the son of Me-shel-e-mi'ah was porter of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 All these which were chosen to be porters in the gates were two hundred and twelve. These were reckoned by their genealogy in their villages, whom Da'vid [b]and Sam'u-el the seer did ordain in their set office.

23 So they and their children had the oversight of the gates of the house of the LORD, namely, the house of the tabernacle, by wards.

24 In four quarters were the porters, toward the east, west, north, and south.

25 And their brethren, which were [c]in their villages, were to come after seven days from time to time with them.

6 Four chief Levites and their duties

26 [d]For these Le'vites, the four chief porters, were in their set office, and were over the chambers and treasuries of the house of God.

27 ¶ And they lodged round about the house of God, because the charge was upon them, and the opening thereof every morning pertained to them.

28 And certain of them had the charge of the ministering vessels, that they should bring them in and out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed to oversee the vessels, and all the instruments of the sanctuary, and the fine flour, and the wine, and the oil, and the frankincense, and the spices.

30 And some of the sons of the priests made the ointment of the spices.

a These were gatekeepers
b Here we have proof that Samuel and David counselled together and received revelations of the coming temple and worship. Such things were thus planned during the lifetime of Saul when David was driven from Saul's court as a fugitive and an outlaw (v 22) c Like the singers, the porters and other servants of the temple lived in villages round about Jerusalem (v 25). The 4 chief porters were regular in service and dwelled near the house of God so as to be close to their work (v 26)
d In these verses we have some of the duties of the Levites mentioned (v 28-32)

spices, myrrh and opiates (5:22; 60:17; Ps. 76:8; Pr. 23:30; Song 8:2) 5 Her princes are rebellious, are themselves lawless and unruly (v 23)
6 They are companions of thieves and tolerate robber bands for reward or part of the spoil
7 They love gifts, so cater to the rich for material gain
8 They mete out justice by deciding in favor of those who can give them rewards
9 They do not give justice to the orphans and those in need
10 They do not mete out justice to the widows that come before them

10fold case against Judah (Isa. 1:2):

1 Rebellion (v 2; 30:1; 31:1; Rom. 10-11)
2 Ignorance (v 3; Rom. 10:1)
3 7 sins (v 4; See Israel in Index)
4 3fold moral state (v 5-6; Rom. 1)
5 Ruin and weakness (v 7-8; Acts 15: 16) 11:5)
6 A remnant only saved (v 9; Rom. 9
7 12fold hypocrisy (v 10-15; Mt. 23)
8 God's 10 demands (v 16-18)
9 Conditional blessings (v 19-20)
10 10fold state and cause (v 21-23)

2 natural things (Isa. 1:3):

1 The ox knows its owner
2 The ass knows his mater's crib

Israel is here compared to the most stupid of beasts who are yet not as insensible as God's own people. Jeremiah and Hosea also made comparisons of Israel to lower animals (Jer. 8:7; Hos. 11:4)

2 unnatural things (Isa. 1:3):

1 Israel does not know
2 My people do not consider

Human beings are worse than dumb animals in comparison. Though animals have very little intelligence they rightly use all of it. Free moral agents have much intelligence but we cannot say the same about them. Ignorance was wilful on Israel's part and it became the root of all their troubles (Mt. 13:14-15; 21:42-45; 23:1-33; Rom. 10:2)

7fold sinfulness of Israel (Isa. 1:4):

1 Sinful-degenerate; depraved by nature; naturally bent in the wrong direction morally (v 4; see Eph. 2:1-3)
2 Laden with iniquity, Heb. avon, perverseness; wrung out of course; crooked (v 4; see Mt. 23:4)
3 Seed of evil doers-born sinful of sinful parents (v 4; Ps. 51:5; Eph. 2:1-3)
4 Corrupters-going into deeper depravity and corruption (v 4; Dt. 32:5; Ps. 14; Mt. 3:8; Jer. 6:25)
5 Forsake God-backslide; pull back like a backsliding heifer (v 4; Hos. 4:16; 11:7). See Backsliding in Index
6 Provoked God to anger; by scorn; and blasphemy (v 4)
7 Gone away backward-becoming apostates; turning their backs on God instead of their faces (v 4; Heb. 4:4-9; 10:26-29)

This is a very vivid picture of the state of Israel at this time of her backslidden and apostate life and conduct. This condition did not improve in spite of the ministry of many prophets and the demonstration of many miraculous acts of God in behalf of the nation. It rather grew worse until there was no remedy. God finally had to abandon the nation to total destruction and captivity (2 Ki. 24)

m Another example of referring to God as doing something, when in reality certain agents of His actually did it for Him (v 14) n Then - when they saw that Saul was dead, and the other tribes beside Judah had no king, all Israel gathered together to make David king and thereby unite the nation again under him (v 1-3; 2 Sam. 5:1-5). The people finally began to realize that David was God's man for the kingdom. By this time he had reigned over Judah in Hebron for 7 1/2 years

14 That You should try him every moment?
15 How long will You not depart from me?
16 How long will You not let me alone to swallow down my spittle? (v 19)
17 I have sinned; what shall I do to You, O preserver of men? (v 20) 18 Why have You set me as a mark against You, so that I am a burden to myself?
19 Why do You not pardon my transgression? (v 20) 20 Why do You not take away my iniquity?

III Saul's genealogy and death leading up to the story of David (9:35-10:14).

1 Saul's genealogy (8:33-40)

35 ¶ [b]And in Gĭb'e-on dwelt the father of Gĭb'e-on, Jĕ-hī'el, whose wife's name was Mā'a-chah:
36 And his firstborn son Ăb'dŏn, then Zûr, and Kĭsh, and Bā'al, and Nēr, and Nā'dăb, 37 And Gĕ'dôr, and Ā-hī'ō, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah, and Mĭk'loth.
38 And Mĭk'loth begat Shĭm'e-ăm. And they also dwelt with their brethren at Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, over against their brethren.
39 And Nēr begat Kĭsh; and Kĭsh begat Saul; and Saul begat Jŏn'a-than, and Măl'chi-shū'ă, and Ā-bĭn'a-dăb, and Esh-bā'al.
40 And the son of Jŏn'a-than was Mĕr'ib-bā'al: and Mĕr'ib-bā'al begat Mī'cah.
41 And the sons of Mī'cah were, Pī'thon, and Mē'lech, and Tăh're-ă, and Ā'hăz.
42 And Ā'hăz begat Jā'rah; and Jā'rah begat Ăl'e-mĕth, and Ăz'ma-vĕth, and Zĭm'rī; and Zĭm'rī begat Mō'ză;
43 And Mō'ză begat Bĭn'e-ă; and Rĕph-a-ī'ah his son, Ē-lē'a-sah his son, Ă'zĕl his son.
44 And Ă'zĕl had six sons, whose names are these, Ăz'rĭ-kăm, Bŏch'e-rū, and Ish'ma-el, and Shĕ-a-rī'ah, and Ō-ba-dī'ah, and Hā'nan: these were the sons of Ă'zĕl.

348 CHAPTER 10

2 Defeat of Israel and death of Saul and Jonathan (1 Sam. 31:1-7)

NOW the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes fought against Is'ra-el; and the men of Is'ra-el fled from before the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and fell down slain in mount Gĭl-bō'ă.
2 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes followed hard after Saul, and after his sons; and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [c]slew Jŏn'a-than, and Ă-bĭn'a-dăb, and Măl'chi-shū'ă, the sons of Saul.
3 And the battle went sore against Saul, and the [d]archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.
4 Then said Saul to his armourbearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through therewith; lest these uncircumcised come and [e]abuse me. But his armourbearer would not; for he was sore afraid. So Saul took a sword, and [f]fell upon it.
5 And when his armourbearer saw that Saul was dead, [g]he fell likewise on the sword, and died.
6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and all his house died together.
7 And when [d]all the men of Is'ra-el that were in the valley saw that they fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, then they forsook their [e]cities, and fled: and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came and dwelt in them.

3 Indignities to Saul (1 Sam. 31:8-10)

8 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, when the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came to strip the slain, that they found Saul and his sons fallen [h]in mount Gĭl-bō'ă.
9 And when they had stripped him, they [i]took his head, and his armour, and sent into the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes round about, to carry tidings unto their idols, and to the people.
10 And they put his armour in the house of their [h]gods, and fastened his head in the temple of Dā'gon.

4 Rescue of Saul's body (1 Sam. 31:11-13)

11 ¶ And when all [j]Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd heard all that the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had done to Saul, 12 They arose, all the valiant men, and took away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jā'besh, and [j]buried their bones under the oak in Jā'besh, and fasted seven days.

5 Saul's unpardonable sin (1 Sam. 28:1-25)

13 ¶ So Saul died [k]for his transgression which he committed against the LORD, even against the word of the LORD, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had [l]familiar spirit, to enquire of it;
14 And enquired not of the LORD: [m]therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdom unto Dā'vid the son of Jĕs'se.

349 CHAPTER 11

IV Reign of David: 40 years (11:1-29:30). 1 David made king of all Israel (11:1-12:40; 2 Sam. 2:1-5:25)

THEN all Is'ra-el gathered themselves to Dā'vid unto Hē'bron, [o]saying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh.
*2 And moreover in time past, even when Saul was king, thou wast [p]he that leddest out and broughtest in Is'ra-el: [q]and the LORD thy God said unto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Is'ra-el, and thou shalt be ruler a Insult, or mock (v 4). Saul, being sore wounded, requested his armour-bearer to finish killing him, so that he would not fall into the hands of his enemies who, he knew, would make sport of him and give him a slow and terrible death. The young man was afraid to kill his king, so Saul took a sword and committed suicide (v 4; 1 Chr. 10:4-5) b Here we have the event of Saul's death. In v 13-14 we have the cause of his death

c This was a foolish thing to do, but it seems it was considered an honor by some men in those days, to die with their master d All his men, that is, all who were the personal bodyguards of Saul. The most of the army fled at the very beginning of the battle and many escaped, among them Abner (v 7; 2 Sam. 1:4; 2:8-11)
e How many cities were forsaken is not stated, but it appears that all of them on the west of Jordan in this particular battle section became Philistine cities for a time, 10 or 12 years perhaps (see 2 Sam. 4-8). When David became king over all Israel these cities were retaken and the kingdom of Israel for the first time became truly great; it extended to the river of Egypt and the gulf of Akabah, and north to the Euphrates, taking in all of Philistia, Amalek, Edom, Moab, Syria, and other countries f 12 main results of the battle of Gilboa:
1 The men of Israel fled (v 1, 7)
2 Many fell down slain in mount Gilboa sons (v 2)
3 Philistines chased Saul and his 4 The battle went sore against Saul (v 3) sore wounded
5 The archers hit him and he was
6 Saul and his armour-bearer committed suicide (v 4-5)
7 Besides Saul and his armour-bearer, his 3 sons, and all his bodyguards died (v 6)
8 Many Israelites fled from their own cities west of the Jordan and settled on the east of the river (v 7)
9 Philistines came and occupied the forsaken cities of Israel
10 Philistines stripped the slain, found Saul and his sons, cut off the head of Saul and sent it and his armour as trophies of war to the temple of their gods in Philistia (v 8-10)
11 They put his armour in the house of Ashtaroth (v 10 with 1 Sam. 31:10)
12 They took the bodies of Saul and his sons and fastened them to the wall of the city of Beth-shan, which became a Philistine city in the Jordan valley
g It was customary to take the heads of conquered kings and make sport with them in the houses of the gods and in the cities of their own people. Victories were great times of celebration (v 8-10). Taking his head is something additional to 1 Sam. 31:9-10, and his body as referred to there is something additional to this passage. This shows that the 2 books are independent and complimentary. See note k, 1 Sam. 31:9
h In 1 Sam. 31:10 it says "they put his armour in the house of Ashtaroth." This was the female counterpart of Baal. Her temple was in Ashkelon where she was worshipped under the name of Astargatis, as a woman with the tail of a fish. Accordingly, fish were sacred to her elsewhere the dove was her sacred symbol (v 10)
i These people were the first to be helped by Saul in the beginning of his reign, so they naturally felt they owed him a debt of gratitude (v 11)
j Buried them after they had burned them (v 12; 1 Sam. 31:12). Hebrews did not ordinarily burn the bodies of their dead, but the people in this case found it the only convenient thing to do in the midst of enemies. They did the burning at night (1 Sam. 31:12), then buried the bones under a tree at Jabesh, the city Saul had delivered when all the men were threatened with bodily mutilation (v 11-12)
k 2 reasons for Saul's death:
1 Because of the transgression committed against the Lord in breaking the commandment of Jehovah (v 13; 1 Sam. 13:8-14; 15:1-23)
2 Because he sought not to Jehovah, but to a witch who had a familiar spirit - to inquire of it (v 13-14; 1 Sam. 28:7-25)

a Indicating there were established, authorized elders of Israel - men who were perhaps chosen, as in the past, on the basis of greatness, wealth, and power in the nation (v 3)
b 3 things the elders did:
1 Made an appeal to David (v 1-2)
2 Made a league with him (v 3). This covenant likely defined his royal power and recognized the general constitution of the nation
3 Anointed him king over Israel
c 3 things about David and his kingdom:
1 His anointing (v 3)
2 His new capital (v 4-9)
3 His captains (v 10-47)
d 1 Sam. 13:14-15; 15:28; 16:1-13
e David and his men thought it would be best to move the capital of all Israel to another place more centrally located, or at least more so than Hebron. God had chosen Jerusalem as an eternal city in His plan, so now led them according to His will in the fulfillment of this plan to that city. Jerusalem had long been a stronghold of the Jebusites who had controlled it ever since the conquest of Canaan, except for a short time when it was in the hands of Judah (Josh. 10:1-5, 23; 15:63; Judg. 1:8). See note f, Josh. 10:1
f See note p, 2 Sam. 5:6
g Zion is found 152 times in Scripture and only in the O. T., the word being Sion in the N. T. This stronghold was one of the 5 heights on which Jerusalem was built - Akra, Bezetha, Moriah, Ophel, and Zion. Some consider Ophel and Zion to be the same. Zion and the city of David are the same (v 5; 2 Chr. 5:2). The word came to be used of Jerusalem and Israel in general. The church and Christians are never called Zion h The city of David is found 40 times in the O. T. Used of Zion 5 times (v 5, 7; 1 Ki. 8:1; 1 Chr. 11:5; 2 Chr. 5:2)
i This is the only place explaining how Joab got to be captain, and who took Jerusalem for David (v 6)
j Millo. It was some kind of fortification of Jerusalem (v 8; 1 Ki. 9:15, 24; 11:27; 2 Ki. 12:20; 2 Chr. 32:5). Not the Millo of Judg. 9:6, 20

l 52 mighty men of David (v 10-47):
1 Joshobeam (Adino, v 10; 2 Sam. 23:8)
2 Eleazar (v 12; 2 Sam. 23:9)
3 Abishai (v 20; 2 Sam. 23:18)
4 Benaiah (v 22; 2 Sam. 23:20)
5-52 Others numbering 48 (v 26-47)
In 2 Sam. 23:8-39 only 37 mighty men are listed as at the end of David's reign; whereas this list gives 52 for the beginning of his rule. Evidently 15 of them died during the reign and were therefore not counted with the 37 at the close of David's rule m Heb. gibbor, trans. mighty 128 times of giants (Gen. 6:4), of ordinary mighty men of war (2 Sam. 23:8-9, 16-17, 22), of princes (Ezra 7:28), of kings (Dan. 11:3); of Christ (Isa. 69:6), and of God (Jer. 32:18). It is also trans. strong man (1 Sam. 14:25); champion (a giant, 1 Sam. 17:51); upright man (2 Sam. 22:26); valiant men (1 Chr. 7:2); very able men (9:13); chief porters (9:26); mighties (v 12, 24); mighty (27:6); men of war (2 Chr. 13:3); like a giant (Job 16:14); strongest among beasts (Pr. 30:30)
n See note h, 2 Sam. 23:9
o The mightiest deed won for a man the chiefest place among the mighty men of David. It seems here that the slaying of 300 enemy soldiers at one time was considered the greatest feat of all (v 11); but in 2 Sam. 23:8 it reads 800 men, which is no doubt the correct rendering, for Abishai slew 300 men (v 18), and he was not as great as this man. If both killed 300 they would be equal, so there must have been a mistake in copying v 11. This is understandable, for some of the old MSS. became marred through use, and copyists were thereby faced with a difficulty. The fault would not be with the original as inspired by God. All mistakes are from copyists or marred MSS. and not from God giving two different statements in His inspired records p It seems the chief men were numbered in sets of 30, perhaps being leaders of various divisions of the army (v 15, 25; 2 Sam. 23:13, 23-24, 39). See notes on the army divisions in 27:1-24

over my people Is'ra-el.
3 Therefore came all [a]the elders of Is'ra-el to the king to He'bron; and Da'vid [b]made a covenant with them in He'bron before the LORD; and [c]they anointed Da'vid king over Is'ra-el, [d]according to the word of the LORD by Sam'u-el.

Jerusalem made the capital of the united kingdom (2 Sam. 5:6-12)

4 ¶ [e]And Da'vid and all Is'ra-el went to Je-ru'sa-lem, which is Je'bus; where the Jeb'u-sites were, the inhabitants of the land.
5 And the inhabitants of Je'bus said to Da'vid, [f]Thou shalt not come hither. Nevertheless Da'vid took the castle [g]of Zi'on, which is the [h]city of Da'vid.
6 And Da'vid said, Whosoever smiteth the Jeb'u-sites first shall be chief and captain. So [i]Jo'ab the son of Zer-u-i'ah went first up, and was chief.
7 And Da'vid dwelt in the castle; therefore they called it the city of Da'vid.
8 And he built the city round about, even from [j]Mil'lo round about: and Jo'ab repaired the rest of the city.
9 So Da'vid waxed greater and greater: for the LORD of hosts was [k]with him.

David's mighty men (2 Sam. 23). (1) Jashobeam (Adino, 2 Sam. 23:8)

10 ¶ [l]These also are the chief of the mighty men whom Da'vid had, who strengthened themselves with him in his kingdom, and with all Is'ra-el, to make him king, according to the word of the LORD concerning Is'ra-el.
11 And this is the number of the [m]mighty men whom Da'vid had; Ja-sho'be-am, an [n]Hach'mo-nite, the [o]chief of the [p]captains: he lifted up his spear against three hundred slain by him at one time.

(2) Eleazar (2 Sam. 23:9)

12 And after him was E-le-a'zar the son of Do'do, the A-ho'hite, who was one of the three mighties.
13 He was [q]with Da'vid at Pas-dam'mim, and there the Phi-lis'tines were gathered together to battle, where was a parcel of ground full of barley; and the people fled from before the Phi-lis'tines.
14 And they set themselves in the midst of that parcel, and delivered it, and slew the Phi-lis'tines: and the LORD saved them by a great deliverance.

(3) Feat of the three mighty men (2 Sam. 23:8-17)

15 ¶ Now three of the thirty captains went down to the rock to Da'vid, into the cave of A-dul'lam; and the host of the Phi-lis'tines encamped in the valley of [r]Reph'a-im.
16 And Da'vid was then in the hold, and the Phi-lis'tines' garrison was [a]then at Beth'-le-hem.
17 And Da'vid longed, and said, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth'-le-hem, that is at the gate!
18 And the [b]three brake through the host of the Phi-lis'tines, and drew water out of the well of Beth'-le-hem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to Da'vid: but Da'vid would not drink of it, but poured it out to the LORD,
19 And said, [c]My God forbid it me, that I should do this thing: shall I drink the blood of these men that have put their lives in jeopardy? for with the jeopardy of their lives they brought it. Therefore he would not drink it. These things did these three mightiest.

(4) Abishai (2 Sam. 23:18)

20 ¶ And A-bish'a-i the brother of Jo'ab, he was chief of the three: [d]for lifting up his spear against three hundred, he slew them, and had a name among the three.
21 Of the three, he was more honourable than the two; for he was their captain: howbeit he attained not to the first three.

(5) Benaiah (2 Sam. 23:20)

22 Be-na'iah the son of Je-hoi'a-da, the son of a valiant man of Kab'ze-el, who had done many acts; he [e]slew [f]two lionlike men of Mo'ab: also he went down and slew a lion in a pit in a snowy day.
23 And he slew an E-gyp'tian, a man of great stature, five cubits high; and in the E-gyp'tian's hand was a spear like a weaver's beam; and he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the E-gyp'tian's hand, and slew him with his own spear.
24 These things did Be-na'iah the son of Je-hoi'a-da, and had the name among the three mighties.
25 Behold, he was [g]honourable among the thirty, but attained not to the first three: and Da'vid set him over his guard.

(6) Forty-eight other mighty men (2 Sam. 23:24-39)

26 ¶ Also the valiant men of the armies were, [h]A'sa-hel the brother of Jo'ab, El-ha'nan the son of Do'do of Beth'-le-hem, 27 Sham'moth the Ha'ro-rite, He'lez the Pel'o-nite, 28 I'ra the son of Ik'kesh the Te-ko'ite, A-bi-e'zer the An'-toth-ite, 29 Sib'be-cai the Hu'shath-ite, I'lai the A-ho'hite, 30 Ma-har'a-i the Ne-toph'a-thite, He'led the son of Ba'a-nah the Ne-toph'a-thite, 31 Ith'a-i the son of Ri'bai of Gib'e-ah, that pertained to the children of Ben'ja-min, Be-na'iah the Pir'a-thon-ite, a The Philistines had defeated Saul and stationed a garrison at Bethlehem and other places before David became king and defeated them (v 16). They did not have garrisons in the country when David was given victory over them, so it is clear that this time was immediately after the death of Saul and before the establishment of David's kingdom b These were Adino, Eleazar, and Shammah (2 Sam. 23:8-17). They evidently loved David very much to endanger their lives in such a way. David recognized their love and the danger they went through to get the water, and felt he should sacrifice it to the one they all loved the most - Jehovah (v 18-19). It was a noble trait in him not to satisfy his own appetite at the risk of the lives of his men

d Abishai was the brother of Joab and his feat was that of killing 300 enemy soldiers of one battle. He was not among the first 3 but he had of the second 3, therefore the 4th of the mighty men (v 20-21). Shammah, the 3rd of the first 3 is not mentioned here, but is listed in 2 Sam. 23:11-17. The reason for this is not known. He is mentioned in v 27, but perhaps had not attained to the first 3 at this early part of David's reign, and became numbered with them later as recorded in 2 Sam. 23:11-17, which list was made at the end of David's rule e Benaiah had done many things of which three are listed here (v 22-23):
1 He slew 2 lion-like men of Moab
2 He slew a lion in the midst of a pit in the time of snow
3 He slew an Egyptian who had a spear in his hand. He went to him with a staff, plucked the spear out of his hand, and slew the man with his own spear - a man 10 ft. 5 in. tall with a spear like a weaver's beam. Cp. 2 Sam. 23:20-21
f The Heb. word trans. lionlike here and in 1 Chr. 11:22 is ariel, meaning lion of God. It is the name of Jerusalem in Isa. 29:1-7. The Sept. reads: He smote the two sons of Ariel, the Moabite. The Peshitta: He slew two mighty men of Moab. The Berkeley: He was the one that struck down the two ariels of Moab (meaning lions of God, perhaps referring to mighty heroes of Moab). The Moffatt: He killed two lion-cubs in their lair, after he had gone down and killed the lion inside a pit upon a snowy day g Benaiah was more honorable than the 30 other men, but he attained not to the first 3, He did belong to the second 3 however (v 24-25)
h This brother of Joab was slain by Abner when he was about to catch and kill him (2 Sam. 2:17-29)

q Eleazar won second place among the mighty by standing with David when all the men of Israel fled. The two men defended a barley field and defeated the whole Philistine army. Cp. 2 Sam. 23:9-10 r One of the tribes of the nephilim (giants), like Anak; their name was given to the valley where they settled (v 15; Josh. 15:8; 2 Sam. 5:18-22; 23:13; Isa. 17:5). See Giants in Index

7 uses of "The East" (Job 1:3):
1 The country to which Abraham sent his other sons away from Isaac (Gen. 25:6)
2 Mesopotamia (Gen. 24:10; 29:1)
3 The place men came from who co-operated with the Midianites and Amalekites (Judg. 6:3, 33; 7:12; 8:10)
4 The country where wise men came from (1 Ki. 4:30; Mt. 2:1)
5 The country of Job (1:3)
6 The lands of Media, Persia, Assyria, and Babylon (Isa. 2:6; 11:14; 41:2; 46:11; Jer. 49:28; Ezek. 25:4, 10)
7 The countries east of the Roman empire that will fight against the future Antichrist (Dan. 11:44)

a This Joel is not to be confused with Igal the son of Nathan, though by some to be the same man. The lists are supplementary and independent, and do not contradict each other at all. Chronicles gives a more complete list at the beginning of the reign of David, whereas 2 Sam. 5 gives a reduced list at the end of his reign, perhaps after many had died, making exception in the case of Uriah who was listed after his death because of the connection with David as the husband of the woman he committed his great sin with b These lists are not included elsewhere, showing Chronicles to be independent of other books (v 1) c That is, he would not openly go throughout his homeland, but kept secluded from Saul as much as possible (v 1)

d Saul's brethren or tribesmen forsook him for the right, and followed David. 3,000 of them were present when David was made king of Judah (v 2-7, 29)

e There were 23 chiefs or leaders of Benjamin that followed David and led nearly 3,000 other Benjamites in making him king (v 3-7)

7fold challenge of God (Isa. 41:21):

1 Produce your cause-set forth your case so that men may know you are gods and capable of helping them (v 21)

2 Bring forth your strong reasons-prove that you are divine and living, and not lifeless material

3 Let them bring forth their proofs-predict one thing that is yet to come (v 22)

4 Let them show even former things that they have predicted which came to pass, so that men may know they are capable of predicting the future things to the end

5 Show the things that are yet to come, that we may know that you are gods (v 23)

6 Do good or evil-perform any kind of act that we may all be dismayed together

7 If your work is nothing then you are nothing (v 24)

This entire passage seems to express the idea that God bases His claim to Divinity upon the fact of His power to foretell, plan, and bring about His plan from the beginning to the end. At this time He gave an example of His power to foretell by stating that He would raise up Cyrus, a man He named over 200 years before He fulfilled the prophecy. Israel had not even been taken to Babylon yet, when God predicted Cyrus would free them from captivity and command the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the temple (v 25; 44:28-45:4; Ezra 1)

7 commands to sing (Isa. 42:10):

1 Sing unto Jehovah a new song (v 10)
2 Sing His praise from the end of the earth, you seamen and inhabitants of maritime countries
3 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice (v 11)
4 Let the inhabitants of the rock (Sela-Petra) sing
5 Let them shout from the top of the mountains
6 Let them give glory unto the Lord (v 12)
7 Declare His praise in the islands

Servant of Jehovah (Isa. 42:1)

The servant of Jehovah here is not Israel as a nation, Cyrus the Persian, or Isaiah the prophet, but the Messiah, as proved by the fact that v 1-3 and part of v 6 are quoted of Christ in Mt. 12:17-21; Lk. 2:32

5 servants in book of Isaiah:

CHAPTER 12 350

4 Companies that came to David while in Ziklag (1 Sam. 30). (1) From Benjamin

NOW [b]these are they that came to Da'vid to Zik'lăg, while he yet kept himself [c]close because of Saul the son of Kish: and they were among the mighty men, helpers of the war.

2 They were armed with bows, and could use both the right hand and the left in hurling stones and shooting arrows out of a bow, even of Saul's [d]brethren of Ben'ja-min.

3 The [e]chief was A-hi-ē'zer, then Jo'ash, the sons of Shē-ma'ah the Gib'e-ath-īte; and Je'zi-el, and Pe'let, the sons of Az'ma-vĕth; and Bĕr'a-chah, and Je'hū the An'toth-īte,

4 And Is-ma-i'ah the Gib'e-on-īte, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty; and Jer-e-mi'ah, and Ja-ha'zi-el, and Jo-hă'nan, and Jŏs'a-băd the Ged'e-rath-īte,

5 Ĕ-lū'za-ī, and Jer'i-mŏth, and Bē-a-li'ah, and Shĕm-a-ri'ah, and Shĕph-a-ti'ah the Hăr'u-phīte,

6 El'ka-nah, and Je-si'ah, and A-zăr'e-el, and Jo-ē'zer, and Ja-shō'be-am, the Kō'hītes, 7 And Jo-ē'lah, and Zĕb-a-di'ah, the sons of Jer'o-hăm of Ge'dor.

(2) Gadites who came to David in Ziklag

8 And of [f]the Gad'ites there separated themselves unto Da'vid into the hold to the wilderness men of might, and men of war fit for the battle, that could handle shield and buckler, whose faces were like the faces of lions, and were as swift as the roes upon the mountains;

9 E'zer the first, O-ba-di'ah the second, Ĕ-li'ab the third,

10 Mish-măn'nah the fourth, Jer-e-mi'ah the fifth,

11 At'tai the sixth, Ĕ-li'el the seventh,

12 Jo-hā'nan the eighth, El'za-bād the ninth,

13 Jer-e-mi'ah the tenth, Mach'ba-nāi the eleventh.

14 These were of the sons of Gad, captains of the host: one of the least was over an hundred, and the greatest over a thousand.

15 These are they that went over Jor'dan in the first month, when it had overflown all his banks; and they put to flight all them of the valleys, both toward the east, and toward the west.

(3) Men from both Benjamin and Judah who came to David in Ziklag

16 And there [g]came of the children of Ben'ja-min and Ju'dah to the hold unto Da'vid.

17 And Da'vid went out to meet them, and answered and said unto them, [h]If ye be come peaceably unto me to help me, mine heart shall be knit unto you: but if ye be come to betray me to mine enemies, seeing there is no wrong in mine hands, the God of our fathers look thereon, and rebuke it.

18 Then the spirit came upon A-mās'a-ī, who was chief of the captains, and he said, Thine are we, Da'vid, and on thy side, thou son of Jes'se: peace, peace be unto thee, and peace be to thine helpers; for thy God helpeth thee. Then Da'vid received them, and made them captains of the band.

(4) Men from Manasseh who came to David in Ziklag

19 [d]And there fell some of Ma-nās'seh to Da'vid, when he came with the Phi-lis'tines against Saul to battle: but they helped them not: for the lords of the Phi-lis'tines upon advisement sent him away, saying, He will fall to his master Saul to the jeopardy of our heads.

20 As he went to Zik'lag, there fell to him of Ma-nās'seh, Ad'nah, and Jo-zā'bad, and Je-di'a-el, and Mi'chael, and Jo-zā'bad, and E-li'hū, and Zil'thai, captains of the thousands that were of Ma-nās'seh.

21 And they helped Da'vid against the band of the rovers: for they were all mighty men of valour, and were captains in the host.

5 Men of all Israel who came to make David king (2 Sam. 5:1-3). (1) From Judah: 6,800 men a 11 mighty men of Gad went over to David, following him in all his sojourn and helping to bring over to him 120,000 from Gad, Reuben, and Manasseh on the east of Jordan, when all Israel made him king (v 37). They put to flight many of the enemy in the east and west during the overflow of the Jordan when it was almost impossible to cross (v 8-15)

b Here we see that many from both Benjamin and Judah came to David to the hold to follow him in his fortunes (v 16-18). Thus, little by little the hand of God was to be seen in raising up men to turn the kingdom to David in the proper time

c A second band came to David from Judah and Benjamin to help him, but he became cautious and challenged their good and honest intentions, if they were coming peaceably then his heart would be knit with theirs and Jehovah would bless them, but if they were coming to betray him into the hands of his enemies, then they should be rebuked. At that time the Holy Spirit came upon Amasai, one of the chief captains, inspiring him to make a statement of consecration to help David. He then received them and made them his helpers and captains (v 16-18)

d Some from Manasseh also came to David at Ziklag at this time, just before the fall of Saul. Among them were 7 chief men. They helped him to destroy the bandits of 1 Sam. 30 (v 19-21), and a few years later helped David to get the kingdom (v 37)

4 great names of God (Isa. 44:24):

1 Redeemer (v 6, 24; 41:14; 43:14; 47:4; 48:17; 49:7, 26; 54:5, 8; 59:20; 60:16; 63:16; Job 19:25; Ps. 19:14; 78:35; Pr. 23:11; Jer. 50:34)

4 Jehovah (v 24-28; 45:1-5)

20 things about confessed sin (Isa. 44:22):

1 They are blotted out (44:22; Acts 3:19)
2 Forgiven (Ex. 34:7; 1 Jn. 1:9; 2:12)
3 Remitted (Mt. 26:28; Mk. 1:4)

20 things unconfessed sins do:

1 Cause death (Gen. 2:17; Ezek. 33:8-13; Rom. 8:12-13)
2 Hinder prayers (Ps. 66:18)
3 Provoke God to anger (1 Ki. 16:2)

16 Cause one to be of Satan (1 Jn. 3:8)
17 Cause hardening of heart (Heb. 3:13)
18 Make servants of sin (Rom. 6:7-23; Jn. 8:34)
19 Bring reproach (Pr. 14:34)
20 Cause national judgment (Amos 1:3, 6, 9, 11, 13; 2:1, 4, 6; 3:14)

a Men came daily to help David until there was a great host, like the host of God; and they came armed for war to turn the kingdom of Saul to David, according to the word of the LORD (v 22-23)

b 337,100 men of war:

From Judah	6,800
From Simeon	7,100
From Levi	4,600
From Benjamin	3,000
From Ephraim	20,800
From western Manasseh	18,000
From Issachar (leaders)	200
From Zebulun	50,000
From Naphtali	38,000
From Dan	28,600
From Asher	40,000
From eastern Manasseh, Gad and Reuben	120,000
Total	337,100

In all there were more than this, for those under the 200 captains of Issachar are not numbered (v 32)

c Not with two hearts - one for David and one for Saul. They had a single heart and soul centered on one thing (v 33). Cp, perfect heart and one heart (v 38)

Woe because of 6 sins (Isa. 9:25):

1 Decreeing unrighteous decrees (v 1)
2 Writing grievousness-making oppressive laws for the people
3 Turning the needy aside from judgment (v 2)
4 Taking away the rights of the poor
5 Preying on widows
6 Robbing the orphans

8fold boast of the king of Assyria (Isa. 10:13):

1 By my strength I have done it (v 13)
2 By my wisdom I have been victor, for I am prudent

6fold destruction of king of Assyria (Isa. 10:16):

1 The Lord shall send leanness to those who were made fat by his spoils (v 16)
2 He shall kindle a fire of judgment under his glory
3 His thorns and briers shall be burned in one day (v 17)
4 The glory of his army shall also be destroyed in one day (v 18)
5 His mighty men shall be like a standard-bearer when he faints
6 The rest of the army shall be like the trees left after a forest fire-so few in number that a child may count them (v 19). All this happened as recorded in 37:36-38

5 classes in army of Antichrist (Isa. 10:33):

1 The bough-the Assyrian or Antichrist himself as leader of the army (v 33; Ezek. 38:2; Rev. 19:19-21)
2 The high ones (v 33). Used only one other time in Isaiah and then of the angelic forces (24:21). Cp. Rev. 12:7-12
3 The haughty, the exalted leaders of mankind under Antichrist (v 33; Dan. 2:44-45; Rev. 17:12, 14, 16-17)
4 The thickets of the forest, the common soldiers (v 34)
5 Lebanon, meaning the high cedars of Lebanon who shall fall, and refers to the great ones under Antichrist who shall be defeated by a Mighty One. The Berkeley reads: by a Majestic One. Who He is, is not stated, but no doubt the reference is to the Messiah who will come to earth and destroy the the armies of Antichrist at Armageddon (9:6-7; 63:1-5; Zech. 14; Mt. 24:29-31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; 2:8; Jude 14-15; Rev. 11:15; 19:11-21)

22 For[a] at that time day by day there came to Dā'vid to help him, until it was a[b]great host, like the host of God.

23 ¶ And these are the numbers of the bands that were ready armed to the war, and came to Dā'vid to Hē'bron, to turn the kingdom of Sa̱ul to him, according to the word of the LORD.

32 And of the children of Iș'-sa-char, which were men that had understanding of the times, to know what Iș'ra-el ought to do; the heads of them were two hundred; and all their brethren were at their commandment.

(8) From Zebulun: 50,000 men

33 Of Zĕb'u-lŭn, such as went forth to battle, expert in war, with all instruments of war, fifty thousand, which could keep rank: they were [c]not of double heart.

(9) From Naphtali: 38,000 men

34 And of Nāph'ta-lī a thousand captains, and with them with shield and spear thirty and seven thousand.

37 And on the [a]other side of Jôr'dan, of the Reu'ben-ites, and the Gād'ites, and of the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh, with all manner of instruments of war for battle, an hundred and twenty thousand.

(13) Three days' feast of over 337,100 men of war with multitudes not in the armies

38 All these men of war, that could keep rank, came with[a] perfect heart to Hē'bron, to make Dā'vid king over all Iș'-ra-el: and [a]all the rest also of Iș'ra-el were of one heart to make Dā'vid king.

39 And there they were with Dā'vid [d]three days, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover they that were nigh them, even unto Is'sa-char and Zĕb'u-lŭn and Nāph'-ta-lī, brought bread on asses, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, and meat, meal, cakes of figs, and bunches of raisins, and wine, and oil, and oxen, and sheep abundantly: for there was [e]joy in Iș'ra-el.

6 David's religious policies (13:1-17:27; 2 Sam. 6:1-7:29). (1) David attempts to bring the ark to Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6:1-5)

AND Dā'vid consulted with the captains of thousands and hundreds, and with every leader.

2 And Dā'vid said unto all the congregation of Iș'ra-el, If it seem good unto you, and that it be of the LORD our God, let us send abroad unto our brethren every where, that are left in all the land of Iș'ra-el, and with them also to the priests and Lē'vites which are in their cities and suburbs, that they may gather themselves unto us:

3 And let us bring again the ark of our God to us: for we enquired not at it in the days of Sa̱ul.

4 And all the congregation said that they would do so: for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

7fold establishment of Messiah's reign (Isa. 11:10):

1 In that day the Messiah will be the standard around which all nations will gather (v 10)
2 Universal peace (v 10; 2:2-4)
3 Regathering of both houses of Israel from all nations (v 11-12)
4 Original union of all the tribes of Israel revived (v 13)
5 Full possession of the promised land by the 13 tribes of Israel (v 14)

World blessed (Isa. 11:10):

The Gentiles are all other nations besides Israel, indicating that when the Messiah reigns the heathen world as well as Israel and others will be blessed, and all men will look to Christ for safety and deliverance. There will be only two classes of natural men in that day-Jews and Gentiles-and both will share the eternal blessings of Christ as Ruler of earth. Gentiles will seek Him as well as the Jews and His rest will be glorious

1 Gentiles shall seek Christ or rally around Him as their banner (11:10)
2 They will enjoy His glorious rest (11:10; Mt. 12:21)
3 He shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles (42:1; Mt. 12:18)
4 He shall be the light to them (42:6; 49:6)
5 They shall help regather Israel among all nations (49:22)
6 They shall be humbled under Israel
7 They shall be an inheritance of the Jews under the Messiah (54:3)
8 They shall come to the light of Israel in the Millennium (60:3)
9 The forces of the Gentiles shall be converted and come to Israel (60:5-12)
10 They shall be a blessing to Jews (60:16; 61:6)
11 They shall acknowledge Israel as the people of God in that day (61:9)
12 They shall see the righteousness of the Messiah and of Israel (62:2)
13 Peace and glory will be extended to them by the Messiah (66:12)
14 They shall be evangelized by the Jews in the Millennium (2:2-4; 52:7; 66:19; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)

These prophecies are so clear that there was no excuse for the Jews of Christ's day to misunderstand God's eternal program for Gentiles in connection with Israel; and the apostles had no grounds for refusing to take the gospel to the Gentiles (Acts. 10:9-35; 11:1-19; Gal. 2:1-18) ra-el together, from Shi'hôr of E'gypt even unto the entering of He'math, to bring [a]the ark of God from Kir'jath-je'a-rim.

6 And Da'vid went up, and all Is'ra-el, to [b]Ba'al-ah, that is, to Kir'jath-je'a-rim, which belonged to Ju'dah, to bring up thence the ark of God the LORD, that dwelleth between the cherubims, whose name is called on it.

7 And they carried the ark of God in a [c]new cart out of the house of A-bin'a-dab: and [d]Uz'za and [e]A-hi'o drave the cart.

8 And Da'vid and all Is'ra-el played before God with all their might, and with singing, and with [f]harps, and with psalteries, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

(2) Temporary hindrance: Uzza killed. David, being afraid of God, leaves the ark with Obed-edom (2 Sam. 6:6)

9 ¶ And when they came unto the threshingfloor of [g]Chi'don, Uz'za put forth his hand to hold the ark; for the oxen stumbled.

10 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uz'za, and he [h]smote him, because he put his hand to the ark: and there he died before God.

11 And Da'vid was displeased, because the LORD had made a breach upon Uz'za: wherefore that place is called [i]Pe'rez-uz'za to this day.

12 And Da'vid was afraid of God that day, saying, [j]How shall I bring the ark of God home to me?

13 So Da'vid brought not the ark home to himself to the city of Da'vid, but carried it aside into the house of [k]O'bed-e'dom the [l]Git'tite.

14 And the ark of God remained with the family of O'bed-e'dom in his house three months. [m]And the LORD blessed the house of O'bed-e'dom, and all that he had.

(3) David's family at Jerusalem (3:5-8; 2 Sam. 5:13)

3 ¶ And Da'vid [o]took more wives at Je-ru'sa-lem: and Da'vid begat more sons and daughters.

4 Now these are the names of his children which he had in Je-ru'sa-lem; [a]Sham-mu'a, and Sho'bab, Na'than, and Sol'o-mon.

6 And No'gah, and Ne'pheg, and Ja-phi'a,

7 And E-lish'a-ma, and [b]Be-el-i'a-da, and E-liph'a-let.

(4) David's victories over the Philistines (2 Sam. 5:17-25)

8 ¶ And when the Phi-lis'tines heard that Da'vid was anointed king over all Is'ra-el, all the Phi-lis'tines went up [c]to seek Da'vid. And [d]Da'vid heard of it, and went out against them.

9 And the Phi-lis'tines came and spread themselves in the valley of Reph'a-im.

10 And Da'vid enquired of God, saying, [e]Shall I go up against the Phi-lis'tines? And wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD said unto him, [f]Go up; for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Ba'al-per'a-zim; and Da'vid smote them there. Then Da'vid said, God hath broken in upon mine enemies by mine hand like the breaking forth of waters: therefore they called the name of that place [g]Ba'al-per'a-zim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, Da'vid gave a commandment, and they were burned with fire.

13 And the Phi-lis'tines [h]yet again spread themselves abroad in the valley.

14 Therefore Da'vid enquired again of God; and God said unto him, Go not up after them; turn away from them, and come upon them over against the mulberry trees.

15 [i]And it shall be, [j]when thou shalt hear a sound of going in the tops of the mulberry trees, that then thou shalt go out to battle: for God is gone forth before thee to smite the host of the Phi-lis'tines.

16 Da'vid therefore did as God commanded him: and they smote the host of the Phi-lis'tines from [k]Gib'e-on even to [l]Ga'zer.

d David no doubt had spies among the Philistines, or other means of intelligence to check up on their plans. Ever since the defeat of Saul nearly 8 years before Philistines had been in control of the greater part of Israel, so Israelites living among them would naturally know about some of their plans (v 8)

e Questions 3-4, Next, 17:6

f 2nd prophecy in 1 Chr. (14:10, fulfilled), Next, v 15. The one prediction was that God would give them into the hands of David g Exactly where this spot was in the valley of giants is not fully known, but it was at one of the mountains on the edge of the valley. David himself named the place Baal-perazim because the Lord had broken through upon his enemies (v 11; 2 Sam. 5:20). Here the Philistines left their images and David and his men burned them (v 12)

h The word again proves that the Philistines rallied and collected a larger army than before and spread themselves once more in the valley of the giants where the second battle was fought and a second victory was won by David (v 13; 2 Sam. 5:22)

i 3rd prophecy in 1 Chr. (14:15, fulfilled), Next, 16:14. The one prediction was that God would give victory when they would hear the sound of going in the top of the mulberry trees

j Even when David got behind the army of the Philistines he was not to attack until the very moment he heard a sound in the tops of the mulberry trees. This sound was one of a going, meaning the sound of a mighty army on the march, which struck terror to the Philistines and caused them to be confused and panic stricken. The Arabic version says the sound was the noise of horses' hoofs. Having known all the time that David's army was before them perhaps they reasoned that some other mighty army was appearing suddenly behind them to help his army, so the Philistines fled immediately and were pursued (v 15-16)

k Gibeon or Geba, as in 2 Sam. 5:25, in Benjamin, the home of Saul (v 16; 6:60; 8:6; 2 Chr. 16:6; Josh. 21:17; 1 Sam. 13:3; 1 Ki. 15:22; 2 Ki. 23:8; Neh. 11:31; 12:29; Isa. 10:29; Zech. 14:10). The Philistines were forced by David to flee by the very home of Saul whom they had defeated

l Going from Gibeon to Gazer or Gezer shows that the Philistine army fled northwest from the valley of the giants and were chased from 30 to 35 miles (v 16)

m David prepared a tabernacle for the ark of God. He did not bring the original tabernacle of Moses to Jerusalem. It was still in Gibeon where God appeared to Solomon (21:29)

f This refers to the death of Uzza for touching the ark (13:9-14) g God has always required that proper instructions be followed in seeking Him, worshipping Him, praying to Him, and in carrying out every part of His program. No man has a right to expect God to break His laws or in any way act contrary to His own Word, for the individual's benefit. God did not excuse David whom He loved, or Israel, His own beloved people, when they broke His law, for He was under obligation to curse them for disobedience as well as to bless them for obedience. When they tried to change the requirements of the law, death was the result h It took the death of a good man in order to bring them to obedience in the matter of carrying the ark upon their shoulders. Even these had to sanctify themselves and become ceremonially fit to do this work or they could have all been destroyed (v 15)

Confirmed word (Isa. (44:26)

God here promised to confirm the word, His servant, Isaiah and the counsel of all His messengers (the prophets) who had made predictions of these things (v 26). The idea is that God always supports the word that He gives to prophets to speak to men, fulfilling the promises and predictions thereof. Repeatedly in O. T. days He performed miracles to confirm the ministries of His servants; and this is amply demonstrated in the record of men and women from Abel to Malachi, and summed up in Heb. 11. Abraham, Moses, Samson, Elijah, Elisha, and many others are examples of the working of signs and wonders among the people. In the N. T. the same program is enlarged upon; and such experiences would be normal today if men would believe the gospel and seek God for the enduement of power from on high. This is proved by hundreds of promises and many commands to the disciples (Mt. 28:20; Lk. 24:49; Jn. 7:37-39; Acts 1:4-8; 1 Cor. 12:31; 14:1). A number of simple promises have been made to all believers that certain signs would follow them (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 11:22-24; 16:15-20; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 3:3-4)

5fold pleasure of Jehovah (Isa. 44:28):

1 To raise up a man to be the shepherd of His people (41:1-3; 44:28; 45:13)
2 The rebuilding of Jerusalem (44:28)
3 The rebuilding of the temple
4 Punishment of the nations that had taken His people captive (45:1; Jer. 25:11-12)
5 To prove to Israel and the heathen that He was God (45:3-6)

2 Then Dā'vid said, None ought to carry the ark of God but the Lē'vites: for them hath the LORD chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto him for ever.

(3) Assembling of Israel to bring the ark to its place

3 And Dā'vid gathered all Iṣ'ra-el together to Jē-ru'sā-lēm, to bring up the ark of the LORD unto [b]his place, which he had prepared for it.

(4) Over 862 priests and Levites are sanctified to bear the ark and offer sacrifices

4 And Dā'vid assembled the children of Aär'on, and the Lē'vites:

5 [c]Of the sons of Kō'hath; Ū'rī'el the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twenty:

6 Of the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī; Ā-sa-i'ah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twenty:

7 Of the sons of Ġēr'shŏm; Jō'el the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirty:

8 Of the sons of Ĕ-lĭz'a-phān; Shĕm-a-ī'ah the chief, and his brethren two hundred:

9 Of the sons of Hĕ'bron; Ĕ-lī'el the chief, and his brethren fourscore:

10 Of the sons of Ŭz'zĭ-el; Ăm-mĭn'a-dāb the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelve.

11 And Dā'vid called for Zā'dōk and Ā-bī'a-thär the priests, and for the Lē'vites, for Ū'rī-el, Ā-sa-i'ah, and Jō'el, Shĕm-a-ī'ah, and Ĕ-lī'el, and Ăm-mĭn-a-dāb, 12 And said unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Lē'vites: [d]sanctify yourselves, both ye and your brethren, that ye may bring up the ark of the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el unto [e]the place that I have prepared for it.

13 [f]For because ye did it not at the first, the LORD our God made a breach upon us, for that we [g]sought him not after the due order.

14 So the priests and the Lē'vites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el.

15 And the children of the Lē'vites [h]bare the ark of God upon their [i]shoulders with the staves thereon, as Mō'şeş commanded according to the word of the LORD.

(5) David appoints singers and musicians to praise God before the ark (6:31-47)

16 And Dā'vid spake to the chief of the Lē'vites [j]to appoint their brethren to be the singers with instruments of musick, psalteries and harps and cymbals, sounding, by lifting up the voice with joy.

17 So the Lē'vites [k]appointed Hĕ'man the son of Jō'el; and of his brethren, Ā'saph the son of Bĕr-e-chī'ah; and of the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī their brethren, Ē'than the son of Kŭ-shā'iah;

18 And [l]with them their brethren of the second degree, Zĕch-a-rī'ah, Bĕn, and Jā-ā'zĭ-el, and Shĕ-mĭr'a-mōth, and Jĕ-hĭ'el, and Ŭn'nī, Ĕ-lī'ab, and Bĕ-nā'iah, and Mā-a-sē'iah, and Māt-tĭ-thī'ah, and Ĕ-lĭph'e-leh, and Mĭk-nē'iah, and Ō'bed-ē'dom, and Jĕ-ī'el, the porters.

19 So the singers, [m]Hē'man, Ā'saph, and Ē'than, were appointed to sound with cymbals of brass;

20 And Zĕch-a-rī'ah, and Ā'zĭ-el, and Shĕ-mĭr'a-mōth, and Jĕ-hĭ'el, and Ŭn'nī, and Ĕ-lī'ab, and Mā-a-sē'iah, and Bĕ-nā'iah, with psalteries on [n]Āl'a-mōth;

21 And Măt-tĭ-thī'ah, and Ĕ-lĭph'e-leh, and Mĭk-nē'iah, and Ō'bed-ē'dom, and Jĕ-ī'el, and Āz-a-zī'ah, with harps on the Shĕm'ĭ-nĭth to excel.

22 And Chĕn-a-nī'ah, chief of the Lē'vites, was for song: he instructed about the song, because he was skilful.

23 And Bĕr-e-chī'ah and Ĕl'kā-nah were doorkeepers for the ark.

24 And Shĕb-a-nī'ah, and Jĕ-hōsh'a-phăt, and Nĕ-thăn'e-el, and Ā-mās'a-ī, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah, and Bĕ-nā'iah, and Ĕ-lī-ē'zēr, the priests, did blow with the trumpets before the ark of God: and Ō'bed-ē'dom and Jĕ-hī'ah were doorkeepers for the ark.

(6) David brings the ark to Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6:12)

25 ¶ So Dā'vid, and the elders of Iṣ'ra-el, and the captains over thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the house of Ō'bed-ē'dom with joy.

26 And it came to pass, when God helped the Lē'vites that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, that they [o]offered seven bullocks and seven rams.

27 And Dā'vid was [p]clothed with a robe of fine linen, and all the Lē'vites that bare the ark, and the singers, and Chĕn-a-nī'ah the master of the song with the singers: Dā'vid also had upon him an ephod of linen.

28 Thus all Iṣ'ra-el brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with shouting, and with sound of the cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a noise with psalteries and harps.

(7) Michal's sin (2 Sam. 6:16)

29 ¶ And it came to pass, as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the city of Dā'vid, that Mī'chal the daughter of Saul looking out at a window saw king Dā'vid [q]dancing and playing: and she [r]despised him in her heart.

b Alamoth, the maidens' choir

3 special choirs in Israel:

1 The Levites (v 16-19)
2 The Alamoth, maiden singers (v 20)
3 The men singers (v 21)

All 3 choirs are referred to in Ps. 68:25. The men's choir went before, the musicians following the maidens playing timbrels among or in between the men singers and the musicians. The whole picture seems to be that of a processional. The temple services included regular singing and music. Men were devoted to the training of choirs and musicians, and they led the national worship c If the proper meat and drink offerings were made with each sacrifice, as commanded in Num. 15, the total estimated cost according to today's prices, would be as follows:

7 bullocks @ $325,00	$2,275,00
7 rams @ $20,00	140,00
35 qts. of oil @ $1,40	49,00
35 qts. of wine @ $1,60	56,00
17 1/2 gal. flour @ .80 a gal.	14,00
Total est. cost	$2,534,00

d This was the garment for priests and Levites, not kings; but since he was a type of Christ who was to be a priest-king (Zech. 6:12-13), David was allowed by God to use it on this occasion; or else such was overlooked by Him like the showbread that he ate when fleeing from Saul (1 Sam. 21:3-6). Apparently David put off his royal robes and dressed in the robe of a servant of God as an act of homage to Jehovah who dwelled between the cherubim on the ark which he was transferring to its place in the new capital of Israel
e See note g, 2 Sam. 6:14 f She did not make David welcome, but rather despised him in her heart. She thought he had disgraced himself. Her words were bitter and cutting and she received sharpness in return for being so prudish where God and joy in the Lord are concerned (v 29; 2 Sam. 6:20-23). She and David were not the same man and wife after this; and part of her punishment was that she was childless to the day of her death

Messiah (Isa. 45:1)

Heb. mashiyach, anointed; a consecrated person; Messiah. The anointed not only refers to the Messiah, in some passages, it is also a title given to kings, priests, and prophets of Israel (1 Sam. 2:19, 34; 12:3-5; 16:6; 24:7, 11; etc.). The title in connection with Cyrus refers to appointment to an office and a setting apart to a definite work, not especially to holiness and character. Cyrus, however, is called a righteous man in the sense of doing right to God's people (41:1-3, 25; 44:28; 45:1-4, 13)

Ancient dress (Isa. 45:1)

Ancients dressed in large, loose, flowing robes thrown over an under-garment or tunic, which was shaped to the body. This outer robe was girded with a sash when the people toiled, labored, went to war, or ran. Hence, to gird up the loins meant getting ready for action. To unloose the loins meant rest, cessation from war, or feebleness. Here it meant that God would weaken the resistence of kings before Cyrus so they would be easily overthrown (v 1)

14 things about Cyrus (Isa. 45:1):

1 Raise him up (41:2; 45:13)
2 Call him (41:2)
3 Make him ruler over kings
4 Give nations to him to destroy
5 Hold his right hand (45:1)
6 Subdue nations before him (41:2; 45:1)
7 Loose the loins of kings (45:1)
8 Open the two leaved gates before him
9 God before him (45:2)
10 Make crooked places straight
11 Break the gates of brass
12 Cut the bars of iron in sunder
13 Give him the treasures and riches of Babylon (45:3) 14 Direct all his ways (45:13)

a See 15:1
b Did not actually make the sacrifices, for he was not a priest. He simply authorized them to be offered. In this sense we must also understand many scriptures when it says that God sent a plague, or did other things in judging men. He authorized such things, but was not the personal executioner of the action, which is always through proper agents
c He would need to have many animals killed and many loaves of bread baked to supply each man and woman, boy and girl in Israel, or even those present at the feast d Heb. ashîyshah, something pressed close together, as a cake of figs or raisins. The Revised Version translates it cake of raisins in v 3; 2 Sam. 6:19; Song 2:5; Hos. 3:1. Where it means a bottle of wine, the amount contained in the flagon or bottle is not known. It will be noticed here that of wine is in italics, signifying it was supplied by the translators, so the meaning could easily be cake of raisins e David appointed regular singers and musicians to minister before the ark, to compose, and to give thanks and praise to God. They ministered continually, morning and evening, from this time on during all the life of David and part of the time when other kings ruled (v 4-6)

l This term is the same in meaning as eternal or perpetual generations (v 15; Gen. 9:12), and everlasting in v 17. The term is used also in Dt. 7:9 and Ps. 105:8. If taken literally it means 50,000 to 1,000,000 years, depending on the length of a generation. Men will live 1,000 years or more in the Millennium, depending on how old they are when they enter the Millennium. In the case of the lowest average life-span of today it would mean many thousands of years beyond the Millennium. If one can believe in this he can believe in eternal generations of natural people
m If the covenant is eternal the natural human parties to it must be as eternal as God, for the covenant would be null and void should one of the contracting parties become extinct

o Very few compared with the many of the nations, even giants, that were in the promised land. Abraham had 318 trained servants or warriors when Lot was captured (Gen. 14:14). If few men refers to the actual children of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and their immediate offspring, then they were indeed few in number. For 25 years Abraham was the only party to the covenant. Then for 60 years there were only Abraham and Isaac. For the next 70 to 80 years there were only Isaac and Jacob. Then came the 12 sons of Jacob and their families, 70 people in all when Jacob went into Egypt. This was exactly 215 years of the 450 years of

of the [a]tent that Dā'vid had pitched for it: and they offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings before God.

2 And when [b]Dā'vid had made an end of offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD.

6 Bĕ-nā'iah also and Jā-hă'zī'el the priests with trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God.

(10) David's psalm of thanksgiving (see Ps. 105). A Twelve admonitions (Ps. 105:1-6)

7 ¶ Then on that day Dā'vid delivered first this psalm to thank the LORD into the hand of Ā'saph and his brethren.

8 [f]Give thanks unto the LORD, [g]call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people.

9 Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him, talk ye of all his wondrous works.

10 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD.

11 Seek the LORD and his strength, seek his face continually.

12 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done, [h]his wonders, and the [i]judgments of his mouth;

13 O ye seed of Iṣ'ra-el his servant, ye children of Jā'cob, his chosen ones.

B Reason for admonitions: Abrahamic covenant

14 [j]He is the LORD our God; his [k]judgments are in all the earth.

15 Be ye mindful always of his covenant; the word which he commanded to [l]a thousand generations;

16 Even of the covenant which he made with Ā'brā-hăm, and of his oath unto Ī'ṣaac;

17 And hath confirmed the same to Jā'cob for a law, and to Iṣ'ra-el for an [m]everlasting covenant.

18 Saying, [n]Unto thee will I give the land of Cā'năan, the lot of your inheritance;

23 [t]Sing unto the LORD, [u]all the earth; shew forth from day to day his salvation.

24 Declare his glory among the heathen; his marvellous works among all nations.

25 For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised: he also is to be feared above all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.

27 Glory and honour are in his presence; strength and gladness are in his place.

28 Give unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and strength.

29 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.

30 Fear before him, all the earth: the world also shall be stable, that it be not moved.

31 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men say among the nations, The LORD reigneth.

32 Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof: let the fields rejoice, and all that is therein.

33 Then shall the trees of the wood sing out at the presence of the LORD, because he cometh to judge the earth.

34 O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever.

35 And say ye, Save us, O God of our salvation, and [v]gather us together, and deliver us from the heathen, that we may give thanks to thy holy name, and glory in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el for ever and ever. And all the people said, Ā-mĕn', and praised the LORD.

a In this chapter we have the Davidic covenant. The occasion was that he sat in his new house of cedar and began to contrast his beautiful home with the tent that housed the ark of God. The Lord, seeing his desire, then told Nathan, the prophet to tell David to do what was in his heart regarding the building of a temple for Him (v 1-2). The Davidic covenant recorded here and in 2 Sam. 7, promises David an eternal seed and throne, whereas the 12th, 15th, and 17th chapters of Genesis which record the Abrahamic covenant promise an eternal seed and land. Both covenants are conditional upon faith and obedience to God. Many call them unconditional but this can be true only in the sense that the benefits promised are not earned by works. Like the gospel of today, one does not earn salvation by works (Eph. 2:8-9), yet no man receives benefits without obedience in the initial as well as the final stage of salvation (1 Jn. 1:7). The whole gospel program of requirements is that of obedience and living soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world (2 Cor. 5:17-18; 7:1; Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 12:14). If these covenants were entirely unconditional and Israel did not have to obey God to receive their benefits, then why are they not blessed according to these benefits now? The people to whom they were promised went into sin, apostasy, captivity, and dispersion and will not receive fulfillment of the promises until they are regathered in repentance and obedience to God (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). God said plainly to David concerning his son, If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men. This is what happened. His sons and all Israel sinned and they are now in the process of chastening. f The reason for David not acrually building the temple was that he was a man of blood and war (22:8)

41 And with them Hĕ'man and Jĕd'u-thŭn, and the rest that were chosen, who were expressed by name, to give thanks to the LORD, because his mercy endureth for ever;

42 And with them Hĕ'man and Jĕd'u-thŭn with trumpets and cymbals for those that should make a sound, and with musical instruments of God. And the sons of Jĕd'u-thŭn were porters.

43 And all the people departed every man to his house: and Dā'vid returned to bless his house.

CHAPTER 17 355

(12) David desires to build God a house (2 Sam. 7:1)

[a]NOW it came to pass, as Dā'vid sat in his house, that Dā'vid said to [b]Nā'than the prophet, Lo, [c]I dwell in an house of cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD remaineth under curtains.

(13) Nathan the prophet encourages David to build God a temple

▸2 Then Nā'than said unto Dā'vid, Do all that is in thine heart; for God is with thee.

(14) God's answer to David's desire: 15th or Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7:1-17. See p. 57-58). A God rejects David as the temple builder and promises him an eternal house

■3 ¶ And it came to pass the same [d]night, that the word of God came to Nā'than, [e]saying,

●4 Go and tell Dā'vid my servant, Thus saith the LORD, Thou shalt [f]not build me an house to dwell in:

5 For I have not dwelt in an house since the day that I brought up Iṣ'ra-el unto this day; but have gone from tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

6 Wheresoever I have walked with all Iṣ'ra-el, spake I a word to any of the judges of Iṣ'ra-el, whom I commanded to feed my people, saying, [g]Why have ye not built me an house of cedars?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say unto my servant Dā'vid, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, [h]I [i]took the from the sheepcote, even from following the sheep, that thou shouldest be ruler over my people Iṣ'ra-el:

8 And I have been with thee whithersoever thou hast walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee, and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

●9 [j]Also I will ordain a place for my people Iṣ'ra-el, and will plant them, and they shall dwell in their place, and shall be moved no more; neither shall the children of wickedness waste them any more, as at the beginning,

10 And since the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iṣ'ra-el. [k]Moreover I will subdue all thine enemies. Furthermore I tell thee that the LORD [l]will build thee an house.

B God promises David an eternal kingdom and that David's son shall build the temple (2 Sam. 7:13, refs.)

11 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when thy days be expired that thou must go to be with thy fathers, that [m]I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sons; and I will establish his kingdom.

12 [n]He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for ever.

13 [o]I will be his father, and he shall be my son: and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from [p]him that was before thee:

14 But [q]I will settle him in mine house and in my kingdom for ever: and his [r]throne shall be established for evermore.

15 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nā'than speak unto Dā'vid.

(15) David's prayer concerning the Covenant (2 Sam. 7:18)

16 And Dā'vid the king came and sat before the LORD, and [s]said, [t]Who am I, O LORD God, and [u]what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

17 And yet this was a small thing in thine eyes, O God; for thou hast also spoken of thy servant's house for a great while to come, and hast regarded me according to [v]the estate of a man of high degree, O LORD God.

18 What can Dā'vid speak more to thee for the honour of thy servant? for thou knowest thy servant.

19 O LORD, for thy servant's sake, and according to thine own heart, hast thou done all this greatness, in making known all these great things.

20 O LORD, there is [w]none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 And what [x]one nation in the earth is like thy people Iṣ'ra-el, whom God [y]went to redeem to be his own people, to make thee a name of greatness and terribleness, by driving out nations from before thy people, whom thou hast redeemed out of E'gy̆pt?

22 For thy people Iṣ'ra-el didst thou [z]make thine own people for ever; and thou, LORD, becamest their God.

23 Therefore now, LORD, [aa]let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant and concerning his house be established for ever, and do as thou hast said.

a In a sense, or partially, this has been fulfilled. God did subdue all the earthly enemies of David in his day, but the more complete fulfillment of enemies being put down still awaits fulfillment under the Messiah (v 10; Isa. 9:6-7; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-29; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

b This detail of the prophecy has also been only partially fulfilled. God did build David a house, but his sons went into sin and the final and complete fulfillment of a family of flesh and blood, with an eternal king to reign on an eternal throne in particular, will be fulfilled in the Messiah (v 10; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; Mic. 5:2; Mt. 1:1-17; Lk. 1:32-33; 3:23-38; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 5:5; 11:15; 20:1-10)

c This too was partially fulfilled in David's sons who succeeded him on his throne; but again it must await complete and eternal fulfillment in the Messiah when He comes to reign (v 11; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 5:5; 11:15p 20:1-10)

d This was partially fulfilled in Solomon who built a temple for God, but it also must be fulfilled more completely in the Messiah who will build the future eternal temple (Zech. 6:12-13), and reign on David's throne eternally (v 12; Isa. 9:6-7; Ezek. 43:7; Mic. 5:2; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

e This again will be fulfilled in the Messiah, the Son of David and the Son of God (v 13; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; Mic. 5:2; Mt. 1; Lk. 3; 11:15; 20:1-10)

f Referring to Saul (19:13-14)

g God has never done this yet with any seed of David, but will when the Messiah comes to reign in the future eternal temple to be built at His 2nd advent (Ezek. 34:7; Zech. 6:12-13), when the throne and kingdom will be established as eternal (v 14; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

h Eternal throne. All three things are eternal - the house, the kingdom, and the throne of David (v 16; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). All three were done away with when Jerusalem was taken by Nebuchadnezzar and not one of them has ever been restored. The throne and crown were to be removed from Zedekiah and remain removed until the Messiah came, whose right it is to rule (Ps. 2; Isa. 9:6-7; 16:4; Jer. 3:14-18; 16:14-21; 23:3-8, 20; 30:3-24; 31:8-14, 27-40; 32:37-44; 33:3-26; 50:19-20; Ezek. 11:17-21; 20:33-44; 21:27; 28:25-26; 34:11-31; 36:3-38; 37:1-28; 38:8-23; 39:1-39; 43:7; 47:13-48:35; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 27; Hos. 3:4-5; Joel 2-3; Amos 9:11-16; Oba. 17-21; Mic. 4-5; Zech. 12-14; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

j Questions 6-8, Next, 19:3

k Note how the blessing and promises of God concerning his family, kingdom, and throne brought deep humiliation to David (v 16-17)

l See note p, 2 Sam. 7:19

m None like Thee. This is ever the acknowledgement of true worshippers of God n Judah and all the other tribes made this one nation in David's time and they will also make the one nation when Ezek. 37:11-28 is fulfilled at the 2nd advent of Christ

o 3 great purposes of God:
1 To redeem Israel (v 21)
2 To make Himself a great name
3 To perform great and terrible things for His people and their land p Eternal nation. This nation will consist of the 12 tribes of Israel and the priests and Levites, eternally (v 24; Isa. 9:6-7; 59:21; Lk. 1:32-33). The entire nation is as eternal as the house, throne, and kingdom of David - not merely the 10-tribe part of the nation

q 4 great requests of David:
1 Let the thing you have spoken come to pass (v 23)
2 Let it be established that Your name might be magnified eternally (v 24)
3 Let the house of David be established before You
4 Let it please You to bless the house of Your servant that it may be before You forever (v 27)

a When prayers are found in the heart they are the result of gratitude or the overflow of some desperate need (v 25; Heb. 4:14-16; 10:19-23)
b See 12 things about God in this prayer, note c, 2 Sam. 7:28 c After the Davidic covenant was made, as in 7:1-27. Cp. 2 Sam. 7:1-29 d 7 nations subdued by David:
1 Philistia (v 1) 5 Edom (v 11-12)
2 Moab (v 2, 11) 6 Ammon (v 11-12)
3 Zobah (v 3) 7 Amalek (v 11)
4 Syria (v 5-6)
e Zobah was in the neighborhood of Damascus. In 19:6 we have the provocation which led to this war. Cp. 2 Sam. 10:16; Ps. 60, title. See note j, 2 Sam. 8:3
f Thus for the first time Israel extended her possessions to the river Euphrates, the eastern border of the promised land (v 3; Gen. 15:18-21; 2 Sam. 8:3) g In 2 Sam. 8:4 it reads 700 horsemen and 7,000 here. This may be explained by the fact that the two Heb. letters for 7 and 700 are easy to be mistaken one for the other. Most commentators agree that the number should be 7,000 as here. See note 1, 2 Sam. 8:4
h See note m, 2 Sam. 8:5
i Shields of gold. This is no doubt where David got much of the gold he collected to use in building the temple. Exactly how much came from his wars is not known, but there were many shields, ornaments, vessels and other items of gold and silver from the many cities he conquered as well as some which people gave him (v 7, 10-11), besides much brass (v 8). He brought all this spoil to Jerusalem and kept it solely for holy uses, especially, for the temple he had planned to build for the Lord (v 7; 2 Sam. 8:7-11)
j How many servants of Hadarezer had shields of gold is not known. Some think that only a special bodyguard company had such shields. Others think these were only bracelets or costly ornaments of gold and that there could not be so many such shields; but gold shields are mentioned as being in Israel by the hundreds, so it was possible in this case (v 7; 1 Ki. 10:17; 14:26-27; 2 Chr. 9:16; 12:9-10) k This is where Solomon got much of the brass to make the brazen sea and other brazen things of the temple (v 8)

14 future names of Jerusalem (Isa. 1:26):
1 The city of righteousness (1:26)
2 The faithful city (1:26)
3 The throne of the Lord (3:17)
4 The city of the Lord (60:14)
5 The Zion of the Holy One of Israel (60:14)
6 Hephzibah, My delight Is in her (62:4)
7 Sought out (62:12)
8 A city not forsaken (62:12)
9 A green olive tree (Jer. 11:16)
10 The Lord our righteousness (Jer. 33:16)
11 The Lord is there (Ezek. 48:35)
12 A city of truth (Zech. 8:3)
13 The mountain of the Lord of Hosts (Zech. 8:3)
14 The holy mountain (Zech. 8:3)
Not one of these can apply to Jerusalem now or in the past; but when Christ reigns in Jerusalem forever, all will literally apply

Sabbath (Isa. 1:13)

Heb. shabbath, intermission. It is the same word used of the weekly sabbaths in 105 places, so modern cults cannot prove that the word sabbaths here does not refer to the weekly sabbaths. If it does here, then it means the same in other scriptures where it is in the plural, as in Ex. 31:13; Lev. 19:3, 30; 23:15, 38; 1 Chr. 23:31; 2 Chr. 31:3; Isa. 56:4; Ezek. 20:12-24; 22:8, 26; 23:38; 44:24. Especially where it is used with new moons the word refers to weekly sabbaths (v 13; 2 Chr. 2:4; 8:13; Neh. 10:33; Ezek. 45:17; 46:3; Hos. 2:11; Col. 2:14-17). It seems that God planned to do away with all sabbaths as a matter of command. See Sabbath in Index

24 Let it even be established, that thy name may be magnified for ever, saying, The LORD of hosts is the God of Is'ra-el, even a God to Is'ra-el: and let the house of Da'vid thy servant be established before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast told thy servant that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy servant hath [a]found in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And now, LORD, [b]thou art God, and hast promised this goodness unto thy servant:

27 Now therefore let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may be before thee for ever: for thou blessest, O LORD, and it shall be blessed for ever.

CHAPTER 18 356

9 Full establishment of David's kingdom (18:1-20:8; 2 Sam. 8:1-10:19). (1) Conquers Philistia (2 Sam. 8:1. Cp. 1 Chr. 14:8)

NOW [c]after this it came to pass, that Da'vid [d]smote the Phi-lis'tines, and subdued them, and took Gath and her towns out of the hand of the Phi-lis'tines.

(2) Conquers Moab (2 Sam. 8:2)

2 And he smote Mo'ab; and the Mo'ab-ites became Da'vid's servants, and brought gifts.

(3) Conquers Zobah and Syria (2 Sam. 8:3-8)

3 ¶ And Da'vid smote Had-ar-e'zer king of [e]Zo'bah unto Ha'math, as he went to stablish his dominion [f]by the river Eu-phra'tes.

4 And Da'vid took from him a thousand chariots, and [g]seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: Da'vid also houghed all the chariot horses, but reserved of them an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syr'i-ans of Da-mas'cus came to help Had-ar-e'zer king of Zo'bah, [h]Da'vid slew of the Syr'i-ans two and twenty thousand men.

6 Then Da'vid put garrisons in Syr'i-a-da-mas'cus; and the Syr'i-ans became Da'vid's servants, and brought gifts. Thus the LORD preserved Da'vid whithersoever he went.

7 And Da'vid took the [i]shields of gold that were on the [j]servants of Had-ar-e'zer, and brought them to Je-ru'sa-lem.

8 Likewise from Tib'hath, and from Chun, cities of Had-ar-e'zer, brought Da'vid [k]very much brass, wherewith Sol'o-mon made the brasen sea, and the pillars, and the vessels of brass.

(4) Peace with Hamath (2 Sam. 8:9)

9 ¶ Now when To'u king of Ha'math heard how Da'vid had smitten all the host of Had-ar-e'zer king of Zo'bah;

10 He sent [l]Ha-do'ram his son to king Da'vid, to enquire of his welfare, and to congratulate him, because he had fought against Had-ar-e'zer, and smitten him; (for Had-ar-e'zer had war with To'u:) and with him all manner of vessels of gold and silver and brass.

(5) Conquers Ammon, Amalek, and Edom (2 Sam. 8:12-14)

11 ¶ Them also king Da'vid [m]dedicated unto the LORD, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all these nations; from E'dom, and from Mo'ab, and from the children of Am'mon, and from the Phi-lis'tines, and from Am'a-lek.

12 Moreover [n]A-bish'a-i the son of Zer-u-i'ah slew of the E'dom-ites in the valley of salt eighteen thousand.

13 ¶ And he put garrisons in E'dom; and all the E'dom-ites became Da'vid's servants. Thus the LORD preserved Da'vid whithersoever he went.

(6) Character of David's reign (2 Sam. 8:15)

14 ¶ So Da'vid reigned over [o]all Is'ra-el, and [p]executed judgment and justice among all his people.

(7) Officers of David (2 Sam. 8:16, refs.)

15 And [q]Jo'ab the son of Zer-u-i'ah was over the host; and Je-hosh'a-phat the son of A-hi'lud, [r]recorder.

16 And [s]Za'dok the son [t]of A-hi'tub, and [u]A-bim'e-lech the son of [v]A-bi'a-thar, were the priests; and [w]Shav'sha was scribe;

17 And [x]Be-na'iah the son of Je-hoi'a-da was over the [y]Cher'e-thites and the Pel'e-thites; and the sons of Da'vid were chief about the king.

CHAPTER 19 357

(8) Ammonite-Syrian war (2 Sam. 10). A David's kindness misunderstood as occasion to war

NOW it came to pass [a]after this, that Na'hash the king of the children of Am'mon died, and [b]his son reigned in his stead.

2 And Da'vid said, [c]I will shew kindness unto Ha'nun the son of Na'hash, because his father shewed kindness to me. And Da'vid sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. So the servants of Da'vid came into the land of the children of Am'mon to Ha'nun, to comfort him.

3 [d]But the princes of the children of Am'mon said to Ha'nun, Thinkest thou that Da'vid [e]doth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters unto thee? are not his servants come unto thee for to search, and to overthrow, and to spy out the land?

a Called Joram in 2 Sam. 8:10
b The spoils of war were dedicated to the temple (v 10-11) c He evidently was in charge of the army or a portion of the one that slew 18,000 Edomites (v 12)
d Over all Israel, not only 10 tribes. The term all Israel is also applied to both divisions of the kingdom after the death of Solomon - to the 10 tribes (1 Ki. 15:27; 16:16-17; 22:17; 2 Ki. 9:14), and to Judah (2 Chr. 24:5; 28:23; 29:24; 35:3)

"All Israel" used of new nation:
1 Offered for all Israel: 12 he goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel (Ezra 6:17)
2 All Israel there present (Ezra 8:25)
3 For all Israel: 12 bullocks (Ezra 8:35)
4 Made all Israel to swear (Ezra 10:5)
5 All Israel dwelt in their cities (Neh. 7:73)

n Cherethites and Pelethites were evidently corps in David's army, perhaps bodyguards of the king. Cherethites were perhaps related to the Philistines; they are mentioned with them. Some think Pelethite is a corrupt form of the word Philistine; others think these people were Reubenites or Judahites (v 17)
o After the full establishment of David's kingdom, as in 18:1-17 (v 1) p His son proved to be a stubborn and proud ruler like Rehoboam of 1 Ki. 12. Both were men of great folly who lost kingdoms through pride q David's motive here was of the purest kind - to show kindness to a neighboring king whose father had showed kindness to him (v 2). The intent was misunderstood as an attempt at spying with the view of overthrowing the kingdom of Ammon (v 3). The Ammonites insulted David's servants and war was the result (v 4-14)
r Questions 9-10, Next, 21:3
s Natural, carnal men cannot comprehand how anyone would want to respect, honor, and be concerned about another; this is because they live in a selfish world judging everybody, even men of God, by their own standards (v 3)

3 comparisions of Zion (Isa. 1:8):
1 As a cottage in a vineyard (v 8)
2 As a lodge in a garden of cucumbers. This refers to booths for watchmen in vineyards, cucumber, and melon patches where they dwelled to guard the fruit during the ripening season and harvest (Song 2:15). These were made of poles and leaves; some were even used by armies, poor families, and stock (Gen. 33:17; Lev. 23:42; Neh. 8:14-17; Job 27:18; Jonah 4:5). After the harvest booths were left to the weather to become desolate, waste and soon destroyed and fallen down
3 As a besieged city, referring to its ruin after a siege and its destruction. Thus Jerusalem and the land of Judah were to be destroyed and laid waste (v 7-8)

3 acts of apostasy (Isa. 1:4):
1 Forsaken - apostasy in disposition
2 Provoked - apostasy in words
3 Gone away backward - apostasy in action
When apostasy comes to this point there is no return, for one has wilfully thrown all faith overboard and has done away with the only sacrifice that could renew to repentance (Heb. 4:6-9; 10:26-29). Up to this point there is always forgiveness to the backslider (Mt. 12:31-32; 1 Jn. 1:9; 2:1-2)

a The princes of Ammon encouraged their king to be suspicious of David's motive, to believe that he really sent his servants to insult them and to act as spies with the view of overthrowing the Ammonite kingdom. They took David's servants, shaved off one-half their beards, cut off their garments at the buttocks, and sent them home(v 3-4). When David heard of this he came to meet them, and because they were greatly ashamed, he told them to tarry at Jericho until their beards would be grown out again (v 5). No greater indignity could have been put upon them. The beard was considered a symbol of manhood. By shaving half their beards off Hanun not only treated David's ambassadors with contempt, but made them objects of ridicule. It was customary for the beard to be kept with care and neatness; this is why David had easily convinced the Philistines that he was insane (1 Sam. 21:13). The mistreatment of David's servants was not necessary or wise of the young king; and in this respect he played the part of a fool, like Rehoboam (1 Ki. 12)

b They not only saw this, but felt it and knew what the natural result of their insulting treatment of David's servants would be. They prepared for war by hiring 33,000 foreign mercenaries to fight with the Ammonite army against Israel (v 7). When this was known to David he sent Joab and all the mighty men of Israel to the battle (v 8), which was fought at Rabbah, the capital city of Ammon (v 9; 20:1). The result was that Israel was victor (v 9-15)

c 1,000 talents of silver at $1,920.00 each would be $1,920,000.00

d This is the only statement of Joab indicating that he recognized God in any sense (v 10)

e The Syrians were not satisfied at being defeated by Israel (v 15), so they gathered themselves against Israel after adding many other Syrians from other countries beyond the river Euphrates (v 16)

f The river Euphrates

15 works of God (Job 26:5):

1 He confines Rephaim (giants) beneath the waters and all things therein (v 5)
2 Keeps sheol naked before Him (v 6)
3 Keeps destruction (abaddon) uncovered
4 Stretches out the north over the empty place (v 7)
5 Hangs the earth upon nothing
6 Binds up the waters in thick clouds
7 Keeps the clouds from being rent and torn by the many waters (v 8)
8 Holds back the face of His throne
9 Spreads a cloud upon it (v 9)
10 Sets bounds around the waters of oceans eternally (v 10)
11 Causes the pillars of heaven to be astonished at His reproof (v 11)
12 Divides the sea with His power(v12)
13 Smites through the proud
14 Garnishes the heavens by His Spirit
15 Formed the crooked serpent (v 13)

14fold end of the wicked (Job 27:14):

1 If he has many children they may perish in war (v 14)
2 His children will not be satisfied with bread, either from restlessness to sin or from want
3 All will eventually end in death(v 15)
4 He himself will die and his widows will not mourn
5 Though he heap up silver as dust others will divide it (v 16-17)
6 Though he prepare raiment as clay others will wear it
7 His house will be only a temporary one like that of the moth and the seasonal booth made by the keeper of vineyards (v 18)
8 He shall lie down and die (v 19)
9 Terrors take hold of him as waters
10 A tempest steals him away by night and he is gone (v 20) 11 The east wind carries him away (v 21)
12 A storm destroys him

B David's servants insulted (2 Sam. 10:4-5)

4 Wherefore Ha'nun [a]took Da'vid's servants, and shaved them, and cut off their garments in the midst hard by their buttocks, and sent them away.

5 Then there went certain, and told Da'vid how the men were served. And he sent to meet them: for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said, Tarry at Jer'i-cho until your beards be grown, and then return.

C First campaign: victory over Syria (2 Sam. 10:16-14)

6 ¶ And when the children of Am'mon [b]saw that they had made themselves odious to Da'vid, Ha'nun and the children of Am'mon sent a [c]thousand talents of silver to hire them chariots and horsemen out of Mes-o-po-ta'mi-a, and out of Syr'i-a-ma'a-chah, and out of Zo'bah.

7 So they hired thirty and two thousand chariots, and the king of Ma'a-chah and his people; who came and pitched before Med'e-ba. And the children of Am'mon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to battle.

8 And when Da'vid heard of it, he sent Jo'ab, and all the host of the mighty men.

9 And the children of Am'mon came out, and put the battle in array before the gate of the city: and the kings that were come were by themselves in the field.

10 Now when Jo'ab saw that the battle was set against him before and behind, he chose out of all the choice of Is'ra-el, and put them in array against the Syr'i-ans.

11 And the rest of the people he delivered unto the hand of A-bish'a-i his brother, and they set themselves in array against the children of Am'mon.

12 And he said, If the Syr'i-ans be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me: but if the children of Am'mon be too strong for thee, then I will help thee.

13 [d]Be of good courage, and let us behave ourselves valiantly for our people, and for the cities of our God: and let the LORD do that which is good in his sight.

14 So Jo'ab and the people that were with him drew nigh before [e]the Syr'i-ans unto the battle; and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Am'mon saw that the Syr'i-ans were fled, they likewise fled before A-bish'a-i his brother, and entered into the city. Then Jo'ab came to Je-ru'sa-lem.

16 ¶ And when the Syr'i-ans saw that they were put to the worse before Is'ra-el, they sent messengers, and drew forth the Syr'i-ans that were beyond the river: and Sho'phach the captain of the host of Had-ar-e'zer went before them.

D Second campaign: submission of Syria (2 Sam. 10:15)

17 And it was told Da'vid; and he gathered all Is'ra-el, and passed over Jor'dan, and came upon them, and set the battle in array against them. So when Da'vid had put the battle in array against the Syr'i-ans, they fought with him.

18 But the Syr'i-ans fled before Is'ra-el; and Da'vid slew of the Syr'i-ans seven thousand men which fought in chariots, and forty thousand footmen, and killed Sho'phach the captain of the host.

19 And when the servants of Had-ar-e'zer saw that they were put to the worse before Is'ra-el, they made peace with Da'vid, and became his servants: neither would the Syr'i-ans help the children of Am'mon any more.

358 CHAPTER 20

(9) Ammonite war: Rabbah taken (2 Sam. 12:26. Read 2 Sam. 11:1-12:25 here)

AND it came to pass, that after the year was expired, [a]at the time that kings go out to battle, Jo'ab led forth the power of the army, and wasted the country of the children of Am'mon, and came and besieged Rab'bah. But Da'vid tarried at Je-ru'sa-lem. And Jo'ab smote Rab'bah, and destroyed it.

2 And Da'vid [d]took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it to weigh a [e]talent of gold, and there were precious stones in it; and it was set upon Da'vid's head: and he brought also exceeding much spoil out of the city.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and [f]cut them with saws, and with harrows of iron, and with axes. Even so dealt Da'vid with [g]all the cities of the children of Am'mon. And Da'vid and all the people returned to Je-ru'sa-lem.

(10) Three wars with Philistia (2 Sam. 21:15): three giants slain - last mention of giants (Gen. 6:4, note)

4 ¶ And it came to pass after this, that there arose war at Ge'zer with the Phi-lis'tines; at which time Sib'be-chai the Hu'shath-ite slew Sip'pai, [h]that was of the children of the giant: and they were subdued.

5 And there was war again with the Phi-lis'tines; and El-ha'nan the son of Ja'ir slew Lah'mi the brother of Go-li'ath the Git'tite, whose spear staff was like a weaver's beam.

6 And yet again there was war at Gath, where was a man of great stature, whose fingers and toes were four and twenty, six on each hand, and six on each foot: and he also was the son of the giant.

7 But when he defied Is'ra-el, Jon'a-than the son of Shim'e-a Da'vid's brother slew him.

8 These were born unto the giant in Gath; and they fell by a This was either in the spring or autumn, for both periods were good seasons to make war, neither being too hot or cold (v 1)

b See note f, 2 Sam. 11:1

c It was at this time that David was tempted and committed sin with Bath-sheba, an experience which is passed over by the writer of Chronicles. See 2 Sam. 11:1-12:25

d No discrepancy here, for Joab had sent for David for this purpose (2 Sam. 12:28)

e A talent of gold was worth $29,085.00 in our money. The crown was worth this much in gold, besides the value of the many gems in it (v 2). A talent of gold weighed 131 lbs. troy. How a crown this heavy could be worn by a man is hard to understand

4 explanations of this:

1 The crown was placed only temporarily upon David, being held up by others, to signify that he was king of the Ammonites by virtue of conquering them

2 The crown was not actually worn at all by the king, but suspended over the head, being fixed to the canopy of the throne

3 The crown was that of the idol god Milcom or Malcom and was taken off him and given to David as part of the spoils. This seems to contradict facts in the case, for the Heb. word for king's here is melek which is the ordinary one for king as trans. of men about 2,091 times and not once as Malcom or Milcom

4 The value of the gold and jewels in the crown was equal to that of a talent of gold; therefore, the crown was light enough to be worn by a man

f The Heb. sur does not necessarily mean literally to cut with something material. It should be given the meaning to put them here, or appointed them to slavery in which they used these tools. See note j, 2 Sam. 12:31

g These slaves helped make up the many strangers and the abundance of workmen referred to in 22:2, 15. Such slave labor was provided for in the law (Dt. 29:11; Josh. 9:27). Besides these there were groups of workmen recruited from all Israel in building the temple later (1 Ki. 5:13; 9:15-22)

h The last 5 giants slain: 18)
1 Sippai (v 4). Called Saph (2 Sam. 21:
2 Lahmi, brother of Goliath (v 5; 2 Sam. 21:19)
3 The giant with 6 fingers and 6 toes on each hand and foot (v 6-8; 2 Sam. 21:20-22)
4 Ishbi-benob (2 Sam. 21:16-17)
5 Goliath (1 Sam. 17)
These 5 giants were brothers. In 2 Sam. 21:22 it states that these 4 were brothers; and 21:19 makes it clear that they were brothers of Goliath, who made up the 5. From v 5 here we also learn that Lahmi was the brother of Goliath. These were the last of the mighty races of giants who were the offspring of fallen angels and women in Satan's efforts to do away with pure Adamite stock so that the Seed of the woman might not come into the world to redeem Adam's race. See Giants, p. 62

14 Men will clap their hands at him, and hiss him out of his place (v 23)

14 facts about God (Job 28:23):

1 He understands the way of wisdom (v 23)
2 Knows the place of it
3 Looks to the ends of the earth (v 24)
4 Sees under the whole heaven
5 Weighs the winds (v 25)
6 Weighs the waters in a measure
7 He made a decree for the rain (v 26)
8 Made a way for the lightning of the thunder
9 Saw wisdom (v 27)
10 Declared it
11 Prepared it
12 Searched it out
13 Defined it as the fear of Jehovah (v 28)
14 Defined understanding as departure from evil

a It seems from 2 Sam. 24:1 that the LORD moved David to number Israel, but we must understand this only in the sense of His allowing it to happen without definitely interfering. By Hebrew idiom (and also modern usage) a person is said to do that which he permits to be done. The anger of the Lord would not have been kindled against Israel (as in 2 Sam. 24:1; v 7 here) if He had been the one to move David to do the numbering. V 1 makes it plain that it was Satan who stood up against Israel and provoked David to number them. God was justly displeased with David's action and punished him for it (v 10-17)

b David commanded Joab to go through Israel and number the people; but he and all the captains of the host objected to this new plan. Joab sensed the wrong in this move, but the king's word prevailed (v 2-4)

c Perhaps there was more back of this desire of David to know the number of Israel (v 2). He may have had plans to enlarge his empire without consulting Jehovah. God saw fit to bring any such plans to an end immediately; and He punished David for his pride before it could lead him into ventures of conquest that would be a curse to him

e The king's word not only prevailed against Joab, but also against the captains of the host (2 Sam. 24:4), indicating how deep seated this desire of David's was. They obeyed to the sorrow of David later. This is one time he did not act wisely and take proper advice. He went against the better judgment of all his counsellors, because Satan was using him on this occasion (v 1). He was not conscious of Satan's will being done any more than Peter was conscious of being used as a tool of Satan as in Mt. 16:23 f See 2 Sam. 24:4-8 for further information on this

g There were 1,570,000 men that drew the sword; but all were not valiant men (2 Sam. 24:9). This number was exclusive of those in the tribes of Levi and Benjamin that could draw the sword (v 5-6)

h This was always a good trait in David. When his heart smote him and he was convicted of wrong-doing (2 Sam. 24:10), he would always humble himself, acknowledge his sin, and make restitution as far as possible. He took the blame, never seeking to excuse himself or pass the responsibility on to others. In this case, admitting he had done very foolishly, he prayed to be cleansed of his iniquity (v 8)

i Heb. cakal, to be silly; to play the part of a fool (v 8; 1 Sam. 26:21; 2 Sam. 15:31; 2 Chr. 16:9; Isa. 44:25)

j God gave David an answer the day after his repentance (2 Sam. 24:11). It came by a prophet and was not at all encouraging (v 9-12)

k David's seer (v 9; 2 Sam. 24:11; 2 Chr. 29:25). Gad, the prophet, was so-called because he was especially used in prophecy to David, even from the time of his wanderings before he became king (1 Sam. 22:5). Nathan, the prophet was used as in 7:1-29; 12:1-15

l 2fold message of Gad to David (v 12):
1 I offer you three things
2 Choose one of them, and I will do it

m 3 choices offered to David (v 13):
1 Having 7 years of famine in the land
2 Fleeing 3 months before enemies
3 Pestilence in the land for 3 days

Moab (Isa. 15:1):

Moab, the son of Lot (Gen. 19:31-37), and his descendants settled east of the river Jordan and the Dead Sea from the south end of this sea to the river Zered and north to about 5 miles above the sea and 30-40 miles east. Edom joined Moab south of the river Zered and Ammon joined these on the north. The land was originally occupied by giants called Emims, who were defeated by the Moabites and expelled by them (Dt. 2:10). The north part of Moab was conquered by Sihon, giant king of the Amorites, and the river Arnon then became the boundary of Moab. When Israel came out of Egypt Sihon was defeated by them and all his land as well as that of Og, king of the hand of Dā'vid, and by the hand of his servants.

CHAPTER 21 359

10 David's last sin (2 Sam. 24). (1) Command to number Israel

AND [d]Sā'tan stood up against Iṣ'ra-el, and provoked Dā'vid to number Iṣ'ra-el.

2 And Dā'vid said to Jō'ăb and to the rulers of the people, Go, [b]number Iṣ'ra-el from Bĕ'er-shĕ'bá even to Dăn; and bring the number of them to me, [c]that I may know it.

(2) Joab's faithful protest (2 Sam. 24:3)

3 And Jō'ăb answered, [d]The LORD make his people an hundred times so many more as they be: but, my lord the king, are they not all my lord's servants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cause of trespass to Iṣ'ra-el?

(3) Numbering of Israel (2 Sam. 24:4-8)

4 Nevertheless the king's word [e]prevailed against Jō'ăb. Wherefore Jō'ăb departed, and went throughout [f]all Iṣ'ra-el, and came to Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm.

(4) Total: 1,570,000 swordsmen (not all valiant men as in 2 Sam. 24:9)

5 ¶ And Jō'ăb gave the sum of the number of the people unto Dā'vid. And all they of Iṣ'ra-el were [g]a thousand thousand and an hundred thousand men that drew sword: and Jū'dah was four hundred threescore and ten thousand men that drew sword.

6 But Lĕ'vī and Bĕn'ja-mĭn counted he not among them: for the king's word was abominable to Jō'ăb.

(5) David's repentance (2 Sam. 24:10-11)

7 And God was displeased with this thing; therefore he smote Iṣ'ra-el.

8 And Dā'vid said unto God, [h]I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, do away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done [i]very foolishly.

(6) God offers David a choice of 3 punishments (2 Sam. 24:12)

9 ¶ And the LORD [j]spake unto Găd, [k]Dā'vid's seer, saying,

10 Go and tell Dā'vid, saying, Thus saith the LORD, [l]I offer thee three things: choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

11 So Găd came to Dā'vid, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Choose thee

12 [m]Either three years' famine; or three months to be destroyed before thy foes, while that the sword of thine enemies overtaketh thee; or else three days the sword of the LORD, even the pestilence, in the land, and the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the coasts of Iṣ'ra-el. Now therefore advise thyself what word I shall bring again to him that sent me.

(7) David chooses to fall into God's hand (2 Sam. 24:14)

13 And Dā'vid said unto Găd, I am in a great strait: [a]let me fall now into the hand of the LORD; for very great are his mercies: but [b]let me not fall into the hand of man.

(8) 70,000 men die in a plague (2 Sam. 24:15)

14 ¶ So the LORD [c]sent pestilence upon Iṣ'ra-el: and there fell of Iṣ'ra-el [d]seventy thousand men.

(9) God has mercy on Jerusalem (2 Sam. 24:16)

15 And God sent an [e]angel unto Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and he [f]repented him of the evil, and said to [g]the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshingfloor of Ôr'nan the Jĕb'u-sīte.

(10) David sees the destroying angel and prays for mercy (2 Sam. 24:17)

16 And Dā'vid lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the LORD stand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm. Then Dā'vid and the elders of Iṣ'ra-el, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And Dā'vid [h]said unto God, [i]Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbered? [j]even I it is that have sinned and done evil indeed; but as for these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O LORD my God, [k]be on me, and on my father's house; but not on thy people, that they should be plagued.

(11) David buys the temple site and makes atonement and the plague is stayed (2 Sam. 24:18; 2 Chr. 3:1)

18 ¶ Then the angel of the LORD commanded Găd to say to Dā'vid, [l]that Dā'vid should go up, and set up an altar unto the LORD in the threshingfloor of Ôr'nan the Jĕb'u-sīte.

19 And Dā'vid [m]went up at the saying of Găd, which he spake in the name of the LORD.

20 And Ôr'nan turned back, and [n]saw the angel; and his four sons with him hid themselves. Now Ôr'nan was threshing wheat.

21 And as Dā'vid came to Ôr'nan, Ôr'nan looked and saw Dā'vid, and went out of the a David said what any sensible man would say who knew God and His dealings. The king chose the last of the three offers - 3 days of pestilence, preferring to fall into the hands of God whose mercies are great, and not into the hands of men who show no mercy (v 13). Though it was soon over, 70,000 men died of the plague. How many would have perished in either one of the other two offers cannot be estimated, but no doubt many more than through the pestilence, and the suffering would have lasted much longer

b David had been in the hands of Saul for years and more recently in flight from Absalom; now he could not bear the thoughts of being in the hands of men again, so he cast himself upon the mercy of God (v 13) c Here is an example of the Lord being reported as doing something when in reality He only commanded it to be done (v 14). An angel was used to execute the command (v 15). Hundreds of times intelligent agents have been sent to do the Divine will and such instances are spoken of as God being the doer of the deeds

d Why 70,000 is not explained, and what connection with wrong they had, if any, is not given; so we must accept the account as plain facts of history without any spiritual significance other than the many lessons we can derive from the story (v 14)

e The angel had already gone throughout the land from Dan to Beer-sheba or from north to south, and now a special judgment seems to have been ready for Jerusalem - to destroy it; but when God saw the city, His beloved city, which He had chosen for His headquarters on earth as a place to live and operate through His chosen people, and furthermore, when He saw the great destruction all over the land, He did not desire to continue the curse. He repented (changed His mind) of doing any more evil of destruction, and called to the angel saying: It is enough, stay now your hand (v 15)

f See note u, Gen. 6:6

g One angel, not many. One angel slew 185,000 men of war in one night (2 Chr. 32:21; Isa. 37:36), so angels must be powerful and swift beings

h David spoke directly to God, and this is the way it should be. One does not need to go through any mediator other than Jesus Christ who is the only mediator between God and man (1 Tim. 2:4-5)

i Questions 14-15. Next, 22:18

j The second repentance of David in connection with his sin of numbering the people (v 8, 17). This time he was willing to take all blame and suffering if God would only spare the innocent people (v 17)

k When men are willing to take the blame for sin and receive punishment for themselves and their families, they are near the point of mercy (v 17-27)

l The second message of Gad to David was to make a sacrifice to atone for sin and turn the wrath of God away (v 18-25)

m David went - he did not delay, for the safety of all Jerusalem and Israel depended upon it (v 19) n Ornan not only saw David, he saw the angel of the Lord and he and his sons hid themselves. His thoughts were probably those of bewilderment at seeing the king and all his servants coming to him. He must have known however, that David was a just man and he could expect only good from him

Bashan, and the land north of Og's kingdom became the possession of Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh. Moab oppressed Israel for 18 years after the death of Joshua (Judg. 3:14-21). Later peace was restored and Moab became a place of refuge for many Israelites (Ruth 1:1; 1 Sam. 22:3). The record shows that Saul (1 Sam. 14:47); David (2 Sam. 8:1-12); Ahab (2 Ki. 1:1; 3:4-5); and Jehoshaphat (2 Chr. 20:1-30) defeated Moab. The Moabites continued as a nation after their defeat by Assyria about 3 years after this prophecy (15:1-9; 16:6-14). They are mentioned in prophecies of the latter days along with Israel (11:14; 16:1-5; Jer. 48:47; Dan. 11:41) threshingfloor, and bowed himself to Dā'vid with his face to the ground.

22 Then Dā'vid said to Ôr'nan, Grant me the place of this threshingfloor, that I may build an altar therein unto the LORD: thou shalt grant it me for the full price: [a]that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 And Ôr'nan said unto Dā'vid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen also for burnt offerings, and the [b]threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat offering; I give it all.

24 And king Dā'vid said to Ôr'nan, [c]Nay; but I will verily buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is thine for the LORD, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So Dā'vid gave to Ôr'nan for the place [d]six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26 And Dā'vid built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called upon the LORD; and he answered him [e]from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And the LORD commanded the angel; and [f]he put up his sword again into the sheath thereof.

(12) Site of the Mosaic tabernacle in David's reign

28 ¶ At that time when Dā'vid saw that the LORD had [g]answered him in the threshingfloor of Ôr'nan the Jĕb'u-site, then he sacrificed there.

29 For [h]the tabernacle of the LORD, which Mō'şeş made in the wilderness, and the altar of the burnt offering, were at that season in the high place at Gĭb'e-on.

(13) David is again afraid of God (13:12)

30 [i]But Dā'vid could not go before it to enquire of God: for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

360 CHAPTER 22

11 Preparation to build the temple (22:1-23:1). (1) David dedicates the temple site (21:18-27)

THEN Dā'vid said, This is the house of the LORD God, and this is the altar of the burnt offering for Iş'ra-el.

(2) David prepares materials for the temple in abundance

2 And Dā'vid [k]commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Iş'ra-el; and he set masons to hew wrought stones to build the house of God.

3 And Dā'vid [l]prepared iron in abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the joinings; and brass in abundance without weight;

4 Also cedar trees in abundance: for the Zī-dō'nĭ-anş and they of Tyre brought much cedar wood to Dā'vid.

5 And Dā'vid [m]said, Sŏl'o-mon my son is young and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the LORD must be exceeding [n]magnifical, of fame and of glory throughout all countries: I will therefore now make preparation for it. So Dā'vid prepared abundantly before his death.

(3) David charges Solomon to build the temple (1 Ki. 2:1)

6 ¶ Then he called for Sŏl'o-mon his son, and [o]charged him to build an house for the LORD God of Iş'ra-el.

7 And Dā'vid said to Sŏl'o-mon, My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build an house unto the name of the LORD my God:

8 But the word of the LORD came to me, saying, Thou hast shed blood abundantly, and hast made great wars: thou shalt not build an house unto my name, because thou hast shed much blood upon the earth in my sight.

9 [p]Behold, a son shall be born to thee, who shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name [q]shall be Sŏl'o-mon, and I will give peace and quietness unto Iş'ra-el in his days.

10 [r]He shall build an house for my name; and he shall be my son, and I will be his father; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Iş'ra-el for ever.

11 Now, my son, the LORD be with thee; and prosper thou, and build the house of the LORD thy God, as he hath said of thee.

12 [s]Only the LORD give thee wisdom and understanding, and give thee charge concerning Iş'ra-el, [t]that thou mayest keep the law of the LORD thy God.

13 [u]Then shalt thou prosper, if thou takest heed to fulfil the statutes and judgments which the LORD charged Mō'şeş with concerning Iş'ra-el: be strong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be dismayed.

14 Now, behold, in my trouble I have prepared for the house of the LORD an [v]hundred thousand talents of gold, and a [w]thousand thousand talents of silver; and of [x]brass and iron without weight; for it is in abundance: timber also and stone have I prepared; and thou mayest add thereto.

15 Moreover there are workmen with thee in abundance, hewers and workers of stone and timber, and all manner of cunning men for every manner of work.

16 Of the gold, the silver, and the brass, and the iron, there is no number. Arise therefore, and be doing, and the LORD be with thee.

a Ornan no doubt had seen much of the plague and was just as anxious to have it come to an end as David. He was willing to give the field and provide the sacrifices needed (v 22-23). Ornan is called Araunah in 2 Sam. 24, meaning Jehovah is firm. He was one of the unknown number of Jebusites who were left in Jerusalem when David took the city and made it his capital (2 Sam. 5: 6-12). David could have driven every one of the Jebusites out or killed them all; and it would have been legal according to the laws of conquest given to Israel. Therefore, Ornan and all his people owed their very lives to David's generosity. After seeing the angel, he offered the king the place, oxen for sacrifices, and wood from the threshing instruments to burn (v 22-23)

b Threshing instruments or sledges composed of balks of timber, with sharp stone or iron spikes beneath to loosen the grains from the stalk (v 23; 2 Sam. 24:22; Isa. 41:15) c David objected to Ornan giving him something without price, for he had indeed sinned, and Jehovah had commanded him to offer sacrifices at this very place (v 24)

d As a down payment David paid 50 shekels of silver which, at 64¢ each, would be the equivalent of $32.00. See 2 Sam. 24:24. This was only the earnest money until the whole could be paid, for in v 25 the entire price is stated to be 600 shekels of gold, which at $9.69 1/2 each would make the total purchase price $5,817.00. The ground no doubt was that of the entire temple area, about 8 acres. We might say he paid $32.00 for the threshingfloor and $5,817.00 for the whole place besides that e One of a number of offerings particularly accepted by God with the manifestation of fire from heaven - fire not kindled on earth (v 26; Gen. 4:4; 15: 17; Lev. 9:24; 1 Ki. 18:38)

f This shows that angels can carry and use swords like men (v 27)

g When David saw that God answered him by fire from heaven and that the angel stayed his hand at this place, he decided to make it the temple site and offer sacrifices here (v 28; 22:1)

h The tabernacle that Moses made was still in Gibeon; it had not been totally destroyed by the Philistines when they captured the ark as in 1 Sam. 5. By this time it was over 620 years old - a long time for the linen and other materials to last, if such was the case. It may be that some of the cloth and skins of the original tabernacle had been replaced by this time i The idea in this verse is that David was afraid to go to Gibeon to inquire of the Lord lest the angel begin again to destroy the people; that is, he thought he should hasten now to make sacrifices so that the angel would discontinue his slaughter of the people. If he took time to go to Gibeon it might be too late to save them after that (v 30)

j Then - after the plague was stayed over the threshingfloor of Ornan, David called the place the house of the Lord God (v 1)

k Here we have the beginning of gathering the materials for the temple - not counted in the 7 1/2 years of the actual building of it by Solomon (1 Ki. 6:1, 38; 7:1)

l Materials gathered for temple by David:
1 Hewn stones in abundance (v 2, 14)
2 Iron without weight for nails (v 3, 16) (v 3, 14, 16)
3 Brass in abundance without weight
4 Cedar trees in abundance (v 4; 18:8)
5 100,000 talents of gold which at $29,085.00 each would be worth $2,908,500,000.00 (v 14, 16)
6 1,000,000 talents of silver which at $1,920.00 would be worth $1,920,000,000.00 (v 14, 16)
7 Timber in abundance (v 14)
Besides the above materials there were workmen in abundance - hewers of stone and wood, and men who were skilled in every other manner of work (v 15)

m 3 things said by David (v 5):
1 Solomon is young and tender
2 The temple must be exceedingly magnificent 3 The temple must be of fame and glory throughout all countries

b Renowned; magnificent; sublime; impressive; grand; majestic; superb (v 5) c Solomon's charge of David to Solomon:

1 I charge you to build a house for the Lord God of Israel (v 6)
2 As for me, it was in my heart to build a house for His name, but He forbade me, for I had shed blood abundantly and made wars; He told me that in the days of my son, a man of peace, the house should be built (v 7-10)
3 Now, my son, the Lord be with you, and prosper you. Build the house of God as He has said of you (v 11)
4 The Lord give you wisdom and understanding, and charge you concerning Israel that you may keep the law of the Lord your God (v 12)
5 You shall prosper if you take heed to fulfil the statutes and judgments which the Lord charged Moses with concerning Israel (v 13)
6 Be strong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be dismayed
7 In my trouble I have prepared for the house of the Lord 100,000 talents of gold (value: $2,908,500,000.00), 1,000,000 talents of silver (value: $1,920,000,000.00), brass and iron without weight, also timber and stone; you may add to this as you need (v 14)
8 Moreover there are workmen with you in abundance, hewers and workers of stone and timber, and all manner of cunning men for every manner of work. You have the gold, silver, brass and iron without weight and number. Arise therefore, and be doing, and the Lord be with you (v 15-16)

d 6th prophecy in 1 Chr. (22:9-10. V 9 and part of v 10 are fulfilled). Next, 28:6

7 predictions fulfilled:
1 A son shall be born to you (22:9)
2 He shall be a man of rest
3 I will give him rest from all his enemies round about 4 His name shall be Solomon
5 I will give peace and quietness unto Israel in his days
6 He shall build a house for My name (22:10)
7 He shall be to Me a son, and I will be his Father (22:10). This is quoted of Christ in Heb. 1:5-7

Prediction unfulfilled:
I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel forever (22:10; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

e One of 7 men named before birth (note 1, Mt. 1:21)

f This was fulfilled in Solomon and will yet be fulfilled in the Messiah when He comes to build the millennial and eternal temple (Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 6:12-13)

g Perhaps the Lord inspired David to say this to Solomon when he was of tender age, so that he would be impressed with this above all other things. Was it not wisdom and knowledge he prayed for when allowed to ask for anything he wanted? (1 Ki. 3:5-14)

h Solomon did keep the law from his youth and until he was old; then foreign wives turned his heart away from Jehovah (1 Ki. 11:1-8). Although he gave the final right instruction (Eccl. 12:13-14), we do not know whether he obeyed that instruction at the last i This is the whole basis of prosperity in any realm - obeying God to the letter in any given age (v 13; Josh. 1:1-8; Ps. 1:3-4)

j 100,000 talents of gold at $29,085.00 would be $2,908,500,000.00

k 1,000,000 talents of silver at $1,920.00 would be $1,920,000,000.00

l There was so much brass and iron that it was said to be without weight and number of pieces (v 14, 16). This had been gathered for many years from David's spoils of war and no attempt was made to keep account of it. One can only guess the value of such vast amounts. It also appears from v 16 that there was much gold and silver above that which was weighed a After commanding the gathering of the strangers to help (v 2), and charging Solomon, David then commanded the princes of Israel to assist his son, Solomon to build the temple (v 17-19)

b Questions 16-17. Next, 29:5
c This is the most sound advice that can be given any man or group of men. It is the same as Christ gave in Mt. 6:33 - But seek you first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. When one does this with all the heart and soul, all other things will work out for his good; he can build temples, work miracles, and perform innumerable and impossible feats through just such a program as this (v 19)
d 4 commands of David to the princes
1 Help Solomon, my son (v 17)
2 Set your heart and soul to seek the Lord your God (v 19)
3 Arise, and build the sanctuary of the Lord your God
4 Bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and all the holy vessels into the sanctuary to be built to the name of the Lord e This was in his 70th year, for he was 30 when he began to rule and he reigned for 40 years (2 Sam. 5:4-5). Cp. Abraham at 175 years old (Gen. 25:8-9), Isaac at 180 years (Gen. 35:28-29), Jacob at 147 (Gen. 47:28; 48:2), Joshua at 110 (Josh. 13:1; 23:1; 24:29), and Moses at 120 when his natural strength was not abated and his eyesight was not dim (Dt. 34:7). David and several other kings of Israel became old prematurely because of the hard life they lived in war and strain f This was according to Num. 4:3, 23, 35, 47. It was changed to 25 years as in Num. 8:24, and to 20 years by David (v 27)
g David is spoken of here as making 4,000 musical instruments (v 5). This simply means that he authorized them; he also may have designed some of them
h The priests were divided into 24 courses, or classes, having charge of the temple services one week at a time (v 6; 24:1-31)
i The 24 courses of priests were taken from all 3 branches of the Levites:
1 The sons of Gershon (v 7-11)
2 The sons of Kohath (v 12-20)
3 The sons of Merari (v 21-23)

Future regathering of Israel (Isa. 11:11):

The prediction here is that the Lord will gather Israel again a second time. This indicates a previous gathering. When? At the time of the gathering of all members of the 13 tribes who wanted to return to their own land after the Babylonian captivity. This was the first gathering of Israel from among the nations as pictured in Ezra, Nehemiah, Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. They kept coming back in great numbers until they were a great nation again in the days of Christ. He then predicted their defeat by the Romans and the complete destruction of their city and temple again as in the days of Nebuchadnezzar over 600 years before. Furthermore, He predicted the captivity of Israel, or the Jews, among all nations again (Lk. 21:20-24), declaring their house would be left desolate until the latter days (Mt. 23:37-39). The statement again the second time could not have been fulfilled until the first gathering from Babylon and other nations had been accomplished and their second dispersion had come to pass, which was in 70 A.D. when the Romans took them captive among all nations, fulfilling Lk. 21:20-24. God has never regathered them since this dispersion; and if it is ever to take place it will have to be in the future. According to the prediction by Isaiah, the gathering will take place again the second time and then Messiah will rule over the nation forever (9:6-7; 11:1-12; 5; 39:20-21)
35 proofs both houses of Israel will be gathered again from all nations:
1 The Lord will assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four

(4) David charges the princes to help Solomon

●17 ¶ Dā'vid also [c]commanded all the princes of Iṣ'ra-el to help Sŏl'o-mon his son, saying,

18 [b]Is not the LORD your God with you? and hath he not given you rest on every side? for he hath given the inhabitants of the land into mine hand; and the land is subdued before the LORD, and before his people.

●19 Now [c]set your heart and your soul to seek the LORD your God; [d]arise therefore, and build ye the sanctuary of the LORD God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and the holy vessels of God, into the house that is to be built to the name of the LORD.

361 CHAPTER 23

(5) Solomon made king (1 Ki. 1:36-40)

SO when Dā'vid was [e]old and full of days, he made Sŏl'o-mon his son king over Iṣ'ra-el.

12 Religious appointments (23:2-26:28). (1) Assembly of Israel's leaders

2 ¶ And he gathered together all the princes of Iṣ'ra-el, with the priests and the Lē'vītes.

(2) Levites numbered: 38,000 30 years and older

3 Now the Lē'vītes were numbered from the age of [f]thirty years and upward: and their number by their polls, man by man, was thirty and eight thousand.

(3) Services of the Levites: 24,000 workers, 6,000 officers and judges, 4,000 porters, and 4,000 musicians

4 Of which, twenty and four thousand were to set forward the work of the house of the LORD; and six thousand were officers and judges:

5 Moreover four thousand were porters; and four thousand praised the LORD with the instruments [g]which I made, said Dā'vid, to praise therewith.

6 And Dā'vid divided [h]them into courses among the sons of Lē'vī, [i]namely, Gēr'shŏn, Kō'hath, and Mĕ-rā'rī.

(4) Sons of Gershon (6:20; Num. 3:21)

7 ¶ Of the Gēr'shon-ītes were, Lā'a-dăn, and Shĭm'e-ī.

8 The sons of Lā'a-dăn; the chief was Jĕ-hi'el, and Zē'tham, and Jō'el, three.

9 The sons of Shĭm'e-ī; Shĕl'o-mĭth, and Hā'zi-el, and Hā'ran, three. These were the chief of the fathers of Lā'a-dăn.

10 And the sons of Shĭm'e-ī were, Jā'hăth, Zī'nā, and Jē'ŭsh, and Bĕ-rī'ah. These four were the sons of Shĭm'e-ī.

11 And Jā'hăth was the chief, and Zī'zah the second: but Jē'ŭsh and Bĕ-rī'ah had not many sons; therefore they were in one reckoning, according to their father's house.

(5) Sons of Kohath (6:22; Num. 3:27)

12 ¶ The sons of Kō'hath; Ăm'răm, Iz'här, Hĕ'bron, and Ŭz'zi-el, four.

13 The sons of Ăm'răm; Aär'on and Mō'sēs: and Aär'on was [e]separated, that he should sanctify the most holy things, he and his sons for ever, to burn incense before the LORD, to minister unto him, and to bless in his name for ever.

14 Now concerning Mō'sēs the man of God, his sons were named of the tribe of Lē'vī.

15 The sons of Mō'sēs were, Gēr'shŏm, and Ĕ-li-ē'zēr.

16 Of the sons of Gēr'shŏm, Shĕb'u-el was the chief.

17 And the sons of Ĕ-li-ē'zēr were, Rē-ha-bī'ah the chief. And Ĕ-li-ē'zēr had none other sons; but the sons of Rē'ha-bī'ah were very many.

18 Of the sons of Iz'här; Shĕl'o-mĭth the chief.

19 Of the sons of Hē'bron; Jĕ-rī'ah the first, Ăm-a-rī'ah the second, Jā-hā'zi-el the third, and Jĕk-a-mē'am the fourth.

20 Of the sons of Ŭz'zi-el; Mī'cah the first, and Jĕ-sī'ah the second.

(6) Sons of Merari (6:29; Num. 3:33)

21 ¶ The sons of Mĕ-rā'rī; Mäh'li, and Mū'shi. The sons of Mäh'li; Ĕ-le-ā'zar, and Kish.

22 And Ĕ-le-ā'zar died, and had no sons, but daughters: and their brethren the sons of Kish took them.

23 The sons of Mū'shi; Mäh'li, and Ĕ'dĕr, and Jĕr'e-mŏth, three.

(7) David changes age of service from 30 to 20 years old (Cp. vs. 3)

24 ¶ These were the sons of Lē'vī after the house of their fathers; even the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the service of the house of the LORD, [b]from the age of twenty years and upward.

25 For Dā'vid said, The LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el hath given rest unto his people, [c]that they may dwell in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm for ever:

26 And also unto the Lē'vītes; they shall no more carry the tabernacle, nor any vessels of it for the service thereof.

27 For by the last words of Dā'vid the Lē'vītes were numbered from twenty years old and above:

(8) Service of the Levites

a Aaron sanctified for 4 reasons (v 13):
1 That he and his sons should sanctify the holy things eternally
2 To burn incense before Jehovah
3 To minister to Him
4 To bless His name eternally
b See note f, v 3, and v 27
c This was God's original intention, but because of sin they were driven from Jerusalem and all the holy land; but in the future they will be restored and fulfil God's purpose to the letter (v 25; Isa. 11:1-12, notes)
d This gives the reason for the changing of the age of the Levites who served, from 30 years to 20 (v 27-28; note f, v 3)
e 20 duties of the Levites:
1 To wait on Aaron's sons, the priests for the service of the temple (v 28)
2 In the courts
3 In chambers
4 In purifying the holy things
5 In all the work of the house of God
6 For the showbread (v 29)
7 For the fine flour for meat offerings
8 For unleavened cakes
9 For bread baked in the pan
10 For that which was fried
11 For all manner of measure and size (having charge of weights and measures)
12 To stand every morning to thank and praise the Lord (v 30)
13 To stand every evening to thank and praise the Lord
14 To offer burnt sacrifices to the Lord on the sabbaths (v 31)
15 To offer sacrifices in the new moons
16 To offer sacrifices in the feasts
17 To keep the charge of the tabernacle
18 To take charge of the holy place
19 To assist the priests in all work 20 To do all the work around the house of the Lord corners of the earth (11:11-12)

2 The Lord will yet choose Israel and Jacob, and will set them in their own land (not in a new land never promised, 14:1)
3 The people (Gentiles) shall bring them to their own place... the house of Israel shall possess their oppressors (14:2)
4 Ye shall be gathered one by one, ye children of Israel... and shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Jerusalem (27:12-13)
5 I will bring thy seed (Israel-Jacob) from the east, west, north, and south ... from the ends of the earth. Even every one that is called by My name (43:5-6)
6 Bring My sons from afar (60:9-22)
7 They shall bring all your brethren ... to My holy mountain Jerusalem (66:20)
8 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the Lord... In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they (both houses of Israel) shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance to your fathers (Jer. 3:17-18)
9 The days come... the Lord liveth, that brought the children of Israel... from all lands whither He had driven them: and I will bring them again into their own land that I gave to their fathers (Jer. 16:14-16; 23:5-8)
10 I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds... they shall fear no more (Jer. 23:3-8)
11 Judah... I will bring them again to this land and I will build them (Jer. 24:5-7) 12 I will bring again the captivity of My people Israel and Judah... I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it... these are the words the Lord spake concerning Israel and Judah ... in the latter days you shall consider it... At that time I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people... I will gather a The 24 divisions of the priests were made between the chief men of only 2 sons of Aaron - Eleazar and Ithamar, for Nadab and Abihu had died by a judgment of God while offering strange fire before the Lord in a drunken state (v 1-2; Lev. 10). They had no children. There were more chief men from Eleazar than Ithamar, and thus were they divided: 16 men from Eleazar and 8 from Ithamar (v 3-4). These 24 chief men were governors of the house of the Lord in their own turn, one week at a time (v 5). Lots were drawn first for the house of Eleazar and then the house of Ithamar to decide the order of the courses. Each lot was recorded by the scribe before the king (v 6) b In v 7-19 we have the order of the lots cast from 1 to 24, so that all would know when their week of service began. This casting of lots was no doubt determined by the Urim and Thummim (Ex. 28:30, note)

Healing and chastening (Job 33:19):

No man needs chastening by the method here unless he is a rebel against God as stated in v 14. In that case the procedure is that God permits Satan to afflict him in a final effort to bring him back to Himself. God does not permit any such affliction as described in v 19-22 unless it is absolutely necessary, after rejection as in v 14-18, the only exception being this rare case of Job. The fact is that no other person, as far as we know, has been tried in the way Job was, as an example for others, and even this was not a chastening of God. See note c, 1:11; note c, 1:21. It was important that we have the experience of such a man in the Bible, and for this reason we were given the book of Job. The man's life-story should not be used as an excuse for unbelief. Job did not have the Bible and its faith-building promises as we have today; so we are without excuse. Christians are to resist the devil in his attacks and he will flee from them (Jas. 4:7; Pet. 5:8-9). One can be quickly freed from the adversities Job endured, by appropriating the benefits now revealed in both Testaments (Ps. 34:9-10; 37:1-8; 84:11; 91:1-12; 103:1-4; Mt. 7:7-11; 8:17; 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Lk. 11:1-13; 18:1-8; 24:49; Jn. 10:10; 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Acts 1:4-8; 2:38-39; 5:32; 1 Cor. 12:1-11; 2 Cor. 1:20; Eph. 6:10-18; Heb. 2:1-4; 11:6; Jas. 5:14-16; 1 Jn. 3:21-22; 5:13-14). It is the blood-bought right, the promised right, the gospel right, and the divine right of Christians to have what is provided through the atonement. See Healing and Chastening in Index

CHAPTER 24

(9) Divisions of priests in 24 courses of only two sons of Aaron; 16 from Eleazar and 8 from Ithamar

NOW these are [a]the divisions of the sons of Aär'on. The sons of Aär'on; Nā'dăb, and Ă-bī'hū, Ĕ-le-ā'zar, and Ĭth'a-mär.

2 But Nā'dăb and Ă-bī'hū died before their father, and had no children: therefore Ĕ-le-ā'zar and Ĭth'a-mär executed the priest's office.

3 And Dā'vid distributed them, both Zā'dŏk of the sons of Ĕ-le-ā'zar, and Ă-hĭm'e-lĕch of the sons of Ĭth'a-mär, according to their offices in their service.

4 And there were more chief men found of the sons of Ĕ-le-ā'zar than of the sons of Ĭth'a-mär; and thus were they divided. Among the sons of Ĕ-le-ā'zar there were sixteen chief men of the house of their fathers, and eight among the sons of Ĭth'a-mär according to the house of their fathers.

5 Thus were they divided by lot, one sort with another; for the governors of the sanctuary, and governors of the house of God, were of the sons of Ĕ-le-ā'zar, and of the sons of Ĭth'a-mär.

6 And Shĕm-a-ī'ah the son of Nĕ-thăn'e-el the scribe, one of the Lē'vītes, wrote them before the king, and the princes, and Zā'dŏk the priest, and Ă-hĭm'e-lĕch the son of Ă-bī'a-thär, and before the chief of the fathers of the priests and Lē'vītes: one principal household being taken for Ĕ-le-ā'zar, and one taken for Ĭth'a-mär.

(10) Numbering by lot the heads of the 24 courses of the priests, not the Levites

7 [b]Now the first lot came forth to Jĕ-hoi'a-rīb, the second to Jĕ-dā'iah,

8 The third to Hā'rim, the fourth to Sĕ-ō'rim,

9 The fifth to Măl-chī'jah, the sixth to Mĭj'a-mĭn,

10 The seventh to Hăk'kŏz, the eighth to Ă-bī'jah,

11 The ninth to Jĕsh'u-ah, the tenth to Shĕc-a-nī'ah,

12 The eleventh to Ĕ-lī'a-shīb, the twelfth to Jā'kim,

13 The thirteenth to Hŭp'pah, the fourteenth to Jĕ-shĕb'e-ăb,

14 The fifteenth to Bĭl'gah, the sixteenth to Ĭm'mĕr,

15 The seventeenth to Hē'zīr, the eighteenth to Ăph'sēs,

16 The nineteenth to Pĕth-a-hi'ah, the twentieth to Jĕ-hĕz'e-kĕl, 17 The one and twentieth to Jā'chin, the two and twentieth to Gā'mŭl, 18 The three and twentieth to Dĕl-a-ī'ah, the four and twentieth to Mā-a-zī'ah.

19 These were the orderings of them in their service to come into the house of the LORD, according to their manner, under Aär'on their father, as the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el had commanded him.

(11) Levites also divided by lot into 24 courses

20 ¶ And the [a]rest of the sons of Lē'vī were these: Of the sons of Ăm'răm; Shŭ'ba-el: of the sons of Shŭ'ba-el; Jehdē'iah.

21 Concerning Rē-ha-bī'ah: of the sons of Rē-ha-bī'ah, the first was Ĭs-shī'ah.

22 Of the Iz'här-ītes; Shĕl'ŏmŏth: of the sons of Shĕl'ŏmŏth; Jā'hăth.

23 And the sons of Hē'bron; Jĕ-rī'ah the first, Ăm-a-rī'ah the second, Jā-hā'zi-el the third, Jĕk-a-mē'am the fourth.

24 Of the sons of Ŭz'zĭ-el; Mī'chah: of the sons of Mĭ'chah; Shā'mĭr.

25 The brother of Mī'chah was Ĭs-shī'ah: of the sons of Ĭs-shī'ah; Zĕch-a-rī'ah.

26 The sons of Mĕ-rā'rī were Măh'lī and Mū'shī: the sons of Jā-a-zī'ah; Bē'nō.

27 ¶ The sons of Mĕ-rā'rī by Jā-a-zī'ah; Bē'nō, and Shō'hăm, and Zăc'cur, and Ĭb'rī.

28 Of Măh'lī came Ĕ-le-ā'zar, who had no sons.

29 Concerning [b]Kĭsh: the son of Kĭsh was Jĕ-răh'me-el.

30 The sons also of Mū'shī; Măh'lī, and Ē'dĕr, and Jĕr'ĭmŏth. These were the sons of the Lē'vītes after the house of their fathers.

31 These likewise cast lots over against their brethren the sons of Aär'on in the presence of Dā'vid the king, and Zā'dŏk, and Ă-hĭm'e-lĕch, and the chief of the fathers of the priests and Lē'vītes, even the principal fathers over against their younger brethren.

Spirit and Breath (Job 34:14)

Here we have a definite statement that distinguishes between the spirit and the breath of man. The breath is simply that part of the human mechanism which helps to keep the body and soul together. It is not the same as the inner man which is made up of soul and spirit. There is infinitely more to the inner man than there is to breath. Many things are said of both soul and spirit that could not be said of mere breath. Note how ridiculous certain passages would be if we substituted breath for spirit and soul in an effort to teach that the spirit and soul of man are nothing but breath, as some do:

1 His spirit (breath) and his breath (v 14)
2 His spirit (breath) was troubled (Gen. 41:8)
3 Woman has a familiar spirit (breath, Lev. 20:27; 1 Sam. 28:7) 30)
4 Hardened his spirit (breath, Dt. 2:
5 I am a woman of sorrowful spirit (breath, 1 Sam. 1:15)
6 Sad spirit (breath, 1 Kl. 21:5)
7 Lying spirit (breath, 1 Kl. 22:21-24)
8 Contrite spirit (breath, Ps. 34:18)
9 Haughty spirit (breath, Pr. 16:18)
10 Humble spirit (breath, Pr. 16:19)
11 Wounded spirit (breath, Pr. 18:14)
12 Vexed spirit (breath, Eccl. 1:14)
13 Erred in spirit (breath, Isa. 29:24)
14 Worship the Father in spirit (breath, Jn. 4:23)
15 Sadducees did not believe in spirit (breath, Acts 23:8-9)
16 Renewed in the spirit (breath) of your mind (Eph. 4:23)
17 Your whole spirit (breath) and soul (breath, 1 Th. 5:23)
18 Dividing asunder soul (breath) and spirit (breath, Heb. 4:12)
19 Believe not every spirit (breath, 1 Jn. 4:1-6)
20 His soul (breath) clave to Dinah (Gen. 34:3)
21 Soul (breath) in hell (Ps. 16:10)
22 Converting the soul (breath, Ps. 19:7)
23 Leanness of soul (breath, Ps. 106:15)
24 Afflict soul (breath, Isa. 58:5)

26 Say to my soul (breath), Soul (breath) you have much goods (Lk. 12:19)
27 Saw the souls (breath) under the altar (Rev. 6:9-11)
28 Saw the souls (breath) of them that were beheaded (Rev. 20:4) a This perhaps refers only to the sacred singing and inspirational music, not necessarily to the predicting of future events. In 1 Cor. 14:3 prophesying is said to be speaking to men to edification, exhortation, and comfort. Here, this was accomplished by singing and music (v 1). This seems to be thus explained in v 3 - as giving thanks and praising God with music and singing. Such work seemed to be divided among the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun

1 The sons of Asaph (v 2)
2 The sons of Jeduthun (v 3)
3 The sons of Heman (v 4-7)
b There were 288 skilled musicians and singers. These were divided into 24 courses of 12 to each course (v 8-21) them from the coasts of the earth... He that scattered Israel shall gather him... they shall come to Zion... I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah... they shall be My people (Jer. 30:3-31:40; 32:37-44)

13 I will cause the captivity of Judah and Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first (one nation, no more divided)... In those days... I will cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up into David... In those days Judah shall be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely... David will never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel (Jer. 33:6-26; 46:27-28)

14 I will bring Israel again to his habitation... In those days... the iniquity of Israel... and the sins of Judah will be sought for and they shall not be found (Jer. 50:19-20; Zech. 12:10-12; Rom. 11:25-29)

15 I will gather you out of all countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel. I will give them a new heart and spirit and they shall be My people, and I will be their God (Ezek. 11:17-20; 16:60-63)

16 I will bring you out of all countries ... I will bring you into the bond of the covenant. And I will purge out from among you the rebels... For in My holy mountain... there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land, serve Me... I will bring you out of the countries wherein you have been scattered... You shall know that I am Jehovah, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for which I lifted up My hand to give it to your fathers (Ezek. 20:33-44)

17 When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their own land that I have given to Jacob... they shall dwell safely... with confidence (Ezek. 28:25-26)

18 I will search out My sheep... As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day they are scattered... I will bring them out from all countries and bring them into their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel... I will set up one shepherd over them... even My servant David (Ezek. 34:11-31)

19 Concerning the land of Israel... I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it (not leaving Judah out)... I will take you from the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land... I will give you a new heart... You shall dwell in the land that I gave your fathers... In that day I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities... This land shall become like the garden of Eden (Ezek. 36:6-38)

20 These bones are the whole house of Israel (not Judah only)... I will open your graves, and bring you into your own land... I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen... I will make them one nation upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all... They shall dwell in the land that I have given to Jacob... My servant David will be their prince forever (Ezek. 37)

(13) 4,000 porters (23:5) divided into 24 courses by lot and ruled by the 93 chiefs. A Porters of the temple service

CONCERNING the [a]divisions of the [b]porters: Of the Kŏr'hites was Mĕ-shĕl-e-mī'ah the son of Kō'rĕ, of the sons of Ā'saph.

2 And the sons of Mĕ-shĕl-e-mī'ah were, Zĕch-a-rī'ah the firstborn, Jĕ-dī'a-el the second, Zĕb-a-dī'ah the third, Jăth'nĭ-el the fourth,

3 Ē'lăm the fifth, Jĕ-hō-hā'nan the sixth, Ē-lī-o-ē'na-ī the seventh.

4 Moreover the sons of Ō'bed-ē'dom were, Shĕm-a-ī'ah the firstborn, Jĕ-hŏz'a-băd the second, Jō'ah the third, and Sā'căr the fourth, and Nĕ-thăn'e-el the fifth,

5 Ăm'mĭ-el the sixth, Ĭs'sa-char the seventh, Pĕ-ŭl'thāi the eighth: for God blessed him.

6 Also unto Shĕm-a-ī'ah his son were sons born, that ruled throughout the house of their father: for they were mighty men of valour.

7 The sons of Shĕm-a-ī'ah; Ŏth'nī, and Rē'pha-el, and Ō'bed, Ēl'za-băd, whose brethren were strong men, Ē-lī'hŭ, and Sĕm-a-chī'ah.

8 All these of the sons of Ō'bed-ē'dom: they and their sons and their brethren, able men for strength for the service, were threescore and two of Ō'bed-ē'dom.

9 And Mĕ-shĕl-e-mī'ah had sons and brethren, strong men, eighteen.

10 Also Hŏ'sah, of the children of Mĕ-rā'rī, had sons; Shĭm'rī the chief, (for though he was not the firstborn, yet his father made him the chief;)

11 Hĭl-kī'ah the second, Tĕba The porters also were divided into 24 courses, like the priests, the Levites, and the singers and musicians. The names of the chief porters are given, as are the names of the priests, Levites, and singers (26:1-28)

21 In the latter years... In the latter days I will bring you (Antichrist) against My land of Israel... I will set My glory among the heathen... So the house of Israel shall know that I am Jehovah from that day and forward (Ezek. 38-39)

22 The children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head (Hos. 1:10-11)

23 The children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, prince, sacrifice, image, ephod, and teraphim. Afterward shall the children of Israel return (to their land), and seek the Lord, and David their king; and shall fear the Lord and His goodness in the latter days (Hos. 3:4-5)

24 In those days, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem... the Lord will be the hope of His people, and the strength of the children of Israel... Judah shall dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation... for the Lord dwelleth in Zion (Joel 3)

25 I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like corn is sifted in a sieve... In the day I will raise up the tabernacle of David which is fallen... I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old... And I will bring again the captivity of My people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities and inhabit them... And I will plant them in their own land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them (Amos 9:9-15)

The apostle James, the half-brother of Jesus Christ, said that this prophecy of Amos would be fulfilled after the church age and said that all the prophets agreed with this (Acts 15:13-18)

26 Upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and there shall be holiness: and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions (possess the promised land) ... the captivity of this host of the children of Israel shall possess that of the Canaanites... the captivity of Jerusalem (Judah) shall possess the cities of the south. And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge... and the kingdom shall be the Lord's (Ob:. 7-21)

Paul, the apostle, said that this deliverance on mount Zion would be at the return of Christ and when the fulness of the Gentiles be come in, and that at that time all Israel should be saved (Rom. 11:25-29)

27 I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as sheep ... the Lord at the head of them... the Lord shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever ... the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem (Mic. 2:12-13; 4:1-8)

28 Therefore will He (the Messiah of v 1-2) give them (Israel) up until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth (the woman has brought forth the manchild, Isa. 66:7-8; Dan. 12:1; Rev. 12): then the remnant of His (the Messiah's) brethren shall return unto the children of Israel... the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people ... And I will execute vengeance upon the heathen (Mic. 5:3-15)

29 The remnant of the house of Judah shall feed thereupon... the Lord their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity... for My determination is to gather all nations... assemble all kingdoms, to pour upon them all My fierce anger... the remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies ... the king of Israel, even the Lord, is in the midst of you: you shall not see evil any more. In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear not... The

c In these verses (v 20-28) we have the porters named who were over the treasuries of the house of the Lord and the dedicated things in Israel

Lord thy God in the midst of you is mighty... At that time I will bring you again, even in the time that I gather you... when I turn back your captivity (Zeph. 2:7-3:20)

30 Many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day... the Lord shall inherit Judah His portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again (Zech. 2:8-13)

31 I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain... old men and women and boys and girls shall dwell there... I will save My people... I will bring them and they shall dwell in Jerusalem: and they shall be My people, and I will be their God in truth and righteousness (Zech. 8:1-8)

32 I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them (both houses of Israel) again to place them... they shall walk in My name (Zech. 10:6-12)

33 In that day the governors of Judah shall be like an hearth among burning wood (remain after the wood is devoured)... Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem. The Lord shall save the tents of Judah first... In that day the Lord shall defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is feeble among them shall be as David; and the house of David shall be like God... in that day I will seek to destroy all nations that come against Jerusalem. I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the spirit of grace and supplications... In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and uncleanness... one shall say into Him, What are these wounds in Thine hands? Then He shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of My friends (Judah and Israel)... two parts shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part through the fire (future great tribulation) and will refine them as silver... Behold the day of the Lord cometh... For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle ... Then shall the Lord go forth and fight against those nations... His feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives... the Lord my God cometh and all the saints with Thee... the Lord shall be king over all the earth in that day... Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited... Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem... everyone that is left of all these nations shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles... In that day... every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto the Lord (Zech. 12:1-14:21)

34 Who may abide in the day of His coming... Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old... I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord... he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to the fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse (Mal. 3:2-5; 4:1-6)

35 He shall send forth His angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together His elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other (Mt. 24:31)

a-lī'ah the third, Zĕch-a-rī'ah the fourth: all the sons and brethren of Hō'sah were thirteen.

12 Among these were the divisions of the porters, even among the chief men, having wards one against another, to minister in the house of the LORD.

B Porters of the gates

13 ¶ And they [c]cast lots, as well the small as the great, according to the house of their fathers,[b]for every gate.

14 And the lot eastward fell to Shĕl-e-mī'ah. Then for Zĕch-a-rī'ah his son, a wise counsellor, they cast lots; and his lot came out northward.

15 To Ō'bĕd-ē'dom southward; and to his sons the house of Â-sŭp'pim.

16 To Shŭp'pim and Hō'sah the lot came forth westward, with the gate Shăl'le-chĕth, by the causeway of the going up, ward against ward.

17 Eastward were six Lĕ'vītes, northward four a day, southward four a day, and toward Â-sŭp'pim two and two.

18 At Pär'bar westward, four at the causeway, and two at Pär'bar.

19 These are the divisions of the porters among the sons of Kō'rĕ, and among the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī.

C Porters over the treasures

20 ¶ And of the Lĕ'vītes, Â-hī'jah was[c]over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the dedicated things.

21 As concerning the sons of Lā'a-dăn; the sons of the Gĕr'shon-īte Lā'a-dăn, chief fathers, even of Lā'a-dăn the Gĕr'shon-īte, were Jĕ-hī'e-lī.

22 The sons of Jĕ-hī'e-lī; Zĕ'tham, and Jō'el his brother, which were over the treasures of the house of the LORD.

23 Of the Am'ram-ītes, and the Iz'hăr-ītes, the Hĕ'bron-ītes, and the Uz'zī-el-ītes:

24 And Shĕb'u-el the son of Gĕr'shŏm, the son of Mō'sĕs, was ruler of the treasures.

25 And his brethren by Ĕ-lī-ē'zĕr; Rĕ-ha-bī'ah his son, and Jĕ-shā'iah his son, and Jō'ram his son, and Zĭch'rī his son, and Shĕl'o-mĭth his son.

26 Which Shĕl'o-mĭth and his brethren were over all the treasures of the dedicated things, which Dā'vid the king, and the chief fathers, the captains over thousands and hundreds, and the captains of the host, had dedicated.

27 Out of the [d]spoils won in battles did they dedicate to maintain the house of the LORD.

28 And all that Săm'u-el the seer, and Saul the son of Kĭsh, and Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, and Jō'ăb the son of Zĕr-u-ī'ah, had dedicated; and whosoever had dedicated any thing, it was under the hand of Shĕl'o-mĭth, and of his brethren.

13 Civil appointments (1) Officers and judges over government business

29 ¶ Of the Iz'hăr-ītes, Chĕn-a-nī'ah and his sons were for the [e]outward business over Ĭs'ra-el, for [f]officers and judges.

30 And of the Hĕ'bron-ītes, Hăsh-a-bī'ah and his brethren, men of valour, a thousand and seven hundred, were officers among them of Ĭs'ra-el on this side Jôr'dan westward in all the business of the LORD, and in the service of the king.

31 Among the Hĕ'bron-ītes was Jē-rī'jah the chief, even among the Hĕ'bron-ītes, according to the generations of his fathers. In the fortieth year of the reign of Dā'vid they were sought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valour at Jā'zēr of Gĭl'e-ăd.

32 And his brethren, men of [a]valour, were two thousand and seven hundred chief fathers, whom king Dā'vid made rulers over the Reu'ben-ītes, the Gād'ites, and the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh, for every matter pertaining to God, and affairs of the king.

365 CHAPTER 27

(2) Standing army of 288,000 divided into 12 monthly courses of 24,000 each

NOW the children of Ĭs'ra-el after their number, to wit, the chief fathers and captains of thousands and hundreds, and their officers that served the king in any matter of the courses, [c]which came in and went out month by month throughout all the months of the year, of every course were twenty and four thousand.

2 [d]Over the first course for the first month was Jā-shō'be-ăm the son of Zăb'dĭ-el: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

3 Of the children of Pē'rĕz was the chief of all the captains of the host for the first month.

4 And over the course of the second month was Dō'da-ī an Â-hō'hīte, and of his course was Mĭk'loth also the ruler: in his course likewise were twenty and four thousand.

5 The third captain of the host for the third month was Bĕ-nā'iah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dā, a chief priest: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

When God gave the law of Moses He saw that, in the future, Israel would not obey it. He made many predictions then that they would be scattered among the nations and be gathered again in the last days to serve their Messiah in the land. These predictions were made when Israel was one nation; and they must be fulfilled with both houses of Israel, not with Judah only. There is not the slightest reference to Judah being cut off and the 10 tribes being blessed and led to a new promised land, as is sometimes erroneously taught

10 predictions in the law of Moses:

1 I will make your cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation ... I will bring your land into desolation: and your enemies that dwell therein shall be astonished at it. And I will scatter you (the whole 13 tribes, not just Judah) among the heathen... ye shall perish among the heathen... yet for all that, when they be in the land of their enemies, I will not cast them away, neither will I abhor them, to destroy them utterly, and to break My covenant with them (Lev. 26:16-45)

2 When you shall beget children, and children's children, and shall have remained long in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or likeness of any thing, and shall do evil in the sight of the Lord your God, to provoke Him to anger: I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that you shall soon utterly perish from off the land ... you shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall be utterly destroyed. And the Lord shall scatter you among the nations, and you shall be few in number among the heathen... When you are in tribulation, and all these things come upon you, even in the latter days, if you will turn to the Lord, and be obedient unto His voice... He will not forsake you, nor forget the covenant of your fathers (Dt. 4:25-31)

3 The Lord shall bring you, and your king which you shall set over you, unto a nation which neither you nor your fathers have known... you shall become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the Lord shall lead you... you shall be left few in number, whereas you were as the stars in number... you shall be plucked from off the land... the Lord shall scatter you among all people, from one end of the earth even unto the other... among the nations you shall have no assurance of life (Dt. 28:36-66)

4 Even all nations shall say, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus to this land (promised land). Then men will say, because they (all Israel, not Judah only) have forsaken the covenant of the Lord... For they went and served other gods, and worshipped them a 13 princes of Israel:

1 Reubenites - Eliezer (v 16)
2 Simeonites - Shephatiah
3 Levites - Hashabiah (v 17)
4 Aaronites - Zadok
5 Judah - Elihu (v 18)
6 Issachar - Omri
7 Zebulun - Ishmaiah (v 19)
8 Naphtali - Jerimoth
9 Ephraim - Hoshea (v 20)
10 Manasseh (half tribe) - Joel (v 20)
11 Manasseh (half tribe) - Iddo (v 21)
12 Benjamin - Jaasiel
13 Dan - Azareel (v 22)
NOTE: The tribe of Levi is listed here as well as Aronites, but the tribes of Gad and Asher are missing, and for what reason we do not know

b No census was taken of any in the tribes under the age of 20, for by this time the new age limit for entering some service was in force (23:27). This numbering was the same as the Satanic-inspired count of ch. 21, for which God sent a plague which killed 70,000 men in Jerusalem alone. God had promised Israel would be as the sand, dust, and stars - innumerable; and somehow it stirred His wrath for David to undertake any counting of the people whether in doubt of the promise being fulfilled or in plans for future conquests

... And the anger of the Lord was kindled against this land, to bring upon it all the curses that are written in this book. And the Lord rooted them out of their land in His anger, and in His wrath... and cast them into another land, as it is this day (Dt. 29:24-28)

5 When all these things are come upon you... and you call them to mind among all nations whither the Lord has driven you. And you shall return unto the Lord... obey His voice... That then the Lord will turn your captivity ... and will return and gather you from all nations, whither the Lord has scattered you... from there will the Lord gather you... bring you into the land which your fathers possessed, and you shall possess it, and He will do you good, and multiply you above your fathers... and the Lord will put all these curses upon your enemies... you shall return and obey the Lord... if you turn to the Lord with all your heart (Dt. 30:1-10)

6 But if your heart turn away from God to serve other gods... you shall surely perish, and you shall not prolong your days upon the land... choose life that your seed may live... that you may dwell in the land the Lord sware to give your fathers (Dt. 30:13-20)

7 You (Moses) shall sleep with your fathers... and this people shall go a whoring after the gods of strangers ... and break My covenant. Then My anger shall be kindled against them... many evils shall befall them... write this song as a witness against them (Dt. 31:16-21)

8 I know that after my (Moses') death you shall utterly corrupt yourselves... and evil shall befall you in the latter days (Dt. 31:29)

9 I said, I would scatter them into corners, I would make the remembrance of them to cease from among men... the Lord will repent Himself ... and will be merciful unto His land and to His people (Dt. 32:26-44)

10 He shall thrust out the enemy before you... Israel shall then dwell alone; the fountain of Jacob shall be ... saved by the Lord (Dt. 33:27-29)

(4) No census taken of Israel under 20 years of age

23 ¶ But Dā'vid [b]took not the number of them from twenty years old and under: because the LORD had said he would increase Ĭs'ra-el like to the stars of the heavens.

24 Jō'āb the son of Zĕr-ū-ī'ah began to number, but he finished not, because there fell wrath for it against Ĭs'ra-el; neither was the number put in the account of the chronicles of king Dā'vid.

27 And over the vineyards was Shĭm'e-ī the Rā'math-īte: over the increase of the vineyards for the wine cellars was Zăb'dī the Shĭph'mīte:

28 And over the olive trees and the sycomore trees that were in the low plains was Bā'al-hā'nan the Gĕd'e-rīte: and over the cellars of oil was Jō'ăsh:

29 And over the herds that fed in Shär'on was Shĭt'ra-ī the Shär'on-īte: and over the herds that were in the valleys was Shā'phat the son of Ăd'la-ī:

30 Over the camels also was Ō'bĭl the Ĭsh'ma-el-īte: and over the asses was Jeh-dē'iah the Mē-rŏn'o-thīte:

31 And over the flocks was Jā'zĭz the Hā'gēr-īte. All these were the rulers of the substance which was king Dā'vid's.

32 Also [b]Jŏn'a-than Dā'vid's uncle was a counsellor, a wise man, and a scribe: and Jē-hĭ'el the son of Hăch'mō-nī was with the king's sons:

366 CHAPTER 28

14 David's last acts (28:1-29:20. Cp. Gen. 47; Dt. 31:1; 33:1; 1 Ki. 1). (1) David's last assembly of Israel

AND Dā'vid [a]assembled all the princes of Ĭs'ra-el, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies that ministered to the king by course, and the captains over the thousands, and captains over the hundreds, and the stewards over all the substance and possession of the king, and of his sons, with the officers, and with all the valiant men, unto Jē-ru'sā-lĕm.

(2) David's first address to Israel (29:1)

●2 Then Dā'vid the king [a]stood up upon his feet, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: As for me, I had in mine heart to build an house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footstool of our God, and had made ready for the building:

■3 But God said unto me, Thou shalt not build an house for my name, because thou hast been a man of war, and hast shed blood.

4 Howbeit the LORD God of a 9 stewards over the treasuries:

1 Azma-veth over the storehouses in the fields, cities, castles, and villages (v 25)
2 Ezri over the farmers (v 26)
3 Shimei over the vineyards, their fruit, and wine cellars (v 27)
4 Baal-hanan over the olive and sycomore trees, and cellars of oil (v 28)
5 Shitrai the over the herds that fed in Sharon (v 29)
6 Shaphat over the herds that were in the valleys
7 Obil over the camels (v 30)
8 Jeh-dei-ah over the asses
9 Jaziz over the flocks (v 31)

b 9 other officers and counsellors: 32)
1 Jonathan, a counsellor and scribe (v 32)
2 Jehiel - with the king's sons
3 Ahithophel, a counsellor (v 33)
4 Hushai, a counsellor and the king's companion
5 Jehoiada (v 34)
6 Benaiah
7 Abiathar, the high priest
8 Joab, general of the army

c David's last assembly of Israel (v 1):
1 The princes of Israel
2 The princes of the tribes
3 The captains of the companies that ministered to the king by course
4 The captains over the thousands
5 The captains over the hundreds
6 The stewards over all the substance of the possessions of the king
7 The officers
8 The mighty men
9 All the valiant men

d Then - when all the assembly of Israel had gathered, David stood upon his feet and charged them to help Solomon build the temple (v 2-8). Thus, in his dying hour he was more concerned with the house of God than with anything else in his kingdom

e 5 attitudes of David:
1 Watchful, keeping the sheep (1 Sam. 16:11-12) 16:21-23)
2 Standing as a servant (v 3; 1 Sam.
3 Running as a man of war (1 Sam. 17:48)
4 Lying on the earth as a penitent (2 Sam. 12:16; Ps. 51)
5 Sitting before God as a worshipper (17:16; 2 Sam. 7:18)

f 9fold charge of David to Israel:
1 It was in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant, and for the footstool of our God (v 2)
2 I have prepared much material for the building of the temple
3 God forbad me to build it because I have been a man of war, shedding much blood (v 3)
4 God chose me of all the house of my fathers to be king over Israel forever (v 4)
5 He has chosen Judah to be the ruler of all the tribes of Israel
6 He has chosen Solomon of all my sons to be my successor on the throne of Israel (v 5)
7 God has said: Solomon shall build the temple, for I have chosen him to be My son, and I will be his Father (v 6)
8 God has said: I will establish his kingdom forever, if he will be constant to do My commandments, and My statutes, as at this day (v 7)
9 Now therefore, in the sight of all Israel, and in the audience of God, I charge you to seek and keep all the commandments of Jehovah: that you may possess this good land, and leave it for an inheritance for your children after you forever (v 8)

The Word of God (Isa. 55:11)

The Word of God, like rain and snow that water the earth and cause it to produce fruit, will be sowed in the hearts of men and produce fruit in the moral world (v 11; Dt. 32:2). As the rain and snow fall on various kinds of ground, so does the Word of God (Mt. 13:3-8, 20-23). Like rain and snow, it will accomplish its best good in the eternal reign of the Messiah, when the knowledge of the Lord will cover the earth (11:9). Thus, the final fulfillment of this scripture will be in the future; there is only a partial fulfillment at present in the preaching of the gospel a 7th and last prophecy in 1 Chr. (28:6-7. V 8 is fulfilled; v 7 unfulfilled)

2 predictions - fulfilled:
1 He shall build My house and My courts (28:6)
2 He shall be My son, and I will be his father

1 conditional prediction - unfulfilled:
I will establish his kingdom for ever, if he be constant to do My commandments and My judgments, as at this day (28:7)

b This, Solomon literally fulfilled (v 6; 1 Kl. 5:1-8:66)

c This, Solomon also fulfilled for a time, for he was a genuine child of God in his early life. He loved Him and walked in all His statutes (1 Kl. 3:3); and the Lord loved him (2 Sam. 12:24). In later life though, Solomon grew cold toward Jehovah and loved many strange women who turned his heart away from God (1 Kl. 11:1-8). He then became angry with Solomon and turned against him in his backslidings (1 Kl. 11:9-40). The Lord took his kingdom from him and finally destroyed it because of sin. The kingdom will be renewed again when Israel comes to repentance (Zech. 12:10-13:1; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-29); under the Messiah it shall continue eternally (Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10) d If - this implies a condition of blessing, and so do many hundreds of other scriptures throughout the Bible. One cannot transgress and be saved or blessed of God. There are no unconditional covenants or promises in Scripture. The word if is used 1,522 times alone; and there are many other words expressing conditions of God's blessings. Not even grace will permit God to act contrary to His Word and bless any man who goes back into sin, incurring the death penalty. See Backsliding in Index

e After making his 9fold charge to the assembly of Israel, urging them to help his son, Solomon, to build the temple (note d, v 2), David charged Solomon

9fold charge to Solomon:
1 To know God (v 9)
2 To serve Him with a perfect heart, and a willing mind
3 For God searches all hearts
4 He understands all the imaginations of the thoughts
5 If you seek Him, He will be found of you
6 But if you forsake Him, He will cast you off forever
7 Take heed now, for the Lord has chosen you to build the temple (v 10) 8 Be strong, and do it.

f 2 things God always demands of men:
1 To know Him (v 9; Jn. 17:3)
2 To serve Him with a perfect heart and a willing mind (v 9; Gen. 17:1; Mt. 5:48; 1 Cor. 9:17; 1 Pet. 5:2)

g 2 things God always does:
1 Searches the heart (v 9; Rom. 8:27)
2 Understands and knows the imaginations of the thoughts (v 9; Isa. 66:18)

h 2 things God will always do:
1 Reveal Himself to those who seek Him (v 9; 1 Jn. 1:9)
2 Forsake and cast off those who refuse to seek Him, or forsake Him (v 10; 2 Tim. 2:12). See Backsliding in Index

i It is possible for a child of God to forsake Him, or this and many like statements in Scripture would have no meaning. If one does forsake the Lord, God will forsake him and cast him off forever, as declared here (v 10). See Backsliding in Index

j This warning to Solomon who became God's son (v 6), applies to all sons of God; and they must take heed not to forsake Him (v 9-10). See Warnings in Index k God chose Solomon - he did not choose Jehovah first. So it is with all men.

Iṣ'ra-el chose me before all the house of my father to be king over Iṣ'ra-el for ever: for he hath chosen Jū'dah to be the ruler; and of the house of Jū'dah, the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he liked me to make me king over all Iṣ'ra-el:

5 And of all my sons, (for the LORD hath given me many sons,) he hath chosen Sŏl'o-mon my son to sit upon the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Iṣ'ra-el.

6 [c]And he said unto me, Sŏl'o-mon thy son, [b]he shall build my house and my courts: for [c]I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his father.

7 Moreover I will establish his kingdom for ever, [d]if he be constant to do my commandments and my judgments, as at this day.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Iṣ'ra-el the congregation of the LORD, and in the audience of our God, keep and seek for all the commandments of the LORD your God: that ye may possess this good land, and leave it for an inheritance for your children after you for ever.

(3) David's first charge to Solomon (vs. 20; 1 Ki. 2:1)

9 ¶ And [e]thou, Sŏl'o-mon my son, [f]know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind: for [g]the LORD searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: [h]if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou [i]forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever.

10 [j]Take heed now; for the LORD hath [k]chosen thee to build an house for the sanctuary: be strong, and do it.

(4) Spirit inspired patterns for the temple delivered to Solomon (vss. 12, 19. Cp. Ex. 29:40; Heb. 8:5)

11 ¶ [l]Then Dā'vid [m]gave to Sŏl'o-mon his son the pattern of the porch, and of the houses thereof, and of the treasuries thereof, and of the upper chambers thereof, and of the inner parlours thereof, and of the place of the mercy seat,

12 And the pattern of all that he had by the spirit, of the courts of the house of the LORD, and of all the chambers round about, of the treasuries of the house of God, and of the treasuries of the dedicated things:

(5) Spirit inspired temple services delivered to Solomon (vss. 12, 19)

13 [n]Also for the courses of the priests and the Lē'vītes, and for all the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and for all the vessels of service in the house of the LORD.

(6) Spirit inspired weights of gold and silver for the temple furniture delivered to Solomon (vs. 12, 19)

14 [o]He gave of gold by weight for things of gold, for all instruments of all manner of service; silver also for all instruments of silver by weight, for all instruments of every kind of service:

15 Even the weight for the candlesticks of gold, and for their lamps of gold, by weight for every candlestick, and for the lamps thereof: and for the candlesticks of silver by weight, both for the candlestick, and also for the lamps thereof, according to the use of every candlestick.

16 And by weight he gave gold for the tables of shewbread, for every table; and likewise silver for the tables of silver:

17 Also pure gold for the fleshhooks, and the bowls, and the cups: and for the golden basons he gave gold by weight for every bason; and likewise silver by weight for every bason of silver:

18 And for the altar of incense refined gold by weight; and gold for the pattern of the chariot of the cherubims, that spread out their wings, and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

19 [b]All this, said Dā'vid, the LORD made me understand in writing by his hand upon me, even all the works of this pattern.

(7) David's second charge to Solomon (vs. 9: 1 Ki. 2:1)

20 And Dā'vid said to Sŏl'o-mon his son, [c]Be strong and of good courage, and do it: fear not, nor be dismayed: for the LORD God, even my God, will be with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee, until thou hast finished all the work for the service of the house of the LORD.

21 And, behold, the courses of the priests and the Lē'vītes, even they shall be with thee for all the service of the house of God: and there shall be with thee for all manner of workmanship every willing skilful man, for any manner of service; also the princes and all the people will be wholly at thy commandment.

(8) Second address to Israel (28:2). David's personal gift: $87,255,000 in gold and $13,440,000 in silver: total $100,695,000

FURTHERMORE Dā'vid the king said unto all the congregation, [d]Sŏl'o-mon my son, whom alone God hath chosen, is yet young and tender, and the work is great: for the palace is not for man, but for the LORD God.

2 Now I have prepared with all my might for the house of my God the gold for things to be made of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and the a He - God by the Holy Spirit (v 12, 19). In writing God gave by weight the exact amount of gold and silver for the many vessels of the temple, the candlesticks, lamps, tables, fleshhooks, bowls, cups, basons, altar of incense, cherubim, and other pieces of furniture to be made of gold and silver or covered with them (v 14-19)

b David claimed that God revealed to him the exact weight of gold and silver to be used in making all the vessels and pieces of furniture for the temple. He received this in writing by the hand of the Lord upon him (v 19). This is the same idea as in 2 Pet. 1:21 - holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. Cp. Acts 3:21; 2 Tim. 3:15-17

c 2nd 9fold charge to Solomon:
1 Be strong and of good courage, and do it (build the temple, v 20)
2 Fear not, nor be dismayed
3 God will be with you
4 He will not fail you
5 He will not forsake you, but will be with you until you have finished the temple and all its service
6 The courses of the priests and the Levites will be with you for all the service of the temple (v 21)
7 Skilled workmen will be with you for all manner of workmanship on the temple
8 The princes also and all the people will be wholly at your commandment

d 2nd 9fold charge to Israel:
1 Solomon my son, whom God alone has chosen, is yet young and tender (inexperienced), and the work is great (v 1)
2 The temple is not for man, but for the Lord God
3 With all my might I have prepared for the house of God - the gold, silver, brass, iron, wood, onyx stones, all manner of precious stones of different colors, and marble stones in abundance for all the work of the temple (v 2)
4 I have set my affection to the house of my God (v 3)
5 I have of my own proper goods given gold and silver to the house of God
6 Over and above all this I have prepared for the holy house
7 Of my own wealth I have given 3,000 talents of refined gold (worth $87,255,000.00 in our money at $29,085.00 a talent), 7,000 talents of refined silver (worth $13,440,000.00 in our money at $1,920.00 a talent), to overlay the walls of the houses withal (v 4)
8 I have prepared gold and silver for all the work of the temple and the vessels and furniture (v 5) 9 Who then is willing to consecrate his service this day unto the Lord?

God chose to redeem man - man did not choose to have God redeem him. He made His plan known to man and required that every individual choose Him or Satan (Jn. 3:16; 2 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17). Cp. Jn. 15:16

1 Then - on the occasion of charging his son and the whole assembly of Israel, David gave Solomon the pattern of the temple which he had received by the Holy Spirit (v 11-12)

m 10 patterns given to Solomon:
1 The pattern of the porch (v 11)
2 Of the houses thereof
3 Of the treasuries thereof
4 Of the upper chambers
5 Of the inner parlors thereof
6 Of the place of the mercy seat
7 Of the courts of the temple (v 12)
8 Of all the chambers round about 9 Of the treasuries of the dedicated things
10 Of all that he had received by the Holy Spirit

n David also gave Solomon the plan of all the courses of the priests and Levites, and the pattern for all the service of the temple, and the vessels (v 13)

a Onyx stones, glistening stones and precious stones of many colors were used in the temple, but where or how is not explained. The marble stones, of course, were for the foundation and temple walls (v 2)

b 3,000 talents of gold at $29,085.00 a talent would be $87,255,000.00 (v 4) c 7,000 talents of silver at $1,920.00 a talent would be $13,440,000.00 (v 4). This amount added to the $87,255,000.00 of note b, above, would make a total of $100,695,000.00 as David's personal gift of gold and silver

d Question 18, Next, v 14

e Then - after David had revealed that he had personally given what was equal to $100,695,000.00 worth of refined gold and silver, besides what would be many millions of dollars worth of brass, iron, wood, precious stones, marble stones, and other materials, the chief of the fathers and princes of the tribes of Israel, the captains of the thousands, captains of the hundreds, and the rulers of the king's treasuries offered willingly (v 6)

Offerings of the people:

5,000 talents of gold @ $29,085.00 each	$145,425,000.00
10,000 drams of gold @ $5.28 each	52,800.00
10,000 talents of silver @ $1,920.00 each	19,200,000.00
18,000 talents of brass, 1,026 tons or 2,052,000 lbs. @ 51¢ each	1,046,520.00
100,000 talents of iron, 5,700 tons of 11,400,000 lbs. @ 10¢ each	1,140,000.00
Total	168,864,320.00

Besides the above, the people willingly gave many precious stones of unknown value (v 7-9)

f This was the Persian daric, which was $5.28 in our money (v 7)

g 18fold praise to God by David:
1 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel our father, for ever and ever (v 10)
2 Yours is the greatness, the power, the glory, the victory, and the majesty (v 11)
3 All that is in heaven and in earth is Yours
4 You are the exalted head of all
5 Both riches and honor come of You (v 12)
6 You reign over all
7 In Your hand is power and might 8 In Your hand it is to make great 9 You give strength to all
10 We thank You, and praise Your glorious name (v 13)
11 All things come from You (v 14)
12 That which we have given You came from You 13 We are only strangers and sojourners like our fathers: our days on the earth are as a shadow, and there is none abiding 14 All this store which we have prepared for Your temple came from You (v 16)
15 You try the hearts (v 17)
16 You have pleasure in uprightness
17 As for me, I have willingly offered all these things 18 I have seen the joy of Your people, who have also offered willingly to You h Question 19. Last question in 1 Chron.

12 statements about death (Isa. 38:12):
1 The cutting off of days on earth
2 Going to sheol
3 Robbery of the rest of one's years on earth
4 Cutting off one's experiences with the Lord among men (v 11)
5 Being taken away from human society
6 Departure for another place (v 12)
7 Removal of man from earth's scenes
8 Cutting off of life like a weaver cutting his work from the loom 9 Being cut off with sickness
10 The end of man among men
11 The end of praise and celebration to God among men (v 18)
12 The end of seeking and finding truth, or having further hope

None of these ideas imply extinction of being, annihilation, or unconsciousness; they simply indicate a removal to another realm of activity, or being taken from one place to another, as a tent is moved, or a piece of weaving is cut from the loom brass for things of brass, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; [a]onyx stones, and stones to be set, glistering stones, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreover, because I have set my affection to the house of my God, I have of mine own proper good, of gold and silver, which I have given to the house of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy house,

4 Even [b]three thousand talents of gold, of the gold of Ō'phir, and [c]seven thousand talents of refined silver, to overlay the walls of the houses withal:

5 The gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and for all manner of work to be made by the hands of artificers. [d]And who then is willing to consecrate his service this day unto the LORD?

(9) Gifts of the leaders for the temple: $166,864,320.00 (Cp. Ex. 25)

6 ¶ [e]Then the chief of the fathers and princes of the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el, and the captains of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the king's work, offered willingly,

7 And gave for the service of the house of God of gold five thousand talents and ten thousand talents, [f]drams, and of silver ten thousand talents, and of brass eighteen thousand talents, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were found gave them to the treasure of the house of the LORD, by the hand of Jê-hi'el the Gēr'shon-īte.

9 Then the people rejoiced, for that they offered willingly, because with perfect heart they offered willingly to the LORD: and Dā'vid the king also rejoiced with great joy.

(10) David's praise and prayer

10 ¶ Wherefore Dā'vid blessed the LORD before all the congregation: and Dā'vid said, [g]Blessed be thou, LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el our father, for ever and ever.

11 Thine, O LORD, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O LORD, and thou art exalted as head above all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name.

14 [h]But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer so willingly after this sort? for all things come of thee, and of thine own have we given thee.

15 For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, as were all our fathers: our days on the earth are as a shadow, and there is none abiding.

16 O LORD our God, all this store that we have prepared to build thee an house for thine holy name cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own.

17 I know also, my God, that thou triest the heart, and hast pleasure in uprightness. As for me, in the uprightness of mine heart I have willingly offered all these things: and now have I seen with joy thy people, which are present here, to offer willingly unto thee.

18 [i]O LORD God of Ā'brā-hām, I'ṣaac, and of Iṣ'ra-el, our fathers, keep this for ever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heart unto thee:

19 And give unto Sŏl'o-mon my son a perfect heart, to keep thy commandments, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all these things, and to build the palace, for the which I have made provision.

(11) People offer $386,900.00 worth of sacrifices to God

20 ¶ And Dā'vid said to all the congregation, Now bless the LORD your God. And all the congregation blessed the LORD God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worshipped the LORD, and the king.

21 And they sacrificed sacrifices unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings unto the LORD, on the morrow after that day, even a [j]thousand bullocks, a thousand rams, and a thousand lambs, with their drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Iṣ'ra-el:

(12) Solomon made king: accepted by Israel (1 Ki. 1)

22 And did eat and drink before the LORD on that day with great gladness. And they made Sŏl'o-mon the son of Dā'vid king the [k]second time, and anointed him unto the LORD to be the chief governor, and Zā'dŏk to be priest.

23 [l]Then Sŏl'o-mon sat on the throne of the LORD as king instead of Dā'vid his father, and prospered; and all Iṣ'ra-el obeyed him.

24 And all the princes, and the mighty men, and all the sons likewise of king Dā'vid, submitted themselves unto Sŏl'o-mon the king.

25 And the LORD [m]magnified Sŏl'o'mon exceedingly in the sight of all Iṣ'ra-el, and bestowed upon him such royal majesty as had not been on any king before him in Iṣ'ra-el.

(13) Reign and death of David (2 Sam. 2:1-1 Ki. 2:11)

26 ¶ Thus Dā vid the son of Jĕs'se reigned over all Iṣ'ra-el.

27 And the time that he reigned over Iṣ'ra-el was forty years; seven years reigned he c 2 anointings of Solomon:

1 When they hurried David to decide on Solomon as king, and he was anointed by a limited gathering of Israel (1 Ki. 1)
2 At this great assembly of all Israel (v 22)

d Then - after the 2nd anointing of Solomon, he assumed the full authority as king (v 23-24)

e God did this through the great blessing of spiritual revival among Israelites at this time (v 25, Cp. v 17, 21-22)

7 regrets of a dying man (Isa. 38:10):
1 I am deprived of the rest of my years
2 I will not see the Lord in the land of the living
3 I will not behold man with the inhabitants of the world
4 My plans for serving God among men are ended
5 My plans for helping my fellowmen on earth are blasted
6 My age is departed; I am too young to die; my useful years are removed like a shepherd's tent
7 My life is cut off like a weaver taking his work from the loom and departing with it

Thin curtain (Isa. 40:22)

Heb. dōq, something crumbling; fine, as a thin cloth; curtain (v 22). Could this refer to the protective covering of the atmosphere which has just the right density to sustain life on earth? They tell us that the sun throws out various kinds of violet rays - some deadly, some life-giving. We are shielded from at least 8 harmful rays by a layer of ozone about 1/8 in. thick. This seems to be the proper thickness to allow beneficial rays to come through as well as to protect us from destructive ones. If this curtain were removed, life on earth would come to an end, for the harmful rays would blind, blister, and kill. If it were thicker it would prevent the needful rays from coming through; and life would perish thereby. Regarding the atmosphere we are told that at 8 miles up it is 67 degrees below zero and at 30 miles it is 170 above. We are shielded from a constant barrage of meteors from outer space, the majority of which burn up before reaching the earth. Billions of meteoric bodies are said to invade the atmosphere each day to be destroyed by friction; and about 100,000 tons of star dust falls to the earth each year. Dust in the atmosphere, along with reflection from the sun, contributes to the making of light, rain, and snow. Otherwise, they say, the heavens would be black; even now they are black 17 miles up, with a luminous glow below. The protective covering of ozone is about 40 miles up. We live at the very bottom of an ocean of air which provides us with life-giving oxygen; and the atmosphere is a perfect blanket or curtain of insulation against both heat and cold. It prevents the rapid escape of heat that keeps us from freezing; and it also acts as a great reservoir and distributer of heat and light from the sun. Thus, God has adjusted earth, atmosphere and the heavens to sustain life a To be exact it was 7 1/2 years (2 Sam. 5:5) b See note e, 23:1

c 3 things David "full of":
1 Full of days (v 28)
2 Full of riches
3 Full of honor
d David lived about 25,568 days, which was nothing compared to what God's plan was when man was created. God intended he should live eternal days and never grow old; but sin caused man to come short of the glory of God (Rom. 3:23)
e David was one of the world's richest men. He gave over $100,000,000.00 in gold and silver to build the temple, besides millions of dollars worth of other gifts f As to honor, he has received this from all nations throughout the centuries past and is today one of the most known and honored men. Even the bitter haters of the Jews recognize his greatness

3 Heb. nabi, a prophet; an inspired man. It is trans. consistently prophet and prophets, except in Dan. 9:24 where it is trans. prophecy. It is trans. prophet 162 times; prophets 144 times; prophecy (Dan. 9:24), and prophet's (Amos 7:14). The prophet was a spokesman; one who spoke for another. The term was first used of Abraham (Gen. 20:7). See list of prophets, p. 731

Great Bible doctrines in Book of Job (Job 2:10):

We rightly suppose that Job was a very religious man, and that he was acquainted with God and religion as it was understood and practiced in those days. He no doubt knew of the many traditions and revelations of God up to that time, being a grandson of Jacob. He was born about 352 years after Noah died, and about 200 years after Shem died. This would allow for dates as follows:
1 Shem 502 years after flood (Gen. 11:10-11), or contemporary with Abraham 75 years. He died the year Abraham left for Canaan (Gen. 12:4)
2 Abraham 25 years to Isaac (Gen. 21:5)
3 Isaac 60 years to Jacob (Gen. 25:26)
4 Jacob was about 85 when Issachar was born.
5 Issachar was about 30 years old when Job was born (Gen. 46:13)
6 Job was about 70 when he was afflicted, according to some scholars. This would make it only 772 years after the flood

From the above we can understand how Job could know about the religious belief and practices of Shem, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob -their spiritual experiences and the doctrines adhered to. We find many of the great doctrines of the Bible in the book of Job

The doctrine of God:

The characters of Job all believed in one Supreme Being, called Elohim, God, referring to the Divine Trinity of separate persons in the Godhead. Elohim occurs 16 times in the book (1:1-22; 2:1-10; 5:8; 22:29; 28:23; 32:2; 34:9; 38:7); El, the Strong One -the Almighty, 54 times (5:8; 8:3-20; 9:2; 12:6; 13:3-8; 15:4, 11-25; 16:11; 18:21; 19:22; 20:15, 29; 21:14, 22; 22:13, 17; 23:16; 25:4; 27:9, 11-22; 31:14-28; 32:13; 33:4, 14, 29; 34:10-37; 35:13; 36:5, 22-26; 37:5-14; 38:41; 40:9, 19); and Eloah, the Living God, in contrast with idols, the object of worship of His people, 41 times (3:4, 23; 4:9, 17; 5:17; 6:4-8; 9:13; 10:2; 11:5-7; 12:4, 6; 15:8; 16:20-21; 19:6, 21, 26; 21:9, 19; 22:12, 26; 24:12; 27:3-8, 10; 29:2-4; 31:2-6; 33:12, 26; 35:10; 37:15, 22; 39:17; 40:2, 9). God is also called Jehovah 31 times (trans. Lord, 1:6-21; 2:1-7; 38:1; 40:1-6; 42:1-12), and Adonai, Lord, once (28:28)

10 In times past man had to offer animal sacrifices to worship God and atone for sin (1:5; 42:8)
11 Man must find a ransom for his soul to be delivered from the pit (33:28-29)
12 Must become acquainted with God to have peace (22:21)
13 Man's acquaintance with God is by His Word (22:22)
14 Can be justified with God (9:2; 25:4)
15 Perfect ones not cast away (8:20)
16 Needs an interpreter sent of God to show him God's redemption (33:23-28)
17 Can be healed physically when he learns of the provision of God (33:14-28)

32 Wicked men will perish eternally; that is, be punished forever (20:7) 33 Intermediate state of those who die is in sheol, beneath the earth (11:8; 14:13; 17:13-16). The Rephaim (offspring of giants) are there also (26:5-6). Sheol is not the grave, for it is compared to the height of heaven (11:8-9). A grave on the earth would be too shallow for such comparison. The soul (of the wicked at the present time) goes to sheol, whereas the body goes to the grave (33:22). See Hell in Index
34 Both the righteous and the wicked shall be resurrected (19:26-27; 21:30)
35 The soul is in God's keeping (27:8)
36 The righteous will see God's face (19:26-27; 33:26)

These doctrines of God, angels, Satan, and man are in perfect harmony with statements on the same subjects in all other parts of the Bible. This shows that the ancients knew and understood quite fully the many fundamental teachings of God's revelation to men. In fact, the revelation of God given in Scripture began to be recorded first in Job and the Pentateuch, all being written by Moses. Even the gospel was preached to Abraham (Gal. 3:8; Heb. 4:1)

10fold experience -vision of a spirit (Job 4:12):

1 I received a secret message (v 12)
2 My ear received a little of it
3 My thoughts came from a vision of the night when deep sleep falls upon men (v 13)
4 Fear came upon me (v 14)
5 Trembling also came upon me
6 My bones were made to shake
7 A spirit passed before my face (v 15)
8 The hair of my head stood up
9 The spirit stood still, but I could not discern the form before my eyes (v 16)
10 In the silence I heard a voice saying, Shall mortal man be more just than God? Shall a man be more pure than his maker? (v 17)

4 statements of commendation to Job (Job 4:3):

1 You have instructed many (v 3)
2 You have strengthened the weak hands
3 Your words have upheld him who was falling (v 4)
4 You have strengthened the feeble knees. Eliphaz began by flattering Job, acknowledging that he had done all these good things, the purpose being to prepare him for the shock of so-called truth from human experience which this friend contended always proved that no man suffering such calamity is innocent and blameless. These were the only flattering words spoken to Job in all the answers of his friends, for after he began to defend himself none saw anything else to flatter him about 28 And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches, and honour: and Sŏl'o-mon his son reigned in his stead.

Summary of 1 Chronicles

Date and place: the records which make up 1 and 2 Chronicles were written in Palestine, 1279-461 B.C., by scribes and prophets whose duty it was to record events during the time of whatever king or kings they served under. These records were put into one book by the final author or authors; the one book was divided into two by the Septuagint translators about 294-289 B.C. If written by Isaiah and Ezra in its final form the book was compiled about 743-683 B.C. and 546-461 B.C.

Author: It seems that Isaiah and Ezra were the authors or the final compilers using the public records of the nation of Israel. Among the recorders were Nathan, Gad, Iddo, Ahijah, Jehu, and others (2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; 20:34; 26:22; 36:32; 36:22-23 with Ezra 1:1-4; 1 Chr. 9:10-16 with Neh. 11:10-17)

Proof of authorship: It seems from 2 Chr. 32:32 that Isaiah wrote the history of the kings of Israel and Judah; this not only applies to Samuel and Kings, but also could apply to 1 Chr. 1:1-32:33. Ezra completed the history by writing 2 Chr. 33-36. Ezra was president of the Great Synagogue, a college of learned Jews which originated with him and formed the O. T. Canon of Scripture

The books passed upon then are the ones making up the complete Old Testament as found in the Septuagint (Gr. version), the Hebrew Bibles, and the versions in many other languages which we have copies of today. See Canon of the Bible, p. 510

Theme: genealogical background of Israelite leaders and of the coming Messiah, and a history of the kingdom of Judah and of the ancestors of Jesus Christ, according to the flesh. See notes on Chronicles, p. 421

Purpose: to show the divine reason for the dealings of God with Israel and why the Davidic kingdom was not allowed to continue perpetually

Statistics: 13th book of the Bible; 29 chapters; 942 verses, 20,369 words; 927 verses of history; 8 1/2 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 7 1/2 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 30 predictions; 53 commands; 19 questions; 9 promises; and 8 messages from God (14:10, 14; 17:3; 21:9, 18; 22:8; 28:3, 6)

a For a history of David, see 11:1-29:28; 1 Sam. 16:1-31:13; 2 Sam. 1:1-24:25; 1 Ki. 1:1-2:11 b This no doubt refers to the original records of Samuel, which were used as part of 1 Samuel. The prophet Samuel perhaps wrote 1 Sam. 1-24 c This refers no doubt to part of 1 and 2 Samuel; if not, there was a book by him that we do not have now d This also might refer to part of 1 and 2 Samuel, for David, Nathan, and Gad had some part in 1 Sam. 25-2 Sam. 24. If not, then we have another book missing and unknown to the Christian world e 3 Heb. words for "prophet" and "seer":
1 Heb. ra'ah, to see; discern; gaze at; look on; perceive; stare at; to view; see visions. Trans. seer (9:22; 26:28; 29:29; 2 Chr. 16:7, 10; Isa. 30:10; 1 Sam. 9:9, 11, 18, 19; 2 Sam. 15:27)
2 Heb. choseh, a beholder of a vision; gazer; seer. It is from chazah, to gaze at; perceive; have a vision of; to look. It is trans. seer (21:9; 25:5; 29:29; 2 Sam. 24:11; 2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; 19:2; 29:25, 30; 35:15); seers (2 Ki. 17:13; 2 Chr. 33:18-19; Isa. 29:10; Mic. 3:7); agreement (Isa. 28:15); prophets (Isa. 30:10); and stargazers (Isa. 47:13). The word ra'ah refers to one who sees more clearly and completely than one spoken of as a choseh. The seers were afterwards called prophets

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE CHRONICLES

Reign of Solomon - Building of the Temple - Twenty Other Kings of Judah - Wars - Civil Strifes - Captivities

a The 3rd king of Israel; he began reigning 81 years after the kingdom was established (Acts 13:21; 2 Sam. 5:4; 1 Ki. 11:42)
b The first of David's descendants to reign in unbroken succession for the next 513 years. From the end of that time until today the Israelites have not had a kingdom, and they will not have one until the Messiah comes to reign; He will rebuild the tabernacle of David and re-establish the kingdom to sit on the throne of David forever (Isa. 9:6-7; Mic. 5:2; Zech. 14:5-9; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). Christ was the last Son of David in the Bible genealogies, and He will be the next king on the throne of David (Mt. 1:1-17; Lk. 3:23-38)
c He was strengthened after the events of 1 Chr. 28-29; 1 Ki. 1-4:31
d This is why he was strengthened in his kingdom and why he was magnified exceedingly. See examples of God being "with" men, p. 27
e Solomon began his reign as David ended his speaking to Israel (v 2; 1 Chr. 28:1; 29:1) f The narrative here corresponds with 1 Ki. 2:4-15. We learn that his sacrifice was at the time of great public festivity (v 3), that it was made at the original tabernacle which Moses made in the wilderness, that the ark of the covenant was not there, but at Jerusalem (v 4), that the sacrifices were offered on the great original brazen altar which Bezaliel made at Sinai about 680 years before (v 5), and that it happened on the same night that God appeared to him and gave him wisdom (v 7-12)
g Gibeon was about 4 miles from Jerusalem. The tabernacle Moses made was located here at this time (1 Ki. 3:4). There was another tabernacle at Jerusalem, for Solomon "came to Jerusalem, and stood before the ark of the covenant" (1 Ki. 3:15) h If bulls, at the estimated price of $325.00 each, the cost of 1,000 burnt offerings would be $325,000.00; if lambs, goats, or rams at the estimated price of $20.00 each, the cost would be $20,000.00 besides the cost of flour, wine, and oil, for each sacrifice. It is possible that 1,000 bulls were offered, for this would have been an act of royal magnificence suitable to the greatness of one like Solomon i This appearance was in a dream, but it was just as real and accomplished the same purpose as if God had appeared in actual visible form, as at other times. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63
j God told Solomon to ask what he wanted to, and it is plainly implied that the request would be granted. Those who express the desire to have God say to them what He did to Solomon (v 7) should realize that He does and even more. If one doubts this let him turn to the following plain and unlimited promises of God to His children in N. T. times:
1 Ask and you shall receive (Mt. 7:7)
2 Seek and you shall find (Mt. 7:7-11)
3 Knock and it shall be opened (Mt. 7:7)
4 Nothing shall be impossible unto you (Mt. 17:20)
5 All things, whatsoever you shall ask in prayer, believing, you shall receive (Mt. 21:21-22)
6 All things are possible to him that believeth (Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24)
7 Ask what you will, and it shall be done unto you (Jn. 15:7, 16)
k 2 things God did for David (v 8):
1 Showed him great mercy
2 Gave him a son to sit upon his throne in his place
l 2 requests of Solomon:
1 Let Your promise to David be established (v 9)
2 Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people: for who can judge this Your people, that is so great?

I Reign of Solomon: 40 years (1 Ki. 2:12-4:31; 1 Chr. 23:1; 29:23). 1 Solomon established as king

AND [a]Sŏl'o-mon the [b]son of Dā'vid was [c]strengthened in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was [d]with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

2 Solomon offers $325,000 worth of sacrifices at Gibeon where the old tabernacle was (1 Chr. 21:28-29; 1 Ki. 3:4)

2 Then Sŏl'o-mon [e]spake unto all Ĭs'ra-el, to the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governor in all Ĭs'ra-el, the chief of the fathers.

3 So [f]Sŏl'o-mon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was [g]at Gĭb'e-on; for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Mō'sēs the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness.

4 But the ark of God had Dā'vid brought up from Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm to the place which Dā'vid had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it at Jē-rū'sā-lĕm.

5 Moreover the brasen altar, that Bĕ-zăl'e-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of Hūr had made, he put before the tabernacle of the LORD: and Sŏl'o-mon and the congregation sought unto it.

6 And Sŏl'o-mon went up thither to the brasen altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a [h]thousand burnt offerings upon it.

3 Solomon prays for wisdom (1 Ki. 3:5)

■7 ¶ In that night did God [i]appear unto Sŏl'o-mon, and said unto him, [j]Ask what I shall give thee.

8 And Sŏl'o-mon said unto God, [k]Thou hast shewed great mercy unto Dā'vid my father, and hast made me to reign in his stead.

9 Now, O LORD God, [l]let thy promise unto Dā'vid my father be established: for thou hast made me king over a people like the dust of the earth in multitude.

10 [m]Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people: for [n]who can judge this [o]thy people, that is so great?

4 God [p]pleased: wisdom given (1 Ki. 3:10-15)

■11 And God said to Sŏl'o-mon, Because [q]this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the life of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life; but hast asked wisdom and knowledge for thyself, that thou mayest judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

12 [r]Wisdom and knowledge is granted unto thee; and I will give thee [s]riches, and wealth, and [t]honour, such as none of the kings have had that have been before thee, neither shall there any after thee have the like.

5 Solomon's glory and riches (1 Ki. 9:10-10:29)

13 ¶ Then Sŏl'o-mon came from his journey to the high place that was at Gĭb'e-on to Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, and reigned over Ĭs'ra-el.

14 And Sŏl'o-mon [u]gathered chariots and horsemen: and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, which he placed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jē-rū'sā-lĕm.

15 And the king made silver and gold at Jē-rū'sā-lĕm as plenteous as stones, and cedar trees made he as the sycomore trees that are in the vale for abundance.

16 And Sŏl'o-mon had horses brought out of Ē'gypt, and linen yarn: the king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

17 And they fetched up, and brought forth out of Ē'gypt a chariot for [v]six hundred shekels of silver, and an horse for [w]an hundred and fifty: and [x]so brought they out horses for all the kings of the Hĭt'tites, and for the kings of Sȳr'ĭ-a, by their means.

CHAPTER 2 369

6 Preparations for building the temple (1 Ki. 5:1-18). (1) The workers: 153,600 men, all foreigners (vss. 17-18; 8:7-10)

AND Sŏl'o-mon [a]determined to build an house for the name of the LORD, and an house for his kingdom.

2 And Sŏl'o-mon [b]told out threescore and ten thousand men to bear burdens, and fourscore thousand to hew in the mountain, and [c]three thousand and six hundred to oversee them.

(2) Request of Hiram for cedar (1 Ki. 5. Cp. 1 Chr. 14:1)

3 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon sent [d]to Hū'ram the king of Tȳre, saying, As thou didst deal with Dā'vid my father, and [e]didst send him cedars to build him an house to dwell therein, even so deal with me.

4 Behold, I build an house [f]to the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him sweet incense, a 1st prophecy in 2 Chr. (1:12, fulfilled). Next, 8:9

5 predictions fulfilled:
1 I will give you wisdom and knowledge
2 I will give you riches (1:12)
3 I will give you wealth
4 I will give you honor
5 I will give you all these things, as no king before you has received; neither shall any after you have the like b Solomon was one of the world's richest men. He made one building that cost over 174 billion dollars in our money today. His daily food bill was equivalent to more than $17,420.00 (1 Ki. 4:22). His personal offerings at the time of the dedication of the temple amounted to nearly 10 million dollars worth (1 Ki. 8:63). The gold alone, which came to him in one year was equal to nearly 20 million dollars in value (1 Ki. 10:14). Besides this he had much income from many sources-fields, vineyards, oliveyards, herds, flocks, etc. He had also inherited the wealth of David. See 1:15 c He had the greatest honor from men of all ages. They came from the far countries to hear his wisdom and see his wealth and glory (1 Ki. 3:29-34; 10:1-10) d His first gathering of horses and chariots was the one listed here perhaps (v 14). See note p. 1 Ki. 4:26
e 600 shekels of silver @ 64¢ = $384.00
f 150 shekels of silver @ 64¢ = $96.00
This was the price of a horse only g Meaning that Solomon's horses and chariots, as well as those of the kings of the Hittites and the Syrians came out of Egypt by the merchants of Solomon h 2 things Solomon determined to do:
1 Build the temple (2:1-5:14)
2 Build his own palace (v 1; 8:1)
i 153,600 workers on the temple:
70,000 men to bear burdens (v 2)
80,000 men to hew wood and stone
3,600 overseers
These were all foreigners. Besides them there were 30,000 Israelites who served, 10,000 each month (1 Ki. 5:13-18)
j Here we have 3,600 overseers who bore rule over the people; but over these there were 250 chief overseers, making 3,850 altogether, according to 8:10 k Called Hiram in 1 Ki. 5. Not the Hiram of David's day, but the son of the Hiram of 2 Sam. 5:11. Meander of Ephesus who wrote a history of Tyre in Greek about 300 B. C. mentioned him as the son of Abibeal, king of Tyre, and said that he ascended the throne when he was 19 years old, that he reigned 34 years, and died at the age of 53, being succeeded by his son, Baleazar. This history speaks at length on the dealings of Hiram with Solomon
l See 2 Sam. 5:11; 1 Chr. 14:1
m 8 purposes for building the temple:
1 To honor the name of Jehovah (v 4)
2 To dedicate a house to Him
3 To burn incense before Him
4 To use for the continual showbread
5 To offer burnt offerings, morning and evening
6 To offer sacrifices on the sabbaths
7 To offer sacrifices at the new moon
8 To offer sacrifices in solemn feasts

n Question 1. Next, 2:6
o 3 things about Israel:
1 A numerous people (v 9)
2 God's people (v 10)
3 A great people (v 10) p See 12 things pleasing to God, p. 366

q Emphasis should be placed upon this thing, for it was the sum of what he asked for-and a rare thing to be asked by selfish man. In fact, it was such an unusual request that it pleased Jehovah so much that He decided not only to grant this, but also to grant what the average man would ask for (v 11-12) a The house I build must be magnificent, for our God is great and above all gods. It will be an everlasting symbol of His people (v 9). He is so great that the heavens cannot contain Him, so the house will be only to burn sacrifice before Him (v 6)

b Questions 2-3. Next, 6:18

c Such statements in Scripture give some a mystical impression of God-one so great, so large, so present everywhere, so spiritual and invisible that their theories become out of proportion with truth as expressed in other passages. Many seem to concentrate their teaching on making Him a mystery instead of simplifying the facts so that He can be understood by man. God never did give this kind of revelation about Himself; and it is hardly believable that Solomon and others intended to do so. What could Solomon mean by saying "the heaven and heaven of heavens" can not contain Him? Would he want us to have the idea of his body, soul, and spirit being so large that they fill all space and matter? Is it size and substance he was trying to convey, or the simple fact that God cannot be limited to the place called heaven? Surely the size of His body, soul, and spirit are not referred to, for He is of ordinary size as proved by the many personal appearances He has made to men. See note r, Jn. 4:24. All God's manifestations, traits, acts, passions, attributes, and powers-wherever they are mentioned in Scripture-are shown to be exactly like those of angels, and men, only more unlimited. They can be understood by comparison with those of other beings, as Paul plainly states in Rom. 1:20 where he says that all the invisible things, even the eternal power and Godhead are clearly seen by man, being understood by the visible things on earth, so that no man is without excuse in his ignorance of God and all other invisible things

d Certainly not, for He is not to be limited or contained in any one place as a showcase valuable. Solomon was not stating that a house 41 ft, 8 in. wide, 125 ft. long and 62 1/2 ft. high could not hold the body of God; nor was he trying to give us the idea that all space could not hold him. It is plainly stated in many scriptures that the different members of the Divine Trinity will literally, visibly, and bodily dwell with men in eternity, and furthermore, that the very soles of their feet will walk in just such a temple in all eternity (Ezek. 43:7; 48:35; Zech. 6:12-13; 14:4-5, 9, 16-21; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 20:1-10; 21:1-7; 22:1-5). This millennial temple will be the eternal capital of God among earthly men and the place where the Trinity will be seen, visibly and bodily they will carry on their program of dwelling among men and ruling the universe

e 5 things Solomon requested of Hiram:
1 A man who is a cunning metal-smith, dyer of cloth, and an engraver (v 7)
2 Cedar trees from Lebanon (v 8)
3 Fir trees from Lebanon
4 Algum trees from Lebanon
5 Prepared timber in abundance (v 9)

f Cedar trees-of the most valuable and majestic trees in eastern forests. They grow 70-80 ft. tall with thick branches spreading out all around the trunk to make a measurement of 40 ft. in diameter. The red wood is so bitter that it is offensive to insects, and so durable that it has been known to last 2,000 years. The mountains of Lebanon were famous for such trees

g Fir trees-well-known evergreens which grew abundantly in mount Lebanon and other parts of the East. The wood was used for musical instruments and as framing material for houses and in ship building (v 8; 3:4; 2 Sam. 6:5; 1 Ki. 5:8-10; 6:16, 34; 9:11; Ezek. 27:5; Song 1:17). Storks made nests in such trees (Ps. 104:17). Being tall and straight they were used to illustrate power and grandeur (2 Ki. 19:23; Isa. 14:8; 27:24) and for the continual shewbread, and for the burnt offerings morning and evening, on the sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the solemn feasts of the LORD our God. This is an ordinance for ever to Is'ra-el.

5 And the house which I build is [a]great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 [b]But who is able to build him an house, [c]seeing the heaven and heaven of heavens[d]cannot contain him? who am I then, that I should build him an house, save only to burn sacrifice before him?

7 Send me now therefore [e]a man cunning to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in purple, and crimson, and blue, and that can skill to grave with the cunning men that are with me in Jū'dah and in Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, whom Dā'vid my father did provide.

8 Send me also [f]cedar trees, [g]fir trees, and[h]algum trees, out of Lĕb'a-non: for I know that thy servants can [i]skill to cut timber in Lĕb'a-non; and, behold, my servants shall be with thy servants,

9 Even to prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I am about to build shall be wonderful great.

10 And, behold,[j]I will give to thy servants, [k]the hewers that cut timber, [k]twenty thousand measures of beaten wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oil.

(3) Hiram grants Solomon's request (1 Ki. 5:7-12)

11 ¶ Then Hū'ram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which he sent to Sŏl'o-mon, Because the LORD hath loved his people, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Hū'ram [l]said moreover, Blessed be the LORD God of Is'ra-el, that made heaven and earth, who hath given to Dā'vid the king a wise son, endued with prudence and understanding, that might build an house for the LORD, and an house for his kingdom.

13 And now I have [m]sent a cunning man, endued with understanding, of Hū'ram my father's,

14 The son of a woman of the daughters of Dăn, and his father was a man of Tyre,[m]skilful to work in gold, and in silver, in brass, in iron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linen, and in crimson; also to grave any manner of graving, and to find out every device which shall be put to him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dā'vid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat, and the barley, the oil, and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send unto his servants:

16 And we will cut wood out of Lĕb'a-non, as much as thou shalt need: and we will bring it to thee in[n]flotes by sea to Jŏp'pā; and thou shalt carry it up to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

(4) Number of foreigners in Israel: 153,600 workers on the temple (vs. 2; 8:7-10)

17 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon numbered all the strangers that were in the land of Is'ra-el, after the numbering wherewith Dā'vid his father had numbered them; and they were found[k]an hundred and fifty thousand and three thousand and six hundred.

18 And he set threescore and ten thousand of them to be bearers of burdens, and fourscore thousand to be hewers in the mountain, and three thousand and six hundred overseers to set the people a work.

370 CHAPTER 3

7 Building the temple (1 Ki. 6). (1) Date and place (Gen. 22:2; 2 Sam. 24:18; 1 Chr. 21:18)

THEN Sŏl'o-mon began to build the house of the LORD at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm in[c]mount Mō-rī'ah, where the LORD appeared unto Dā'vid his father, in the place that Dā'vid had prepared in the threshingfloor of Ŏr'nan the Jĕb'u-sīte.

2 And he[d]began to build in the second day of the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

(2) Temple dimensions: 41' 125' x 41' 8" high, including the porch

3 ¶ Now these are the things wherein Sŏl'o-mon was instructed for the building of the house of God. The[e]length by cubits after the first measure was threescore cubits, and the breadth[f]twenty cubits.

4 And the porch that was in the front of the house, [g]the length of it was according to the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the[h]height was an hundred and twenty: and he[i]overlaid it within with pure gold.

(3) Internal decorations of the temple (1 Ki. 6:14-36)

5 And the greater house he [j]cieled with fir tree, which he overlaid with fine gold, and set thereon palm trees and chains.

6 And[k]he garnished the house with precious stones for beauty: and the gold was gold of Pär-vā'im.

7 He overlaid also the house, the beams, the posts, and the walls thereof, and the doors thereof, with gold; and[l]graved cherubims on the walls.

(4) The Holy of Holies (1 Ki. 6:19-36)

8 And he made[m]the most holy house, the length whereof was according to the breadth of the a The timber was first carried westward from Lebanon to the nearest part of the coast, where it was collected, tied together in floats or rafts and conveyed southward on the waters to Joppa (now Jaffa or Tel Aviv). From there the inland journey to Jerusalem was not more than 40 miles (v 16). A similar course was taken in the building of the second temple (Ezra 3:7)

b See note 1, (v 2) c The first mention of mount Moriah since Gen. 22:2; it is never mentioned after this. Moriah was the place where Abraham offered up Isaac and where David saw the destroying angel-where he was commanded to build an altar to atone for the sin of numbering Israel (v 1; 2 Sam. 24:17-25; 1 Chr. 21:16-26)

d See note a, 1 Ki. 6:1

e Length of temple: 60 cubits which, at 25 in. each would be 125 ft.

f Breadth of temple: 20 cubits which, at 25 in. each would be 41 ft. 8 in.

g Length of the front porch: 20 cubits or the breadth of the temple-41 ft. 8 in.

h This is definitely a copyist's error in some old MSS. This would make the temple 250 ft. high-twice as high as it was long. In 1 Ki. 6:2 it states that the height was 30 cubits or 62 1/2 ft. counting 25 in. to the cubit. This would be normal for the highest part of the temple and for the 3 stories of chambers (1 Ki. 6:8). The Arabic version, the Peshitta and some others read twenty cubits, which would still be room for the chambers, etc.

i This means the walls and the whole house inside (v 4; 1 Ki. 6:21)

j This was the old English way of spelling ceil; it refers to the ceiling of the house being made of fir wood (v 5) k This explains what was done with the many precious stones and gems of various colors which David had gathered to beautify the temple (1 Chr. 29:2)

l The cherubim, palm trees, and chains were all carved in the wood and then covered with gold (v 5-7)

m This means the most holy place, the smallest of the two main rooms of the temple where the ark of the covenant was placed (v 8). It was 20 cubits, or 41 ft. 8 in. square and overlaid with pure gold (v 8; 1 Ki. 6:20)

Ki. 5:11 where the allowance was for Hiram's household at Tyre. Here it is for Hiram's laborers in Lebanon k Yearly wages for Hiram's workers:

1 Beaten wheat-20,000 measures (Heb. cors) which at 10 1/2 bu. to the measure would be 210,000 bu. This at $6.00 a bu. would be $1,260,000.00 worth of flour
2 Barley-20,000 measures (or cors) at 10 1/2 bu. to the measure would be 210,000 bu. If beaten into flour like the wheat, at an estimated price of $4.00 a bu. this would amount to $840,000.00 in value
3 Wine-20,000 baths at 67 pts. to a bath would be 1,340,000 pts. or 670,000 qts. which, at the estimated price of $1.60 each would amount to $1,072,000.00 worth of wine
4 Oil-20,000 baths at 67 pts. to the bath would be 1,340,000 pts. or 670,000 qts. which, at the estimated price of $1.40 each would amount to $938,000.00 worth of oil
Total yearly wages for the Tyrian workers, according to the above figures would be equal to $4,110,000.00

l Hiram blessed Jehovah and acknowledged Him as the creator of heaven and earth, and the God of Israel (v 12) m The man sent to Solomon is spoken of here as being the son of a Jewess, from the tribe of Dan; his father was a man of Tyre (v 13-14). In 1 Ki. 7:14 he is spoken of as a man whose mother was from the tribe of Naphtali. There is no discrepancy, for she could have been of the tribe of Naphtali by birth, and of the daughters of the tribe of Dan by adoption or citizenship

n 12 skills of the man of Tyre (v 14)

a 20 cubits at 25 in. each would be 41 ft. 8 in.
b 600 talents of gold at $29,085.00 each would be $17,451,000.00
c Gold nails were used in the most holy place (v 9), and perhaps in the holy place. They weighed 50 shekels, which at $9.69 1/2 each would be $484.75
d The 2 cherubim were very large, their wings reached across the width of the most holy place -41 ft. 8 in. Each wing was 5 cubits or 10 ft. 5 in. long. The outer ones touched the wall of the house while the inner ones touched each other. Thus, the 2 cherubim with their 4 wings outstretched took up the whole width of the room. These were completely covered with gold; and they stood on their feet, which were like those of a calf (Ezek. 1:7). Their faces were turned inward toward the ark which sat between them on a table of gold (v 10-13) e 20 cubits which, at 25 in. each, would be 41 ft. 8 in.
f 5 cubits which, at 25 in. each, would be 10 ft. 5 in. g The veil of the temple is here described as being like that in the tabernacle of Moses (v 14). It is not mentioned in 1 Kings at all h The 2 great pillars in the front of the temple on the porch are said here to be 35 cubits high, while in 1 Ki. 7:15 it is 18 cubits. The 35 cubits, or 72 ft. 11 in., must refer to the 2 pillars and to end without any part of the chapiters; and the 18 cubits or 37 1/2 ft. must refer to each one of the pillars and part of the chapiter which fitted down into the pillar or the chain work on the head upon which the chapiter sat (v 16)
i The name of one of the pillars was Jachin, meaning: He (God) will establish; and the other Boaz, meaning: In Him (God) is strength (v 17) j 20 cubits at 25 in. each -41 ft. 8 in. The altar was this measurement square, the same dimension as the most holy place (v 1 with 3:8)
k The height of the altar was 10 cubits which, at 25 in. each, would be 20 ft. 10 in. (v 1)
l The molten sea was cast in a foundry like the pillars of v 15-16. It was 20 ft. 10 in. across from brim to brim; 10 ft. 5 in. high, and 62 1/2 ft. around. There were rows of knobs around the rim of the bowl (1 Ki. 7:24). It stood upon 12 oxen cast out of brass; 3 looked in each of the 4 directions with their hinder parts inward and under the brazen laver which was a handbreadth, or about 4 in. thick; the brim was made like that of a cup with flowers and lilies (v 2-5). The molten sea was an immense vase of solid brass weighing 25-30 tons. Having its 10 ft. 5 in. depth filled with 16,750 gallons of water it would weigh about 100 tons. The 10 small lavers were supposed to contain 300 gallons of water each, which make each one weigh about 2 tons. Jewish writers say that the water was changed daily, so as to be always fresh and pure for use in the ceremonial worship

10 great acts of God among men (Job 5:10):

1 He sends rain from heaven (v 10)
2 Sends waters upon the fields
3 Exalts those that humble themselves
4 Comforts those who mourn (v 11)
5 Brings the devices of the crafty to nought (v 12)
6 Confuses the wisdom of the wise (v 13)
7 Entangles the counsels of the perverse
8 Causes the plans of the crafty and perverse to become darkness in the day time (v 14)
9 Causes such men to grope in the noonday as in the night because of confusion
10 Saves the poor from the sword and the hand of the mighty (v 15)

All these acts of God are for the purpose of giving hope and deliverance to the poor, needy, and oppressed (v 16) house, [c]twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with fine gold, amounting to [b]six hundred talents.

(5) The upper chambers

9 And the weight of the [c]nails was fifty shekels of gold. And he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

(6) Cherubim for the Holy of Holies (1 Ki. 6:33-38)

10 And in the most holy house he made [d]two cherubims of image work, and overlaid them with gold.

11 ¶ And the wings of the cherubims were [e]twenty cubits long: one wing of the one cherub was [f]five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

12 And one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was five cubits also, joining to the wing of the other cherub.

13 The wings of these cherubims spread themselves forth twenty cubits: and they stood on their feet, and their faces were inward.

(7) Vail between the Holy and the Most Holy Place

14 ¶ And he made [g]the veil of blue, and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and wrought cherubims thereon.

(8) The two front pillars (1 Ki. 7:15-22)

15 Also he made [h]before the house two pillars of thirty and five cubits high, and the chapiter that was on the top of each of them was five cubits.

16 And he made chains, as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars; and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

17 And he reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the [i]name of that on the right hand Já'chin, and the name of that on the left Bó'áz.

CHAPTER 4 371

(9) The brazen altar for the outer court before the temple entrance, 41'8" square, 20'10" high (1 Ki. 7)

MOREOVER he made an altar of brass, [j]twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and [k]ten cubits the height thereof.

(10) The brazen molten sea, 20'10" across, 10'5" high, 62 1/2' around

2 ¶ Also he made a [l]molten sea of [a]ten cubits from brim to brim, [b]round in compass, [c]and five cubits the height thereof; and a line of [d]thirty cubits did compass it round about.

3 [e]And under it was the similitude of oxen, which did compass it round about: ten in a cubit, compassing the sea round about. Two rows of oxen were cast, when it was cast.

4 It stood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east: and the sea was set above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickness of it was an handbreadth, and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies; and it received and [f]held three thousand baths.

(11) Ten lavers of brass on wheels (1 Ki. 7:38-40)

6 ¶ He made also [g]ten lavers, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them: such things as they offered for the burnt offering they washed in them; but the sea was for the priests to wash in.

(12) Ten gold candlesticks, 10 tables and 100 gold basons

7 And he made [h]ten candlesticks of gold according to their form, and set them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 He made also ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right side, and five on the left. And he made an hundred basons of gold.

(13) The courts and doors of the temple

9 ¶ Furthermore he made the court of the priests, and the great court, and [i]doors for the court, and overlaid the doors of them with brass.

10 And he set the sea on the right side of the east end, over against the south.

(14) Summary of the metal work of Hiram and where cast

11 And Hū'ram [j]made the pots, and the shovels, and the basons. And Hū'ram finished the work that he was to make for king Sŏl'o-mon for the house of God;

12 To wit, the two pillars, and the pommels, and the chapiters which were on the top of the two pillars, and the two wreaths to cover the two [k]pommels of the chapiters which were on the top of the pillars;

13 And four hundred pomegranates on the two wreaths; two rows of pomegranates on each wreath, to cover the two pommels of the chapiters which were upon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and lavers made he upon the bases;

a 10 cubits at 25 in. each would be 20 ft. 10 in. across from brim to brim (v 2) b This means that it was perfectly round so that from any part of the brim across to the other side would be 20 ft. 10 in. (v 2) c The height was 5 cubits which, at 25 in. each, would be 10 ft. 5 in.
d The circumference of the molten sea was 30 cubits or 62 1/2 ft. (v 2) e Here we have a supplementary idea to that of 1 Ki. 7:24 where knops or knobs only are mentioned. This explains that they were in the shape of oxen -10 such knobs to each cubit or 25 in. In fact, there were 2 rows of such cast all the way around the molten sea (v 3) which sat upon the hinder parts of the 12 great brazen oxen made with extra strong legs to carry the weight of the 100-ton laver and water (v 4)
f The 3,000 baths were the maximum amount of water that the molten sea would hold, 2,000 baths being the amount it generally held, as in 1 Ki. 7:26, 2,000 baths were 16,750 gallons, a bath being 67 pts. The 3,000 bath capacity would be 25,125 gallons. The sea or large laver was set on the right side of the east end (v 10)
g The 10 lavers were much smaller than the molten sea for the priests to wash in (v 6). Of the small lavers 5 were placed on one side of the sea and 5 on the other; these were for the washing of sacrifices. More detail is given concerning them in 1 Ki. 7:26-39, such as:
1 Their bases of brass, 8 ft. 4 in. square, and 6 ft. 3 in. high (1 Ki. 7:27)
2 Their likeness, having lions, oxen, and cherubim cast with them upon the ledges that were above the base, and having 4 brazen wheels to roll them from place to place, with brackets at each corner to hold the laver, and all other details alike (1 Ki. 7:28-37)
3 Their size. Although the dimensions of the lavers from brim to brim, the height, and circumference are not given, the number of gallons they contained is. Each held 40 baths. A bath being 67 pts. would make this 335 gallons (1 Ki. 7:38)
h 10 golden candlesticks were made for the temple compared to one for the tabernacle of Moses. 5 were placed on one side of the house and 5 on the other. 10 golden tables were made; and on these the lamps were set. Also, 10 golden bases were made for various uses in the temple (v 7-8). See 1 Ki. 7:48-51 for many other tables, tongs, snuffers, spoons, hinges, and other things made of gold
i The doors for the court of the priests and those of the great court for the people of Israel and the Gentiles were overlaid with brass instead of gold (v 9)
j Summary of the brazen castings:
1 Pots (cauldrons, v 11)
2 Shovels (v 11, 16)
3 Basons (v 11)
4 The 2 pillars (3:15-17)
5 The 2 pommels (bowls) of the chapiters for the tops of the pillars (v 12)
6 The 2 chapiters
7 The 2 wreaths to cover the pommels or bowls of the chapiters for the tops of the pillars
8 The 400 pomegranates on the 2 wreaths; 2 rows of pomegranates on each wreath, to cover the 2 pommels of the chapiters on the tops of the pillars (v 13)
9 The 10 bases for the 10 small lavers
10 The 10 lavers for the bases (v 14)
11 One large molten sea (v 15)
12 The 12 great oxen under the sea
13 Many pots for various uses (v 16)
14 Fleshhooks
15 Many other articles of brass that were used in the service of sacrifices 16 The brazen altar (v 1)
k These were the bowls of 1 Ki. 7:41

a This reveals the very place where such large operations of iron and brass castings were carried out. The plain of Jordan at this spot was especially suitable for making such metal castings (v 17)

b The work of v 11-17 is spoken of in v 11 as being that of Hiram, but here (v 18) it is referred to as the work of Solomon. Both statements are true in that Solomon hired Hiram for the work, although he, himself did not actually do it. This being the case with men, when such statements are made, we must also understand many scriptures thus concerning God when He is spoken of as the doer of certain things-sending a plague, sickness or judgment because of an individual's sin. God has used agents to do this work, only giving the decree that it should be done, as in the case of Solomon here

c The weight was not kept, so there was no way of telling how much was used in the temple (v 18)

d Had them made (v 11-17)

e Summary of the gold work:
1 The many vessels (v 19)
2 The golden altar
3 The table for the showbread (v 19; 1 Ki. 7:48)
4 The 10 candlesticks (v 20)
5 Their lamps (v 20-21)
6 The flowers for the lamps (v 21)
7 The tongs
8 The snuffers (v 22)
9 The basons (v 22; 4:8)
10 The spoons (v 22; 1 Ki. 7:30)
11 The censers (v 22)
12 The entrances of the temple
13 The doors of the holy and most holy places
14 The walls and ceilings (3:5)
15 The interior decorations (3:5-7)
16 The nails of the inner temple (3:9)
17 The upper chambers (3:9)
18 The cherubim (3:10-13)
19 The 10 tables for candlesticks (4:7-8)
20 The altar of incense (1 Ki. 7:48)
21 Hinges (1 Ki. 7:50)

f Then-when all the temples and its furnishings were complete, he assembled all the elders, all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers and the men of Israel to Jerusalem to bring up the ark from the tent made for it, and to have a great feast in the 7th month. This was the feast of tabernacles in October (v 2-3; Lev. 23:33)

g The priests were also Levites and they were the only ones that could carry the ark. Levites who were not priests were as unfit to carry it as ordinary laymen. It was the priests who brought the ark into the temple (v 7; note g, 1 Ki. 8:3)

h Not only the ark, but all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle were brought into the temple (v 5)

i The people brought so many that there was no way of numbering them so no attempt was made to keep any account of them (v 6)

j See note k, Ps. 28:2

k For about 600 years God had not chosen any particular place among Israel where a house should be built for Himself, nor had He chosen any man to be permanent ruler (through his line) over Israel (v 5). Now He made it clear that He had chosen Jerusalem as the place of His headquarters on earth, and David as the one through whom all the future kings of Israel should come (v 6; 2 Sam. 7; 1 Chr. 17). The idea of a house for God originated with David, but God told him he could not build the temple because of being a man of blood and wars; his son would be permitted to do so (v 7-9). Here the record shows that Solomon had completed the work and was now preaching the dedicatory sermon and praying the dedicatory prayer (v 1-42). This makes it clear that God did not choose Saul as He chose David. In Saul's case, God merely overruled the choice of the people who were determined to have a king so as to be like the other nations. The choice of a king then was not from God, for He protested their choice (1 Sam. 8:5-22). He simply allowed what was best for the moment in view of the people's attitude (1 Sam. 9-10)

15 One sea, and twelve oxen under it.

16 The pots also, and the shovels, and the fleshhooks, and all their instruments, did Hu'ram his father make to king Sŏl'o-mon for the house of the LORD of bright brass.

17 [a]In the plain of Jôr'dan did the king cast them, in the clay ground between Sŭc'coth and Zĕ-rĕd'a-thah.

18 Thus [b]Sŏl'o-mon made all these vessels in great abundance: for [c]the weight of the brass could not be found out.

19 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon [d]made all the vessels that were for the house of God, the [e]golden altar also, and the tables whereon the shewbread was set;

20 Moreover the candlesticks with their lamps, that they should burn after the manner before the oracle, of pure gold;

21 And the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs, made he of gold, and that perfect gold;

22 And the snuffers, and the basons, and the spoons, and the censers of pure gold: and the entry of the house, the inner doors thereof for the most holy place, and the doors of the house of the temple, were of gold.

CHAPTER 5 372

(15) The temple completed

THUS all the work that Sŏl'o-mon made for the house of the LORD was finished: and Sŏl'o-mon brought in all the things that Dā'vid his father had dedicated; and the silver, and the gold, and all the instruments, put he among the treasures of the house of God.

8 Dedication of the temple (5:2-7:11; 1 Ki. 8). (1) Assembly of Israel's leaders

2 ¶ [f]Then Sŏl'o-mon assembled the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, unto Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of Dā'vid, which is Zi'ŏn.

3 Wherefore all the men of Ĭs'ra-el assembled themselves unto the king in the feast which was in the seventh month.

(2) The ark brought into the temple from Zion

4 And all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el came; and the [g]Lē'vites took up the ark.

5 And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, [h]and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, these did the priests and the Lē'vites bring up.

6 Also king Sŏl'o-mon, and all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el that were assembled unto him before the ark, sacrificed sheep and oxen, which [i]could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD unto his place, to [j]the oracle of the house, into the most holy place, even [k]under the wings of the cherubims:

8 For the cherubims spread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the staves thereof above.

9 And they drew out the staves of the ark, that the ends of the staves were seen from the ark before the oracle; but they were not seen without. And there it is [l]unto this day.

10 There was [m]nothing in the ark [n]save the two tables which Mō'şeş put therein at Hō'reb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Ĭs'ra-el, when they came out of Ē'gўpt.

(3) The glory of God appears (1 Ki. 8:1-11)

11 ¶ And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place: (for [o]all the priests that were present were sanctified, and did not then wait by course:

12 [p]Also the Lē'vites which were the singers, all of them of A'saph, of Hē'man, of Jĕd'u-thŭn, with their sons and their brethren, being arrayed in white linen, having cymbals and psalteries and harps, stood at the east end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty priests sounding with trumpets:)

13 It came even to pass, as the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the LORD; and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of musick, and praised the LORD, saying, For he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever: that then the house was filled with a cloud, even the house of the LORD;

14 So that the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the cloud: for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of God.

373 CHAPTER 6

(4) Sermon of Solomon (1 Ki. 8:12-21. See Eccl. 1:1)

THEN said Sŏl'o-mon, The LORD hath [a]said that he would dwell in the thick darkness.

2 [b]But I have built an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed the whole congregation of Ĭs'ra-el: and all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el stood.

4 And he said, [c]Blessed be the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, who hath with his hands fulfilled that which he spake with his mouth to my father Dā'vid, saying,

5 [d]Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Ē'gўpt I chose no city among all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el to build an house in, that my name might be there; neither chose I any man to be a ruler a The ark was placed in the middle of the most holy place between the 2 cherubim and under their wings. There was sufficient room even for the staves (v 7-10). These were partially taken out of the rings of the ark by which it was carried, so that the ends could be seen from the holy place but not from the porch outside (1 Ki. 8:8). In this way the ark never needed to be handled, as the staves could be easily put back into the rings without anyone's hands ever touching the ark. It seems that it was unlawful to take the staves wholly out of the rings. Pulling them out so the ends could be seen indicated the ark had found its resting place in the temple and was not to be borne any more. It had a permanent house, not a tent as before

b This proves that this section of 2 Chronicles was written before the destruction of the temple (v 9)

c At this time there was nothing in the ark but the 10 commandments (v 10; 1 Ki. 8:9). When, in Heb. 9:4 Paul mentioned the golden pot of manna and Aaron's rod, he was speaking of the ark while in the tabernacle instead of the temple. It is not known when these two things were removed; it could have been when the Philistines had the ark, or when many men were killed for looking into it, as in 1 Sam. 5-6. We know that the original stones on which the 10 commandments were written were in existance at this time d When the priests had taken the ark into the temple, into the most holy place, had finished arranging the furniture, and had left never to enter this place again, except for the visit of the high priest once a year, the glory of God filled the temple so that the priests could not minister because of it (v 11-14). This glory was a symbol of the divine presence of God, which had been promised before the ark was begun (Ex. 29:43); had filled the tabernacle as soon as it was completed (Ex. 40:34); and had been seen on the journeys of the children of Israel (Ex. 13:21-22; 14:24 19:18; 40:38; Num. 14:14)

e All the priests were sanctified, or set apart and ready for service, even though the courses appointed by David had not yet begun (v 11; 1 Chr. 24)

f The singers and musicians also were together at this dedication service, though not yet serving in their courses as appointed by David (v 12-13; 1 Chr. 25)

g Then, when the priest had left the temple and the glory of the Lord had filled it so they could not minister in it, Solomon, the preacher, gave a short sermon (v 1-11), and a much longer prayer (v 14-42)

h Where God ever said this is not recorded. Solomon may have taken the idea from the fact of God's appearance in darkness on Sinai (Ex. 20:21), or from David who said that darkness was under His feet and that He made darkness His secret place (Ps. 18:9-11), and that darkness and light are alike to God (Ps. 139:12). The N. T. says that God dwells in a light no man can approach unto and no man had seen or can see; that is, no man has seen or can see God in all His glory (1 Tim. 6:16). It was God in His glory that Moses wanted to see; and he was told this could not be; but outside the glory or in limited glory, men have seen Him (Ex. 33:18-23). See 44 appearances of God, p. 83

i Here Solomon told God that he had built Him a house to dwell in-a settled place so that He would not be in a tent to be moved from place to place. He offered it to Jehovah as a dwelling place forever (v 2). After saying this to the Lord, the king turned to the congregation and blessed them as they stood (v 3)

j Solomon now blessed the Lord before the congregation. Like all good preachers he gave an expository message (a short one in this case) building all his remarks around the Word and applying the same to himself and his people (v 4-11) a 2nd prophecy in 2 Chr. (6:9, fulfilled). Next, v 16

2 predictions-fulfilled:
1 You (David) will not build the temple for My name (6:9)
2 Your son which shall come forth out of your loins shall build it (6:9)

b This was the large brazen altar in the outer court. The congregation evidently stood all about the court and on the outside of the temple grounds as far as the eye could see. Solomon stood before this altar in prayer and stretched his hands out toward heaven; but before he prayed he kneeled before the Lord (v 12-13; 1 Ki. 8:34)

c A platform, as we would call it today, was made of brass -6 ft. 3 in. high and 10 ft. 5 in. square (v 13). One this size could easily hold some of the chief men of the kingdom, although nothing is said about anyone being with Solomon on the platform. If the dignitaries of his realm were not there with him they were the first ones standing near the platform

d 12 parts to this prayer and blessing:
1 God's faithfulness acknowledged (v 14-15) 16-17)
2 Plea for continued faithfulness (v 3 God's omnipresence (v 18)
4 Plea for answers to prayers uttered toward the temple (v 19-21)
5 Plea for just judgment (v 22-23)
6 Plea for forgiveness and restoration from captivity (v 24-25)
7 Plea for forgiveness and rain from heaven (v 26-27)
8 Plea for help in plague, war, and sickness (v 28-31)
9 Plea for blessings on Gentiles seeking Israel's God (v 32-33)
10 Plea for help in war when no sin is committed (v 34-35)
11 Plea for help in war caused by sin (v 36-39)
12 Plea for God's continual presence and blessing (v 40-42)

e Note the prayer of Solomon which contains 1,122 words and addresses God 8 times in 4 different ways:
1 O Lord God of Israel (v 14, 16, 17)
2 O Lord my God (v 19)
3 My God (v 40)
4 O Lord God (v 41, 42)

f 5 facts about God:
1 No God like Him in heaven (v 14)
2 None like Him in earth
3 He keeps covenant
4 He shows mercy to all that walk before Him with all their heart
5 He has been faithful to David (v 15)

g No man will ever be able to say in all eternity that God has not kept His part of every contract with men or fulfilled every promise to them. He always has fulfilled and always will fulfil His obligations to humanity, for the promises of God are Yea, and Amen (2 Cor. 1:20)

i 3rd prophecy in 2 Chr. (6:16, fulfilled). Next, 7:13. This is the quotation of a previous prophecy which had been fulfilled up to this time; obedience had been rendered to Jehovah (v 16; 2 Sam. 7:12; 1 Ki. 2:4; 8:25. Cp. Ps. 132:12; Jer. 33:20-33; Lk. 1:32-33)

tion between two classes of Israelites, part fulfilling the original destiny promised their fathers; all show that all Israelites will be eventually restored and blessed under their Messiah (Isa. 11:10-12; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 36-37, 47-48; Zech. 12-14; Mt. 24:29-31; Rom. 11:25-29)

n Naturally, Solomon knew the law of Moses which predicted all these curses of no rain, pestilence, blasting, mildew, locusts, caterpillars, and sicknesses of v 26-31 - if they disobeyed God (Lev. 26; Dt. 28)

o No rain was recognized as a curse from God. In the Millennium, withholding the rain will be a means of forcing recognition of the Messiah and fulfillment of religious laws (Zech. 14:16-21)

p Praying toward this temple, this city, and this land is referred to 8 times in this prayer (v 20, 21, 26, 34, 38)

over my people Is'ra-el:
6 But I have chosen Je'ru'sa-lĕm, that my name might be there; and have chosen Da'vid to be over my people Is'ra-el.
7 Now it was in the heart of Da'vid my father to build an house for the name of the LORD God of Is'ra-el.
8 But the LORD said to Da'vid my father, Forasmuch as it was in thine heart to build an house for my name, thou didst well in that it was in thine heart:
*9 cNotwithstanding thou shalt not build the house; but thy son which shall come forth out of thy loins, he shall build the house for my name.
10 The LORD therefore hath performed his word that he hath spoken: for I am risen up in the room of Da'vid my father, and am set on the throne of Is'ra-el, as the LORD promised, and have built the house for the name of the LORD God of Is'ra-el.
11 And in it have I put the ark, wherein is the covenant of the LORD, that he made with the children of Is'ra-el.

(5) The speaker's platform of brass 10' 5" square, 6' 3" high

12 ¶ And he dstood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the congregation of Is'ra-el, and spread forth his hands:
13 For Sŏl'o-mon had made a brasen escaffold, of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had set it in the midst of the court: and upon it he stood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the congregation of Is'ra-el, and spread forth his hands toward heaven,

(6) The dedication prayer (1 Ki. 8:22-53): A God's faithfulness acknowledged

14 And dsaid, eO LORD God of Is'ra-el, there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; which fkeepest covenant and shewest mercy unto thy servants, that walk before thee with gall their hearts:
15 Thou which hast kept with thy servant Da'vid my father that which thou hast promised him; and spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

B Plea for continued faithfulness (1 Ki. 8:25)

*16 hNow therefore, O LORD God of Is'ra-el, ikeep with thy servant Da'vid my father that which thou hast promised him, saying, There shall not fail thee a man in my sight to sit upon the throne of Is'ra-el; kyet so that thy children take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou hast walked before me.
17 Now then, O LORD God of Is'ra-el, let thy word be verified, which thou hast spoken unto thy servant Da'vid.

C God's omnipresence (1 Ki. 8:27)

18 cBut lwill God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? behold, cheaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house which I have built!

D Plea for answers to prayers uttered toward the temple (1 Ki. 8:28)

19 Have respect therefore to the dprayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy servant prayeth before thee:
20 That thine eyes may be open upon this house day and night, upon the place whereof thou hast said that thou wouldest put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer which thy servant prayeth toward this place.
21 Hearken therefore unto the supplications of thy servant, and of thy people, Is'ra-el, which they shall make toward this place: hear thou from thy dwelling place, even from heaven; and when thou hearest, forgive.

E Plea for just judgment (1 Ki. 8:31)

22 ¶ cIf a man sin against his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him to make him swear, and the oath come before thine altar in this house;
23 lThen hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, by grequiting the wicked, by hrecompensing his way upon his own head; and by ijustifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteousness.

F Plea for forgiveness and restoration from captivity (1 Ki. 8:33)

24 ¶ And if thy people Is'ra-el be lput to the worse before the enemy, kbecause they have sinned against thee; and shall return and confess thy name, and pray and make supplication before thee in this house;
25 Then hear thou from the heavens, and forgive the sin of thy people Is'ra-el, and lbring them again unto the land which thou gavest to mthem and to their fathers.

G Plea for forgiveness and rain from heaven (1 Ki. 8:35)

26 ¶ mWhen the heaven is shut up, and there is cno rain, because they have sinned against thee; yet if they pray ptoward this place, and confess thy name, and turn from their sin, when thou dost afflict them;
27 Then hear thou from heaven, and forgive the sin of thy servants, and of thy people Is'ra-el, when thou hast taught them the good way, wherein they should walk; and send rain upon thy land, which thou a This question can be answered in the affirmative. God will indeed dwell on the earth, in person and in visible form in all eternity, as He now dwells on the planet heaven (Isa. 66:22-24; Tit. 2:13; Rev. 21:1-27; 22:4-5)

b Question 4. Next, 7:21

c See note c, 2:6

d Prayer includes every thought and word from the heart that is God-ward. If ever there was a prayer going direct to God this one was e Note the "If's, when's", and "then's":

1 If men sin, then hear (v 22-23)
2 If Your people are defeated because of sin and they shall confess and pray, then hear (v 24-25)
3 When You shut heaven because of sin, yet if they pray, then hear (v 26-27)
4 If there is drought, if there is pestilence, if there be blasting, mildew, locusts, caterpillars; if they are besieged or have sickness, then when they pray in this house, then hear (v 28-31)
5 If Your people go to war and they pray, then hear (v 34-35)
6 If they sin, and You deliver them up as captives; yet if they turn to You... if they return with all the heart and soul... then hear (v 36-39)

f 5fold plea for justice (v 23):
1 Hear from heaven
2 And do
3 Judge Your servants
4 Punish the wicked
5 Justify the righteous

g Requite - pay back, or make a return to. The idea here is to pay back or recompense the wicked by letting him reap what he has sowed; letting his sins and wrong-doing come upon him (v 23)

h This is the law of sowing and reaping expressed in another way (v 23; Gal. 6:7-8)

i Acquitting the righteous of the wrong he is accused of doing (v 23)

j In the Holy Spirit during prayer Solomon seems to have sensed the future of Israel prophetically (v 24-39):
1 If and when Your people Israel are defeated because of their sins (v 24)
2 Bring them again unto their own land (plainly implying captivity, v 25)
3 When heaven is shut and there is no rain, because of sin (v 26)
4 When You afflict them
5 When you have taught them the good way, and send rain again (v 27)
6 If You send drought, pestilence, blasting, mildew, locusts, and caterpillars (v 28)
7 If the enemy besieges Your people in their own land
8 If there be sicknesses and diseases
9 If Your people go to war (v 34)
10 If You are angry with them and deliver them to their enemies, and they are carried away captives unto another land (v 36)
11 If they turn to You while in captivity (v 37)
The many prophetical events mentioned in these verses could not have been mere guess-work on the part of Solomon. Israel experienced every one of them in due time, so technically the predicting of them would be considered as prophecy. However, we shall not list them as definite prophecy inasmuch as the statements are so general and were made in connection with conditions of answered prayer. Had Solomon been guessing he most likely would have made more favorable statements, for everything at this time pointed to a long and happy period under the blessing of God

k This is the only reason Israel was ever defeated either before or after Solomon's time. Sin is to blame for all the troubles and curses among men. In v 24-25 we see the remedy for sin as well as the result. See 8 ways to get rid of sin, p. 367

l Bring them again into their own land (v 25). This was literally fulfilled as recorded in Ezra and Nehemiah. Isaiah predicted two such gatherings (Isa. 11:1-12, notes)

m Them - all Israel of all the 13 tribes and not part of the nation. Solomon and others recognized all Israel thus. No writer of Scripture makes a distinc-

a The land between the river Euphrates and the Mediterranean, and from the the Red Sea on the south to Hamath on the north is the only land promised in all Scripture for all the tribes of Israel. Theories teaching that America and England are now promised lands for Israel are in error; there is no hint of such in Scripture

b Scarcity; lack; famine; failure; poverty

c 12 plagues because of sin:

1 No rain (v 26)	7 Locusts (v 28)
2 Affliction	8 Caterpillars
3 Dearth (v 28)	9 War
4 Pestilence	10 Sicknesses
5 Blasting	11 Defeat (v 36)
6 Mildew	12 Captivity

These plagues were promised and predicted if Israel ever went into sin (Lev. 26; Dt. 28)

d Heaven is now the dwelling place of God (v 30), but beginning with the New Earth period He will live on earth (Isa. 66:22-24; Rev. 21-22)

e There is no question about God knowing the hearts of all men. Several passages state this (v 30; Ps. 139:4; Acts 1:24; Rom. 8:27)

f This verse expresses the ultimate purpose of God in all His dealings with man (v 31; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10)

g Solomon, in his wisdom, did not forget the Gentiles whom God had in mind to bless from the very beginning of His calling of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. All nations were to be blessed through them and their seed (Gen. 12:1-3; Gal. 3:8; Rev. 5:8-10; 7:9-17. See also Num. 15:14; Dt. 10:19)

h This certainly implies the preaching of the gospel, for how could they come to the God of Israel if they did not hear? (v 32; Isa. 52:7; Mt. 16:15-20; Rom. 10:9-17; 1 Cor. 1:18-24)

i In the Millennium and New Earth periods all nations will go to Jerusalem and pray and worship (v 32; Isa. 2:2-4; 52:7; 66:19-21; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)

j Solomon was very unselfish in his prayer, which is the way all who pray should be. He asked that the Gentiles have all their prayers answered (v 33), as he had previously requested for Israel (v 29-30, 38-40). The N. T. is very plain in its teaching that every child of God can have the answer to every prayer that he prays in faith and in the name of Jesus Christ (Mt. 7:7-11; 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:8, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:4-8; 1 Jn. 3:21-22; 5:12-15)

k The purpose of answers to all prayers, even those of Gentiles, was and ever will be to make the name of God known among all nations of the earth so that all men might fear Him (v 43)

l As do Your people Israel. It is true that at that time David had brought Israel, as a whole, to a place of respect for God so that they feared Him. This wonderful state continued through most of the days of Solomon; but after him Israel went into many sins and had to be destroyed as a nation twice (2 Ki. 24-25; Lk. 1:20-24). In the Millennium when Christ reigns visibly on earth, Israel will fear and know God (Isa. 2:2-4; 52:7; 65:20-25; 66:19-21; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)

m This provided God as a defense for Israel when He wanted them to make war on any people when they had not sinned and needed to be chastened by other nations. In this instance God was to send them, which is not the same as God sending other nations to punish them for sin (v 36-39)

n It seems that God revealed to David His choice of Jerusalem as His capital on earth (v 34; 1 Chr. 22:1; Ps. 78:68; 132:13)

o God does maintain the cause of His people as long as they live right, but when sin is committed He, Himself, becomes their judge and metes out the penalty for sin. Twice here Solomon prayed for God to maintain the cause of Israel (v 35, 39)

p Again, Solomon referred to a time when Israel might sin until God would become angry with them, delivering them into the hands of their enemies to go into captivity (v 36-39). He prayed that if they should come to themselves in the land of their captivity, turn to God, and pray to Him, con-hast given unto thy people [d]for an inheritance.

H Plea for help in plague, war and sickness (1 Ki. 8:37)

28 ¶ If there be [b]dearth in the land, if there be [c]pestilence, if there be blasting, or mildew, locusts, or caterpillers; if their enemies besiege them in the cities of their land; whatsoever sore or whatsoever sickness there be:

29 Then what prayer or what supplication soever shall be made of any man, or of all thy people Is'ra-el, when every one shall know his own sore and his own grief, and shall spread forth his hands in this house:

30 Then hear thou from [d]heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his ways, whose [e]heart thou knowest; (for thou only knowest the hearts of the children of men:)

31 [f]That they may fear thee, to walk in thy ways, so long as they live in the land which thou gavest unto our fathers.

I Plea for blessings on Gentiles seeking Israel's God (1 Ki. 8:41)

32 [g]¶ Moreover concerning the stranger, which is not of thy people Is'ra-el, but is [h]come from a far country for thy great name's sake, and thy mighty hand, and thy stretched out arm; if they [i]come and pray in this house;

33 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling place, and [j]do according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for; [k]that all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, [l]as doth thy people Is'ra-el, and may know that this house which I have built is called by thy name.

J Plea for help in war when no sin is committed 34 [m]If thy people go out to war against their enemies by the way that thou shalt send them, and they pray unto thee toward this [n]city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built for thy name;

35 Then hear thou from the heavens their prayer and their supplication, [o]and maintain their cause.

K Plea for help in war because of sin (1 Ki. 8:44, 46)

36 [p]If they sin against thee, (for there is [q]no man which sinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near;

37 Yet if they bethink themselves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have done amiss, and have dealt wickedly;

38 If they return to thee [r]with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their captivity, whither they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land, which thou gavest unto their fathers, and toward the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built for thy name:

39 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling place, their prayer and their supplications, and maintain their cause, and forgive thy people which have sinned against thee.

L Plea for God's continual presence and blessing

40 Now, my God, let, I beseech thee, thine eyes be open, and let thine ears be attent unto the [a]prayer that is made in this place.

41 Now therefore [b]arise, O LORD God, into thy resting place, thou, and the ark of thy strength: let thy priests, O LORD God, be clothed with salvation, and let thy [c]saints rejoice [d]in goodness.

42 O LORD God, turn not away the face of [e]thine anointed: remember the [f]mercies of Dā'vid thy servant.

374 CHAPTER 7

(7) Divine acceptance of Solomon's prayer and sacrifices (Lev. 9:24, refs.)

NOW when Sŏl'o-mon had made an end of praying, the [g]fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices; and the glory of the LORD [h]filled the house.

2 And the priests could not enter into the house of the LORD, because the glory of the LORD had filled the LORD's house.

3 And when all the children of Is'ra-el saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD upon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the ground upon the pavement, and worshipped, and praised the LORD, saying, For he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever.

(8) Solomon sacrifices $9,550,000.00 worth of animals to God (1 Ki. 8:62-64)

4 ¶ Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the LORD.

5 And king Sŏl'o-mon offered a sacrifice of [i]twenty and two thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheep: so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices: the Lē'vītes also with instruments of musick of the LORD, which Dā'vid the king had made to praise the LORD, because his mercy endureth for ever, when Dā'vid praised by their ministry; and the priests sounded trumpets before them, and [j]all Is'ra-el stood.

7 Moreover Sŏl'o-mon hallowed the [k]middle of the court a This means all prayer said in this place, and it is so worded in 1 Ki. 8:52. In this Solomon had a better understanding of the possibilities in the gospel than many today who reject the Bible doctrine of Christians having all prayers answered through faith. He prayed that this would be the experience of both Israel and the Gentiles (v 33, 39-40). Thus it should be with Christians, for great are the many promises of God given to us, and all are always and without exception Yea and Amen to those who believe (2 Cor. 1:20; 1 Pet. 1:1-9)

b These same words are found in Ps. 68:1; 132:8-9, connecting the words of Solomon to those of David (v 40)

c The gracious ones, or as the Heb. reads, men of grace, that is, those who are subjects of the grace of God (v 41). This plainly shows that men in O. T. times were under grace as well as they are in N. T. times. It is true that the fulness of grace came by Jesus Christ, but men had great grace before He came, as proved by the spiritual experiences of men in the O. T., p. 158 of the N. T. See Grace in Index. How could the salvation of God be given to men of those times, if they had no grace? See Salvation in Index

d Prosperity; well-being; blessedness

e God's anointed is the Messiah

f The mercies shown to and promised to David (v 42; Ps. 89:49)

g This is additional to 1 Ki. 8:63-64, and again shows the divine acceptance of sacrifices until the Messiah should come to offer Himself as the one great eternal sacrifice for all men. The fire of God from heaven has fallen several times on such occasions (Gen. 4:4; 15:17; Lev. 9:24; 1 Ki. 18:38)

h God's glory filled the temple as it did the tabernacle of Moses when it was finished and set up (v 1-3; 5:14; Ex. 40:34-35; 1 Ki. 8:11). This was witnessed by many thousands in Israel who saw the fire fall from heaven with their own eyes (v 3)

i Solomon's personal offerings:

22,000 oxen @ $325.00	$7,150,000.00
120,000 sheep @ $20.00	2,400,000.00
Total est. value	$9,550,000.00

j Indicating that Israel was gathered there in great numbers for the ceremonies (v 6). By standing they could make room for many more to participate

k The middle of the court - the whole area where the brazen altar was, became one large place of sacrifice in order to offer the many thousands of animals, for the brazen altar itself was was too small for all of this (v 7) fessing their sins and returning to Him with a whole heart and soul, and if they should pray toward Palestine and Jerusalem, that God would hear their prayer and bring them again to their own land (v 37-39)

q This statement of Solomon must be understood in connection with all men as sinners. It is equal to Paul's statement in Rom. 3:23 that all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. It should not be taken in the all-inclusive sense else we should have to believe that the man Christ Jesus and all His followers kept on committing sin all their days. Christ knew no sin, neither was guile found in His mouth (1 Pet. 2:22). Christains are to live free from sin (Mt. 1:21; Rom. 6:14-23; 8:1-12; 12:1-2; 2 Cor. 5:17-18; Gal. 5:19-23; Col. 3:5-10; Heb. 12:14-15; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; 2:29; 3:5-10; 5:1-4, 18)

r This is the only way that men can seek God and find Him. The promise of God to man is, If you seek Him with all your heart and with all your soul that He will be found of you (15:2; Dt. 4:29; Heb. 11:6). The heart must be prepared to seek God (11:16; 12:14; 19:3; 30:19)

a Not only did Solomon keep the feast of dedication of the temple for 7 days but also the feast of tabernacles for an additional 7 days, making altogether 14 days of feasting at this time (v 8-9). The feast of dedication was first held from the 8th to the 15th the 23rd, which was the regular time for this feast (Lev. 23:33-36)

b It was at this time that the Lord appeared to Solomon the second time and assured him that He had heard his prayer, that He had hallowed the temple, and that His eyes and heart would be there continually (v 12; 1 Kl. 9:1-3). He also renewed the Davidic covenant with Solomon as He had renewed the Abrahamic covenant with Isaac and Jacob (v 17-22; 1 Kl. 9:4-9). This was 20 years after the first appearance to Solomon (8:1) c 4th prophecy in 2 Chr. (7:13-22, v 19-22 fulfilled; v 13-16 unfulfilled). Next, 12:7

6 predictions-fulfilled:
1 If you turn away and forsake My statutes and commandments, which I set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them, then I will pluck you up by the roots out of My land which I have given you (7:19)
2 This house, which I have sanctified for My name, will I cast out of My sight (7:20)
3 I will make it a proverb, and a by-word among all nations
4 This house, which is high, shall be an astonishment to everyone that passes by (7:21)
5 They shall say: Why hath the Lord done thus unto this land, and to this house?
6 It shall be answered: Because they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on other gods and worshipped them; therefore hath He brought all this evil upon them

3 predictions-unfulfilled:
1 If I send drought, locusts, and pestilences among My people; if they shall humble themselves, and pray, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive and heal their land (7:13-14)
2 As for you (Solomon), if you will walk before Me, as David walked, and do according to all that I have commanded you, and shall observe My statutes and judgments, then I will establish the throne of your kingdom, according as I have covenanted with David saying: There shall not fail you a man to rule in Israel
3 My eyes and heart will be in this place forever (v 15-16). This will be literally fulfilled when Messiah builds the eternal temple (Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 6:12-13)

d These 3 things have been fulfilled many times in Israel since that time. They have had many famines, plagues, and curses, at last being completely destroyed as a nation (v 13)

e 4 conditions of blessing upon Israel:
1 To humble themselves (v 14)
2 Pray
3 Seek God's face
4 Turn from their wicked ways

f See Prayers of the Bible — col. 4

g 3 blessings upon Israel for obedience:
1 I will hear from heaven (v 14)
2 I will forgive their sin
3 I will heal their land
Since Israel has not met the 4 conditions of this verse, the 3 blessings promised them have not been completely fulfilled. These things await eternal fulfillment

h Sanctified-set apart. This is the only true meaning of the word sanctify. It does not mean cleansing from sin, although this may be accomplished in the process if sin is involved. Nevertheless, the setting apart does not do the cleansing. One can sanctify himself or set himself apart to God all the days of his life; but if he does not have faith in the blood of Christ to cleanse from all sin the cleansing will never take place; the setting apart will avail nothing in itself (v 16, 20)

i This verse also remains to be fulfilled in all eternity when the Messiah comes to rebuild the house of David, establish his kingdom, and sit on his throne. All this will then be literally fulfilled (v 18; Isa. 9:6-7; Zech. 14:1-21; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-28; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5) that was before the house of the LORD: for there he offered burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Sŏl'o-mon had made was not able to receive the burnt offerings, and the meat offerings, and the fat.

(9) Great feast of Israel (1 Ki. 8:65-66)

8 ¶ [a]Also at the same time Sŏl'o-mon kept the feast seven days, and all Is'ra-el with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hă'math unto the river of E'gypt.

9 And in the eighth day they made a solemn assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.

10 And on the three and twentieth day of the seventh month he sent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodness that the LORD had shewed unto Dă'vid, and to Sŏl'o-mon, and to Is'ra-el his people.

11 Thus Sŏl'o-mon finished the house of the LORD, and the king's house: and all that came into Sŏl'o-mon's heart to make in the house of the LORD, and in his own house, he prosperously effected.

9 Second appearance of God to Solomon (Cp. 1:7).
(1) God promises to answer all the prayer of 6:14-42

■12 ¶ And [b]the LORD appeared to Sŏl'o-mon by night, and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for an house of sacrifice.
■13 [c]If I [d]shut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locusts to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people;
14 If my people, which are called by my name, [e]shall humble themselves, and [f]pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; [g]then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.
15 Now mine eyes shall be open, and mine ears attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.
16 For now have I chosen [h]and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

(2) The Davidic Covenant of 2 Sam. 7:1-17; 1 Chr. 17:3-15 confirmed to Solomon (1 Ki. 9:1-9)

17 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as Dă'vid thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my statutes and my judgments;
18 Then [i]will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I have covenanted with Dă'vid thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man to be ruler in Is'ra-el.

(3) Warning of judgment on people and temple (1 Ki. 9:6-9; Lev. 26; Dt. 28)

19 But [c]if ye turn away, and forsake my statutes and my commandments, which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them;
20 Then [b]will I pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this house, which I have sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a proverb and a byword among all nations.
21 And this house, which is high, shall be an astonishment to every one that passeth by it: so that he shall say, [c]Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and unto this house?
22 And it shall be answered, Because they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them forth out of the land of E'gypt, and laid hold on other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

375 CHAPTER 8

10 Energy and fame of Solomon (1 Ki. 9:10-29).
(1) God's temple and his own palace finished (1 Ki. 9:1)

AND it came to pass [d]at the end of twenty years, wherein Sŏl'o-mon had built the house of the LORD, and his own house,

(2) Hiram gives back to Solomon his gift of 20 cities and Solomon rebuilds them for Israel (1 Ki. 9:11-13)

2 That the [e]cities which Hū'ram had restored to Sŏl'o-mon, Sŏl'o-mon built them, and caused the children of Is'ra-el to dwell there.

(3) Solomon conquers Hamath-zobah and builds cities

3 And Sŏl'o-mon [f]went to Hă'math-zō'bah, and prevailed against it.
4 And he built [g]Tăd'môr in the wilderness, and all the store cities, which he built in Hă'math.
5 Also he [h]built Bĕth-hō'rŏn the upper, and Bĕth-hō'rŏn the nether, fenced cities, with walls, gates, and bars;
6 And Bă'al-ăth, and all the store cities that Sŏl'o-mon had, and all the chariot cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and all that Sŏl'o-mon desired to build in Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm, and in Lĕb'a-non, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

(4) Solomon makes all foreigners pay tribute and work (2:1-2, 17-18)

7 ¶ As for [i]all the people that were left of the Hĭt'tites, and the Ăm'ŏr-ites, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zites, and the Hĭ'vites, and the a Israel did do all these things, for which they are now scattered among the other nations. God's people forsook His statutes and commandments to serve and worship other gods; and this is why the things of v 20-22 came upon them and their country this

d During these 20 years Solomon built the temple and his own palace (1 Kl. (6:38-7:1)

e These cities were given to Hiram as a bonus or as a pledge of security for all the work done in providing men and material for the building of the temple and palace of Solomon. If they were a gift, Hiram considered them worthless, for he gave them back to Solomon (v 2; 1 Kl. 9:11-13); but if they were a pledge for security reasons, it was now time to return them to Solomon, because the work on the temple and palace was completed

f This was the first and only war of Solomon. This city perhaps had rebelled against him and he was obliged to bring it under subjection again; and this he did (v 3)

g The same as Palmyra, 150 mi. northeast of Damascus (v 4) h Rebuilt. Cp. Josh. 16:3-5; 1 Chr. 7:22-24. Fortifications as ancient as cities. Some writers say that the difference between cities and villages in ancient times was simply the difference between walled and unwalled towns. Some of the fenced cities of Scripture are thought to have been protected by stockades of wood. Sometimes there are more than one wall to a fortified city. It was thus with Jerusalem (32:5; 2 Kl. 25:4). There was a ditch outside some walls and a low wall or rampart protecting that, at regular distances on the wall there were towers for the purposes of watching and defense (26:15; 2 Kl. 9:17). To build a city often meant to build walls around a town already inhabited-not to build a town in a new location

i All the foreigners Solomon caused to pay tribute, and to work building the temple, his palace, and all the cities of v 3-8

221 prayers of the Bible (7:14)

176 in O. T. and 45 in N. T.

In the following list of Bible prayers we give only actual prayers, those that are worded, not references to prayer. All statements as he prayed, he intreated the Lord, he called upon the name of the Lord, and such like are not prayers; they merely mention that certain people prayed

6 prayers in Genesis:

1 Abraham for an heir, 40 words (15:2-3). Answered because God had promised (21:1-8)

2 Abraham for Ishmael to be his heir, 7 words (17:18). Unanswered because such was not in harmony with God's word and plan

3 Abraham for Sodom to be spared if 10 persons were righteous, 178 words (18:23-32). Unanswered because 10 righteous persons were not found (19:24)

4 Eliezer, steward of Abraham, for a bride for Isaac, 110 words (24:12-14). Answered because it was according to God's word (12:1-3, 7; 13:15; 15:18; 17:7, 19; 21:12)

5 Jacob for a blessing (28:20-22). Answered because of God's plan for him (32:1-33:17)

6 Jacob for deliverance from Esau, 130 words (32:9-12). Answered because of God's word and plan for him (25:19-23; 26:3; 27:28-29; 28:3-4, 13-15; 32:9)

References to prayer, entreating the Lord, calling on the name of the Lord, and groaning and being afflicted (12:7-8; 13:4; 16:11; 20:17-18; 25:21-23)

4 prayers in Exodus:

7 Moses for Aaron to go with him, 16 words (4:13). Answered because God wanted to please Moses (4:14-17)

a Solomon had been living in the city of David during the time that the temple and his own palace were being built. He did not consider her fit to be around the holy places where the ark of Jehovah had come (v 11). With such a Gentile wife Solomon was starting out the wrong way; and he did not learn the lesson he should have learned, for he later loved many foreign women who turned his heart away from God (1 Ki. 11:1-9)

b Then -after the temple was completed, and after he had brought his wife out of the city of David so that the sacred and holy places might not be defiled any more, he offered burst offerings before the Lord upon the brazen altar, even a certain number of daily offerings, according to the commandment of Moses. This refers to the morning and evening sacrifices, the additional offerings on the sabbaths, and the special ones at new moons and the solemn feasts (v 12-13) c The solemn feasts are here explained to be the feast of unleavened bread (in April), the feast of Pentecost 50 days later, and the feast of tabernacles (in October). See Lev. 23, notes

d All the males in Israel were supposed to gather 3 times a year on these special feasts (Ex. 23:14; Dt. 16:16)

e Solomon finally got around to the appointment of the 24 courses of the priests in their services (1 Chr. 24), the 24 courses of the Levites to sing and play music (1 Chr. 25), and the 24 courses of the porters (1 Chr. 26). All this had been revealed to David by the Holy Spirit, and now at last, it was being obeyed as he had left instructions (v 14-16)

f This makes it clear that all the plans and specifications for the temple and all its services were already completed by David before his death, and that Solomon was merely following orders according to the plans of his father (v 16)

g Solomon and Hiram now went into the business of sending ships to foreign ports to collect riches that were to be brought back to Solomon (v 17-18)

8 Moses in complaint to God for not delivering Israel, 42 words (5:22-23). Answered because of God's word (3:8, 12, 17-22)

9 Moses for forgiveness for Israel, 39 words (32:31-32). Answered because of atonement and Intercession (32:11-14, 30-35) and because of God's word (33:1-6, 12-14)

10 Moses for God's presence to go with Israel to Canaan, 138 words (33:12-13, 15-16). Answered because of God's word (33:12-14) and His grace (33:17)

References to groaning, sighing, crying, and enwreading the Lord (2:11, 23-25; 3:7, 9; 10:16)

9 prayers in Numbers:

11 Aaron for the blessing of God upon the people, 32 words in the form of benediction (6:24-26). Answered because of God's promise (6:27)

12 Moses for God to bless on the journey, 27 words (10:35-36). Answered when Israel lived free from sin, but unanswered when they sinned, which was according to God's word (Ex. 32:32-33). See Plagues and Blessings in Index

13 Moses in complaining to God because the burden was too heavy, 136 words (11:10-15). Answered because of God's word (11:16-20, 25-30)

14 Moses for God to show him what to do to give the people flesh, 56 words (11:21-22). Answered because of God's word (11:21) and to show His power (11:23)

15 Moses for the healing of Miriam, 8 words (12:13). Answered because of God's love for Moses (12:14-16)

16 Moses for God to spare Israel and uphold His own honor, 208 words (14:13-19). Answered because of Moses' prayer (14:20)

17 Moses for judgment on sin, 20 words (16:15). Answered because of sin (16:23-34)

Jĕb'u-sītes, which were not of Iṣ'ra-el,

8 But of their children, who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Iṣ'ra-el consumed not, them did Sŏl'o-mon make to pay tribute until this day.

9 But of the children of Iṣ'ra-el did Sŏl'o-mon make no servants for his work; but they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots and horsemen.

(5) Solomon had 250 chief officers over all Israel

10 And these were the chief of king Sŏl'o-mon's officers, even two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

(6) Solomon's reverence for sacred places and things

11 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon brought up the daughter of Phā'raŏh out [a]of the city of Dā'vid unto the house that he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dā'vid king of Iṣ'ra-el, because the places are holy, whereunto the ark of the LORD hath come.

(7) Solomon's faithfulness in worship (Cp. 1 Ki. 11:4)

12 ¶ [b]Then Sŏl'o-mon offered burnt offerings unto the LORD on the altar of the LORD, which he had built before the porch, 13 Even after a certain rate every day, offering according to the commandment of Mō'ses, on the sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the [c]solemn feasts, [d]three times in the year, even in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles.

(8) Solomon continues the religious policies (1 Chr. 23:2-26:28)

14 ¶ And he [e]appointed, according to the order of Dā'vid his father, the courses of the priests to their service, and the Lē'vītes to their charges, to praise and minister before the priests, as the duty of every day required: the porters also by their courses at every gate: for so had Dā'vid the man of God commanded.

15 And they departed not from the commandment of the king unto the priests and Lē'vītes concerning any matter, or concerning the treasures.

16 Now [f]all the work of Sŏl'o-mon was prepared unto the day of the foundation of the house of the LORD, and until it was finished. So the house of the LORD was perfected.

(9) Solomon's navy (1 Ki. 9:26): 1st navy of Israel (1 Ki. 22:48)

17 ¶ Then [g]went Sŏl'o-mon to Ē'zī-on-gē'bĕr, and to Ē'lŏth, at the sea side in the land of Ē'dom.

18 And Hū'ram sent him by the hands of his servants ships, and servants that had knowledge of the sea; and they went with the servants of Sŏl'o-mon to [h]Ō'phir, and took thence [i]four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Sŏl'o-mon.

376 CHAPTER 9

(10) Solomon's wisdom: queen of Sheba (1 Ki. 10:1-9)

AND when the [a]queen of Shĕ'bā [c]heard of the fame of Sŏl'o-mon, she [c]came to prove Sŏl'o-mon with hard questions at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, [j]with a very great company, and camels that bare spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones: and when she was come to Sŏl'o-mon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Sŏl'o-mon told her all her questions: and there was nothing hid from Sŏl'o-mon which he told her not.

3 And when the queen of Shĕ'bā had seen the wisdom of Sŏl'o-mon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel; his cupbearers also, and their apparel; and his ascent by which he went up into the house of the LORD; there was [e]no more spirit in her.

5 And she said to the king, It was a true report which I heard in mine own land of thine acts, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit I believed not their words, until I came, and mine eyes had seen it: and, behold, the one half of the greatness of thy wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy servants, which stand continually before thee, and hear thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee to set thee on his throne, to be king for the LORD thy God: because thy God loved Iṣ'ra-el, to establish them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgment and justice.

9 And she gave the king [k]an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and [l]of spices great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there any such spice as the queen of Shĕ'bā gave king Sŏl'o-mon.

10 And the servants also of Hū'ram, and the servants of Sŏl'o-mon, which brought gold from Ō'phir, brought [l]algum trees and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the algum trees [k]terraces to the house of the LORD, and to the king's palace, and [l]harps and psalteries for singers: and there were none such seen before in the land of Jū'dah.

12 And king Sŏl'o-mon [m]gave to the queen of Shĕ'bā all her desire, whatsoever she asked,

a See note a, 1 Ki. 9:29

b 450 talents of gold at $29,085.00 each would be $13,088,250.00. In 1 Ki. 9:28 it reads 420 talents, but there is no need to suppose there is a discrepancy, for the writer of Kings could refer to one trip and the writer of Chronicles to another

c Two opinions are held about the queen of Sheba. Some say she came from southeast Arabia, and others contend she came from Ethiopia. This is partly founded on Ethiopian history, Sheba, the grandson of Cush, for whom the place was named, is supposed to have settled in Ethiopia or Nubia and north Abbyssinia where female sovereigns were common (Gen. 10:7; Acts 8:27). Jesus spoke of the queen of Sheba as the queen of the south (Mt. 12:42), which could refer to Ethiopia more than Arabia

d She heard by commercial intercourse of the fame of Solomon, so came to try him with hard questions (v 1)

e 9 steps in her quest to prove Solomon:
1 She heard of his fame (v 1, 7)
2 Came with hard questions (v 1)
3 Communed with him of all that was in her heart
4 Saw the wisdom of Solomon (v 3)
5 Said it was a true report (v 5)
6 Believed (v 6)
7 Gave gifts to him (v 9)
8 Asked (v 12)
9 Returned

f She came with 4 things (v 1):
1 A great company
2 Camels bearing spices
3 Gold in abundance
4 Many precious stones

g 10 things that overwhelmed her:
1 Solomon's wisdom and knowledge (v 2-3)
2 The house that he had built (v 3)
3 The meat at his table (v 4; 1 Ki. 4:22-23)
4 The sitting of his servants (v 4)
5 The attendance of his ministers
6 The apparel of his servants
7 His cupbearers
8 The apparel of his cupbearers
9 The ascent into the temple
10 His acts of wisdom (v 5)

h 120 talents of gold at $29,085.00 would be $3,490,200.00

i The spices and precious stones may have been equal in value to the gold (v 9)

j See note a, 1 Ki. 10:11

k Stairs, balustrades

l He also made harps and psalteries for the singers out of the algum or almug trees (v 11)

m Solomon returned gifts to the queen of Sheba -all that she could ask for or desire (v 12)

18 Israel for forgiveness of sin, 25 words (21:7). Answered because of Moses' prayer and by type of Christ on the cross (21:7-9; Jn. 3:14-16)

19 Moses for a new leader of Israel, 56 words (27:16-17). Answered because of God's plan for Israel (27:18-23)

References to prayer (11:2; 21:7)

2 prayers in Deuteronomy:

20 Moses asking to go over into Canaan, 59 words (3:24-25). Unanswered because of sin (3:26; Num. 20:12)

21 Moses for Israel to be spared, 114 words (9:26-29). Answered because of intercession of Moses (Ex. 32:11-14)

References to prayer (9:20, 26), also what to pray for elders at murder trials (21:6-9) and what all Israel should pray after obedience to the law (26:5-15)

2 prayers in Joshua:

22 Joshua in complaint because God had not given victory, 90 words (7:7-9). Answered so sin could be put away (7:10-15)

23 Joshua in the form of a command for the sun and moon to stand still, 14 words (10:12). Answered because of necessity for time to finish God's work (10:13)

a 666 talents of gold at $29,085.00 would be $19,370,610.00. All this came to Solomon in only one year, besides that which travellers, merchants, the kings of Arabia, and governors of various provinces brought (v 13-14). It can be seen from this and other facts that he was indeed a very wealthy man, perhaps the world's wealthiest

b Heb. tur, travellers; merchantmen (v 14)

c A target of 600 shekels of gold would have the value of $5,817.00, counting a shekel equal to $9.69 1/2. The 200 targets would have a value of $1,163,400.00 (v 15)

d 300 shields of beaten gold-3 lbs. or 300 shekels each would amount to 90,000 shekels which, at $9.69 1/2 each would have the value of $872,450.00. Adding this amount to the $1,163,400.00 of note c, above would make a total of $2,035,950.00 for shields and targets (v 15-16). These shields were taken away by Shishak, king of Egypt in the reign of Rehoboam, son of Solomon (1 Ki. 14:26)

e Some ancient and even modern interpreters have made the 6 steps to Solomon's throne mean 6 steps leading to God, but this is without proof from Scripture. The steps are to be understood as literal and material, such as we see every day in certain buildings

f Solomon's riches:

1 From Hiram (1 Ki. 9:14)	$3,490,200.00
2 From queen of Sheba in gold, besides other riches (1 Ki. 10:10)	3,490,200.00
3 Gold in one year (v 13)	19,370,610.00
4 200 targets; 300 shields of gold (v 15-16)	2,035,950.00
Total gold lined	$28,386,960.00
5 Gold and silver in great amounts (v 14)
6 Throne of ivory and gold with steps, footstool, lions (v 17-19)
7 All drinking vessels of gold (v 20)
8 Gold, silver, ivory, apes, peacocks from the ships (v 21)
9 Yearly gifts from kings (v 24)
10 4,000 stalls for horses, and chariots (v 25)
11 12,000 horsemen
12 Silver as stone (v 27)

g There is no discrepancy in this verse or in 1 Ki. 10:26 where we read of 1,400 chariots, for we have only the number of stalls for the horses here, the horses not being numbered. Some chariots were no donbt drawn by 3 horses and others by 2 (v 21)

h The river Euphrates to the Mediterranean and the land of the Philistines to the border of Egypt (v 26)

est mistakes a ruler ever made (v 8-11). Through his one choice and wrong decision many wars were fought and hundreds of thousands of lives were lost. Much bitterness, hatred, jealousy, idolatry, and numerous other sins also resulted. There seemed to be no end to the harm done to God's cause in Israel by this one man's folly

o Many times this is the mistake of new and younger rulers and executives. It is always wise to stay wise by consulting older and more experienced men (v 8)

p Question 8, Next, v 16

q One thing is certain -any answer of this nature will make trouble in any kingdom, business, church, or elsewhere in society; but the answer of v 7 will always be good counsel to follow

r This is the first intimation that there was general resentment against Solomon throughout the tribes of Israel. They no doubt disliked his levy of man power of 30,000 of the best young men in the nation to help build the temple, as well as the increased taxations to raise money for the large building program he carried on through most of his 40-year reign. Before this we read of adversaries being raised up against him in foreign nations, but here it is revealed there was widespread unrest in all of Israel, especially in the 10 tribes. This was permitted of God to fulfil prophecy in giving 10 tribes to Jeroboam beside that which she had brought unto the king. So she turned, and went away to her own land, she and her servants.

(11) Solomon's riches (vss. 9-11; 1 Ki. 10:9-29)

13 ¶ Now the weight of gold that came to Sŏl'o-mon in one year was [a]six hundred and threescore and six talents of gold;

14 Beside that which [b]chapmen and merchants brought. And all the kings of A-ra'bĭ-a and governors of the country brought gold and silver to Sŏl'o-mon.

15 ¶ And king Sŏl'o-mon made [c]two hundred targets of beaten gold: six hundred shekels of beaten gold went to one target.

16 And [d]three hundred shields made he of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of gold went to one shield. And the king put them in the house of the forest of Lĕb'a-non.

17 Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And there were [e]six steps to the throne, with a footstool of gold, which were fastened to the throne, and stays on each side of the sitting place, and two lions standing by the stays:

19 And twelve lions stood there on the one side and on the other upon the six steps. There was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 ¶ And all the drinking vessels of king Sŏl'o-mon were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lĕb'a-non were of pure gold: none were of silver; it was not any thing accounted of in the days of Sŏl'o-mon.

21 For the king's ships went to Tär'shish with the servants of Hū'ram: every three years once came the ships of Tär'shish bringing gold, and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

22 And king Sŏl'o-mon passed all the kings of the earth [f]in riches and wisdom.

23 ¶ And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Sŏl'o-mon, to hear his wisdom, that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, harness, and spices, horses, and mules, a rate year by year.

25 ¶ And Sŏl'o-mon had [g]four thousands stalls for horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen; whom he bestowed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm.

26 ¶ And he reigned over all the kings from [h]the river even unto the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and to the border of E'gypt.

27 And the king made silver in Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm as stones, and cedar trees made he as the sycomore trees that are in the low plains in abundance.

(12) Death of Solomon: accession of Rehoboam (1 Ki. 11:41-43)

28 And they brought unto Sŏl'o-mon [a]horses out of E'gypt, and out of all lands.

29 ¶ Now the [b]rest of the acts of Sŏl'o-mon, first and last, [c]are they not written in [d]the book of Nā'than the prophet, and in the prophecy [e]of A-hi'jah the Shī'lonite, and in the [f]visions of Id'dō the seer against Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt?

30 And Sŏl'o-mon reigned in Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm [g]over all Is'ra-el forty years.

31 And Sŏl'o-mon [h]slept with his fathers, and he was buried in the city of Dā'vid his father: and Rē-ho-bō'am his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER 10 377

II Reign of Rehoboam: 17 years (1 Ki. 12:1-24; 14:21-31). 1 Accession and folly (1 Ki. 12:1-12)

AND Rē-ho-bō'am [a]went to Shĕ'chem: for to Shĕ'chem were all Is'ra-el come to make him king.

2 And it came to pass, [b]when Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, who was in E'gypt, whither he had fled from the presence of Sŏl'o-mon the king, heard it, that Jĕr-o-bō'am returned out of E'gypt.

3 And they sent and called him. So Jĕr-o-bō'am and all Is'ra-el came and spake to Rē-ho-bō'am, saying,

4 [c]Thy father made [d]our yoke grievous: now therefore ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will serve thee.

5 And he said unto them, Come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rē-ho-bō'am took counsel with the old men that had stood before Sŏl'o-mon his father while he yet lived, saying, [e]What counsel give ye me to return answer to this people?

7 And they spake unto him, saying, [f]If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them, they will be thy servants for ever.

8 But he forsook the counsel which the old men gave him, and [g]took counsel with the young men that were brought up with him, that stood before him.

9 And he said unto them, [h]What advice give ye that we may return answer to this people, which have spoken to me, saying, Ease somewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him spake unto him, saying, [i]Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake unto thee, saying, Thy father [j]made our yoke heavy, but make thou it somewhat lighter for us; thus shalt thou say unto them, My little

d Exactly what is referred to here by the book of Nathan is not known unless he wrote part of the books of Kings. It may be that the compiler of Kings used some writings of Nathan which we do not have now (v 29). If we take the word for book in the Heb. to mean words, as it does, then the words of Nathan may refer to those of 2 Sam. 7:1-17; 12:1-25; 1 Ki. 1:8-45; 1 Chr. 17

e The prophecy of Ahijah is in 1 Ki. 11:29-30; 14:1-18

f The visions and story of Iddo are referred to in v 29; 12:15; 13:22; but what his visions and story were is not recorded in any book of the Bible. Part of his writings concerned genealogies and records of the kings of Israel (12:15)

g The 3rd and last king to reign over all Israel as the from Rehoboam who reigned a few days or weeks before the kingdom was divided. The first 3 kings reigned for 40 years each (v 30; Acts 13:21; 2 Sam. 5:4). David alone of the 3, reigned over Judah only, for 7 1/2 years, and over all Israel for 33 years (2 Sam. 5:5)

h Slept bodily in the grave, not with the soul which is immortal and fully conscious after death while the body is in the grave (v 31). It is clear that the part of Solomon which slept was buried; and since only the body goes to the grave, and the soul and spirit, or the inner man leaves the body at the time of death it does not therefore go to the grave. In the days before Christ was resurrected, at which time He changed the abode of the righteous, the souls of both the righteous and wicked went to sheol, the unseen world of departed, conscious spirits. See Hell, p. 620

i The first step taken by Rehoboam was a judicious one. He no doubt sought to cement the dissatisfied Ephraimites to himself by being crowned king in their chief city. This should have caused them to submit to the tribe of Judah, as this was a great honor given them. She chem lay on the flank of Mt. Gerizim, directly opposite Mt. Ebal, these being the mounts of curses and blessings (Dt. 11:29; 27:1-9). It was a national sanctuary (Josh. 24:1), and the site of Abraham's first altar (Gen. 12:6). Isaac and Jacob both lived here. Joseph was buried here; Jacob's well was here (Jn. 4:5). The modern town called Nablous or Neapolis has 2 long streets running parallel with the valley, 6 mosques, a church of Greek Christians, public baths, and a variety of factories, a synagogue of Samaritans, and other points of interest

j Jeroboam was returned and entered actively into the affairs of his tribe, becoming leader of those who sought certain changes in their treatment by the kings of the house of David (v 2-15)

k The congregation came to Rehoboam complaining about the oppression of the people and hoping for certain changes in the attitude of the kings of the house of David. They agreed to continue being ruled by them if they would only lighten the burden somewhat (v 4). Rehoboam told them to depart and come again in 3 days when he would give an answer (v 5). He then consulted the old men and they gave him the right advice, saying he should be king and lighten the burden for his subjects who would then willingly serve him (v 6-7). But when he counselled with the young men who had grown up with him, they advised Rehoboam to become harder on the people (v 8-11): and when they heard this hard speech and saw his haughty attitude they rebelled (v 12-19)

l Their yoke was somewhat grievous under Solomon who had used forced labor to construct all the public buildings and his own house. They had also been greatly taxed in other ways, so they were no doubt due some changes

m Question 7, Next, v 9

n This was some of the wisest advice ever given a king (v 7); but Rehoboam permitted the youth of the kingdom to make him to make one of the great-a Whips—the badge of a taskmaster and a slave driver as on the Egyptian monuments

b Scorpions—knotted whips, what we would call the cat
c Note that Jeroboam was the head of the people who were seeking easier terms from the new king. He was ready to lead them in rebellion if the answer was not as they wished. Had it been right he, no doubt, would have become disarmed and co-operated with the king. Evidently God foresaw these events, and knowing the disposition of Rehoboam and what the outcome of this very meeting would be, made the predictions of 1 Ki. 11:30-39 on these grounds
d This is the most unwise and immature kind of answer to give any people (v 13-14)
e The cause—the turning of events was foreknown by God; and they were necessary to fulfil the prophecy of 1 Ki. 11
f Seeing there was no hope of a better relationship with the house of David, and that the king would not hear their cause or meet any of their requests, they openly rebelled and for 260 years there were 2 kingdoms of Israel (v 16-19)
g Question 9, Next, 12:15
h This was the beginning of 260 years of division and strife between the 2 nations of Israel. Wars, bloodshed, and intrigue became the program of a once united and godly people. God's plan for a united nation being a blessing to all other nations of the earth had now come to a definite standstill and both kingdoms faced ruin and dispersion among the Gentiles. Little did these rebels realize what their departure to their tents meant for the future. Such is characteristic of rebels—they never stop to think, being guided only for the moment in the direction which is convenient for their bitter passions (v 16-19)

m He could muster an army and determine to cause bloodshed, with perhaps the loss of his kingdom, sooner than speak a few words of kindness and humble himself to save his kingdom (v 1; 10:4-11). He was rebuked by the prophet Shemaiah and commanded not to fight because this division was of God; so he and his followers obeyed and kept the peace (v 1-4)

3 Have respect for my prayer and supplication (v 19)
4 Hearken to the cry and prayer which I pray before You finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chastised you [a]with whips, but I will chastise you with[b] scorpions.

2 Fourth division of the kingdom: 14th civil strife (1 Ki. 12:16-24)

12 So[c] Jĕr-o-bō'am and all the people came to Rĕ-ho-bō'am on the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come again to me on the third day.
13 And the king answered them [d]roughly; and king Rĕ-ho-bō'am forsook the counsel of the old men, ▸14 And answered them after the advice of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.
15 So the king hearkened not unto the people: for the [e]cause was of God, that the LORD might perform his word, which he spake by the hand of Ā-hī'jah the Shī'lo-nite to Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nĕ'bāt.
●16 ¶ [f]And when all Iṣ'ra-el saw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people answered the king, saying, [g]What portion have we in Dā'vid? and we have none inheritance in the son of Jĕs'se: every man to your tents, O Iṣ'ra-el: and now, Dā'vid, see to thine own house. [h]So all Iṣ'ra-el went to their tents.
17 [i]But as for the children of Iṣ'ra-el that dwelt in the cities of Jū'dah, Rĕ-ho-bō'am reigned over them.
18 Then king Rĕ-ho-bō'am sent Hā-dō'ram that was over the tribute; and the children of Iṣ'ra-el stoned him[j] with stones, that he died. But king Rĕ-ho-bō'am made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.
19 And Iṣ'ra-el rebelled against the house of Dā'vid [k]unto this day.

CHAPTER 11 — 378

3 Judah mobilized: civil war averted (1 Ki. 12:21)

AND when Rĕ-ho-bō'am was come to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, he gathered of the house of Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn an [l]hundred and fourscore thousand chosen men, which were warriors, [m]to fight against Iṣ'ra-el, that he might bring the kingdom again to Rĕ-ho-bō'am.
2 But the word of the LORD came to [n]Shĕm-a-ī'ah the man of God, saying,
●3 Speak unto Rĕ-ho-bō'am the son of Sŏl'o-mon, king of Jū'dah, and to all Iṣ'ra-el in Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn, saying,
●4 Thus saith the LORD, Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren: return every man to his house: for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the words of the LORD, and returned from going against [a]Jĕr-o-bō'am.

4 Rehoboam's fortifications

5 ¶ And [b]Rĕ-ho-bō'am dwelt in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and built cities for defence in Jū'dah.
6 He built even Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm, and Ē'tām, and Tē-kō'a,
7 And Bĕth'-zûr, and Shō'cō, and Ā-dūl'lām,
8 And Gāth, and Mā-rē'shah, and Zĭph,
9 And Ād-o-rā'im, and Lā'chish, and Ā-zē'kah,
10 And Zō'rah, and Ā'ĭj'a-lŏn, and Hĕ'bron, which are in Jū'dah and in Bĕn'ja-mĭn fenced cities.
11 And he fortified the strong holds, and put captains in them, and store of victual, and of oil and wine.
12 And in every several city he put shields and spears, and made them exceeding strong, having Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn on his side.

5 Priests and Levites in all Israel join Rehoboam because of Jeroboam's sins (1 Ki. 12:25-33)

13 ¶ And [c]the priests and the Lē'vītes that were in all Iṣ'ra-el resorted to him out of all their coasts.
14 For the Lē'vītes left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Jū'dah and Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm: for Jĕr-o-bō'am and his sons had cast them off from executing the priest's office unto the LORD:
15 And he ordained him priests for the high places, and for the devils, and for the calves which he had made.

6 All the godly of the ten tribes also join Rehoboam because of Jeroboam's sins

16 And [d]after them out of all the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el such as set their hearts to seek the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el came to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, to sacrifice unto the LORD God of their fathers.

7 Rehoboam serves God only 3 years (12:1; 1 Ki. 14:21)

17 So they strengthened the kingdom of Jū'dah, and made Rĕ-ho-bō'am the son of Sŏl'o-mon strong, [e]three years: for three years they walked in the way of Dā'vid and [f]Sŏl'o-mon.

8 Rehoboam's family: 78 wives and concubines and 88 sons and daughters

18 ¶ And Rĕ-ho-bō'am took him Mā'ha-lăth the daughter of Jĕr'ĭ-mŏth the son of Dā'vid to wife, and Ăb-i-hā'il the daughter of Ē-lī'ab the son of Jĕs'se;
19 Which bare him children; Jē'ŭsh, and Shăm-a-rī'ah, and Zā'ham.
20 And after her he took Mā'a-chah the daughter of Ăb'sa-lŏm; which bare him Ā-bī'jah, and Āt'tāi, and Zĭ'zā, and Shĕl'o-mĭth.
21 And Rĕ-ho-bō'am loved a Instead of the history of Jeroboam and the 10 tribes being continued here as in 1 Ki. 11:26-14:19, these are suddenly dropped and only the kings of Judah are dealt with afterward in 2 Chronicles; the kings of the 10 tribes are mentioned only when necessary in recording the history of the house of David and Judah b Rehoboam was now between two enemies, Jeroboam on the north and Egypt on the south. He built fortifications in 15 cities and made his frontiers exceedingly strong. Egypt was the greater of the two perils, so 12 of the fortifications he made were in cities on the southern and western frontiers where that nation would most likely attack (v 5-12) c The priests and Levites were thrust out of the priest's office and away from serving Jehovah, so they all left the 10-tribe kingdom for Jerusalem and Judah. Instead of these duly ordained priests by tribal rights being used, Jeroboam ordained the lowest of the people as priests in his high places—where devils, and the calves he had made were worshipped (v 13-15) d Not only did the priests and Levites leave the 10-tribe kingdom—all the godly of the 10 tribes also left their country, coming to Jerusalem and Judah to seek the Lord and sacrifice to Him (v 16; note b, 1 Ki. 12:17). Thus multitudes of the 10 tribes came to be with Judah and Benjamin. This made the 2-tribe kingdom of Israel to be representative of the whole 13 tribes. The ungodly of the 10 tribes were destroyed as a nation about 749 B. C. (2 Sam. 17). 133 years later the 2-tribe kingdom was also destroyed for sins (2 Ki. 24-25). 70 years later the godly of all the 13 tribes returned to make a nation again and were all recognized as the Jews of Palestine in the days of Jesus Christ. See note a, Acts 13:16; also Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367

e Rehoboam lived godly and walked in the way of David and Solomon for only 3 years; then he and Judah went into sin (12:1) for which God permitted Egypt to conquer them and take all their treasures away (12:2-12). If he had continued in the godly way no kingdom or combination of kingdoms could have overcome him
f This would naturally refer to the time when Solomon did walk with God, and not to the time of his backslidings, as in 1 Ki. 11:1-9

18 Arise, O Lord God, into Your resting place, You and the ark of Your strength (v 41)
19 Let Your priests be clothed with salvation
20 Let Your saints rejoice in Your goodness
21 Turn not away the face of Your anointed (v 42)
22 Remember the mercies of David Your servant

a The reason he made Abijah chief over his brethern and heir to the throne was that he loved this son's mother, Maachah, above his other wives. He did wisely by dispersing his 28 sons throughout all parts of Judah and Benjamin; his purpose was to hold the loyalty of his people in his time of apostasy (v 23)

b This was no doubt the cause of his apostasy, as it was that of his father (v 21, 23; 1 Ki. 11:1-9). Among all his 88 wives and concubines there were no doubt a number who were idolaters and who led him into the sins of 12:1-2; 1 Ki. 14:22-24

c Here we have another example of God blessing a man who forsook Him in the time of blessing, to become forsaken by God in return (v 1). God promises to forsake and pluck up all who forsake Him. See Backsliding, p. 237

d The first time the term all Israel is used in the record since the division of the kingdom; and it refers to all from the 13 tribes that were in Judah under Rehoboam (v 1). Many from all the 10 tribes forsook Jeroboam and moved to the 2-tribe kingdom -called all Israel here and also called Jews (1 Ki. 16:6; 25:25; Jer. 34:9; note a, Acts 13:16)

e Think of it! Less than 5 years after the death of Solomon the whole united kingdom of Israel was divided into 2 kingdoms, the 10 tribes having gone into apostasy, and now the 2 tribes having experienced both apostasy and military defeat by a foreign king who even robbed the treasuries of Judah and disgraced the whole nation -this after only 3 years of righteousness (v 2-12). Thus through sin such a wonderful kingdom that had ruled many kings and countries from the Euphrates to Egypt and whose king had all the other kings coming to him to hear his wisdom and present him with gifts, was now in complete humiliation before those same kings and countries f Because they transgressed against Jehovah (v 2). The beginning of many such statements made during the history of the next 388 years as recorded in Kings and Chronicles, to show the causes for the defeat of Israel. See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6

g Lubims -the Libyans west of Egypt (v 2; 16:8; Nah. 3:9)

h Sukkiims -from the east coast of Africa (v 3)

i Then -after Shishak had taken all the fortified cities of Judah, Jehovah sent Shemaiah, the prophet to the rulers of Judah to state the cause of their defeat (v 5-6)

j Shishak was founder of the 22nd Egyptian dynasty. He invaded Judah, destroyed all the fortified cities and took Jerusalem, carrying away all the king's treasures, and the shields of gold which Solomon had made (v 4, 9). This was allowed of God because of sin (v 2). Shishak's army consisted of 1,200 chariots, 60,000 horsemen, and innumberable foot soldiers of Egyptians, Lubims, Sukkiims, and Ethiopians (v 3). Judah then humbled themselves and God spared them from total destruction (v 4-12)

k The princes of Judah are called the princes of Israel, again proving that Jews of all the tribes are also Israelites, and all Israelites are Jews (v 6)

l Rehoboam and the princes humbled themselves confessing that Jehovah had been righteous in permitting them to be defeated (v 6)

m Again we see the wonderful mercy of God manifested at the least degree of repentance and self-humbling (v 7). God sent Shemaiah back the second time to tell the rulers that because they had bumbled themselves He would not permit them to be destroyed, that He would grant some deliverance, and that His wrath would not be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak (v 7). He made it clear also that He would permit servitude to Shishak so that they might learn obedience (v 8)

379 CHAPTER 12

9 Rehoboam's apostasy (11:17; 1 Ki. 14:21-24)

AND it came to pass, when Rĕ-ho-bō'am had established the kingdom, and had strengthened himself, he [c]forsook the law of the LORD, [d]and all Ĭs'ra-el with him.

10 Egyptian invasion of Judah (1 Ki. 14:25). (1) All fortified cities fall except Jerusalem

2 And it came to pass, that in the [e]fifth year of king Rĕ-ho-bō'am Shĭ'shăk king of Ē'gўpt came up against Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, [f]because they had transgressed against the LORD,

3 With twelve hundred chariots, and threescore thousand horsemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Ē'gўpt; the [g]Lų'bĭms, the [h]Sŭk'kĭ-ĭms, and the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-anş.

4 And he took the fenced cities which pertained to Jū'dah, and came to Jē-rų'sā-lĕm.

(2) Shemaiah the prophet preaches: Rehoboam humbles himself

5 ¶ [i]Then came Shĕm-a-ĭ'ah the prophet to Rĕ-ho-bō'am, and to the princes of Jū'dah, that were gathered together to Jē-rų'sā-lĕm because of [j]Shĭ'shăk, and said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Ye have forsaken me, and therefore have I also left you in the hand of Shĭ'shăk.

6 Whereupon the [k]princes of Ĭs'ra-el and the [l]king humbled themselves; and they said, The LORD is righteous.

(3) Because of Rehoboam's repentance God spares him

7 And [m]when the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shĕm-a-ĭ'ah, saying, They have humbled themselves; therefore I will not destroy them, but I will grant them some deliverance; and my wrath shall not be poured out upon Jē-rų'sā-lĕm by the hand of Shĭ'shăk.

8 Nevertheless they shall be his servants; that they may know my service, and the service of the kingdoms of the countries.

9 So Shĭ'shăk king of Ē'gўpt came up against Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house; he [a]took all: he carried away also the shields of gold which Sŏl'o-mon had made.

10 Instead of which king Rĕ-ho-bō'am made [b]shields of brass, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that kept the entrance of the king's house.

11 And when the king entered into the house of the LORD, the guard came and fetched them, and brought them again into the guard chamber.

12 And [c]when he humbled himself, the wrath of the LORD turned from him, that he would not destroy him altogether: and also in Jū'dah things went well.

11 Length of Rehoboam's reign (1 Ki. 14:21)

13 ¶ So king Rĕ-ho-bō'am strengthened himself in Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, and reigned: for Rĕ-ho-bō'am was [d]one and forty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Nā'a-mah an Am'mon-ĭt-ess.

14 And [e]he did evil, because he prepared not his heart to seek the LORD.

12 Death of Rehoboam: accession of Abijah (1 Ki. 14:31)

15 Now the [f]acts of Rĕ-ho-bō'am, first and last, [g]are they not written in the [h]book of Shĕm-a-ĭ'ah the prophet, and of [i]Ĭd'dō the seer concerning genealogies? And there were wars between Rĕ-ho-bō'am and Jĕr-o-bō'am continually.

16 And Rĕ-ho-bō'am [j]slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Dā'vid: and A-bī'jah his son reigned in his stead.

III Reign of Abijah (Abijam): 3 years (1 Ki. 15:1). 1 Accession and reign

NOW in the eighteenth year of king Jĕr-o-bō'am [k]began A-bī'jah to reign over Jū'dah.

2 He reigned three years in Jē-rų'sā-lĕm. His mother's name also was Mi-chā'iah the daughter of Ū'rĭ-el of Gĭb'e-ah. And there was war between A-bī'jah and Jĕr-o-bō'am.

2 War with Jeroboam: sermon of Abijah (1 Ki. 15:6)

3 And A-bī'jah set the battle in array with an army of valiant men of war, even [l]four hundred thousand chosen men: Jĕr-o-bō'am also set the battle in array against him with eight a Shishak took all (v 9):

1 All the treasures of the temple
2 All the treasures of the king's house
3 The shields and targets of gold that Solomon had made. See 9:15-16

b Rehoboam had lost all the gold and silver of his kingdom, so now he substituted brass in replacing the shields of 9:15-16 (v 10) c Again we see the wonderful results of self-humbling. When Rehoboam humbled himself God turned His wrath from him and he and Judah prospered again (v 12-13)

d Rehoboam was born one year before Solomon became king and he was 41 years old when he, himself began to reign. Solomon, who was perhaps married in his teens, died at the end of a 40-year reign (9:30); whereas, Rehoboam died at the end of a 17-year reign-when he was 58 years old (v 13-16)

e This explains why he did not continue in the way of David, and why he went into sin and apostasy after serving the Lord for 3 years. If he had prepared his heart to seek God, then he would have become established in grace and in faith sufficiently to stay true to God (v 14; note a, 1 Ki. 11:6)

f See 1 Ki. 12:1-24; 14:21-31

g Question 10. Next, 13:5

h This could be trans. words of Shemaiah. Whether there were more words than those found in his short messages, as recorded in 11:1-4; 12:5-8; 1 Ki. 12:21-24 we do not know. If so, we do not have them

i See note f, 9:29

j See note h, 9:31

k Abijah or Abijam began to reign in the 18th year of Jeroboam, 4 years before Jeroboam died (1 Ki. 14:20). The wars that had continued, off and on, during the reigns of Rehoboam and Jeroboam (12:15) now continued when Abijah was made king; but God gave him a great victory from which Jeroboam never did fully recover (v 1-31)

l These were 400,000 chosen men of Judah, Benjamin, and the 10 tribes that were in Judah, many of whom had gone to Judah when Rehoboam destroyed Jehovah-worship in the 10-tribe kingdom (11:16-17). A few years before this Rehoboam could muster only 180,000 chosen men (11:1), indicating that many thousands of the 10 tribes had come down to become a part of the kingdom of Judah, which is called all Israel (12:1). Jeroboam had 800,000 chosen men (13:3). Note the steady increase of Judah and the decrease of the 10 tribes. Rehoboam could only muster 180,000 (11:1); 18 years later Abijah could muster 400,000 (13:3); 6 years afterward Asa had 580,000 (14:8); 32 years after that Jehoshaphat had 1,160,000 besides those in the fenced cities throughout all Judah (17:14-19). On the other hand, Jeroboam could muster 800,000 when Judah had only 400,000 (13:3), while Ahab's army in the days of Jehoshaphat of Judah was compared to two little flocks of kids which could not stand against the Syrians (1 Ki. 20:27). This increase of Judah was caused mainly by a constant emigration of the 10 tribes to Judah (note b, 1 Ki. 12:17)

4 predictions -fulfilled:
1 I will not destroy them (12:7)
2 I will grant some deliverance
3 My wrath will not be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak
4 Nevertheless they shall be his servants, that they may learn to obey and know the difference between serving Me and serving ungodly nations (12:8). That they may know that serving God and serving man are far different a 20 main points of Abijah's sermon:

1 The LORD gave the kingdom to David forever by a covenant of salt (v 5)
2 Jeroboam, a mere servant of Solomon, has rebelled against his master (v 6)
3 Vain men, children of Belial, have strengthened themselves against Rehoboam when he was young, inexperienced, and powerless to help himself (v 7)
4 You think you can withstand the kingdom of Jehovah in the hands of David (v 8)
5 You are a great multitude
6 Jeroboam has made you golden calves as your gods
7 You have cast out the priests of the LORD, and made priests after the manner of the heathen (v 9)
8 Anyone among you who offers to consecrate himself with a young bullock and 7 rams may be a priest of false gods
9 Jehovah is still our God (v 10)
10 We have not forsaken Him
11 The priests which minister to Jehovah are the rightful priests of the sons of Aaron 12 The Levites also wait upon their part of the worship
13 They burn both the morning and evening sacrifices and sweet incense (v 11)
14 The showbread also is set in order upon the pure table
15 The candlestick of gold with the lamps thereof burn every evening
16 We keep the charge of Jehovah
17 You have forsaken Him
18 God, Himself, is with us as our captain (v 12)
19 His priests with sounding trumpets cry an alarm against you 20 I appeal to you not to fight against Jehovah, the God of your fathers, for you will not prosper
b Question 11, Next, v 9
c The 3rd time this covenant of salt is mentioned (v 5; Lev. 2:13; Num. 18:19, note) d When such men take over any government it is doomed to destruction, as proved in this case (2 Ki. 17)
e Question 12, Next, 16:8
f Only 2 rams were required (Ex. 21:1; Lev. 8:2), but this being human inspired ritual it followed the usual pattern-adding outward things for divine substitution while the spiritual and essential things are diminished
g Jeroboam's strategy was sound according to natural man's thinking, but nothing can succeed when God is against it. When Judah saw that they were besieged before and behind they cried to Jehovah whom their king claimed was their captain (v 12). The priests sounded with their trumpets, the men of Judah shouted, and God, Himself, smote Jeroboam's army and they fled before Judah; 500,000 of the 800,000 were slain (v 13-20)

26 Israel for deliverance and forgiveness of sins, 36 words (10:10, 16). Answered because of God's plan for Israel (11:1-33) hundred thousand chosen men, being mighty men of valour.

●4 ¶ And Ă-bī'jah stood up upon mount Zĕm-a-rā'im, which is in mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, and said, [a]Hear me, thou Jĕr-o-bō'am, and all Ĭs'ra-el;

5 [b]Ought ye not to know that the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el gave the kingdom over Ĭs'ra-el to Dā'vid for ever, even to him and to his sons by a [c]covenant of salt?

6 Yet Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'bāt, the servant of Sŏl'o-mon the son of Dā'vid, is risen up, and hath rebelled against his lord.

7 And there are gathered unto him [d]vain men, the children of Bē'ĭl-al, and have strengthened themselves against Rĕ-ho-bō'am the son of Sŏl'o-mon, when Rĕ-ho-bō'am was young and tenderhearted, and could not withstand them.

8 And now ye think to withstand the kingdom of the LORD in the hand of the sons of Dā'vid; and ye be a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves, which Jĕr-o-bō'am made you for gods.

9 [e]Have ye not cast out the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aăr'on, and the Lē'vites, and have made you priests after the manner of the nations of other lands? so that whosoever cometh to consecrate himself with a young bullock and [f]seven rams, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods.

10 But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him; and the priests, which minister unto the LORD, are the sons of Aăr'on, and the Lē'vites wait upon their business:

11 And they burn unto the LORD every morning and every evening burnt sacrifices and sweet incense: the shewbread also set they in order upon the pure table; and the candlestick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening: for we keep the charge of the LORD our God; but ye have forsaken him.

12 And, behold, God himself is with us for our captain, and his priests with sounding trumpets to cry alarm against you. O children of Ĭs'ra-el, fight ye not against the LORD God of your fathers; for ye shall not prosper.

3 Abijah's victory: 500,000 of Israel slain

13 ¶ But Jĕr-o-bō'am [g]caused an ambushment to come about behind them: so they were before Jū'dah, and the ambushment was behind them.

14 And when Jū'dah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind: and they cried unto the LORD, and the priests sounded with the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Jū'dah gave a shout: and as the men of Jū'dah shouted, it came to pass, that God smote Jĕr-o-bō'am and all Ĭs'ra-el before Ă-bī'jah and Jū'dah.

16 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el fled before Jū'dah: and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Ă-bī'jah and his people slew them with a great slaughter: so there fell down slain of Ĭs'ra-el five hundred thousand chosen men.

18 Thus the children of Ĭs'ra-el were brought under at that time, and the children of Jū'dah prevailed, [h]because they relied upon the LORD God of their fathers.

19 And Ă-bī'jah pursued after Jĕr-o-bō'am, and took cities from him, Bĕth'-ĕl with the towns thereof, and Jĕsh'a-nah with the towns thereof, and Ĕ'phrā-ĭn with the towns thereof.

20 Neither did Jĕr-o-bō'am recover strength again in the days of Ă-bī'jah: [i]and the LORD struck him, and he died.

4 Abijah's family: 14 wives; 38 sons and daughters

21 ¶ But Ă-bī'jah waxed mighty, and [j]married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two sons, and sixteen daughters.

22 And the [k]rest of the acts of Ă-bī'jah, and his ways, and his sayings, are written in the [l]story of the prophet Ĭd'dō.

381 CHAPTER 14

IV Reign of Asa: 41 years (1 Ki. 15:8). I Accession and character: 10 years of peace

SO Ă-bī'jah [a]slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Dā'vid: [b]and Ā'sā his son reigned in his stead. In his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Ā'sā [c]did that which was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God:

3 [d]For he took away the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut down the groves:

4 And commanded Jū'dah to seek the LORD God of their fathers, and to do the law and the commandment.

5 Also he took away out of all the cities of Jū'dah the high places and the images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.

2 Asa's building program (1 Ki. 15:22)

6 ¶ And he built fenced cities in Jū'dah: for the land had rest, and he had no war in those years; because the LORD had given him rest.

7 Therefore he said unto Jū'dah, Let us build these cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; because we have sought the LORD our God, we have sought him, and he hath given us rest on every side. So they built and prospered.

3 Asa's army: 580,000 men a The reason Judah prevailed was that they relied upon God (v 18). They brought such a complete defeat to Jeroboam that he never recovered from it (v 19-20) b The Lord is here spoken of as striking Jeroboam so that he died. This could be understood in the sense of giving the decree, the proper agents of sickness and death carrying it out (v 20)-the same as Solomon making all the things of the temple (4:18-19; 5:1). He simply had the work done instead of doing it personally c Abijah had 14 wives compared to Solomon's 700 wives and 300 concubines (1 Ki. 11:3); and Rehoboam had 18 wives and 60 concubines. Abijah had 22 sons and 16 daughters compared to Rehoboam's 28 sons and 60 daughters (v 21 with 11:18-23)

d See 1 Ki. 15:1-8
e See note f, 9:29
f See note h, 9:31
g Asa was the 3rd king of Judah after the division of the kingdom, or the 6th one from the time Israel began to have kings (v 1). He had peace for 10 years, for his father, Abijah had completely defeated the 10 tribes under Jeroboam (v 1-5; 13:13-20)
h He was the first good king of Judah since the division of the kingdom (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6)
i 22 "right" things Asa did:
1 He took away the altars of the strange gods (14:3)
2 Took away the high places
3 Broke down the images
4 Cut down the groves (the asherahs, p. 106)
5 Commanded Judah to seek the Lord God of their fathers (14:4)
6 Commanded Judah to do the law and the commandments
7 Took away the high places and images out of all the cities of Judah (14:5)
8 Built fenced cities in Judah while he was at peace (14:6-7)
9 Sought the Lord (14:7)
10 Kept prepared for war in time of peace (14:8)
11 Cried to God and trusted in Him when war did come (14:11-15)
12 Put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of all the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim (15:8)
13 Renewed the altar of the Lord that was before the porch of the Lord
14 Held a holy convocation (15:9-10)
15 Gave God His share of the spoils of war (15:11)
16 Entered into a covenant to seek the Lord-he and the people-with all their heart (15:12)
17 Made an oath to God, to serve Him (15:14)
18 Rejoiced with the people in their vows (15:15)
19 Removed his mother from being queen because of her idolatry (15:16)
20 Cut down her idol, stamped it, and burned it
21 Kept his heart perfect all his days (15:17)
22 Brought into the house of God all that he and his father had dedicated, of silver, gold, and vessels (15:18)

a 1,000,000 soldiers and 300 chariots came against Judah who had only 580,000 men (v 8-10)
b Asa cried to God for help, exercised faith, rested upon Him, and in the name of God went against the enemy who had about twice the number of his soldiers. The Lord smote the Ethiopians and they fled before Judah, who pursued to Gerar. They were so defeated that they could not recover themselves to fight another battle (v 11-16); and they did not attempt a war on Israel again for 300 years
c Asa and his army carried away much spoil, and smote all the cities round about Gerar (v 13-15) d Here we have a message from God, through the prophet Azariah at a time when it was especially needed (v 1-7)
e This message was given after one of the greatest victories in Israel for 2 reasons:
1 To confirm the faith of Asa and assure him that God would always be with those who put their trust in Him, as demonstrated by the present victory (v 11-15)
2 To warn Asa in view of coming events, God knew that Israel and Syria would unite against Judah; and He wanted Asa to be strong and trust in Him in the coming struggles as he had done in the case of the mighty Ethiopian army. Asa failed however, in the next tests (16:1-14)
f 3 eternal and unchangeable facts (v 2):
1 The Lord is with you, while you are with Him
2 If you seek Him, He will be found of you
3 If you forsake Him, He will forsake you
These eternal facts are true of an individual or a nation, Jews or Gentiles, people under law or under grace, and in one age as well as another. Whoever seeks God with a whole heart finds Him; and as long as he remains in that relationship with Him, he does not forsake God. There is no such thing as God being with those who do not remain with Him; neither is there such a thing as man forsaking God and God not forsaking men. It has been demonstrated that God has forsaken angels as well as men when they have forsaken Him, many of them being eternally doomed. See 21 examples, p. 284 of N. T.
g This long season was during the last 14 years of Rehoboam's reign (11:17; 12:1), and the 3 years of Abijah's reign (1 Ki. 15:1-4). Even before these men Solomon forsook God (1 Ki. 11:1-9). This could have also been true of many periods during Israel's past, for often during the time of the judges God punished Israel for forsaking Him, and when they would seek Him He would raise up a deliverer, as stated here (v 3-4). It happened again when Asa became king (14:11-15). Verses 5-6 confirm the fact that there was more than one time when this was so

8 And Á'sá had an army of men that bare targets and spears, out of Jú'dah three hundred thousand; and out of Bĕn'ja-mín, that bare shields and drew bows, two hundred and fourscore thousand: all these were mighty men of valour.

4 One million soldiers and three hundred chariots invade Judah

9 ¶ And there came out against them Zĕ'rah the Ĕ-thí-ó'pí-an with an host of [a]a thousand thousand, and three hundred chariots; and came unto Má-ré'shah.
10 Then Á'sá went out against him, and they set the battle in array in the valley of Zĕph'a-thah at Má-ré'shah.

5 Asa cries to God for help and God gives him victory

11 And Á'sá [b]cried unto the LORD his God, and said, LORD, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us, O LORD our God; for we rest on thee, and in thy name we go against this multitude. O LORD, thou art our God; let not man prevail against thee.
12 So the LORD smote the Ĕ-thí-ó'pí-anş before Á'sá, and before Jú'dah; and the Ĕ-thí-ó'pí-anş fled.
13 And Á'sá and the people that were with him pursued them unto Gĕ'rär: and the Ĕ-thí-ó'pí-anş were overthrown, that they could not recover themselves; for they were destroyed before the LORD, and before his host; and [c]they carried away very much spoil.
14 And they smote all the cities round about Gĕ'rär; for the fear of the LORD came upon them: and they spoiled all the cities; for there was exceeding much spoil in them.
15 They smote also the tents of cattle, and carried away sheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jĕ-rụ'sá-lĕm.

382 CHAPTER 15

6 God's message to Asa by Azariah the prophet

AND the Spirit of God[d]came upon Áz-a-rí'ah the son of Ó'ded:
2 And he went out to meet Á'sá, and said unto him, [e]Hear ye me, Á'sá, and all Jú'dah and Bĕn'ja-mín; [f]The LORD is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.
3 Now for a[g]long season Iş'ra-el hath been without the true God, and without a teaching priest, and without law.
4 But when they in their trouble did turn unto the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, and sought him, he was found of them.
5 And in those times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in, but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countries.
6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and city of city: for God did vex them with all adversity.
7 [e]Be ye strong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work shall be rewarded.

7 Religious revival under Asa. (1) Obeys the prophet and puts away idolatry in Judah and renews God's worship

8 And [b]when Á'sá heard these words, and the prophecy of Ó'ded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Jú'dah and Bĕn'ja-mín, and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ĕ'phrā-ím, and renewed the altar of the LORD, that was before the porch of the LORD.

(2) Many of the ten tribes join Asa and covenant to serve God (cp. 11:13-17)

9 And he gathered all Jú'dah and Bĕn'ja-mín, and the strangers with them out of Ĕ'phrā-ím and Má-nás'seh, and out of Sím'e-on: for [c]they fell to him out of Iş'ra-el in abundance, when they saw that the LORD his God was with him.
10 So they gathered themselves together at Jĕ-rụ'sá-lĕm in the [d]third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Á'sá.
11 And they offered unto the LORD the same time, of [c]the spoil which they had brought, seven hundred oxen and seven thousand sheep.
12 And they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul;
13 [f]That whosoever would not seek the LORD God of Iş'ra-el should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.
14 And they sware unto the LORD with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.
15 And all Jú'dah rejoiced at the oath: for they had sworn with all their heart, and sought him with their whole desire; and he was found of them: and the LORD gave them rest round about.

(3) Asa removes his own mother as queen because of her idolatry

16 ¶ And also concerning Má'a-chah the mother of Á'sá the king, he removed her from being queen, because she had made [g]an idol in a grove: and Á'sá [b]cut down her idol, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kĭd'ron.

(4) Asa rededicates the temple vessels of his father: 25 years of peace (vs. 1)

17 But [f]the high places were a This was an encouraging message to Asa, and it showed again how to prosper in the blessing of God. One must manifest faith by his works in obedience to God (v 7) b Asa understood the message of the prophet and took it as a signal to continue his reforms. The next thing he did was to put away all the abominable idols out of the land and renew the altar of God in the court of the temple which had fallen into misuse through the years of apostasy of Rehoboam and Abijah (v 8). In getting rid of the many idols in Judah, Asa was obliged to remove his mother as queen, because of her idol (v 16). He did not hesitate in this, for he was zealous to obey God c Here again we have definite proof that many from the 10 tribes came to Judah to become one with the kingdom of the house of David. They joined Asa in abundance when they saw that God was with him (v 9). This was the case more and more as the 10 tribes became more wicked and apostate, finally being destroyed for their sins (2 Ki. 17). Thus more and more Judah became representative of the whole 13 tribes of Israel d This evidently was the feast of Pentecost, which was in the 3rd month of the Jewish year. Our April was their first month which would make the 3rd month June, 50 days after the middle sabbath in April would be the first part of June e The Lord's portion of the spoil was:

700 oxen @ $325.00... $227,500.00
7,000 sheep @ $20.00.. 140,000.00
Total est. value $367,500.00
According to Num. 31:25-54 the Lord's portion was to be one animal out of every 500 from the half that belonged to the men of war, and one out of every 50 from the other half of the spoils that belonged to the congregation. On this basis (11 animals for the Lord out of every 1,000 taken) the total spoil must have numbered approximately 63,000 oxen and 636,000 sheep
f This law was drastic, but it can be supposed that it brought a revival (v 13). Verses 14-15 surely indicate that it did, even one of the old-time camp meeting style, for they swore to the Lord with a loud voice, with shouting, with trumpets, and with cornets. All Judah rejoiced at the oath: for they had sworn with all their heart, seeking the Lord with their whole desire; and He was found of them. God gave them rest round about because of their seeking Him g An idol in a grove -a monstrous asherah for the grove. See Asherah, p. 106
h The asherah was a wooden stump similar to the totam poles of the Indians, so it could be cut down and burned, as here (v 16)
i This means that the high places in the 10 tribes were not removed, for Asa could not control that part of Israel; but the ones in Judah he did remove (14:3, 5; 15:8, 16)

5 prayers in 1 Kings:

43 Solomon for wisdom, 146 words (3:6-9). Answered because it pleased God (3:10-14)
44 Solomon, prayer of dedication, 1,050 words (8:23-53). Answered according to obedience of Israel
45 Elijah for resurrection of boy, 35 words (17:20-21). Answered because of faith in God (17:22-24; Heb. 11:35)
46 Elijah for fire from heaven, 63 words (18:36-37). Answered because of faith (18:38)
47 Elijah for death, 18 words (19:4). Unanswered because contrary to God's plan, which was to translate him and permit him to live bodily in heaven until time to come back to earth as one of the two witnesses (2 Ki. 2:9; Zech. 4:11-14; Mal. 4:5-6; Rev. 11:3-11) a His heart was perfect as far as idolatry was concerned. Toward the end though, he made several mistakes as follows:

4 great mistakes of Asa:
1 Trusting Syria instead of God (16:1-9)
2 Mistreating God's prophet who was used to help him (16:10)
3 Oppressing people
4 Trusting physicians instead of God (16:12-14)

b Asa had peace the first 10 years of his reign (14:1). Then came the Ethiopian invasion of Judah (14:9-15). After that there was peace for 25 years (15:19); then came war with Baasha, king of the 10 tribes of Israel (16:1-6). Because he trusted in Syria at that time, instead of God, wars were pronounced upon him for the rest of his reign-6 more years (16:9). The statement no more war means no more military campaigns, as in 14:6-16; but there was no doubt border fighting (1 Ki. 15:16, 32)

c The reason for this was perhaps the fact that many were constantly leaving the apostate 10-tribe kingdom to go to Judah where they could worship the God of their fathers (15:9-15). Kings of the 10 tribes were forcing the people to worship the golden calves, and pressing them to forget the God of their fathers, to be patriotic and stay at home instead of going to Jerusalem to worship. Like Baasha here, many sought to keep all from going to Judah (v 1). If the northern kings had only been sensible and wise enough not to force a false religion on the people they would not have had the trouble d Then-when Baasha sought to build Ramah to hinder traffic into Judah, Asa took the gold and silver from the temple treasury to buy the services of Ben-hadad, king of Syria, to fight against Baasha and give him relief (v 2-3). Ben-hadad took the amount and sent his armies against the cities of northern Israel; this forced Baasha to stop building Ramah (v 4-5). Then Asa took all Judah and carried the timbers and stones from Ramah. With them he built Geba and Mizpah (v 6). What Asa did displeased God who had protected him before this when he was in war; the Lord did not appreciate being rejected by Judah who now put their trust in Syria, a foreign power e God sent Hanani, the seer, to Asa to rebuke him for going to Syria for help instead of trusting in Him as before, when the Ethiopians invaded Judah. God made it clear that because of this the Syrians had escaped his hand, implying that He would have given them victory over both the Syrians and the 10-tribe kingdom who were previously leagued together against Judah (v 3, 7)

f Question 13, Next, 18:3

g Because you relied on the Lord, He delivered you from the Ethiopians, and now because you have relied upon Syria you shall have wars from now on (v 8-9)

h 6th prophecy in 2 Chr. (16:9, fulfilled). Next, 18:16. The one prediction was that Asa would have war from that time on because he did not trust in God

k Jehoshaphat commanded them to be taken away, but the people did not do their part in obeying him (v 6; 20:33; 1 Ki. 22:43)

l See Asherah, p. 106

What satisfies man (Isa. 55:2)

Men are constantly spending money and selling their lives for things that are not necessary or beneficial in daily life-things that do not satisfy. The immortal mind of man can only be satisfied with the immortal God-not with wealth, pleasure, greatness, and honor. No man, having lusted for these things, has ever been satisfied upon receiving them to the full. They have proved to be vanity and vexation of spirit, pacifying for the moment, then leaving the heart with an aching void and a consciousness that man was made for higher and nobler things. Accepting the Spirit's invitation through the prophet will satisfy fully (see 8 things of note q, above) not taken away out of Is'ra-el: nevertheless the[e] heart of A'sa was perfect all his days.

18 ¶ And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himself had dedicated, silver, and gold, and vessels.

19 And there was [b]no more war unto the five and thirtieth year of the reign of A'sa.

383 CHAPTER 16

8 War with Baasha: league with Syria (1 Ki. 15:16-22)

IN the six and thirtieth year of the reign of A'sa Ba'a-sha king of Is'ra-el came up against Ju'dah, and built Ra'mah, [c]to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to A'sa king of Ju'dah.

2 [d]Then A'sa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the LORD and of the king's house, and sent to Ben-ha'dad king of Syr'i-a, that dwelt at Da-mas'cus, saying,

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee silver and gold; go, break thy league with Ba'a-sha king of Is'ra-el, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-ha'dad hearkened unto king A'sa, and sent the captains of his armies against the cities of Is'ra-el; and they smote I'jon, and Dan, and A'bel-ma'im, and all the store cities of Naph'ta-li.

5 And it came to pass, when Ba'a-sha heard it, that he left off building of Ra'mah, and let his work cease.

6 Then A'sa the king took all Ju'dah; and they carried away the stones of Ra'mah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Ba'a-sha was building; and he built therewith Ge'ba and Miz'pah.

9 Asa rebuked by the prophet Hanani for relying on Syria

7 ¶ And at that time Ha-na'ni the seer [e]came to A'sa king of Ju'dah, and said unto him, Because thou hast relied on the king of Syr'i-a, and not relied on the LORD thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Syr'i-a escaped out of thine hand.

8 [f]Were not the E-thi-o'pi-ans and the Lu'bims a huge host, with very many chariots and horsemen? yet, [g]because thou didst rely on the LORD, he delivered them into thine hand.

*9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. [h]Herein thou hast done foolishly: therefore from henceforth thou shalt have wars.

10 Asa rejects God's message and oppresses the people

10 [e]Then A'sa was wroth with the seer, and put him in a prison house; for he was in a rage with him because of this thing. And [i][d]A'sa oppressed some of the people the same time.

11 ¶ And, behold, the acts of A'sa, first and last, lo, [e]they are written in the book of the kings of Ju'dah and Is'ra-el.

11 Sickness and death: again fails to trust in God

12 And A'sa in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was [d]diseased in his feet, until his disease was exceeding great: yet in his disease he sought not to the LORD, but to the [e]physicians.

13 ¶ And A'sa [f]slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign.

14 And they buried him in his own sepulchres, which he had made for himself in the city of Da'vid, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odours and divers kinds of spices prepared by the apothecaries' art: and they made a very great burning for him.

CHAPTER 17 384

V Reign of Jehoshaphat: 25 years (1 Ki. 15:24; 22:2-50).
1 Accession and character

AND Je-hosh'a-phat his son reigned in his stead, [g]and strengthened himself against Is'ra-el.

2 And he placed forces in all the fenced cities of Ju'dah, and set garrisons in the land of Ju'dah, and in the cities of E'phra-im, which A'sa his father had taken.

3 And the LORD was [h]with Je-hosh'a-phat, because he walked in the [i]first ways of his father Da'vid, and sought not unto Ba'al-im;

4 But sought to the LORD God of his father, and [j]walked in his commandments, and not after the doings of Is'ra-el.

5 Therefore the LORD stablished the kingdom in his hand; and all Ju'dah brought to Je-hosh'a-phat presents; and he had riches and honour in abundance.

6 And his heart was lifted up in the ways of the LORD: moreover he [k]took away the high places and [l]groves out of Ju'dah.

2 First revival under Jehoshaphat (cp. 19:4-11)

7 ¶ Also in the third year of his reign he sent to his princes, even to Ben-ha'il, and to O-ba-di'ah, and to Zech-a-ri'ah, and to Ne-than'e-el, and to Mi-cha'iah, to teach in the cities of Ju'dah.

8 And with them he sent Le'vites, even Shem-a-i'ah, and Ne'thani-a, and Zeb-a-di'ah, and A'sa-hel, and Shem-ir'a-moth, and Je-hon'a-than, and Ad-o-ni'jah, and To-bi'jah, and To-bad'o-ni'jah, Le'vites; and with them E-lish'a-ma and Je-ho'ram, priests.

a Then-when Asa heard the prophecy and rebuke of Hanani the seer, he was angry at the prophet and put him in prison; he was in a rage because of what he had done and because God had turned against him for trusting the Syrians (v 10)

b Not only did Asa make the mistake of trusting in the Syrians, and persecuting a prophet who sought to be faithful to God and help the king, but in his rage he began to oppress some of the people-something he had not done before (v 10). What class the people were or for what reason they were oppressed is not stated. It was in the 36th year of his reign that Asa made these mistakes; this brought on wars and a disease in his feet in the 39th year (v 9, 12-14). It would seem that the nearer to the end of life a person is the more effort should be put forth to obey God and prepare for eternity, but in many cases, like that of Asa, just the opposite is true (v 10-14; 1 Ki. 11:1-9)

d What kind of disease is not stated, but perhaps it was gout, the most dangerous and violent kind. Yet in his disease he sought not to the Lord, but to the physicians. The result was that he died (v 14-16)

e Physicians-healers. This is the first mention of them among the Hebrews. If Jews, they were of the priestly tribe, for they were given control of such things in the law of Moses (Lev. 14-15). Luke was a physician (Col. 4:14). The ones here could have been Egyptian physicians, who were in high repute at foreign courts in ancient times, and who pretended to expel diseases by charms, incantations, and mystic arts. Asa's fault was that of trusting them instead of Jehovah. God was jealous in such cases (Jer. 17:5-10). Cp. Mk. 5:26

g It would be only natural for Jehoshaphat to strengthen himself against the 10-tribe kingdom, because of the war (border troubles) between Asa and Baasha all their days (1 Ki. 15:16, 32)

h Men always prosper when God is with them, and God is always with them if they will walk in the first ways of David (v 3)

i An unusual expression referring to the ways of David in the early part of his life and reign, before he committed sin with Bathsheba, had Uriah killed, and sought to number the people (2 Sam. 11-12, 24)

j Jehoshapaht was the 2nd good king of Judah after the division of the kingdom (v 3-13; 1 Ki. 11:6, note; 22:43)
22 "right" things Jehoshaphat did:
1 He walked in the first ways of David
2 Sought not to Baal (17:3)
3 Sought to Jehovah (17:4)
4 Walked in the commandments
5 Walked not in the doings of Israel (referring to the 10 tribes)
6 Lifted his heart up in the ways of Jehovah (17:6)
7 Took away the high places in Judah
8 Took away the asherahs (totem pole type of idols) in Judah (17:6; 19:3). See Asherah, p. 106
9 Sent teaching princes, Levites and priests, to all the cities of Judah (17:7-9)
10 Inquired of God (18:4, 6)
11 Prepared his heart to seek God (19:3)
12 Brought Israel back to God (19:4)
13 Set judges in all cities (19:5)
14 Charged the judges to judge righteous judgment (19:6-7)
15 Gave the priests and Levites their proper place (19:8)
16 Charged them to fear God and be faithful in all judgment (19:9-11)
17 Proclaimed a fast and prayed when his people were in danger (20:3-17)
18 Exhorted his army to have faith and sing and praise God in battle (20:18-28)
19 Walked in the good way of Asa his father, and departed not from it (20:32)
20 Did that which was right in the sight of Jehovah (20:32)
21 Made peace with Israel (1 Ki. 22:44)
22 Removed the sodomites out of the land (1 Ki. 22:46)

a This was the first great teaching mission instituted by any king of Israel. The law of Moses was taken from city to city and taught to the people (v 9). All questions about the law were no doubt answered during the teaching sessions b This was the secret of peace for many years in Judah under Jehoshaphat (v 10). Many brought tribute money and animals to Judah during this time, and they became very great, rich, and powerful (v 11-13) c Tribute animals brought to Jehoshaphat:

7,700 rams @ $20.00 . . . $154,000.00
7,700 goats @ $20.00 . . 154,000.00
Total est. value . . $308,000.00

d Standing army of Jehoshaphat:
1 Under Adnah (v 14) 300,000
2 Under Jeho-hanan (v 15) . . 280,000
3 Under Amasiah (v 16) 200,000
4 Under Eliada (v 17) 200,000
5 Under Jehoz-abad (v 18) . . 180,000
Total 1,160,000
Besides these there were many men of war in the fenced cities throughout all Judah (v 19)

e 4 mistakes of Jehoshaphat:
1 Making an alliance with Ahab (18:1; 19:1)
2 Being persuaded to go with Ahab to war against Syria (18:2-3)
3 Going to battle in royal robes when Ahab went disguised (18:29-32)
4 Joining in business with Ahaziah, king of the 10 tribes (20:35-37) 3 alliances of unequal yoke:
1 Marriage (18:1; 21:6)
2 War (18:2-34)
3 Commerce (20:35-37)

f Question 14, Next, v 5

44 statements-condemnation of friends (Job 6:14):
1 You do not show any pity (6:14, 27)
2 You forsake the fear of God (6:14)
3 You have dealt deceitfully with me as a brook that passes away (6:15)
4 You are confounded because your hope is gone (6:20)
5 You are ashamed of me
6 You are afraid to face facts (6:21)
7 You are no help to me (6:22-23)
8 Your arguments are empty and vain like the wind that passes away (6:26)
9 You do not seek to comfort me but to reprove me
10 You overwhelm the fatherless (6:27)
11 You dig a pit for your friend
12 You are not content to believe my word, but count me as a liar (6:28-30)
13 No doubt you are the people, and wisdom shall die with you (12:2)
14 You are not the only ones that have understanding (12:3)
15 You mock me (12:4)
16 You laugh the just man to scorn
17 You are forgers of lies (13:4)
18 You are physicians of no value
19 If you would remain quiet you would show some wisdom (13:5)
20 You speak wickedly of God (13:7)
21 You mock God (13:9)
22 You remember like ashes (13:12)
23 You are miserable comforters (16:2)
24 You speak endless and vain words
25 All you do is heap up words against me (16:4)
26 You do not try to ease my grief (16:5)
27 My friends scorn me (16:20)
28 You are only mockers of me (17:2)

38 You abhor me (19:19)
39 You are pitiless to me (19:21)
40 You are my persecutors (19:22)
41 You are not satisfied with my flesh
42 Mock on (21:3)
43 You devise wicked imaginations against me (21:27)
44 You are false in your answers to me which do not comfort me at all (21:34)

9 And they [a]taught in Jū'dah, and had the book of the law of the LORD with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Jū'dah, and taught the people.

3 Jehoshaphat's growing power and prosperity

10 ¶ And [b]the fear of the LORD fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Jū'dah, so that they made no war against Jĕ-hŏsh'-a-phăt.

11 Also some of the Phĭ-lĭs'-tĭnes brought Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt presents, and tribute silver; and the Ā-rā'bĭ-anș brought him flocks, [c]seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred he goats.

12 ¶ And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt waxed great exceedingly; and he built in Jū'dah castles, and cities of store.

13 And he had much business in the cities of Jū'dah: and the men of war, mighty men of valour, were in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm.

4 Jehoshaphat's army: 1,160,000 men besides those in the fenced cities of Judah

14 And these are the numbers of them according to the house of their fathers: [d]Of Jū'dah, the captains of thousands; Ăd'nah the chief, and with him mighty men of valour three hundred thousand.

15 And next to him was Jĕ-hŏ-hā-nan the captain, and with him two hundred and fourscore thousand.

16 And next him was Ăm-a-sī'ah the son of Zĭch'rĭ, who willingly offered himself unto the LORD; and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of valour.

17 And of Bĕn'ja-mĭn; Ĕ-lī'a-dā a mighty man of valour, and with him armed men with bow and shield two hundred thousand.

18 And next him was Jĕ-hŏz'-a-băd, and with him an hundred and fourscore thousand ready prepared for the war.

19 These waited on the king, beside those whom the king put in the fenced cities throughout all Jū'dah.

5 Alliance with Ahab to war against Syria (1 Ki. 22:1)

NOW Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt had [e]riches and honour in abundance, and [f]joined affinity with Ā'hăb.

2 And after certain years he went down to Ā'hăb to Sā-mā'-rĭ'ā. And Ā'hăb killed sheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and persuaded him to go up with him to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd.

3 And Ā'hăb king of Ĭș'ra-el said unto Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Jū'dah, Wilt thou go with me to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people; and we will be with thee in the war.

6 Lying prophets of Ahab (1 Ki. 22:6-12)

4 ¶ And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said unto the king of Ĭș'ra-el, [g]Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

5 Therefore the king of Ĭș'ra-el gathered together of [h]prophets four hundred men, and said unto them, [i]Shall we go to Rā'-moth-gĭl'e-ăd to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up; for God will deliver it into the king's hand.

7 Jehoshaphat unimpressed asks for a true prophet: Micaiah sent for (1 Ki. 22:7)

6 [j]But Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD besides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Ĭș'ra-el said unto Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, There is yet [k]one man, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: [l]but I hate him; for he [m]never prophesied good unto me, but always evil: the same is Mī'cā'iah the son of Ĭm'lā. And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt said, [n]Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Ĭș'ra-el called for one of his officers, and said, Fetch quickly Mī-cā'iah the son of Ĭm'lā.

8 False prophets continue to prophecy lies (1 Ki. 22:10)

9 And the king of Ĭș'ra-el and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Jū'dah sat either of them on his throne, clothed in their robes, and they sat in a void place at the entering in of the gate of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā; and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Chĕ-nā'a-nah had made him horns of iron, and said, Thus saith the LORD, With these thou shalt push Sȳr'ĭ-ā until they be consumed.

11 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Rā'-moth-gĭl'e-ăd, and prosper: for the LORD shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

9 Micaiah the prophet is advised to agree with the false prophets of Ahab (1 Ki. 22:13)

12 And the messenger that went to call Mī-cā'iah spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king with one assent; let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speak thou good.

13 And Mī-cā'iah said, As the LORD liveth, even what my God saith, that will I speak.

10 Micaiah's ironic prophecy of Ahab's success: is rebuked by Ahab (1 Ki. 22:15)

14 And when he was come to the king, the king said unto him, Mī-cā'iah, [o]shall we go to Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd to battle, or shall I forbear? And he [p]said, a Jehoshaphat evidently was in the habit of inquiring of God before going into an important undertaking like making war; but here he decided first to go without such consultation (v 3-4) b Prophets seemed to be the only way Ahab had of inquiring about doing something. He did not have the Urim and Thummim as Judah and their priests did. Even in the use of prophets Ahab relied upon false ones for guidance. There were 400 such prophets, all in unity as to what the king should do, such unity being brought about because their advice was popular and what the king wanted (v 5). The only dissenter in his kingdom was the true prophet of Jehovah who did not predict good things for him as the false ones did

d Jehoshaphat evidently sensed something wrong with so many prophets being so unified regarding the matter; or perhaps he detected a hollowness and unreality in their predictions; so he inquired of Ahab about another prophet, that they might inquire of him also (v 6). Ahab answered that there was one man who did not say good things like the others-and he hated him (v 7). Jehoshaphat was not satisfied until the despised prophet had been brought, to see what he would prophesy. While he was coming the 400 false prophets continued to prophecy before the 2 kings in the gate of Samaria (1 Ki. 22:10). One made horns of iron and predicted that by these Ahab would push the Syrians until they were consumed (v 10). The others continued urging Ahab to go up against the Syrians as they would be delivered into his hand (v 11). In the meantime the messenger sent for the prophet Micaiah was giving him advice to prophesy good things of Ahab as the others did so it would go well with Him. Micaiah answered that he would speak only what Jehovah gave him (v 12-13). When he prophesied the same outcome as predicted by the false prophets, the king, knowing this was unlike him, adjured him to speak the truth in the name of Jehovah (v 14-15). He then gave a true prophecy (v 16)

e There is generally at least one man who will always tell the truth and take a stand against apostasy. Often there is more than one, though they may be few (v 7). Elijah was alive at this time and had already given several messages to Ahab, only to be ignored on every occasion

f Many times this is the case when things go contrary to personal ambition and fleshly desires (v 7)

g Evidently Micaiah had made previous predictions before Ahab, contrary to the false prophets, and had incurred his wrath (v 7)

h This was a weak protest of Jehoshaphat to Ahab concerning his attitude toward what might be a true prophet (v 7). For the moment it may have been hard to tell who was the true prophet, but in a few days everyone knew who the false ones were and who the right one was, for the predictions of Micaiah came to pass and those of the others did not. There were some embarrassed prophets, as v 24 seems to indicate by mentioning their going into an inner chamber to hide themselves; nevertheless, as is generally the case with such false ones, their failure was no doubt soon forgotten and they continued in deception and falsehood

j This is irony, like 1 KI. 18:27, for he knew that this was what Ahab wanted to hear, though not a true message from God. He intended to see what Ahab would do if he did agree with his false prophets. Knowing that the prediction was not genuine, Ahab pressed the prophet further for the truth, even though it would not harmonize with the words spoken by the others. He also wanted Jehoshaphat to see that Micaiah was different from the other prophets, as he had said (v 7, 14-17). He hoped, by such prodding and urging to satisfy the visiting king fully regarding Micaiah, and show that he could not be relied upon to give a true message of God. This is an impressive example of popular opinion and even religious unity being wrong

Go ye up, and prosper, and they shall be delivered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou say nothing but the truth to me in the name of the LORD?

11 Micaiah's true prophecy (1 Ki. 22:17)

16 Then he said, I did see all Is'ra-el scattered upon the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd: and the LORD said, These have no master; let them return therefore every man to his house in peace.

12 Ahab also displeased with the true prophecy (vs. 14-15; 1 Ki. 22:18)

17 And the king of Is'ra-el said to Je-hŏsh'a-phăt, Did I not tell thee that he would not prophesy good unto me, but evil?

13 Micaiah's vision of the lying spirit in Ahab's prophets (1 Ki. 22:19-23)

18 Again he said, Therefore hear the word of the LORD; I saw the LORD sitting upon his throne, and all the host of heaven standing on his right hand and on his left.

19 And the LORD said, Who shall entice A'hăb king of Is'ra-el, that he may go up and fall at Ra'moth-gĭl'e-ăd? And one spake saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.

20 Then there came out a spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said, I will entice him. And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he said, I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the LORD said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail: go out, and do even so.

22 Now therefore, behold, the LORD hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil against thee.

14 Clash of true and false prophets (1 Ki. 22:24-25. Cp. Ex. 7:11, 22; 8:7, 18; Jer. 28:1-17)

23 Then Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Chĕ-nā'a-nah came near, and smote Mi-cā'iah upon the cheek, and said, Which way went the Spirit of the LORD from me to speak unto thee?

24 And Mi-cā'iah said, Behold, thou shalt see on that day when thou shalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyself.

15 Micaiah sent back to prison (1 Ki. 22:26-27)

25 Then the king of Is'ra-el said, Take ye Mi-cā'iah, and carry him back to Â'mon the governor of the city, and to Jō'ăsh the king's son;

26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

16 Final prophecy of Micaiah to Ahab (1 Ki. 22:28)

27 And Mi-cā'iah said, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the LORD spoken by me. And he said, Hearken, all ye people.

17 Battle of Ramoth-gilead: defeat and death of Ahab (1 Ki. 22:29-39)

28 So the king of Is'ra-el and Je-hŏsh'a-phăt the king of Jū'dah went up to Ra'moth-gĭl'e-ăd.

29 And the king of Is'ra-el said unto Je-hŏsh'a-phăt, I will disguise myself, and will go to the battle; but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Is'ra-el disguised himself; and they went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Sȳr'ĭ-a had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight ye not with small or great, save only with the king of Is'ra-el.

31 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Je-hŏsh'a-phăt, that they said, It is the king of Is'ra-el. Therefore they compassed about him to fight: but Je-hŏsh'a-phăt cried out, and the LORD helped him; and God moved them to depart from him.

32 For it came to pass, that, when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Is'ra-el, they turned back again from pursuing him.

33 And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and smote the king of Is'ra-el between the joints of the harness: therefore he said to his chariot man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayest carry me out of the host; for I am wounded.

34 And the battle increased that day: howbeit the king of Is'ra-el stayed himself up in his chariot against the Sȳr'ĭ-ans until the even: and about the time of the sun going down he died.

386 CHAPTER 19

18 Jehu rebukes Jehoshaphat for his alliance with Ahab

AND Je-hŏsh'a-phăt the king of Jū'dah returned to his house in peace to Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

2 And Jē'hū the son of Ha-nā'nī the seer went out to meet him, and said to king Je-hŏsh'a-phăt, Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the LORD.

3 Nevertheless there are good things found in thee, in that thou hast taken away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God.

a Question 18. Next, v 17
b 7th prophecy in 2 Chr. (18:16, fulfilled). Next, v 24
2 predictions - fulfilled:
1 Israel shall be scattered upon the mountains as sheep that have no shepherd (18:16)
2 They will have no master (Ahab will be killed); let them return therefore every man to his own house c Question 19. Next, v 19. Ahab was not pleased with the false prophecy (v 14-16), and yet he was no more pleased with the true prophecy (v 16-17)
d This second statement to Ahab reveals not only the source of the predictions of the lying prophets, but gives an insight into heaven, showing one of the conferences up there and how things are done in the spirit world (v 18-22)
e Micaiah continued his message to Ahab by repeating what he had seen - the Lord sitting upon a throne, and all the host of heaven standing by Him on both sides. The Lord inquired as to whom He could send to persuade Ahab to go to Ramoth-gilead to battle. Various spirits gave their suggestions, and finally there came a demon who volunteered to be a lying spirit in the mouths of Ahab's prophets to urge him to go to battle. The Lord gave him permission to carry out his plan (v 17-22)
f This is just one of many times when men have seen God. Here again He is pictured as an ordinary sized being in the midst of His subjects on the right hand and on the left. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63
g This reveals that God and His heavenly host, including demons on certain occasions, have conferences concerning the affairs of men on earth. Such is plainly taught in Job 1-2; Dan. 4; and Rev. 12. This one had to do with only one part of the earth, one people on the earth, and one king in particular. He was in rebellion against God, in league with idol gods, and listening to their prophets instead of the true prophets of Jehovah, so God permitted him to be deceived instead of saving him from such deception. There was very little that could be done with such a stubborn man - one consecrated to demon worship and demon prophets. Micaiah had been sent to Ahab but he would not receive Jehovah's instructions. In this case 2 Th. 2:8-12 is clearly illustrated. Because he and his associates had no love for the truth that they might be saved, God sent them a strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: that they might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. The idea is that God permitted such deception to take the place of the truth rejected. If men will not have the truth they will automatically have a substitute that will be more in harmony with their wicked ways for the time being. Ahab would not have truth and would not listen to Jehovah, but he would have lies and listen to the prophets of Baal. This passage, giving an insight into the spirit realm, shows that behind all human acts there are good and bad spirits seeking to carry out the respective wills of their masters. The Lord protects as long as He can, and when there is nothing else He can do to turn men from their wicked ways, error, and harm, He then permits demon spirits to deceive and cause them to go further astray
h Questions 20-22. Next, 19:2
i This indicates that many spirits in heaven have the right of hearing on matters important enough to be discussed. Even demon spirits have access to some conferences (v 18-22; Job 1:6; 2:1; Rev. 12:9-12)
j This was a demon spirit, for no good one could be a lying spirit in the mouth of anyone (v 20-22) k It is clear that a demon spirit volunteered to do the work of lying and deception. He was not forced to do it, or even asked to do it (v 20) l All things here were on a volunteer basis (v 19-21). The Lord inquired for someone who was willing to persuade Ahab, and then the spirit volunteered (v 20). He asked how he would do the persuading and was told it would be as a Bread and water of affliction refers to the food served prisoners being punished thus, besides being kept in confinement (v 26)

b 9th prophecy in 2 Chr. (18:27, fulfilled). Next, 19:2. The one prediction was that Ahab would lose the battle and not return in peace; if he did then it would be proof that God had not sent the one who made the prediction. The test of any prophecy is whether it comes to pass or not. In this case, it would not be long before the matter could be proved, for either Israel or the Syrians would be defeated in the coming conflict. Micaiah was not afraid to call it to the attention of all the people that if Ahab came again in peace, then God had not spoken through him as His prophet - the 400 false prophets would be proved to be the true ones instead c Jehoshaphat was a weak king or he would not have protested so mildly when God's prophet was hated (v 7), and he would not have gone with Ahab after taking the time to demand an answer from God regarding whether they should go or not (v 7-28). His going nearly cost him his life. In fact, he would have been killed if he had not cried out to God, and if He had not caused the pursuers to turn back from him (v 31-32) d This itself was treachery and deception-feigning which almost cost the life of Jehoshaphat. The captains of Syria had been instructed to fight with the king of Israel only, to destroy him; so when they saw Jehoshaphat they thought he was Ahab and pursued him until it was discovered he was not the man they sought (v 29-34)
e Fulfilling the prophecies of 16, 27
f See details in 1 Ki. 22:35-38
g 10th prophecy in 2 Chr. (19:2, fulfilled). Next, 20:15. The one prediction was that God's wrath would come upon Judah because of the unholy alliances with the enemies of God - Ahab and the 10 tribes of Israel. Jehu had reproved Baasha, king of Israel, at Tirzah (1 Ki. 16:1), and now he rebuked Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, at Jerusalem (v 1-3)
h Question 23. Next, 20:6
i When a people get as ungodly and hate God to the extent that Ahab and the 10 tribes did, so that God curses a godly man for even helping or loving them, then they are truly abandoned by Him. This only confirms more than ever the extent of the wickedness of the 10 tribes (v 2)
j God would not completely destroy Judah for helping the 10 apostate tribes; they were to be spared for the good work Jehoshaphat had done regarding the removal of the groves, and because he had prepared his heart to seek God, as in v 3 a lying spirit in the mouths of Ahab's prophets. Then, the Lord permitted the demon to go and do this work of deception (v 21)

m Hath put, that is, has permitted a demon to be a lying spirit in the mouths of Ahab's prophets to decieve men who would not accept the Holy Spirit's message through Micaiah (v 22) n It seems that Zedekiah was the chief prophet of these 400 false ones of Baal, for this is the second time he took the lead (v 10, 23). He smote Micaiah on the cheek and tauntingly asked where the Holy Spirit went from me to speak unto you? (v 23). Micaiah answered that he would know when he went into the chamber to hide himself (v 25)
o 8th prophecy in 2 Chr. (18:24, fulfilled). Next, v 27. The one prediction was that Zedekiah would flee into hiding when he saw that his prophecies were false p This reveals the shame of the false prophets upon discovering that their prophecies had been lies (v 24). If this was true of one of these 400 false prophets it no doubt was true of all of them
q This indicates that Micaiah was already a prisoner, and now he was being sent back to prison until the king would come again in victory (v 25-26)

a Again, proving this to be a second revival of teaching the law of Moses and bringing the people back to God (v 4-11. Cp. 17:9). He also set judges in all the cities of Judah and charged them strictly to judge in justice for God, and not for man; to judge in the fear of God, and to take heed not to sin by having respect of persons or taking bribes (v 5-7). In Jerusalem he set the priests and Levites and chief of the fathers of Israel to judge and even take care of the cases appealed to the higher court. He charged these also to judge in the fear of God, faithfully with a perfect heart (v 8-11)

b Amariah was chief priest over all matters of the Lord, in the days of Jehoshaphat; and Zebadiah was the chief ruler in all matters of the king. The many Levites were helpers, and all were to deal courageously, doing their own work before Jehovah (v 11)

c After Ahab's death (2 Ki. 3:5) Moab rebelled against Israel and invaded Judah (v 1). It was told Jehoshaphat that the armies of Moab and Ammon were encamped in Engedi. He became afraid and set himself to seek the Lord, proclaiming a fast and a general convocation throughout all Judah (v 2-4)

19 Second revival under Jehoshaphat (cp. 17:7-9)

4 And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt dwelt at Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm: and he went out [a]again through the people from Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà to mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, and brought them back unto the LORD God of their fathers.

5 ¶ And he set judges in the land throughout all the fenced cities of Jū'dah, city by city,

6 And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the LORD, who is with you in the judgment.

7 Wherefore now let the fear of the LORD be upon you; take heed and do it: for there is no iniquity with the LORD our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts.

8 ¶ Moreover in Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm did Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt set of the Lĕ'vītes, and of the priests, and of the chief of the fathers of Iṣ'ra-el, for the judgment of the LORD, and for controversies, when they returned to Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of the LORD, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 And what cause soever shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and judgments, ye shall even warn them that they trespass not against the LORD, and so wrath come upon you, and upon your brethren: this do, and ye shall not trespass.

11 And, behold, [b]Ăm-a-rī'ah the chief priest is over you in all matters of the LORD; and Zĕb-a-dī'ah the son of Ĭsh'ma-el, the ruler of the house of Jū'dah, for all the king's matters: also the Lē'vītes shall be officers before you. Deal courageously, and the LORD shall be with the good.

387 CHAPTER 20

20 Invasion of Judah by Moab, Ammon, and Edom. (1) Prayer and fasting for help from God

IT came to pass [c]after this also, that the children of Mō'ab, and the children of Ăm'mŏn, and with them other beside the Ăm'mon-ītes, came against Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt to battle.

2 Then there came some that told Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the sea on this side Sȳr'ĭ-ȧ; and, behold, they be in Hăz'a-zon-tā'mar, which is Ĕn-gē'dī.

3 And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt feared, and set himself to seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Jū'dah.

4 And Jū'dah gathered themselves together, to ask help of the LORD: even out of all the cities of Jū'dah they came to seek the LORD.

(2) Jehoshaphat's prayer

5 ¶ And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt stood in the congregation of Jū'dah and Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm, in the house of the LORD, before the new court,

6 And [d]said, O LORD God of our fathers, [e]art not thou God in heaven? and rulest not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, so that none is able to withstand thee?

7 Art not thou our God, who didst drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Iṣ'ra-el, and gavest it to the seed of Ā'bră-hăm thy friend for ever?

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a sanctuary therein for thy name, saying,

9 [f]If, when evil cometh upon us, as the sword, judgment, or pestilence, or famine, we stand before this house, and in thy presence, (for thy name is in this house,) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and help.

10 And now, behold, the children of Ăm'mŏn and Mō'ab and mount Sē'ir, whom thou wouldest not let Iṣ'ra-el invade, when they came out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, but they turned from them, and destroyed them not;

11 Behold, I say, how they reward us, to come to cast us out of thy possession, which thou hast given us to inherit.

12 O our God, [g]wilt thou not judge them? for we have no might against this great company that cometh against us; neither know we what to do: but our eyes are upon thee.

13 And all Jū'dah stood before the LORD, with their little ones, their wives, and their children.

(3) God's answer by Jahaziel the prophet

14 ¶ Then upon Jȧ-hă'zĭ-el the son of Zĕch-a-rī'ah, the son of Bĕ-nā'iah, the son of Jĕ-ĭ'el, the son of Măt-ta-nī'ah, a Lē'vīte of the sons of Ā'saph, came the Spirit of the LORD in the midst of the congregation;

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Jū'dah, and ye inhabitants of Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm, and thou king Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, Thus saith the LORD unto you, Be not afraid nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the battle is not yours, but God's.

16 To morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the cliff of Zĭz; and ye shall find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderness of Jĕr'u-el.

17 Ye shall not need to fight in this battle: set yourselves, stand ye still, and see the salvation of the LORD with you, O Jū'dah and Jĕ-rụ'să-lĕm: fear not, nor be dismayed; to morrow go out against them: for the LORD will be with you.

(4) Worship of God for the prophecy of Jahaziel a Jehoshaphat stood amid the great assembly of Israel and made a prayer of 224 words, as follows:

1 You are the God of our fathers (v 6)
2 You are the God of heaven
3 You rule over all the kingdoms of the heathen
4 You have all power and might 5 None is able to withstand You
6 You are our God (v 7)
7 You drove the Canaanites out before Israel
8 You gave their land to the seed of Your eternal friend, Abraham
9 They have dwelled there (v 8)
10 They have built You a sanctuary for Your name
11 They have told us that when we are in trouble, and stand before this house, in Your presence, crying to You in our affliction, You will hear and help (v 9)
12 And now, the Ammonites, Moabites, and Edomites are come to cast us out of our possession (v 10-11)
13 Will You not judge them? (v 12)
14 We have no might against such a company
15 We do not know what to do
16 Our eyes are upon You
This was prayed while all Judah stood before the Lord and His temple-with their little ones, wives and children (v 13)

72 prayers in Psalms:

73-123 David, in 50 prayer-psalms he made requests for various blessings, most of them being answered because of faith in God's promises (3-7, 9, 12-13, 16-17, 19-20, 22, 25-31, 35-36, 38-41, 51, 54-61, 64, 69-70, 86, 108-109, 119, 124, 132, 139-144). The ones unanswered will be answered in due time for David even prayed about future events

124-138 An unknown psalmist, perhaps David, for many kinds of blessings, which were granted or will be granted (10, 33, 43-44, 71, 85, 88, 102, 106, 116, 120, 123, 125, 129, 137)

139-143 Asaph made many requests to God (in 5 prayers) for various kinds of blessing, which were granted or will yet be granted (74, 79-80, 82-83)

144 Moses makes requests to God (90)

145 Ethan made requests for God to remember the reproach of His servants (89)

a The army arose early and went into the wilderness of Tekoa and toward Engedi, both of which were on the western side of the Dead Sea, Engedi being at the shoreline about the middle section (v 20). The first report of the enemy was that they were at Engedi (v 2), and that they were coming north into Judah. The day before, God had said that Judah would meet them as they were coming by the cliff of Ziz, and at the end of the brook before the wilderness of Jeruel (v 16)

b As they neared the wilderness of Tekoa Jehoshaphat stopped the army and gave them one of the shortest charges on record - 28 words exhorting them to do 2 things:
1 Believe in the Lord your God; so shall you be established (v 20)
2 Believe His prophets; so shall you prosper

c 3 things Jehoshaphat did before battle:
1 Charged the army to believe in God and in His prophets (v 20)
2 Consulted with the people (v 21)
3 Appointed singers unto the Lord to sing and praise Him before the army as they marched to battle d This appointment of singers to lead the army into battle must have been in the divine will, for as soon as they began to sing and praise God He set ambushments (liers in wait) against the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites, and they were smitten (v 22). The ambushments were not of the Israelites, so must have been angelic hosts. The Targum interprets them as angels. Evidently the angels of God appeared suddenly and the children of Ammon and Moab became so confused that they began to destroy the Edomites; then, after destroying them they were so confused they began destroying one another (v 23). This is the same miraculous happening that will take place at the battle of Armageddon where, without a doubt, angels will be present (Zech. 14:12-14; Mt. 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10). Resurrected saints will also be there (Zech. 14:5; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-12). Regardless of how it happened in the experience of Judah here, there was such a confusion and the enemy destroyed one another so much that bodies were scattered all over the battlefield by the time Judah arrived, and none escaped (v 24). There was no need to fight, as God had told them (v 15-17); and all they did was to gather the spoil, which amounted to an abundance of riches, precious jewels and other things. They gathered for 3 days and had more than they could carry (v 25)

e After gathering spoil for 3 days they assembled in the valley of Berachah on the 4th day (v 26). Then they returned home, to Judah and Jerusalem, with great joy (v 27-28) ground: and all Jū'dah and the inhabitants of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm fell before the LORD, worshipping the LORD.

19 And the Lē'vītes, of the children of the Kō'hath-ītes, and of the children of the Kōr'hītes, stood up to praise the LORD God of Īs'ra-el with a loud voice on high.

(5) Jehoshaphat exhorts Judah to have faith in God and His prophets and to praise Jehovah

●20 And they rose [a]early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tĕ-kō'ā: [b]and as they went forth, Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt stood and said, Hear me, O Jū'dah, and ye inhabitants of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm; Believe in the LORD your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, he [c]appointed singers unto the LORD, and that should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army, and to say, Praise the LORD; for his mercy endureth for ever.

(6) Prophecy of vss. 15-17 fulfilled: miraculous defeat Judah's enemies

22 ¶ And [d]when they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushments against the children of Ăm'mŏn, Mō'ab, and mount Sē'ĭr, which were come against Jū'dah; and they were smitten.

23 For the children of Ăm'mŏn and Mō'ab stood up against the inhabitants of mount Sē'ĭr, utterly to slay and destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Sē'ĭr, every one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Jū'dah came toward the watch tower in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude, and, behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance, both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away: and they were three days in gathering of the spoil, it was so much.

(7) Great rejoicing in Judah because of God's help

26 ¶ And [e]on the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Bĕr'a-chah; for there they blessed the LORD: therefore the name of the same place was called, The valley of Bĕr'a-chah, unto this day.

27 Then they returned, every man of Jū'dah and Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, and Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt in the forefront of them, to go again to Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm with joy; for the LORD had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm with psalteries and harps and trumpets unto the house of the LORD.

(8) The fear of God falls upon other nations

29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of those countries, when they had heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Īs'ra-el.

30 So the realm of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt was quiet: for his God gave him rest round about.

(9) Jehoshaphat's reign and character (1 Ki. 22:41-47)

31 ¶ And Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt reigned over Jū'dah: [f]he was thirty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm. And his mother's name was Ā-zū'bah the daughter of Shĭl'hī.

32 And he walked in the way of Ā'sā his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the sight of the LORD.

33 Howbeit [g]the high places were not taken away: for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Now the [h]rest of the acts of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, first and last, behold, they are written in [i]the book of Jē'hū the son of Hă-nā'nī, who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Īs'ra-el.

(10) Jehoshaphat's business venture with Ahaziah, king of Israel (1 Ki. 22:47-49). Navy destroyed by God

35 ¶ And [a]after this did Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Jū'dah join himself with Ā-ha-zī'ah king of Īs'ra-el, who did very wickedly:

36 And he joined himself with him to make ships to go to Tär'shish: and they made the ships in Ē'zī-on-gā'bĕr.

37 Then Ĕ-lī-ē'zĕr the son of Dō'da-vah of Mā'rē'shah prophesied against Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, saying, [a]Because thou hast joined thyself with Ā-ha-zī'ah, the LORD hath broken thy works. And the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tär'shish.

CHAPTER 21 388

VI Reign of Jehoram: 8 years (2 Ki. 8:16-24). 1 Death of Jehoshaphat: accession and character of Jehoram

NOW Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt [b]slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dā'vid. And Jĕ-hō'ram his son reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sons of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt, Āz-a-rī'ah, and Jĕ-hī'el, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah, and Āz-a-rī'ah, and Mī'chaĕl, and Shĕph-a-tī'ah: all these were the sons of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt king of Īs'ra-el.

3 And their father [c]gave them great gifts of silver, and of gold, a Such a miraculous defeat of the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites was soon known by all nations round about (v 29-30). Not in all the history of the world up to this time had there been such a defeat of an earthly army, by God and His angels. There had been a great destruction of Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea, but not by actual liers in wait as on this occasion. After this there was a great defeat caused by one angel who killed 185,000 men of war in one night during the days of Hezekiah (Isa. 37:36-38). The only other happening like this will be at Armageddon (Zech. 14:12-15; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Rev. 19:11-21)

b 35 years old, and a reign of 25 years made him 60 years old when he died (v 31)

d See 1 Ki. 22:37-50

e This refers to another book which we do not have now (v 34). All such books referred to were not in the plan of God evidently, to be a part of His inspired revelation to men, or they would have been put in our Bible

f This was the 3rd unequal yoke Jehoshaphat took upon himself, and for it he was again cursed. The whole venture came to nought (v 35-37) a Most of the time this law of the first-born held true, even in the throne rights, but not always. God overruled in some cases, because the firstborn was not the suitable one for a position. See cases where the younger was chosen instead of the firstborn, p. 7

b He strengthened himself by murder and ruthlessness Instead of doing it the way his godly father had done, by the blessing of God. Such so-called strengthening was really weakening himself and diminishing the blessing of God upon his kingdom, for he did not prosper by such crimes. He only caused God to turn against him, and this led to revolt and wars which could have been completely avoided by righteousness and the protection of God. Cp. this kind of strength (v 4-20) with that of his father (17:1-19)

c There are 6 brothers listed in v 2. He slew all these and other princes of Israel who could become king in his place in the event of an emergency (v 4) d Jehoram was the 14th evil king of Israel (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6). He rejected the godly life of his father altogether, and walked in all the ways of the wicked kings of the 10 tribes-like Ahab who was one of the most wicked of kings. This confirmed wickedness was perhaps partly, if not wholly brought about by his unholy alliance with the wicked daughter of Ahab and Jezebel-Athaliah (v 6; 22:2). In spite of this, God saw fit to continue the kingdom of David because of the covenant made with him (v 7). It was the devil's plan to break into the royal line seeking to hinder and destroy the possibility of the Seed of the woman coming into the world (Gen. 3:15; 2 Sam. 7:16; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7) this started with Jehoshaphat (18:1) and continued with Jehoram (21:6). Afterward the Arabians continued the assault (21:17; 22:1), and then the wicked Athaliah nearly destroyed all the royal seed (22:10)

e This promise of giving a light to David forever was based upon the obedience of his descendants; and so, the matter of how much sin should be tolerated before taking action to cut off David's sons from the throne rights, was in God's hands. He no doubt had hopes that there would be more good kings in Judah who would justify sparing the nation from complete destruction or, at least enable Him to salvage part of it. This is the way it happened, for there were 6 more godly kings in Judah after Asa and Jehoshaphat, and because of these destruction was postponed (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6). Sin became deeper and more open in the lives of the people of Judah in general, as in the 10-tribe kingdom; and God finally had to abandon them also and permit their captivity. Just before the captivity to Babylon God cut off the throne rights of the royal line (Jer. 22:24-30, notes). These rights were inherited by Jesus Christ from Joseph of the royal line, and yet He, Himself, did not come of that line, but of another line of David, so that He could fulfil all the throne-right promises as well as all the other Davidic rights in the eternal program, with the house of David, with Judah and the other tribes of Israel (note k, Mt. 1:6)

f Not only in his days, but because of his sins (v 10), God permitted a number of revolts of kingdoms under Judah (v 8-17)

g Jehoram acted the opposite from his father who made a decree to remove all the high places (17:6); he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and encouraged the people, even forced them to commit all the sex sins that normally accompanied the worship in such places consecrated to idols and connected with the asherah (v 11, 13). and of precious things, with fenced cities in Jū'dah: but the kingdom gave he to Jĕ-hō'ram; because he [a]was the firstborn.

4 Now when Jĕ-hō'ram was risen up to the kingdom of his father, he [b]strengthened himself, and [c]slew all his brethren with the sword, and divers also of the princes of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 ¶ Jĕ-hō'ram was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el, like as did the house of A'hăb: for he had the daughter of A'hăb to wife: and he [d]wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD.

7 Howbeit the LORD would not destroy the house of Dā'vid, because of the covenant that he had made with Dā'vid, and as he [e]promised to give a light to him and to his sons for ever.

2 Revolt of Edom (1 Ki. 8:20)

8 ¶ In his days the Ē'dom-ites revolted from under the dominion of Jū'dah, and made themselves a king.

9 Then Jĕ-hō'ram went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he rose up by night, and smote the Ē'dom-ites which compassed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

3 Revolt of Libnah (1 Ki. 8:22)

10 So the Ē'dom-ites revolted from under the hand of Jū'dah unto this day. The same time also did Lĭb'nah revolt from under his hand; because he had forsaken the LORD God of his fathers.

4 Jehoram's apostasy

11 Moreover he [g]made high places in the mountains of Jū'dah, and caused the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm to commit fornication and compelled Jū'dah thereto.

5 Prophecy of Elijah of the sickness and death of Jehoram: 11th miracle of Elijah (1 Ki. 22:50)

12 ¶ And there came a [h]writing to him from Ē-lī'jah the prophet, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Dā'vid thy father, [i]Because thou hast not walked in the ways of Jĕ-hŏsh'a-phăt thy father, nor in the ways of A'sā king of Jū'dah,

13 [j]But hast walked in the way of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el, and hast made Jū'dah and the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm to go a whoring, like to the whoredoms of the house of A'hăb, and also hast slain thy brethren of thy father's house, which were better than thyself:

14 Behold, with a great plague will the [k]LORD smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods:

15 And thou shalt have great sickness by [a]disease of thy bowels, until thy bowels fall out by reason of the sickness day by day.

6 Invasion of Judah by the Arabians and Philistines

16 ¶ Moreover the LORD stirred up against Jĕ-hō'ram the spirit of [b]the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and of the A-rā'bĭ-anş, that were near the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-anş:

17 And they came up into Jū'dah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the king's house, and his sons also, and his wives; so that there was never a son left him, save Jĕ-hō'a-hăz, the youngest of his sons.

18 Jehoram's incurable disease and death (1 Ki. 8:24): prophecy of vs. 15 fulfilled

18 ¶ And after all this the LORD [c]smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And it came to pass, that in process of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reason of his sickness: so he died of sore diseases. And his people made [d]no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

20 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm eight years, and departed without being desired. Howbeit they buried him in the city of Dā'vid, but not in the sepulchres of the kings.

389 CHAPTER 22

VII Reign of Ahaziah: 1 year (2 Ki. 8:24-26). 1 Accession and character

AND the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm made [e]Ā-ha-zī'ah his youngest son king in his stead: for the band of men that came with the A-rā'bĭ-anş to the camp had [f]slain all the eldest. So Ā-ha-zī'ah the son of Jĕ-hō'ram king of Jū'dah reigned.

2 [g]Forty and two years old was Ā-ha-zī'ah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm. His mother's name also was Ăth-a-lī'ah the [h]daughter of Ōm'rī.

3 He [i]also walked in the ways of the house of A'hăb: for his mother was his counsellor to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the sight of the LORD like the house of A'hăb: for [j]they were his counsellors after the death of his father to his destruction.

2 Ahaziah assists Jehoram, king of Israel against Syria (2 Ki. 8:28)

5 ¶ He walked also after their counsel, and went with Jĕ-hō'ram the son of A'hăb king of Ĭs'ra-el to war against Hăz'a-el king of Sȳr'ĭ-ā at Rā'moth-gĭl'e-ăd: and the Sȳr'ĭ-anş smote [k]Jō'ram.

a This disease could have begun with chronic dysentery and terminated with rupture and gangrene (v 16). He was sick for 2 years (v 19)

b The Philistines and Arabians were tributary under Jehoshaphat (17:11). Through sin Jehoram lost these people, as well as Edom and Libnah. They were the ones God used to fulfil the prophecy of v 14. They broke into Jerusalem taking all the treasures in the king's house and all his wives and sons, so that the royal line of David was cut off except for one son, the youngest (v 17). This was the first of two times in this period that the royal line was cut off except for one boy (v 17; 22:10-24:14)

c The fulfillment of v 15

d Because of his sins, and the fact that he forced Judah to commit sin (v 11, 13), his people so hated him that they did permit him to be buried in the city of David but not in the tombs of the kings of Judah. He departed without being desired (v 19-20)

e Called Jehoahaz, Jehovah upholds, in 21:17, and Azariah in v 6 (v 1)

f See 21:17

g Ahaziah's father was only 40 years old when he died (21:20), so the reference cannot be to his age when he began to reign for he could not have been older than his father at that time. It is thought that the 42 years have to do with his being a son of the house of Omri that long, his connection being through his mother, Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel (v 2). In 2 Ki. 8:26 Ahaziah's actual age is shown to be 22 years at the beginning of his reign. He was born when his father was 20 years of age

h Grand-daughter of Omri, but daughter of Ahab and Jezebel (v 2; 1 Ki. 16:28)

i He followed his wicked father, Jehoram who had walked in all the wicked ways of Ahab and Jezebel, his mother being his counseller in wickedness (v 3). She was the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel and just as wicked. She even killed all her grandsons except one, and seized the throne of Judah which she kept for 6 years (v 2-4, 10-12)

fall out by reason of the sickness day by day (21:15)

j 3 Great sins of Jehoram (v 13):

1 You have not walked in the good ways of Asa and Jehoshaphat, but in the way of the kings of the 10 tribes

2 You have made Judah to go whoring, like the whoredoms of the house of Ahab

3 You have slain your brothers who were better than you k The Lord makes the laws of sowing and reaping; and since the people of Judah had sinned they were subject to the penalties. The Lord set in motion the proper agencies of sickness and death. This was not the chastening of children, but the judgment of sinners

Jehovah (Isa. 40:3):

Heb. Yehovah, Jehovah. Who was this Jehovah John the Baptist was to prepare the way for? It was Jesus Christ, which proves again that He also is Jehovah as well as the Father and the Holy Spirit. See Gen. 19:24 where the record shows one Jehovah on earth raining fire upon Sodom and Gomorah from another Jehovah in heaven. In Ps. 110:1, 5 we find two Jehovah's or Self-existent Ones. The Holy Spirit is equally Self-existent or Eternal with the Father and the Son, so He could also be called Jehovah. See The Trinity, p. 280 of N. T. We should not say that Jesus Christ of the N. T. is the only Jehovah of the O. T. simply because He is also Jehovah, any more than we should say that He is the only person called God simply because He is God. Christ is God and Jehovah, and so are the other members of the Divine Trinity a Same as Ahaziah of v 1 b God determined the destruction of Ahaziah because of his sins. It was brought about by Jehu whom the Lord caused to be king of the 10 tribes. He killed both Jehoram, king of the 10 tribes and Ahaziah of Judah (2 Ki. 9: 1-10:31)

c See 2 Ki. 9:1-10:31
d They buried Ahaziah because of his godly father, Jehoshaphat (v 9)
e All except Joash, one little boy whom they hid in the temple, so that the royal line of David might be continued to fulfil the Davidic covenant which promised a king on the throne of Judah as long as they had a kingdom with any possibility of righteousness (v 10-12). This was the devil's third attempt to destroy the royal line of David, so that God's word would not be fulfilled (21:4, 17; 22:1, 10) f This was the safest place at this time, for the house of God was deserted and no worship of Jehovah was carried on there (24:7). The worship of Baal and the asherahs was promoted in the mountains and high places of Judah and Israel (21:11)
g This was the only queen that ruled as such in all the kingdom of Israel (v 12)
h The 7th year since Ahaziah had been assassinated and Athaliah had killed all the seed royal, except Joash, and had begun to reign in Judah (22:10-12; 23:1)
i Jehoiada was the high priest but since there was no worship of Jehovah in the temple he had no work and no authority in apostate Judah. He now took Joash, the rightful heir to the throne of David and the kingdom of Judah, and made him king, bringing about a new revival of worship of Jehovah (23:1-24:27)
j Jehoiada strengthened himself by:
1 Making a league with captains of hundreds of soldiers (v 1)
2 Gathering the Levites (v 2)
3 Gathering the chief of the fathers of Israel
4 Making a covenant between the king the congregation through the elders (v 3)

3 Ahaziah visits Jehoram, king of Israel in his sickness (2 Ki. 8:29)

6 And he returned to be healed in Jez're-el because of the wounds which were given him at Ra'mah, when he fought with Haz'a-el king of Syr'i-a. And [c]Az-a-ri'ah the son of Je-ho'ram king of Ju'dah went down to see Je-ho'ram the son of A'hab at Jez're-el, because he was sick.

4 Ahaziah and sons slain (2 Ki. 9:27; 10:18)

7 And the[a] destruction of A-ha-zi'ah was of God by coming to Jo'ram: for when he was come, he went out with Je-ho'ram against Je'hu the son of Nim'shi, whom the LORD had anointed to cut off the house of A'hab.

8 And it came to pass, that, when Je'hu [c]was executing judgment upon the house of A'hab, and found the princes of Ju'dah, and the sons of the brethren of A-ha-zi'ah, that ministered to A-ha-zi'ah, he slew them.

9 And he sought A-ha-zi'ah: and they caught him, (for he was hid in Sa-ma'ri-a,) and brought him to Je'hu: and when they had slain him, they buried him: [d]Because, said they, he is the son of Je-hosh'a-phat, who sought the LORD with all his heart. So the house of A-ha-zi'ah had no power to keep still the kingdom.

10 ¶ But when Ath-a-li'ah the mother of A-ha-zi'ah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed [e]all the seed royal of the house of Ju'dah.

11 But Je'ho-shab'e-ath, the daughter of the king took Jo'ash the son of A-ha-zi'ah, and stole him from among the king's sons that were slain, and put him and his nurse in a bedchamber. So Je'ho-shab'e-ath, the daughter of king Je-ho'ram, the wife of Je-hoi'a-da the priest, (for she was the sister of A-ha-zi'ah,) hid him from Ath-a-li'ah, so that she slew him not.

12 And he was with them[f] hid in the house of God six years: and [g]Ath-a-li'ah reigned over the land.

390 CHAPTER 23

2 Rebellion of Jehoiada, the priest (2 Ki. 11:1-12)

AND in the[a] seventh year [i]Je-hoi'a-da [j]strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Az-a-ri'ah the son of Je'ro-ham, and Ish'ma-el the son of Je-ho-ha'nan, and Az-a-ri'ah the son of O'bed, and Ma-a-se'iah the son of Ad-a-i'ah, and E-lish'a-phat the son of Zich'ri, into covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Ju'dah, and gathered the Le'vites out of all the cities of Ju'dah, and the chief of the fathers of Is'ra-el, and they came to Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And he said unto them, [a]Behold, the king's son shall reign, as the LORD hath said of the sons of Da'vid.

4 This is the thing that ye shall do; A third part of you entering on the sabbath, of the priests and of the Le'vites, shall be porters of the doors;

5 And a third part shall be at the king's house; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD.

6 But let none come into the house of the LORD, save the priests, and they that minister of the Le'vites; they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD.

7 And the Le'vites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whosoever else cometh into the house, he shall be put to death: but be ye with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Le'vites and all Ju'dah did according to all things that Je-hoi'a-da the priest had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the sabbath, with them that were to go out on the sabbath: for Je-hoi'a-da the priest dismissed not the courses.

9 Moreover Je-hoi'a-da the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds spears, and bucklers, and shields, that had been king Da'vid's, which were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people, every man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.

11 Then they brought out the king's son, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the testimony, and made him king. And Je-hoi'a-da and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

3 Execution of Athaliah (2 Ki. 11:13-16)

12 ¶ Now when Ath-a-li'ah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she[a] came to the people into the house of the LORD:

13 And she looked, and, behold, the king stood at his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and sounded with trumpets, also the singers with instruments of musick, and such as taught to sing praise. Then Ath-a-li'ah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, Treason.

14 Then Je-hoi'a-da the priest brought out the captains of a After telling his plans to the chief classes of Israel, and revealing to them that the king's son was alive and should become their king according to the Lord's word to David, final plans were made as to how to take over the kingdom and get rid of the wicked queen Athaliah:

1 A third of the priests and Levites were to be porters of the doors (v 4)
2 A third part were to be at the king's house (v 5)
3 A third part were to be at the foundation gate
4 All the people were to be in the courts of the house of God
5 None were to go into the temple itself save the priests and Levites who ministered (v 6)
6 The people in the courts were to keep watch
7 The Levites were to compass the king round about with weapons to protect him (v 7)
8 Anyone else who tried to enter the temple itself was to be executed
9 The Levites were to protect the king in his going and coming
10 The courses of the priests were not dismissed (v 8)
11 The soldiers were armed and ready for battle (23:9-11)
12 They brought out the king's son, put the crown upon him, gave him the testimony (the law of Moses), and made him king (v 11)
b Athaliah, the queen, heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, so she came to the temple. Upon seeing the king standing by his pillar (the place where kings sat in the temple), she cried, "Treason, treason!" (v 12-13). At that time Jehoiada brought the captains of the hundreds out to get her and bring her out of the ranges, or from the ranks of those in the temple, to slay her (v 14-15) a The next thing that Jehoiada did was to make a covenant between himself, the king, and the people that all should be the people of Jehovah (v 16). Then they all went to the house of Baal, broke it down, broke the altars and images, and slew the priest of Baal (v 17). After that Jehoiada restored the offices of the house of the Lord, according to the law of Moses and the 24 courses ordained by David (v 18). The porters were then set at the various gates to see that no unclean thing should enter into the temple courts and grounds (v 19). Finally, the king was brought down from the house of the Lord to his own house before all Israel (v 20-21)

d Jehoiada had such control of the young king that he acted as a father to him, and took 2 wives for him (v 3)

e Joash was brought up in the temple from babyhood to the time he was made king, so he no doubt saw many things about it that needed repairing. He gathered the priests and Levites and sent them throughout Judah to collect money for repairs; but the Levites were slow in getting at the work. He then called Jehoiada to inquire about the matter, for the repairs were much needed since his grandmother's sons had broken up the house of God and taken all the dedicated things to the house of Baal (v 6-7)

Besides the actual worded prayers in these 30 books of the Bible, there are many passages in them, as well as in some of the 36 books containing no prayers, that give much instruction on the subject of prayer. It is supposed by some that there are a number of prayers in the epistles, but in reality these books contain only statements to Christians regarding the apostles praying for them that God would bless them, or they give instructions for Christians to pray and tell them what to pray for. These are not actual prayers addressed to God, as is clear (Rom. 1:8-10; 16:20; Eph. 1:15-20; 3:13-21; Phil. 1:2-7; Col. 1:3-14; 1 Th. 1:2-3; 3:9-13; 1 Tim. 1:3-7; 2 Tim. 4:14-18; Jas. 5:13-18). hundreds that were set over the host, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and whoso followeth her, let him be slain with the sword. For the priest said, Slay her not in the house of the LORD.

4 Revival of religion under Jehoiada, the priest (2 Ki. 11:17-21)

16 ¶ And Jĕ-hoi'a-dă made a covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they should be the LORD's people.

17 Then all the people went to the house of Bā'al, and brake it down, and brake his altars and his images in pieces, and slew Măt'tan the priest of Bā'al before the altars.

18 Also Jĕ-hoi'a-dă appointed the offices of the house of the LORD by the hand of the priests the Lē'vites, whom Dā'vid had distributed in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the law of Mō'şeş, with rejoicing and with singing, as it was ordained by Dā'vid.

19 And he set the porters at the gates of the house of the LORD, that none which was unclean in any thing should enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of the LORD: and they came through the high gate into the king's house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 And all the people of the land rejoiced: and the city was quiet, after that they had slain Ăth-a-lī'ah with the sword.

391 CHAPTER 24

IX Reign of Joash (Jehoash): 40 years (2 Ki. 12). 1 Accession and character

JŌ'ĂSH was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm. His mother's name also was Zĭb'ī-ah of Bĕ'er-shĕ'bă.

2 And [c]Jō'ăsh did that which was right in the sight of the LORD all the days of Jĕ-hoi'a-dă the priest.

3 And [d]Jĕ-hoi'a-dă took for him two wives; and he begat sons and daughters.

2 Revival of religion under Joash. (1) The faithless priests (2 Ki. 12:4-8)

4 ¶ And it came to pass after this, that [e]Jō'ăsh was minded to repair the house of the LORD.

5 And he gathered together the priests and the Lē'vites, and said to them, Go out unto the cities of Jū'dah, and gather of all Ĭs'ra-el money to repair the house of your God from year to year, and see that ye hasten the matter. Howbeit the Lē'vites hastened it not.

6 And the king called for Jĕ-hoi'a-dă the chief, and said unto him, [a]Why hast thou not required of the Lē'vites to bring in out of Jū'dah and out of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm the [b]collection, according to the commandment of Mō'şeş the servant of the LORD, and of the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, for the tabernacle of witness?

7 For the sons of Ăth-a-lī'ah, [c]that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God; and also all the dedicated things of the house of the LORD did they bestow upon Bā'al-ĭm.

3 The temple repaired (2 Ki. 12:9-16)

8 And at the king's commandment they [d]made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the LORD.

9 And they made a proclamation through Jū'dah and Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, to bring in to the LORD the collection that Mō'şeş the servant of God laid upon Ĭs'ra-el in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in, and cast into the chest, until they had made an end.

11 Now it came to pass, that at what time the chest was brought unto the king's office by the hand of the Lē'vites, and when they saw that there was much money, the king's scribe and the high priest's officer came and emptied the chest, and took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

12 And the king and Jĕ-hoi'a-dă gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also such as wrought iron and brass to mend the house of the LORD.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jĕ-hoi'a-dă, whereof were made vessels for the house of the LORD, even vessels to minister, and to offer withal, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver. And they offered burnt offerings in the house of the LORD continually all the days of Jĕ-hoi'a-dă.

4 Death of Jehoiada

15 ¶ But Jĕ-hoi'a-dă [e]waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of Dā'vid among the kings, because he had done good in Ĭs'ra-el, both toward God, and toward his house.

a Question 29. Next, v 20
b This refers to the half shekel redemption money that had not been collected from Israel for a long time (v 6; Ex. 30:13-16)
c This is a term used only of her (v 7) d A chest for collections was made to hold redemption money from all Israel for the repairing of the temple; it was placed outside at the gate of the temple (v 8-9; Ex. 30:13-16). There was rejoicing and a response from the people until the last of the redemption money was paid (v 10). It was then given to those who repaired the house of God (v 12-13) and the surplus was used for vessels for the temple. The ancient worship was re-established and maintained all the days of Jehoiada (v 14)
e Jehoiada grew very old, died at the age of 130, and was buried in the city of David among the kings (v 15-16)

7 woes of 28:1-33:1 (Isa. 28:1):

7 Woe to treacherous dealers (33:1)

In that day (Isa. 28:2)

In that day - the day Ephraim and Samaria are destroyed by Assyria, which was within a few months after the prophecy was uttered (v 5). Ephraim was to be totally destroyed and go into captivity, but Judah was to become the remnant of Israel and be spared. God was to be for a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty to the rest of Israel who were not defeated and taken captive to Assyria (v 5-6). Thus, v 5 is the beginning of a prophecy to Judah and Jerusalem, in particular, while v 1-4 are a prophecy about Ephraim. God was to preserve Judah and be their protector when the Assyrians would come into the land. This was fulfilled as in 36:1-37:38

7 sins of Judah through drink (Isa. 28:7):

1 They have erred (v 7)
2 Have gone out of the way
3 Are intoxicated and overcome by wine
4 Stumble in judgment
5 Live in uncleanness (v 8)
6 Stumble at the way God has instructed them by the prophets (v 9-13)
7 Scoff at God's way of revelation, and reject His message to them by the prophets

The prophet admitted here that Judah was also sinful like Ephraim, and was destined to judgment like the 10 tribes if they continued in these sins. The difference between the 2 kingdoms was that Ephraim had gone further into sin and apostasy then Judah, for they did not have one righteous king in all their history of separation from Judah. God delayed judgment in Judah because they had periods of national revival of religion. Several of their kings were godly and led Judah back to God. Godly persons of the 10 tribes continually came back to Judah, which tribe became representative of the entire 13 tribes. Furthermore, Judah was God-chosen to rule, and He had made a special covenant with David and his house to be rulers of Israel eternally. All these factors delayed Judah's judgment, but by their continued sin and apostasy it did come about 133 years after the 10 tribes were destroyed (2 Ki. 25) a It was the princes of Judah this time that led the king into sin and apostasy. Usually the king led the princes and the people astray, but not here. Joash was such a weakling, having been controlled by Jehoiada all his life, that when this priest died he became a victim of the princes who wanted him to leave the house of God and serve groves (Heb. asherim -totem pole type of deities served with all kinds of immoralities), and idols (v 18). See Asherah, p. 106

b Again, we have record of the wrath of God upon Judah for leaving Him to serve idols (v 18)

c The Vulgate translates this protestantes. Thus the first instance of the word protestant is not from the history of the reformation. It comes from two words: pro-for, and testans, witnessings. It means a witnessing for God and His truth, not merely against evil. Here God sent prophets who protested the backsliding of Judah and declared the truths of God; but they would not hear (v 19)

d 14th prophecy in 2 Chr. (24:20, fulfilled). Next, 25:16. The one prediction was that God would forsake them because they had forsaken Him

e Question 30. Next, 25:9

f This again assures the backslider that God will forsake him if he forsakes God (v 20). The Zechariah who was stoned here was not the prophet who wrote the book of Zechariah, for he did not live until after the Babylonian captivities (Zech. 1:1; 3:1; 4:8-9; 7:1). This prophet was a son of Jehoiada and lived at least 150-170 years before the captivities (v 20). Both men were stoned, one in the court of the temple (v 21-22; Mt. 23:35)

g This is the kind of gratitude some men show. Joash, who had been brought up and guided in goodness before God until he died, now slew the son of his friend and benefactor (v 22)

h Here we have the fulfillment of the prophecy of v 20. Syria destroyed the very princes that led Joash into sin, and took all their spoil to Damascus. A very small company of Syrians defeated a great army of Judah because of the nation's sins (v 23-24)

i It seems that the last few kings died from great diseases because of sin (16:14-16; 21:12-17; 24:25)

j One of 12 kings assassinated (note 1, 1 Ki. 15:28)

28 things to happen to Judah (Isa. 24:1):

1 The Lord will make the land of Judah empty, or depopulate Judah (v 1, 3); but not completely, for in v 13-15, 26:1, 6, 20-21; 27:12-13 we see that a remnant will be left in the land. The Heb. baqaq, to pour; to depopulate; to spread out. Here it means the majority will be destroyed, fulfilled Zech. 13:8-9. Cp. Jer. 51:2; Nah. 2:2. In this same verse (v 1), it is explained that men are to be scattered on the earth

2 He will make it waste (v 1). Heb. balaq, to make waste; destroy. Cp. Nah. 2:10. Again we must understand this in a limited sense, for in the same prophecy Isaiah refers to trees and vegetable life as well as to men immediately following this, in the Millennium (35:1-10; 65:20-65)

3 He will turn it upside down (v 1). This is the 3rd figurative term and means changing the face of the earth of changing things on the earth. Cp. 29:16; Ps. 146:9; Acts 17:6

4 He will scatter abroad the inhabitants (v 1). This explains in what sense He will make the earth empty. Many will be killed and others will be scattered abroad (Rev. 12:6, 14); but a few will be left (v 6, 13-14)

5 The land will be utterly empty (v 3). See point 1, above

6 It will be utterly spoiled (v 3). See point 2, above

7 The earth will mourn and fade away (v 4)

8 The inhabitants will languish and fade away (v 4). Both of these ideas

5 Apostasy of Joash and Judah

17 Now after the death of Jehoi'a-dá came the [a]princes of Jú'dah, and made obeisance to the king. Then the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served groves and idols: and [b]wrath came upon Jú'dah and Jĕ-ru'sá-lĕm for this their trespass.

19 Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the LORD; and they [c]testified against them: but they would not give ear.

6 Slaying of Zechariah by Joash

¶20 [d]And the Spirit of God came upon Zĕch-a-rī'ah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-dá the priest, which stood above the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God, [e]Why transgress ye the commandments of the LORD, that ye cannot prosper? [f]because ye have forsaken the LORD, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king in the court of the house of the LORD.

22 [g]Thus Jó'ásh the king remembered not the kindness which Jĕ-hoi'a-dá his father had done to him, but slew his son. And when he died, he said, The LORD look upon it, and require it.

7 Syrian conquest of Judah (2 Ki. 12:17-18)

23 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of the year, that [h]the host of Sŷr'ĭ-á came up against him: and they came to Jú'dah and Jĕ-ru'sá-lĕm, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them unto the king of Dă-más'cus.

24 For the army of the Sŷr'ĭans came with a small company of men, and the LORD delivered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers. So they executed judgment against Jó'ásh.

8 Death of Joash (2 Ki. 12:19-21)

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in [i]great diseases,) his own servants conspired against him for the blood of the sons of Jĕ-hoi'a-dá the priest, and slew him on his bed, and [j]he died: and they buried him in the city of Dă'vid, but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him; Zā'bād the son of Shĭm'e-ăth an Ăm'mon-ĭt-ess, and Jĕ-hŏz'a-bād the son of Shĭm'rĭth a Mŏ'ab-ĭt-ess.

27 ¶ Now concerning his sons, and the greatness of the burdens laid upon him, and the repairing of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story of the book of the kings. And Ăm-a-zī'ah his son reigned in his stead.

392 CHAPTER 25

X Reign of Amaziah: 29 years (2 Ki. 14:1-22). 1 Accession and character

ĂM-A-ZĪ'AH was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jĕ-ru'sá-lĕm. And his mother's name was Jĕ-hŏ-ăd'dan of Jĕ-ru'sá-lĕm.

2 And he did [a]that which was right in the sight of the LORD, but [b]not with a perfect heart.

3 ¶ Now it came to pass, when the kingdom was established to him, that he slew his servants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Mō'sĕs, where the LORD commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his own sin.

2 Mobilization of Judah: 300,000 men to war against Edom (2 Ki. 14:7, 10)

5 ¶ Moreover [c]Ăm-a-zī'ah gathered Jú'dah together, and made them captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Jú'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn: and he numbered them from twenty years old and above, and found them three hundred thousand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle spear and shield.

3 One hundred thousand Israelites hired to help conquer Edom

6 He hired also an hundred thousand mighty men of valour out of Ĭs'ra-el for an hundred talents of silver.

4 Amaziah is rebuked by God for hiring the Israelites

¶7 But there came a man of God to him, saying, O king, let not the army of Ĭs'ra-el go with thee; for the LORD is not with Ĭs'ra-el, to wit, with all the children of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm.

8 But if thou wilt go, do it, be strong for the battle: God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to cast down.

9 And Ăm-a-zī'ah said to the man of God, [d]But what shall we do for the [e]hundred talents which I have given to the army of Ĭs'ra-el? And the man of God answered, The LORD is able to give thee much more than this.

b The 4th good king in Judah since the division of the kingdom (v 2; note a, 1 Ki. 11:6)

c He did that which was right to a great extent, but not with a perfect heart (v 2) d Amaziah started on a military conquest of Edom. He mustered 300,000 men of Judah and Benjamin, and hired 100,000 from the 10 tribes to help him, for 100 talents of silver ($192,000,00). A prophet rebuked him for hiring men from the 10 tribes, because God was not with them, and commanded him to let the 100,000 go back home. Amaziah protested because of the $192,000.00 he had already paid them, but God answered that He was able to give him much more than this if he would only obey. He did obey and sent them home, though the act made them exceedingly angry. Then, with his own army Amaziah defeated the Edomites (v 5-13)

Foundations of the earth (Isa. 24:18)

Foundations of the earth is literal, not figurative, as seems clear from many places where the term is found (v 18; 40:21; 51:13-16; Dt. 32:33; 2 Sam. 22:16; Job 38:4-6; Ps. 18:7, 15; 82:5; 104:5; Pr. 8:29; Jer. 31:37; Mic. 6:2). In the future tribulation the great earthquakes will move mountains, islands, continents, and destroy whole cities (Rev. 6:12-17; 11:13; 16:17-21; Zech. 14:4). The result of these, especially the earthquake of Rev. 16:17-21; Zech. 14:4 is discribed in v 19-20

7 It shall fall
8 It shall not rise again a Then—when the prophet demanded that he send the 100,000 men of Ephraim back home and trust God to give him victory by Judah only (v 7-10)

b Ephraim is a term used here and many other places for the 10-tribe kingdom, as Judah is used for the southern kingdom (v 10) c After Amaziah had sent the army from Ephraim back, he went forth against the Edomites and smote 10,000 of them. He took another 10,000 captive, cast them down and destroyed them (v 11-12)
d The soldiers of the army of Ephraim that were sent back became so angry they fell upon the cities of Judah from Samaria to Beth-horon, taking much spoil. This caused further trouble between Amaziah and the 10 tribes (v 13-24) e Amaziah was lifted up in pride because of his victory over the Edomites and this led to war with Joash, king of the 10 tribes (v 17:24). Furthermore, Amaziah took the gods of Edom and bowed down to them. For this the anger of the Lord was kindled against him and He permitted him to be defeated by Joash (v 14-24)
f For the idolatry of Amaziah the anger of the Lord was kindled against Judah. God sent a prophet to rebuke him; and he became so angry that he threatened to kill the messenger. The prophet then predicted Amaziah's destruction (v 15-16)

22 kinds of ornaments taken away (Isa. 3:19):

1 Tinkling ornaments about the ankles (v 18, See note d, point 5, above)
2 Cauls, Heb. shebiskim, net-work or nets for the hair, or other head coverings of women (v 18). See Ancient hair-dress, p. 236 of N. T.
3 Round tires like the moon—crescent shaped ornaments like the new moon which were worn about the neck. They were even put on the necks of camels (v 18; Judg. 8:21)
4 Chains. From Heb. natash, to drop. These were pendants hanging from the hair, ears, and neck; also used as dress streamers (v 18). Some women even had scent-bottles containing drops of perfume hanging on pendants. Strings of pearls and jewels, and even gold chains were very much used by men as well as women (Gen. 41:42; Ex. 28:14-22, 24; 39:17-18; Num. 31:50; Song 1:10; 4:9; Ezek. 16:11; Dan. 5:7, 16, 29)
5 Bracelets, Heb. shereth, arm bands. Made of gold wire, and wreathed or woven (v 19; Gen. 24:22, 30, 47; 38:19, 25; Ex. 35:22; Num. 31:50; Ezek. 16:11; 23:42)
6 Mufflers, Heb. realoth—light face veils; so named because of their tremulous or fluttering motion when worn (v 19)
7 Bonnets. Heb. migba'ah—the tiara, headdress, or turban which was worn almost universally in the East (v 20; Ex. 28:40; 29:9; 39:28; Lev. 8:13; Ezek. 44:18). The turbans of women were similar to those of the men being less bulky and made of finer material. Gold and silver ornaments were added according to the taste of the wearer
8 Ornaments of the legs. Heb. tseadoth, step-chains (v 20). Oriental women wore these attached to the ankle ring of each foot, so as to compel them to take short, mincing steps, as in note d, point 5, above
9 Headbands. Heb. qishshurim, girdles (v 20). These were for the hair
10 Tablets. Heb. bayith-nephesh, houses of the soul, or of breath (v 20). Scent-bottles or boxes of perfume fastened to the girdle or hung around the neck

10 [a]Then Am-a-zī'ah separated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of [b]E'phrā-ĭm, to go home again: wherefore their anger was greatly kindled against Jū'dah, and they returned home in great anger.

6 Amaziah's victory over Edom (2 Ki. 14:7)

11 [c] And Am-a-zī'ah strengthened himself, and led forth his people, and went to the valley of salt, and [c]smote of the children of Sē'ir ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand left alive did the children of Jū'dah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the rock, and cast them down from the top of the rock, that they all were broken in pieces.

7 Israelites in anger spoil many cities of Judah (vs. 10)

13 ¶ But [d]the soldiers of the army which Am-a-zī'ah sent back, that they should not go with him to battle, fell upon the cities of Jū'dah, from Sā-mā'rī-ā even unto Bĕth-hō'rŏn, and smote three thousand of them, and took much spoil.

8 Amaziah worships the gods of Edom and is rebuked by God

14 ¶ Now it came to pass, after that Am-a-zī'ah was come from the slaughter of the E'dom-ītes, [e]that he brought the gods of the children of Sē'ir, and set them up to be his gods, and bowed down himself before them, and burned incense unto them.

15 [f]Wherefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against Am-a-zī'ah, and he sent unto him a prophet, which [g]said unto him, Why hast thou sought after the gods of the people, which could not deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And it came to pass, as he talked with him, that the king said unto him, Art thou made of the king's counsel? forbear; why shouldest thou be smitten? Then the prophet forbare, and said, [h]I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not hearkened unto my counsel.●

9 Amaziah flushed with victory over Edom makes war on Israel (2 Ki. 14:8-11)

17 ¶ Then Am-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah [i]took advice, and sent to Jō'ăsh, the son of Jĕ-hō'a-hāz, the son of Jē'hū, king of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, Come, [j]let us see one another in the face.

18 And Jō'ăsh king of Ĭs'ra-el sent to Am-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying, The thistle that was in Lĕb'a-non sent to the cedar that was in Lĕb'a-non, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and there passed by a wild beast that was in Lĕb'a-non, and trode down the thistle.

19 Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the E'dom-ītes; and thine heart lifteth thee up to boast: abide now at home; why shouldest thou meddle to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, even thou, and Jū'dah with thee?

10 Amaziah is defeated because of worshipping the gods of Edom (vss. 14-16; 2 Ki. 14:12-14)

20 But Am-a-zī'ah would not hear; for it came of God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, [k]because they sought after the gods of E'dom.

21 So Jō'ăsh the king of Ĭs'ra-el went up; and they [l]saw one another in the face, both he and Am-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah, at Bĕth-shē'mesh, which belongeth to Jū-dah.

22 And Jū'dah [d]was put to the worse before Ĭs'ra-el, and they fled every man to his tent.

23 And Jō'ăsh the king of Ĭs'ra-el took Am-a-zī'ah king of Jū'dah, the son of Jō'ăsh, the son of Jĕ-hō'a-hāz, at Bĕth-shē'mesh, and brought him to Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, and brake down the wall of Jē-rū'sā-lĕm from the gate of E'phrā-ĭm to the corner gate, [c]four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Ō'bed-ē'dom, and the treasures of the king's house, the hostages also, and returned to Sā-mā'rī-ā.

11 Death of Amaziah (2 Ki. 14:15-20)

25 ¶ And Am-a-zī'ah the son of Jō'ăsh king of Jū'dah lived after the death of Jō'ăsh son of Jĕ-hō'a-hāz king of Ĭs'ra-el fifteen years.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Am-a-zī'ah, first and last, behold, are they not written in [m]the book of the kings of Jū'dah and Ĭs'ra-el?

27 ¶ Now after the time that Am-a-zī'ah did turn away from following the LORD they made a conspiracy against him in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm; and he fled to Lā'chish: but they sent to Lā'chish after him, and [n]slew him there.

28 And they brought him upon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Jū'dah.

24-26; Job 42:11; Pr. 25:12; Hos. 2:13). Cp. Heb. agiyl, something round; earring (Num. 31:50; Ezek. 16:12)
12 Rings. Heb. tabba'ath, a signet ring for making a seal in wax; a ring of any kind worn on the finger (v 21; Ex. 35:22; Num. 31:50)
13 Nose jewels. Heb. nezem, a ring for the ear or nose (v 21). Both women and men wore rings in the nose, generally in the left nostril which had a hole bored low down. Such an ornament generally had 2 pearls and a ruby set between them
14 Changeable suits of apparel (v 22; Zech. 3:4). These were costly garments used only on festival occasions. Some consider them robes of state, implying these were court ladies and wives of government officials. They no doubt compared with the costly array of 1 Tim. 2:9
15 Mantles, outer cloaks or tunics reaching down to the feet (v 22)
16 Wimples. Large cloth or veil which could be thrown over the whole body, and in which one usually slept (v 20). Trans. vail (Ruth 3:15)
17 Crisping pins, richly ornamented purses or bags of gold and embroidery work that hung from the girdle (v 22). Trans. bags (2 Ki. 5:23)
18 Glasses, mirrors of polished metal (v 23; Ex. 38:8; Job 37:18). Cp. 1 Cor. 13:12; 2 Cor. 3:18; Jas. 1:23. Eastern women were so fond of their mirrors that they hung them upon their breasts and many would not lay them aside even when at hard work
19 Fine linen. Heb. sahdeen. The most delicate and fine garments were made of linen, even underclothing (v 23; Pr. 31:24). Trans. sheets (Judg. 14:12-13)
20 Hoods. Heb. tsaniyph, from tsanaph, to wrap around, and means a special headpiece (v 23). Also trans. diadem (62:3; Job 29:14) and mitre (Zech. 3:5). Both of these terms are used of the official headdress of rulers and priests; and this suggests that the daughters of Zion were princesses, court ladies and wives of government men. Some commentators limit them to this class only 21 Veils. Heb. redidim, veils or vails (v 23; Song 5:7). These differed from the mufflers of point 6, above in that they were head veils worn at home, not being designed to cover the features as those worn in public. They were very light and made of a long strip of muslin embroidered with threads of colored silk and gold, making one of the most beautiful articles of female attire in the East 22 Stomacher—a sash or girdle of beautiful embroidery work in silk and gold (v 24). Girdles were an indispensable part of oriental dress. The garments being long and loose it was necessary to gird them up when running, dancing, or laboring a The 5th one (besides David) of Israel's 42 kings, who did that which was right in the sight of Jehovah (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6). He sought God, and as long as he did, prospered (v 5) b Uzziah became a great military leader. He conquered the Philistines (v 6), the Arabians and Ammonites (v 7-8), all of whom had rebelled against Judah in the days of Jehoram (21:8-17)

c Uzziah's army (v 12-13):
1 Chief men and men of valor.. 2,600
2 The regular army..... 307,500
Total with leaders..... 310,100

d Uzziah's weapons of war:
1 Shields (v 14)
2 Spears
3 Helmets for protection
4 Habergeons (coats of mail, buckles)
5 Slings to cast stones
6 Engines to shoot arrows (v 15)
7 Engines to throw stones

4 acts of God (Isa. 45:7):

1 I form light. Heb. owr, illumination; luminary; lighting; day; morning; sun. Light is the form of radiant energy that acts on the retina of the eye and renders objects visible. Light is the absence of darkness. As bodies of illumination it means the sun, moon, and stars which were created to rule day and night (Gen. 1:14-18). The sun is the great source of light and heat; and without it the world would be in perpetual darkness and eternal frost. Light as mentioned here evidently refers to the radiation that comes from the innumerable luminaries making up the infinite universes of inconceivable size, ruled by definite and fixed laws; these demonstrate limitless power and glory as testimony to a Supreme Being of unimaginable power, wisdom, and glory

2 I create darkness. Darkness is the total absence of light. Our day and night being made by the earth turning on its axis-daylight being made as the earth faces the sun and darkness as it revolves away from the sun-causes midnight as well as noon to be travelling continually around the earth

3 I make peace. Freedom from war or civil disorder; it is harmony in human and divine relations; quietness; tranquility. God is the author of peace and Christ is called The Prince of Peace (9:6-7). All real and lasting peace does come from God; and it originated with Him

4 I create evil. The Heb. word for create is bara and here it means to bring about; bring into existence. The Heb. word for evil is ra. It is never rendered sin, but evil (v 7); calamity (Ps. 141:5); adversity (1 Sam. 10:19; Ps. 94:13; Eccl. 7:14); grief (Neh. 2:10); sorrow (Gen. 44:29); trouble (Ps. 27:4; 41:1; 107:26); distress (Neh. 2:17); bad (Gen. 24:50; 31:24; Lev. 27:10-14); affliction (Num. 11:11; Zech. 1:15); misery (Eccl. 8:6); trouble (Ps. 41:1); sore (Dt. 6:22); noisome (Ezek. 14:15, 21); hurt (Gen. 26:29); and wretchedness (Num. 11:14). The idea is that God has made the law of reaping as well as the law of sowing, and evil and bad results will come when men sin. God has decreed that misery, wretchedness, sorrow, trouble, and distress will come as a result of sin (Gal. 6:7-8). Ra is trans. evil 430 times and never with the idea that sin is created by God. If men sin and reap for it the responsibility for both is theirs. God simply made the law and penalties for breaking the law which will always be in force

2 commands to Israel (Isa. 45:11):

1 Ask Me to show you things to come concerning My sons

2 Command Me concerning the work of My hands. This literally means that men have the authority to pray in such faith that they can direct the Almighty to do for them those things which they want and need. God would rather do things for His people than to withhold from them. To command God is an expression of highest relationship, friendship, and co-operation to the same end in life. It is a rare privilege to command Him, and if exercised properly in fervent respectful petition,

4 And he[a] did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Ăm-a-zī'ah did.

2 Uzziah's victories over the Philistines, Arabians, and Ammonites

5 And he sought God in the days of Zĕch-a-rī'ah, who had understanding in the visions of God: and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him to prosper.

6 And he [b]went forth and warred against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jăb'neh, and the wall of Ash'dŏd, and built cities about Ash'dŏd, and among the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

7 And God helped him against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and against the Ā-rā'bĭ-anş that dwelt in Gūr-bā'al, and the Mĕ-hū'nims.

8 And the Ăm'mon-ites gave gifts to Ūz'zī'ah: and his name spread abroad even to the entering in of Ē'gўpt; for he strengthened himself exceedingly.

3 Uzziah's building program and prosperity (vs. 5)

9 Moreover Ūz-zī'ah built towers in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them.

10 Also he built towers in the desert, and digged many wells: for he had much cattle, both in the low country, and in the plains: husbandmen also, and vine dressers in the mountains, and in Căr'mel: for he loved husbandry.

4 Uzziah's army: 310,100 men

11 Moreover Ūz-zī'ah had an host of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their account by the hand of Jĕ-ī'el the scribe and Mā-a-sē'iah the ruler, under the hand of Hăn-a-nī'ah, one of the king's captains.

12 The [c]whole number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And under their hand was an army, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy.

14 And Ūz-zī'ah [d]prepared for them throughout all the host shields, and spears, and helmets, and habergeons, and bows, and slings to cast stones.

15 And he made in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm engines, invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and upon the bulwarks, to shoot arrows and great stones withal. And his name spread far abroad; for he was marvellously helped, till he was strong.

5 Uzziah's sin and punishment (2 Ki. 15:4-5)

16 ¶ But [e]when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD to burn incense upon the altar of incense.

17 And Ăz-a-rī'ah the priest went in after him, and with him fourscore priests of the LORD, that were valiant men:

18 And they withstood Ūz-zī'ah the king, and said unto him, It appertaineth not unto thee, Ūz-zī'ah, to burn incense unto the LORD, but to the priests the sons of Aär'on, that are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honour from the LORD God.

19 Then Ūz-zī'ah was wroth, and had a censer in his hand to burn incense: and while he was wroth with the priests, the leprosy even rose up in his forehead before the priests in the house of the LORD, from beside the incense altar.

20 And Ăz-a-rī'ah the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out from thence; yea, himself hasted also to go out, because the LORD had smitten him.

21 And Ūz-zī'ah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a [g]several house, being a leper; for he was cut off from the house of the LORD: and Jō'tham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

6 Death of Uzziah (2 Ki. 15:6-7)

22 ¶ Now the [c]rest of the acts of Ūz-zī'ah, first and last, [d]did Ī-şā'iah the prophet, the son of Ā'mŏz, write.

23 So Ūz-zī'ah [f]slept with his fathers, and they [h]buried him with his fathers in [g]the field of the burial which belonged to the kings; for they said, He is a leper: and Jō'tham his son reigned in his stead.

394 CHAPTER 27

XII Reign of Jotham: 16 years (2 Ki. 15:32-38). 1 Accession and character

JŌ'THAM was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm. His mother's name also was Jĕ-ru'shah, the daughter of Zā'dŏk.

2 And he[k] did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Ūz-zī'ah did: [i]howbeit he entered not into the temple of the LORD. And the people did yet corruptly.

2 Jotham's building program

3 [j]He built the high gate of the house of the LORD, and on the wall of Ō'phel he built much.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Jū'dah, and a Like many even today, he backslid when he became strong, successful, victorious, and rich (v 16). He became exalted to destruction, not salvation, even intruding into the priest's office to burn incense upon the altar of incense. Azariah, the priest went in after him with 80 others to withstand the king and urge him not to intrude into the sacred things. Uzziah became very angry at this and in such a state he became smitten with leprosy-a disease he suffered to the day of his death (v 17-21)

d This proves that Isaiah did write some of the records of the kings. He either wrote a book from which some of the records were taken, or wrote a part of Kings and Chronicles which we have in our Bible (v 22; 32:32)

e Slept bodily, not is soul and spirit, for they are immortal and will always be conscious-in heaven, earth, or hell (note h, 9:31)

f Always it is clear that the body goes to the grave and is buried. Never does the Bible indicate that the soul and spirit go to qeber, the grave. See Hell in Index

g This was not the place where kings were buried in the city of David, but some field outside the city that belonged to the kings of Judah. Being a leper, he lived in a separate house before death, and now he was buried in a place separate from the other kings (v 23)

i That is, he learned his lesson about not entering the temple and intruding in the priestly work as his father did, who was smitten with leprosy for such a deed (v 2; 26:16-21)

7 examples of commanding God:

2 He commanded flies to be removed (8:31)
3 He caused God to repent (Ex. 32:12-14)
4 Joshua commanded the sun (Josh. 10:12)
5 Elijah commanded fire from heaven (1 Ki. 18:36-38; 2 Ki. 1:10, 12)
6 Jesus Christ commanded the winds and waves to obey, water to turn to wine, etc. (Lk. 4:35; Jn. 2)
7 Apostles and others commanded men to be free from infirmity (Acts 3:6; 5:16; 9:34, 40; 13:11; 14:10; 19:11-12)

Battles in the heavenlies (Isa. 45:2)

This verse and others like it teach that God is the one causing the victories and defeats of men on earth; that battles lost or won on earth are the result of those lost or won in the heavenlies between the good and the bad angels; and that over every kingdom of this world there are good and bad spirits who seek to carry out the will of their master (note h, Dan. 4:13, 25; note p, 10:13). God promised to remove everything that would hinder the conquest of Cyrus (v 2)

2 Created man upon it
3 Stretched out the heavens
4 Commanded all the host of them a In the reign of Uzziah, the father of Jotham, the Ammonites gave presents to and recognized the authority of Judah (26:8); but sometime later, perhaps during the leprous period of Uzziah, they rebelled. Now Jotham conquered them again and they paid heavy tribute for several years (v 5)

f The 26th one of Israel's 42 kings, who did evil in the sight of Jehovah (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6)

g 5 sins of Ahaz:
1 He walked in all the ways of the kings of the 10 tribes (v 2)
2 Made molten images for Baal
3 Burnt incense in the valley of the son of Hinnom (v 3)
4 Burnt his children in the fire to Moloch (or Molech)
5 Sacrificed and burnt incense in high places, on the hills, and under every green tree (v 4)
Thus an ungodly king followed his godly father, Jotham, and preceeded his godly son, Hezekiah, illustrating the truth of Ezek. 18 and 33

h 5 judgments upon Ahaz:
1 Defeat by Syria (v 5)
2 Many captives taken to Syria
3 Defeat by the 10 tribes (v 5)
4 120,000 Judahites slain in one day
5 200,000 captives of Judah taken to Samaria, with women, sons, daughters, and spoils of war (v 8)

The noise of strangers (Isa. 25:5)

The noise of strangers refers to the tumult of the invading armies entering into battle. This thought is a continuation of the last part of v 4 which speaks, in particular, of the terrible ones invading Palestine under Antichrist. In this verse the prediction is that the branch (Heb. zamir, a song) of the terrible ones shall be brought low; that is, their song of victory of revelry will be brought to an end. The wrath of the terrible ones will be dimished like the terrible heat of the sun being checked by an intervening cloud over the earth (v 5)

Feasts of good things (Isa. 25:6)

In this mountain-mount Zion (24:23), Jehovah shall make unto all people a feast of good things. Feasts were times of celebration over great victories and periods of national rejoicing and success. Here we see joy and the abundance of good things combined with the presence of the Messiah when He comes to reign, after gaining the victory over the Antichrist and the terrible ones under him, including the kings of the earth, and their mighty armies, and after defeating Satan with his angels and demons (v 5-7; 23:21-22; Rev. 12:7-12; 19:19-21; 20:1-3). This is not to be understood as salvation, but a literal feast of good foods for all people who will be left after the battle of Armageddon and the judgment of the nations (Mt. 25:31-46; Zech. 14:16-21). This will be the time when the Divine Trinity will be among men to fellowship with them in eating and drinking. Cp. Gen. 18; Ex. 24:11; Lk. 22:18, 30; Rev. 19; 21:1-7 in the forests he built castles and towers.

3 Jotham's victory over Ammon

5 ¶ He [a]fought also with the king of the Am'mon-ites, and prevailed against them. And the children of Am'mŏn gave him the same year [b]an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. So much did the children of Am'mŏn pay unto him, both the second year, and the third.

6 So Jō'tham became mighty, because [c]he prepared his ways before the LORD his God.

4 Death of Jotham (2 Ki. 15:36-38)

7 ¶ Now the [d]rest of the acts of Jō'tham, and all his wars, and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Is'ra-el and Jū'dah.

8 He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

9 ¶ And Jō'tham [e]slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Dā'vid: and A'hăz his son reigned in his stead.

395 CHAPTER 28

XIII Reign of Ahaz: 16 years (2 Ki. 16:1-20). 1 Accession and character

A'HĂZ was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Je-ru'sa-lĕm: but he [f]did not that which was right in the sight of the LORD, like Dā'vid his father:

2 [g]For he walked in the ways of the kings of Is'ra-el, and made also molten images for Bā'al-Im.

3 Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of the son of Hin'nom, and burnt his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Is'ra-el.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

2 Ahaz conquered by Syria and Israel (2 Ki. 16:5-8)

5 [h]Wherefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Sȳr'ī-ā; and they smote him, and carried away a great multitude of them captives, and brought them to Dā-măs'cus. And he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Is'ra-el, who smote him with a great slaughter.

6 ¶ For Pē'kah the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah slew in Jū'dah an hundred and twenty thousand in one day, which were all valiant men; because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers.

7 And Zĭch'rī, a mighty man of Ē'phrā-ĭm, slew Mā-a-sē'iah the king's son, and Az'rī-kăm the governor of the house, and Ēl'kā-nah that was next to the king.

8 And the children of Is'ra-el carried away captive of their brethren two hundred thousand, women, sons, and daughters, and took also away much spoil from them, and brought the spoil to Sā-mā'rī-ā.

3 Oded the prophet rebukes Israel for taking 200,000 of Judah to be slaves

■9 But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Ō'ded: and he went out before the host that came to Sā-mā'rī'ā, and said unto them, Behold, because the LORD God of your fathers was wroth with Jū'dah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And [a]now ye purpose to keep under the children of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sa-lĕm for bondmen and bondwomen unto you: but are there not with you, even with you, sins against the LORD your God?

★11 [b]Now hear me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.

4 Israel permits the 200,000 captives to go home

12 [c]Then certain of the heads of the children of Ē'phrā-ĭm, Az-a-rī'ah the son of Jō-hā'nan, Bĕr'e-chī'ah the son of Mē-shīl'le-mŏth, and Jĕ-hĭz-kī'ah the son of Shăl'lum, and Am'a-sā the son of Hād'la-ī, stood up against them that came from the war,

13 And said unto them, Ye shall not bring in the captives hither: for whereas we have offended against the LORD already, ye intend to add more to our sins and to our trespass: for our trespass is great, and there is fierce wrath against Is'ra-el.

14 So the armed men left the captives and the spoil before the princes and all the congregation.

15 And the men which were expressed by name rose up, and took the captives, and with the spoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them upon asses, and brought them to Jĕr'ī-chō, the city of palm trees, to their brethren: then they returned to Sā-mā'rī-ā.

5 Ahaz seeks help from Assyria (vs. 20; 2 Ki. 16:7-8)

16 ¶ [d]At that time did king A'hăz send unto the kings of As-sȳr'ī-ā to help him.

6 Ahaz defeated by Edom and Philistia

a Question 37. Next, 32:4

b 16th prophecy in 2 Chr. (28:11, fulfilled). Next, 33:4. The one prediction was that God's wrath would come upon them if they did not release their brethren

c Many times God has had men to rise up like these to fight for the right. They prevailed, so the 200,000 captives were sent home, being clothed, fed and anointed and their feeble ones put on asses. They were brought to Jericho among their own people (v 12-15)

d At that time -when he was so defeated by Syria and Ephraim. This was the first appeal to Assyria for help, giving the Assyrians the occasion to meddle with the affairs of both kingdoms of Israel (v 16)

e Again, after the first revolt against Judah in the days of Amaziah (25:11-19), Edom revolted and this time both they and the Philistines were victorious over Judah (v 17-19)

Salvation of Gentiles (Isa. 25:6)

Unto all people. Isaiah seemed to glory in the fact that the Messiah and His program were to be for all nations, not for the Jews only (v 6; 2:2-4; 11:10; 42:1, 6; 49:6, 22; 54:8; 60:3-5, 11, 16; 61:6, 9; 62:2; 66:12, 19). In this sense we might call Isaiah the prophet to the Gentiles of the O. T., as Paul was the apostle to the Gentiles of the N. T. No other prophet mentioned the salvation and blessing of the Gentiles as often as Isaiah. In fact, only two other prophets mentioned them as being blessed, and they referred to it only one time each (Jer. 16:19; Mal. 1:11). Isaiah emphasized this truth 15 times, using the word Gentiles as many times in his writings as it is used in all the rest of the O. T. His prophecies are the only ones quoted in the Gospels of the salvation of the Gentiles (Mt. 4:15; 12:18, 21; Lk. 2:32). The Heb. goy, trans. Gentiles is also trans. nations many times, 10 times in the book of Isaiah where they are referred to as being blessed of God under the Messiah (2:2-4; 9:1; 11:12; 13:4; 25:7; 52:15; 66:18-20). Micah (4:2-11) and Zechariah (2:11; 8:22-23; 14:16) were the only other prophets using the word nations in connection with their being blessed. There are a few such references in Ps. 57:9; 67:2-4; 72:11, 17; 117:1 and a few in Gen. 17:4; 18:18; 22:18; 26:4, but apart from these, other writers of the O. T. did not mention the blessing of nations or Gentiles

Giants (Isa. 26:14)

Heb. rapha, trans. dead (v 14, 19; 14:9; Job 26:5; Ps. 88:10-11; Pr. 2:18; 9:18; 21:16); deceased (v 14); giants (Dt. 2:11, 20; 3:11, 13; Josh. 12:4; 13:13; 15:8; 17:15; 18:16; 1 Chr. 20:4-8); and Rephaim (17:5; Gen. 14:5; 15:20; 2 Sam. 5:18, 22; 23:13; 1 Chr. 11:15; 14:9). In the 8 places where it is trans. dead and deceased it should have been retained as a proper name -Rephaim, as follows:

1 Rephaim under waters (Job 26:5, note)
2 Shall the Rephaim arise and praise You? (Ps. 88:10-11)
3 Her paths unto the Rephaim (Pr. 2:18)
4 The Rephaim are there (Pr. 9:18)
5 Congregation to the Rephaim (Pr. 21:16)
6 It stirreth up the Rephaim for you (14:9)
7 They are Rephaim (26:14)
8 The earth shall cast out the Rephaim (26:19, note)

The Rephaim were the other lords of v 13; and they shall not rise because God visited and destroyed them (v 14). This plainly teaches that the giants or Rephaim have no resurrection like the dead of Israel referred to in v 19. They were the progeny of fallen angels and not ordinary men who do have resurrection. See Giants, p. 62

a Again, the reason for the defeat of God's people is stated-because of sin (v 19)
b Made Judah naked-stripped them of the worship and protection of the true and living God, so that they had no helper or deliverer (v 19)
c Called Tiglath-pileser in 2 Ki. 16:10 d Ahaz had appealed to Assyria for help against Syria and Ephraim, but this only gave them an excuse to oppress Ahaz and Judah; this they did instead of helping them (v 20). Ahaz had to take treasures of the temple and other places to pay the Assyrians to lift the hand of oppression (v 21; 2 Ki. 16: 17-18)
e Trouble in this case only hardened Ahaz and made him more wicked than before (v 22). Cp. effect of trouble upon Hezekiah (32:12, 30) f 3 especially branded transgression:
1 Cain (Gen. 4:19)
2 Dathan (Num. 26:9)
3 Ahaz (v 22-25)
g 5 sins of Ahaz:
1 He sacrificed to the gods of Syria, which he thought helped defeat him (v 23)
2 Cut the vessels of the house of God in pieces (v 24)
3 Shut the doors of the temple against the worship of Jehovah
4 Made altars in every corner of Jerusalem
5 Made high places in every city of Judah, at which to burn incense to other gods, thus provoking Jehovah to anger (v 25)
h Sec 2 Ki. 16:1-20

10 things to remember (Isa. 46:9):
1 That I am God (v 9)
2 There is no other God
3 There is none like Me
4 None declaring the end from the beginning (v 10)
5 None declaring predictions from ancient times that are not yet fulfilled
6 I will keep My Word and do all the pleasure of My own will 7 I will call a ravenous bird from the east (v 11)
8 I will call a man from a far country that will execute My will 9 I have spoken and will bring it to pass
10 I have purposed it and will do it

14 reasons Babylon punished (Isa. 47:6):
1 You did not show mercy (v 6)
2 Upon the elders of Judah you laid the yoke heavily
3 You were proud and arrogant and said, I will be a lady for ever (v 7)
4 You did not lay these things to your heart, and act sincerely
5 You did not remember the latter end of your pride and arrogancy
6 You are given to pleasures (v 8)
7 You dwell carelessly
8 You brag and say, I am, and there is none beside me (v 8, 10)
9 You boast that you will never be a widow (v 8)
10 You also boast that you will never lose your children
11 You have trusted in the abundance of your enchantments and sorceries (v 9)
12 You trusted in wickedness (v 10)
13 You commit wickedness and say, None seeth me
14 You have permitted your knowledge to pervert you

Restoration of Israel (Isa. 46:3)
After predicting the captivity of the gods of Babylon (v 1-2), Jehovah addressed the house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, that is, all the Israelites of all the 13 tribes, and He predicted that all of them would be protected and delivered from their own land (v 2-4). This prophecy could have a double fulfillment-of immediate deliverance from Babylon by Cyrus (v 11; 41:1-3, 25; 44:28; 25:1-6, 13) and to the final deliverance from the Antichrist, the future king of Babylon (13:1-14-27; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24) had come and smitten Jū'dah, and carried away captives.

18 The Phī-lĭs'tĭnes also had invaded the cities of the low country, and of the south of Jū'dah, and had taken Bĕth-shē'mesh, and Ā-jī'a-lŏn, and Gē-dē'roth, and Shō'chō with the villages thereof, and Tim'nah with the villages thereof, Gĭm'zō also and the villages thereof: and they dwelt there.

19 For the LORD brought Jū'dah low[a] because of Ā'hăz king of Ĭs'ra-el; for he[b] made Jū'dah naked, and transgressed sore against the LORD.

7 Assyria oppresses Ahaz and Judah (vs. 16; 2 Ki. 16:18)

20 And [c]Tĭl'gath-pĭl-nē'ser king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā [d]came unto him, and distressed him, but strengthened him not.

21 For Ā'hăz took away a portion out of the house of the LORD, and out of the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā: but he helped him not.

8 Ahaz persists in the sins that caused his defeats (2 Ki. 16:9-18)

22 ¶ And [e]in the time of his distress did he trespass yet more against the LORD: [f]this is that king Ā'hăz.

23 For he [d]sacrificed unto the gods of Dă-măs'cus which smote him: and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Sȳr'ĭ-ā help them, therefore will I sacrifice to them, that they may help me. But they were the ruin of him, and of all Ĭs'ra-el.

24 And Ā'hăz gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and cut in pieces the vessels of the house of God, and shut up the doors of the house of the LORD, and he made him altars in every corner of Jē-rū'sā-lĕm.

25 And in every several city of Jū'dah he made high places to burn incense unto other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD God of his fathers.

9 Death of Ahaz (2 Ki. 16:19)

26 ¶ Now the [h]rest of his acts and of all his ways, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Jū'dah and Ĭs'ra-el.

27 And Ā'hăz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm: but they brought him not into the sepulchres of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el: and Hĕz-e-kī'ah his son reigned in his stead.

396 CHAPTER 29

XIV Reign of Hezekiah: 29 years (2 Ki. 18:1-20:21; Isa. 36-39). 1 Accession and character

HĔZ-E-KĪ'AH began to reign when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jē-rū'sā-lĕm. And his mother's name was Ā-bī'jah, the daughter of Zĕch-a-rī'ah.

2 And he [a]did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Dā'vid his father had done.

2 Revival of religion under Hezekiah. (1) Temple repaired

3 ¶ [b]He in the first year of his reign, in the first month, opened the doors of the house of the LORD, and repaired them.

(2) Hezekiah commands the Levites to sanctify themselves and the temple and restore the worship of God

4 And he brought in the priests and the Lē'vītes, and gathered them together into the east street,

5 And said unto them, Hear me, ye Lē'vītes, sanctify now yourselves, and sanctify the house of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry forth the filthiness out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers [a]have trespassed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD, and turned their backs.

7 Also they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incense nor offered burnt offerings in the holy place unto the God of Ĭs'ra-el.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the LORD was upon Jū'dah and Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, and [d]he hath delivered them to trouble, to astonishment, and to hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

9 For, lo, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, that his fierce wrath may turn away from us.

11 My sons, be not now negligent: for the LORD hath chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and that ye should minister unto him and burn incense.

(3) The temple is cleansed and preparation for worship completed (2 Ki. 18:4-7)

12 ¶ Then the Lē'vītes arose, Mā'hăth the son of Ă-măs'a-ī, and Jō'el the son of Ăz-a-rī'ah, of the sons of the Kō'hath-ītes: and of the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī, Kĭsh the son of Ăb'dī, and Ăz-a-rī'ah the son of Jē-hăl'e-lĕl: and of the Gĕr'shon-ītes; Jō'ah the son of Zĭm'mah, and Ē'dĕn the son of Jō'ah:

13 And of the sons of Ē-lĭz'a-phăn; Shĭm'rī, and Jē-ī'el: and of the sons of Ā'saph; Zĕch-a-rī'ah, and Măt-ta-nī'ah:

14 And of the sons of Hē'man; Jē-hī'el, and Shĭm'e-ī: and of the sons of Jĕd'ų-thŭn; Shĕm-a-ī'ah, and Ŭz'zĭ-el.

a The 7th one (besides David), of Israel's 42 kings, who did right in the sight of the Lord (note a, 1 Ki. 11:6) b 25 "right" things done by Hezekiah:
1 The first month of his reign he opened the doors of the temple which had been shut by his father (29:3, Cp. 28:24)
2 He brought in the priests and Levites and charged them to sanctify themselves and the temple (29:4-11)
3 Confessed and acknowledged the sins of his father for which judgment had come upon Judah (29:6-9)
4 Made a new covenant with God to turn away His wrath (29:10)
5 Charged the priests and Levites to start and continue the worship of Jehovah in the temple (29:11)
6 Gathered the rulers of Judah together and went up to the temple to sacrifice (29:15)
7 Set the Levites in the temple to play instruments and sing, as David had commanded (29:25-30)
8 Encouraged and commanded sacrifices from the congregation; and there were so many that there were not enough priests to do the work (29:31-36)
9 Invited people of the 10 tribes to keep the passover in Jerusalem (30:1-14)
10 Held a passover such as had not been held for many years (30:15-17)
11 Interceded for the people to receive healing (30:18-20)
12 Used the passover feast as an occasion to teach the people (30:12-22)
13 Extended the feast 7 more days (30: 23-27)
14 Destroyed all idolatry (31:1)
15 Restored the 24 courses of the priests (31:2)
16 Restored daily sacrifices (31:3)
17 Restored support of ministers by tithes from the people (31:4-10)
18 Restored storehouses for the abundance of tithes brought in (31:11-15)
19 Regulated tithe distribution to all males of the Levites (31:16-19)
20 Did the right and truthful things in all parts of the law (31:20-21)
21 Prepared to defend Jerusalem (32: 1-6)
22 Encouraged Judah to trust God (32: 7-8)
23 Prayed in time of danger (32:20)
24 Humbled himself in judgment (32: 26)
25 Made many public improvements (32:27-30) c 7 sins of the fathers:

God's eternal plan (Isa. 46:10)
Again, reference is made to God's eternal plan for man from the beginning to the end (v 10; 40:21; 31:4, 26; 48:3-7, 16; 64:4; Acts 15:18; Eph. 2:7; 3:9-11; Col. 1:15-18; Heb. 1:1-3). The Bible is the revelation of God's plan from eternity past to eternity future; and it cannot be rightly understood without a knowledgeof that plan. One must become acquainted with the ages and dispensations, their outstanding features, purposes, and above all, the ultimate purpose of God in having a universal kingdom over which He will preside forever without the threat of new and continued rebellions among free moral agents, as the case has been since the fall of Lucifer, the pre-Adamites, and Adam of the present race on earth. Thousands of predictions accurately tell future events; and the plan and purpose of God are unchangeable. If he had no plan He could not predict future events. In this passage God declares that He is powerful enough to predict and bring events to pass as predicted; and this clearly shows design in His plan a All true cleansing of buildings and people should begin with the inner part; but man often cleans up the outside of himself, making no change on the inside (Mt. 15:11-20; 23:25-26; Lk. 11:39)

b It took 8 days to cleanse the temple with many men working on it continually (v 17-19), which shows how neglected it was after Israel forsook God and went after idols

c Then - after the temple was cleansed and ready for use again, Hezekiah and the princes of Israel went up to worship and continue the religious reforms (v 20-36)

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, by the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of the LORD.

16 And the priests went into the [a]inner part of the house of the LORD, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the house of the LORD. And the Lē'vites took it, to carry it out abroad into the brook Kid'ron.

17 Now they [b]began on the first day of the first month to sanctify, and on the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of the LORD: so they sanctified the house of the LORD in eight days; and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hĕz-e-kī'ah the king, and said, We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof.

19 Moreover all the vessels, which king Ā'hăz in his reign did cast away in his transgression, have we prepared and sanctified, and, behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.

(4) Temple worship fully restored

20 [c]Then Hĕz-e-kī'ah the king rose early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the house of the LORD.

21 And they brought [d]seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven he goats, for a sin offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Jū'dah. And he commanded the priests the sons of Aâr'on to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

22 So they killed the bullocks, and the priests [e]received the blood, and sprinkled it on the altar: likewise, when they had killed the rams, they sprinkled the blood upon the altar: they killed also the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 And they brought forth the he goats for the sin offering before the king and the congregation; and they laid their hands upon them:

24 And the priests killed them, and they made reconciliation with their blood upon the altar, to make an atonement for [f]all Iş'ra-el: for the king commanded that the burnt offering and the sin offering should be made for all Iş'ra-el.

25 And he set the Lē'vites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, with psalteries, and with harps, according to the commandment of Dā'vid, and of Gād the king's seer, and Nā'than the prophet: for so was the commandment of the LORD by his prophets.

26 And the Lē'vites stood with the instruments of Dā'vid, and the priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the altar. And when the burnt offering began, the song of the LORD began also with the trumpets, and with the instruments ordained by Dā'vid king of Iş'ra-el.

28 And [a]all the congregation worshipped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded: and all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

29 And [b]when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were present with him bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 Moreover Hĕz-e-kī'ah the king and the princes commanded the Lē'vites to sing praise unto the LORD with the words of Dā'vid, and of Ā'saph the seer. And they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.

31 [c]Then Hĕz-e-kī'ah answered and said, Now ye have consecrated yourselves unto the LORD, come near and bring sacrifices and thank offerings into the house of the LORD. And the congregation brought in sacrifices and thank offerings; and as many as were of a free heart burnt offerings.

32 And the [d]number of the burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was threescore and ten bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the LORD.

33 And the consecrated things were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep.

34 But the priests were too few, so that they could not flay all the burnt offerings: wherefore their brethren the Lē'vites did help them, till the work was ended, and until the other priests had sanctified themselves: for the Lē'vites were more upright in heart to sanctify themselves than the priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drink offerings [e]for every burnt offering. So the service of the house of the LORD was set in order.

36 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people: for the thing was done suddenly.

(5) The Passover restored by Hezekiah. A Preparations

AND Hĕz-e-kī'ah sent to [f]all Iş'ra-el and Jū'dah, and wrote letters also to Ĕ'phrā-ĭm and Mā-nās'seh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, to keep the passover unto the LORD God of Iş'ra-el.

2 For the king had taken counsel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, to keep the passover in the second month.

3 [g]For they could not keep it at that time, because the priests

3 The trumpeters sounded

b When the burnt offering was consummed, the king and all the people bowed themselves before Jehovah and worshipped. Then the Levites were commanded to sing praises to God with joy; this they did and bowed their heads in worship (v 29-30) c Then - after the dedication sacrifices, the king commanded the congregation to bring of their own free will any offerings which they wanted to present to Jehovah. They brought sacrifices and thank offerings until there were not enough priests already consecrated to take care of the work; so they had to consecrate others to help (v 31-36)

Example of infinite perfection (Job 38:5):

The idea here is that of an architect planning the size of the earth. This is an example of the infinite perfection of God in creation. They tell us that the earth rotates on its axis 1,000 miles an hour; if it were 100 miles an hour our days and nights would be 10 times as long as they are now; and the hot sun would likely burn up our vegetation each long day while surviving sprouts would freeze in the long night. Thus the earth has been placed the proper distance from the sun to give it the right amount of warmth. If the sun gave half as much more we would roast. Furthermore, the slant of the earth, tilted at an angle of 23 degrees, gives us our seasons. If it had not been tilted, vapors from the ocean would move north and south, piling up continents of ice. If our moon were only 50,000 miles away instead of its distance of 221,000-253,000 miles, our tides would cover the continents twice daily, we're told. If the crust of the earth had been only 10 ft. thicker there would be no oxygen, and thus no animal life could be kept alive. Had the ocean been a few feet deeper, carbon dioxide and oxygen would have been absorbed and therefore no vegetable life could exist. It is evident from these and other facts that there is not one chance in millions or trillions that life on our planet could be a work of itself. There had to be a super-intelligence at work in the creation of all things a This no doubt was the first passover since the division of the kingdom over 260 years before (v 5; 30:26)

b Messengers of the king
c The first appeal on record since the division of the kingdom, inviting the northern tribes to return to the God of Israel
d This shows that the 10 tribes had all been taken captive (v 6; 2 Ki. 17)
e 6fold appeal of Hezekiah to the remnant of the 10 tribes left in Palestine:
1 You children of Israel, turn again to Jehovah, the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel; and He will return to you (v 6)

3 Be not stiffnecked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves unto Jehovah; enter His sanctuary, which He has sanctified forever (v 8)
4 Serve the Lord your God, that the fierceness of His wrath may turn away from you
5 If you turn again to Jehovah He will put it into the hearts of the Assyrians to have compassion on your captive brethren and send them again to this land (v 9)
6 The Lord is gracious and will not turn His face away from you, if you return to Him
f This reveals the apostasy of the remnant of the 10 tribes-those left after the fall of Samaria and the captivity of the most of these tribes to Assyria (v 10)
g The appeal was not altogether unheeded, for different ones from Asher, Manasseh, and Zebulun humbled themselves, and came to Jerusalem to keep the passover with their brethren of the southern kingdom (v 11-13)

Great pyramid (Isa. 19:19):

In that day-the Millennium, there shall be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border (v 19). The altar and pillar have been wrongly interpreted to mean the great pyramid. Some in modern times have gone so far as to make predictions of latter day events by measuring the various rooms and the passages of this structure, speculating that each inch stands for a year in connection with prophetical events. By this method they have set dates for almost every event of the past and future. However, no pyramid is mentioned in the Bible and certainly there are no biblical grounds for measuring the various rooms and passages in one with a view to forcing the inches to mean years in the fulfillment of prophecy. God has never used such methods to teach His Word. If so, then not only the great pyramid, but all the others, including those in Mexico should be measured and forced into biblical prophecy. This would lead to endless confusion and strife

9 proofs altar and pillar not the great pyramid:

1 In that day-the Millennium, these are to be a place of sacrifice, a sign and a witness to the Lord, not before then (19:19)

2 The word altar throughout Scripture means a place of sacrifice. This is the only meaning it has in the 429 passages where it occurs. It is never used in the sense of a pillar or a monument of any kind

3 No altar built to God was to be of hewn stone, and if a tool was used on one it was polluted. This would disqualify any of the pyramids as an altar to God (Ex. 20:24-26)

4 The word pillar is used 135 times in Scripture and never as an altar, so the altar and pillar must be two separate things instead of one as some speculators contend. Pillars were used as monuments-silent witnesses of certain events. Not one time is an altar had not sanctified themselves sufficiently, neither had the people gathered themselves together to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5 So they established a decree to make proclamation throughout all Is'ra-el, from Bĕ'er-shĕ'bá even to Dăn, that they should come to keep the passover unto the LORD God of Is'ra-el at Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm: for they had not done it a[a]long time in such sort as it was written.

6 So the [b]posts went with the letters from the king and his princes throughout all Is'ra-el and Jū'dah, and according to the commandment of the king, saying, [c]Ye children of Is'ra-el, turn again unto the LORD God of A'brā-hăm, I'saac, and Is'ra-el, and he will return to the remnant of you, [d]that are escaped out of the hand of the kings of As-sŷr'ĭ-á.

7 And [e]be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the LORD God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to desolation, as ye see.

8 Now be ye not stiffnecked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves unto the LORD, and enter into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever: and serve the LORD your God, that the fierceness of his wrath may turn away from you.

9 For if ye turn again unto the LORD, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that lead them captive, so that they shall come again into this land: for the LORD your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

10 So the posts passed from city to city through the country of E'phrā-ĭm and Mā-năs'seh even unto Zĕb'u-lŭn: but [f]they laughed them to scorn, and mocked them.

11 [g]Nevertheless divers of Ash'ĕr and Mā-năs'seh and of Zĕb'u-lŭn humbled themselves, and came to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

12 Also in Jū'dah the hand of God was to give them one heart to do the commandment of the king and of the princes, by the word of the LORD.

13 ¶ And there assembled at Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm much people to keep the feast of unleavened bread in the second month, a very great congregation.

14 And they arose and [h]took away the altars that were in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and all the altars for incense took they away, and cast them into the brook Kĭd'ron.

B The Passover kept

15 Then they killed the passover on the [i]fourteenth day of the second month: and the priests and the Lē'vītes were ashamed, and [j]sanctified themselves, and brought in the burnt offerings into the house of the LORD.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Mō'ses the man of God: the priests sprinkled the blood, which they received of the hand of the Lē'vītes.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified: therefore the Lē'vītes had the charge of the killing of the passovers for every one that was not clean, to [a]sanctify them unto the LORD.

(6) Israel pardoned and healed by the prayer of Hezekiah

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of E'phrā-ĭm, and Mā-năs'seh, Is'sa-char, and Zĕb'u-lŭn, had not cleansed themselves, yet did they eat the passover otherwise than it was written. But Hĕz-e-kī'ah [b]prayed for them, saying, The good LORD pardon every one 19 That prepareth his heart to seek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary.

20 And the LORD hearkened to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, and healed the people.

(7) Feast of unleavened bread restored by Hezekiah

21 And [c]the children of Is'ra-el that were present at Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great gladness: and the Lē'vītes and the priests praised the LORD day by day, singing with loud instruments unto the LORD.

22 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah spake comfortably unto all the Lē'vītes that taught the good knowledge of the LORD: and they did eat throughout the feast seven days, offering peace offerings, and making confession to the LORD God of their fathers.

(8) "Other Seven Days" of feast kept unto the Lord

23 And the whole assembly took counsel to keep other seven days: and they kept other seven days with gladness.

24 For Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah did give to the congregation a[d]thousand bullocks and seven thousand sheep; and the princes gave to the congregation a thousand bullocks and ten thousand sheep: and a great number of priests sanctified themselves.

25 And all the congregation of Jū'dah, with the priests and the Lē'vītes, and all the congregation that came out of Is'ra-el, and the strangers that came out of the land of Is'ra-el, and that dwelt in Jū'dah, rejoiced.

26 So there was great joy in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm: for [e]since the time of Sŏl'o-mon the son of Dā'vid king of Is'ra-el there was not the like in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

27 ¶ Then the priests the Lē'vītes arose and blessed the b The many that were unclean from the various tribes ate of the passover, for they had no time to become ceremonially clean. Hezekiah prayed for them that God would pardon under these circumstances, and He did. He not only forgave them of this trespass, but He healed their bodies, or at least kept them from dying for their uncleanness, as in Lev. 15:31 (v 18-20) or a pillar referred to as containing the plan of God in stones

5 The altar of v 19 was to be in the midst (Heb. tavek, center; middle) of Egypt and the pillar was to be at the border (Heb. gebul, border; boundary; coast; limit) of Egypt, clearly proving two different things, not one. Could there not be an altar to the Lord in the center of Egypt where men could offer sacrifices of God in the Millennium, like the one to be in Jerusalem for the same purpose during the period? (Ezek. 40:46-47; 41:22; 43:7, 13-27; 45:19; 47:1). Egyptains and Assyrians are to serve with Israel in that day (v 23-25), so there could also be an altar in Assyria as well as in Jerusalem and Egypt. Thus, the great pyramid could not be the altar and the pillar, not being two things, and not being located at the border

6 The law of Scripture is that all points of sound doctrine must be proved by two or three scriptures (Dt. 17:6-7; 19:15; Mt. 18:16; 2 Cor. 13:1). To make the altar and the pillar, or either one of them, the great pyramid, we should have scriptural proof for it, as well as for making the structure the Bible or prophecy in stone. And where could we find such authority?

7 Even those who hold to the inch-year theory of the great pyramid admit that the inches do not harmonize with the years in connection with God's plan of major events. This should be proof enough that such a theory is pure human guesswork. As one writer confesses, "The interior measurements, while carefully and accurately made, can only be used approximately"

8 It was only the pillar that was to be a sign and a witness as proved by the word it (v 20). The altar was to be used as all others, and the pillar was to be a witness in the same sense as all other pillars, to commemorate some event, not to contain the writing of the plan of God in stone for men to speculate about. What was the pillar to be a sign and a witness of? Literally, that Egypt was under the hand of a cruel lord and a fierce king (v 4), in confusion and calamity (v 6-17); then they cried unto the Lord because of their oppressors, and He sent them a Saviour, a Great One, who delivered them (v 20). That is the event for which the pillar will be set up in the Millennium at the border of Egypt, and nothing else. It will be a monument commemorating deliverance

9 When this is done, the altar is established in the middle of Egypt and the pillar at the border, then the Egyptians shall know the Lord, and shall sacrifice and offer oblation on the altar in her midst, yea, they shall vow a vow, and perform it (v 21-25). It should be remembered that the pillar was to be set up to the Lord and unto the Lord (v 19-20), and not unto men; and this was not the purpose of the building of the pyramid. It was built solely as a tomb of a king without any thought of Jehovah

a When-after the temple had been cleansed, the priests and the people had been sanctified and held the 14-day feast of the passover and unleavened bread, the rest of the reformation program was set in order. Leaving the joyous feast at Jerusalem, the people went out to the cities of Judah and broke the images in pieces, cut down the groves (the asherahs-totem pole gods), and utterly destroyed them all. Then the people returned to their own homes (v 1) b Note again the term all the children of Israel, as applied to Judah and the many from the 10 tribes that made up the southern kingdom of Israel. The Israelites who had been taken captive to Assyria were so ungodly as to be outside the dealings of God except by way of warning. In fact, the kingdom of Judah was the true kingdom of Israel all during the 260 years of the division into 2 kingdoms. They were the ones who later returned to make the one nation again; and they were the ones who were a nation in the days of Jesus Christ. Many of all the 13 tribes of Israel made up this Jewish nation and it always will be so (note a, Acts 13:16)

c The 24 courses of the priests and Levites in the temple sacrifices and music were commanded to be continued again by Hezekiah (v 2). For some time these services had been discontinued. Now they were reinstated only to be continued during the reign of good Hezekiah and discontinued again in the reign of his son (33:1-10) d Besides the appointment of the services of sacrifice and music, Hezekiah commanded the kings' portion of all sacrifices and offerings to be carried on daily, weekly, monthly, and yearly. There were daily sacrifices, evening and morning; special or extra sabbath sacrifices weekly; new moon sacrifices monthly; and yearly sacrifices at each of the set yearly feasts, as commanded by Moses (v 3)

f 8 things tithed (v 5-6)

1 Corn	5 Field crops
2 Wine	6 Oxen
3 Oil	7 Sheep
4 Honey	8 Holy things

g This again emphasizes the fact that many thousands of the 10 tribes lived in the kingdom of Judah; and they were Jews as much as others in the southern kingdom. The word Jews became the more commonly accepted term used of all the tribes from about this time on, especially after the captivity to Babylon (v 6; note a, Acts 13:16)

h The tithes were gathered for 5 months, and they had heaps upon heaps, enough for the ministers and much left over (v 7-10)

Tohu-waste (Isa. 45:19)

Heb. tohu, waste; desolation; confusion; vain; wilderness. The same word trans. vain in v 18 and without form (Gen. 1:2; Jer. 4:23). Just as God did not create the earth a waste place and empty, but beautiful (Eccl. 3:11) and to be inhabited (v 18), so He did not command Israel to seek him in a waste, trackless, and pathless wilderness where there would be no indications as to how He could be found. They were to seek Him in His Word where He is clearly revealed, not in secret and dark places of the earth (v 19; 8:19-20; 55:8-12). See note on tohu, col. 1, p. 54

God speaks (Isa. 45:19)

God declared that He always speaks in righteousness and utters only those things that are right, things which may be found in His Word, and that unrighteousness and things that are wrong are reserved to be spoken in secret and in the dark places of the earth (v 19). The idea is that God's revelation is for all men, not a privileged few who pass it people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to his holy dwelling place, even unto heaven.

398 CHAPTER 31

(9) Idolatry destroyed in all Israel

NOW [c]when all this was finished, all Iṣ'ra-el that were present went out to the cities of Jū'dah, and brake the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and threw down the high places and the altars out of all Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn, in Ĕ'phrā-ĭm also and Mā-nās'seh, until they had utterly destroyed them all. Then [a]all the children of Iṣ'ra-el returned, every man to his possession, into their own cities.

(10) The Davidic order of the ministry is restored (1 Chr. 23:2-26:28)

2 ¶ And Hĕz-e-kī'ah [c]appointed the courses of the priests and the Lĕ'vītes after their courses, every man according to his service, the priests and Lĕ'vītes for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to minister, and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the LORD.

(11) Daily sacrifices restored

3 [d]He appointed also the king's portion of his substance for the burnt offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt offerings, and the burnt offerings for the sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the set feasts, as it is written in the law of the LORD.

(12) Tithing for ministers restored (Lev. 27:26-34; Num. 18:24-28)

4 [c]Moreover he commanded the people that dwelt in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm to give the portion of the priests and the Lĕ'vītes, that they might be encouraged in the law of the LORD.

5 ¶ And as soon as the commandment came abroad, the children of Iṣ'ra-el brought in abundance the firstfruits [f]of corn, wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increase of the field; and the tithe of all things brought they in abundantly.

6 And concerning the children of Iṣ'ra-el and Jū'dah, [g]that dwelt in the cities of Jū'dah, they also brought in the tithe of oxen and sheep, and the tithe of holy things which were consecrated unto the LORD their God, and laid them by heaps.

7 [h]In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month.

8 And when Hĕz-e-kī'ah and the princes came and saw the heaps, they blessed the LORD, and his people Iṣ'ra-el.

9 Then Hĕz-e-kī'ah questioned with the priests and the Lĕ'vītes concerning the heaps.

10 And Ăz-a-rī'ah the chief priest of the house of Zā'dŏk answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the LORD, [e]we have had enough to eat, and have left plenty: for the LORD hath blessed his people; and that which is left is this great store.

(13) Storehouses and officers for the abundance of tithes

11 ¶ [b]Then Hĕz-e-kī'ah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the LORD; and they prepared them, 12 And brought in the offerings and the tithes and the dedicated things faithfully: over [c]which Cŏn-o-nī'ah the Lĕ'vīte was ruler, and Shĭm'e-ī his brother was the next.

13 And Jĕ-hī'el, and Ăz-a-zī'ah, and Nā'hăth, and Ā'sa-hĕl, and Jĕr'ī-mŏth, and Jōz'a-bād, and Ĕ-lī'el, and Is-ma-chī'ah, and Mā'hăth, and Bĕ-nā'iah, were overseers under the hand of Cŏn-o-nī'ah and Shĭm'e-ī his brother, at the commandment of Hĕz-e-kī'ah the king, and Ăz-a-rī'ah the ruler of the house of God.

14 And Kō'rĕ the son of Ĭm'nah the Lĕ'vīte, the porter toward the east, was over the freewill offerings of God, to distribute the oblations of the LORD, and the most holy things.

15 And next him were Ĕ'dĕn, and Mĭn'ī-a-mĭn, and Jĕsh'u-ā, and Shĕm-a-ī'ah, Ăm-a-rī'ah, and Shĕc-a-nī'ah, in the cities of the priests, in their set office, to give to their brethren by courses, as well to the great as to the small:

(14) Tithes paid to all ministers and families from 3 years old and older

16 Beside their [d]genealogy of males, from three years old and upward, even unto every one that entereth into the house of the LORD, his daily portion for their service in their charges according to their courses;

17 Both to the genealogy of the priests by the house of their fathers, and the Lĕ'vītes from twenty years old and upward, in their charges by their courses;

18 And to the genealogy of all their little ones, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, through all the congregation: for in their set office they sanctified themselves in holiness:

19 Also of the sons of Aâr'on the priests, which were in the fields of the suburbs of their cities, in every several city, the men that were expressed by name, to give portions to all the males among the priests, and to all that were reckoned by genealogies among the Lĕ'vītes.

20 ¶ [f]And thus did Hĕz-e-kī'ah throughout all Jū'dah, and wrought that which was good and right and truth before the a This will always be the case when all people bring in the tithes from all their increase (v 10)

b Then-after the tithes were brought in until there was no room for them, the king began to set aside many storehouses to contain and care for the tithes (v 11)

c 12 men were responsible for the proper distribution of the tithes. Of these, 2 were chief and over the others, and Azariah, ruler of the temple, was over them (v 12-13). Kore was over the free-will offerings with 6 men under him to see that these offerings and the most holy things were properly distributed (v 14-15)

d A list of all males of Levi from the age of 3 years old and upward was kept; and daily portions of the tithes, free will offerings, and most holy things were distributed according to the needs. Records were also made of those 20 years old and upwards including the wives and children (v 16-19)

e In these two verses (20-21) we have a summary of all the good, right, and truthful things done by Hezekiah, as taught in the law of Moses. He did these things with all his heart and prospered on in secret to other special ones in the dark places of earth (v 19; Dt. 29:29). He does not give His revelation secretly and privately as the heathen who give their oracles in secret, darkness, and sometimes in deep caves of the earth, emcompassed with mystery, mumbled in low sounds, and designed in obscurity to deceive

God's challenge (Isa. 45:22)

After challenging the Gentiles to produce proof of their gods being alive and capable of help, and after declaring that He, Himself was the only true God He invited all men to look to Him and be saved (v 22). This was sufficient to prove that salvation was to come to Gentiles as well as Jews, so there was no foundations for the attitude of Jews in any age, or of the apostles in particular to think that salvation was only for Jews (Acts 10:7-38; 11:1-18; Gal. 2)

4 great facts:
1 The gospel program is universal (v 22)
2 God is willing to save all, or He would not have invited all (v 22; Jn. 3:16; 1 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; 1 Jn. 1:9; Rev. 22:17)
3 Provision has been made for all (v 22; Jn. 3:18; Rom. 1:16)
4 All who accept the invitation will be saved (v 22; Jn. 1:12; 3:16; 1 Jn. 1:9)

Bel-god of Babylon (Isa. 46:1)

Bel was the chief domestic god of Babylon worshipped also by the Phenicians, Canaanites, Moabites, and surrounding nations. It was supposed to be the god or idol used in worship of the sun; and Astarte or Astareth the one used in the worship of the planet Venus. Nebo was used in worship of Mercury; he was the scribe of the heavens, supposedly, and recorded all earthly and heavenly events. He was the same as the Greek Hermes, the Latin Mercury, and the Egyptian Thoth. He was worshipped also by the Babylonians, as well as the Assyrians, and the Sabians in Arabia. The name was supposed to be derived from nabah, to prophesy; and Nebo's office was to interpret for the other gods. He was the scribe of Bel; his symbol was a wedge or arrowhead. The whole picture here is that of conquest. All the idols were to be thrown down and those made of valuable metals were to be taken captive as spoils of war (v 1-2. Cp. Jer. 48:7). It was a common thing to have compound names using the titles of the gods that were worshipped. Bel or Baal was used in such names as Bel-shazzar, Belteshazzar, Baal-Peor, Baal-zebub, Baal-Gad, Baal-Berith, etc. Nebo formed a part of Neb-uchadnezzar, Neb-uzardan, Nab-onad, Nab-onassar, etc.

LORD his God.

21 And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law, and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAPTER 32 399

3 Sennacherib, king of Assyria invades Judah (2 Ki. 18:13-19:37; Isa. 36-37).

(1) Hezekiah prepares to defend Jerusalem

AFTER these things, and the establishment thereof, Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă came, and entered into Jū'dah, and encamped against the fenced cities, and thought to win them for himself.

2 And when Hĕz-e-kī'ah saw that Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb was come, and that he was purposed to fight against Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm,

3 He [b]took counsel with his princes and his mighty men [c]to stop the waters of the fountains which were without the city: and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who stopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midst of the land, saying, [d]Why should the kings of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă come, and find much water?

5 Also he strengthened himself, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Mĭl'lō in the city of Dā'vĭd, and made darts and shields in abundance.

6 And he set captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the street of the gate of the city, and spake comfortably to them, saying,

(2) Hezekiah assures Judah of God's help

7 [g]Be strong and courageous, be not afraid nor dismayed for the king of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more [f]with us than with him:

8 With him is an arm of flesh; but with us is the LORD our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people [g]rested themselves upon the words of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah.

(3) Sennacherib seeks to terrify Judah (2 Ki. 18:17)

9 ¶ [h]After this did Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă send his servants to Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, (but he himself laid siege against Lă'chish, and all his power with him,) unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and unto all Jū'dah that were at Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, saying,

10 Thus saith Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă, [i]Whereon do ye trust, that ye abide in the siege in Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm?

11 Doth not Hĕz-e-kī'ah persuade you to give over yourselves to die by famine and by thirst, saying, The LORD our God shall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă?

12 Hath not [g]the same Hĕz-e-kī'ah taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burn incense upon it?

13 [b]Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of those lands any ways able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who was there among all the gods of those nations that my fathers utterly destroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hĕz-e-kī'ah deceive you, nor persuade you on this manner, neither yet believe him: for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much less shall your God deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his servants [g]spake yet more against the LORD God, and against his servant Hĕz-e-kī'ah.

(4) Sennacherib insults God (2 Ki. 18:22, 33-35)

17 He wrote also letters to rail on the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, and to speak against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hĕz-e-kī'ah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voice in the Jews' speech [d]unto the people of Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them; that they might take the city.

19 And they spake against the God of Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, as against the gods of the people of the earth, which were the work of the hands of man.

(5) Hezekiah and Isaiah's prayer to God (2 Ki. 19)

20 And for this cause Hĕz-e-kī'ah the king, [e]and the prophet Ĭ-să'iah the son of Ā'mŏz, prayed and cried to heaven.

(6) God's angel destroys the army of Assyria (2 Ki. 19:35; Isa. 37:36-38)

21 ¶ And the LORD sent an angel, which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Ăs-sŷr'ĭ-ă. So he returned [f]with shame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his own bowels slew him there with the sword.

4 Hezekiah's prosperity

a After these things—after the great revival and religious reformation under Hezekiah, the king of Assyria made war on Judah. He had already taken the 10 tribes into captivity, and now his heart was lifted up to take Judah also. In this he overstepped himself, for he had been commissioned to destroy the 10-tribe kingdom only. God defeated his purpose and delivered Hezekiah after testing his faith and permitting Judah to be tested (32:1-21; 2 Ki. 19:36; Isa. 37:36-38)

b 7fold preparation of Hezekiah for war:
1 Stopped the water places outside the city of Jerusalem (v 3)
2 Built the broken wall of Jerusalem (v 5)
3 Made another wall outside the wall and towers of Jerusalem
4 Repaired the fortress of Millo in the city of David
5 Made darts and shields in abundance
6 Set captains of war over the people
7 Installed faith in his people (v 6)

c Hezekiah stopped the fountain which is now known as Virgin's Fount (the upper Gihon) on the east of Ophel. Through the conduit he made (2 Ki. 20:20), the water from this fount was brought down to the lower Gihon (pool of Siloam). Now the upper Gihon was simply covered over and hidden from the enemy on the outside, making the water supply of Jerusalem safe by means of the 2 Gihons. Isaiah speaks of the waters of Shiloah that flow softly from their hidden fount beneath Ophel (Isa. 8:6). He also refers to these works of Hezekiah, in Isa. 22:8-11. In Ps. 46:4 this river that makes glad is contrasted with the raging waters of Assyria

d Question 38, Next, v 10

e 6fold statement of faith:
1 Be strong and courageous (v 7)
2 Be not afraid nor dismayed because of Assyria, and the multitude with him
3 There are more with us than with him
4 With him is an arm of flesh, but with us is Jehovah (v 8)
5 He will help us
6 He will fight our battles

f This kind of help was not only the greatest in power, but the greatest in numbers as stated here. There were more angels and spirit beings on Israel's side than men in the army of Assyria. See 2 Ki. 6:16; Heb. 12:22-23

g This is an example of true faith and trust in God and their king. They believed their king, and therefore, believed God who inspired him to say these things. Resting upon the words of another is true faith in that person. It literally means to put complete confidence in; reliance upon; and to cease from all worry (v 8)

h After this, which according to 2 Ki. 18:14-16 was after Hezekiah had already lost all the defenced cities of Judah outside of Jerusalem, confessed his offence against the king of Assyria, and given him $1,448,550.00 in gold and silver. The Assyrian king not being satisfied with this replied that he wanted to take all the people captive to a land as good as this one (2 Ki. 18:32). Thinking he had Judah to the point of absolute surrender, he sent servants to Jerusalem to announce the terms (v 9-19). See notes on 2 Ki. 18

Familiar spirits (Isa. 8:19):

And when they seek familiar spirits through wizards and witches, spirits which peep and mutter (and imitate departed loved ones thus claiming communication with the dead), should not a people seek the living God instead? God to the law and to the testimony (the written Word of God) if you want light. Their speaking not according to the written Word of God is because of no light in them (v 19-20). At this very time of Isaiah and king Ahaz, both houses of Israel were in the habit of seeking guidance from familiar spirits like the heathen instead of putting trust in God and seeking His will (2 Ki. 16:2-4; 17:3-23; 21:1-9; 2 Chr. 28:

a These pagans actually thought that Hezekiah had removed the God of Israel from Judah, having heard that he had destroyed all the idols of the land. This shows how ignorant they were of the truth and the true God. Hezekiah had restored worship to Him and destroyed only the false gods that Jehovah had commanded should not be in the land

b The Assyrian monuments give evidence of a custom which illustrates the haughty language here. It was their practice to bring the idols of the various nations to Assyria where they were assigned a place among the captive gods. This passage shows them boasting that their god was more powerful than all others, so it was vain to expect Jehovah to rescue the people, especially since He did not rescue their brethren in Samaria (v 10-16; 2 Ki. 17)

c This is no doubt one of the reasons Jehovah manifested His power over that of the Assyrians. He wanted to prove to them, as well as to men in all ages, that He was and still is the only true and living eternal God. Here His power was challenged and He was insulted by such talk, and so was His king over Judah; It was therefore time for Him to show Himself strong in behalf of those who trusted in Him (v 16). To do this Jehovah sent only one of the innumerable angels on Israel's side, and he slew 185,000 men in one night. As expressed in v 21, he cut off the mighty men of valour, the leaders, and captains of the army of Assyria (2 Ki. 19:35; Isa. 37:36-38). The question then was: If the gods of Assyria could not prevail over one angel, how could they prevail over Jehovah and the innumerable angels?

d The officers of Assyria were evidently speaking loud enough to be heard on the walls of Jerusalem, so that the people would become afraid and surrender (v 18), for an appeal to speak in the ears of the people on the wall (2 Ki. 18:26)

e Two great men-Hezekiah, the king, and Isaiah, the prophet, prayed and cried to the God of heaven for deliverance; and they were heard (v 20)

f It takes such destruction of plans and the bringing to nought of such boasting as in v 10-19 to humble some men. The king of Assyria went to the house of his god in shame, and was slain by his own sons (v 21)

1-4; 33:1-10). This was the last sin of Saul (1 Sam. 28:7-25; 1 Chr. 10:13-14). For centuries many nations and kings sought guidance from the oracle of Apollo at Delphi, Greece, and the priestesses there. The Vulgate renders this by Pythons and diviners. A Python among the Greeks and Romans denoted one that had the spirit of prophesying; it was particularly applied to the priestess at Delphi (note x, Acts 16:16). The Sept. renders it: ventriloquists, and those speaking from the earth... from the belly. Moffatt: mediums and ghosts that cheep and gibber in low murmurs. Peshitta: familiar spirits and of wise men who chirp and mutter. Berkeley: necromancers and fortune tellers. Fenton: raisers of spirits, whisperers and the entranced. Rotherham: necromancers, ...wizards. Young familiar spirits, ...wizards that chatter and mutter. See note b, Lk. 12:29

Chirp and chatter (Isa. 8:19):

Heb. tsaphaph, to coo; chirp as a bird chatter; peep; whisper. Trans. peep (v 19; 10:14); whisper (29:4); and chatter (29:4). It means to make a noise by the gentle opening of the mouth; and by such a method came chirps and whisperings which the ancients ascribed to the departed dead. It was believed that departed spirits did not speak out openly and clearly, but with an indistinct, low, gentle, suppressed voice. Bodily motions of the mediums gave the impression of calling the dead from under the earth a The Lord saved. Used 4 times:

1 Saved Hezekiah and Jerusalem (v 22)
2 Saved Israel (Ex. 14:30)
3 Saved Israel that day (1 Sam. 14:23)
4 Saved them with great deliverance (1 Chr. 11:14)
b Guided them. Used 4 times:
1 Guided them on every side (v 23)
2 Guided them in His strength (Ex. 15:13)
3 Guided them in the wilderness (Ps. 78:52) 78:72) 4 Guided them in His skilfulness (Ps.
c 3 men magnified by God:
1 Hezekiah (v 23)
2 Joshua (Josh. 4:14)
3 Solomon (1 Chr. 29:25; 2 Chr. 1:1)
3 examples of magnifying self:
1 Moab (Jer. 48:26, 42)
2 The enemy of Israel (Lam. 1:9)
3 Antichrist (Dan. 8:11)
6 things that should be magnified:
1 God's mercy (Gen. 19:19)
2 God's name (2 Sam. 7:26; 1 Chr. 17:24)
3 The Lord Himself (Ps. 35:27; 40:16)
4 God's Word (Ps. 138:2)
5 The name of the Lord Jesus (Acts 19:17)
6 Christ Himself (Phil. 1:20)

d The Bible says many good things about Hezekiah and records a few failures. See 25 "right" things done by Hezekiah, p. 477 3 failures of Hezekiah:
1 He rendered not proper praise to God for His many blessings (v 25-26)
2 His surrender to Sennacherib (2 Ki. 18:14-16)
3 His failure to detect spies (v 31; Isa. 39:1-8)
e 8fold prosperity of Hezekiah:
1 He had exceeding much riches (v 27)
2 Great honor
3 Treasuries for silver, gold, precious stones, spices, and jewels
4 Treasuries for weapons
5 Storehouses for crops (v 28)
6 Stalls for flocks and herds
7 Many cities (v 29)
8 Many flocks and herds

h In the Fenton translation this reads: "In the affair of the Scientific Inquirers, who were sent from Babel, to enquire about the remarkable event which has happened on earth, " The Berkeley version reads: "the sign which occurred in the land" (v 31). This sign and remarkable event refers to the going back of the shadow on the sun dial, which was so remarkable that even the Chaldean astronomers came to inquire about the God who could turn the sun backward. Furthermore, Greek historians informed Alexander the Great that it was one of the great wonders recorded in their scientific books. This shows that the happening was not merely the moving of a shadow, but the going backward of the sun. The matter was known in various lands; and the Chaldeans came to inquire about it when they learned that it was caused by Israel's God

j See note b, 29:2
k According to the Fenton version this verse reads: "But the rest of the doings of Hezekiah, and his piety, they can be seen written in the Visions of Isaiah-ben-Amoz, the Preacher, in the history of the kings of Judah and Israel." The Berkeley also leaves out the word and, which is in italics in the King James version and means supplied by the translators. It can be assumed from this that Isaiah could have written the history of Israel in its final form as we now have it in Judges, Ruth, 1 and 2 Samuel, and 1 and 2 Kings, except the last 4 or 5 chapters of 2 Kings which record things happening after his time. It is believed by some that Isaiah was killed during the reign of Manasseh, the son of Hezekiah. See note n, Pr. 25:1
l This refers to bodily sleep, not soul sleep, which is never mentioned in the Bible. The body only dies and goes back to dust at physical death; therefore, it is the only part of man that goes to sleep thus. The soul and spirit which are immortal, are fully conscious in heaven or hell

22 Thus [a]the LORD saved Hĕz-e-kī'ah and the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm from the hand of Sĕn-nā'chē-rĭb the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā, and from the hand of all other, and [b]guided them on every side.

23 And many brought gifts unto the LORD to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and presents to Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah: so that he [c]was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

5 Hezekiah's sickness and recovery (2 Ki. 20; Isa. 38)

24 ¶ In those days Hĕz-e-kī'ah was sick to the death, and prayed unto the LORD: and he spake unto him, and he gave him a sign.

25 But Hĕz-e-kī'ah [d]rendered not again according to the benefit done unto him; for his heart was lifted up: therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Jū'dah and Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

26 Notwithstanding Hĕz-e-kī'ah humbled himself for the pride of his heart, both he and the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, so that the wrath of the LORD came not upon them in the days of Hĕz-e-kī'ah.

6 Hezekiah's public works and prosperity

27 ¶ [e]And Hĕz-e-kī'ah had exceeding much riches and honour: and he made himself treasuries for silver, and for gold, and for precious stones, and for spices, and for shields, and for all manner of pleasant jewels;

28 Storehouses also for the increase of corn, and wine, and oil; and stalls for all manner of beasts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover he provided him cities, and possessions of flocks and herds in abundance: for God had given him substance very much.

30 This same Hĕz-e-kī'ah also stopped [f]the upper watercourse of Gī'hon, and brought it straight down to the west side of the city of Dā'vid. And Hĕz-e-kī'ah prospered in all his works.

7 Hezekiah's folly (Isa. 39; 2 Ki. 20:12-19)

31 ¶ Howbeit in the business of [g]the [h]ambassadors of the princes of Bă'bў-lon, who sent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him, to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

8 Death of Hezekiah (2 Ki. 20:20-21)

32 ¶ Now the [i]rest of the acts of Hĕz-e-kī'ah, and [j]his goodness, behold, they are written in [k]the vision of Ī-sa'iah the prophet, the son of Ā'mōz, and in the book of the kings of Jū'dah and Ĭs'ra-el.

33 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah [l]slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the [a]chiefest of the sepulchres of the sons of Dā'vid: and all Jū'dah and the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm did him honour at his death. And Mā-nās'seh his son reigned in his stead.

400 CHAPTER 33

XV Reign of Manasseh: 55 years (2 Ki. 21:1-18). 1 Accession and character

MĀ-NĀS'SEH was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned [b]fifty and five years in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm:

2 But [c]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, like unto the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

2 Sixteen sins of Manasseh (2 Ki. 21:1-9)

3 ¶ For [d]he built again the high places which Hĕz-e-kī'ah his father had broken down, and he reared up altars for Bā'al-ĭm, and made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them.

*4 [e]And he built altars in the house of the LORD, whereof the LORD had said, In Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm shall my name be for ever.

5 And he built altars for all the [f]host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD.

6 And he caused his children to [g]pass through the fire in the valley of the son of Hĭn'nom: also he [h]observed times, and used enchantments, and used witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar spirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

*7 [i]And he set a carved image, the idol which he had made, in the house of God, of which God had said to Dā'vid and to Sŏl'o-mon his son, In this house, and in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, which I have chosen before all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, will I put my name for ever:

8 Neither will I any more remove the foot of Ĭs'ra-el from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers: so that they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the statutes and the ordinances by the hand of Mō'sēs.

9 So Mā-nās'seh made Jū'dah and the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm to err, and to do worse than the heathen, whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

10 And the LORD spake to Mā-nās'seh, and to his people: but they would not hearken.

3 Captivity of Manasseh to Babylon

11 [j]Wherefore the LORD brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā, which took Mā-nās'seh among the thorns, and bound him with fetters, and carried a Not said of any men before or after this-that he was buried in the chiefest place of the tombs of the sons or descendants of David (v 33)

b Manasseh, one of the most wicked of all the 42 kings of Israel, reigned longer than any other-55 years. This was 14 years longer than the reign of any other except Uzziah, and 3 years longer than his. It can be explained only by the mercy of God, Manasseh did repent and serve God faithfully after his captivity to Babylon. How many years he was wicked is not known. There is this difference between him and Saul, Solomon, Uzziah and others-he began his reign as a wicked king but ended it as a good one; They began as good kings and ended their rule as bad ones (v 3-20) c See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6
d 18 sins of Manasseh:
1 He lived in all the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out of the land before Israel (v 2)
2 Built again the high places which Hezekiah, his father had broken down (v 3)
3 Reared up altars for Baal
4 Made groves (asherahs, totem pole gods). See Asherah, p. 106
5 Worshipped and served all the host of heaven
6 Built altars in the temple where God said His name should be forever (v 4)
7 Built altars for all the host of heaven in the 2 courts of the temple (v 5)
8 Caused his children to pass through the fire (offered them as burnt sacrifices) to Moloch in the valley of the son of Hinnom (v 6)
9 Observed times
10 Used enchantments
11 Used witchcraft
12 Dealt with familiar spirits
13 Dealt with wizards
14 Lived wickedly to provoke God to anger
15 Set up a carved image which he had made, in the temple (v 7)
16 Made Judah and Jerusalem to err (v 9)
17 Made them do worse than the heathen whom the Lord had destroyed for such sins
18 Would not listen to God (v 10) e 17th prophecy in 2 Chr. (33:4, unfulfilled). Next, v 7. The one prediction was that the Lord would have His name in Jerusalem forever f This refers to the sun, moon, stars, and planets of the heavens (v 5) g See Moloch in Index
h For observing times, enchantments, witchcraft, and other forbidden practices, see note b, Lk. 12:29
i 18th prophecy in 2 Chr. (33:7-8, unfulfilled). Next, 34:24
2 predictions-unfulfilled:
1 In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen before all the tribes of Israel, I will put My name forever (33:7)
2 Neither will I remove the foot of Israel anymore from the land which I have appointed for your fathers (33:8)
j Because of the sins of Manasseh the Lord brought the captains of the host of Assyria who took Manasseh to Babylon bound in fetters; that is, He permitted and even put it into their hearts to come (v 11)

4fold source of knowledge (Job 12:7)
1 The beasts of the field (v 7)
2 The fowls of the air
3 The earth (v 8)
4 The fish of the sea
Job told Zophar that he did not need exalted ideas of God; he suggested that if he would look to the beasts, the earth, the fowls, the fish, and other forms of life he would see that everywhere the strong, violent, and savage prey on the weak, gentle, and helpless; he would understand that God does not interfere and spare these creatures in trouble. By this Job reasoned that the accusations about him being wicked because of suffering were not necessarily true a Many people have to experience great affliction and calamity before they will seek the Lord and turn to Him with a whole heart. How much suffering they could save themselves if they would do such seeking first!

b 4 things Manasseh did to find God:
1 Besought God to deliver him from his affliction (v 12)
2 Humbled himself greatly before God
3 Prayed until God heard him (v 13)
4 Made supplication to Jehovah to bring him again to Jerusalem and his kingdom

c Then—when God had delivered him from affliction and captivity, and had brought him to his country and kingdom, he knew that Jehovah was God (v 13)

d Now after this—after his captivity and restoration to his kingdom, he made certain preparations for the defence of his kingdom (v 14)

e 10 good deeds after conversion:
1 Manasseh built a high wall outside the city of David on the west side of Gihon and in the valley to the entering in of the fish gate, and compassed about Ophel (v 14)
2 He put captains of war in all the fortified cities
3 Took away the strange gods (v 15)
4 Took the idol he had made from the temple
5 Took away all the altars he had built in the mount of the temple, and in Jerusalem
6 Cast them out of the city
7 Repaired the altar of the Lord (v 16)
8 Sacrificed on the altar of the Lord in the temple
9 Commanded Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel
10 Permitted his people to use high places for making sacrifice to Jehovah only (v 17)

f See 2 Ki. 21:1-18

g See 2 Ki. 21:10-15

h Since his prayer and some other details are not mentioned in 1 and 2 Kings of our Bible it is evident that there was another record concerning the kings which we do not have now (v 12-13) 18-19)

i See Asherah, p. 106

j There must have been many records in the days of the writing of these histories which we do not have today, and which may yet be discovered

k See note h, 9:31

l This was the 4th shortest reign of any of the kings of Judah. 4 kings of the 10 tribes also reigned only 2 years (v 21)

9 "If's" of Job (Job 9:19):

1 If I have called (9:16)
2 If I speak of strength (9:19)
3 If I speak of judgment
4 If I justify myself (9:20)
5 If I say, I am perfect
6 If I say, I will forget my complaint (9:27)
7 If I be wicked (9:29)
8 If I wash myself (9:30)
9 If I sin (10:14)

12fold complaint and accusation of God (Job 9:25):

1 My days are swifter than a runner (v 25)
2 They flee away
3 They see no good
4 They pass away as swift ships (v 26)
5 They pass as the eagle hasteth to the prey
6 If I say that I will forget complaint You will not hold me innocent (v 27)
7 If I leave off my heaviness;
8 And comfort myself;
9 And say I am afraid of my sorrows, I know that You will not hold me innocent (v 28)
10 If I be wicked, why then do I labor in vain? (v 29)
11 If I wash myself in snow water, and make my hands ever so clean, yet You will plunge me into the ditch (v 31)
12 My own clothes shall abhor me him to Băb'ў-lon.

4 Manasseh turns to God and is restored to his kingdom

12 And [c]when he was in affliction, [b]he besought the LORD his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed unto him: and he was intreated of him, and heard his supplication, and brought him again to Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm into his kingdom. [c]Then Mă-năs'seh knew that the LORD he was God.

5 Manasseh's defense preparations

14 [d]Now after this [e]he built a wall without the city of Dā'vid, on the west side of Gī'hon, in the valley, even to the entering in at the fish gate, and compassed about Ō'phel, and raised it up a very great height, and put captains of war in all the fenced cities of Jū'dah.

6 Religious revival under Manasseh

15 And he took away the strange gods, and the idol out of the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the LORD, and in Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, and cast them out of the city.

16 And he repaired the altar of the LORD, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings and thank offerings, and commanded Jū'dah to serve the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el.

17 Nevertheless the people did sacrifice still in the high places, yet unto the LORD their God only.

18 ¶ Now the [f]rest of the acts of Mă-năs'seh, and his prayer unto his God, and the [g]words of the seers that spake to him in the name of the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Ĭs'ra-el.

19 His [h]prayer also, and how God was intreated of him, and all his sins, and his trespass, and the places wherein he built high places, and set up [i]groves and graven images, before he was humbled: behold, they are written among the [j]sayings of the seers.

7 Death of Manasseh (2 Ki. 21:16-18)

20 ¶ So Mă-năs'seh [k]slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house: and A'mon his son reigned in his stead.

XVI Reign of Amon: 2 years (2 Ki. 21:19-26). 1 Accession and character

21 ¶ A'mon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned [l]two years in Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm.

22 But he [m]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, as did Mă-năs'seh his father: for A'mon [a]sacrificed unto all the carved images which Mă-năs'seh his father had made, and served them;

23 And [b]humbled not himself before the LORD, as Mă-năs'seh his father had humbled himself; but A'mon trespassed more and more.

2 Death of Amon (2 Ki. 21:23-26)

24 And his servants conspired against him, and [c]slew him in his own house.

25 ¶ But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king A'mon; and the people of the land made Jō-sī'ah his son king in his stead.

401 CHAPTER 34

XVII Reign of Josiah: 31 years (2 Ki. 22:1-23:30). 1 Accession and character

JŌ-SĪ'AH was [d]eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm one and thirty years.

2 And he [e]did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and [f]walked in the ways of Dā'vid his father, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

2 Religious revival under Josiah. (1) Idolatry destroyed

3 ¶ For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he [g]began to seek after the God of Dā'vid his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm from the high places, and the [i]groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 And they brake down the altars of Bā'al-ĭm in his presence; and the images, that were on high above them, he cut down; and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images, he brake in pieces, and made dust of them, and [j]strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 And he [k]burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and cleansed Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm.

6 And so did he in the cities of [l]Mă-năs'seh, and Ē'phrā-ĭm, and Sĭm'e-on, even unto Năph'ta-lī, with their mattocks round about.

7 And when he had broken down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the graven images into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Ĭs'ra-el, he returned to Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm.

(2) Josiah repairs the temple (2 Ki. 22:3-7)

8 ¶ Now in the [m]eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land, and the house, he sent Shā'phan the son of Ăz-a-lī'ah, and Mā-a-sē'iah the a According to v 15 his father, Manasseh took them away after his conversion, but according to this he did not destroy the images or they would not be here for Amon to commit sin with (v 22)

b 4 sins of Amon:
1 Sacrificed to all the images that Manasseh had made (v 22)
2 Served these gods
3 Refused to humble himself as Manasseh had done (v 23)
4 Trespassed more and more

c One of 14 rulers of Israel to be assassinated (see p. 379)

d Josiah was the youngest to start reigning, of Israel's 42 kings. His reign was the 16th of the kings of Judah since the division of the kingdom and lasted longer than that of any of the rulers of the 10 tribes except one, Jeroboam II (v 1)

e See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6

f Josiah was the 8th and last good king of Judah besides David (note a, 1 Ki.

g 28 "right" things Josiah did:
1 Walked in the ways of David (34:2)
2 Turned not to the right or left in following good
3 Sought God in his youth (34:3)
4 Began as a youth to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places and groves, the carved images and molten images
5 Broke down the altars of Baal (v 34:4)
6 Cut down the images that were high above the altars of Baal
7 Cut down the groves (see Asherah, p. 106)
8 Cut down the carved images
9 Broke the molten images
10 Made dust of all the images and scattered it on the graves of them that had sacrificed to these gods
11 Burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars (34:5)
12 Cleansed Judah and Jerusalem
13 Cleansed all the cities of the 10 tribes that were left after the destruction of Samaria (34:6)
14 Repaired the house of God (34:8-17)
15 Rent his clothes when he heard the reading of the newly found law of Moses (34:19)
16 Commanded that inquiry be made of Jehovah concerning the book of the law of Moses (34:21)
17 Recognized the cause of the wrath of God upon Israel by hearing the law read
18 Humbled himself before God (34:27)
19 Wept before Jehovah when he heard the truth of the law of Moses 20 Gathered the elders of Israel to Jerusalem and read the law to all the people (34:30)
21 Made a covenant before the Lord to walk after Him, to keep His commandments, testimonies, and statutes with all his heart and soul, and to perform all the words of the law of Moses (34:31)
22 Caused all the people to agree to this covenant with God (34:32)
23 Took away all the abominations out of all countries that pertained to Israel (34:33)
24 Made all Israel to serve the Lord God
25 Kept the passover at the proper time and in the correct way (35:1-19)
26 Set priests in their charges (35:2)
27 Encouraged them to serve Jehovah in their courses (35:3-16)
28 Gave thousands of animals to the people for sacrifices (35:7)

b Perhaps Zephaniah and Jeremiah were greatly used to influence Josiah, for both prophesied during his reign (Jer. 1:2; Zeph. 1:1)

i See Asherah, p. 106

j Note the thorough work—broke down, cut down, broke in pieces, made dust of them, strowed them on graves, and burnt (v 4-5, 7)

k Burnt the bones of priests, fulfilling 1 Ki. 13:2

l All the 10-tribe territory was now under Judah, the 10 tribes had been taken into captivity (v 6; 2 Ki. 17)

m This was 5 or 6 years after Jeremiah began to prophesy (Jer. 2:2). The prophet was therefore present at the time of these reformations and the great passover feast of these chapters a The 24th high priest of Israel (see 86 high priests, p. 236)

b Again we see that Judah was representative of all the tribes of Israel. Just as there was a remnant from Manasseh and Ephraim there were some left of every other tribe after the fall of Samaria and the captivity of the 10 tribes. In fact, the term Ephraim is used many times of the 10 tribes (v 9) c This was the second time the temple was repaired-once under Joash (34:8-10; 2 Ki. 12:5-12) and once under Josh (24:4-12; 2 Ki. 22:1-6) d The term artificers and builders is one covering all manner of craftsmen or trades (v 11)
e Suggesting that there were business firms then as now-dealers in rock, lumber, and other building materials (v 11)
f It seems from this that the Levites played instruments and sang while the work on the temple was being done (v 12). They had the general overslight of all the work, and were the scribes, officers, porters, gatekeepers, and treasurers of the temple (v 13-14)
g What a find! This was no doubt the original copy of the Pentateuch-the one actually written by Moses (v 14. Cp. 2 Ki. 22:8). It could have been hidden during the reign of Manasseh or Amon or even some other wicked king before them. When the book was taken to the king and read before him he rent his clothes as a sign of utter despair (v 15-21). It must not be supposed that there was no other copy of the law of Moses up to this time, for many copies are frequently referred to in the historical books of Israel before this; but it is important, in view of present day criticism, to note that this copy found among the many records in the temple, was the one written by Moses. The Heb. should have been trans. literally here thus: The actual engraving of the law of the Ever-living in the hand of Moses. See also 35:6

20 proofs sickness Satan's work (Job 2:7):

1 Satan smote Job with sore boils (Job 2:7)
2 God turned the captivity of Job (Job 42:10)
3 Dumb man possessed with a devil (Mt. 9:32-33)
4 One possessed with a blind devil (Mt. 12:22)

6 Grievously vexed of a devil (Mt. 15:22)
7 Jesus rebuked the devil (Mt. 17:18)
8 Had a spirit of an unclean devil (Lk. 4:33)
9 The devil had thrown him in the midst (Lk. 4:35)

11 Casting out a devil, and it was dumb (Lk. 11:14)
12 Satan has bound (Lk. 13:16)
13 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly (Jn. 10:10)
14 God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil: for God was with Him (Acts 10:38)
15 To turn them from the power of Satan unto God (Acts 26:18)
16 To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh (1 Cor. 5:5)
17 They cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them (Mk. 6:7-13)
18 Heal the sick that are therein...even the devils are subject unto us through Thy name (Lk. 10:9, 17)
19 Through death He might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil (Heb. 2:14)
20 The Son of God was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil (1 Jn. 3:8). The works of the devil come about by devils causing many physical infirmities and sicknesses, as proved on p. 632 governor of the city, and Jō'ah the son of Jō'a-hāz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God.

9 And when they came [a]to Hil-ki'ah the high priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Lē'vītes that kept the doors had gathered of the hand of [b]Mā-nās'seh and E'phrā-im, and of all the remnant of Is'ra-el, and of all Jū'dah and Ben'ja-min; and they returned to Je-ru'sā-lēm.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen that had the oversight of the house of the LORD, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the LORD, to [c]repair and amend the house:

11 Even to the [d]artificers and builders gave they it, [e]to buy hewn stone, and timber for couplings, and to floor the houses which the kings of Jū'dah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the work faithfully: and the overseers of them were Jā'hāth and Ō-ba-di'ah, the Lē'vites, of the sons of Mē-rā'rī; and Zēch-a-rī'ah and Mē-shūl'lam, of the sons of the Kō'hath-ītes, [f]to set it forward; and other of the Lē'vites, all that could skill of instruments of musick.

13 Also they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overseers of all that wrought the work in any manner of service: and of the Lē'vītes there were scribes, and officers, and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, Hil-ki'ah the priest [g]found a book of the law of the LORD given by Mō'ṣeṣ.

(3) The law discovered (2 Ki. 22:8-10)

15 And Hil-ki'ah answered and said to Shā'phan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hil-ki'ah delivered the book to Shā'phan.

16 And Shā'phan carried the book to the king, and brought the king word back again, saying, All that was committed to thy servants, they do it.

17 And they have gathered together the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and to the hand of the workmen.

(4) Sin discovered by the law (2 Ki. 34:11-14)

18 Then Shā'phan the scribe told the king, saying, Hil-ki'ah the priest hath given me a book. And Shā'phan read it before the king.

19 And it came to pass, when the king had heard the words of the law, that he rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hil-ki'ah, and Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan, and Ab'dŏn the son of Mī'ceh, and Shā'phan the scribe, and Ā-sa-ī'ah a servant of the king's, saying, ●21 [c]Go, enquire of the LORD for me, and for them that are left in Is'ra-el and in Jū'dah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out upon us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do after all that is written in this book.

(5) Prophecy of judgment by Huldah the prophetess (2 Ki. 22:15-20)

22 And Hil-ki'ah, and they that the king had appointed, went to [h]Hŭl'dah the prophetess, the wife of Shăl'lum the son of Tik'vāth, the son of Hās'rah, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Je-ru'sā-lēm [i]in the college:) and they spake to her to that effect.

§23 ¶ And [j]she answered them, Thus saith the LORD God of Is'ra-el, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

●24 [k]Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even [l]all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Jū'dah:

25 [m]Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be poured out upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Jū'dah, who sent you to enquire of the LORD, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of Is'ra-el concerning the words which thou hast heard;

27 Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou heardest [n]his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and didst rend thy clothes, [o]and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the LORD.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy [p]grave in peace, neither shall thine eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. So they brought the king word again.

(6) The law read to the people (2 Ki. 23:1-2)

29 ¶ [q]Then the king [r]sent and gathered together all the elders of Jū'dah and Je-ru'sā-lēm.

30 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Jū'dah, and the inhabitants of Je-ru'sā-lēm, and the priests, and the Lē'vites, and all the people, great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the house of the LORD.

(7) Josiah makes a covenant with God and the people (2 a The king commanded his servants to inquire of the Lord concerning all the curses pronounced in the law of Moses. He recognized that Israel had been breaking the law and that God had already sent wrath upon them for their sins (v 21). The record about curses in Lev. 26 and Dt. 27-28 was sufficiently clear to convict of sin

b The messengers of the king went to Huldah, the prophetess who dwelt in Jerusalem, to inquire of God about the wrath that had come upon Israel (v 22). It seems that more and more the prophets and prophetesses were being depended upon for the message of God instead of the high priest c The Heb. trans. college here is mishneh, a repetition; duplicate; double; second; twice as much. Some translate it: the second quarter of Jerusalem, the second ward of Jerusalem, the second part or second rank of buildings joining the palace (v 22) d Huldah was as efficient as any of the men seen, and gave a message as quickly (v 23)

e 19th and last prophecy in 2 Chr. (34:24-28, fulfilled)

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will bring evil upon this place, and the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the book they have read to the king of Judah (34:24)
2 My wrath shall be poured upon this place, and shall not be quenched (34:25)
3 To the king of Judah: Because your heart was tender, and you did humble yourself before God when you heard His words against this place and the inhabitants thereof, and you did rend your clothes and weep before Me, I have heard you; I will gather you to your fathers and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace (34:26-28)
4 Your eyes shall not see all the evil that I will bring upon this place and the inhabitants (34:28)

f See Lev. 26; Dt. 27-28
g 2 great causes of destruction (v 25):
1 They have forsaken Me
2 They have burned incense to other gods, to provoke Me to anger h Here God acknowledged that the words of the book of the law of Moses were His words. Cp. 2 Tim. 3:16-17

i 5 things that always bring peace:
1 A tender heart to comply with God
2 Self-humbling before Him (v 27)
3 Hearing God's Word
4 Being in earnest about conforming to God and His Word, as suggested by the rending of clothes
5 Weeping before Him in sincerity

j Heb. geber, the tomb; grave; sepulchre; burying place for the body. Not sheol, the place for the souls of both the righteous and the wicked (before the resurrection of Christ), described in the N.T. as having a great gulf between 2 compartments (Lk. 16:17-31). Thy grave, not thy hell. See Hell, p. 620

k Then-after reading the words of the law of Moses, and after seeking God for an answer and receiving the reply, the king sent for all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem to have them do something about the threatened wrath of God (v 29-30)

l 6 steps in turning away wrath:
1 He gathered all the elders and people to the temple to hear the Word of God (34:29-30)
2 Made a covenant with God (34:31)
3 Caused Judah to agree to keep the same covenant (34:32)
4 Took away all abominations out of Israel-things that God hated (34:33)
5 Made Israel serve God
6 Kept the passover and feast of unleavened bread-put the law into practice (35:1-19)

a There was always a certain place reserved for kings in the temple-by one of the great pillars (v 31; 2 Ki. 11:13; 23:3)

b Josiah made a covenant with God to keep the law, and also made Israel to conform to it; this they did all the days of his life (v 31-33)

c 7fold covenant made with Jehovah (v 31): 1 To walk after the Lord
2 Keep His commandments
3 Keep His testimonies
4 Keep His statutes
5 To do this with all the heart
6 To do it with all the soul
7 To perform the words of the covenant as written in the law

d Josiah and his people kept the passover and feast of unleavened bread in a fashion never kept in Israel since the days of Samuel (v 1, 18)

e He not only kept the passover and the feast of unleavened bread much more completely than any other king since Samuel, but he also made many reforms and set up the whole program of 24 courses for the priests, Levites, and other services of the temple (v 2-6)

f The people were taught the Word of God (v 3). This will always be the first fundemental of any revival or religious reform in any generation

g Set yourselves apart, not cleanse yourselves from sin (v 6). See Sanctification in Index

Stubbornness of Israel (Isa. 48:4)

Iron necks and brass brows are good pictures of stubbornness and rebellion. This is a new expression concerning Jews whose traits are stated in Scripture many times

15 traits of Jews in Scripture:
1 Iron necks and brass brows (v 4)
2 Obstinate (v 4; Dt. 2:30)
3 Stiffnecked (Ex. 32:9; 33:3-5; 34:9; Dt. 9:6, 13; 10:16; 2 Chr. 30:8; Acts 7:51)
4 Stiffhearted (Ezek. 2:4) 78:8)
5 Stubborn (Dt. 9:27; Judg. 2:19; Ps.
6 Rebellious (30:9; 65:2; Jer. 5:23; Ezek. 2:3-8; 3:9, 26-27; 12:2-9; 25; 17:12)
7 Perverse and crooked (Dt. 32:5; Phil. 2:15)
8 Faithless (Mt. 17:17; Lk. 9:41)
9 Corrupt (Ps. 14:1; 73:8)
10 Foolish and unwise (Dt. 32:6, 21)
11 Hardhearted (Ezek. 3:7)
12 Blind (Mt. 15:12: 23:16-19, 24-26)
13 Selfwilled (Gen. 49:6; 2 Pet.2:10)
14 Haughty (3:16; Ezek. 16:50)
15 Adamant (Ezek. 3:9; Zech. 7:12)

10 commands to Judah (Isa. 48:12):
1 Hear this, O house of Jacob (v 1)
2 Hearken unto Me (v 12)
3 All you, assemble yourselves and hear (v 14)
4 Come you near unto Me (v 16)
5 Hear you this
6 Go forth of Babylon (v 20)
7 Flee from the Chaldeans
8 Declare with the voice of singing
9 Tell this-utter it even to the end of the earth
10 Say you, the Lord has redeemed His servant Jacob

5 lost blessings of Israel (Isa. 48:18):
1 If you had hearkened to My commandments, then your peace would have been as a river (v 18)
2 Then your righteousness would have been as the waves of the sea
3 Then your seed would have been as the sand of the sea (v 19)
4 Then the offspring of your bowels would have been like gravel in the sea
5 Then your name would not have been cut off or destroyed as a kingdom before Me

Ki. 23:3)

31 And the king stood in[a]his place, and[b]made a covenant before the LORD,[c]to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant which are written in this book.

32 And he caused all that were present in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm and Bĕn'ja-min to stand to it. And the inhabitants of Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

(8) Josiah's further reformations (2 Ki. 23:4-20)

33 And Jō-sī'ah took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and made all that were present in Iṣ'ra-el to serve, even to serve the LORD their God. And all his days they departed not from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

402 CHAPTER 35

(9) The Passover is kept (2 Ki. 23:21-27)

MOREOVER Jō-sī'ah[d]kept a passover unto the LORD in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm: and they killed the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he [e]set the priests in their charges, and encouraged them to the service of the house of the LORD,

3 And said unto the Lē'vītes that [f]taught all Iṣ'ra-el, which were holy unto the LORD, Put the holy ark in the house which Sŏl'o-mon the son of Dā'vid king of Iṣ'ra-el did build; it shall not be a burden upon your shoulders: serve now the LORD your God, and his people Iṣ'ra-el,

4 And prepare yourselves by the houses of your fathers, after your courses, according to the writing of Dā'vid king of Iṣ'ra-el, and according to the writing of Sŏl'o-mon his son.

5 And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the families of the fathers of your brethren the people, and after the division of the families of the Lē'vītes.

6 So kill the passover, [g]and sanctify yourselves, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Mō'şeş.

7 And Jō-sī'ah [h]gave to the people, of the flock, lambs and kids, all for the passover offerings, for all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the king's substance.

8 And his princes [i]gave willingly unto the people, to the priests, and to the Lē'vītes: Hĭl-kī'ah and Zĕch-a-rī'ah and Jĕ-hī'el, rulers of the house of God, gave unto the priests for the passover offerings two thousand and six hundred [a]small cattle, and three hundred oxen.

9 Cŏn-a-nī'ah also, and Shĕm-a-ī'ah and Nĕ-thăn'e-el, his brethren, and Hăsh-a-bī'ah and Jĕ-ī'el and Jŏz'a-băd, chief of the Lē'vītes, gave unto the Lē'vītes for passover offerings five thousand small cattle, and five hundred oxen.

10 So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their place, and the Lē'vītes[b]in their courses, according to the king's commandment.

11 And they [c]killed the passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their hands, and the Lē'vītes[d]flayed them.

12 And they removed the burnt offerings, that they might give according to the divisions of the families of the people, to offer unto the LORD, as it is written in the book of Mō'şeş. And so did they with the oxen.

13 And they roasted the passover with fire according to the ordinance: but the other holy offerings[e]sod they in pots, and in caldrons, and in pans, and divided them speedily among all the people.

14 And [f]afterward they made ready for themselves, and for the priests: because the priests the sons of Aâr'on were busied in offering of burnt offerings and the fat until night; therefore the Lē'vītes prepared for themselves, and for the priests the sons of Aâr'on.

15 And the singers the sons of A'saph were in their place, according to the commandment of Dā'vid, and A'saph, and Hĕ'man, and Jĕd'u-thŭn the king's seer; and the[g]porters waited at every gate; they might not depart from their service; for their brethren the Lē'vītes prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the LORD was prepared the same day, to keep the passover, and to offer burnt offerings upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of king Jō-sī'ah.

(10) Josiah keeps the feast of Unleavened Bread

17 And [h]the children of Iṣ'ra-el that were present kept the passover at that time, and the [i]feast of unleavened bread seven days.

18 And there was[j]no passover like to that kept in Iṣ'ra-el from the days of Sām'u-el the prophet; neither did all the kings of Iṣ'ra-el keep such a passover as Jō-sī'ah kept, and the priests, and the Lē'vītes, and all Jū'dah and Iṣ'ra-el that were present, and the inhabitants of Jĕ-rụ'sa-lĕm.

19 In the [k]eighteenth year of the reign of Jō-sī'ah was this passover kept.

3 Josiah wars against Necho, king of Egypt, and is slain (2 Ki. 23:28-30)

20 ¶[l]After all this, when Jō-sī'ah had prepared the temple, a Here and in v 9 the term small cattle is in italics, meaning it was supplied by the translators. It refers to the lambs for the passover; the oxen were for the feast of unleavened bread

b The 24 courses, as ordained by David (1 Chr. 24-25) c Only lambs were permissible to use in the passover (v 11; Ex. 12)

d Flayed-skinned

e Sod-boiled

f Afterward, Contrast with Ezek. 34 where God condemned the priests and leaders for feeding themselves before the people

g Porters-gatekeepers

h The people of the 13 tribes that were in Judah are called the children of Israel here, showing that the term is applied as much to the kingdom of Judah as it was for a time to the 10-tribe kingdom (v 17)

i This was also said of Hezekiah's observance of the passover. The statement was true in both cases, for Hezekiah kept a passover such as had never been kept up to his day (30:26); and here Josiah kept one that was greater than Hezekiah's (v 18)

j This was 5 or 6 years after Jeremiah began his ministry (v 19; Jer. 1:2) k After all this-after all his religious reforms, Josiah made his great mistake of warring with Egypt unnecessarily; and for this he died (v 20-24)

Return of Israel (49:17)

The prediction here is that of the children of Zion making haste to come back to their homeland and the enemies, who spoiled them, leaving their land (v 17-18). Zion was to be clothed, as it were, with these returning exiles and bind them upon her, as a bride does an ornament. After this return of Israel to their own country again the land would be too small for them (v 19-20) and the wonder of Israel would be where so many come from (v 21). God will put it into the hearts of the Gentiles to help regather Israel (v 22), and then they will worship Jehovah who will reign in Israel (v 23)

10 things that belong to God (Isa. 51:4):
1 My people (v 4; 52:4-6)
2 My nation (v 4)
3 My judgment
4 My righteousness (v 5, 6, 8)
5 My salvation
6 My arms (v 5, 9)
7 My words (v 16)
8 My hand
9 My fury (v 22)
10 My name (52:5-6)

3 great comparisons (Isa. 51:6):
1 The heavens shall vanish away like smoke
2 The earth shall wax old like a garment
3 Men on earth shall die in like manner: but My salvation shall be forever, and My righteousness shall not be abolished. The whole creation, in comparison with the eternity and incorruptibility of the salvation and righteousness of God, will wax old, vanish, and die. The idea is the same as that expressed by Jesus Christ when He said heaven and earth shall pass away (be changed), but "My words shall not pass away." See Pass away, p. 34 of N. T. The atmospheric heavens of the clouds will vanish away like smake, as clouds come and go; the earth will wax old like a garment; and men will pass from this life to another one, but there will never be the slightest change in salvation and righteousness. Salvation will always be the same and accomplish the same in all ages in all men; and right-doing will always be right (v 6; Heb. 1:10-12, notes). It would be easier for material creations to change than for right to become wrong, and salvation not to bring deliverance a Called Pharaoh-necho. Founder of the 25th dynasty during the reign of Manasseh, king of Judah. He came up against Carchemish, the fortress of Chemosh, on the river Euphrates, and Josiah went out to meet him, in war. Necho sent ambassadors urging him not to meddle in the matter as he had no quarrel with the house of Judah. Josiah was stubborn and would not listen, so the 2 kings went to battle and Josiah was killed (v 20-24)

b Question 46. Next, 36:23

c First mention of Jeremiah in Chronicles (v 25). He began his ministry in the 13th year of Josiah (Jer. 1:2) d This does not refer to the book of Lamentations in our Bible, but to other records of Lamentations concerning Josiah about 35-36 years before the subject of the Lamentations by Jeremiah (v 25)

e See 2 Ki. 22:1-23:30

f This means that his goodness was in harmony with obedience to the law of the Lord, as written in the law of Moses, and not that the good acts of Josiah were written in the law of the Lord, unless we consider the books of Kings and Chronicles a part of that law (v 26). They were really additions to the law of Moses and not a part of the contents of his writings

g Then-after the death of Josiah, the people of Israel made Jehoahaz, the son of Josiah, king of Judah on the throne of David in Jerusalem (v 1). He reigned 3 months, this being the shortest of any reign in Judah (v 2), though not as short as that of 2 kings in the 10-tribe kingdom. Zimri reigned only 7 days (1 Ki. 16:15) and Shallum only 1 month (2 Ki. 15:13). Jehoahaz was a wicked king, or he would not have been destroyed. In 2 Ki. 23:32 we read that he did that which was evil in the sight of God

h Necho, king of Egypt, who had killed Josiah in battle, took Jerusalem and made Judah pay 100 talents of silver ($192,000.00) and a talent of gold ($29,085.00)

i A talent of silver had the value of $1,920.00

j A talent of gold had the value of $29,085.00

6 sins and accusations against Job (Job 22:5):

1 Your wickedness is great (v 5)
2 Your iniquities are infinite
3 You have taken a pledge from a brother for nothing (v 6)
4 You have stripped the naked of their clothing
5 You have withheld water from those who were weary of thirst (v 7)
6 You have withheld food from the hungry
7 You have sent widows away empty (v 9)
8 You have broken the arms of the orphan

Description of Job (Job 22:7):

Job was described as one to heartless as to refuse water to the thirsty, food to the hungry, supply to the widow, and blessing to the orphan (v 7-9). A man could hardly get any more depraved, hence Job was classed as the lowest of earth. His friends concluded that no man could be suffering like Job unless something of this nature was true about him

It was assumed that Job got his great possessions by driving off those who were entitled to the land, and by robbing and oppressing men (v 8)

5fold meaning of acquaintance with God (Job 22:21):

1 Be at peace with Him (v 21)
2 Receive the law of His mouth (v 22)
3 Lay up His words in the heart
4 Return to God (v 23)
5 Put all iniquity far away from self and home

The idea of Eliphaz was that Job should secure the friendship of God by doing all these things, and that by such close relationship with the Almighty he would be greatly blessed Nĕ'chō[a] king of Ĕ'gўpt came up to fight against Chär'che-mish by Ĕū-phrā'tēş: and Jō-sī'ah went out against him.

21 But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, [b]What have I to do with thee, thou king of Jū'dah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haste: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he destroy thee not.

22 Nevertheless Jō-sī'ah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself, that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Nĕ'chō from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Mê-ĝĭd'dō.

23 And the archers shot at king Jō'sī'ah; and the king said to his servants, Have me away; for I am sore wounded.

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and he died, and was buried in one of the sepulchres of his fathers. And all Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm mourned for Jō-sī'ah.

4 Lamentation for Josiah

25 ¶ And [c]Jĕr-e-mī'ah lamented for Jō-sī'ah: and all the singing men and the singing women spake of Jō-sī'ah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Iş'ra-el: and, behold, they are [d]written in the lamentations.

26 Now the [e]rest of the acts of Jō-sī'ah, and his [f]goodness, according to that which was written in the law of the LORD, 27 And his deeds, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iş'ra-el and Jū'dah.

403 CHAPTER 36

XVIII Reign of Jehoahaz: 3 months (2 Ki. 23:31-33). 1 His accession

THEN the people of the land took Jĕ-hō'a-hāz the son of Jō-sī'ah, and made him king in his father's stead in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

2 Jĕ-hō'a-hāz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

2 Jehoahaz defeated: taken captive to Egypt (2 Ki. 23:33)

3 And the [g]king of Ĕ'gўpt put him down at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and condemned the land in an hundred [h]talents of silver and [i]a talent of gold.

4 And the king of Ĕ'gўpt made Ĕ-li'a-kĭm his brother king over Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and turned his name to Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm. And Nĕ'chō took Jĕ-hō'a-hāz his brother, and carried him to Ĕ'gўpt.

XIX Reign of Jehoiakim: 11 years (2 Ki. 23:34-24:7). 1 Accession and character

5 ¶ Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm: and he [e]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD his God.

2 Jehoiakim taken by Nebuchadnezzar to Babylon

6 Against him came up Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon, and bound him in fetters, [b]to carry him to Bāb'ў-lon.

7 Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar also carried of the vessels of the house of the LORD to Bāb'ў-lon, and put them in his temple at Bāb'ў-lon.

8 Now the rest of the acts of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iş'ra-el and Jū'dah: and Jĕ-hoi'a-chĭn his son reigned in his stead.

XX Reign of Jehoiachin: 3 months and 10 days (2 Ki. 24:6-16). 1 Accession and character

9 ¶ Jĕ-hoi'a-chĭn was [c]eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm: and he [e]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD.

2 Jehoiachin taken by Nebuchadnezzar to Babylon (2 Ki. 24:11-16)

10 And when the year was expired, king Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar sent, and brought him to Bāb'ў-lon, [e]with the goodly vessels of the house of the LORD, and made Zĕd-e-kī'ah [f]his brother king over Jū'dah and Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

XXI Reign of Zedekiah: 11 years (2 Ki. 24:17-25:30). 1 Accession and character

11 ¶ Zĕd-e-kī'ah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned eleven years in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

12 And he [e]did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD his God, and humbled not himself before [g]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet speaking from the mouth of the LORD.

2 Zedekiah rebels against Nebuchadnezzar (2 Ki. 24:20)

13 And [h]he also rebelled against king Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar, who had made him swear by God: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart from turning unto the LORD God of Iş'ra-el.

3 Final captivity to Babylon: eight sins for which Judah was taken captive (cp. 2 Ki. 17)

14 ¶ Moreover all the chief of

a See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6

b It is not clear how long Jehoiakim was captive in Babylon. He served the king of Babylon 3 years and then rebelled. The 4th year of Jehoiakim was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar (Jer. 25:1); and Daniel says that it was in the 3rd year of Jehoiakim that Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem (Dan. 1:1-3); so he must not have become king yet when he took Jehoiakim captive. Counting the 3 years of Jehoiakim and the 3 years that he served Nebuchadnezzar before he rebelled accounts for 6 of the 11 years he was king of Judah (2 Ki. 24:1)

3 deportations to Babylon:

1 The one under Jehoiakim. During this deportation Daniel and the 3 Hebrew children were taken to Babylon, with an indefinite number of others. The vessels of the temple were also taken (v 6; 2 Ki. 24:14; Dan. 1:1-3)

2 The one under Jehoiachin (v 10; 2 Ki. 24:10-16). In this Mordecai and Esther were taken to Babylon (Esther 2:5-6)

3 The one under Zedekiah (v 20; 2 Ki. 25). With this last deportation the 70 years of predicted Babylonian captivity began (v 21; Jer. 25:9-12; Dan. 9:2)

Some consider the captivity of Manasseh a deportation (33:11), and make it the first of 4 deportations, but since this was many years before the beginning of the actual destruction of Judah as a nation, we do not count it as such. It does not seem reasonable that Manasseh's personal captivity would have anything to do with the fall of Judah as predicted by the many prophets

c The eight should be eighteen, as in 2 Ki. 24:8, the error being made, no doubt, by a copyist. Such a mistake was so easy to make in transcribing numeral letters of the Hebrew text. Jehoiachin had to be more than 8 years old, for 3 months later, when taken to Babylon, he had several wives (2 Ki. 24:15). He had seed also (Jer. 22:28), and this would require him to be more than 8 years of age

e These must have been vessels that had been made and collected together to take the place of those which had been taken from the temple to Babylon during the first deportation as in note b, above (v 10)

f Literally, his uncle, being the youngest son of king Josiah, and nearly the same in age as Jehoiachin. The word brother here means next of kin (v 10; 2 Ki. 24:17; 1 Chr. 3:15). Jehoiachin was the son of Jehoiakim and grandson of Josiah

g See note a, 1 Ki. 11:6

h Jeremiah and Zedekiah had many troublesome times together. Zedekiah is mentioned 48 times in Jeremiah and only 14 times outside this book. See notes on Jeremiah i 5 sins of Zedekiah:

1 Did evil in the sight of Jehovah
2 Humbled not himself (v 12)
3 Rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar after promising to rule for him (Ezek. 17:11-20)
4 Stiffened his neck (v 13)
5 Hardened his heart against turning to Jehovah

15 blessings of acquaintance with God (Job 22:21):

1 Good shall come to you (v 21)
2 You will be built up (v 23)
3 You will be blessed with gold (v 24)
4 God will defend you (v 25)
5 You will be blessed with silver
6 You will have joy in the Almighty
7 You will have a clear conscience and be able to lift your face up to God
8 You will be able to pray (v 27)
9 God will answer your prayers
10 You will be able to pay your vows to God
11 You will have influence (v 28)
12 God's light will shine upon you
13 You will be able to help other men out of trouble and despair (v 29)
14 You will be able to save the humble man in time of need 15 You will be able to deliver the innocent (v 30) a 5 sins of the priests and people:

1 Transgressed very much in committing all the abominations of the heathen (v 14)
2 Polluted the house of the Lord
3 Mocked God's messengers (v 16)
4 Despised His words
5 Misused His prophets

b This happened to a once godly nation; and it can happen to others, even to any individual who will persist in sin as Israel did (v 16). God dealt with them until there was no remedy c 12 judgments of God for sin:

1 God brought the king of Babylon upon Judah (v 17)
2 He slew their young men with the sword in the temple of God
3 He had no compassion upon the young man, old man, or maiden
4 He took all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, to Babylon (v 18)
5 He took all the treasures of the temple, the king, and the princes to Babylon
6 He burnt the house of God (v 19)
7 He broke down the wall of Jerusalem
8 He burnt all the palaces with fire
9 He destroyed all the godly vessels of the great houses

Tophet (Isa. 30:33)

This verse explains that Tophet is ordained (Heb. arak, set in a row; arrange; put in order) of old (Heb. ethmowl, theretofore; yesterday; of late; times past) for the king (the Assyrian of v 21). It is prepared; He (Jehovah) hath made it deep and large; the pile thereof (of Tophet) is fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it (v 33). The verse should be understood in connection with the Assyrian (the Antichrist) and his great army of v 30-32. It no doubt pictures the exact spot where Antichrist will be destroyed at Armageddon. Much of the army with him will be also destroyed and Tophet, at that time, will be a great funeral pyre kindled by the Lord like a stream of brimstone. He will come with great flaming fire which will destroy multitudes in this battle (v 20; Ezek. 38:17-21; 2 Th. 1:7-10)

The word Tophet in Heb. denotes that which causes loathing, abhorrence, and vomiting. Just as Tophet was to be a place of great destruction and a burial ground for multitudes in the ruin of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar (Jer. 7:31-32; 19:6-14), so it was appointed by the Lord in this prophecy to be a place of slaughter when Jerusalem will be surrounded by the armies of the Antichrist. It is a deep valley on the southeast of Jerusalem, celebrated as the place of idolatry and worship of Moloch. Here a large brazen image with hollow trunk and arms was heated; and children were offered as sacrifices to it. To drown their cries as they were being put into this red hot idol, drums were beaten, which were called Toph or Tophim; and so the name Tophet was given to this part of the valley - the valley of the son of Hinnom (2 Ki. 16:3; 21:6; 23:10). Fires were kept going in this place to burn up the refuse of the city and to purify the atmosphere and prevent contagion. Because of this it became a symbol of eternal hell, among the Jews; therefore, the name Gehenna was coined to denote the place of eternal torment (note m, Lk. 12:5)

Fall of Judah and Egypt (Isa. 31:3)

When - at the time this prophecy is fulfilled, both Egypt whose help is sought and Judah who seeks for help will fall and fall together (v 3). Here is the prophecy in this chapter which is yet future. In 31:1-3a the prophet gave Judah warning about trusting in Egypt, making it clear that such help was in vain. Then the Lord inspired him to span the centuries and reveal what will befall Judah and Egypt in the last days prior to the 2nd advent of Christ. That these 2 nations did not fall or fail together when Assyria invaded Judah is clear from 36:1-37:36. Both fell when the Babylonians came against them the priests, and the people, transgressed very much after all the abominations of the heathen; and polluted the house of the LORD which he had hallowed in Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm.

15 And the LORD God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising up betimes, and sending; because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place:

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD arose against his people, till there was no remedy.

17 Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chăl'dēęs, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man, or him that stooped for age: he gave them all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes; all these he brought to Bāb'ȳ-lon.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed all the goodly vessels thereof.

20 And them that had escaped from the sword carried he away to Bāb'ȳ-lon; where they were servants to him and his sons until the reign of the kingdom of Pĕr'şiá:

21 To fulfil the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah, until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths: for as long as she lay desolate she kept sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

XXII Restoration of Israel from Babylon: decree of Cyrus, fulfilling Isa. 44:28; 45:1-4, 13. Cp. Ezra 1:1-11)

22 Now in the first year of Çȳ'rus king of Pĕr'şiá, that the word of the LORD spoken by the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah might be accomplished, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Çȳ'rus king of Pĕr'şiá, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

23 Thus saith Çȳ'rus king of Pĕr'şiá, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the LORD God of heaven given me; and he hath charged me to build him an house in Jĕ'rų'sā-lĕm, which is in Jū'dah. Who is there among you of all his people? The LORD his God be with him, and let him go up.

Summary of 2 Chronicles

Date and place: the records which make up 1 and 2 Chronicles were written in Palestine, 1279-461 B.C., by scribes and prophets whose duty it was to record events during the time of whatever king or kings they served under. These records were put into one book by the final author or authors; the one book was divided into two by the Septuagint translators about 294-289 B.C. If written by Isaiah and Ezra in its final form the book was compiled 743-683 B.C. and 546-461 B.C.

Author: it seems that Isaiah and Ezra were the authors or the final compilers using the public records of the nation of Israel. Among the recorders were Nathan, Gad, Iddo, Ahijah, Jehu, and others (2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; 20:34; 26:22; 32:32; 36:22-23 with Ezra 1:1-4; 1 Chr. 9:10-16 with Neh. 11:10-17)

Proof of authorship: it seems from 2 Chr. 32:32 that Isaiah wrote the history of the kings of Israel and Judah; this not only applies to Samuel and Kings, but also could apply to 1 Chr. 1:1-32:33. Ezra completed the history by writing 2 Chr. 33-36. Ezra was president of the Great Synagogue, a college of learned Jews which originated with him and formed the O. T. Canon of Scripture

Theme: genealogical background of Israelite leaders and of the coming Messiah, and a history of the kingdom of Judah and of the ancestors of Jesus Christ, according to the flesh. See notes on Chronicles, p. 421

Purpose: to show the divine reason for the dealings of God with Israel and why the Davidic kingdom was not allowed to continue perpetually

Statistics: 14th book of the Bible; 36 chapters; 822 verses; 26,074 words; 583 verses of history; 32 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 7 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 42 predictions; 45 commands; 8 promises; and 21 messages from God (1:7, 11; 3:12; 11:4; 12:5, 7; 15:1; 16:7; 18:16, 18, 24; 19:2; 20:15, 37; 21:12; 24:20; 25:7, 16; 28:9; 34:23; 36:21); 47 questions

one at a time, but they did not fall together (2 Ki. 25; Jer. 25). The only time when they will literally fall together will be when the Antichrist of the future enters and conquers Palestine and Egypt (Dan. 11:40-24). Therefore, this last half of v 3 must refer to that time. The rest of the chapter gives at least 8 proofs of future fulfillment

8 proofs of future fulfillment:

1 Judah and Egypt falling together, as proved above and stated in v 3

2 The Lord coming down to earth to fight for mount Zion will be at the 2nd advent (v 4-5; Zech. 14:1-15; Rom. 11:25-29; Rev. 19:11-21). He did not do this when the Assyrians came against Judah (as in 36:1-37:36), when Jerusalem was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar (2 Ki. 25), or when it was ruined by the Romans (Lk. 21:20-24)

3 The Lord has never come to earth as birds flying yet, but will do so at the 2nd advent when angels and saints will accompany Him, coming through the sky like birds (v 5; Joel 2; Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 24:31; 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

4 The Lord has not come down to earth at any time in the past to defend and preserve Jerusalem, but He will come personally to do this at the 2nd advent (v 5; 63:1-6; Joel 2-3; Zech. 9:15; 12:8; 14:1-15; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21). The nearest He came to defending Jerusalem in any of the invasions of Palestine - the Assyrian, Babylonian, or Roman - was when He sent an angel to destroy the Assyrians (37:36-38); but there He is to come down personally to defend and preserve Jerusalem (v 5). At the 2nd advent the city will be preserved; half of the inhabitants will be taken captive, but the city itself will be preserved (Zech. 14:1-5), not destroyed and made desolate as when Babylon or Rome defeated Judah (2 Ki. 25; Lk. 21:20-24)

5 In the future is the only time when every man will cast away all his idols (v 7; 2:18-20; Zech. 13:2)

6 The Assyrian (the Antichrist) will not be destroyed until Christ comes to earth (v 8; Mic. 5; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:11-21)

7 God will not set up an ensign to the nations until He sends Christ who will be the ensign (v 9; 11:10-12; Zech. 9:16)

8 God's fire and furnace - referring to the Millennial altar and temple where sacrifices will be offered and bread baked for God - will not be in Jerusalem until the 2nd advent of Christ (v 9; Ezek. 40-48, notes; Zech. 6:12-13)

As birds fly (Isa. 31:5)

In recent years this has often been interpreted to mean General Allenby taking Jerusalem in 1917, without firing a shot and when airplanes were flying overhead; but this could not be the reference, for all the other predictions were not fulfilled then - they still remain to be fulfilled in the future (see note above). This refers to the Lord and the heavenly armies descending with literal angels flying, at the 2nd advent, to destroy the armies then surrounding Jerusalem (v 5; Joel 2; Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

Fall of the Assyrian (Isa. 31:8)

Then - when Jehovah comes to earth and defends and preserves Jerusalem (v 4-5), when Israel turns to Him as a nation and is converted in a day (note h, above), and when all idols have been destroyed in Judah (v 7); then the Assyrian (the Antichrist) will be destroyed and his young men discomfited (v 8; Dan. 7:11, 21-22; 8:23-25; Mic. 5; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-21). All this points to an Assyrian in the future, not one in the past. He will be one destroyed as in Mic. 5, when the Messiah comes. The sword he is to be destroyed with is not that of an ordinary man (v 8), but that of Christ (Rev. 21:11-21)

6 requirements to escape God's wrath (Isa. 33:15):

1 Walk in righteousness (v 15)
2 Speak uprightly
3 Despise gain of oppression
4 Refuse to be bribed
5 Stop ears from hearing of blood
6 Shut eyes from seeing evil

Cp. these 6 qualifications of a righteous man with those in Ps. 15. Speaking uprightly means to choose proper words, that is, words that are honest, true, and well-ordered - those that are not false, slanderous, or obscene (v 15) a God permitted Judah to go down completely and suffer the bitterness of shame and despair because there was no remedy for them otherwise. The condition continued for 70 years, and the land enjoyed its sabbaths (v 21; Jer. 25:9-12; Dan. 9:2) b See 3 periods of 70 years (note k, Dan. 9:2) c In the first year of Cyrus, king of Persia, the Lord stirred up his spirit to make a proclamation throughout all his kingdom. He put it in writing, saying that the God of heaven had charged him to build Him a house in Jerusalem, which was in Judah. He also gave freedom to all of Israel so that any who chose to do so could return to the homeland (v 22-23) d Question 4. Last question in 2 Chronicles. This book is the last one in the Hebrew Bible; and the last words are very impressive: The Lord his God be with him, and let him go up

10 He carried the rest of the people to Babylon as captives (v 20)
11 He made them slaves to himself and his sons until Babylon was overthrown by the Medes and Persians
12 He made their land desolate (v 21)

b Now connects the book of Ezra to the last statement in 2 Chronicles, which also records the decree of Cyrus, as in v 1-4 here

e See Isa. 44:28-45:1; Jer. 25:9-12

f This knowledge of God was given to Cyrus by his mother, the Jewish queen Esther, and by Mordecai and Nehemiah. He was brought up in Jewish training and taught about God and His Word

g See God's prophetic charge (Isa. 44:28-45:1-4, 13; 46:11). No doubt Jehovah who had predicted his name and work 150-200 years before fulfillment also spoke personally to Cyrus or made His will known to him in some other way (v 2)

h Question 1. Next, 4:22

i Cyrus acknowledged Jehovah as the true God in his decree (v 3)

j Their Persian, Median, Assyrian, and other neighbors (v 4)

k Then-after the decree of Cyrus which freed every Israelite to go back to Palestine, there rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and Levites, with all others whom God stirred up to restore the nation of Israel (v 5)

l These chief fathers are named in ch. 2

m Jews and Israel same people, below

n Not only did Cyrus yield himself as a tool and a servant of God to liberate Israel from captivity, to decree the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the temple, but he also sent all the vessels of the house of the Lord back to Jerusalem, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken away from the temple (v 7-11; 2 Ki. 24:13; 25:14; 2 Chr. 36:7; Jer. 27:18-22; 28:6; 52:18-19; Dan. 1:2; 5:2)

o Sheshbazzar, meaning Oh sun-god, protect the son, was the Chaldean name of Zerubbabel who was made governor of Judah over the returned exiles (1:8, 11; 5:14-16; 6:7). This man laid the foundation of the temple (5:16). Called Zerubbabel in 2:2; 3:2, 8; 4:2-3; 5:2; Neh. 7:7; 12:1, 47; Hag. 1:1, 12-14; 2:2-4, 21-23; Zech. 4:6-10 p 5,400 vessels of gold and silver:

1st class chargers of gold	30
1st class chargers of silver	1,000
2nd class chargers of gold	30
2nd class chargers of silver	410
Other vessels	1,000
Miscellaneous vessels	2,930
Total (v 9-11)	5,400

What kind of vessels the unspecified ones were is not known, except that they were of gold and silver. Only 2,470 are numbered here, and then a total of 5,400 is mentioned, so we have to supply the 2,930. Besides these, there were 29 silver knives (v 9)

Jews and Israel same people (1:5):

It had been over 200 years since the ungodly of the 10 tribes were taken into captivity. The southern kingdom, including Judah and Benjamin and many thousands of the other tribes, had been in captivity only 70 years. God was dealing with Judah in particular so it is understandable why the fathers of Judah and Benjamin are especially mentioned as starting the move toward the homeland. We are not to suppose that the other tribes were excluded, for a remnant of all the 13 tribes of Israel actually went back to restore the nation (6:17; 8:25, 35). It is plainly stated in 1 Chr. 9:3 that Jews from Manasseh and Ephraim returned to Jerusalem with Judah and Benjamin. Naturally, Judah and Benjamin should be mentioned because God's true kingdom continued with the house of David; and when Israel was restored as a nation after the captivities, this portion of Israel was still the chief part of the nation. It was this nation made up of all the tribes that

404 CHAPTER 1

1 The returning remnant (1:1-2:70). 1 Decree of Cyrus (2 Chr. 36:22-23; Isa. 41:2-3, 25; 44:28; 45:1-4, 13; 46:11)

[b]NOW in the[c]first year of[d]Çy'rus king of Pĕr'şĭa, that the word of the LORD[e]by the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Çy'rus king of Pĕr'şĭa, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Çy'rus king of Pĕr'şĭa, [f]The LORD God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth; [g]and he hath charged me to build him an house at Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, which is in Jū'dah.

●3 [h]Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, which is in Jū'dah, and build the house of the LORD God of Is'ra-el, [i](he is the God,) which is in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

●4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let [j]the men of his place help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, beside the freewill offering for the house of God that is in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

2 Preparation for return from Babylon: 5,400 vessels of gold and silver plus other items

5 ¶ [k]Then rose up the [l]chief of the fathers [m]of Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and the priests, and the Lē'vītes, with all them whose spirit God had raised, to go up to build the house of the LORD which is in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

6 And all they that were about them strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, beside all that was willingly offered.

7 ¶ Also [n]Çy'rus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the LORD, which Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar had brought forth out of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and had put them in the house of his gods;

8 Even those did Çy'rus king of Pĕr'şĭa bring forth by the hand of Mĭth're-dăth the treasurer, and numbered them unto Shĕsh-băz'zar, [o]the prince of Jū'dah.

9 And this is the [p]number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty knives,

10 Thirty basons of gold, silver basons of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Shĕsh-băz'zar bring up with them of the captivity that were brought up from Băb'y-lon unto Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

g Mordecai, worshipper of Merodach. An exile leader (2:2; Neh. 7:7) and cousin of Esther. Mentioned 38 times in the book of Esther (2:5-10:3). Since some came back who had seen the first temple (3:12), Mordecai could have been one of these, for he was taken captive with Jehoiachin; he could have lived through the 70 years of servitude (Esther 2:5-7)

h Bilshan, searcher. One of 12 leaders of the exiles (2:2; Neh. 7:7) i Mizpar, writing. One of the 12 leaders of returning exiles (2:2). Called Mispereth (Neh. 7:7)

j Bigvai, happy. 3 Bigvai's:
1 One of 12 leaders of the returning exiles (2:2, 14; Neh. 7:7, 19)
2 Another returning exile (8:14)
3 A man who sealed the covenant (Neh. 10:16)

k Rehum, pity. 4 Rehum's:
1 One of 12 leaders of the returning exiles (2:2). Called Nehum (Neh. 7:7)
2 A Persian (4:8-9, 17, 23)
3 A Levite (Neh. 3:17)
4 A signer of the covenant (Neh. 10:25)

l Baanah, son of grief. 3 Baanah's:
1 One of 12 leaders of returning exiles (2:2; Neh. 7:7; 10:27)
2 One of David's heroes (2 Sam. 23:29; 1 Chr. 11:30)
3 A captain in Israel (2 Sam. 4:5-12)

God was restoring-not only the 2 tribes. The term Jew cannot be limited to Judah only; it applies to all the children of Israel of all the tribes, as proved in Ezra, Nehemiah, and Esther Jews and Israel the same people:

1 Jehovah was the God of Israel, and since He dealt only with the Jews in this national restoration, the two terms must apply to the same people (1:3)
2 The chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin were called the men of the people of Israel (2:2)
3 Only Israelites considered as worthy in the genealogies (2:59)
4 The term all Israel was used of the returning Jews (2:70)
5 The Jews are called the children of Israel (3:1)

6 The Jews built an altar to the God of Israel (3:2; 4:1, 3; 5:1; 6:14)

7 David is called king of Israel (3:10), and this must refer to Judah in particular, for he was of that tribe

8 God's mercy endures forever toward Israel; and since He was having mercy on Jews in this restoration, then they must have been Israel (3:11)

9 The elders of the Jews (4:12, 23; 5:1, 5; 6:7-8) are called the fathers of Israel (4:3; 8:29)

10 Nations living in that day, who should have known what others were called, recognized that all Israelites returning from captivity where all Jews (4:12, 23)

11 The prophets prophesied to the Jews only (5:1, 5), who were also called all Israel (2:70; 6:17)

12 The governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews were the ones commanded to build the temple (6:7-8, 14), which the God of Israel commanded to be built (1:2-3) and only the people of Israel went up to do this (2:2, 59, 70; 3:1-2; 6:16; 9:1)

13 When the Jews finished the temple they offered 12 sacrifices for all Israel, according to the number of the tribes, which proves that they were then present as the Jews who had returned from exile (6:17; 8:35)

14 The children of Israel came again from captivity (6:21; 7:7); and they were Jews (4:12; 6:7-8, 14)

15 Ezra went up from captivity to teach the law in Israel, to Israel-the Jews (7:11)

16 Artaxerxes made a decree for all they of the children of Israel (7:13)

17 Ezra gathered chief men out of Israel to go with him to Palestine (7:28; 8:29)

18 Many people out of Israel, a very great congregation, who were all Israel in the nation of Judah gathered to consecrate themselves (10:1-7)

19 The trespass of Israel was marrying foreign women (10:19)

20 Many Jews who separated themselves from their foreign wives, are listed as being of Israel (10:25)

These facts (in Ezra) could be multiplied many times if we dealt with Nehemiah and Esther in the same way. In Nehemiah the term Israel (1:6; 2:10; 7:7, 61, 73; 8:1, 14, 17; 9:1-2; 10:33, 39; 11:3, 20; 12:47; 13:2-3, 18, 26) is used of the Jews (1:2; 2:16; 4:1, 2, 12; 5:1, 8, 17; 6:6; 13:23). In Esther the term Israel is not used, but the term Jew, singular and plural, is used 51 times. A Benjamite (Esther 2:5), not a Judahite, was the prominent Jew along with queen Esther, another Jew of the tribe of Benjamin; and these were the important Jews or Israelites of this book. Thus, the term Jew applies to tribes other than Judah; it is so broad in its reference to all the Israelites of all the tribes that there is no definite distinction made between Jews and Israelites in any scripture. The term Jews in Esther is even applied to Gentiles who became Jewish converts (Esther 8:17)

Comfort (Isa. 40:1):

The general purpose of chs. 40-66 is to comfort the people of God in view of eternal restoration under the Messiah. The prophecies speak as if Israel were already near the end of the Babylonian captivity (41:1-3, 25; 44:26-45:4, 13); Jerusalem already in ruins (44:26-28), and the people about to be restored to their own land. The Heb. word for comfort is nacham, to sigh; breathe strongly; to be sorrowful in a favorable sense; to pity; console; to pity; console; to avenge; comfort. Only in chs. 40-66 does the prophet predict comfort for Israel

"Comfort" used in Isaiah:

1 Comfort ye, comfort ye My people (40:1)
2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her (40:2)
3 The Lord has comforted His people (49:13; 52:19)
4 The Lord will comfort Zion (51:3)
5 He will comfort her waste places
6 I am He that comforteth you (51:12)
7 By whom will I comfort you? (51:12)
8 Restore comforts unto him (57:18)
9 To comfort all that mourn (61:2)
10 So will I comfort you (66:13)
11 You will be comforted in Jerusalem (66:13). Cp. 12:1

b 100 priests' garments of unknown value for the priestly wardrobe (v 69)

c The statement "all Israel in their cities" proves that the Jews who returned from Babylon, of all the tribes of Israel, were representative of the whole nation and that the Jews were all Israel (v 70)

d The 7th month was October-when the feast of tabernacles was held (v 1, 4) e Jozadek was the son of Seraiah (1 Chr. 6:14-15), and so was Ezra (7:1). These brothers were uncles of Jeshua, the high priest

f Zerubbabel was really the son of Pedaiah, Shealtiel's younger brother; but by Shealtiel having no sons, and the royal line being continued in the person of his nephew Zerubbabel, the nephew was accounted his son (1 Chr. 3:19)

g This shows that the returning exiles had the law of Moses. See Dt. 12:5-7

h This refers to the restoration of Israel's worship in Jerusalem. An altar was made and morning and evening sacrifices were offered, according to the law (v 1-3). Following this, the worship at the new moons, and all set yearly feasts of the Lord were established (v 4-5)

i The feast of tabernacles was the yearly gathering when Jews dwelled in booths for 8 days to commemorate their deliverance from Egypt where they had no permanent homes

j See Lev. 23:34-43; Dt. 16:13-15

k The foundation of the temple was not laid, therefore, until after the worship had been restored

l It would take some time for the temple materials to be prepared and brought to Jerusalem before starting the actual building of the temple. Evidently arrangements were made by Cyrus to provide money for such materials (v 7)

m It must be remembered that this refers to the 2nd year of the coming of Zerubbabel and all those recorded in 2:1-70; Neh. 7:5-73, and the 2nd year after the decree of Cyrus, as in 1:1-4

Kings of Persia (1:1):

Cyrus, king of Persia (v 1). For more than a century now we have had ancient inscriptions deciphered, and these with other sources of information give us a true understanding of the line of the kings of Persia-sources like Herodotus, Xenophon, Ctesias, and Nicolas of Damascus who lived before Christ, and Arrian of the 2nd century A.D. In 1846 the writing on the famous rock of Behistun, which rises about 1,700 ft. out of the plain, on the high road from Babylon to the East, was found to be one on which Darius Hystaspis gave his own genealogy. On this stone he claimed to be the 9th of a succession of kings of his fathers

68 ¶ And some of the chief of the fathers, when they came to the house of the LORD which is at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, offered freely for the house of God to set it up in his place:

69 They gave after their ability unto the treasure of the work threescore and one thousand drams of gold, and five thousand pound of silver, and one hundred priests' garments.

70 So the priests, and the Lē'vītes, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nĕth'ī-nīms, dwelt in their cities, and all Is'ra-el in their cities.

406 CHAPTER 3

II Restoration of worship:
1 Building the altar

AND when the seventh month was come, and the children of Is'ra-el were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together as one man to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

2 Then stood up Jēsh'u-ā the son of Jō'za-dāk, and his brethren the priests, and Zĕ-rŭb'ba-bĕl the son of Shĕ-ăl'tī-el, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Is'ra-el, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the law of Mō'sēs the man of God.

3 And they set the altar upon his bases; for fear was upon them because of the people of those countries: and they offered burnt offerings thereon unto the LORD, even burnt offerings morning and evening.

2 Feasts and new moons observed again

4 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the custom, as the duty of every day required;

5 And afterward offered the continual burnt offering, both of the new moons, and of all the set feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a freewill offering unto the LORD.

3 Preparations to rebuild the temple

6 From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt offerings unto the LORD. But the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

7 They gave money also unto the masons, and to the carpenters; and meat, and drink, and oil, unto them of Zī'dŏn, and to them of Tȳre, to bring cedar trees from Lēb'a-non to the sea of Jŏp'pā, according to the grant that they had of Çȳ'rus king of Pēr'şĭa.

4 Temple foundation laid: loud weeping and shouting

8 ¶ Now in the second year of their coming unto the house of God at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, in the second month, began Zĕ-rŭb'ba-bĕl the son of Shĕ-ăl'tī-el, and Jēsh'u-ā the son of Jō'za-dāk, and the remnant of their brethren the priests and the Lē'vītes, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm; and appointed the Lē'vites, from twenty years old and upward, to set forward the work of the house of the LORD.

9 Then stood Jēsh'u-ā with his sons and his brethren, Kād'mī-el and his sons, the sons of Jū'dah, together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God: the sons of Hĕn'a-dād, with their sons and their brethren the Lē'vītes.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, they set the priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Lē'vītes the sons of Ā'saph with cymbals, to praise the LORD, after the ordinance of Dā'vid king of Is'ra-el.

11 And they sang together by course in praising and giving thanks unto the LORD; because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever toward Is'ra-el. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12 But many of the priests and Lē'vītes and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men, that had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice; and many shouted aloud for joy:

13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

407 CHAPTER 4

III Restoration work hindered, 1 Seeking to weaken Judah by alliance

NOW when the adversaries of Jū'dah and Bĕn'ja-mĭn heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the LORD God of Is'ra-el;

2 Then they came to Zĕ-rŭb'ba-bĕl, and to the chief of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you: for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him since the days of Ē'sar-hăd'don king of Ās'sur, which brought us up hither.

3 But Zĕ-rŭb'ba-bĕl, and Jēsh'u-ā, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Is'ra-el, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build an house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the LORD God of Is'ra-el, as king Çȳ'rus the king of Pēr'şĭa hath commanded us.

2 Various hindrances in building the temple

a The beginning of the temple foundation brought a great celebration in Israel. The ceremonies described in v 8-13 were similar to ground-breaking events today-ceremonies preceding great projects. The Levite men from 20 years old and upward were the ones who set forward the work (v 8). Other workmen participated while the priests and Levites blew trumpets and sang praise to Jehovah, in courses (v 9-11). The people experienced so much joy, shouting, and weeping, that anyone could not discern between the noise of the shouts of joy and the weeping (v 11-13)

b As usual, when God begins to bless His people, the devil raises up adversaries to oppose His work. Here the enemies of Israel came posing as friends and worshippers of Jehovah and offered to build with them. They bragged about worshipping Jehovah from the days of Esar-haddon, son of Sennacherib, king of Assyria (v 1-20). A priest had been sent to them many years before but they (the Samaritans) did not know Jehovah. We read that they feared the Lord, but served their own gods (2 Ki. 17:28-41)

c The offer of the Samaritans was rejected by the elders because Israel wanted to remain a separate people (v 3). This was what God had required of Israel from the very beginning. They were to be a segregated people in all phases of life and an example of God to all nations. On the whole, they have never inter-married. God permitted inter-marriage and even blessed such on rare occasions, but the practice for the nation was contrary to His law and will (Dt. 7:3)

Note that on the Cylinder of Cyrus the Persian, the one mentioned in v 1; Isa. 44:28; 45:1; Esther 6:14, he lists only the kings from the 3rd to the 7th one-his own son who succeeded him. On the Behistun rock only kings 2-5, 8-9 are given, Cyrus the Persian and his son, Cambyses II not being mentioned for some unknown reason. However, Darius Hystaspis, who made this list, does mention the fact that he was the 9th of a succession of kings, so this would include the ones not named. Herodotus gives the first 5 of the 9 Persian kings, and the Bible mentions 5, 6, and 9. We have to supply from ancient history those that are missing in the Bible. The 5th king, Astyages was the husband of Esther and the father of Cyrus. He was the Ahasuerus of Esther 1:1, and Darius the Mede of Dan. 5:31. He is listed also by Herodotus as the 8th of a succession of Lydian kings, called Aryenis the husband of Vashti who gave up the queenship to Esther because of her rebellion against him. The 4 kings to stand up in Persia, as in Dan. 11:1-2 were the last 3 on the above list and Xerxes, the son of Darius Hystaspis. 6 more kings ruled in the time between these 4 and the coming of Alexander the Great. See Persian kings, p. 879

Some confusion has arisen concerning the Persian kings due to appellatives being mistaken for proper names, and from their transliteration into other languages. Examples of appellatives are: Pharaoh of Egypt; Abimelech of Philistia; and others, like the modern Czar, Sultan, and Shah. Ahasuerus, meaning the Mighty, was the title of 4 Median and Persian kings. Artaxerxes, meaning Great King, was used by 4 Persian kings. Darius, meaning the Restrainer or the Maintainer, was also used by several of these kings

The Cyrus of this passage was so named by God 150 years before his birth to Esther and Ahasuerus, and about 200 years before this decree which fulfilled Isa. 44:28-45:1. The events of the book of Esther came before those of Ezra and Nehemiah; and the happenings of Neh. 1:1-7:4 came before Ezra 1:1-14

4 [e]Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Jū'dah, and troubled them in building,

5 And [b]hired counsellors against them, to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Çy'rus king of Pĕr'şiá, even until the reign of[d] Dā-rī'us king of Pĕr'şiá.

3 Temple restoration hindered by accusation in letter to Ahasuerus, the king

6 And in the reign of[e] Ā-hăş-ū-ē'rŭs, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Jū'dah and Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

4 Letter to Artaxerxes to hinder the temple work

7 ¶ [f]And in the days of Är-tăx-ērx'ēş wrote Bĭsh'lăm, Mĭth'rĕ-dăth, Tā'be-el, and the rest of their companions, unto Är-tăx-ērx'ēş king of Pĕr'şiá; and the writing of the letter was written in the [g]Sўr'ĭ-an tongue, and interpreted in the Sўr'ĭ-an tongue.

8 Rē'hum the [h]chancellor and Shĭm'shāi the scribe [i]wrote a letter against Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm to Är-tăx-ērx-ēş the king in this sort:

9 Then wrote Rē'hum the chancellor, and Shĭm'shāi the scribe, and the [i]rest of their companions; the Dī'na-ītes, the Ā-phär'sath-chītes, the Tär'pel-ītes, the Ā-phär'sītes, the Är'che-vītes, the Bāb-ў-lō'nĭ-anş, the Su'san-chītes, the Dĕ-hā'vītes, and the Ē'lam-ītes,

10 And the rest of the nations whom the great and noble[k] Ăs-năp'pĕr brought over, and set in the cities of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, and the rest that are on this side of the river, and at such a time.

5 Copy of the letter to Artaxerxes

11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even unto Är-tăx-ērx'ēş the king; Thy servants the men on this side the river, and at such a time.

12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us are come unto Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have set up the walls thereof, and joined the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that, if this city be builded, and the walls set up again, then will they not pay toll, tribute, and custom, and so thou shalt endamage the revenue of the kings.

14 Now because we have maintenance from the king's palace, and it was not meet for us to see the king's dishonour, therefore have we sent and certified the king;

15 That search may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: so shalt thou find in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and [e]hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have moved sedition within the same of old time: for which cause was this city destroyed.

16 We certify the king that, if this city be builded again, [b]and the walls thereof set up, [c]by this means thou shalt have no portion on this side the river.

6 Decree of Artaxerxes, the king to stop the temple work

17 ¶ Then sent the king an answer unto Rē'hum the chancellor, and to Shĭm'shāi the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwell in Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, and unto the rest beyond the river, Peace, and at such a time.

18 The letter which ye sent unto us hath been plainly read before me.

19 And I commanded, [d]and search hath been made, and it is found that this city of old time hath [e]made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made therein.

20 There have been [f]mighty kings also over Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, which have ruled over all countries beyond the river; and toll, tribute, and custom, was paid unto them.

21 [g]Give ye now commandment to cause these men to cease, and that this city be not builded, [h]until another commandment shall be given from me.

22 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: [i]why should damage grow to the hurt of the kings?

7 Temple work suspended

23 ¶ Now when the copy of king Är-tăx-ērx'ēş' letter was read before Rē'hum, and Shĭm'shāi the scribe, and their companions, they [j]went up in haste to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm unto the Jews, and made them cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the work of the house of God, which is at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm. So it ceased unto the second year of the reign of Dā-rī'us king of Pĕr'şiá.

408 CHAPTER 5

IV Restoration work continued (5:1-6:22). 1 Work on the temple started again through prophecy

THEN the prophets, Hăg'ga-ī the prophet, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah the son of Id'dō, prophesied unto the Jews that were in Jū'dah and Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm in the name of the God of Is'ra-el, even unto them.

2 Then rose up Zĕ-rŭb'ba-bĕl the son of Shĕ-ăl'tĭ-el, and Jēsh'u-a the son of Jŏz'a-dăk, and began to build the house of God which is at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm: and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

2 Jews' enemies seek to hinder the building again a Since their offer to help build the temple was rejected by the elders of Israel, the adversaries tried other methods of weakening the will of the Jews to build. They hired counsellors against them who sought to turn Cyrus and Darius, kings of Persia, against the restoration of Jerusalem and the temple work (v 4-5). They accused the Jews of building with the thought of rebelling as before. History showed them doing such before the destruction of their nation (v 6-16)

b They hired men in the court of Cyrus and the other kings following him, to seek stoppage, or at least delay of the restoration work (v 5) c This Cyrus must be identified with the one in 1:1-4, or Cyrus II, according to the Cylinder of Cyrus. See p. 490 d This Darius must not be identified as Darius the Mede of Dan. 5, who was the father of Cyrus and the husband of queen Esther, he must be identified as Darius Hystaspis, the 9th Persian king of list on p. 490. He was the 3rd king after Cyrus e This could not refer to the Ahasuerus of Esther 1:1, who was the father of Cyrus. The word Ahasuerus is simply a title meaning Mighty, a title claimed by several kings of Persia. Here, perhaps it refers to Cambyses, the son of Cyrus. It could not refer to Cyrus himself, for he is mentioned in this record (in v 5); and he was the one that made the decree of liberation for Israel in the first year of his reign (1:1-4). Such a letter would not have been written to him in the beginning of his reign, for he had, at that time, only made the decree to liberate the Jews. It is logical to believe that in the beginning of the reign of the next king, he was written to in such a manner. By then the Jews were back in Judah. It no doubt took several years, during the reign of Cyrus, for the people to return, get settled in the land, prepare materials and get started on the work. Cyrus reigned for 9 years and his son Cambyses reigned 7 which means that the work was done in the ruling period of both (see 6:15)

f This king was Hytaspes, the successor of Cambyses; he reigned 7 months between Cambyses and Darius Hystaspis who is referred to in v 24. He made a decree that the work should be discontinued and this was enforced. The work was stopped by force until the 2nd year of Darius Hystaspis (v 17-24) when proper investigation was made and the original decree of Cyrus confirmed (v 24: 5:1-6:18). Hytaspes could have been called Artaxerxes, which means the great king, as well as some others of the Persian kings. Since the words Darius, Ahasuerus, and Artaxerxes are titles, any one or all of them could have been used by any of these kings; to decide which one is definitely referred to on the basis of such titles being used, is impossible. We can only go by the time element in such passages

g This was the Aramaic, a dialect of Damascus and a Semitic language akin to the Hebrew, but sufficiently different to be unintelligible to the common Jew (v 7; 2 Ki. 18:26)

h The Lord of judgments-a title of the Persian governor of Samaria. Every Persian governor was accompanied to the province by a royal scribe, or secretary, who had a separate and independent authority (v 8)

i The text of v 8-6:18 is in Syriac; of 6:19-7:11 in Hebrew; and of 7:12-26 in Syriac. See Bible Introduction, p. 508

j Representatives of the 8 different peoples that settled in Samaria after the captivity of the 10 tribes (v 9; 2 Ki. 17)

k Assur-bani-pal, the only Assyrian king who got into Elam and held Shushan, the capital (v 10)

l This side (western side) of Euphrates

a See 2 Ki. 24-25; 2 Chr. 35-36

b Again, this is proof that the walls had not yet been completed. Therefore, Neh. 1:1-7:4 had not been fulfilled up to this point in the events of Ezra. Both the temple and the walls were in the process of being built, and this was the reason for the opposition. Had the walls been completed the men who forced the stoppage of the work on the temple could have been kept out (v 23)

c 5 facts certified to the king:
1 They will not pay toll, tribute, or custom to you (v 13)
2 You will be dishonored (v 14)
3 Jerusalem has been a rebellious city, and hurtful to kings (v 15)
4 The city was destroyed because of many rebellions
5 You will have no portion on this side of the Euphrates (v 16)

d The king did make search and found the accusations against Judah and Jerusalem to be true-mighty kings had ruled many countries from this place and collected tribute from many lands (v 17-22)

e Judah had been guilty of a number of insurrections against foreign kings who had sought to enslave them (2 Ki. 24-25; 2 Chr. 35-36)

f Such as David, Solomon, Asa, Uzziah, Hezekiah, and others (v 20)

g The letter from the enemies of Israel in Samaria caused the king to make search and give commandment that the work on the walls and temple should cease. By this time about 16 years had passed since the decree of Cyrus as in 1:1-4. Many thousands of Jews had gone back to their own land, much work on the walls had been done, and the temple work was in progress. The entire decree of Cyrus was cancelled for the time being, and until the 2nd year of the new king which would be at least 1-2 more years (v 21-24)

h Until, implying that this commandment concerning the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the temple was not final. Evidently further investigation was determined before final action would be taken (v 21). This king, known as Gomates, the Pseudo-Smerdis, was soon slain by Darius Hystaspis, the real heir to the throne. Search was continued; then in the 2nd year of his reign the final decree to continue the rebuilding of the city and temple was given (v 24; 5:1-6:18)

i Question 2, Next, 5:3

j Went in haste, and with force and power (v 23). The Jews could have resisted, and thus they would have hurt their cause by doing exactly what they were accused of doing in the letter to Artaxerxes (v 15-16). Instead, when they received definite word from the king, they did what they thought best-temporarily suspended the work (v 24). In the meantime God was dealing with the new king, Darius Hystaspis, to put it into his heart to allow continuation of the work that Cyrus had decreed k Then-during this time of cessation of the work, the Lord began to stir up the prophets Haggai and Zechariah who were at Jerusalem. They began to encourage the Jews to resume the work on the temple regardless of whether the decree would be confirmed. They were inspired of the Holy Spirit who knew full well that the decree to build the temple would soon be confirmed and thus all hindrances by enemies would be defeated by civil authority. The work was actually started again through these prophets (v 1-2). When they gave prophecies that the work should begin again, the governor, Zerubbabel rose up and began to build again. Then the enemies of the Jews began again to hinder the work. They sent a letter to Darius urging him to cause the work to cease if he wished to maintain his control of this side of the Euphrates, Darius, however, after learning of the original decree by Cyrus, re-confirmed it and the work continued without further hindrance. The temple was finished in the 6th year of the reign of this Darius, but the walls were not completed until many years later, under Nehemiah in the times of trouble, as recorded in Neh. 2-6; Dan. 9:25

(cp. 4:1-24)

3 ¶ [a]At the same time came to them Tăt'na-ī, [b]governor on this side the river, and Shĕ'thär-bŏz'na-ī, and their companions, and said thus unto them, [c]Who hath commanded you to build this house, and [d]to make up this wall?

4 Then said we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 [e]But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Dā-rī'us: and then they returned answer by letter concerning this matter.

3 Letter to Darius pleading for the temple work to cease

6 ¶ The copy of the letter that Tăt'na-ī, governor on this side the river, and Shĕ'thär-bŏz'na-ī, and his companions the Ā-phär'sach-ites, which were on this side the river, sent unto Dā-rī'us the king:

7 They sent a letter unto him, wherein was written thus; [f]Unto Dā-rī'us the king, all peace.

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Jū-dē'ā, to the house of [g]the great God, which is builded with [h]great stones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth fast on, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those elders, and said unto them thus, [i]Who commanded you to build this house, and to make up these walls?

10 We asked their names also, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us answer, saying, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the house that was builded [j]these many years ago, which [k]a [l]great king of Is'ra-el builded and set up.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, [m]he gave them [n]into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar the king of Băb'ў-lon, the Chăl-dē'an, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Băb'ў-lon.

13 But [o]in the first year of Çў'rus the king of Băb'ў-lon the same king Çў'rus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the [p]vessels also of gold and silver of the house of God, which Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar took out of the temple that was in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and brought them into the temple of Băb'ў-lon, those did Çў'rus the king take out of the temple of Băb'ў-lon, and they were delivered unto one, whose name was Shĕsh-băz'zar, whom he had made governor;

●15 And said unto him, Take these vessels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Shĕsh-băz'zar, and laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm: and since that time even [q]until now hath it been in building, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let there be search made in the king's treasure house, which is there at Băb'ў-lon, [r]whether it be so, that a decree was made of Çў'rus the king to build this house of God at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

CHAPTER 6 409

4 Darius confirms the decree of Cyrus (1:1-4)

THEN Dā-rī'us the king made a decree, and search was made in the house of the rolls, where the treasures were laid up in Băb'ў-lon.

2 And there was found at Ach'mē-thā, in the palace that is in the province of the Mēdes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

●3 In the first year of Çў'rus the king the same Çў'rus the king made a decree concerning the house of God at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, Let the house be builded, the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be strongly laid; the height thereof [d]threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof threescore cubits;

●4 With three rows of great stones, and a row of new timber: and let the expences be given out of the king's house:

●5 And also let the golden and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar took forth out of the temple which is at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and brought unto Băb'ў-lon, be restored, and brought again unto the temple which is at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, every one to his place, and place them in the house of God.

6 Now therefore, Tăt'na-ī, governor beyond the river, Shĕ'thär-bŏz'na-ī, and your companions the Ā-phär'sach-ites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence:

●7 Let the work of this house of God alone; let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build this house of God in his place.

●8 Moreover, I make a decree what ye shall do to the elders of these Jews for the building of this house of God: that of the king's goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expenses be given unto these men, that they be not hindered.

●9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the appointment of the priests which are at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer sacrifices of sweet savours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the a At the same time-when the Jews began working on the temple again, the governor on this side of the Euphrates, the western side, came and demanded to know who had given such authority when Artaxerxes had commanded the work to cease. He wanted the names of the men who were responsible (v 3-4) b Tatnai was governor of Syria, and Zerubbabel was governor in Judah (v 6, 14; 6:6-13; 8:36; Hag. 1:1, 14; 2:2, 21)

c Questions 3-4. Next, v 9 d Another proof that the walls were being built-that they were not finished (v 3)
e This new work on the temple only gave the enemies of Israel another occasion to bring the matter before the new king, Darius Hystaspis, and get his ruling on the decree of Artaxerxes, as in 4:17-22. It also gave the Jews an opportunity to continue with the work until they, themselves heard from the new king (v 5) f God was with the Jews, so that they were under the burden to build-they could not cease. He was also dealing with Darius, called Darius I in profane history. This ruler is not to be confused with Darius the Mede of sacred history (Dan. 5) who was the Ahasuerus of Esther 1:1, the husband of Esther and father of Cyrus, a man who had reigned some 17 years before. Darius I made search and considered the decrees of Cyrus and Artaxerxes. He finally concluded that he should confirm the order of Cyrus instead of the one made by the king he had to execute for pretending to be the rightful heir to his throne-the man who had caused the work stoppage (6:1-18). God knew what the outcome would be when the matter was brought to the attention of the new king, so He stirred the Jews up to continue the work of rebuilding the temple even before this g The first letter was written by Rehum of Samaria; now this one was written by Tatnai, governor of Syria (v 6). He was the one who had heard about the Jews working on the temple again after orders to discontinue had been given, and had gone to Jerusalem to investigate (v 3-5). He now considered it his duty to write Darius I to get his final decision on the matter
h Note the salutation of this letter written in ancient time (v 7) i It is noticeable that this Syrian governor called Jehovah the great God. No doubt it was well known among all pagan nations what the God of Israel had done in the past; and such knowledge caused them to give Him this title (v 8)
j Rolling stones, that is, stones too great to handle without moving them on rollers (v 8)

m King Solomon (1 Ki. 1-11; 2 Chr. 1-6)
n These Jews were humble and honest about their past, explaining who they were (v 11), how they had proved God and why they were sent into captivity (v 12), how Cyrus had made the decree to send them back to build the temple, and how even the vessels of the former temple had been sent back with them (v 13-17) a Exactly how many years it took Zerubbabel to rebuild the temple is not stated but certain facts suggest a period of at least 18 to 20 years. The work was begun in the 2nd year of the return from Babylon (3:8-13); and it was completed in the 6th year of Darius Hystaspis (6:15)

Years building as follows:

1 Beginning with 2nd year from Babylon, which was the 2nd year of Cyrus who reigned 9 years (1:1; p. 879)..... 7
2 Reign of Cambyses (p. 849).... 7
3 Years into rule of Darius I (6:15)..... 6
Total years of period..... 20

Solomon was 7 1/2 years building his temple compared to 20 1/2 here, if we count the 7 months of Artaxerxes who reigned before Darius I. For Herod's temple it took 46 years of building time (Jn. 2:20). The reason for it taking so long in the case of Herod's and Zerubbabel's structure is that the number of workers employed was so small. Solomon had 153,000 workers compared to a few hundred or thousand at these other times. See Temple in Index
b The Syrian governor was no doubt ignorant of the decree of Cyrus. If so, he was honest and sincere in his request for an investigation of the claims the Jews had made at this time (v 17) c Then-after Darius I had received this letter, he commanded a search of the records of Cyrus to see if he had made any such decree. A roll containing it was found; and it even gave certain dimensions of the temple (v 1-5). Darius I then gave his decision-the work on the temple should proceed as decreed by Cyrus (v 6-7). He even commanded Tatnai and the other peoples of his provinces west of the Euphrates to help the Jews with the king's tribute, and to give animals and other things necessary for sacrifices. Whoever hindered the work from this time on, would be destroyed (v 8-12)
d The temple height was to be 60 cubits or 125 ft., counting 25 in. to the cubit; and the breadth (really the length) was to be 60 cubits or 125 ft. This was the same length as Solomon's temple; but the height here seems out of proportion, it being twice as much as that of Solomon's structure (2 Chr. 3:3-4, notes). There must have been a copyist's mistake concerning this. Cp. 2 Chr. 3:4, notes, where it says the house was to be 120 cubits (or 250 ft.) high Darius I recognized his need of prayers for himself and his sons (v 10). A good characteristic in any man!

a The decree of Darius I not only confirmed that of Cyrus made 17 or 18 years before, but it also listed penalties for hindering the work and invoked the judgment of the God of heaven upon the guilty (v 11-12)

b Then—after Tatnai had received the decree from Darius I, they hasted speedily to fulfil the command of the king (v 13). Under these circumstances, the Jews prospered and finished the temple, according to the commandment of 3 persons:
1 The God of Israel (v 14)
2 Cyrus the Persian
3 Darius the Persian

c The temple was finished on the 3rd day of the month Adar (March), in the 6th year of the reign of Darius I (v 16)

e The 24 courses of the priests and those of the Levites were started again (v 16). Though these courses were not written in the law of Moses (but in 1 Chr. 24-25), they were a part of the worship of the temple as written in the law of Moses. This is the true meaning here in v 18

f The first passover mentioned in all the 20 years of the returned exiles, though it does not say that it was the first one. It plainly implies however that this was the first one at the new temple of Zerubbabel (v 19-21)

g These Jews are again addressed as the children of Israel. There were many from Manasseh and Ephraim and the other tribes, all called Jews 69 times in Ezra, Nehemiah, and Esther out of 84 times the words Jew and Jews are used in the O.T. We must conclude then that Israelites of all the tribes are Jews and all Jews are Israelites

Israel became very numerous and important, being students, teachers, and interpreters, as well as copyists of the law. They retained the knowledge of the old dialect which was being rapidly superseded by a new one i Ezra was evidently high in the respect of Darius I, or Artaxerxes, for this man granted him all his request about leading captives back from Babylon (v 6)

j In both testaments this expression means that God's power and blessing were upon them (v 6, 9, 28; 8:18, 22, 31; Neh. 2:8). Cp. Acts. 4:30; 11:21

k A term used many times of the return to Judah from captivity (2:1, 59; 4:23; 7:6-7; 8:1; Neh. 7:6, 61; 12:1)

l Some of the children of Israel, meaning Jews from all the tribes. The term is used here of the common people, those of Israel who were not of any special class. Besides them, priests, Levites, singers, porters, and Nethinims went from Babylon to Judah with Ezra (v 7)

m This was about 1 year after the rebuilding of the temple (v 7-9; 6:15)

n From the 1st day of the 1st month (April) to the 1st day of the 5th month (August) the journey was made from Babylon to Judah (v 9) life of the king, and of his sons.

21 ¶ Also I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his house, and being set up, let him be hanged thereon; and let his house be made a dunghill for this.
12 And the God that hath caused his name to dwell there destroy all kings and people, that shall put to their hand to alter and to destroy this house of God which is at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm. I Dā-rī'us have made a decree; let it be done with speed.

5 Building of the temple prospered through prophecy

13 ¶ Then Tăt'na-ī, governor on this side the river, Shē'thär-bŏz'na-ī, and their companions, according to that which Dā-rī'us the king had sent, so they did speedily.
14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they prospered through the prophesying of Hăg'ga-ī the prophet and Zĕch-a-rī'ah the son of Ĭd'dō. And they builded, and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Ĭs'ra-el, and according to the commandment of Çў'rus, and Dā-rī'us, and Ăr-tăx-ērx'ēş king of Pēr'şiă.

6 The temple finished and dedicated with sacrifices and joy

15 And this house was finished on the third day of the month Ă'där, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Dā-rī'us the king.
16 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el, the priests, and the Lē'vītes, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy, 17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a sin offering for all Ĭs'ra-el, twelve he goats, according to the number of the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el.
18 And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Lē'vītes in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm; as it is written in the book of Mō'şeş.

7 The Passover again kept

19 And the children of the captivity kept the passover upon the fourteenth day of the first month.
20 For the priests and the Lē'vītes were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.
21 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which were come again out of captivity, and all such as had separated themselves unto them from the filthiness of the heathen of the land, to seek the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, did eat,

8 Feast of Unleavened Bread kept with great joy

22 And kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with joy: for the LORD had made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă unto them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Ĭs'ra-el.

410 CHAPTER 7

V Second expedition under Ezra (7:1-8:36). 1 Genealogy of Ezra

NOW after these things, in the reign of Ăr-tăx-ērx'ēş king of Pēr'şiă, Ēz'rā the son of Sēr-a-ī'ah, the son of Ăz-a-rī'ah, the son of Hĭl-kī'ah,
2 The son of Shăl'lum, the son of Zā'dŏk, the son of Ă-hī'tub,
3 The son of Ăm-a-rī'ah, the son of Ăz-a-rī'ah, the son of Mĕ-rā'ioth, 4 The son of Zĕr-a-hī'ah, the son of Ūz'zī, the son of Bŭk'kĭ,
5 The son of Ă-bĭsh'u-ă, the son of Phĭn'e-has, the son of Ĕ-le-ā'zar, the son of Aär'on the chief priest:

2 Ezra, a priest and a scribe, is favored by the king

6 This Ēz'rā went up from Băb'ў-lon; and he was a ready scribe in the law of Mō'şeş, which the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el had given: and the king granted him all his request, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

3 Time and length of the second expedition

7 And there went up some of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and of the priests, and the Lē'vites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nĕth'ĭ-nims, unto Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, in the seventh year of Ăr-tăx-ērx'ēş the king.
8 And he came to Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king.
9 For upon the first day of the first month began he to go up from Băb'ў-lon, and on the first day of the fifth month came he to Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, according to the good hand of his God upon him.
10 For Ēz'rā had prepared his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Ĭs'ra-el statutes and judgments.

4 Decree of Artaxerxes in behalf of Ezra and company

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Ăr-tăx-ērx'ēş gave unto Ēz'rā the priest, the scribe, even a scribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his statutes to Ĭs'ra-el.
12 Ăr-tăx-ērx'ēş, king of kings, unto Ēz'rā the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at a The keeping of the feast of unleavened bread during the 20 years after the return of the exiles is mentioned here for the first time. However, it does not say that this was the first observance of the feast during that period. We do know that this was the first at the new temple of Zerubbabel (v 22)

b This was Darius I (v 8-12), but why he was called the king of Assyria can only be explained by the fact that the Assyrians had been the great ruling power in western Asia for so long that the sacred writers continued the title with those who inherited the old Assyrian power and dominion (v 22; 2 Ki. 23:29)

c After these things—after the return of 42,360 exiles (1:1-2:70), after the setting up of the altar and the restoration of worship (3:1-7), and after the rebuilding of the temple (3:8-6:22), Ezra led a second expedition of exiles from Babylon to Judah (7:1-8:36). This does not mean that only two groups returned from captivity, but these are the only ones mentioned in Ezra. The first one was led by Zerubbabel. See 1:1-2:70. The phrase after these things settles it that Ezra had not been in Jerusalem during the events of chs. 1-6, and that he came for the first time to Judah immediately after the rebuilding of the temple as in ch. 6. To place Nehemiah before Ezra is entirely unscriptural

d This Artaxerxes was none other than Darius Hystaspis, or Darius I—the Darius of 4:24; 5:1-6:22, and not the Artaxerxes of 4:7-23. The history in chs. 5-6 is continued with the same king. Thus the term Artaxerxes, meaning the great king is applied to these last two kings of Medo-Persia. Three other Persian kings who followed Darius I, also used this title (see p. 879). The Artaxerxes here reigned for 35 years. One year after the completion of the temple, in his 6th year, Ezra left Babylon with the captives of chs. 7-8 (v 7)

e Ezra, help. 3 Ezra's:
1 A Judahite (1 Chr. 4:17)
2 Head of one of the 24 courses of priests after the exile (Neh. 10:2-8; 12:1, 13)
3 A famous scribe and priest (7:1-25; 10:1-16; Neh. 8:1-12; 12:26, 36). He was a man of great moral strength, learning, humility, self-denial, zeal, prayer, and faithfulness to God and his people. Tradition says he was the president of the great synagogue which settled the question of the Jewish Canon of Scripture, and began building synagogues in Jewish communities

f Here we have an incomplete genealogy of Ezra back to Aaron, the first high priest

17 generations—Ezra to Aaron:

1 Ezra (v 1)	10 Meraioth
2 Seraiah	11 Zerahiah (4)
3 Azariah	12 Uzzi
4 Hilkiah	13 Bukki
5 Shallum (v 2)	14 Abishua (v 5)
6 Zadok	15 Phinehas
7 Ahitub	16 Eleazar
8 Amariah (v 3)	17 Aaron, the first high priest
9 Azariah

g This genealogy is incomplete; these 17 generations could not possibly cover the entire period of about 1,130 years from Aaron to Ezra's journey from Babylon. One gap may be filled from 1 Chr. 6:1-15 where we have several names which should be added

h Ready—skilful scribe in the law of Moses. God had given him such ability (v 6). From this time on the scribes in a Here Darius recognized that the Jews to whom he was writing were the children of Israel (v 13). Like all other men of the Bible, he made no distinction between Jews and Israelites, as some do today to exalt the Anglo-Saxon race above others

b Going back was not an obligation, but a choice on the part of the individual. Only those who went back became a part of the nation of Israel whom God dealt with in the last 500 years before Christ. To these only the Messiah came (Mt. 10:6; Jn. 1:11; Rom. 1:16)

c Ezra was sent back to Israel by the king and his 7 counsellors for various reasons

10 reasons Ezra was sent back:

1 To inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem regarding their obedience to the law (v 14)
2 To carry gold and silver back as offerings from the king and his counsellors, unto God (v 15)
3 To carry gold and silver offerings back from the people for the temple (v 16)
4 To buy sacrifice offerings for the temple services (v 17)
5 To see that the money being sent back was spent properly (v 18)
6 To take certain vessels for the services to the temple (v 19)
7 To find out what else was needed for the temple services (v 20)
8 To deliver instructions to the governors west of the Euphrates regarding help in the work of God in Judah (v 21-26)
9 To set magistrates and judges in all the provinces west of the Euphrates (v 25)
10 To teach the laws of God to all men d Ezra had access to all the treasuries of the various provinces west of the Euphrates and could demand from them all that he needed for the house of God up to certain limits (v 21-22)

Limits of Ezra's demands:

1	100 silver talents. These at $1,920.00 each...	$192,000.00
2	100 baths or about 104 1/2 bu. of wheat (counting 1 bu. 3 pts. to a bath) @ $6.00...	627.00
3	100 baths or 3,350 qts. of wine @ $1.60.....	5,360.00
4	100 baths or 3,350 qts. of oil @ $1.40.....	4,690.00
	Total.....	$202,677.00

This was a good drawing account for the temple services, and it was evidently drawn upon, according to 8:36

e Question 6. Next, 9:10

f This indicates that the kings of Persia in general feared Jehovah, at least, most of them from the time of Ahasuerus, the husband of Esther and father of Cyrus, to the time of this Artaxerxes, or Darius I, who sought to escape God's wrath by granting these things for the temple worship (v 23)
